What my dad didn't know though was that I'd worn this for my boyfriend Steve at the time (yes, the same Steve I later married but a LOT of water went under the dam in between those events) shortly after the first time he'd fucked me. I'd wanted to be sure he wouldn't just make me another notch in belt which his reputation would have forecasted so I thought maybe if he saw me in this that he'd want to do me again. Yes, I had a HUGE crush on my sixteen year-old new boyfriend, even if he didn't know he was yet. I suppose that's only natural considering he was my first real date, my first blowjob and the one to take my virginity.

The slide show ended with my wedding ceremony. Actually it ended with me and my dad hugging just before the ceremony. For most people, it was the typical bride saying goodbye to her father before he gave her over to her new husband. What they didn't know was that photo meant a lot more to us - a LOT more. Imagine if they, or even the photographer at the time, had a clue that just minutes before my father had fucked me for the last time as a single woman, the last time when I belonged solely to him. Imagine if they knew my pussy was filled with his cum, just as it was now as I sat on his lap. No, I wasn't saying goodbye ion that photo. I was promising him that no matter what happened I would always be his, that I would always be his daughter and he could count on me to do anything he wanted just as he had just minutes before.

I may be married to my husband but I'll always be my father's daughter!

(Jun 27) Chapter 266: Tutoring Challenge

Story codes: MF oral exhib adultery
Me (29)
Eric - Alexis' father

One of the things I love about my marriage is that my husband totally loves and trusts me - just as I do him. When you have this solid of a relationship it opens the door to all sorts of possibilities that couples who are less secure would never even consider, including being able to enjoy having sex with other people without having to commit adultery.

1. Summer Challenge

In my humble opinion, my husband and I have about as solid of a relationship as anyone could ask. We both love other totally and are 100% committed to making our marriage work. Each of us trusts the other completely and we don't hide anything from the other, that is unless there's a good reason such as what I bought him for Christmas!

One of the key factors in our relationship is that we each understand our roles as well as the associated responsibilities and duties that come with those roles. For example, as a Christian wife I submit to my husband's authority. In return I know that he ensures that I'm never placed in a position where having to obey him would compromise my principles, cause me discomfort, or humiliate me in any way. For me it's all about trust and respect rather than blind obedience.

If there's one area which I think illustrates the strength of our marriage best it's our sex life. More specifically, how we handle having sex with other people more so than between us. For most couples I think that mutual jealousy and insecurity prevents them from allowing themselves to fully enjoy one of the most important aspects of maintaining a healthy marriage - sex. Steve and I each recognize that sex is not just something limited to a husband and wife but it can also be a great source of fun and enjoyment when others can be included.

Some people, including my mother, claim that all sex outside of marriage family (meaning non-incestual sex) is classified as adultery. I suppose that technically it's correct to say that adultery is defined as sex outside of your marriage family. However, is it the act itself that is the sin or the intent behind it? To me, CHEATING is the real problem. Having sex behind your spouse's back with the intent to deceive is what ruins a marriage by violating your spouse's trust. Sex is just sex. Yes, it can serve as a means of intimacy and love but at the same time if can also just be a whole lot of fun! Saying that having sex with someone is bad is like saying all alcohol is bad. It's not the sex that's the issue - it's how it's used that creates the problems.

Thus putting aside the dictionary definition, the act of adultery from the standpoint of being sinful is about what it means to your relationship, not the actual act of sex. If your spouse is OK with you having sex outside your marriage family then what's wrong with that? After all, as I said it's just sex.

Normally when we have sex with other people we're together and hence there's no chance that the other doesn't know about what's happening. Still, there are often times when advance notice isn't always given so Steve and I have given blanket permission for the other to take advantage of any such opportunities without having to worry about gaining "permission". Like either of us would say no! Usually we'll tell the other about it afterwards but it's not necessarily something that's required. As I said, it all comes down to intent - are you hiding it or simply just not mentioning anything?

Rather than worrying about me being with other men, if anything my husband loves watching me having sex with others - men AND women. I love it when he watches me for a number of reasons not the least of which is it simply turns me to be watched when I'm being fucked and the more that watch, the better. There's also the added bonus that I know when he watches it usually means I'm going to be one lucky gal later on when we get home!

In contrast, while it doesn't necessarily bother me I don't go out of my way to watch Steve having sex with other women. Naturally there are times when it's unavoidable like when we're at a party or swapping and we're doing other people in the same room. Other than that I can't say that I go out of my way to watch him having sex with other women or asked him to do it just so that I could watch.

One of Steve's favorite things is to watch me in public flirting with other men and women, especially when it starts to get hot like when they start trying to feel me up. As a general rule, the more I do in such a setting with a guy the more it turns my husband on. Sometimes we'll go out and he'll even challenge me to pick up certain

"Soooooo, anyone you have in mind to start?"

Steve's grin was a little disconcerting. I knew what it meant when he had that expression - trouble! Uh-oh, what did my naughty husband have in store for me?

"Yeah... Eric."

My heart skipped a beat. Wow, talk about a challenge! The guy he was referring to was the father of one of my new clients, a thirteen year-old girl I was tutoring in math once a week. I'd actually only started with her a couple of weeks ago, right after school had let out, and as such had only met him a few times. Like most guys in his situation I knew he checked me out when he thought I wasn't looking but to be honest I'd of been disappointed if he hadn't! Still, it was a long ways from a guy staring at my boobs and ass to having him fuck me! Contrary to what porn sites might lead you to believe, getting a guy to cross the line wasn't always as easy as you might think. Yet I wasn't about to let Steve know he'd rattled me so I just looked into his eyes defiantly and responded saying, "OK buster, it's on!"

Then I thought for a moment and sought to clarify the rules just a bit. "But it has to be 24 hours from the next time I see him, not from now."

Steve just shrugged and then he turned to me such that I could feel his dick pressing in against me. Hmmmmmm, evidently all this talk about me getting fucked by other men was turning him on! Any further talk about my challenge went by the wayside for a while as my horny husband and I made love yet again!

2. Ethics and Morals

After we'd finished - and this time Steve WAS finished as he drifted off to sleep next to me, I laid back on the bed and slowly masturbated as I thought about my upcoming challenge. By the way... I wasn't masturbating because Steve hadn't fucked me well enough; it's just I always feel super horny after a guy cums in me and so often I'll masturbate for a while after the guy's finished.

One thing I DID know... there was more to Steve's challenge than first meets the eye. Steve knows my personal ethics and morals as well as anyone so I had no illusions that his choice for my first challenge wasn't simply a random pick. Oh noooooo, he knew exactly what he'd done in choosing Eric.

Sure I know that there are people who don't agree with my lifestyle and a number of other issues. That's fine with me and I respect their right to have their own opinions. At the same time I expect the same consideration in return in that they allow me to have my own as well. Unfortunately all too often that's not the case. I've been called everything from a slut, a nymphomaniac, and a sex addict - all of which I agree with. Then there are those who call me a whore, marriage-wrecker and even a pedophile - all of which I violently disagree with.

Still, there are a few areas where even my most ardent distractors and critics have to give me credit. One would have to be my professionalism. Be it as a babysitter or a teacher, I NEVER compromise my professional demeanor. No matter what the opportunity, no matter how tempted I may be, I've NEVER done anything with a student or child placed under my care that I wouldn't allow published in the local newspaper. Not saying I'm perfect, just that there's a line which I've sometimes edged up to but never crossed.

That all said then yes, I HAVE had sex with "underage" partners although I disagree that the notion that anyone under some arbitrary age is automatically too immature for sex. And yes, while most times the primary motivation has been more to satisfy my father and husband's needs than my own, I HAVE enjoyed myself. At the same time I have to repeat myself and say that there's one cardinal rule that I've never violated - not one of them has been a student of mine or under my care as their babysitter.

As I've also said, it's not like such opportunities have never presented themselves. Indeed, there have been numerous situations where it took all my willpower to turn away. The point is that as a professional I know that parents place their utmost trust in me with the most precious people in their lives - their children. While technically such limitations wouldn't apply to their parents, I've found based on personal experience that this is usually the best course of action as once you start down that slippery slope it can be awfully hard to stop before you hit bottom. Oh sure, there have been a few cases over the years where I've done it with the father of one of my charges but all those events are years in the past, That's not to say I haven't had opportunities since, just that I've grown up. Face it, for better or worse I'm not sixteen anymore!

3. Getting Hired

Usually when I take on a new tutoring position it's for one of my past students so the odds are I've met the parents already even if it was nothing more than a fifteen minute parent-teacher conference. In most cases I find it's the mother who's doing the hiring while dear old dad does the financing. The majority of my tutoring session are scheduled during the day meaning I never meet the fathers. Even when I do, it's not like my babysitting days of the past when he would drive me home, giving me the opportunity to flirt with them - and sometimes more. Now I have my own car and drive myself to and from the homes of my clients which further distances myself from anything to do with the fathers.

True to form, Eric's wife was the one who contacted and then hired me. It was somewhat unusual in that their daughter Alexis didn't even attend my school district, let alone one of my classes. Instead she'd heard about me from one of my other clients who had referred me after she'd mentioned the problems her daughter was having with math this past year. After she called me I went over for an interview where I met her and Alexis. At the time her husband was out with their younger daughter for some dance lessons or whatever so I didn't get to meet with him. Apparently I impressed her as she hired me for six sessions, one a week.

Eric's wife told me that he worked as a sales manager for some company I'd never heard of. She also warned me that odds were that he would be home during the tutoring sessions as she worked full-time as a nurse. His business hours were pretty flexible so he'd be arranging to be home during the time I was there. I was about to tell her that it wasn't necessary for either of them to be home but held back as I could tell she was one of those parents that insisted their kid never be home alone without one of her parents, even though she was thirteen and probably babysitting kids on her own.

4. First Lesson

It was just a few days after I was hired that I arrived for my first hourly session with my new client. Ringing the doorbell at the front door of this incredibly big home, I listened to the pleasant sound of chimes that resulted inside. Wow, if the size and opulence of their home was any indication then they could well afford my fees! Maybe I should have negotiated for more...

My thoughts were interrupted when the front door opened and I was greeted by Alexis, or so I assumed it was her. She was just like any other typical thirteen year-old that I see every year as they enter my eighth grade class for the first time in the fall. Dark-complexioned like her mother, she had braces and wore her long black hear in a ponytail down the middle of her back. Not that I'm exactly tall, but I towered over her leading me to wonder if she was even up to the five foot level yet. Cute as a button in her standard teenage uniform of denim shorts and tank top, I could tell from her budding chest and developing legs that she was going to be chased by all the boys soon, if not already. Alexis' shorts were REALLY short, to the point where they didn't really even come down her legs but rather were cut off at crotch level which allowed her tight little butt cheeks to barely peek out at the bottom. The tank top had spaghetti shoulder straps and plunged downward, revealing a slight bulge where the bra she was wearing pushed up and made the most of what little boobs she had. As seems to be the style now, the straps of her bra were showing under the thin tank top straps. I couldn't help but admire her tanned legs which even though she was barefoot, were tight and smooth. Oh to be thirteen again!

"You must be Kelly," she said rather tersely.

Oh boy, not another "Miss Attitude". It was a common malady amongst this age group, one which I dealt with all the time as an eighth grade teacher. It was like the only person on the world that mattered was themselves and everyone else was placed on earth to either persecute them or do their bidding.

"And you must be Alexis," I replied, trying to put on my most congenial smile and not allow my annoyance to creep through.

She just rolled her eyes and spun around on her heels before heading towards where I assumed we'd be conducting our lesson. We entered the family room or whatever they called it which included a huge flat screen TV, a pool table, various couches and chairs, as well as a game table and roll-top desk nearby. I saw what looked to be textbooks and other supplies on the game table so I made the obvious assumption that it was where we'd be conducting her lessons.

"So is your mom home?" I asked after she sat down in one of the chairs and looked up at me expectantly.

"Working."

Ok... so much for a conversation starter. At least I got one word out of her which was actually better than some of the princesses I've worked with.

"So you're home alone?"

After a melodramatic sigh I finally was answered with, "Oh Dad's somewhere, probably still sleeping. He's always sleeping."

Well, that got me a bit more of an answer while at the same time I couldn't help but catch a bit of anger and even some resentment in her tone. There was a heavy emphasis on the "always" which made me wonder what the real story was but then I knew nothing at all about the family, let alone their sleeping habits so who was I to judge?

Usually my first lesson with a new client was more a time to get to know them and try to win them over than it was to make any real accomplishments from an academic perspective. If she was like most of my charges, Alexis was probably annoyed at the very least to be forced to spend any time at all of her precious summer break doing schoolwork and often I would end up bearing the brunt of their hostility. Thus I found it to be better in the long run to spend a little time trying to get to know them better and make them realize this wasn't just an extension of their school year but more an opportunity for them. Granted, I wasn't entirely successful usually on getting them to see any benefit but if I could at least curb the hostility then it made the rest of the time we spent together more bearable for us both. It usually starts with me telling the parents to use my first name rather than a more formal title more appropriate for the classroom. Hence I was somewhat pleased when Alexis had greeted me as "Kelly" when she answered the door. At least we'd gotten off on the right foot.

Unlike most of my peers, I've never held a "real" job growing up or even in college. When they were off waitressing or working for minimum wage at some store in the mall, I continued babysitting. Sure I took some ribbing but as an older sitter I was able to command at least twice the minimum wage rate plus I didn't pay taxes given I was paid in cash. Instead of having to work for some jerk trying to feel me up at every opportunity, I got to spend evenings watching TV and taking it easy as typically my chores ended with them going to bed no later than eight or nine o'clock. Sure, I might still be a "babysitter", but I think I was getting the better end of the deal.

In college I didn't work much as my dad pretty well funded whatever needs I had. The only "job" I had was a VERY brief "career" as an escort. While technically I wasn't being hired for sex, it was pretty well understood by all parties involved why the charge rate was so high. That only lasted a few "dates", the last of which I was raped by several uninvited "friends" of the creep who had hired me for the evening. Needless to say I quit after that before anything worse happened. It's not that I was really mistreated. Heck, if he'd arranged for it beforehand I wouldn't have had any issues. It was the element of surprise that causes me to refer to it as "rape".

Since graduating from college most of my resume reflects either teaching or secretarial positions held while trying to get a teaching position. The most enduring of these is my tutoring career which I started in college. Besides the good pay I liked it because it was almost entirely daytime work and the schedules were usually pretty flexible.

Much to my chagrin, however, one thing I've noticed over the years is that while my client base has pretty much remained the same age, albeit the names and faces change every year, I'm the one who is aging. It wouldn't be so bad, especially since I'm fortunate to have the DNA where I look more like 21 or even younger if I dress the part. Yet while this may fool the adults I deal with, especially the older married guys looking for someone to live out their fantasies of sex with young girls, it doesn't fool the kids. Somehow they seem to sense exactly how old you are despite your looks. Thus I knew that Alexis was well aware that I was more than twice her age and like other girls these past few years especially it was getting harder and harder to get them to relate to me as anyone other than someone like their mother. After all, to a thirteen year-old girl, anyone over twenty pretty much looks the same.

"So how are you doing this summer Alexis?"

"OK."

That was it, two letters, two syllable, followed by more silence as she stared down at her bare feet swinging slowly below the chair. I noticed her toenails were bright red, matching her fingernails.

From there I tried various lines of questioning, asking about her studies (NO response) to her boyfriends (shrugging of shoulders), her girlfriends (more shrugging) and then finally her family (grimace when I asked about her younger sister). Then I asked about her mom (rolling eyes) and finally her dad. THAT was when I finally got something other than just a flipping of the hair and a one syllable response after I asked why he wasn't around for her first lesson other than maybe being asleep.

"Oh he will be, don't worry," she said in more of a cynical tone than anything she meant to cause me not to worry.

"OH? And why is that?"

Alexis grinned for a just a moment and then it was back to the blank stare.

"He's always checking out my friends. He'll want to get a good look at you too I suppose."

An interesting response, not exactly what I'd expected but at the same time not all that surprising. If Alexis' friends were anything at all like her I'd have been more surprised if her dad did NOT come out to grab an eyeful.

"And why do you say that?" I asked, knowing full well the answer but curious as to what she would say.

"You're his type I guess."

"His type?"

"You know, pretty and sexy."

I giggled a little at that to try and assure her I didn't take what she said in the wrong way. It wasn't like I was exactly wearing one of what my dad use to call "Kelly's slut outfits". Indeed, I was dressed pretty conservative given my usual dress code and code of conduct. Even though the weather was scorching hot I was wearing jeans. Like most of mine, they were pretty tight - especially around my butt and crotch. In fact, tight enough that I was even wearing panties so the denim crotch wouldn't dig in so much into my pussy. On top I wore a tank top but in addition I was also wearing a blouse over it which I left unbuttoned, making it more like an ultra-lightweight jacket than a top. My one concession to my usual professional dress code was foregoing a bra. During the summer months I never wear one except maybe as part of date-night outfit with my husband or some other guy. Funny how in the right circumstances wearing a bra can actually turns guys on more than not wearing one.

"Well, if anyone's looking sexy right now it's you," I replied, trying to compliment her and hopefully get her to like me a little better in the process.

As I'd hoped, she brightened up a bit at that. "Really, do you think I look sexy?"

"Heck yeah, I bet all the boys at school are hitting on you."

Alexis giggled at that and I sensed the barrier she'd raised from the start begin to lower just a little. Not much but a sliver of light was shining through the crack.

"So do you have a boyfriend?"

Her cheeks reddened a little at that and I wondered about the reason. Was she embarrassed because she DID have one or was it because she didn't?

"Has he kissed you?" I asked, leaning in a little closer to her and whispering in a conspirator tone even though there want anyone around to hear us one way or the other.

She nodded, her cheeks reddening a bit and I couldn't help but notice she Pressed her smooth bare legs together a little tighter.

"Second base?"

She looked up at me questioning me with her facial expression. Good grief, didn't they teach girls anything these days?

"I mean have you let him feel up your... you know," I told her, glancing down at her perky little boobs.

At that she really reddened up. Maybe it was because I even mentioned her breasts but more likely in my opinion as I'd hit the nail on the head.

"Anything else?" I teased her, trying to not appear to be as anxious as I was to find out what she had been doing.

Alexis shook her head quickly, enough so that I took her at her word without question.

"Well that's good," I assured her, "You've got plenty of time before you have to let a boy do that."

Then something flashed across her face, like the sort of smile you see when someone is keeping a secret. Hmmmmmm, maybe she was a better actor than I'd given her credit for being. Maybe she HAD been a visitor to the third base line! Maybe even more?

Seeing how I'd known her now for maybe all of fifteen to twenty minutes, I figured I'd pushed enough though. Maybe the next time I could see what I could find out about what she was trying to keep secret from me.

Enough small talk to get things moving, I reached out to look at her textbook when I heard someone coming down the staircase from the upstairs bedroom. Alexis obviously heard the same as she straightened up in her chair and I noticed she glanced down and tugged a little bit to make sure her top was properly situated.

after first checking to be sure her dad wasn't listening in on us, she leaned over towards me and whispered.

"My dad took my phone away last month for two weeks! And just because I was Skyping with some guys I'd been chatting with and tweeting."

"Well, how old were these guys?"

She bit her lower lip and hesitated, seeming now to regret having mentioned anything but now she'd opened the door.

"Maybe a little older."

I wasn't about to let her get off THAT easily!

"And just how much older?"

Again the hesitation. For a moment I was afraid that she was going to draw blood if she bit her lip any harder!

"Eighteen or nineteen I think."

"So old enough to know better than to be doing anything with a thirteen year-old girl," I mused, "You weren't doing anything you shouldn't, were you?"

This time she was quick to answer saying, "Oh no. I mean like they WANT me to but I won't do it."

"Like what do they want you to do?"

"Just show them my tits," she said in a voice I could barely hear even though I was right next to her, "But I was too embarrassed. I mean like they're so small."

I smiled at her and put my hand over hers on the table and squeezed it gently. "Alexis, you're totally perfect for your age. And you know what? I'd have killed to have boobs like yours when I was your age."

For just a moment she glanced down at my chest and then looked at me a bit surprised.

"Really? I mean like yours look great now."

I squeezed her hand again. "Well, that was sixteen years and one baby ago. Trust me, you should be proud of yours now."

She didn't appear to be convinced so without thinking I tossed out, "Well your father obviously likes them."

Ooops! Maybe I shouldn't have said that. She pulled her hand away from mine and clasped them together tightly on her lap.

"Sorry, I shouldn't have said that," I tried to apologize. She didn't say anything so I said, "You know, my mom use to always tell me that fathers are men too and men can't always control everything they do."

She didn't say anything more about it so I tried to move the conversation to the lesson for the day. There was only about fifteen minutes or so left in our scheduled hour so we didn't get very far but even in that short period of time I had to ask myself why her mom had arranged for me to tutor Alexis. Oh sure she wasn't any Albert Einstein but she was also further along than most girls her age when it came to math. Then again, these days parents were so competitive when it came to their kids it didn't surprise me all that much.

Our hour was up and Alexis couldn't wait to skip out to be with her friends. I figured I should at least introduce myself to her dad so I looked around to see if I could find him. Damn, the house was huge! Finally I made my way to the kitchen and through the window over the sink I could see a pool in back. Oh yeah, REALLY nice house! There laying in a lounge chair by the side of the pool was Eric. I made my way out to say my goodbyes...

Now let me put this politely... Eric wasn't exactly skinny. There was that and my opinion that speedos should be require licenses such that only certain men were allowed to wear them. Had that rule been in place, Eric wouldn't be laying out in the sun with a speedo that almost a thong. His eyes were closed and for a moment I thought he was asleep. I stood a few feet back, wondering if I should wake him or just leave. Meanwhile I couldn't help but notice the large lump in the front of his super-tight swim suit. I had to assume at home he wouldn't bother padding anything which meant there must be something rather substantial underneath!

Just as I was about to leave his eyes opened and he grinned up at me.

"Done so soon? You're as bad as a stripper when it comes to hauling in the money!"

The disarming way he said it took away any sting that you might read into his words without hearing the tone behind them. Still, was he flirting with me or just being less than polite, as they say?

"Don't worry, you got your full hours' worth," I assured him.

"Just teasing, I hope you realize that," he quickly backtracked, "You know, next time you should bring your suit and you can take a swim afterwards if you'd like. Wouldn't hurt for this expensive hole in the ground to see some action for once."

Oh sure, like I was under some delusion as to why he was REALLY making such an offer. Heck, if he was already eyeing me from head to toe now wearing this conservative outfit then I could only imagine if I was wearing a bikini, especially one of my sluttier "private" ones.

For shorts I again decided to keep things toned down slightly so rather than wearing one of my cutoffs with the leg cut so short my ass hung out like Alexis did from hers, I selected one of more conservative pair - white denim that came down almost a couple of inches below my crotch. Just as I'd gone with the bra decision, I chose a pair of bikini-style panties rather than going without. I guess I could've worn a thong as well but my philosophy on those is that if nobody is going to see it, why bother given the discomfort? The denim was thick enough such that there really was no outline anyway and as tight as the shorts were the panties actually helped a bit to prevent rubbing my poor pussy raw!

Had this been more of a date I would've picked a pair of heels but under the circumstances I thought they'd be inappropriate so I chose a pink pair of sneakers with white ankle socks. For just a moment I contemplated pulling my hair back into a ponytail but after further consideration decided that I didn't need to go TOO casual and besides, that was Alexis' look so why even try to compete with a thirteen year-old.

Just as with my first visit, Alexis immediately answered the door. This time, however, I saw Eric just down the hallway and he came quickly to greet me.

"Hi Kelly! My but you're looking hot today."

I glanced over at Alexis who had her arms crossed in front of her. She just rolled her eyes at her father's rather blatant flirting. Still, she didn't seem terribly upset at his behavior which made me wonder if he was that way with other women as well. That begged the question as to how he behaved when his wife was home. Somehow I got the impression from the brief time that I'd met with her that she might not be exactly appreciative of such behavior.

Actually the way I was dressed I could've passed for Alexis' older sister. Like me, she was in her usual shorts and tank top and in fact they appeared to be the same style as the last week's editions. One difference though was that unlike me she'd dispensed with a bra such that her nipples stood out prominently under the thin smooth material. Poking out as obvious as they already were, I could just imagine how they'd stand out if she was aroused. Judging by the way her father kept ogling her chest I got the idea that he was thinking along the same lines.

"OK then, lesson time?" I asked rhetorically as Alexis led the way. Looking back at her father I said softly, "Too bad it's raining so hard. Sorry but I left my bikini at home."

Even though he must've already known that there would be no swimming after the lesson today, the look on his face was more dejected than I'd anticipated. Like what had he expected, for me to come over and do the lesson all but naked in my sluttiest bikini?

This time we got into the lesson immediately, starting with me looking over the homework I'd assigned from the last time. She had everything correct which led me to wonder if she'd had some help or perhaps more likely, she didn't really need these lessons at all. Based on the questions I tossed in looking over her work, she certainly seemed capable of doing the work on her own. Still, so many parents today are so competitive that even if their kid is doing fine they still push them to do better.

As we neared the end of our hour together I was looking through some stuff I'd brought with to give to her to complete for the next week when she finally opened up the conversation a bit.

"Sorry by the way, I can't believe my dad sometimes."

I smiled at her as if I had no idea what she was talking about and replied with, "Oh? Why is that Alexis?"

Again with the eye roll... "Like when he said you looked hot. OMG, like so inappropriate!"

I smiled again, a little broader this time if anything. "Well, what's so bad about that? I just took it as a compliment."

She just shook her head. "He's like that with my friends too... always commented on how they are dressed - or not."

I kind of looked at her questioningly as if I didn't understand what she meant so she explained saying, "You know, like when they come over and we all get in the pool. Can you believe he even told them last week that they could skinny dip if they wanted!"

Taking a shot in the dark I asked, "Oh? Do you guys do that?"

"Yes but ewwwww... not in front of my dad!" she quickly replied, "That would be so gross!"

Of course I didn't miss the fact that she said they did, only that they hadn't in front of her dad. I almost laughed when I thought to myself that it wouldn't surprise me in the least if he had been spying on her and her naked friends from one of the upper windows in the house that overlooked the pool.

"So does he like to watch you guys in the pool?"

Alexis giggled a little at that which told me all I really needed to know but she answered anyways.

"Oh yeah... It's SOOOO embarrassing," she sighed, cupping her boobs and shifting them absentmindedly. Hey, when you don't wear a bra the girls have to be adjusted sometimes.

"Yeah but I bet you and your friends don't help things either, do you?" I teased her a little, "Am I right?"

This time it was her turn to be embarrassed as her cheeks reddened a little. She didn't answer this time but once again her non-verbal response told me all I needed to know.

"It's OK," I tried to reassure her, "My friends and I use to do the same with my dad only we just had a hot tub instead of a big pool like you have."

"Oh? Like what did you guys do?"

"Nothing really, just flirted a little. Some of our suits were a little... well let's just say they didn't cover much. Sometimes he would get in with us and we'd brush up against him and even sit in his lap sometimes."

A brief pause and then, "When you did that, did your dad get hard too?"

I almost choked when she said that but somehow regained my composure. I mean like she hadn't asked IF he did, at least not the way I would've asked. From the way she worded it, it would seem that Eric was getting erections when they sat on his lap. Like THAT was a big surprise!

"Oh sure, of course he did. You remember what I said last time about fathers are men too? They can't help it. It's all in the DNA."

It was almost at the end of our scheduled time but I wasn't in any hurry to leave. Considering this was only the second time I'd even been with her for a grand total of less than two hours, I was amazed that she would open up to me so quickly. Then again, I knew from my own youth how difficult it could be to discuss this sort of stuff with anyone. At least I had my mom to go to when I needed answers but odds were that Alexis' mom wouldn't have been as understanding as my mom had been when it came to her husband's sexual reaction to their daughter and her friends. Maybe she just needed someone to listen to her and she figured that dressed as I was and the way her dad had reacted to me that I would understand.

"That's what Lisa says," she mused, seeming to be thinking over what I'd said. Seeing my questioning look she added, "She's one of my friends. She's a slut."

I couldn't help but smile again. It wasn't like Alexis was criticizing her friend but more like simply stating a fact.

"A slut?" I asked, trying not to appear too anxious to hear more.

"Yeah... you should see her bikini. It's ridiculous. I mean like you can just about see everything. She said her dad bought it for her but I don't know, my dad would never buy ME anything like that!"

"Maybe you should ask him," I offered a bit of unsolicited advice. "My dad loved to buy me clothes."

"You're not going to believe this," Alexis said without looking me in the eyes, "but Lisa claims he bought the last one after she put her mouth on his penis. I mean like I don't even believe she did that for real but she insists it's true."

Now she had my attention for sure!

"Would you like to do that for your dad?" I said softly, not sure if I should go there but figured what the heck, she was the one to bring it up in the first place.

Alexis' reaction was as swift as it was pointed. "Ewwwww! Like how can you even say that? God Kelly, that's just gross. My DAD?"

As tempted as I was to tell her that it probably wouldn't be long before she learned the joys of a well-delivered blow job, even if not for her dad, I quickly backed off.

"Oh no... just saying since you mentioned Lisa doing her dad."

"Well like I said, she's a slut. Everyone at school says so."

There was a finality in her tone that pretty much shut down THAT conversation. Plus we were now over the scheduled time and while she'd been extremely patient and cooperative this time, I also noticed she kept a close eye on the large grandfather clock in the corner the entire lesson.

Wrapping things up, I quickly gave her the homework assignment after which she couldn't seem to leave the room fast enough, grabbing her phone on the way out (I have a strict rule about no phones during lessons so hers had been left on a table outside the room). With that done, I was feeling a little flushed after the last part of our "lesson". Wow, NOT what I'd expected, that was for sure.

As I turned to leave I almost had a heart attacked as somehow Eric had moved in right behind me without me noticing. He was grinning ear to ear which told me he had probably been eavesdropping on my conversation with his daughter.

"Now THAT was what I call a lesson," he said with a smirk.

pool. As for the "in her bed" reference, probably nothing more than a back rub or something like that, again with maybe the occasional "accidental" groping. All pretty innocent stuff in my book.

"To be honest," he continued, "I WAS pretty turned on when she mentioned me getting hard with her on my lap. I've never heard her say anything about that before. Hell, I wasn't really sure if she even noticed."

I wanted to laugh at what was either his naivety or duplicity. Did he really think any girl would NOT notice something poking her in the butt - especially while sitting on a guy's lap? Even if they were all still virgins, it's not like they weren't old enough to know how men work! I can still remember how it would feel when I sat on my dad's lap when I was Alexis' age. Yeah, there was no way you could miss THAT! Though I wasn't about to open up about my own experiences with Eric, I figured a little encouragement on my part couldn't hurt.

"Well, sort of hard NOT to notice that sort of thing you know?"

Eric grabbed onto my comment like a drowning man to a life line thrown to him.

"Oh really... did you ever feel YOUR dad's erection under you?"

No way I was rising to THAT bait! Actually I was a little shocked that he was being so forward with me. Apparently since I hadn't gone screaming out of the house by now he figured he could say just about anything to me. Rather than risk a verbal answer, I just huffed and gave him an eye-roll as if to say he had to be kidding to even ask me such a question. Eric wasn't deterred by my lack of positive response. If anything, it was like he was on a roll...

"Well, maybe next week the weather will cooperate and you can join me in the pool," he offered, "Maybe you'd like to sit on my lap like Alexis' does." Then his eyes lit up and he added, "Hmmmmmm, maybe you BOTH could take turns sitting on my lap."

"Ummmmm... I don't think so Eric," I said, surprising myself almost as much as him by my response. Things were moving along fast - a little TOO fast for my comfort levels. I wasn't sure where he was going with this but at the same time I had to wonder if he even knew. "What do you say let's just leave Alexis out of it for now, OK?"

Instantly I realized that my response was a little more open-ended than I'd intended.

"OK... I can deal with that," he agreed, licking his lips subconsciously. Something told me that he was sporting a raging erection about now but in his baggy shorts it was difficult to tell.

Just then my phone announced I had a text message so I fished it out of my purse. It was from my husband who didn't text me very often so I wanted to find out what the issue was. It also provided me with a great excuse to leave before things between me and Eric got any weirder.

Back in my car I called Steve. Turns out he just wanted to say he loved me! Awwwwww, he's such a wonderful husband!

6. The Challenge

Later that night I related everything that had happened during the day with Alexis and Eric to my husband over dinner.

"Wow, I can't believe they told you all that!" he exclaimed when I'd finished, "And on just your second lesson at that. Seems pretty risky if you ask me. Any idea why?"

Slowly I just shook my head. Indeed, I'd thought about it all afternoon myself and I hadn't come up with anything more. Heck, I'd even masturbated imagining what might happen if I joined Eric and his sexy little daughter in their pool.

"So do you think they're doing it?" Steve asked, the look on his face telling me he was hoping and praying for a positive response but I couldn't help him out.

"No... just something in the way she talked I could tell. I DO think she's probably teasing him but at the same time it's no different than when I use to tease my dad at her age. Most girls like to tease their dads - it's a pretty safe way to get an ego boost without having to worry about the guy getting the wrong message. Face it, teasing and flirting are a long ways from having sex."

I saw Steve frown for just an instant before he caught himself. For me to even mention anything about me and my dad together was generally off limits but I took a chance in this case as I felt it was important in understanding the relationship between Alexis and Eric. When I was barely a teenager I use to sit on my dad's lap all the time while he was fully erect. Heck, in the hot tub we didn't even have anything on so then it was REALLY easy to feel his hard dick against my bare butt and pussy. The thing is, I had no sexual feelings towards my dad whatsoever at that age, just as I sensed Alexis had none towards her dad. Maybe if somebody had told me how he really felt about me it might have been different but he was under strict orders from my mom NOT to say anything like that to me. Who knows, maybe if Alexis knew how her dad felt about her (he hadn't come right out and said it but it was obvious he did) then she might look at his dick pushing against her in an entirely different light!

"So do you wanna fuck him Kelly?" my husband teased me.

"I don't know... maybe," I replied, trying to be casual and unconcerned but my husband knew me far better than to believe that.

"Oh don't EVEN try to give me that," he laughed out loud, "I bet you jilled off all afternoon thinking about it."

Dang, was mind-reading becoming common-place now?

"Ha! I knew it!" he exclaimed, not even giving me a chance to argue before he continued, "You want her as well, don't you? You want Alexis... admit it girl!"

Knowing my husband the easiest answer would have been yes and then to go on about how badly I wanted to undress her and 69 with that sexy little girl. As horny as he obviously was he would've believed every word and no doubt it would've led straight to our bedroom - if we even made it that far. Still, it wasn't true...

"Well, I know YOU would fuck her in a heartbeat," I replied, dodging his question but knowing he would be totally distracted by even discussing him fucking this hot little girl.

"God I'd love to see her naked," he sighed, "Heck, I'd settle for a bikini pic."

Sometimes men are just too easy to manipulate! Suddenly Steve go serious and I knew whenever his demeanor changed so quickly that it usually meant trouble for me!

"Challenge time!" he announced.

Oh crap, here it comes. And to make it worse, just when I was thinking he'd forgotten about our little summer bet. Over a month ago we'd gone out for one of our "submissive" dates where I agreed ahead of time to do anything he asked for the entire evening and I do mean ANYTHING. Sounds easy yet at the same time it requires an extraordinary amount of trust in your partner. When I would agree with Steve to do anything he wanted for the entire evening, trust me it had nothing to do with cooking and laundry. Inevitably it was 99% sexually oriented but then that was sort of the intention from the beginning anyways.

The real key to such date nights was I had to TOTALLY trust my husband. The last thing I wanted was to be placed in a position where I needed to say no as that just totally ruins the entire evening.

So anyways, our "summer challenge event" was an offshoot from the single date night format to where I agreed to do ANYTHING he asked for the entire summer, regardless of whether it was a date night or whatever. I don't mean simple things like doing the dishes or whatever, rather more like a series of date nights strung out over the summer.

I sat there across from my husband and waited for him to give me my mission except unlike the Tom Cruise movie, I wasn't being a choice as to whether or not to accept it. As his wife I'd already answered that question when I answered, "I do."

"Next week you have to get Eric to fuck you," Steve said. While it didn't sound like an order from his tone of voice, believe me when I say that there was no doubt for either one of us that it was.

I sat patiently there waiting for the other shoe to drop. There had to be more as this was just too easy! Where was the punch line? Was he going to make me get Alexis involved? Maybe the information about Lisa had stirred up some erotic ideas and now he was going to make me somehow get her involved. Was he going to demand that I have Eric fuck me in his bed where his wife sleeps? Maybe I'd have to wear her underwear at the time? Certainly something kinky was waiting for me - I just knew it and the longer he hesitated the kinkier the ideas I figured he was harboring.

"I want pics... video, the works."

THERE it was. I knew it had been too easy an assignment. Heck, the way things were going I was probably going to be fucking Eric the next time I was there anyway so simply ending it there wouldn't have been much of a challenge.

"And just how do you propose I get those?"

It was a legitimate question. Perhaps maybe not 100% in line with the rules which we'd worked out to where I didn't protest or try to negotiate anything he gave me as a challenge. Still, this was a logistics question more than an ethical or moral one.

"Oh I'm sure he'll help you out," Steve responded smugly.

Oh sure, Eric would no doubt jump at the chance to record himself fucking me - what guy EVER says no? The trick would be getting them from him!

So my mission was established. Now it was just a matter of making it happen which I had no doubt would be the easiest part of my challenge. I stood up and walked over to my wonderful husband.

"Ok big guy... What do you say in the meantime that YOU fuck me?"

It shouldn't be a surprise that I didn't have to say it twice!

7. Third Lesson - Meeting My Challenge

For the rest of the week I couldn't help but think about my next lesson with Alexis. God, like how many times did I masturbate over the course of those six days thinking of all the combinations and permutations? On top of Steve's challenge I'd say maybe half of my fantasies also involved Alexis. It wasn't so much that I was attracted to her sexually even though she was incredibly cute. I'd also sensed that she was a girl with a lot of pent-up sexual desire based from how quickly she had shared with me after barely even getting to know her. The rest of my fantasies centered around me and Eric - sometime us alone, others with his wife and/or daughter near us but not knowing what was really going on between Eric and me.

The morning of our third lesson arrived and thankfully this time the weather was looking perfect. All sunshine and hot weather! I was awakened by the pressure of my husband's hard dick against my pussy, Mmmmmmm, my favorite alarm clock was ringing...

"Hmmmmmm, I think somebody's horny this morning," I groaned as he lifted my leg and I felt him pressing in from behind me.

"Just getting you ready for your lesson today," Steve grunted as his fingers spread my pussy apart for his dick.

"Oh god yes..." I sighed as he entered me. My husband's dick fit in easily thanks to having lubed me up while I was sleeping with some massage oil we kept by the bed. God it felt so good to have Steve inside of me! While I was still trying to clear the cobwebs from my head my pussy was throbbing wildly with the pleasure of my husband's erect dick as he thrust it quickly in and out of me.

"You want that naughty daddy to fuck you today, don't you... You want his cheating dick filling your cunt with his sperm, don't you?"

Well duh, of course I did! I mean like what else had I been rubbing myself while thinking about it all the past week?

"Tell me," my husband pressed me as he fucked me faster, "I want you to tell me what you're going to do today while I'm at work."

By now I was fully awake... "Oh god, I want him to fuck me... I want it so bad!"

"Damn Kelly, you're such a fucking slut... you want him to cum inside of you, don't you? Tell me."

I groaned as he pressed himself in deep, holding his cock in me as far as he could as he began to ejaculate inside of me. Yep, he was horny as hell this morning, that was for sure!

"Fuck yeah! Just like this... I want his cum in me just like yours!"

"Then you're going to come home filled with his sperm, like a good slut."

"Oh yeah... dripping out of me as I drive home," I sighed as I just laid there with my husband imbedded in me like a stake driven into me.

Steve grunted and I felt him spasm, his dick thrusting into me again even as it slowly dwindled.

"Then who's gonna fuck you tonight? Whose dick do you want more than anyone else's?

"Yours! I want YOU to fuck me Steve, more than anyone else in the world I want you in me."

Indeed, that was the key to everything. True, another man was likely going to invade my body with his penis today, mating me and filling me with his adulterous sperm. Yet that was just sex. That was just about my personal pleasure and ego. What I REALLY wanted was what I had right now... my wonderful husband making love to me. I knew that if all went well today with Eric that it would lead to a spectacular night of sex with my husband and in the end, isn't that what's most important?

It was running late for him to get to work on time so he had to pull out of me and get showered and dressed. God I was so damn horny! While he was doing his thing, I laid in bed and masturbated until I'd orgasmed a couple of times. Damn I wished the time for her lesson was here already!

This time I didn't mess around choosing an outfit. After my discussion with Alexis I wasn't worried about what she thought and her mom wouldn't be home so why tip-toe around? No bra, no underwear - THAT was a given from the start. I even fooled around with the idea of wearing a super short skirt but then I DID have to do a lesson with Alexis to do first and I wasn't going to have to worry about baring my pussy to her the entire time. In the end I wore my standard summer slut uniform - super short cutoff denim shorts and a belly-baring cut-off t-shirt that had been too small when I bought it and now after several wash cycles was way too tight to be even remotely appropriate. But then "appropriate" wasn't the look I was going for, not by a long shot.

Sneakers were out as well. Again, why be subtle? I didn't choose my highest heels by any stretch of the imagination but these were at the four inch mark and showed off my thighs and ass to their best. With my summer tan that I'd been working on I knew my legs looked great even without them. Hey, I may not have the most fantastic boobs but I'll put my ass and legs up against anybody's!

One thing I definitely wore - my wedding rings. Two reasons - one being that I love my husband and it means something special to me whenever I'm having sex with another man men to see my wedding ring on my finger and remember the vows I made at the altar. Yes, I will love and honor my husband all the days of my life! Indeed, to me it's my commitment to my husband that makes it possible to say I'm not committing adultery when I have sex outside of marriage. The second reason is that I know it turns guys on when they fuck me to be reminded that I'm married. Well, I may allow them to fantasize that I want them more than my husband but that's all it will ever be - THEIR fantasy. But hey, if it makes the sex better, what's the harm in indulging them a little?

Finally, I rummaged through my dresser drawer of bikinis, debating which on to wear. I must have had at least a dozen ranging from a relatively conservative two piece that I hated but had to buy for when I chaperoned the youth group the previous summer at a pool party. The new youth pastor was well aware of my reputation and we'd had a very brief but pointed discussion about what was considered "appropriate", at least from his point of view. Technically it wasn't a discussion really as he did almost all the talking but I got the message loud and clear. It was a shame to waste the money as I'd never worn it since!

At the other end of the spectrum was the latest version of what my dad use to affectionately call "Kelly's slut suit". It was a swim suit in name only as here's no way it was ever intended to actually be worn in the water. Not more than a few pieces of small material tied on with strings, it would definitely have had me thrown out from any public pool or beach but then that wasn't why I bought it. There's only one reason any girl buys such a suit - to show off her body in as sexy and sensual manner as possible without actually being nude.

Only my dad and husband had seen me in these type of suits and I saw no reason to add Eric to that list so I ended up choosing something in between the two, although biased more towards the slutty side than the church camp version. Actually I'd found it at Macy's so it's not like I had to shop at some sleazy internet site. It was a peach colored halter style that tied behind my neck making it easy to undo and drop to expose my boobs should anyone want to see them. Lots of cleavage of course and side boob as well but it did more than just cover my nipples and actually had more coverage than some bras I own. The bikini bottoms weren't quite to where I'd call them a thong although the hips were cut high and the lack of any lining made it easy to get out of the water with an obvious camel toe.

Tucking my suit into my purse (not like there was all that much to squeeze in), I headed out the door and was on my way...

Ringing the doorbell, I wondered who would answer this time. Well, whoever it was must have been waiting for me as no sooner did it go off than I heard the handle being turned. When the door opened it revealed them both with Alexis standing in front of her father. We did the standard greeting thing and Eric closed the door behind me after I'd stepped into the foyer.

"Whoa!" Eric practically gasped as he stood back and gave me the once-over - several times in fact. This time around he didn't even try to pretend he wasn't undressing me in his mind - not that there was all that much to imagine off of me.

"See dad, I told you that she was a slut."

"Well look who's calling the kettle black," I retorted.

To be fair, Alexis' shorts weren't nearly as revealing as mine but they were still an upgrade from the previous ones I'd seen her wearing. That and her cami came down to cover most of her belly with just a hint of skin revealed near her waistline. She wasn't wearing a bra but then it wasn't like there was all that much on top that required any support to begin with. Even then, what she DID have was perky and needed no support whatsoever.

"Now behave yourself Alexis," Eric corrected her, "Remember what I told you."

Needless to say I'd love to know what he'd told her! Nonetheless, there was no further hint along those lines. Hmmmmmm, was he just trying to tease me? If so it was working.

"Well, I guess we should get started," I proposed.

No doubt neither one of them would've protested had I just skipped the lesson for the day. Alexis undoubtedly had other places she'd rather be and I was getting some pretty good vibes from her father that he was more interested in my body than my teaching skills for his daughter's education.

From the frown on her face I wondered if maybe Alexis was thinking along the same lines but she dutifully led the way, leaving her father behind us. Once at the table we took our seats and I started to ask her about her homework when she interrupted me.

"So what's with the slutty outfit?" she asked accusingly, pointing her finger at me as she sat back in her chair and crossed her tanned legs. It had the effect of showing them off and I had to say they looked pretty darn good, even if they were still a little on the skinny side. Another year. maybe two at most, and she'd be at her prime.

"Oh? What do you mean?" I asked innocently.

She rolled those big brown eyes and shook her head before answering.

"C'mon Kelly, give me a break. My mom would kill me if I ever even ASKED to wear something like those shorts. Not to mention your tits are practically hanging out."

"Does it bother you if I dress this way for our lesson?"

"I don't give a crap. Not like I'm a lesbian you know."

Well I couldn't help but smile a bit at that remark.

"What dos THAT have to do with anything?"

"What?"

"About you not being a lesbian?"

Alexis shrugged. "Just saying, doesn't matter to me what you wear. I figured you were a slut anyways after last week - that's what I told my dad after you left."

"Well just so you know, I'll take that as a compliment."

"Wasn't meant to be," she mumbled.

"Why? Something I said wrong last week?"

Again the shrug but she just sat there this time without responding so I waited her out by pretending to look through some papers in my notebook.

"Well... first you asked me if I wanted to put my dad's penis in my mouth. How sick is that? Then you asked my dad if he wanted to do you me along with you. Like, what's with you anyway? Only a dirty slut would even think of something like that!"

So her dad wasn't the only one who listened in on other people's conversations...

"I was just teasing your dad," I said defensively although I didn't know why I needed to defend myself to her in the first place.

"Just like you teased him today wearing THAT?" she retorted, nodding her head towards my outfit.

Not exactly the sort of question you ask most young teen girls but then this conversation was already surreal so why not give it a shot?

She gave me her best "duh" expression followed by, "Well how would YOU feel if your dad did it with someone besides your mother?"

Although I knew the answer immediately, I paused for a moment to give her the impression I was considering her question.

"I can't say I guess. My dad never did."

Well technically I was telling her the truth. At least as I define it, my dad never HAS cheated on my mom. No doubt she might have thought differently had I told her everything but so far as this discussion was going, I didn't think I needed to get into any deep philosophical discussions about adultery and incest.

"I don't want them to get divorced."

It was a valid concern. Like what kid DOES want to see their parents split up? Even though I was an adult, it still hurt when my parents did.

"Well, that would only happen if you told your mom about it."

OK, so I was laying a guilt trip on her but if I had any chance at all of meeting my challenge I had to be sure Alexis wasn't going to throw a monkey wrench in the works.

"Why can't you just NOT do it with him?"

Another valid question. I supposed I could've gone into a long explanation of why having sex with married men behind the backs of their wives was such an incredible turn-on for me. Still, I have problems with adults sometimes understanding it so how was I going to get a girl her age whose only concern was that her father was going to do something to hurt her mom and maybe lad to a divorce.

"Let me explain something Alexis," I said softly, reaching out to take her hand in mine. She didn't pull it back this time which I took as a good sign.

"When a man like your dad has the feelings and needs that he has now, sooner or later he's going to give in and do something about them. I like to think that if he does it with me once that maybe those ideas and feelings in him will be satisfied and he won't cheat on your mom again, or at least not for a long time. On the other hand, I could NOT do him today but then he might do it with another woman who might not be so nice as me."

"As nice as you?" she asked me sounding a bit perplexed.

"I mean someone discreet and someone who won't try to make him cheat even more later. Nice like that."

"But what about YOUR husband?" she asked. I took it as another good sign that she seemed to accept what I had just said and now was expressing a different set of concerns.

I squeezed her hand and smile. "Alexis, I love my husband more than any other man in the world and I know he loves me just the same. It's just sex and we both enjoy it... a LOT. Just because you have sex with someone else besides your husband doesn't mean you love him any less."

She look dubious so I continued, "I know, most people don't see it that way, at least they won't admit they do. But trust me, your dad can fuck me once and still love your mom just as much after. In fact, I bet he loves her even more once he gets this out of his system."

She hadn't bought it completely, that was obvious, yet at the same time I could see she was mulling it over and not just outright rejecting everything as she had a little ways before.

"I guess you're right," she mumbled, not sounding at all convinced but it was good enough for me.

"Would it better if you watched us?"

Now THAT got her attention but I quickly learned it wasn't the sort of attention I had hoped for.

"Ewwwww, you mean like watch you and my DAD having sex?"

"So I take it you've never seen your mom and dad do it?"

"Ugh!" she exclaimed, "I don't even like watching them make out. Why, did you see YOUR parents do it?"

"No I didn't," I answered which was 100% truthful so long as you only considered me the as she was now.

I was actually three years older than her before I ever SAW my parents making love. Oh sure I HEARD them plenty as their room was right next to mine and the 100 year-old walls were paper thin. Regardless, sex was something they kept private between themselves while I was young.

"I can EVEN believe you asked me that," she grumbled, folding her arms in a defensive posture, "That's just sick."

"I didn't mean anything bad," I tried to assure her, "You just seems like you were a little jealous and I thought just maybe..."

There really didn't seem to be any point in going on. By now over half our lesson time had expired so I felt obligated to get in at least a LITTLE academia considering how much her dad was paying me. For the rest of the hour we made a half-hearted attempt to go over the material but in all fairness, it was a total waste of time as I don't think she listened to a word I said.

******************

"Soooooo, good lesson today?" Eric asked as he came into the room at the top of the hour.

Alexis immediately took it as her cue to exit and she hurried out of the room without a word to either of us.

"So what's with her?" Eric asked me. I just shrugged and he chuckled, "Female hormones... god what a mess!"

He went over to the window, apparently to check that this time his Peeping-Tom daughter was really heading over to her friend's house. She must have been as he turned to me with a grin.

"Bring your suit?" he asked.

I nodded and he pretended to be unhappy.

"Aw shucks, I was rather hoping you'd want to go skinny dipping!"

He said it trying to make it sound like he was teasing but there was something in his eyes that told me he clearly would've preferred I'd left my suit at home. Well, he hadn't seen it on me yet!

I glanced around. "So where can I change?"

His face scrunched up a bit as he considered. No doubt in his fantasies I'd either do it right here in front of him or ask to go to his bedroom where he'd come in while I was naked and fuck me. Well, so much for fantasies Eric and welcome to reality!

"I guess you can use Alexis' room," he offered.

I smiled and nodded so he led me upstairs where her room was a couple doors down right next to the bathroom. It was a typical teenage girl room - looked like a tornado had just passed through! Bed unmade, clothes on the floor, pretty much your standard disaster area. I looked back and he was standing there watching me.

"Ummmmm, do you mind closing the door or are you just going to stand there watching me?"

Well no doubt what he WANTED to say but instead he just grinned and reached for the handle to pull it shut. I wondered what he would've done if he knew that it would've been fine with me had he replied that he wanted to watch me? Heck, for that matter I probably wouldn't have stopped him from helping me undress. Once that was done then what would be the point in even bothering to get dressed again given his daughter's bed was available. Oh well, so much for THAT line of thought.

I quickly stripped down until I was bare-ass naked and then pulled out my bikini from my purse. Before putting it on, I looked around the room and tried to imagine Alexis in it. Did she look at herself in that long mirror mounted on the back of her bedroom door? Was she ever nude when she did, assessing herself in that ultra-critical way only a girl can of her own body? No matter what anyone might say to me, I never could score myself more than a six, maybe a seven. There were all those annoying imperfections that I suppose most guys never bother noticing when their attention is focused on my boobs, pussy or ass. Even then I would find fault. There was always something that could be improved.

Turning to the bed, I tried to picture Alexis laying in it at night with those thin pony legs spread wide apart, her hand nestled between those smooth tanned thighs as she touched herself. Did she masturbate often? I didn't have any doubt that she DID, it was just a question of how much. There have been very few girls in my life that I've known that did not masturbate to some degree or another. Of those who claimed they didn't, I've learned that it's more a question of not wanting to admit so rather than not actually doing it. By the time I turned thirteen I was masturbating on a regular basis although not quite as often as when I first discovered the joys available between my legs! No doubt Alexis had by now as well.

Enough with the daydreaming... I slipped on my thong bottom and then put on the bikini top. Using Alexis' door mirror, I adjusted everything into place and ran my fingers through my hair to fluff it out over my shoulders. Thankfully I'd shaved my crotch earlier as my so-called bikini bottom wasn't covering much more than the slit of my pussy. Heck, if I actually wore it in the pool for some odd reason it would probably slide between my labia and more or less cover nothing. The top did a nice job of supporting my boobs just enough to enhance my cleavage with plenty of side boob showing. With no lining my nipples were showing prominently even without being fully excited at the moment.

Inspection complete, I slipped on my heels again - something about a girl in a bikini and heels seems to turn guys on. Heck, even the Miss America type pageants figured that one out decades ago! I stuffed my clothes into a plastic grocery bad I'd brought with me, grabbed my purse and stepped back out into the hallway.

"Oh yeah... now THAT's what I call a bikini," Eric wolf-whistled from a few feet away where he'd been waiting for me.

I grinned and followed him back downstairs again where he led the way through the kitchen and then through a set of double sliding doors out onto a concrete patio that stretched out to the pool. It was an older pool and I saw where the mounts for a long-gone diving board had been. Thus there was a deep end which sloped up to a shallow end that looked to be maybe a few feet deep at most. What really drew my attention was a hot tub that looked like it had been added recently given it wasn't built-in but rather stood atop the patio with steps leading to it.

"So what do you think?" Eric asked as he turned and stretched out his arms.

"Nice... really nice," I complimented him nodding my head.

"Take a seat," Eric offered as he pulled out a chair by the glass table under a bright yellow umbrella. It had nice soft cushions which were far better than what you usually found in cheap lawn furniture. For that matter, nothing I could see looked like it came from Walmart.

"Thanks," I said as I took a seat and crossed my legs, very much aware that as I did his eyes were glued to them, especially up higher near my crotch.

For the next fifteen minutes or so it was like for one reason or another we were rationalizing being here, as if there needed to be some excuse for a 29 year-old married woman to be sitting with a mid-thirties married man whose wife was totally unaware of who he was seeing in her absence. Come to think of it, I'd really only met her briefly and since having started I'd only met her husband so it wasn't like I knew her all that well.

"It's getting pretty hot... do you want to take a dip?" Eric offered.

I just giggled playfully. "In this?" I teased him, running my fingers down from my bosom to my hips.

Eric grinned answering, "Well I guess that wasn't exactly designed to ever get wet."

We both laughed and then he asked If I wanted something to drink. He offered me wine but I politely turned him down and asked if he had a Diet Coke instead. He seemed a little surprised but just shrugged and disappeared into the house, leaving me alone by the pool.

Waiting for Eric to return, I sat their contemplating my current predicament. Just where was this all going? Oh sure there had been lots of flirting and suggestive talk but then I'd been down this path before with plenty of other married men. Truth be known, the more a guy talked about cheating or at the very least suggested it by his actions, the less I've found he is really ready to do it. So far that was exactly what Eric had been doing. Oh sure he'd been wildly suggestive and indeed, his eyes had been practically undressing me from the first time he'd seen me but did that really mean anything? Lots of men window shop but few buy the goods.

My thoughts were interrupted by Eric's return. He set down a large ice-filled glass of what looked to be my favorite beverage along with a beer for himself.

"Figured you for a white or pink wine girl," he commented as he took a seat again opposite me.

"Just never been much for anything alcoholic I guess," I said trying not to sound defensive. Funny how it is that everyone seems to expect me to drink white wine when in reality I could probably count the total number of glasses I'd drunk in my life on my fingers and toes.

Eric had also taken the opportunity to change into a swim suit, a rather baggy blue pair that came down almost to his knees. Well, at least it was better than a Speedo! Like a thong bikini for women, certain articles of clothing should require a license to wear! He was a bit overweight such that his belly hid the elastic band of his suit but not overly so. Really, at his age most men have developed a bit of a pot belly so if you're going to want to have sex with them then it's just something you have to accept.

As for the rest of his body, Eric was a bit on the hairy side which I can take or leave. Chest hair is fine but heavy shoulder and back hair starts to look a bit pre-evolutionary. Still, the only time I really get turned off is when it comes to facial hair. PLEASE guys, shave it off! Regarding pubic hair - don't you dare even trim it!. Yeah, sort of ironic I guess how I hate the feel of hair against my face when I kiss a guy yet when I'm sucking his dick I love his coarse pubic hair rubbing against my cheeks. I also love pubic hair for when I'm reaching into a man's pants like in public and feel my fingers running through a thick bush in his crotch. That and let's face it guys, as much as I enjoy what they do and what I do with them, a dick and set of balls just look a little creepy without any hair around them. Guys might like women looking like little girls but I don't know many women who like men looking like little boys.

"So do you typically hang out with the parents of your students in an outfit like that?"

It really wasn't a question in terms of wanting an answer to his specific question. I can read between the lines with the best of them! What he meant to ask was, "Do you typically hang out with the fathers of your students all but naked?" That to be followed closely by, "And do you have sex with them?" if he was like most men.

"Noooooo," I answered teasingly, "I don't think so."

"So why today?"

Now that WAS an honest question for which he probably wanted an answer. Well, for starters I couldn't tell him the truth. No matter how horny he may be, telling him I was doing this based on a dare issued by my husband that I was bound to follow wouldn't have exactly set the mood in the right direction. So I took a different approach...

"I hope you don't mind I picked this one?" I said in a worried tone of voice, "You don't like it?"

Whoa, I almost said, "My dad loves it," but caught myself in time. Talk about a potential Freudian slip!

Eric quickly backtracked. "Oh no, I didn't mean that at all Kelly!" Then he asked what was probably the most honest and thought-provoking question he could've.

"OK, let's be honest. I know I'm no Abercrombie & Fitch model while you belong on the cover. Sexy girls like you just don't come onto guys like me without there being some ulterior motive."

"Oh? So you think I'm sexy?" I asked before he had a chance to even finish.

Poor Eric, I could see he was struggling. Gone was all the swagger. It was almost like he was afraid that at any moment the cameras would come out and some jackass stuck a microphone in his startled face to tell him it was all some practical joke. Had he maybe figured that this would never really happen and now that it was, did he think it was a case of something being too good to be true?

My mind was racing. Indeed, Eric wasn't the only one for which this wasn't exactly going according to script. I think that I could've handled most anything I guess but to see him in such a state of distress almost made me feel guilty for what I was about to do... almost.

Standing up, I moved in closer to him until I was right in front of him. Then I put one hand on each of his hairy shoulders which caused me to lean forward and all but falling out of my bikini top in the process. Looking at him straight in the eyes...

"Eric, when a girl comes on to you, the polite thing to do is say something nice about her and stop putting yourself down."

A grin started to form and no doubt had I looked down I would have seen another shape taking form but I kept looking straight at his face as I waited for his response.

"Well OK... You look fantastic Kelly... totally hot."

"Do you know why you turn me on Eric?"

He just shook his head which was probably the best I could hope for at the moment.

"One... you're married. Two... you have a hot teenager daughter. Three... you're wife isn't bad herself. And four... I like the way your dick gets hard when you're around me."

The first three he didn't have a problem with. It was when I rattled off the fourth that he seemed to be a bit embarrassed.

"Oh don't worry about THAT! I love it," I said in as seductive a tone as I could muster, taking my right hand and planting the palm of it onto the erection hiding beneath his baggy swim trunks. He immediately squirmed a bit.

"Kelly, what the hell are you doing?"

I started to rub his crotch slowly through his trunks. He didn't push me away yet at the same time I could tell he was really tense.

"I'm doing exactly what YOU want me to do Eric."

"Oh god... I'm married Kelly. We can't do this. Shit, I mean you're married too. How can you cheat on your husband like this?"

Then the REAL worry came out as he glanced back towards the house. "What if Alexis comes back? Shit, she could be back any time now!"

He kept looking back at the house so I reached out to his chin with my left hand, keeping my right on his crotch. Turning his head back to me, I released his chin and reached behind my neck to undo my bikini top. Just in time I remembered something important - my challenge requirements. Damn!

Poor Eric looked totally perplexed as I raced back into the house for my purse. Grabbing my phone, I was back where I'd started with maybe barely a minute gone by. Eric saw the phone in my hand and I could see he was dying to ask me what was going on.

"I hope you don't mind....," I said seductively as I handed him the phone. He still looked like he didn't understand so I added, "Don't you want to be able to watch this again later?"

OK, so I was pushing him a bit and there was always the risk of going too fast and scaring him off, especially since everything was being recorded. Still, this wasn't my first rodeo and as horny as he obviously was the risks seemed minimal. If anything, I was more concerned about exactly what he'd voiced earlier - the unexpected return of Alexis. Oh sure the concept was erotic but as I always say, you have to be able to separate reality from fantasy.

"Yes," he gasped but that wasn't good enough for me.

"Say it then... tell me what you want."

His hand squeezed my boob really tight then but I didn't protest and he didn't disappoint me.

"I want to fuck her... I want so bad to fuck Alexis."

"Give me the phone," I demanded and he reluctantly stopped the video and handed it to me. I took control from that point forward.

"Now close your eyes," I said softly, gently squeezing his dick. He would have done about anything I think for me at that moment so closing his eyes was a pretty easy thing for him to do.

I took a deep breath. "Oh daddy, I love the feel of your dick."

His eyes immediately popped open!

"Close them!" I said abruptly which caused him to immediately do so. "Now don't open them again."

My drill sergeant tone disappeared only to be replaced by my teenage girl voice.

"Take these off," I told him as I tugged on his swim suit.

It was a little difficult with only one hand available but I wanted to record everything he was saying about his desires for his daughter. God Steve was going to love this!

It pleased me that he kept his eyes tightly shut as he released my boobs (which was actually not a bad thing given how hard he'd been squeezing them!) and used both hands to pull his suit down and drop them to his ankles, stepping out of them and letting them lay on the concrete.

"Mmmmmmm, you look so sexy daddy when your cock is so hard."

I squatted between his legs and kissed the tip of his dick. Keeping an eye on him, I noticed his eyes started to open to catch a glimpse but when he saw me staring at him he quickly shut them tight again.

"Do you want me to suck your dick daddy?"

It was like all the air in his lungs escaped as he sighed deeply and then took a deep breath.

"Oh yes baby... suck daddy's dick... I so want you to suck it."

He didn't have to ask twice!

As I sucked him one thought came to mind as he groaned and his cock twitched as my mouth and tongue worked it... Alexis might be half my age and cuter than hell but there was no way on God's green earth that she could ever hope to give her dad the kind of blowjob I was giving him! Give her a few more years and a few dozen dicks and maybe she might be competitive but for now, daddy was getting the BJ of his life as I doubted his wife was any match for my skills either. OK, so maybe I'm bragging a bit but personally, based on my experience and results I think I can back up everything I've said!

His cock was rigid and it wasn't long before the telltale signs began to emerge. Not knowing his physical condition I couldn't be certain, but still by taking into account things like age and weight I would have been surprised if he was going to be capable of cumming more than once in any reasonable time period. Well, we didn't have that much time and I didn't want him shooting his load prematurely so I slowed down a bit on the blowjob.

"Oh fuck don't stop Lexi," he groaned, putting his hands on my head and trying to pull me back into his crotch.

Now I'd never heard him refer to her with that nickname so I knew he was pretty much buried in his fantasy of me being his daughter now which just made it all the hotter for me. Well, that fantasy was about to get a whole lot more real - and soon.

Standing up (my knees were a little sore now from being bent so long but I managed), again I was pleased to see his eyes never opened even once. I'd have loved to be able to read his thought just then to see what image he'd conjured up in his mind.

"What do you want now daddy," I whispered into his ear as I held his throbbing dick in my hand while doing my best to keep the camera on target. God, it felt like it was on fire! He didn't hesitate.

"Daddy wants to fuck his baby girl... I want to feel it inside of you."

"Oh yes daddy, I love you," I replied.

Now had he been MY dad I would have leaned over and kissed him but he wasn't and frankly, I didn't think he cared one way or the other at this point. Indeed,

My own orgasm had retreated just enough for me to somehow respond with, "Yes daddy, cum in me... mate me daddy... make me yours daddy. I want to be all yours."

"Oh Lexi!!!!" he called out as I felt his hands on my hips, pulling me into his as he buried his dick as deep as he could inside of me.

Into my pussy his sperm spewed from his throbbing dick. With each thrust of his hips I could envision yet another stream of white cum rushing from the tip of his cock deep inside my welcoming pussy. Of course unlike his daughter's at the moment, mine wasn't throwing out the welcome mat in terms of a waiting egg but what difference did that make at a time like this? It was the symbolism that counted as much as anything.

"Oh my god!" he gasped as he finished.

Gasping for air, I turned my head back over my shoulder to look at him. His eyes were open now and they met mine, followed by the biggest grin I'd seen yet from him.

"You can stay in me a while if you want daddy," I offered since he didn't seem in any hurry to pull out of me. As if to emphasize my invitation, I squeezed down on him a bit with my pussy which made his eyes widen a bit.

"Oh shit... God your pussy feels so good!"

I smiled and wiggled my ass against him.

"Well, your cock isn't doing such a bad job either you know."

We both laughed but then I saw him glance at the house and suddenly he pulled out of me so quick it almost shocked me.

"Oh fuck!" he gasped, reaching down for his suit, "You have to get yourself fixed up... hurry!"

I lifted myself up, feeling a little light headed after such a great fuck. It's not like there's some switch to just turn these sort of things on and off you know.

"C'mon Kelly, NOW!"

I turned and pulled my thing back over from where he had tugged it to the side to make way for his dick to get in me. Not like it made much difference as it was quickly soaked with his cum that was draining out of me now that I was upright. My top was still hanging loosely so it didn't take a lot to pull it behind my neck and tie it once again.

"What's going..."

He didn't let me finish.

"She's home!"

"Who?"

"Alexis!"

I couldn't help but notice he now referred to her by her full name instead of the shorter version he'd used while imagining it was her he was fucking instead of me. Under different circumstances I might've teased him about it but right now he was in full panic mode. I looked at the house but didn't see anything different than I'd seen since we'd left it. What in the world was going on?

"Are you sure?"

Eric had his swim suit waistband tied again. He looked at me and then his eyes went wide open as he glanced down at my crotch. He grabbed a towel and tossed it to me.

"Put this around you," he instructed me. I held it in place, not quite understanding what he was worried about so he added, "She can't see... THAT!"

Oh... THAT! He was, of course, referring to the obvious wetness of my crotch, not to mention the cum on the inside of my thigh. I suppose he had a point - it would've been a bit difficult to explain. Not to mention that everything about us even being out here was going to be difficult to explain as well.

"Let's see if we can get you out of here before she sees you."

I suppose I could have been a little upset at the way he was now treating me as used luggage but to be fair, it was completely expected. First, he'd just finish unloading and like most men no doubt along with his sperm had gone his horniness, at least for the next half hour or so. Second, there was his smart-ass little daughter. As much as he might fantasize about having sex with her, he was under no delusions that it might even have the slightest probability of happening. Then of course Alexis might also tell her mom. Even if somehow he managed to come up with some cock and bull story about what the two of us were doing out on the patio - obviously not swimming, there was no way her mom was going to buy it for an instant.

We hurried back to the house with him in the lead. The coast was clear in the kitchen and just as I thought I might make it out the front door without being caught a voice from the top of the stairs called out.

"You're still here Kelly? I saw your car and I wondered."

Oh yeah - that was one minor point Eric hadn't remembered. Even if she hadn't seen me in the house, how could she have missed my car sitting in the driveway?

a little unhappy I hadn't taken any of her. Still, I'd won the dare fair and square. He still had most of the summer to go so who knew what he'd come up for me next.

Knowing my husband, he'd come up with something real soon...

(Oct 19) Chapter 267: Familiarity Breeds Happiness

Story codes: MF inc father daughter
John - my dad (49)

Although this isn't one of my longer entries, at the same time it's about something that happened which meant a lot to me and so I wanted to share it with everyone. It's not about one of those "life-altering" events that I tend to wait for before writing a new diary post yet it goes to show that sometimes it's the familiar things that make you the most happy and content.

1. Being Me

One of the things that's always struck me as being rather ironic (maybe surreal would be a better description) is when people tell me that either they wish their life could be like mine, or that they wish their daughter was more like me, or in some more stranger cases even that they wish they WERE me! Hopefully those last folks are already female but then in this day and age who knows?

The reality is that it's pretty hard for me to relate the person I see in the mirror every morning with this mythical paragon that people seem to think I am. After all, when I look in that mirror all I see is ME, more or less the same girl I've been seeing there for almost thirty years now.

If there's one thing I've found in publishing my diary it's that the vast majority of people reading it have a very narrow one-dimensional perception of me. From the precious little feedback that I receive(I've also learned that the almost everyone who reads my diary is a lurker) it would seem that the typical person thinks that all I do is think about or engage in sex on a 24/7 basis. Don't I wish THAT was true!

Yeah, I'll admit that it used to bother me knowing that the majority of folks out there classify me as either some sort of pervert, nymphomaniac, pedophile, or even worse - a naive brainwashed and abused victim. Then again I also understand that I really only have myself to blame. Given that almost all of the diary entries I post focus on some crazy sexual event in my life, how can I blame people for having those impressions? The point is that represent the most exciting or otherwise impactful events in my life - both good AND bad. I mean it's not like I sit down at the end of the day and spend time writing about the everyday sex I have with my husband - and yes, we DO have sex in one form or another just about every day. Face it, who wants to hear about my daily prayer life, my crafting hobbies, church events I attend, local charity work I do, or even just a typical everyday lunch with friends and/or family or any of the hundreds of perfectly ordinary things that make up the majority of my life.

No, all anyone wants to know about it is that tiny percentage of my life that I write about and post on-line. It's not that I would mind writing about anything else but it takes a long time and a lot of work to do each one so if nobody's going to read it and comment to me about it then what's the point? Even when I DO write about my sex life people complain that I don't "embellish" it enough when it's not as exciting as their imaginations would make it out to be.

OK, before people blast me let me say here that I'm not THAT naive. It's not like I don't recognize that my life isn't exactly the norm but then again, whose is? Like doesn't everyone have SOMETHING about them that's a little different from everyone else? It's just that the things that make my life a bit unique tend to fall into categories that most people would call "taboo" - at best. Yet those same people fail to recognize, or maybe it's that they refuse to recognize, that from my perspective it's all perfectly normal as that's how I was raised. I mean it's sort of like how an Amish girl certainly knows that her life is different from most people's but that doesn't mean she sees it as something other than "normal". Same with me.

Perhaps the one element of my life that I've written about which seems to draw the most "attention" is my relationship with my father. Of course I'm referring to my sexual relationship with him. Again, I'm not trying to downplay anything or even to try and suggest that what we do is typical for most people. Yet at the same time I think based on what I've been told over the years that what I share with my dad is something that a most people WISH was typical for them as well. My only concern, if that's the right word, is that for too many people their wishes are actually based solely on their physical desires and lust which is exactly the type of attitude that has caused incest to be labeled as "taboo".

Now don't worry as I'm not going to go into some long drawn-out sermon on the pros and cons of incest - there's plenty in my diary about that subject already (too much according to some people). It's just that before I relate the events of this day I wanted to emphasize a few things for those who haven't read my diary. Then again I suppose it wouldn't hurt to remind even those who have of a few things as well. If such stuff bores you then I suggest skip straight to Chapter 2 instead of complaining to me. You've been warned!

Soooooo.... THE question of the day... why would a girl want to have sex with her own father? Although it's a question that everyone seems interested in, at the same time it's the part of my life that's clearly the most misunderstood. So let me get one thing straight from the start – it's NOT just for the sex. I mean like I've had all I wanted without having to engage in incest. Any girl who claims she can't get laid within the next hour is either lying or not very horny. Now I'm not saying I don't enjoy the physical aspects of incest but they're not the driving force behind why I like it.

When it comes to incest it's really quite simple... so much so that I think people just don't WANT to believe me when I say it because it IS so simple. I like to have sex with my dad because he IS my dad and as his daughter it's simply the right thing to do for these reasons:

impossible. Second, it pleases my dad who gets off fucking me while I'm still dressed in my Sunday dress or whatever outfit I'm wearing that day to the service. Lastly, it really turns me on to sit in church just minutes after he fucks me with my pussy still wet and throbbing knowing that some of my father's cum is still inside of me. It's such a turn-on to look around and imagine what people would say if they had any idea what we'd just done!

Usually that's about it - just a quickie before church. Typically it's only a few minutes, maybe ten to fifteen at most as I'm not the earliest riser on Sunday mornings. It's really not so much about the sex per se but more that we do it each and every week. OK, so for my dad it IS a lot about the sex but you get the idea.

Since by the time I arrive time we're both dressed and ready for church he usually just lifts my dress or skirt and we, as Nike would say, just do it. It doesn't hurt things that I almost never wear panties under a skirt or dress except at school when I'm teaching!

As you may imagine it's not like our little tradition is always the easiest or most convenient thing to do. There are even times when it's not even really something I WANT to do. By not wanting I mean that there are those days when I, just as anyone else, simply am not at the top of my game or just in the sort of funky mood where sex isn't at the head of my priority list. Also, the odds dictate that there will be those weekends when my period hits and while I'm not adverse to sex at those times in principle, there are those days when it's just not that convenient in the time we have to do things. Granted, I still give him a blowjob but it's not the same as him fucking me.

For whatever reason this morning was one of those times. Don't ask me why, guess I just woke up in a weird mood, the wrong side of the bed or whatever else because there was no real excuse for it. I simply felt in a crappy mood with a bit of a headache. One of those mornings you just want to crawl back in bed and stay there for the day.

I'd been woken by my alarm and after using the toilet I looked in the mirror and grimaced. Damn, what was WRONG with me? I looked like crap. Felt like crap. Good morning to just crawl back in bed and snuggle with my husband.

Then it hit me - it was SUNDAY morning! While the thought DID help perk me up a bit, I still wasn't exactly feeling up to par. It wasn't like my father would disown me or anything if I didn't show up and I knew he'd be the first to say that it was OK with him if I didn't. Yet knowing that didn't help as I knew he'd just be saying it for my benefit. I had no doubt that the look on his face wouldn't match the tone of his voice if I were to call him now and ask to stay home today.

Then I was hit again with a different feeling and this time it was 100% guilt. Wow, like how could I be so selfish? Like all the things my dad had done for me over the years, all that he had sacrificed to make my life what it is today, all the support he'd provided when undoubtedly there had been times when he would have rather stayed home rather than attend whatever event I was involved in. Sure, it wasn't like he wouldn't get to fuck me again soon, worst case being a week until the next Sunday rolled around. Yet was that really a valid excuse for me to put my own needs ahead of his? Besides, it wasn't like I was dying or anything really horrible. Nothing a couple extra-strength Excedrin's wouldn't cure. It was just me being selfish so what was I doing even thinking about it?

The other thing that drove me was simply not wanting to ruin my streak. It's sort of like me not taking drugs. I've NEVER used any form of illegal drug or abused any legal ones. Many times I've been at parties where people were using most anything including pot and was asked if I just wanted to try it once. I've always refused and I'm proud to be able to say I've never wavered.

So too when it comes to sex with my dad. I've NEVER told him "no" regardless of the circumstances and believe me, there have been times when I was a LOT worse off than I was feeling this morning and yet I always made sure I satisfied him. Sure he would have understood and I know he would never get mad at me for doing so but that's not the point. I've NEVER withheld myself sexually from him and I wasn't about to ruin a streak of almost fourteen years over a headache. Like how cliche!

So it was that an hour later I found myself walking up the sidewalk to the front door of my dad's house. Most of the time I still refer to it as "my" house as after all, I did live there for most of my life. Still, technically it was just my dad's now. My mom had moved to Oregon after the divorce so it wasn't my "parents" house. Even though my Aunt Linda lived there now with my dad it wasn't like they were married or anything. So in the end it was just my dad's now.

Thankfully the headache had just about disappeared. It's pretty amazing what two little pills can do! As I approached the door my anticipation of what was waiting for me on the other side completed the transformation the aspirin had already pretty much taken care of by now. Even when I almost tripped on that damn rise in the sidewalk where a tree root had pushed it up - how many times had I tripped over it through the years and STILL somehow would catch a heel, I didn't let it get to me.

Not surprisingly the door was unlocked so I just let myself in. The hallway light was off and after the bright morning sun it took a moment or so for my eyes to adjust to the darkness. Hmmmmmm, so where was everyone? The downstairs was empty whereas usually either my dad or my aunt would be there to greet me. Walking down the hallway towards the eating nook and kitchen, I listened for any activity in the house but all was quiet as a church mouse.

Turning into the kitchen I wasn't sure who was more startled - me or my dad who was putting the coffee creamer down on the counter.

"Whoa, just about spilled it all," my dad laughed as he looked up at the clock. "Damn, I didn't realize it was getting to be that time already."

Obviously. Normally I'd expect him to be "preparing" himself for me but this morning he was fully dressed in his suit with everything buttoned and zipped looking like he was about to step out the door.

"So where's Aunt Linda?" I asked, a bit curious as usually she was always up before he was.

"Oh she had to leave early for some house showing," he explained, "You know how some people are heathens and want to do their shopping on Sunday morning instead of going to church."

He said that with a bit of a smirk. Yeah, my parents had pretty much always been regular church attenders but I never got the impression my dad was really all that into it. My mom had been the true instigator and I always got the impression that he pretty much went along for the ride rather than fight the inevitable. Since she'd left after the divorce I think the only reason he goes now is because he wants to go there to be with me. Oh well, better that he go than not regardless of the intent. Who knows, maybe something might rub off whether he wanted it to or not! I really couldn't say anything as least he went, unlike my lazy husband who had to be practically dragged to attend even for Christmas and Easter.

"So then it's just you and me, eh daddy?" I said seductively, pressing into him and licking my lips.

He didn't say anything. Instead he leaned down and pulled me in tight, pressing his lips to mine and we kissed passionately for the next few minutes as his hands roamed over me. Definitely not your typical father-daughter peck on the cheek, that was for sure!

"God I love your ass," he muttered as he squeezed my butt through the thin dress I was wearing. Of course that was all that separated his hand from my ass as I'd conveniently "forgotten" my panties - as if I ever remembered them in the first place.

It wasn't long before I could feel his hands inching up my dress, bunching it up in my lower back until he had his hand planted on my bare smooth butt cheek. His tongue continued to explore my mouth as he bent at the knees until he was able to press his middle finger between my legs from behind and then straight into my wet pussy.

"Hmmmmmm, I think somebody's horny for their daddy," he murmured as he easily pushed it deeper into me. Yeah, I was horny and my pussy was wet to prove it.

"Fuck me daddy," I sighed deeply.

It wasn't like we had all morning. Church would be starting in less than half an hour so I just went straight to the punch line. I think of all the words I could utter, those three are the ones that turn my dad on the most. Not that he's unusual in the regard as from what most men tell me those are the same words just about all fathers want to hear from their daughter - if they're honest enough with themselves to admit it.

"God I want to baby... so damn bad," my dad said in a voice husky with pure lust. Sure we usually started off as just your typical father-daughter interaction, just some kissing and groping. Then as things progressed it usually became more and more about his desires for me. Not that it bothered me at all to have my dad get all horny for me. Like what girl wouldn't be proud to have her own father feel that way about her? Even better, what girl wouldn't be even more proud for him to SHOW her that he felt that way about her.

Well, show me he did as he released my butt to quickly undo his belt and pants. Then his pants dropped to the floor along with his underwear. It was a little comical in that he didn't even bother stepping out of them but then it would've been rather difficult without removing his dress shoes. In any case, what difference did it make as I wasn't about to go running off anywhere.

Reaching under my butt my dad lifted me up onto the cold counter top next to the sink where I knew the drill. I dutifully spread my legs for him and pulled up my dress affording him a perfect view of my soaking wet bare pussy. Under the circumstances it wasn't much of a surprise when I got the response I was hoping for! My dad paused for a moment to just stand and stare between my legs. Like I could almost feel his eyes boring into me!

"God I love your fuckin' pussy," he whispered as if there was anyone who might hear him, "I can't ever imagine NOT wanting it."

Well, he better not! LOL.

My dad grunted just a little as he grabbed my ankles and then lifted my legs up and onto his shoulders, scooting my exposed bottom to the edge of the counter top in the process. We both watched intently as he grabbed his stiff dick and ran the head of it up and down my wet slit. Oh yeah, I LOVE the feel of my father's cock as it slides over my sensitive clit!

"Love it when you get this wet," he murmured without taking his eyes off of what he was doing down there.

"Fuck me daddy, I want you in me," I pleaded softly with him, scooting even further to the edge to try and drive him in.

Granted, it's not like he needed the encouragement! After a couple of final passes he positioned the head of his erection at the entrance to my waiting pussy. Then he slowly pushed it into me and I watched as one of the most wonderful sights imaginable played out in front of me, one that I've seen hundreds of time yet each time it's like it's the first - my father's cock as it disappeared inside of me! Of course not only did I WATCH it enter me but at the same time I could FEEL it penetrating deeper and deeper into me as he slowly but steadily filled me with his incestuous dick. Pushing harder, he didn't pause until the base of his dick met up with my crotch and he was completely buried in my pussy with his thick dark public hair smashed against my shave crotch.

I groaned with pleasure! "Oh daddy, that feels soooooo good!"

"Well you ought to be at this end," he said a bit jokingly with me.

Although I didn't think about it at the time, I have to admit sometimes I wonder just how it DOES feel to be a guy with that big thing sticking out of your crotch and then to have it surrounded by a woman's warm and wet pussy. Obviously it must feel pretty damn good considering what men will do for the opportunity! Yet I'm more than happy to be the female in this coupling. It's like I am surrendering myself to my father as I accept his sexual organ inside of me. And while it may feel good for the guy, it feels pretty damn good to me. It doesn't hurt that as a woman I have the equivalent of a semi-automatic whereas he has only one-shot in his holster. None of the "one and done" for me!

Then there's also the advantage that I don't lose my mind after cumming like all men do. God, the things guys do and forget after they cum! It's like when they shoot their sperm into me their consciousness goes with it and until they recover they just act all silly and forgetful. I'm reminded of what Chris Rock once said about where wives find their husband's porn... in the VCR. Why? Because after they cum they space out and forget to take it out!

Whatever I guess! The only really important thing at this moment was I was doing exactly what I should be - submitting myself sexually to my father. It thrilled me to see the almost animal-like expression on his face, the lust in his eyes, the almost frantic motions as he thrust himself into me and then pulled out almost all the way and thus rammed himself back into me again... over and over and over. At times like this there's not a doubt in my mind that I'm doing exactly what I should be doing - honoring my father and making him feel good.

"Oh daddy that feels so good... push it in me deeper."

Apparently by now his vocabulary had been reduced to a series of grunts and groans as that's all the response I got but at the same time he DID push himself in a little more as he would press his crotch in even harder and deeper into my waiting crotch. I actually liked it best when he would pause between a series of rapid fucking motions and just hold himself inside of me, allowing me to feel him throbbing and moving just a little bit inside of me.

As horny as he was I knew he wouldn't last long and as usual I had my dad pegged pretty well. Granted, I may not always get things right when it involved other issues but when it came to sex I knew my dad like the back of my hand! I guess when you consider how many times we'd been together since that fateful day over thirteen years ago that shouldn't come as any surprise.

"Oh fuck baby... I'm gonna cum!"

My dad had his hands back under my butt again and I felt him pull me into him as he jammed his hard cock into me as far as he could.

"Give it to me daddy... give it to me! Give me your love daddy!"

And indeed he did! With a series of rapid thrusts my dad's cock began to spurt his incestuous sperm deep inside of my pussy. Each time I felt him jam himself into me as I tried to imagine his cum shooting out from the tip and filling my pussy. That was the final straw as I came, groaning loudly as my pussy felt like it was on fire! My dad knew the signs, just as I knew his...

"That's it baby, cum for daddy."

It's all he said, all he needed to say. My eyes closed and with my ankles locked behind his back I pulled him in even tighter as if somehow he could go even deeper inside of me if I tried.

"Ohhhhhhhhh My Goddddddd!" I groaned. A little cliche I know but then what else are you supposed to say? Not like I was in any position (literally and emotionally) so make a speech.

After he'd finished my dad hugged me and pulled me in tight against his chest as he worked to keep his dwindling dick inside of me. I smiled as I knew why he did it - for me. Like all men, I knew my dad's lust ejaculated along with his sperm and so far as HE was concerned we were all done and over. One of the things I love about my dad is that he knows I need more than that and he does his best to give it to me. Oh wow, it just felt so good to keep him inside of me as long as possible. It wasn't about the sex. It was just a daughter loving her father.

My head was pressed against his chest and I could feel his heart racing. About the last thing I needed now was for him to have a heart-attack!

"I love you Kelly," he whispered in my ear and then he let me lean back enough to kiss me. Mmmmmmm, his tongue entered my mouth as I felt his dick still barely inside of me. I loved knowing as we kissed that my pussy was now flooded with my dad's cum.

My dad started to pull out but even at moments like this you had to keep your wits about you if you're going to stay out of trouble.

"Wait daddy... hand me that napkin first."

He chuckled as he knew what I wanted it for. Heck, it wasn't like it was our first rodeo yet it seemed I always had to remind him. As I said... out goes the cum, along goes his mind.

With the napkin ready in my hand I unlocked my ankles to allow him to pull what was left of his erection out of my freshly fucked pussy. As soon as he did I pressed the napkin to my crotch to stem the inevitable flood that until now his dick had been holding back like a finger in a dike. I felt the napkin immediately get wet as our cum drained from me and into the napkin. Meanwhile my dad was pulling up his underwear and pants...

"Good thing you always remind me... hate to have had that all over your pretty dress."

Yeah, while I'd pulled it up enough earlier to reveal to him my bare my pussy I really should've pulled it higher so I wasn't sitting on it. About the last thing I needed was a large wet stain in the back when I walked into church, especially in that location. I suppose my coat would have covered it but sooner or later it would have to come off. Granted, most people would probably not think twice but I knew more than a few people, especially some of the wives, weren't exactly my fans and would be quick to draw conclusions - conclusions that we didn't want to have to deal with in any case.

Once I was pretty sure most of it was out I slid off the counter top onto my heels once again. As a precaution I held a fresh napkin under me which was a good idea as it gathered some more cum as well. It wasn't nearly as much as the flood that had escaped earlier but damn, how much had he dumped in me anyways? It's funny how that works with men. Like why do they sometimes seem to have this huge load and then at other times it's just a spurt? You would think it would have something to do with how often they cum making it a production issue but that doesn't always hold true. Just one of those mysteries of life I guess...

Straightening out my dress, I saw my dad was putting the finishing touches on his belt buckle after which he turned to me smiling.

"Kelly, that was incredible... as always."

I just smiled and we hugged and kissed again. Even though it had technically only lasted a few minutes, it HAD been incredible. When it comes to the emotional satisfaction I get from sex, time really isn't relevant. It's all about WHO I have sex with and WHY they are fucking me. In this case it was my father fucking me because I'm his daughter and he loves me. It really doesn't get any better than that so yes, incredible was the right word to use.

3. During Church

The drive to church was rather uneventful. I'd brought a couple of napkins along which came in handy as I didn't need his cum dripping down my leg as we walked down the aisle! There was a time and place for that sort of thing and church was NOT one of those times! It was a quick drive to the church parking lot and a few minutes later we walked into the vestibule where the pastor was there greeting people.

My dad shook our pastor's hand and I just smiled when he looked at me. Granted, while I'd never done a thing with him and he'd never shown any interest in me other than to admonish me for dressing inappropriately, I still had fantasies about doing him during a sermon. Guess it really wasn't about him - more the act of doing such a thing! Oh wow, my pussy was tingling and all I could think about was what he would say if he had a clue as to what my dad and I had just done not ten minutes before!

For the first part of the service the theme was pretty much just me looking around, saying hello to people during the greeting time, and just sitting there fantasizing about all the naughty things I'd love to do in church. One of things I've always said about fantasies - you can fantasize about ANYTHING, it's what you DO that counts. Of course I'd never give my dad a hand job under his coat in the crowded pews but that didn't mean I couldn't dream about it as I sat next to him.

As I sat there I would look at the other families and I couldn't help but wonder if any of the other girls had been fucked by their dad this morning. Like how would I know if they had? I mean who seeing me sitting next to my dad looking all prim and proper would ever even imagine that less than thirty minutes earlier I'd been planted on the kitchen counter with my legs locked around his waist while he fucked me until he flooded my pussy with his incestuous cum?

Having gotten in late we were seated somewhat towards the back so ahead of me I could see one father in particular that interested me. He was there sitting in the middle of the pew with his frumpy wife on one side and his idiot son on the other with their cute college-age daughter sat on the opposite side of her mom from him. Years earlier I'd teased him while working with his daughter's youth group and one thing led to another until finally he took me home and fucked me on his daughter's bed. It was one of those things I loved - being fucked by a man committing adultery girl can never be told too often. "And I love you too daddy and you're the best father a girl could ever hope to have."

Just as things were getting all sentimental and fluffy, the smirk returned along with my horny father. "Well, if that's the case then why aren't you sucking my dick yet?"

I glanced around and saw that the parking lot was already pretty empty. Guess people were in a hurry to get to the restaurants before they got too full. The again, even if someone was to walk right by the window they wouldn't have seen anything given the extra tint my dad had ordered for his SUV. Oh well, why not?

One thing I LOVED about my dad's SUV was the bench seats. None of this massive console and bucket seat crap getting in the way. I kicked off my heels and then twisted such that my bare feet were on the seat against the passenger door and wiggled my way until I was able to start undoing his pants. He was just as anxious as I was so he helped to release his cock which was already well on its way to an erection. No sooner was it available than I put my fingers around the base to steady it and took his warm dick in my mouth.

"Mmmmmmm, now THAT's what I call being the slut I love," he groaned as my tongue worked its way around his warm shaft.

Looking back, I think my dad first started calling me a slut shortly after I started having sex with my first boyfriend - who also happens to be my husband now although a lot of guys came and went in between (oops, another pun there). Actually I think the first person to call me a slut was one my Aunt Sheri, the bitchy wife of my dad's younger brother. She has always been the preachy bitch and has never been able to deal with the way I dress. While she never called me that to my face when I was younger, I overheard her use the phrase numerous times when she would gripe to my mom about the way I would come dressed over to their house when we visited. Needless to say my mom never paid her one bit of attention. Heck, she was the one who bought me the clothes and bikinis in the first place! If anything I think she would have me wear even shorter skirts or tinier bikinis just to irritate my aunt all the more.

So anyway, one of my dad's pet names for me since then has been "my little slut" and I love it when he calls me that as I knew it means whatever I'm is turning him on. I guess sucking his dick in the church parking lot qualified - his erection certainly substantiated things and everyone knows that dicks never lie.

I could hear people nearby but my dad didn't say anything other than the occasional groan so I knew everything was OK. My dad wouldn't ever allow anything bad to happen with me. I knew no matter how horny he might be that he was keeping an eye out for us even if he WAS enjoying the BJ.

As I sucked my dad's dick he reached into my dress and started playing with my boobs. The advantages of not wearing a bra... Although he was stretching out the dress a little it was nothing I thought it couldn't handle. I just loved the way he played with my hard nipples, running them between his finger tips and tugging on them just the right amount.

"You know something Kelly, you're boobs have really blossomed since having a baby," he complimented me. He was right, I was still pretty much a full cup size bigger now than I had been a couple of years before. Not that I'm complaining mind you!

As my father played with my boobs, I had my right hand stabilizing his dick leaving the left one free to put between my legs. Continuing to suck his dick I started to masturbate with my dress hiked up to my waist so he could watch. I'd learned early that my dad enjoyed watching me touching myself so I always tried to make sure he got a good view.

Everything was going so well! I was sucking my dad's dick, he was groping my boobs and I was fondling my clit and pussy all at the same time. To top it off, all of this was happening in the middle of the church parking lot! Well, not so much in the middle as on the outskirts but the principle was the same. After enduring an hour of horniness in church it was just what I needed.

"Ohhhhhh!" I gasped, my voice muffled by the dick planted between my lips.

Oh yeah, I was cumming and cumming hard! My fingers plunged into my pussy as the palm of my hand rubbed against my clit. My dad has just cupping my boobs now as he was concentrating more on his BJ and I think he was pretty close to cumming as well.

"Oh SHIT that feels so good!" he groaned loudly. Good thing there wasn't anyone right outside the door!

As my orgasm continued it was his turn and I felt the first spurt of warm cum flood my mouth as I sealed around his shaft with my lips. He came again and then again and I found myself trying to deal with the pleasures of my own orgasm while at the same time worrying I might choke on my dad's cum. Well I guess there are worst dilemmas a girl can find herself in, LOL.

He finished quickly this time - maybe the "production" model for sperm quantity was working as it was a lot less than what he'd unloaded into my pussy before church. As for me, I just laid there with the remnants of my own orgasm flooding over me like a gentle wave following the tsunami that has just hit me.

"Uhhhhh, you'd better get up baby."

That was NOT at the top of my agenda at the moment so I just laid there with my eyes closed next to his now spent dick.

"Kelly, I mean it... get up!"

The urgency in his voice grabbed my attention and I sat up quickly. Almost TOO quickly as I felt a little lightheaded in doing so. Then I saw what had him so concerned. Across the lot but heading straight for us from the church was none other than the pastor and his wife!

"Shit!" I cursed under breath, "Sorry daddy, didn't mean that."

My dad was too occupied with getting his pants back in order to worry about a little slip of the tongue like that. For me I just had to adjust my dress a little and I was more or less presentable. Thankfully my dad had cum completely in my mouth and after I'd swallowed the "evidence" there wasn't anything to worry about it so far as it showing up in my hair or on my face or clothes. One good reason for taking it in your mouth - no messy cleanup required.

My dad pushed the button to roll down the window as we each sat there as if nothing was out of the ordinary. I guess technically that was true as an definition of what was "ordinary" for me and my dad would've included what we'd just done.

"Everything OK John?" the pastor asked, "Just noticed you guys have been sitting here a while so wanted to be sure nothing was wrong with your SUV or anything."

"Oh no," my dad replied trying again to sound as if all was perfectly natural, "We were just debating over where to go to lunch and Kelly was looking on line to see where we could get reservations."

By then I had my phone handy and I waved it to him. He couldn't have known what app was open so it really didn't matter. I had to give my dad credit for some quick thinking though.

"Well, you're always welcome to join the wife and me if you'd like," he offered.

My dad looked at me and out of our pastor's line of sight he licked his lips and winked at me. I knew then that my dad wanted lunch but what he wanted to eat wasn't served by any of the local restaurants! Well, none of the reputable ones at least.

"Hey, we appreciate the offer but I think we're all set for today. Maybe another time?"

That sort of ended that and we were alone once again. My dad turned to me and grinned.

"What do you think he would have said if I'd told him I wanted to eat my daughter's pussy for lunch?"

See, told you! I know how my dad thinks.

We both laughed and he started up the SUV for the quick trip to his place. Usually our Sunday "tradition" ended at this point and I'd head home for my horny husband. Today, however, I could tell that things were going to be a little more extended than usual.

Well, not that I was complaining. As I said at the start, sometimes it's the familiar things that bring the most happiness!

1. Family Complications

When I with someone about incest or read an e-mail sent to me by someone who read my diary, I can't help but get the impression that people think that whenever our family gets together it's just one big orgy, like somehow sex permeates everything we do. The truth of the matter is for the most part I'd say our family gatherings aren't any different than anyone else's. Undoubtedly one big reason is that not everyone in my extended family is even aware of everything that goes on. On my dad's side, his is the only one family where everyone is involved and by that it's just me along with the knowledge of my mother. While both of his brothers have been with me and my mom, only my Uncle Jim, the youngest of the three brothers, has fucked his own daughter and only my cousin Rick has fucked me and only his youngest sister Tammy.

Given the obvious complications, it shouldn't be hard to understand why when we all get together for Thanksgiving or Christmas that it's definitely NOT anything wild and crazy. Oh sure there's the occasional sneaking about and fooling around but then I'd be willing to be that there's a lot more of that going on during many family get-togethers than people may want to admit. Granted, it may not be so much incestual but then again, who knows?

Sometimes I do have to wonder what it would be like if we didn't have to keep everything so secretive. I'm not saying that I necessarily want to do anything weird like fuck my dad in front of everyone while opening Christmas presents. Still, it would be nice to be able to thank him with a proper kiss without creating a scandal.

eighteen is under eighteen and it really doesn't make a lot of difference if it's one day or two years. Then there's my cousin Tammy who was only fourteen when she was having sex with her father, brother and horny uncle...

Which brings me to Thanksgiving 2014...

2. Thanksgiving Dinner

When it comes to traditions, probably no two holidays are more filled than Thanksgiving and Christmas. For my family, the issue over whose house was settled many years ago by establishing the tradition of rotating between the homes of my father's generation. Thankfully that left me out which was a good thing as I doubt everything could fit in our tiny apartment standing up, let alone find a place to sit.

This year was my dad's turn. Given my Aunt Linda was now living with him, it effectively meant it was her turn as well.

Yeah.... talk about scandals... When my aunt moved in with my dad shortly after my mom moved out (shortly as the very next morning), I know it created quite a stir amongst the family. For those of us that knew the true relationship between them there was no surprise. Heck, my dad had been fucking my mom's younger sister since she was in grade school and getting married didn't change anything. Granted, even I didn't know he was still doing her until he started fucking me, so it's not like they made it obvious to the rest of the family. Then again, I'll be the first to say I was naive about a LOT of things back then so who knows?

So anyways, the next time the schedule went out to remind everyone of who was hosting when, my aunt's name was quietly left off with the implication she was now included with my dad. Nothing was ever said but I had to admit I couldn't help but smile a little when I noticed, especially being it was my Aunt Shari who was the keeper of the schedule. Oh yeah, she must have been having a fit when she made the change!

Every year there was another tradition, although I don't think anyone came right out and called it one. It was the "let's forget all the fuss and go out to eat" debate. Many of my friends and their families have started doing this and when they tell me about how great the buffets are these days and how easy it makes it for everyone I have to say I think there's merit in the idea. However, I know it means a lot to my grandparents to get everyone around the table again (even if that means several tables these days) so while not meaning to sound morbid, I imagine things will stay as they are until they pass.

While my parents were married I use to help out when it was their turn to host. Now that my aunt is involved though I've sort of passed the reigns over to my cousin Kristen. Well, not completely as when it comes to cooking Kristen isn't exactly much of a chef. Let's be real, she didn't get where she is today on her feet in the kitchen. More like on her back in the ... well, wherever she might be!

This year I've also been blessed with an even better excuse for dodging as much of the work as possible. Like who asks a pregnant woman to do dinner? OK, so it's not like I was closing on nine months and ready to drop but hey, why not take advantage of it? It's not like I get to have THAT many holidays with one in my own oven!

As things turned out, I was pretty much ordered to stay away so Steve and I didn't show up at my dad's house until around noon with our cute two-year-old in tow. Being the youngest grandchild now and the only toddler she was sure to be the center of attention which meant I was actually going to be blessed with plenty of help from fawning relatives. It was like a two-fer in that I was pregnant AND had the cutest grandchild (if I say so myself).

One of my more enjoyable "traditions" is the classic "tease the uncles". This was a lot easier back when I was younger. When you're fourteen you can practically get away with murder! Now with me closing in on thirty (OMG!) if I were even do a fraction of the hijinks my cousin Kristen and I use to do everyone would be shocked, especially now with my extended stomach. Sitting on my uncle's lap and grinding was a lot of fun and to be honest, something I wouldn't mind doing to this day, but as with many things I've already mentioned, just not something you do in "mixed" company. Heck, I was even wearing panties!

That all said, it's not like I've been converted to be a nun either. During the course of the day I'd press up against them, especially my Uncle Paul who was my favorite. At first I wasn't sure how he would react given my pregnancy but he didn't seem to mind at all. In fact, a few times he even reached under my dress and rubbed my crotch when he thought he could get away with it. It was just all teasing and such. As crowded as the house was there really wasn't much in the way of opportunity even if we HAD wanted to be more naughty. It didn't help that the weather sucked which further limited potential locations.

she was wearing a bra but at her age the push-up style helped them look a little bigger.

"For crying out loud behave yourself!" I'd whisper sharply in his ear. Oh yeah, he knew exactly what I was talking about even if he tried to deny it.

"Whatever...," was probably one of the most common responses, if he even said anything more than a grunt.

While I wouldn't have stopped my husband from fucking Katlyn, assuming that VERY remote possibility ever happened, I can't say it would necessarily turn me on. Then again, as a general rule watching Steve fuck other women has never really been a big turn-on for me, except perhaps when it was with my mom. Now if he ever fucked his own mother, now THAT I'd love to watch but that's something like the Katlyn situation in that I'd given up on that possibility a long time ago. Although my husband may have what some people would consider a totally inappropriate relationship with his mother, it's never included having sex. I could go on and on about it but let's just say it borders on being weird, LOL. Bottom line is my husband is no different than most men I know - turned on by incest so long as it involves someone else's family and not his own.

By the time the day ended I'd say it was probably had been one of the most "normal" Thanksgiving dinners we'd had in a long time, at least normal in terms of how most of the world would define it. No sneaking off for even so much as a blow job, at least if someone HAD done it they didn't bother to let me know. If it had been my cousin Kristen I'm sure she would have been bragging all about it! As for Tammy, she was all but engaged and so far as I knew hadn't engaged in any incestual sex in a couple of years now. That pretty much left my Aunt Linda and I knew she wasn't typically involved in such things during these affairs so it looked like the men just had to get by without. Oh well, not like they didn't get it most times whenever they wanted it.

That said, I'm not saying the day was a total bust. Steve and I hung around afterwards to help clean up a bit, at least that was the excuse we were using so far as everyone else was concerned. Both my husband and father were horny so between my aunt and I we took care of THAT problem, LOL. Personally I was running a bit tired by that time so we didn't take long but my dad seemed happy and that's what counted so far as I was concerned. It's sort of funny to me how guys get turned on fucking a pregnant woman and my dad was no exception.

As things turned out, my dad wasn't the only guy that day who had a fetish for pregnant women…

3. The Day After

As I mentioned, while we told everyone that Steve and I were hanging around to help put things away, the truth of the matter was very little cleaning got done. If anything I'd say we may have left it even messier. The next morning I woke and with Steve home I decided that maybe I should follow up and actually help clean up my dad's place a little.

While the day after Thanksgiving is a holiday for most - not to mention the shopping, my dad's work rarely allowed him to take consecutive days off so I knew he'd be downtown in the office early doing whatever it was he did in the world of corporate law. As for my aunt, she'd mentioned something about a couple from Canada doing some house hunting. She pretended to complain that they didn't care about American holidays but I knew better. My aunt would do most anything for a sale and I mean just about anything. She and Kristen had been talking strategy off in the corner before Thanksgiving dinner so no doubt they were pulling the "mother-daughter" ploy to rope in some client. Well, whatever works I guess in the cut-throat world of real estate sales.

Soooooo, that meant I'd have my dad's house to myself. I smiled, wishing it was summer so I could use the hot tub, or at least not as cold as it was this day. We pretty much used the hot tub year-round but having to deal with the cover and everything in frigid weather was a pain, especially in my current condition. Granted, I wasn't even showing a lot yet but my back was already feeling it!

Everything in our apartment was under control so I threw on some casual clothes appropriate for cleaning, kissed my sleepy husband and headed over to my dad's house. I'd chosen an old pair of sweatpants, an oversized Steeler sweatshirt, and one of more comfortable pair of sneakers so it wasn't like I'd be turning any heads, LOL. Then again, I doubted anyone would even see me so it really didn't matter. My hair was pulled back into a pony tail as I decided a shower could wait until I came back. I didn't even put on any makeup as again I figured I'd shower as soon as I got back so who would even notice if I bothered?

Normally when I drove alone over to my dad's house it was for one reason - to submit to my father. Most times this would be Sunday mornings right before church when we'd play out our traditional "sex before church" time. The anticipation was usually enough that I'd typically play with myself a little under my dress on the way over but not today. Cleaning house exactly my favorite thing to do and while I didn't mind helping out a little, I can't say the idea of working alone in a quiet old house was turning me on.

Upon arriving I started to turn into the driveway and was surprised to see a pick-up truck parked right at the top. Heck, it was such a surprised that I almost rear-ended the damn thing! At first I was a little pissed that one of the neighbors was using my dad's driveway until I noticed the sticker on the rear glass with the cheerleader emblem and the name "Katlyn" next to it. Usually whenever I saw my cousin Ginny she was in the family car so this was the first time I'd really taken notice of what apparently was her husband Bill's truck. Well, at least I assumed it was his but then it would've been quite a coincidence that someone just happened parked in my dad's driveway with the exact same name of their daughter on the back who also just happened to be a cheerleader.

So what was Bill doing here? To be honest, I really didn't know him all that well. Oh sure we talked during family gatherings and such but it was more a social thing. True, I'd caught him more than a few times giving me the once-over but then that didn't really mean much. Actually he'd never shown all that much interest in me even back when I was younger and made a few half-hearted attempts to flirt with him. Although he never came out and told me her wasn't interested, I got the impression very quickly he wasn't and that even to say so would have been crossing the line so far as he was concerned. Not that I would've turned him down if he HAD flirted back! Bill wasn't the day-time soap opera leading man type but he was still pretty cute for his age. If I remembered correctly he was a few years older than my cousin which would make him around 38 or so. In different circumstances I'd probably have tried making more of a move on him as he basically ticked off all the boxes... married, good looking, young teen daughter.

As tempting as such a move might be, the potential repercussions were more severe than what I was prepared to risk. Like what if he told my cousin and then she told the rest of the family? It's not like I didn't get enough comments and such about how me and my cousin Kristen dressed and behaved. Still, there's quite a leap in going from being known as a slut to trying to get it on with a family member when such attitudes weren't universally shared.

Seeing that the garage door was open I chose to carefully make my way down the steep concrete driveway rather than go in through the front door. The garage was empty - confirming my expectations that both my dad and aunt would be gone. Stepping up to the basement entrance I opened the door. Hmmmmmm, nobody there. Since most of the activities had gone on in the family room and the rest of the basement except for dinner itself in the upstairs dining room, this was where most of the work needed to be done so I'd figured Bill would be there yet it was quiet as a church.

Surprisingly, the basement wasn't near the wreck I'd anticipated. Apparently someone had done some work after Steve and I left which frankly surprised me as housework wasn't exactly my aunt's cup of tea. When people would talk about Kristen I would just tell them to look at her mom if they wanted to know why she was the way she was. Granted, Kristen took things to a new level but she took after her mom in many ways. Basically you could sum it up with both managed to get through life pretty much by using their looks and lack of morals to get whatever they needed from horny men with money. In high school I still like to think I was the bigger slut but after graduation I attended a Christian university which more or less forced me to tone things down considerably. Kristen attended a public university for all of one semester before getting tossed out for "lewd" behavior. Giving everything else that went on at her dorm whenever I visited, she must have really gone overboard to stand out from the crowd!

I couldn't help but jump a little when a sudden sound from upstairs broke into my thoughts. It sounded like a chair scraping on the floor so obviously someone was upstairs. I didn't hear much more but I figured it had to be Ginny and Bill which would explain the cleanup work that had been done so far. For a moment I debated turning around and heading home as there really wasn't all that much left to do so why not take advantage of someone else's willingness to deal with it? Then again, if I did that then I wouldn't have anyone to confirm that I'd showed up and even though I wouldn't have done a whole lot, who had to know THAT?

Walking over the wooden stairs leading to the first floor, I carefully made my way up. Years of sneaking up and down these same steps had taught me the exact spots to place my feet to avoid making loud creaks. Once at the top, I slowly turned the door knob and pushed the door open into the hallway leading from the front door to the kitchen. So far, so good in that I hadn't made a peep. I guess I was sneaking more out of habit than any really good reason. It wasn't like I was getting in late from a date or anything, LOL.

Turning to the right I looked into the kitchen eating area and kitchen. Standing at the counter facing away from me was a single figure - Bill. He seemed to be fussing with the coffee maker and wasn't paying any attention to anything else. There was no sign of Ginny so it seemed he was all alone.

"God damn it, why do they make these things so complicated?" he was fuming under his breath as I sneaked up behind him with a sly grin on my face.

"What the....,?" he blurted out as he jumped when I tapped him on the shoulder. Twisting around, he saw me and let out a deep breath.

"Shit Kelly, you trying to kill me or what?" he said I an exasperated tone.

I just giggled and sat back down at the table, crossing my legs and leaning on one elbow.

"Gotch ya!" I quipped triumphantly.

"If you weren't... well if you weren't in your current condition I'd put you over my knee and spank you!" he teased me as turned back to the coffee maker. "You know, I think you owe me one now... so how the hell does this thing work?"

I huffed and stood up, pushing him aside just enough to get access to the Keurig. Like how hard can it be to pop in a capsule and hit the button?

"Oh... so that's it?" he said sounding a little chagrin.

"You're a man...," was all I needed to say, "So what are you doing here anyway?"

His cup had filled so he picked it up and took a sip before answering, "I suppose I could ask YOU the same question."

"Well first, I use to live here," I started and then added, "I just felt guilty I guess leaving the place a wreck so I thought I'd stop over and clean up a little."

"Place didn't look all that bad when I came in," he responded, "I just came over to pick up the chairs and table. Figured I'd grab a cup before heading back home to the zoo. Hadn't exactly planned on it being such a production though."

"Zoo?" I asked, taking my seat again.

Bill sat down opposite of me and sighed. "That's putting it mildly. Ginny and Katlyn went out on some wild safari hunt for Black Friday deals and were already home by the time I got up. God, what racket! So much for sleeping in on your day off. Figured I may as well get out and take care of this since I was up anyways. Of course Ryan was still in bed. I think a nuclear bomb could go off and he'd sleep right it. Sometimes I think all he does is eat and sleep."

"Any good buys?" I inquired, feeling a little guilty that I had blown off most of the sales but then I hate facing such crowds and figured I'd just do my shopping on-line this year.

"Oh sure... according to Ginny she saved me hundreds of dollars. Shit, I guess according to her logic we should be ready to retire soon if she goes out for more."

He huffed again and took another sip before continuing, "Oh well, she's not fitting into anything so I guess if she has to buy new ones it's better to at least get them on sale."

"So she's up another notch?" I couldn't help but tease him. It's not like it hadn't been obvious yesterday when her blouse was too tight and I don't mean in a sexy way. Back when they got married Ginny was HOT but as with so many married women, with each wedding anniversary it was like she moved into another dress size. It hadn't helped that with each of their kids she'd gained a lot of weight and never seemed to get it back off again.

"Hey, I'm not complaining," he said sarcastically, "I've got twice the woman I married now!"

"Oh be nice Bill!" I chastised him. "That's my cousin you're talking about."

"How the hell do you do it?" he asked.

"Do what?"

Bill just rolled his eyes and pointed at my belly which was pushing out even against the oversized sweatshirt.

"Well, I would have thought you'd figured THAT out by now," I teased, "You see the man puts his penis in the woman's..."

"That's NOT what I meant and you know it Kelly," he cut me off, "I meant look at you. If you faced away from me I wouldn't even be able to tell you were pregnant. Looks like you're the same as last time. Crap, I mean you were ready to drop and it was like the only place you gained weight was right in front."

Not sure quite what to say, I just sat there and he continued, "And then, to make it worse, a month after you had Mia you looked like the sexiest MILF on the street! Shit, Ginny's STILL waddling around thirteen years later."

It was something I was extremely thankful for. Frankly, I couldn't take credit for it as it was all in the DNA. It's not like I did anything special or went on some weird diet or anything. For whatever reason I was blessed to not gain all that much weight when I was pregnant and then it just seemed to disappear afterwards. Matter of fact, I had Steve take photos of me in my old wedding clothes just a little before we found out I was pregnant again.

What DID surprise me a little was the one comment he'd made... something about being a sexy MILF? Now that wasn't something I'd heard him call me before. No doubt it was just the frustrations of the day making their way out in an unguarded moment.

"So did Katlyn get anything?" I asked, looking to change the subject.

Unfortunately that didn't seem to help as Bill sat back in the chair and looked up at the ceiling, puffing his cheeks and letting out the air slowly. "Whatever she got she wouldn't show me so I can just imagine. Kelly, you teach girls her age so is it just me or are ALL girls dressing like little whores these days?"

I couldn't help but laugh which just got him going all the more.

"I'm serious. I couldn't believe the bikini Ginny got her this past summer - if you call two tiny pieces of material a bikini. Shit, I remember back when everyone in the family was scandalized when you use to wear some of your more creative ones and now it's like all her friends are wearing them. And don't school have dress codes anymore? When I was in school skirts had a minimum length and all the girls wore bras. Now it's like anything goes, and it doesn't help when she wears that cheerleader outfit half the time."

I smiled as I thought about the girls in my eighth grade class. It was just as he described and even I had to wonder sometimes where things were going. Then again, I didn't blame the girls so much as their mothers who came to school dressed like third daughters. God, talk about women who refused to act their age!

"Well, it's not like I have anything all that sexy on today," I laughed, pulling out ton my baggy sweatshirt.

"Shit Kelly, don't give me that crap. You'd look hot in a garbage bag and you know it," he replied, giving me a bit of a once-over in the process.

I smiled at the compliment. "Even when I look like this? Don't tell me you're one of those guys with a pregnant woman fetish."

I was just teasing but from his reaction it seemed that I'd hit a chord. Hmmmmmm, maybe he WAS one of those guys...

Bill leaned over the table with a conspiratorial look in his eyes. "I have to say, most pregnant women just look like blimps but there are those who I have to say look pretty damn hot."

"Oh?" was all I said in hope he would continue.

"Now I hope you don't mind me saying this and don't you dare tell your husband I did, but pregnancy helps you out in other departments as well."

His eyes dropped down to my chest and he smiled so it didn't take a rocket scientist to get the drift of what he was referring to. He was right in that my boobs DID improve when I was pregnant. In fact, they seemed to get bigger even faster than my belly which mad my husband VERY happy. Steve never complained about my boobs but I know he wished they were bigger. "Perky" was how he would refer to them which I knew was code for "small". Granted, I was a lot better than back in my high school days and I even could wear a C cup depending on the style and manufacturer but when I was last pregnant I was into a D cup at the end and even now I was wearing a C cup to school with the old B cups set aside for the next year or so.

"Hey, you're staring at my boobs mister," I said jokingly.

"Yeah, like you hate that," he came back, "Shit, it's not like you don't do everything you can to flaunt them all the time."

"So you like my boobs?"

"Give me a break Kelly, I AM a guy you know."

It was one of those spur of the moment crazy things. I don't know what came over me but without thinking I reached down to the bottom of my sweatshirt and quickly pulled it up over my boobs and gave him about a two second flash before pulling it down again and giggling. I wasn't wearing a bra of course so he got a pretty good view.

"Wow, nice... VERY nice," Bill said although I noticed he was turning a little red in the face, "That's a cute bump too."

Shrugging my shoulders I figured what the heck, why not? Once again I lifted my sweatshirt although this time only up over my belly without exposing my boobs. Holding it up with my left hand, I rubbed it slowly with the right.

"So what do you prefer Bill, my belly or my boobs?" I said only half-jokingly.

Bill scratched his chin while his eyes were fixed on my bare belly.

"Well, your tits are incredible," he said barely audibly, "Not going to deny I enjoyed seeing them either. Still, I can't believe how sexy you look right now."

It was just the two of us, something that I really don't ever remember happening before. It seemed anytime I ever saw Bill it was with Ginny or one of the kids. Really, there wasn't any reason why we ever would be alone together and even today was more of a fluke than anything. At the same time, it WAS just the two of us and my mind was racing as I debated my next move... if I even was going to have one.

"Really Bill? It's not like you've never seen a pregnant belly before," I tossed out there like a fisherman making her first cast into an unknown lake. Would anything bite?

"Well these days it's like she ALWAYS pregnant," he said wryly, "Not to mention the rest of her as well."

I looked at Bill and realized he was no different than most men is age in his situation. Classic "married with children" scenario. Closing in on forty, probably commiserating that his best years were behind him as he questioned what the future held for him. A wife who while I knew was a wonderful woman, was following the same path it seemed so many women did once her kids started to get older and the anniversaries began to blur together. Yeah, I was probably stereotyping them both but then again, stereotypes exist for a reason - most people relate to them!

Well, in for a penny, in for a pound as they say (although I have no idea who "they is!)...

Lowering my sweatshirt again, I leaned forward in my chair until we were only a foot or so apart over the table. In a soft seductive voice I asked, "So tell me Bill, does Ginny still suck your dick?"

His reaction was almost comical. I think at first he thought he must have misunderstood me because he gave me a quizzical look as if he wanted me to repeat what I said.

"I was just asking if Ginny..." I started before he cut me off in midsentence.

"I heard what you said Kelly, I just can't believe you said it!"

"I was just asking if your wife sucks your dick Bill. What's the big deal?"

Obviously I knew it wasn't quite so lighthearted of a question as I was making it out to be but then again I wasn't going to let him know I knew. The pause that followed was more pregnant than I was. Finally Bill must've decided he may as well answer although I wasn't sure yet if it was just out of resignation or what his true motives actually were.

"Would you believe she hasn't hardly done it since we got married?" he asked in a low voice as if afraid someone would overhear us, "For that matter, I don't even remember the last time... it was years ago... MANY years ago."

I frowned, more to appear supportive than to counter what he was saying.

"Well, can't say I haven't heard THAT complaint before," I said in a joking tone but still tried to be serious at the same time, "I've never understood why some women seem to think once they have their husband that they don't have to make him happy anymore."

Once again a long pause and it was almost comical, like I could see the gears spinning in his head.

"Can I ask you something personal Kelly?" he asked softly, as if he wasn't sure he should even be asking in the first place. "Do you cheat on Steve?"

It wasn't quite the question I was expecting and obviously my expression gave me away. Bill sat up and put his hands up like he was being arrested.

"Sorry, none of my business. I don't know why I asked that."

"It's OK Bill," I assured him, reaching out to touch the back of his hand once he put them down on the table again, "I assume we're talking confidentially of course."

"Oh of course... I promise to keep everything said here to myself."

"Well then... the answer is no, I have NEVER cheated on Steve... never have, never will."

The way his face scrunched up I got the idea he wasn't buying it but he wasn't about to call me out either from the looks of things so I offered up a little more.

"Of course, by 'cheating' you mean doing things behind his back without him knowing and approving, right?"

Bill looked at me with eyes a bit narrowed like he was trying to figure out if I was just leading him on or what but finally he answered, "Not exactly what I think most people think when they talk about the subject but OK, I'll go with it. So then let me rephrase my question and pardon me for being more blunt but do you have sex with other men?"

"Of course, why not?" I answered immediately as if I couldn't believe he might think otherwise.

Bill swallowed noticeably and came back with, "And Steve is OK with that?"

"Sure, so long as he gets to watch," I answered rather flippantly. Bill's look of disbelief caused me to temper my response somewhat. "Not that he DOES, at least not always."

"OK Kelly, if we're going to go down this path... and I can't believe we are even discussing this, so you just go out and do it with other couples, just men, or what?"

I considered my response and then figured what the heck, why not? This was starting to be fun...

"Let's just say my preference is married men who haven't cheated... yet... but who have issues with their wife so are looking for something but are afraid to make a move. It makes it even better if they have a teenage daughter."

The fact that I'd just more or less described HIM wasn't missed by Bill although he didn't say anything right away. Still, from the way he was concentrating on every word I said and how he was looking me over I knew what he must have been thinking.

"Ok... I get the married guy thing.. you figure they won't say anything because they'd be screwed."

"That's part of it," I agreed smiling.

"Then what's with the teenage daughter part?"

Yeah, like he couldn't figure THAT one out for himself. Of course he could, I knew he just wanted me to say it for him so he wouldn't have to admit to anything up front. Yep, I've been down this path before and while no two men are exactly the same, it's pretty amazing how close they are when it gets down to the basics.

"Oh I think you know Bill," I said softly with a smile, "Don't tell me you haven't been noticing some changes at home."

A little too far too fast? Judging by the way he sat back and crossed his arms, his body language certainly was saying so. For a moment I feared I'd crossed the line which while that WAS my intent, at the same time I wanted to just nudge my way over it slowly and give him time to adjust, not go crashing through it like a runner at the end of the race! "Oh no, I wasn't implying anything Bill," I tried to reassure him, "Just saying it would only be perfectly natural for a guy like you to get turned on by a girl like Katlyn. I know she's your daughter and that nothing weird would ever happen, but you have to admit when she and her friends are in their bikinis... well you know what I mean, right?"

I waited as Bill digested my words for a moment. His shoulders relaxed and he seemed less stressed out.

"Well, if that's what you mean then OK, I'll admit it, they're starting to look pretty hot but just to be perfectly clear, we're just talking about fantasies, correct?"

"Of course," I agreed although inside the last thing I was thinking about was anything to do with fantasy, "But that's why I said that before. Sometimes it's fun to do a little naughty role-playing, don't you agree?"

Bill just shook his head rather incredulously.

"Well, Ginny would never agree. Damn, she'd cut off my dick if she even caught me looking at her that way. In any case, that would be just too weird for me. Now some of her friends... oh yeah!"

It was all I could do not to laugh. Like how many times have I heard THAT line before... yeah, he was into his daughter's friends but not her. What a line of crap! In any case, I wasn't going to argue with him.

"You know, maybe we need to stop before things get out of hand... well, more out of hand than they already have," Bill said as he pushed away from the table and started to get up.

"Oh Bill, sit down, what's the big deal? We're just talking. You know, I don't think we've ever really sat down and talked like this before."

Bill chuckled, "I don't think I've sat down and talked with ANYONE like this before!"

Before he could think about it any further, I decided to push ahead a little more. Hey, I'd never expected anything like this to happen this morning and odds were the circumstances would likely not happen again, at least not anytime soon, so why not take advantage?

"So wanna see my boobs again? How about my belly?" I offered with a smile.

"I assume since you're asking that there's a price?"

Well, nobody could accuse Bill of being stupid. He was putting the dots together pretty quickly.

"Nothing you can't handle... just be honest with me."

Bill's mouth curled into a sly grin. "Alright, fire away but I want to see your belly first."

Without another word I raised my sweatshirt back up again without exposing my boobs this time but giving him a good view of my baby bump. Holding it up, I asked, "What would it take for you to cheat on Ginny?"

Bill chuckled deeply again and shook his head.

"Hmmmmmm, have to be someone who would never say a word... stunning - I mean hot enough to make it worth it... and access to a good divorce lawyer for when Ginny found out."

"So why would Ginny ever find out?"

Bill shook his head. "I answered, now show me your tits before I answer that."

He was technically correct but I still huffed a little to let him think he'd gotten me. Slowly I lifted my sweatshirt up until it was just over my nipples.

"Higher," he urged me, flipping his hand upward.

I pulled it up until it was above my breasts but he still wasn't satisfied.

"Just take it off and get it over with."

"Not until you answer," I bargained.

It was an easy question and I think he knew it as he didn't argue.

"First, I'd never trust anyone to keep their mouth shut. WAY too much risk to have someone have that much control over me. I've watched Basic Instinct!"

We both laughed at that and he continued, "And Ginny can read me like a book. Heck, I can't hide anything from her as it is, let alone something like that."

I found it interesting that nowhere in his line of logic was there anything about NOT wanting to do it or feeling guilty about it. He was just afraid of being caught. Yep, just like I quoted at the start of this, "A husband is only as faithful as his options." At the moment he apparently didn't see any options so now it was up to me to give me some.

"OK, asked and answered as your dad likes to say... take it off."

I pulled one arm out of the sleeve and then the other such that just my head was poking through with the sweatshirt around my neck like a huge scarf. Then I pushed it up and over my head until I was topless. Tossing the sweatshirt onto the empty chair next to me, I turned back to him and bounced my boobs with my hands under them for him.

"They're already starting to grow... what do you think Bill?"

"Fantastic... god, compared to Ginny's sagging tits yours are incredible! Steve's one hell of a lucky guy."

"Wanna touch them?"

Bill's eyes narrowed again. "And what would THAT cost me?"

Yeah, he was getting the hang of this!

"All you have to do is answer one simple question... have you ever thought about having sex with me?"

I really didn't have to wait for Bill answer as the smile on his face spoke volumes.

"Really Kelly, what guy who has ever seen you has NOT wanted to do you?"

I smiled at the compliment as I played with my hardening nipples for him to watch.

"So is that a yes?"

"Hey, it's not a crime to look at a hot sexy woman and want to have sex with her," he rationalized, "No harm in window shopping and wishing you could buy. So yeah, I've thought about it."

He pushed his chair back and started to get up but I motioned for him to sit down.

"Hey, I answered and you said I could have a feel if I did so pay up."

It was a more than a little surreal actually to hear him say that. Heck, less than an hour before this the last thing I would've ever imagined was having my cousin's husband feel my boobs while sitting at the kitchen table in my dad's empty house. Sure I'd seen him look at me before but no more so than most men do. Just yesterday while we were all together I caught him stealing glances at my chest but I hadn't said anything so as not to embarrass him. Then again, it wasn't like I really knew the guy all that well at a personal level so maybe he was more into this sort of thing than I'd realized.

"Don't get all worked up, I'll keep up my end of the bargain," I assured him as I pushed my chair back, "I just thought it would be easier if I sat on your lap."

Bill's eyes widened a little but he didn't protest so I got up and stepped over next to him. He had his seat back as far from the table as he could push it in the cramped eating area and patted his lap.

"Works for me, have a seat!"

Which I did. I sat sideways on his lap with my legs hanging over his left leg as I wrapped my left arm around his neck to keep myself steady. My nipples were standing out now like bullets, a combination of the cool temperature my dad kept his house at while he was gone and the excitement I was feeling. I shuddered slightly as he placed his entire hand over my right boob and squeezed it gently.

"Damn, fucking incredible," he whispered, almost as much to himself as to me or then again, maybe just to himself, "Perfect... and real."

"Hey, of course they're real!" I came back trying to sound exasperated.

"I can't believe I'm doing this," he muttered as he alternated between my boobs with his left hand as he cradled me around my bare back with his right arm.

I almost started to say something about not worrying about it but then I wasn't sure if that would help or just make him think about it all the more so I just kept quiet. Instead I let out a slight moan as he tugged on one of my nipples.

"Getting more sensitive now?" he asked.

I nodded and he smiled but his eyes were fixed on my chest as he caressed me.

"You can suck on them... I like it when they are licked and sucked."

He didn't even look up or hesitate this time. I leaned back a little using his arm around me and mine around his neck for support to make it easier for him as he leaned forward to take my right nipple into his mouth. God it felt so good!

"Oh yes... just like that Bill," I sighed as his tongue played with the tip of my nipple as he sucked more of my breast into his mouth.

I shifted my weight on his lap and was rewarded with the feel of his hardening cock under me. He was obviously enjoying this as much as I was!

As Bill suckled on my breasts his hand moved down to my belly where he gently rubbed the palm of his hand over me like he was shining up his bowling ball or rubbing a lamp for some genie to appear. It actually felt pretty good coupled with the touch of his lips and tongue on my boobs.

"That's it Bill, I love you touching me... you can touch me anywhere... anywhere," I sighed into his ear as his head pressed against my upper chest.

I'd had my right hand on the table for added balance but I was pretty secure I his arm so I reached down and put my hand over his on my belly, guiding him lower and helping to slip it under my sweatpants. As I wasn't wearing underwear there was nothing else for him to overcome on his journey to my pussy. Just as he reached the top of my pussy slit I felt his arm stiffen and resist from going down any further. I spread my legs apart more to try and let him know it was OK but he still resisted.

"It's OK Bill... you can touch me there, I want you to... and you know you want to."

He started to lift up his head and I assumed it was to explain to me why he couldn't so I withdrew my hand from between my legs and pushed his head back down against my chest. Tellingly, he didn't lift his hand although at the same time he didn't move it any further downward either. Neither did he push back against my hand on his head. Like most men in such a situation, he just needed to be able to blame someone else for his transgressions, regardless of how easily he could have ended everything had that been what he truly wanted.

"Ohhhhhhhhhhhh!" I moaned as his finger pressed against my clit. God I wanted him so badly at that moment. I felt like I'd peed myself I was so wet and horny. His finger explored all over the outside of my pussy until finally, FINALLY, he pushed it into me, burying it in as far as he could push it, closely followed by a second.

"Fuck my pussy with your fingers Bill," I gasped as I closed my eyes and just leaned back to enjoy all he was doing to me. Bill moved his fingers in and out, like his fingers were a dick fucking me. I could smell the musky scent of my pussy as his wet fingers glided easily and out of me.

"Make me cum Bill... Oh god make me cum so hard!" I moaned loudly this time as my orgasm gathered strength like a thunderstorm on the horizon and them the first bolt of lightning struck and it was like thunder in my ears as my heart beat so hard as I came.

I pulled his head tight into my bosom as he sucked even harder on my boobs and nipples. The palm of his hand was rubbing up against my sensitive clit as he pumped his two fingers in and out of me relentlessly. God I felt so hot... so sexy... so slutty!

As my orgasm subsided I took my hand from his head and he lifted it up and smiled at me as I tried to catch my breath. I knew what I wanted and I was pretty sure it was the same thing he did.

"Take me to my room," I managed to gasp as my breathing slowed but my heart was still pumping overtime.

Given all the bedrooms were upstairs, it wasn't hard for him to know generally where to go and once on the second floor it should be easy enough for him to figure out which was mine. Even though I hadn't lived there for years, my dad still kept my room just as it was when I was younger.

Bill reached under me and grunted slightly as he stood up, picking me up along with him. OK, so maybe I was a few pounds heavier now but I rationalized it was the awkward position that made it a bit difficult for him. I laid my head on his shoulder as he carried me quickly up the stairs and directly to my room. Hmmmmmm, someone already seemed to know which was mine! Well, then again it couldn't have been THAT hard to figure out given there were only four rooms plus the bathroom. Bill gently laid me down on my back on my bed and stood up to catch his breath. I laid there topless with my growing boobs bare before him, still a bit wet from his mouth.

"Well, what are you waiting for? Strip!" I encouraged him as I lifted up my behind and slipped off my sweats, leaving me now completely naked on my back on the bed. Meanwhile he was unbuckling his belt and within a couple of minutes he was also completely naked as he stood by the side of the bed.

"Mmmmmmm, now THAT's what I call a pleasant surprise to my expected morning," I said softly as I reached out to his already erect dick. It was more the entire situation than his dick that was the surprise as he was what I'd call average in the penis department. Average length, average thickness, typical bush of dark pubic hair. At his age I wasn't expecting a six pack but I was still somewhat impressed at how well he did look. The guy obviously worked out quite a bit.

Once I had my hand around his shaft I pulled him gently towards me until he was standing right at the edge of my bed. Laying on my side, I leaned forward and licked the very tip of his erection and then looked up at him and grinned.

"Next question... Do you want me to suck your dick Bill?"

Yeah, and is the Pope Catholic? My dad always told me that no lawyer ever asks a witness a question to learn something. He only asks questions that he already knows the answer to and now he needs the jury to hear it. So it was in this case as mine wasn't a question intended to make him answer one way or the other. There was only ONE answer so far as I was concerned. The trick was I wanted HIM to say it.

"God forgive me... yes," he stammered as he stood there with his hands hanging uselessly by his side.

"Yes what Bill? Tell me."

"Yes I want you to suck my cock. Is that what you want to hear?" he said more forcefully this time.

I held onto his cock but shook my head. "It's not what I WANT to hear, it's what YOU want. So tell me Bill, what do YOU want?"

"You cock-teasing little slut," he immediately answered but from the way he was looking at my hand gripping his dick I knew he didn't mean it badly, "Alright then... I want you to suck it. I want to see my dick in your mouth."

"Well OK then, but only because you called me a slut Bill," I responded and then I took the head into my mouth, sealing my lips around it just under the crown. My tongue played all around his sensitive head as my hand stroked his rock-solid shaft ever so slowly at first, gradually working up speed as I started to suck his dick more in earnest.

"Fuck you're good," he groaned as his knees buckled slightly and then straightened again.

As I sucked his dick I started to play with myself with my free hand. My pussy needed attention SO badly and it was letting me know in no uncertain terms!

Had to give the guy credit... I was initially afraid that he was going to shoot off right away and at his age, no matter how horny he might be or how motivated he probably wouldn't be ready to go again for at least a half hour or more. As much as I enjoyed sucking his dick and would have loved to feel his erect adulterous dick shooting off inside my mouth, this was likely going to be a single shot so I wanted it to be where it counted most - in my pussy!

Thus when he started to act more agitated I knew I'd better move on. Gripping his wet shaft with my hand, I dropped his dick from my mouth with a "plop" and looked up at him smiling.

"Ready to fuck me now Bill?" I asked him ever so sweetly, almost like I was asking him if he wanted to go for a simple stroll in the park.

His eyes widened. Here we were both naked a the day we were born in my bedroom with me having just sucked his dick yet the mention of him fucking me seemed to scare the daylights out of him.

"Ummmmm, are you sure," he asked, his eyes saying much more as they looked towards my protruding belly.

"I don't have a problem with fucking you like this Bill," I assured him, "Don't you want to fuck me? Don't you want to fuck me when I'm pregnant?"

He subconsciously licked his lips. Oh yeah, the answer was yes and yes, that much I knew. Now he just had to say it.

"I don't know Kelly," he stammered, "This is going further than I ever intended. Not sure I can do this."

Time to apply a little more pressure...

"Oh come on Bill, I've seen the way you look at me, the way you stare at my legs and ass, at my boobs. You've always wanted to fuck me so here's your chance finally. And you know you get off from me being pregnant, don't you Bill.... don't you?"

"Of course I want to do it Kelly, I'll admit it. Shit, the way you sucked my dick... Oh My God!"

He was wavering... just a little more and he'd collapse like the World Trade Center. I suppose that I could've probably gone on like this and eventually convinced him but there was a faster way to get to my destination. Sure it was a little riskier but the rewards would be worth it.

would have preferred either riding him or having him on top of me but conditions being what they were this was simply the easiest way to go.

"You have such a sweet ass," he complimented me as he rubbed both of my bared butt cheeks with the palms of his hands. He playfully smacked one using the palm of his hand so it sounded much louder than it felt.

"Hey, baby on board!" I chastised him teasingly although I really didn't mind. While I've never been one much for the pain crap, a playful spanking now and then could be hot so long as everyone involved had the right perspective.

He didn't respond but instead spread my butt cheeks apart to get a better rear view at my shaven pussy. I was expecting him to just get right down to business and fuck me but he surprised me somewhat when he bent down and buried his face in my butt, his nose against my asshole as his tongue worked on my wet pussy.

"Mmmmmmm, that feels so good Bill" I sighed as I wiggled my butt against his face.

Turned out that he really wasn't as ready to abandon fucking me as he was making it out to be as after less than a minute he was standing up again with his erection pressed against my ass. For a brief moment my heart raced as I feared he might be getting some crazy idea about fucking my ass. Thankfully just as I was about to say something he pulled away and repositioned the head of his dick more in the area of my willing pussy. Reaching back between my thighs, I gripped his cock with my fingers and guided him home.

"Do it Bill," I said looking back over my shoulder at him, "Push it I me, fuck me!"

Like we he going to stop now? Yeah right...

"Oh god," he groaned as he pulled my hips into him as he pushed himself forward, driving his dick easily into mu soaking wet pussy in one quick motion until the base of his cock met my bare butt and he was in me as far as he could be. God it felt so good to have a dick in me!

"That's it, now fuck me... fuck me daddy!"

He didn't say anything as he drove himself in and out of me slowly and deliberately at first, picking up speed gradually as he fucked me longer. It didn't matter to him that I was pregnant, that I wasn't the thin flat-bellied girl he'd been lusting after for so many years. I caught myself wondering if he was imagining fucking his daughter but I didn't want to take any chances of ruining this moment by asking him anything so potentially distracting.

We fucked like that for a while and then he pulled out. It was like we both knew what we wanted as I twisted over onto my back as he helped me. I laid there with my butt up at the edge of the bed, my legs up and over his shoulder as he held my ankles with his hands to support my legs. I used my hands to guide his adulterous cock back inside of me quickly. It only took a few seconds it seemed before once again I was filled with his wonderful hard cock. God I LOVE to be fucked so badly!!

Really, that was exactly what he was doing - fucking me. There was no love involved, nothing "personal". We hadn't even kissed once. This was what sex should be at its most basic love - two people doing what makes them feel good with no strings attached. I had no illusions about having an affair with Bill and I knew he would never even entertain such thoughts. No doubt he'd look back at this later and wonder what had come over him and how he'd gotten to the point of even doing it but at the same time, I doubted that he would regret it. Like if he was worried about privacy, who better to fuck than the cousin of your wife? It's not like I was going to say anything to the rest of the family. Personally it wouldn't have bothered me if he did but at the same time, it would life a little bit more difficult for a while no doubt if her did.

Most of these thoughts actually came later as while I was on my back on my bed my attention was pretty much laser-focused on what was going on between my legs! I had a couple of pillows behind my head and I could look down through my cleavage and see his dick as it plunged deep inside of me. My belly was just big enough to turn him on but not so big yet it hid everything from view. A few more weeks and no doubt THAT would change if my first time told me anything!

"Fuck I'm cumming!" he groaned as he leaned his head back and closed his eyes, thrusting his dick deep into me and holding himself there as his hips thrust hard with each load of his adulterous sperm.

Well, if there was ever a time a guy's sperm was wasting its time this would be it but that didn't change the implications of what Bill was doing. Whether I was pregnant or not, he was still shooting his sperm into a pussy other than his wife's and assuming he want lying to me, this was the first time since they'd been married. Another notch in the Kelly belt of scores!

When he'd finished, he just stood there panting with his dick still in me. I looked at him in the eyes and then down as where I could see his dick still half buried in my pussy.

"I like SEEING your dick inside of me Bill... and I like even more how it FEELS inside of me."

"Not so bad from this end either," he replied with a grin. As if to prove his point he gave playful thrust inward although by this time he was getting almost too soft to do much of anything.

"Let me taste it," I told him.

He looked at me as if he didn't quite understand me at first and then his face brightened up as he realized my intentions. Quickly he pulled out and carefully lowered my legs and helped twist me around so I was laying along the edge of the bed again on my side. Once I was situated, he stood in front of my face with his dick an inch or so from my waiting mouth. I opened wide and he guided his cum-coved cock into my mouth.

"God that is SO sexy," he murmured as he watched me clean our cum from his dick. I loved the taste - a mixture of his cum and my pussy. A little more and I dropped him from my mouth to look up at him and smile.

"Mmmmmmm, that's tastes so good!"

"You know, Ginny has NEVER done that," he said softly, "Trust me, I've tried!"

"She doesn't know what she's missing," I said as I licked my lips for him to watch.

Just then I heard his phone ringing in his pants on the floor. He quickly turned and dug through the pile of clothes, answering just in time before it went to voicemail.

"Hey baby, what's going on?" he answered.

I watched as he listened, trying to get a word in edgewise but apparently my cousin was worked up over something. Judging from his attempts to answer, I gather he was supposed to have been home by now and she was wondering where he was and why he was running so late.

"Sorry babe, something came up and I had to take care of it," he said cryptically, turning to me with a wink. Yeah, something had come up indeed! And yes, he'd taken care of it but not in the way I'm sure she assumed.

"I was just leaving, just quit bitching, OK?" he said, obviously getting a bit pissed off now.

I could hear her voice even from where I was so obviously THAT hadn't been the right thing to say!

Finally he hung up and turned to me. I was still in the same position, laying on my side naked with his cum starting to run out of my pussy just a little bit as I played with myself.

"You know, I was just starting to feel a little guilty about doing this but now fuck it... stupid bitch!"

I wasn't about to get in the middle of THAT so I just keep quiet as he got dressed. Mumbling and grumbling the whole time about Ginny and what a bitchy wife she was.

Normally at this time when a guy had finished fucking me, he would usually say something about wanting to meet again and I'd have to remind him that I only did guys once. Indeed, the last thing I wanted was to become someone's mistress! In this case though, I'd assumed after he was done that this would be the first AND last time for me and Bill. I seem to have caught him at a bad time so far as he and Ginny were doing, something that had just been confirmed by the last phone call. Whatever was going on, it was enough to allow him to do something he probably never thought he would do - and rather easily at that, maybe TOO easily for his peace of mind.

But then while Bill may have been my perfect "fun fuck" - a married guy with a teenage daughter cheating for the first time, at the same time he was also family, albeit a little bit removed but technically still family. Calling what we did incest would be a stretch though but it certainly DID qualify as adultery given his wife knew nothing about it and would never approve if she did. Thus my "one and done" rule really didn't apply when it came to Bill which led to my next line of questioning...

"So are you gonna fuck me again at the Christmas party?"

Despite everything that had gone on this morning I still managed to surprise him.

"Seriously?"

Was he really asking if I was serious or was he asking if I was crazy? Only one way to find out...

"Why not? Do you really think you're be the only one who will?"

At that he shook his head as if trying to get a grip on what I was implying.

"So who else?"

It was my turn to shake my head. "Unless you want me telling them about you, I can't tell you about them, deal?"

Bill finished up dressing and before he left the room he turned to me.

"OK then, just one question though... Has Ginny's dad fucked you?"

"What?" I replied, as if the question was preposterous.

"Just made me think about something Ginny once said... it was a few years ago after the Easter thing at her parent's place. She was talking to her sister and I overheard something that happened at the party, something involving 'that slut" and her dad. Were they talking about you?"

I just gave him my best Cheshire Cat smile.

"My lips are sealed."

"Not exactly a no then, eh?"

"No comment - you can read into that anything you want but I didn't say it."

"Hmmmmmm, he said with a smile, "You're going to be quite a bit bigger by then."`

"You like fucking me when I'm pregnant, eh Bill?"

Bill grinned as he got ready to walk out. "Kelly, I LOVED fucking you. See you at Christmas!"

He left me and I turned over onto my back and started to masturbate. Yeah, Christmas was looking to be fun this year!

(Dec 25) Chapter 269: A Christmas Trifecta

Story codes: MF adultery inc father daughter uncle niece
Me (29)
John - my dad (50)
Uncle Paul (57)
Uncle Jim (48)

Thanksgiving had been... well, interesting would be one way to put it. Now the question was, would my newest "favorite" family member make another holiday special for me? Of course I had to treat Santa first! And if you're going to do it with two brothers, why not three?

1. A Common Fantasy

Talking with guys, there are a number of fantasies that most seem to have in common. Of all of them though, the one that seems to create the most interest is having a threesome - where I mean two girls for him. Of those, the most common subcategory of that fantasy has to be to do it with sisters... and then the best version of THAT would be with twins, especially if they were enjoying each other right in front of him. Of course, the absolute ultimate scenario for most men would be if the twin sisters girls were virgin young teenagers!

When people talk about fantasies though, it always seems to be implied that you're referring to MALE fantasies. It's as if it's perfectly fine and acceptable for a guy to fantasize and masturbate about having sex with two twin underage girls but should a woman have a similar fantasy two brothers then that's somehow off-limits and perverted. Personally I think it's because most men are homophobic to some degree and so the very thought of two brothers having sex together goes against everything that turns them on.

(If a guy claims he's NOT homophobic, just ask him if it's ok for his dick to rub up against another guy's during sex. Odds are pretty good he'll NEVER say yes!)

Well heads-up to all you macho men out there... women DO fantasize and we DO think about such things when we masturbate. And yes, we DO masturbate - a LOT, and it's not just on cam for guys to get off watching us.

In my case I've come about as close as you can get in terms of this particular fantasy. My own father has two brothers - one older, the other younger. Over the course of the years I've been fucked by all three. However, while I've done it with my dad and his younger brother Jim together a few times, much to my chagrin my older Uncle Paul has never been part of any threesomes with me, let alone a brotherly foursome. Mmmmmmm, not that I haven't imagined doing it! Indeed, many a day after a family get-together I find myself masturbating afterwards as I dream of missed opportunities.

People might ask why I haven't had all three at the same time if I've been with each individually and even together with my dad and Uncle Jim more than a few times? Well, as you might imagine it gets complicated...

First, you need to understand that my Uncle Jim is an asshole. Not just any old garden-variety asshole but a TOTAL, 100% asshole. The only reason I even allowed him to fuck me in the first place was more a quid pro quo as a favor to my dad so that he could fuck my younger cousin without having to do it behind his brother's back. When I have sex with a man I like to be treated well - as a lady if you will. I'm not at all into the humiliation and bondage scenes. Yes, I like a man to be assertive and controlling but in the end I know that I'm the one who is really in control. With my Uncle Jim though, that's not the case. What especially annoys me is his lack of respect for my feelings about anal sex and facials. Yes, he IS my uncle and as a male within my family I'm obligated to submit to him. Still, Christian submittal is a two-way street and it doesn't give him the right to disrespect me and take advantage of his position in the family.

Second, my dad is exactly what I described earlier - a total homophobe. Threesomes are fine for him - so long as he's the only male involved. Those times when my Uncle Jim had fucked me with my dad there were more like they shared me and almost always when my cousin Tammy was there as well making it more of a swap. Only once have they ever both fucked me at the same time and that was a LONG time ago in what turned out to be a never to be repeated act. Like most men my dad has always enjoyed being WATCHED as he fucked me. I know it turns him big-time when people see him fucking his own daughter - he IS such a guy after all!

But to do so WITH other men, especially his brothers, was simply not going to happen.

Last but not least, it's not like my Uncle Paul has been that anxious to advertise his infidelities, not even to his own brothers. When I learned that he'd been fucking my mother all through their respective marriages it was a total surprise to me as she'd never mentioned it to me - or to my dad either for that matter as I learned. From my perspective even though we are not blood related, we're still related by marriage which is sacred and just as binding and equivalent as if we were. Thus I would claim that as my uncle our sex is an act of incest which, by definition, is not an act of adultery. However, I'm well aware that what to me are simple truths are considered by others to be rationalizations and Uncle Paul is one of those. Then again, it's not like he's exactly been worried about committing adultery which in my book is a sin. I guess you could say it works for us in that I view it as incest and thus not a problem and if he considers it adultery then so far as I am concerned then it's HIS problem, not mine.

So bottom line... I've more or less reconciled myself to the fact that any fantasies I might have about being fucked by three brothers at the same time were almost certainly going to stay just that - fantasies. That is, unless I get lucky enough to find three other brothers but what are the odds of THAT considering it's almost impossible to even find TWO brothers. Even when I was a teenager and dating the guy who is now my husband while also fucking his younger brother it was impossible to ever have them both at the same time!

That said, there really wasn't any reason why I couldn't have all three on the same DAY at least. If course that meant a day when all three were available which only happened a few times a year, typically Easter, Thanksgiving and Christmas which was when our entire family traditionally gathered. It wouldn't be the first time by any means that I'd done it with at least one of them during these holiday events but not all three - at least not yet.

As I said, not YET! This year I was determined to make it happen for a number of reasons. First, and I hate to even mention it as it makes me almost choke even to write it, I'll be hitting the thirty mark in just a few months. OMG, I never dreamed I could ever be this old! Second, and probably more influential, I was pregnant with my second child. So you're probably asking just what did THAT have to do with this? As my mom always says... it's all in the timing. I was at that point where the morning sickness was behind me and the horny stage was now in full swing. Don't ask me the corner from the kitchen. She was wearing what looked to be one of my dad's flannel shirts with the sleeves rolled up to her elbows. Well, at least for Christmas morning she wasn't nude! Of everyone in our family my Aunt Linda was probably the closest to being classified as a nudist. It was sort of funny in a way how the women in our families were so different in that way. My mom, the most conservative, was almost never seen without at least wearing a bra and panties and when I say panties, I mean the standard issue type from Macy's or Penney's and not a skimpy revealing thong. As for me, I had the rep for being the "bottomless girl" in that since I was a little girl in grade school I've always loved to run around with my butt bare exposed to the cool air around me. In contrast, my slutty cousin Kristen was the family "topless girl" in she was always finding some excuse to NOT wear anything on top although she did seem to enjoy wearing a thong most of the time. Not that the ones she wore covered much but it seemed to just be a thing of hers.

At the far end of the spectrum was my aunt who had been the one to run around the house naked all the time for as long as I can remember. Even when I was little and they would visit us (which was most of the time it seemed) she would doff her clothes as quickly as possible and just hang around nude. My mom wasn't exactly thrilled to say the least but what could she really say without being rude? I guess I was a bit naive in that I never put two and two together when it came to Aunt Linda and my dad. Looking back now, seeing my mom's nude sister disappearing into my dad's home office and then shutting the door behind them should have clued me in that SOMETHING was going on more than just talking about taxes and her real estate business. That said, in my defense when you're brought up that way it becomes something normal and as such these sort of thoughts just don't automatically come to mind.

So anyways, seeing my Aunt Linda completely covered (at least her torso) by a long men's shirt was a bit of surprise and I knew my ever-horny husband was a little disappointed from the way he was looking at her. I mean it's not like he hadn't seen her nude most every other time we visited, plus the fact they usually had sex as well, but as a man I guess he would've preferred her to be naked 100% of the time! While she might be 46 years old now, she took good care of herself. She'd had a boob lift a few years earlier which took a few years off as well. Even then, the girls were still 100% "real" in that she didn't get implants; she just had the sag removed that had accumulated after decades of fighting (and losing to) gravity.

Then the real surprise hit me as right behind her was my cousin which took a bit of a load off my mind. Theoretically it wouldn't have mattered if she had been there or not in terms of what I knew I'd be doing with my dad. The key difference with her was that it left Steve and Linda free to do their thing without having to babysit. Knowing them, they would've probably just given her some toys to keep herself occupied and done it anyway in front of her but I preferred having someone around that was dedicated to taking care of her.

Of course my husband didn't waste any time checking to ensure Aunt Linda wasn't wearing anything under her shirt - and she wasn't to nobody's surprise. Indeed, I would have been shocked if she had!

"So where's my dad?" I asked Linda after we'd exchanged our Merry Christmas hugs and kisses.

"Oh he should be down in a minute or so," she answered flippantly and sure enough, no sooner had she finished than I heard the wooden steps to the second floor creaking and my dad made his appearance.

"Hey Daddy! Merry Christmas!" I greeted him, hugging him tightly. He smiled down at me and lowered his head down to kiss me. Our tongues immediately met and I felt his hands cupping my butt as he stretched to get them around me with my belly protruding between us.

"Almost can't reach," he teased me, squeezing my ass playfully.

"Oh John, she's looking great," my aunt chastised him as she complimented me, "How the hell do you do stay so skinny? I looked like a walrus already when I was at your stage."

I just grinned at her and turned back to kiss my wonderful father again. She was right though, I was really lucky in that when I'm pregnant I don't gain a whole lot of weight anywhere but in my belly. People are always telling me that from behind they wouldn't even know I was pregnant!

Steve and my dad shook hands and I was a little surprised when they actually hugged - OK, so just a little but still, even a man-hug was more than they usually shared. Guess it was the spirit of the season as they say.

"You guys are late... as always," my dad observed checking out his watch. He made quite a show of checking the time and I immediately saw he wasn't as concerned about the time as he was about making sure we all saw his watch.

"Oh wow, a Rolex!" I gushed, pulling his wrist to me so I could get a better look.

My dad smiled and I saw my aunt grinning from ear to ear.

"Apparently the real estate business is recovering quite nicely," he teased my aunt who just kept smiling and nodded.

Then it was my turn to show off the new gold bracelet that Steve had given me earlier (hence the "thank-you" BJ I'd given him). It cost a fraction of what my dad's watch had cost my aunt but it still meant a lot to me.

"Looks like Santa was nice to you this year," my cousin said looking a little jealous.

"Just goes to show Santa likes his girls naughty, not nice," I answered half-jokingly.

My dad stepped in saying, "And speaking of Santa's gifts for naughty girls..."

We all took the rather unsubtle hint and headed to the living room where the Christmas tree was set up in the corner. We exchanged a few gifts although most had either been opened prior to getting together or would be later when we met with the rest of the family. This gift exchange was for those that wouldn't have been quite appropriate to open in front of the relatives, particularly the ones who would've been shocked to know some of the family secrets.

Finally came time for what I'd been eagerly waiting for. There was one present remaining under the tree and I knew whose it was without evening having to read the tag. My dad reached under the tree and to nobody's surprise announced this one was for me. I was grinning broadly as I settled back into the couch cushions with it on my lap.

"Not going to even try and guess?" my cousin teased.

"Nope, gave that up a long time ago," I sighed as if it really mattered.

Still, just to add a little suspense I shook the box and looked it over as if I was trying to figure out what was inside. I DID notice one thing - it was a little heavier at one end compared to the other which was unusual. Genuinely perplexed, I finally ripped off the wrapping to see what was hidden underneath.

"Oh cool!" Kristen cried out as she saw what it was, "I've been wanting one of those for like forever!"

I had to say, it was something new, at least in terms of my dad's Christmas gifts go. They'd always been some form of clothing but this year was a first - it wasn't something for me to model for him.

"Oh John, you're really being Bad Santa this year," my aunt said as she rubbed her hand on his thigh as they sat together and watched me. She turned to me and explained, "He must have had a thing for them this year, I got one of my own this morning."

I held up the box for Steve to see and he just rolled his eyes. I had a feeling it wasn't so much anything to do with what it WAS so much as what it MEANT I'd be doing with it in the very near future.

"Really, a dildo?" he muttered.

"Actually Steve, it's a vibrator," my cousin corrected him.

"Dildo, vibrator, same difference," Steve retorted.

"Obviously you've never used one," Kristen replied, only half in jest.

Smiling, I looked at my dad, seeking his input.

"Well, given your condition I wasn't sure exactly what you'd be able to wear this year so I figured why not get something I know you can use any time," he said, shrugging his shoulders.

Actually I didn't have a working vibrator at the moment. My previous one had quit - of course at a most inopportune time, and I just hadn't gotten around to replacing it with all the hustle and bustle of the holidays. Besides, it's not like I used one all that often as I'm mostly a finger-girl. Way back when I first started masturbating my mom had shown me her collection which she kept in a drawer by her bed. She'd graciously offered to share them with me anytime I'd wanted to use one but I rarely took advantage of her offer. The one favorite of mine over the years has been a double-ended dildo which I prefer to use when I'm with another girl. I love it when I was up close to another girl with one end in each of our pussies and I can feel it move in me whenever she moves, almost as if she is fucking me but without the weirdness of her wearing a strap-on. I've always maintained when I'm having sex with a girl I like it to be with a GIRL so strap-ons have never been my thing. That said, when I can sit and watch the two of us sharing the same dildo... well THAT's something entirely different, at least that's how I see it.

"Soooooo?" my dad prompted me as he glanced towards the stairs leading to his bedroom.

This was one of those things I love about my dad. It was his home and I was his daughter so he could've just come right out and said what was on his mind. Yet he knew how Steve felt about what I did with him and so he kept the reference as oblique as possible. Not every guy in his situation would have been so understanding. Yeah, my dad is truly wonderful!

I leaned over to kiss my husband. "Be back in a bit honey... not don't you dare behave yourself!"

Kristen knew her role and so she took our daughter by the hand to lead her up to my old bedroom after which I stood up and headed up after her with my dad right behind me. I looked back briefly and saw that and my aunt had already taken my place next to my husband - she wasn't wasting any time! I knew they would soon be enjoying themselves so it didn't bother me to leave my husband briefly even though it was Christmas morning. It wasn't like he'd be missing me!

Up in my dad's bedroom I opened the box and inspected my new toy more closely. It wasn't anything weird like some of those crazy things you see advertised but rather more or less just your basic vibrator. My dad took it from me so he could put in the batteries and check it out. It was remarkably quiet - a feature which I immediately loved. So many of these things sound like a chain saw going off which I find it distracting when I try to use them!

All my prior plans for this morning had gone out the window when my dad didn't give me an outfit to wear so I was winging it. I briefly debated about whether to just go ahead and get naked or leave some clothes on. I quickly came to the decision based on not wanting everything all wrinkled up when we left to go to see the rest of the family so I didn't waste any time stripping although I was careful to fold or hang everything up. I suppose some women would feel self-conscious being pregnant and naked but this was my dad so I didn't feel shy at all in showing myself off to him. Besides, what's to be embarrassed about being pregnant?

"Oh... my... god! Kelly, you look absolutely stunning," he whispered to me softly, the deep sexual lust in his voice unmistakable as he emphasized each syllable of each word.

Even without the words the way he was looking at me would have told me everything he was thinking. For the record, I LOVE it when men stare at me any time. It fascinates me to know that they're wishing they could fuck me. It turns me on knowing that later when they go home they'll masturbate about doing just that. Yet no man gives me the chills quite like my dad when he has the expression on his face that he had at this very moment. Not even my husband can make me feel quite this way when he stares at me. There's just something unique, something special about having your own father be so open and honest about his sexual desires for you that makes it special and distinctive for his daughter in a way no other man can.

anything it would make it easier and in my condition, anything making it easier was OK with me.

Laying back with me feet spread apart on the bed, I poured a little oil into the palm of my hand as my dad took up residence at the foot of the bed. There wasn't really anything for him to sit on so he sat back on the edge and twisted so he could watch me. Reaching down between my freshly shaved thighs, I flipped my palm over so the oil spilled onto my shaved crotch and quickly spread it around, lubing up my pussy slit well. Then I used the remains on my hand to oil up the vibrator shaft, twisting my hand around it like I was trying to give it a hand job. It was about the same diameter as an average dick so my hand fit easily around it. This was definitely better than sucking on it and spitting on it!

As my dad watched me intently without saying a word, I started off by playing a little with my boobs, setting the vibrator down by my side momentarily as I placed one hand over each boob, pinching and twisting the nipples gently. I LOVE my boobs to be played with, especially my nipples, but I've never been one of those girls who likes it rough. OK, so maybe some women get off to clothes pins on their nipples but not this one! A gentle caress with your tongue, a firm but not overly so squeeze with your hand, and I'm in heaven! I tried breastfeeding with my first daughter but that didn't work out. Oh my god I was so sore!

My nipples were already hard – it seemed to have become a more or less permanent condition while I was pregnant. One thing my husband loved when I was knocked up was that my boobs seemed to be the first thing to expand – well before my belly was showing overly so. Indeed, it had been the sudden increase in my boob size that led me to check to see if I was pregnant! Normally a solid B cup (although I wore C in most of the ones I wore to work so they'd be plenty big an comfy), they were now easily filling a D cup which made my husband – as well as my father, more than happy. While I didn't necessarily get a thrill over having to wear a bra more than usual, I found the benefit for me was they got even more sensitive than they normally were when I wasn't pregnant.

Reaching down with my head, I pulled up on my right boobs and reached out with my tongue. I could hear my dad suck in a breath when I was able to reach my nipple with it – something I normally couldn't even come close to accomplishing. It wasn't so much that I enjoyed it but that I knew my dad did. Given this was the whole point at the moment, why not?

Keeping my left hand on my left boob, I moved my right hand down to between my legs. It was almost like an electric shock hit me when my finger pressed down over my clit! God I was so damn horny! It was being watched that really had me going, especially since it was my own father doing the watching. Even if I had my eyes closed and didn't actually see him, just knowing my dad was there, staring intently as I enjoyed myself in front of me, added an extra element of eroticism that made it so much better for me - and him as well I hoped. I was pretty confident it did.

"Are you my mirror today daddy?" I asked him, smiling as I slowly toyed with my wet and slippery clit using just my index finger.

At first I think he didn't quite get what I meant but then the light bulb over his head went off and he grinned. No words were necessary, his widening eyes told me all I needed to know.

Reaching over, I picked up the vibrator and gently started to rub myself with the tip. I left it turned off for the moment to allow myself to get started gently rather than just running off a cliff full bore from the beginning. With its slippery oily coating it glided easily over my well-lubricated pussy.

My dad shifted his weight to get a better view. "You know, I've always loved your pussy," he said as he focused on where the vibrator tip was rubbing over me.

What could I say? He's a man! I've never known ANY man to say he did NOT love my pussy but that didn't diminish the point of his comment. I don't care what kind of man a guy claims to be - boob guy, ass guy, leg guy, whatever... show him a girl's crotch and everything else goes by the wayside. Face it, the only reason my dad, or any man for that matter, looks at my ass or chest is when he can't see between my legs.

Slowly the vibrator worked its way down my pussy until it found its way at the entrance to my waiting pussy. I loved the feeling of it as it barely penetrated me, just like when a man is trying to position his erection to enter me for the first time. I moved it in tiny little circles, threatening to push it in further but then holding off just as it was about to go in. As I teased myself my free hand dropped from my breast and I use it to rub my clit again sending chills up my spine once more. A soft moan escaped from my lips as I closed my eyes and dreamed.

For whatever weird reason old memories of family road trips came to my mind as I rubbed myself slowly. Riding in the back seat of my dad's SUV, bored out of my mind as we slowly worked our way from western Pennsylvania to Illinois to visit my from the vibrator experience was more than made up for by the attention from my father.

"Oh fuck me daddy, fuck me!!" I begged as I worked my pussy. It was a performance meant just for him as I knew he loved it when I said those magic words.

As I squeezed my eyes tightly closed while masturbating I fantasized about some of the times when my dad had watched me in situations similar to this. Like wow, there had been a LOT - different times, places and situations. Despite all the exterior differences there was one common thread - a father watching his daughter enjoying herself.

The bed suddenly moved and I felt the vibrator being pulled from my pussy. What the heck? Opening my eyes, there was my dear old dad with his pants and underwear having mysteriously disappeared, standing at the foot of his bed holding his newest present out to me.

"Don't you think it's time for the real thing baby?"

Personally, it had been THAT time since the moment we'd arrived. The only real reason I was doing this was to show him how I could use his gift. Not that I wasn't enjoying myself, just not what I was hoping would have happened this morning. Heck, I could (and often did) masturbate just about anywhere but these days it wasn't like my dad was fucking me every day anymore.

One thing I immediately noticed - his dick was hard... REALLY hard which pleased me. It wasn't like my poor dad was a teenager anymore and most times I had to blow him a little before he fucked me to get him stiff enough to do it. Yeah, daddy's little slut was now daddy's little fluffer, LOL.

"Yesssssss, fuck me daddy," I said in earnest this time, saying those most magical three words with heart-felt enthusiasm. This time wasn't said just to turn him on. No... this time I meant it. Yes, I wanted my daddy to fuck me! Oh god I wanted him to fuck me SOOOOOO badly!

Grinning with anticipation, my horny reached out and grabbed my ankles. Pulling me towards the end of the bed, I was soon laying there with my ass right at the edge and my legs extended upward in his hands. My father lowered his arms, allowing me legs to part and wrap around his waist which pulled my pussy into his crotch. I could feel the tip of his dick brushing up against my aroused pussy, teasing me as he dragged it along my slit.

"Stop it daddy!" I pleaded, "Stop teasing me and put it in me!"

"My little slut wants her daddy's dick in her, doesn't she?" he teased me mercilessly, "Kelly wants her daddy to fuck her, doesn't she?"

"YES DADDY!" I cried out, probably load enough for everyone in the house to hear me, "Kelly wants you to fuck her. Let me be your little slut.... fuck me daddy, PLEASE fuck me!"

Fortunately he was just as horny as I was and there was no way he was going to be able to hold back any longer. I gasped as I felt his dick penetrate me, forcing it's way inside of me and burying itself deeper and deeper in my hungry pussy.

"God you feel so wet and warm," he gasped as he just stood there still with his incestuous erect dick now fully stuffed inside of his daughter. I could feel his coarse thick pubic hair smashed against my bare skin rubbing into me like a soft hair brush as he ground himself against me.

It was like I was in heaven. I closed my eyes and concentrated on my father's cock in me. At that moment nothing else existed... my entire world had compressed into one singular point where our bodies were now joined together as only sex allows to happen. My father and I were now one body as he gave me the most sacred gift he possibly could - himself. It was an amazing feeling, especially knowing that it was my own father's dick that was filling me up down there. How could he do this to me unless he loved me and respected me in such an incredible way? It was at moments like this when I can't imagine how anyone can even question why I love incest with my dad.

Slowly he started to fuck me, drawing his erection out of me until just the tip of his dick was between my pussy lips and then just as slowly driving it back inside of me. I couldn't help but feel a little conflicted. It felt so damn good when his dick would rub against me yet at the same time I loved it best when I knew he was as deep in me as he could be, when we were joined together to the maximum amount possible. I wanted him to be a part of me but I also loved the incredible sensations that coursed through me as he stroked his dick in and out of me.

"Oh yesssssss, make me cum daddy!"

Between the time I'd spent masturbating and the eroticism of the moment, it didn't take long for my first orgasm to rise within me. It would be followed shortly by another and then more, each seeming to be a little stronger, each lasting a little bit longer, each making me cry out a little bit louder than the one before.

"That's it baby, cum again for me."

We both laughed together as he wiped graciously me off. There wasn't time for a shower and besides I didn't want to get my hair wet so this would have to do.

"Merry Christmas Daddy!"

My dad stood up straight and gazed at my freshly fucked nude body as I laid back on his bed with my legs rather obscenely spread apart. He held up one finger so as to say I needed to just be quiet and sit still for a moment. Opening the dresser drawer, he pulled out his old camera. Even though he had the latest iPhone, my dad was still a little old-school when it came to photography.

"Just a few for the album," he said in response to my look of protest. It wasn't that I didn't like my picture taken - I LOVED it when he did. I just felt a little funny looking the way I did. I know, it was silly of me to feel that way but it wasn't like I was in bikini-shape.

"It's not too many chances I get to get a shot of you like this," he said as he started to take shot after shot of me. After a few minutes he handed me back his Christmas present.

"Now show daddy how you like your Christmas present."

He switched the camera to video mode and I just rolled my eyes, smiling as I did. Men! Well, it wasn't any different from past Christmas mornings I guess in that he always took a set of photos and then when all was said a done I would dress again so he could video me stripping out of them for him. He mentioned his album... the mysterious album he as always referring to. I could only imagine how big it had to be these days. Wow, what would guys pay to see it? My dad could probably retire if he put it up for sale on line! I knew that was just fantasy as he never would do it. Besides, much of what was in it would likely just end up getting him arrested!

"Are you guys about done yet?"

I looked over to see my aunt standing in the doorway. She was still naked and looking flushed so it wasn't like she was exactly ready to head out the door yet herself.

My dad just grinned and pointed at me. "Ever see such a sexy sight?"

Well, he WAS my dad after all!

3. Brother #2 - Putting Aside Old Issues

Driving up to my Aunt Sheri and Uncle Jim's place, it was obvious we must be one of the last ones to arrive judging by all the cars parked outside in the driveway and on the street. Oh well, I'd take the tingle I still felt between my legs over being on time any day!

"So do you think Tammy will be here today?"

It was obvious why Steve was asking. He'd been dreaming about fucking my cute cousin since the day he first saw her! It didn't help him knowing most of the other men in my family had done her at one time or another, including her brother and father and as well as my dad.

Unfortunately for my poor husband, things with Tammy had changed lot in the eight years since my dad had been lucky enough to take her virginity when she was fourteen. While she'd been what I would call a wanna-be slut in high school, her aspirations to follow in the footsteps of her older cousins (me and Kristen) had been largely thwarted by her overbearing, sanctimonious mother. Whereas both Kristen and I had been encouraged by our mothers to take advantage of our situations, my Aunt Sheri did everything she could to keep poor Tammy from enjoying high school as only a sexy young teenage girl can.

I mentioned that her brother and father had fucked her but obviously this was something about which her mother was kept totally in the dark. No doubt she would have killed them all (and I'm not sure that's an exaggeration) if she ever found out. So not only did Tammy have to hide her incestuous activities, she also had to deal with a father and brother who weren't exactly what I considered the most nurturing and caring people in the world. In fact, as I mentioned earlier her dad was a total asshole and her brother emulated his father. Once she was off to college, she was meeting other boys and with her newfound freedom, was finally able to realize her sexual dreams. Now that she was getting what she needed and wanted, she pretty much had shut off her dad and brother so far as sex goes. While normally I would frown on a girl not performing her Christian duties for the men in her family, in this case I had to side with her as those same men had failed to meet up with their end of the bargain.

So this left my poor husband in the unfortunate situation to where Tammy simply had no reason to give herself to him. I have to say one thing for the girl, in college she not only got to be the slut she never could be in high school, she also had become a world-class tease. She knew my husband wanted to fuck her. Heck, I'd even tried talking her into letting him do her at least just once as a favor to me. Regardless, she seemed to enjoy teasing Steve relentlessly and even though he KNEW that was what she was doing, it was like Charlie Brown kicking the football with Lucy. Her kept thinking the next time would be different and that she really meant what she said when she would tease him. Now I love my husband but sometimes I really have to wonder about him! Oh well, just goes to show that when it comes to sex, the little head wins every time.

As for me, it had been a few years now since I'd last let my Uncle Jim fuck me. Even longer since I'd done my cousin Rick. I say "let" him fuck me in that was more or less the case. As my uncle I had an obligation to submit to him which I did for many years. However, submission is not slavery and the man has as many responsibilities as the woman for it to work. My uncle had failed to live up to his end of the bargain from almost the very beginning so technically I could have refused him long before I actually did. The only reason I didn't was as a favor to my dad as Uncle Jim wouldn't allow my dad to fuck his daughter if he didn't get to fuck my dad's - meaning me. Once Tammy stopped fucking my dad, that left me free to do the same with her father which I promptly took advantage of.

Today though I was on a mission. The simple facts were that if I was to realize my fantasy of fucking three brothers, that meant one of them had to be my Uncle Jim. The key would be not to let him know that was why I was doing it. As much as I knew he wanted to fuck me, I wouldn't put it past him to refuse if he knew how badly I wanted it. Yes, the trick was going to be to have him think it was his idea and the he was the one who was talking me into doing it...

As we gathered our gifts and headed to the front door, I was still debating over whether or not to tell Steve my plans. Indeed, I hadn't told him yet and the more I'd thought about it, the more I thought it better I didn't. It wasn't like I needed his permission to get laid. Even though legally (at least legal per Kelly's laws) he knew he HAD to allow me to have sex with my family, neither of us required the other to get "permission" to have sex with someone else. I mean it was just sex after all, not like I was cheating on him. Cheating in my book is all about intent so as long as I was just doing it just for my own enjoyment, why should he care? Having an affair is something entirely different though, something I would NEVER consider doing as that would be adultery, one of the "top ten" rules by which I lived my life.

My decision was also confirmed by Steve's usual sulking after I'd had sex with my dad. It was so childish that I wanted to smack him but I knew he'd get over it the next time we had sex. He hadn't SAID anything after I'd come downstairs after fucking my dad, not even some smart-aleck remark about hearing me - which he must have considering how loud I'd gotten a few times. It was the look in his face that told me everything. It sort of irked me that it was just fine for him to fuck my aunt at the same time yet he acted as though me fucking my dad was something wrong. Again, he didn't SAY anything - he learned his lesson back the first time he tried that crap. Sometimes though people say more with their body language than they do with words.

The house was indeed filled with people when we entered and the din was almost overpowering at first. Everyone came up to greet us and I have to say I probably got the most attention thanks to my current condition. Passing by the living room on my way to the kitchen where most of the women were, I noticed my two uncles sitting in the chairs, talking about world issues for which I figured they had all the answers if someone in authority would just listen to them. LOL

Steve was carrying our gifts so his arms were filled when my cousin made her way to us. She was dressed rather conservatively although the sweater she was wearing was so tight it showed off her well-developed breasts to their fullest. I couldn't be sure if she was wearing a bra but I suspected she wasn't from the way she jiggled as she approached. No doubt it was pissing off her mother to no end but I figured that was one of the reasons why she wasn't wearing one in the first place. She was 22 and not taking any crap from her mother these days.

Tammy greeted us and then she whispered something into Steve's ear and walked away with a smirk in her face. OMG, Steve's face actually reddened a little but I wasn't sure if he was embarrassed or what. Well, he's better tell me later what she said, that's all I had to say! Whatever it was it must have been good but I suspected it was more her being a cock-teaser than anything else.

Well, two can play that sort of game. Switching gears, I reversed directions and headed for the crowded living room. Everyone seemed to be talking at the same time and within the small room the noise level was ridiculous. At the same time, it also made it easier to say something to someone without everyone hearing.

For a moment I hesitated... who first? Well, since his daughter was the one to tease my husband, why not start with her father?

"Hi Uncle Jim, Merry Christmas. Wanna fuck me?"

I was whispering in his ear so nobody could hear and he must have thought he misunderstood me judging by the surprised look on his face followed by something more like disbelief. Unlike my cousin though, I wasn't being a cock-teaser.

"You're joking," he said out loud although nobody could have had a clue what he was referring to so it was safe.

"If you say so," I taunted him, "Your loss, not mine."

I gave him a peck on the cheek, just the sort of thing any niece would give her uncle, and walked away. Unlike my cousin though, I didn't swivel my hips and tease him further as she had done to my poor horny husband. First, in my condition it just seemed wrong plus the fact the majority of people in the room would have wondered why I would even do such a thing. Keep in mind most of my dad's side of the family hasn't a clue what goes on between the three brothers and their daughters, at least the daughters of the two younger ones.

Steve had been watching my little performance from the hallway.

"What the hell was THAT all about?" he asked me, nodding his head back towards the living room.

"Do you really want to know?" I asked, raising my eyebrows.

Then it clicked and he just shook his head at me without saying anything further. Of course he'd known what I'd done earlier with my dad but then he was pretty used to that. Granted, he might still not be thrilled about my incestuous responsibilities but he loved me enough to deal with it and not make it an issue. Still, having sex with my dad was one thing - my uncles another. Especially when it came to my Uncle Jim who even Steve could barely tolerate.

"Whatever!" was all he finally said under his breath as he turned in the hallway to move past me and join the other men in the living room. As for me, I knew I'd be expected to make an appearance in the kitchen so thoughts of my uncle were put aside for the moment as I made my entrance.

"There she is!" my Aunt Shari greeted me. Somehow I managed to smile and give her a hug. God, what a hypocrite! Most of my memories of her growing up revolved around her constant nagging of me and my mom over how I dressed and acted. Thank God she didn't know the half of it! Then again, there were times when I almost gave in to temptation and wanted to tell her how her husband was fucking me and her youngest daughter. Yeah, it would have made me feel good for a few moments but the ramifications would have been HUGE so I kept my tongue to myself.

So it went with my other aunt and cousins. Everyone asked the usual questions - when I was due (as if they all hadn't been told umpteen times), how I was feeling, was she kicking yet, and so on. It was to the point I wanted to write an FAQ for my pregnancy like I include in my on-line diary which I could hand out whenever I met with people.

One good thing though was nobody pestered me to do anything. If anything it was just the opposite in that I was told to stay seated and not to over-exert myself. Even though I really wouldn't have minded helping out, it wasn't like I would have this opportunity again (Steve and I intended to stop at two) so why not take advantage of it while I could?

Another helpful thing I'd learned already was I could tell people anytime I needed to go to the bathroom and nobody questioned or even thought twice, regardless of how often I went or long I was gone for. Sometimes this came in useful... like now.

To get to the bathroom I had to walk past the living room entrance and I paused for a moment there, just long enough to catch my uncle's eye. I raised my eyebrows and shrugged my shoulders, then smiled and moved on down the hallway. Standing outside the bathroom door - which was occupied by somebody (I think it was one of my younger cousins but it was hard to tell through the door), I couldn't help but smile when I saw my uncle make his appearance. God, men can be SO easy sometimes!

"Not the bathroom," he whispered as his hand landed on my butt and gave me a bit of a push down the hallway. The only thing down there were two bedrooms - the master bedroom and a guest room that usually was so full of clutter nobody would have slept in there anyways. Figuring the only real option was his bedroom, I walked in and he quickly followed, shutting the door behind us.

"So what's the story slut?"

If it had been my dad calling me a slut I would have taken it as a compliment. From my uncle, though, it was said with more of a sneer. Oh well, whatever, didn't matter to me as I'd been called a lot worse by people I respected a lot more than him. It never has bothered me for someone to call me slut. If anything for me it was a compliment. As I've always said, a whore does what she's paid to do, a slut does what she wants to do.

"Seems I was pretty clear," I said firmly with a sly smile, "Exactly what part of 'do you want to fuck me' was so difficult to understand?"

He glanced back at the door as if expecting it to fly open with a 60 Minutes camera crew capturing everything. That must have caused him to think as he quickly moved over to lock the door.

"Don't you think people might wonder why the door is locked?" I asked.

"That's better than they find out why it should have been locked," he chuckled, "So really... what's the story? You've been pretty downright rude for a long time now when it came to this sort of thing."

Well, talk about the kettle calling the pot black! I withheld my reaction though as it wouldn't have gotten us anywhere and besides, I was on a mission.

"I'm pregnant and horny, isn't that reason enough?"

He started to come back with something but I cut him off saying rather curtly, "Look, if you don't want to fuck me just say so. Otherwise we're wasting time."

"Hey, I never said THAT!" he said defensively, "You can't blame me for wondering considering everything."

I pretended to be angry then, which really didn't require much pretending. "Sorry I asked. Sheesh, all I asked was for you to fuck me. The least you could have done was just say yes and do it without giving me a lot of crap."

I huffed and started for the door as if to leave but he grabbed my arm and pulled me back.

"Then get off your high horse and on your knees then and suck my dick," he hissed at me, unzipping his pants and pulling them down to his ankles along with his jockey shorts. Yep, tightie whities, what else?

Typical Uncle Jim, always trying to be the one in charge, always trying to humiliate the girl. And we wondered why his own daughter no longer felt she needed to perform her proper duties as a daughter for him. Well, in my mind he forfeited his rights to her years ago in the way he treated her. If this was just about him fucking me I WOULD have walked out then and there, leaving him with his ugly cock hanging there. Fortunately for him I was on a mission so I didn't yet at the same time it pretty much locked in the fact that this might very well be the last time he ever got to have me.

The room was carpeted in thick ancient shag so it wasn't too hard on my knees as I gingerly got down on them. Like the jerk he was, Uncle Jim didn't even have the decency to help a pregnant girl!

"That's it slut, suck it!" he groaned as I enveloped his dick in my mouth. I really wasn't interested in giving him the best BJ, only enough to get him good and hard as quickly as possible. This wasn't for HIM, it was for ME.

Regardless of how he might try to act as thought this wasn't that big a deal for him, his 48 year-old dick betrayed him. Yes indeed, dicks never lie! He was already half erect by the time my lips touched the tip of his cock and it was only a few minutes before he was good and hard. As I sucked his dick I was reminded of why I despised him so much. God, did he ever bathe? I don't mind the scent of a man's crotch and even get off from the musky odor sometimes, especially like when I reach into a man's pants and run my fingers through his thick pubic hair and then put my fingers up to my nose to smell him. However, there's a fine line between mucky odor and poor hygiene and with my uncle he was WAY over that line. Yes, thank God he was ready quick as if it had a few more minutes I might have just said the hell with everything and walked out for real.

"I think you're ready," I said to him, looking up at him and meeting his eyes with mine as I stroked his erection with my right hand.

The animal lust in his eyes confirmed my words and he certainly didn't protest although no doubt he wouldn't have minded me sucking him longer - what man wouldn't? Then again, he also knew what was next so that more than made up for it.

I struggled a little to get to my feet but the asshole still wouldn't offer a hand to help me. Turning around so I was facing the bed with my back to him, I lifted up my dress pulled it up onto my back as I leaned over the bed with my legs spread apart. Reaching down I pulled my panties to the side - no need to strip I figured.

"Fuck me Uncle Jim," I sighed, acting as though it was the one thing I wanted most in all the world at that moment. In a way it was - from the standpoint of my goal for the day. So far as HIM fucking me... it was more a means to an end I guess you could say. Couldn't very well fuck three brothers unless he did me so that meant I wanted him to. Yet I really didn't want him to... complicated I know.

Whatever quandary I might be having, there was nothing to debate so far as my uncle was concerned. Almost immediately felt the head of his dick between my thighs as he maneuvered his way. My pussy was wet - I LOVE to be fucked, even it was going to be by this boor of a man, and my pussy didn't care what a jerk he was. Uncle Jim had a nice hard dick that would fit well into my pussy and that's all my pussy cared about.

"Oh yeah... fuck me," I moaned softly as he found the entrance and began to push himself into me. As his dick pressed deeper, I focused totally on the incredible sensations his hard dick was creating inside of me. Yes, I LOVE to be fucked! The deeper he drove his cock the more I wanted it, the more I wanted him to thrust it deep inside of me, the more I wanted him to cum and fill me with his sperm.

"God I love your cunt," he groaned as he fucked me in earnest. Only an asshole calls it a cunt in front of a girl but I just ignored him.

So far as sex went, the next few minutes were about as raw and basic as it gets. No words, no kissing, not even any real signs of motion. It was just a man driving his dick into a woman - over and over again. Maybe had it gone long enough I might have cum but that wasn't going to happen, at least not given how quickly HE came.

"Oh yeah! Fuck!" he groaned, a little loud if you asked me so hopefully nobody was standing outside the door with their ear against it!

Sometimes I can feel it when a man ejaculates in me, sometimes not. This was one of those "not" times yet I knew when he did. The sudden change from thrusting to jerking signaled the arrival of his orgasm and then the way he slammed himself into me, driving his dick into me as deeply as he could press it confirmed the act.

Uncle Jim held himself in me for maybe half a minute after which he pulled out. I stood up - almost too quickly as I felt a little lightheaded. I could feel his cum draining out of me so I reached over next to the bed where there was a box of tissues and pulled out a few to clean myself off.

"Suck me clean," he demanded, standing there with his cum-covered dick glistening in the light from the overhead fixture. Well, little did he realize that now that he'd fucked me and given me what I wanted - his sperm in me, there was no reason whatsoever for me to do anything more that HE wanted.

"Fuck you," I sneered at him, dropping the facade, "You're such an asshole."

For a brief moment I was rewarded with a look of confusion on his face but he quickly recovered.

"What the fuck is this?" he all but hissed at me, "As I recall it was YOU that wanted ME so badly."

"Well, then let's just say I got what I wanted and forget it," I countered.

"What a bitch," he said under breath but loud enough to be sure I heard.

"Well, maybe so but this is one bitch you'll never fuck again."

Before he could say anything I had my dress rearranged and was out the door, leaving him behind with his pants still around his ankle and his now all but flaccid dick hanging out. It would have been hilarious had someone walked in now but the hallway was clear. I smiled to myself as I made my way back to the kitchen, quite pleased with myself.

Two down... one to go.

4. Brother #3 – Just Going for It

"Finally back," my Aunt Linda greeted me when I reappeared in the kitchen.

I just cocked my head and shrugged. Then, when I was sure nobody else was looking I winked at her. While she didn't know any of the specifics, she got the clue and I'm sure she was wondering who I'd just been with. Not like I didn't have plenty of options! Still, I would have been willing to bet she would have been surprised to know whose cum was wetting my panties as I stood there as if nothing had happened.

"So, who have you been talking to?" she asked me as I took my seat again at the kitchen table. We both knew she wasn't asking anything to do with conversation but none of the other women in the room had any reason to think otherwise. Given Tammy wasn't in the room, none of the other women on my dad's side had any idea what went on with their men and me.

"Uncle Jim."

I almost laughed out loud at her reaction. Yep, caught her by surprise with that one!

"Yeah, I need to catch up with Uncle Paul too," I said off-handedly but again, Aunt Linda knew what I was REALLY referring to.

"Ohhhhhh, I get it now," she said barely loud enough for even me to hear and she was sitting right next to me. Not that anyone else would have understood her true meaning.

My pussy was throbbing as I chatted with my cousins and aunts while they prepared the meal. I almost felt like I was being lazy and taking advantage of my situation as I just sat there while they did all the work. ALMOST that is!

Soon it was time for dinner. I took a seat in the dining room before anyone else and waited to see who would be next to me. Naturally Steve took the spot on my left but then I was pleasantly surprised when my Uncle Paul too the one to my right. It was like the stars were in alignment! I couldn't have asked for two better partners - the man I loved on one side, the man I was horny for on the other. Not that I wasn't horny for my husband - that's a given. It's just that I was two-thirds of the way to my goal now and all that remained was the oldest man in the room seated right by my side.

"Hi Uncle Paul, I've missed you," I said pleasantly. It was a natural greeting but with my hand pressing on his thigh I'm sure he got the true meaning to my words. With the chairs so tightly pressed together so as to fit everyone it was easy for me to just reach over without being obvious about it.

Uncle Paul cleared his throat and answered, "I could say the same. So how's my not-so-little niece doing? You somehow manage to still look amazing you know."

I think that he said it louder than he might have intended as his wife seated on the other side overheard him. Not realizing the background to our conversation she poked him in the shoulder and chastised him saying, "Now Paul, that's a heck of a thing to say to a pregnant woman. Of course she looks amazing!"

She meant well but I wondered what she would have said had she known what her husband had done to me at their house at one of their Eater gatherings back a few years earlier! For that matter, what he'd been doing to my mother since they were back in high school. Yeah, family gatherings can be so interesting!

Steve had been quiet up until that point but now he spoke up.

"You're kidding, right?"

Nobody but me could have had any idea what he meant by that, at least nobody but perhaps my Aunt Linda and she was seated at the far end of the table away from us next to my dad so there was little chance she could make out anything from our end. When my mom first divorced my dad it created a bit of a stir when My aunt moved in with him but now enough years had gone by that everyone seemed to accept that the two of them were living together. After all, it wasn't like it was HIS sister.

"Just mind your own business," I said rather curtly, almost TOO curtly so I smiled at him and leaned over to whisper in his ear, "Don't worry honey, I'll make sure you're rewarded when we get home if you behave yourself."

By "behave" of course I meant ignoring what I was doing. God, things would be SO much easier if he would just get over his issues with incest! Sooner or later I was confident he would come to his senses. I just hoped it would be before our daughter was ready to come to him for what I so fervently hoped would be her first time. It was how things SHOULD be and just because I'd screwed it up when it came to me and my dad, that didn't mean I didn't want what was right for my own daughter.

"Just too weird is all," he couldn't resist adding in and then thankfully dropped it, turning to join in with whatever conversation was taking place to the other side of him. Well, if we were going to go there then it was HIM that was the weird one. For a guy who loved having sex with young girls in front of their fathers it seemed to me that THAT was a lot weirder than me having sex with my own family.

Dinner went on from there without much fanfare when as the main dish was finished and my aunts left to get dessert that my uncle took advantage of his wife being gone. I felt his hand on my leg and then my dress being pulled up was he worked his hand under it and onto my bared leg underneath. I didn't react but then at the same time that also meant I didn't do anything to discourage him which only encouraged him to go further. With me being scooted up close to the table, my belly pretty much hid everything going on below.

"Still hungry Uncle Paul" I asked innocently while at the same time parting my thighs just enough to send him the right signal.

"Depends on what's for dessert," he answered but we both knew the dessert he was referring to wasn't coming from the kitchen.

"I bet I know what you want," I teased him gently, reaching down and pushing his hand closer to my pussy. He was at the point where reaching any further would have been rather obvious so his fingers got within a couple of inches of my crotch before he judiciously held off from going any further.

"Oh I'm sure you do," he replied, carrying on our little game.

"Don't you have to watch what you eat now?" he asked cryptically.

I just shrugged and smile. "If anything, I find being pregnant makes me crave all the more some of my favorite desserts."

Uncle Paul was under now delusions what my favorite dessert was. After all, he'd provided me with a number of helpings in the past!

Just then the ladies appeared at the door with their hands full of pie dishes. Uncle Paul quickly pulled his hand back and I adjusted my skirt just before my Aunt Julie leaned over my shoulder to ask me what my preference was.

"Oh thanks Aunt Julie but I think I'll save my dessert for later," I told her, giving my uncle a wink I was pretty sure my aunt didn't catch.

Uncle Paul wasn't about to turn down his favorite pie though so as he dug in I excused myself and pushed back my chair.

"I think I might need to lie down a bit," I sighed, holding my hand to my extended belly and breathing deeply.

"Why don't you lie down in our room Kelly," my Aunt Sheri offered as she must have overheard me while dishing out some pie for my hungry husband. "I'll make sure nobody disturbs you."

If she only knew...

I excused myself an made my way back to the very same bedroom where not all that long ago my Uncle Jim had fucked me. The bed was covered with coats and as this time I wanted to lie down I just pushed them over to one side and laid back on my back. Not like I had that many options - laying on my belly was out of the question and even rolling over to my side could be uncomfortable at times.

Turning off the overhead light, the room was dimmed as I laid back on the bed. I could vaguely make out the sounds of everyone talking in the distance but with the door shut it pretty well muffled things. Still, did they ever shut up? Oh well, that's what family gatherings were for I guess - talking. Too bad the entire family wasn't more like the men in the family and then we'd have other things to do as a family as well!

As horny as I was, I still was almost asleep when I heard the door creak slightly. Turning my head, I smiled as my Uncle Paul looked back over his shoulder and then quickly sneaked in, shutting the door quietly behind him. Yep, as I keep saying, men are SO easy!

"This is crazy you know," he whispered in a husky voice, "I mean this is CRAZY!"

Yes, it was. Yet that was exactly what helped make it so hot for us both. To have sex with the rest of the family literally just feet away was incredibly erotic. To have sex with the third brother of my trifecta just made it all the more so.

"We have to hurry... Julie gave me a strange look when I told her I needed to go to the bathroom. Still, never thought my prostrate issues would come in handy!"

At 57 it didn't surprise me. My own dad was already at that stage where we never passed by a men's room without him taking a precautionary stop. Even so, taking a pee didn't take that long and even if he was as horny as I was this was going to be a little difficult to explain to his wife when he got back. Oh well, his worry!

"You know it's been over 30 years since I did it with pregnant woman," he observed as he quickly kicked off his shoes and dropped his pants and boxers, keeping his shirt on.

"So you didn't fuck my mom when she was pregnant with me?"

My uncle just smiled and gave me this look like I wasn't catching on. "Like I said, over 30 years..."

OK, I got it. Blonde moment I guess. My 30th birthday was just a couple of months away which meant... yeah I got it!

"Soooooo, how do we do this?" he said hurriedly, stroking his dick in his hand. God, he was acting as antsy as a grade school boy about to have sex for the first time!

Well, obviously missionary was out of the question. At least that is, full on the bed style. That didn't mean I couldn't be on my back, just that he couldn't be on top of me. Seemed pretty obvious to me!

Without saying anything, I reached under my dress and pulled down my panties to mid-thigh. Uncle Paul took over from there and pulled them the rest of the way down and off my feet over my shoes. At least he was more of a gentleman than his youngest brother who no doubt would have just stood there and left me to fend for myself! I grunted a bit as I maneuvered my way such that my butt was at the edge of the bed with my head back against a couple of coats I scrunched up under me. With a bit of effort I lifted my legs apart so my bare pussy was exposed for him.

"God, that is so sexy," he sighed as he stared down between my legs. He helped me to get my feet up over his shoulders as he bent down just enough to get his dick in position and without any further ado pushed himself inside of me.

"Someone really IS horny!" he chuckled as he easily slid into me. What he didn't know of course was that all of that lubrication wasn't mine but then he didn't need to know THAT. Despite what the porn videos would claim I think most men are grossed out at the thought of having another man's sperm on their dick.

"Mmmmmmm, now THIS is what I call dessert," I moaned as he thrust himself deeper into me. Unlike my other uncle, he was so much more caring and gentle with me, driving himself into me but at the same time not slamming so forcefully into me that he pushed me back across the bed.

"God your pussy feels so hot!"

At least he called it my pussy and not a cunt! Sometimes I almost find it hard to believe that he and Uncle Jim are brothers.

"Oh Uncle Paul, your cock feels so good inside of me!"

There was no acting involved in my reactions, no pretending to enjoy what he was doing to me. This was so much better than what I'd done an hour earlier in this very same room. Oh sure I enjoyed the raw sexual lust of being fucked like a slut but I have to admit, it felt so much better when I knew then man was trying to please me just as much, if not more, than himself.

With Uncle Paul we could have fucked the rest of the afternoon so far as I would concerned but the clock was ticking and we both were well aware that time was of the essence. Despite that, Father Time isn't so easily thwarted and it took at least a good ten minutes of determined sex before he finally erupted inside of me. Not like I had a stopwatch.

"God yes!" he groaned deeply as he just held himself in against my crotch as his dick throbbed in me. Holding still as he did, this time I could actually feel it as he came inside of me as I could feel the thrusting of his dick inside of me as each load of his sperm was deposited deep inside of me.

"Oh shit, this is crazy!"

Men! It's like when they cum everything just whooshes out with their sperm and in an instant they go from super horny to super stupid. One second his eyes were glazed over as his true instincts drove him to do what nature intended. The next he was suddenly scared stiff that his wife was missing him!

"I've got to get back before Julie comes hunting me down!" he said more to himself than me. He quickly pulled on his underwear and pants, almost catching his still somewhat stiff dick in the zipper as he rushed to get himself collected.

"Here Uncle Paul, Merry Christmas!" I said with a grin as I grabbed my panties next to me, rubbed them between my legs to wet them, and tossed them to him.

For a second I thought he would chicken out and toss them back but then the male urges still inside of him took over. Tucking them into his pants pocket, he blew me a kiss and hustled from the room.

He must have been gone for less than a minute when the door opened again. Thankfully I'd managed to pull my dress down as who should appear but my Aunt Julie!

"Have you seen my lost husband? I swear, if he's outside smoking I'm going to kill him!"

I just shook my head and pretended to be half asleep. Meanwhile, my pussy was practically screaming for me to rub it and I wanted to just yell at her to leave me alone.

"Well, sorry to bother you, get some rest girl. You have to sleep for two now."

By that logic I guess I could have said I also needed to have sex for two as well. Well, as horny as I was these days it was like I was craving enough sex for two!

I waited a half hour or so before returning to the gathering in the living rom. The rest of the day would likely be rather uneventful although I couldn't help but enjoy the totally opposite looks I was getting from my uncles.

5. Thanksgiving All Over Again?

It was getting near time when people would start packing up and heading home. I knew Steve was more than ready. After the events of today - some of which he knew for sure and others I'm sure he had a pretty good idea about, he would likely be on me the moment the front door was closed to "reclaim" me for himself. It was actually something that helped make our lifestyle work. No matter who I fucked, my husband knew that when it was all over I was HIS and that HE was the only man who really mattered to me and the only man who ever had, and ever will, make love to me.

So despite the fact that three different men had fucked me today, and even more important- at least from my husband's perspective, all three were family, Steve had no reason to be jealous because he knew I would always submit to him when we came home regardless of how tired I might be.

Frankly, I was ready to go home and have sex with my husband as well. While I'd achieved my "mission" goals today, and even though it marked an occasion of something I'd likely never do again (fuck three brothers in one day), in the end there was nothing I wanted more than to be made love to by my wonderful husband.

So you can imagine my reaction when I went to the kitchen to get a glass of water when Bill, the husband of my cousin Ginny (Uncle Paul's oldest daughter), came in behind me. We'd had sex for the first time just this past Thanksgiving but it was the first time he'd ever cheated on Ginny, let alone the fact he did it with her cousin, so I really didn't expect a repeat performance any time soon, if ever.

"Do you always have sex with your uncles at these things?"

I didn't even know he was behind me and I almost dropped the glass in the sink I was so shocked until I realized who it was.

"Oh don't give me that, I saw what was going on," he went on, "I guess in the past I just never would have believed it was possible. Guess I just assumed you were a flirt and that was as far as it went but now..."

Yeah, now he knew what I liked to do so it probably hadn't been much effort for him to watch things unfold today and put two and two together. Really, I have to admit that the primary reason I think the rest of the family didn't know what went on wasn't that they didn't see things, they just would never have even have thought such things were possible.

"So I'm just curious... is this typical?"

I turned to look him in the eyes, trying to get a feeling for his angle, where he was coming from. He was maintaining a pretty good poker face, making him all but impossible to read. Oh well, why not just be honest?

"Usually just one or the other," I answered matter-of-factly, as if he had asked me the score of the latest football game.

"So who's all involved in this?" he asked, checking to be sure nobody was around to overhear.

"Well, Uncle Jim, Uncle Paul, Rick, my dad... and you of course," I said, adding him in with a grin.

"And just you?" He was referring to the women of the family obviously.

"Oh no... Aunt Linda, Kristen and Tammy."

"Tammy?" he asked, his eyes opening wide. Typical guy, going straight for the youngest one.

"Don't get any ideas," I warned him.

"I've just been thinking I guess," he said, shaking his head. Yeah, I bet he'd been thinking a LOT since he'd fucked me a month or so ago.

"This is... insane!"

I looked at him sharply. "Be careful now. It's only what a woman is supposed to do."

"What's THAT?"

"Submit to the men in her family of course."

He kind of cocked his head like a curious puppy. "So that's why you let me do you? Because you're SUPPOSE to?"

"Well, that's being a little simplistic but technically correct. I enjoyed it too you know."

"So let me get this straight... if I asked to have sex with you like right now, you would?"

I all but laughed at his naiveties. "Duh!"

"Prove it."

I looked at my watch. Damn, I really wanted to get home before it got much later so I could spend the evening with my husband but then how could I say no? Especially after what I'd just told him.

Just then my cousin Ginny walked in...

"There you are! We need to get going before the kids drive me nuts!"

She was of course referring to her fourteen tear-old daughter Katlyn and her thirteen year-old brother Ryan. My husband had the hots something fierce for Katlyn! Who knows, maybe if things went well with her dad and me...

My thoughts were broken when my own husband joined us and informed me that he had our coats and was ready to go.

Poor Bill! The look of disappointment was written all over his face.

"Next time?" I teased him.

"Next time what?" Ginny asked. I hadn't expected her to overhear - she must have ears like a dog!

"Oh nothing babe, she was just telling me about she was going to make me that dessert she made for Thanksgiving."

It was a fast recovery but not well thought out. First, I don't make much of anything in the kitchen very well and I certainly hadn't brought a desert for Thanksgiving but Ginny was in too much of a hurry to notice.

We all said our goodbyes and soon Steve and I were in his truck on our way home.

"Dessert for Thanksgiving?" he asked me rather incredulously.

"Trust me lover boy... you're getting all the dessert tonight you can handle!"

with a tough decision - agree with him or end the marriage before it had hardly begun. How could I agree if I considered adultery to be one of the basic building blocks of my moral foundation? Well, it was simple - modify the definition just a little. So now MY definition of adultery, in contrast to my mother's, comes with the caveat that any sex outside the marriage family is not adultery so long as it's OK with both of us. Thus whether or not you're committing adultery is determined by INTENT more so than the actual ACT. At its heart adultery is all about CHEATING - the act of doing something against the desires or knowledge of your spouse. It's not that I have to tell Steve everything I do... it's that I don't HIDE anything from him deliberately.

The last major difference that has emerged between my mother and me has to do with underage sex. This was probably the hardest for me to deal with in that it is the primary reason why my mother had to divorce my father. For her to feel THAT strongly to the point she would divorce the man she loved more than anyone else in the world was a testament to the depth to which this issue went for her. For my mother it was simple and straightforward, NO sex with anyone under eighteen unless it was incestual and even then, it had to be PROPER incest, not this crap you see in porn videos and such. I wouldn't say it was like on your eighteenth birthday suddenly a light shown down and everything was OK. It was more like something around that age - an issue of maturity more than a calendar date. And finally, for her it was like any other fantasy - it was ACTION that counted, not desires. So long as my dad kept to his porn and masturbation fantasies she was OK with it, or at least tolerated it. It was when my Aunt Linda got involved things turned from fantasy to reality that my mom was pushed to draw the line.

I've written plenty about this subject and posted it in my diary under various entries so I won't go into great detail here. In summary, for most of my life I was always right in line with my mother's thinking on this topic. Indeed, in all my babysitting years I never once did anything with anyone under my care that I wouldn't publish in the newspaper. Now when it came to some of the fathers... well that was a different subject, LOL.

Similar to the adultery issue, it was Steve who pushed me in this area and again just like adultery, I was faced with a situation where I had to reevaluate my thinking on the matter. Just as my aversion to adultery was really a matter of cheating, not the actual sex, so too I delved deeper into my opposition to under-age sex. Was it an age thing or something deeper? After much soul-searching and debate I came to the conclusion it wasn't that I was opposed to underage SEX, but more the feelings. They may try attributing them to the old adage, "the devil made me do it." Incest is a classic case study. Almost every man will eventually admit to me that they're turned on by teenage girls but the vast majority will deny vehemently that they have such desires for girls in their own family, especially their own daughters. Yet at the same time, given enough time and assurance, virtually all of them eventually admit to actually having such feelings. In many cases they feel guilty even admitting to them, let alone even think about acting on them.

Similar to incest, I find the same "denial" in most men when it comes to underage sex, perhaps even to a stronger level because of our cultural norms. Again, most men will swear to me that they have no desires for young girls when the topic first comes up. Like incest, the more comfortable they feel in talking to me the more they tend to allow their true feelings to emerge. Most men still draw the line at the tween ages (11, 12, 13) but I think that's more realistic in that girls younger than that age bracket are typically only of interest to hard-core pedophiles.

I think it's important to point out that even when they admit to having such feelings and desires, most men STILL see taboo sexual acts such as incest and underage sex as fantasies and not something THEY would ever actually engage in. Personally I think that's good as let's face it - it's illegal and can lead to family and career destruction, jail time, and labeling as a sexual predator if not handled properly. It's also something that few families are in the situation where it can be dealt with in a healthy and loving environment. I've written a lot on the subject so read those entries for more of my thoughts but in the end there's one over-riding set of guidelines that I stress to anyone who expresses interests in these subjects:

"If you think it's wrong... it is. If you think she's too young... she is. If you have to ask if it's OK... it's not so don't do it."

I'd known my husband for a long time before we got married so I figured I pretty much knew where he stood on most topics and I suppose he felt the same about me. After all, he was the first boy I ever had sex with! Of course back when I was fourteen I never would have dreamed that someday I would marry him (although I DID have a huge crush on him at the time.

Thus I suppose it wouldn't surprise anymore that Steve was shocked to find out just before he was about to propose to me that I'd been having sex my dad since I was sixteen. Oh sure he knew that things had been a little less strict around the house as I grew up in terms of nudity and masturbation but to actually have incestuous sex? THAT he never suspected and indeed I think he still thought I was actually enhance a marriage when it's done right. Some of the best sex I've had with my husband has been after we'd each had sex with other partners. I've always maintained there's a difference between fucking and making love. There's only ONE man in the entire world I have ever made love with - my husband. Not even my father can make that claim. My father is just that - my father. He's NOT my lover... only my husband can lay claim to that title.

Another thing I've learned over the years with Steve is that he LOVES public sex. By "public" I don't mean having sex actually in front of people although I can't say he's shy about doing so. If anything, I'm the one that loves people watching me being fucked. Maybe a better way to put it would be to say that Steve loves to be near people and in a position where they COULD see us if they knew where and when to look. Some easy examples would be me blowing him while he's driving, fucking me on a carnival ride, doing it in a movie theater, fucking me in the middle of a department store, even sex at the beach in the water surrounded by other people. The naughtier the better which means location plays a big part for him. Like fucking me in church during a service is always a major turn-on for him.

While Steve isn't overly anxious to be watched when he fucks me, he DOES love to watch other men fuck me, especially when he gets to be up close and personal like sitting next to us on the couch. I've found that many men are influenced by the types of porn they watch and I know Steve gets off on those fake videos of guys watching their so-called wives or girlfriends being fucked by other men. So I guess it's only natural he should want to do the same when he gets the chance. It's like men cumming on a girl's face. I personally think that's become all the rage because of the porn industry as I don't know many women who actually like it but rather they do it to please their man. I don't necessarily have to have sex with other men to get Steve all hot and bothered. Sometimes he likes to go into a club ahead of me and then be there when I walk in wearing some ridiculous outfit and watch the men come onto me. Even if all I do is tease it's usually enough to have one SUPER horny husband waiting for me when we get home!

I think Steve likes watching men fuck me more out of ego than anything. Knowing that other men desire me and will often go to great lengths just to have me for a few brief minutes, when he can have me literally any time he wants, is a great turn-on for Steve. What I end up doing with another guy is his call which means they're literally at his mercy yet when it comes to his desires, nobody can tell him what he can and cannot do with me - not even me!

With great power comes great responsibility, or so someone once said. What makes me love my husband so much more is that even though he has all these desires for me, and even though he knows that I would willingly do ANYTHING he asked me, at the same time he loves me and respects me enough to NOT go over a certain line that he knows would make me unhappy. For example, Steve LOVES anal sex yet he never (well, almost never) pushes me to do it because he knows I hate it. Yes, in those rare times when he can't help himself and he wants to do it with me I have done it without protest, but afterwards he always apologizes and if anything, I usually get something really nice when he's on a guilt trip, LOL. In the same way, I trust him enough to do things like promise before a date that he can ask me to do anything while on the date and I will do it without question. Now that could get you in some pretty hot water with the wrong guy but I can submit myself wholly to my husband because I trust him enough to know that he would never push me to go past the point where I would be hurt or otherwise get in trouble.

Which sort of lead me up to recent events and I worked out something for Steve...

3. A Proposal

Since my getting pregnant, Steve and my sexual lives have pretty much revolved around my family, or at least MINE has. Heck, we haven't even swapped with friends for ages! I don't know exactly how we got into this rut, maybe more out of convenience I guess with all the things going on in our lives now. I can't say I was complaining as I enjoy incest.

Early in my pregnancy we still did some swapping with other married couples. Like it's a no-brainer when it comes to family but for "outside" sex I've always preferred more intimate swapping session than full-blown parties. Then there was also the not-so-minor issue in that the family party group we belonged did didn't allow pregnant women once they started showing which meant that only Steve could go - which he often did, leaving me home alone with our daughter. Honestly I didn't really mind. If anything I actually preferred it when he went without me anyways and now I had a an iron-clad excuse not to go.

Speaking of swapping, I should mention that I enjoy doing that over the party scene because for me there's simply something so much more personal and satisfying spending the night with someone else's husband than just going to some place where anyone can just fuck you and you go home not even knowing the name of half the men whose cum you were now carrying inside of you. I've have always preferred older couples, especially those with teenage children. Even though I'd say at least 95% of the time there's no incestual activity involved, the fantasy is still usually there - especially for the father if they have a teenage daughter.

There were a few times after I was "with child" where we went out on our own but those were pretty limited as Steve gets really protective of me when I'm preggo even more than usual. Usually when I went out, like with a couple of men I'd met at church, Steve would spend the evening with my Aunt Linda or with some young thing he could enjoy - sometimes even both. After such situations we really don't talk much at home later about it - sort of don't ask don't tell sort of thing. It's not that we ever hide anything but that doesn't mean you have to rub your spouse's face in it either. Usually it's Steve who wants all the details while for me I'd rather he just keep them to himself.

Once a couple of weeks ago after we'd spent the evening with a really nice older couple, Steve made love to me REALLY good when we got home. Well, he always does so let's just say this time as even better than usual! These days with my stage of pregnancy sex isn't exactly the easiest anymore so it was mostly me on top. After he'd cum in me I stayed there for a while afterwards, simply enjoying the erotic sensation of my husband's now spent dick as it remained inside of me. God, the bedroom reeked with sex! No matter, I felt so incredibly content and happy at that moment, it was like everything in my life was perfect. I loved Steve so much!!!! I felt so thankful to have him as my husband, lover and father to my daughters. While we made the best of it, I knew sex wasn't the same for us under the circumstances and I wanted so badly to do something just for him. But what?

Then the proverbial light bulb went off over my head and it was like I was blinded by the brilliance of my idea. Of course! The answer was obvious. I like to think that I faithfully submit myself to my husband every day so just "submitting" to him wasn't exactly something new. Still, there is submittal and then there is SUBMITTAL. What if I allowed my husband to have whatever he wanted - no questions asked, no restrictions, no limits? The idea was a little scary as I knew Steve had some pretty crazy fantasies and once I made the offer there would be no turning back without appearing to be a hypocrite. Still, I loved and trusted him enough that I was ready to do this for him. There's not another man in the world that I would do such a thing, not even my father.

I fell asleep in our bed smiling a I imagined his response when I broke the news...

Later I woke to hear the water running in the bathroom sink. Steve was obviously up and shaving. Wow, I must have really zonked out! Somehow he must have rolled me off of him onto my back without waking me and left me sprawled out naked as he went to do his business. Not that I would have expected him to cover me up. If Steve had his way I'd be stark naked anytime we were home!

"Hey lover boy," I greeted him as I walked in the bathroom still totally naked and stood behind my hunky nude husband as he shaved. I tried to put my arms around him but was barely able to get them with my belly was now becoming more than a bit of an obstacle.

"Ahhhhhh, the dead have risen!" he teased me as he looked at me in the mirror.

"Yeah, after SOMONE left me sprawled in my back without any covers on!"

Steve pulled the razor from his face and laughed saying, "Well can I help it if I love seeing my beautiful wife naked whenever possible?"

"Even when I'm all fat and ugly?"

My wonderful husband kissed me saying, "You are - and always will be, the most beautiful woman in the world to me."

"Well if you want me naked then you know dang well that all you have to do is ask," I responded, rolling my eyes as mine met his in the mirror. Steve held up the razor as if in deep thought... "OK then, how about you never wearing clothes in the house?"

"Oh Steve!" I admonished him. I knew he was just teasing me because there was no way he would really expect me to do such a thing, especially in my current condition. Not that I'm embarrassed to be nude, just never been a nudist.

My husband returned to his shaving so I figured it was my turn to tease a little so I reached up to his face, wiped some of his shaving cream on my hand and then lowered my hand to grip his cock, applying a nice coat of shaving cream as lubricant as I started stroking him to life. He did his best to pretend he didn't notice what I was doing but his cock wasn't cooperating with his little ruse. Yes indeed, the male "truth detector" was working perfectly yet again. Men can lie and make whatever expressions they want but their dicks ALWAYS tell the truth. Steve's growing erection was exactly the response that I'd been hoping for. Even as he leaned over to rinse off his face, my hand didn't stop as I nursed him quickly to a full erection.

"You know, you shouldn't start something if you're not ready to finish it," he warned me.

I couldn't help but giggle as I replied, "Who said anything about not being ready to finish?"

Steve reached for a towel and after drying off his face he tossed it towards the laundry basket and twisted around to face me. Somehow I managed to maintain a grip on his hardened dick as he lowered his head to kiss me. Even though I hadn't brushed my teeth yet he wasn't complaining about my morning breath at this point. In any case, I had a feeling I'd be getting some "mouthwash" soon.

"Well then I'd say put up or shut up slut!"

I smiled at his favorite nickname for me. It was sort of ironic that the two most important men in my life - my husband and my father, both like to use the same nickname when addressing me. My dad had started using it back when I was just twelve or thirteen after my mom started dressing me more provocatively. Steve really hadn't picked it up until after we got married and we started having sex with other couples. Both of them typically added some sort of adjective to it, like "sexy slut", "my little slut", or some other form of endearment but then again, sometimes (like now), just "slut" was all that was deemed necessary. Of course I never minded. In fact, I took it as a compliment as to me it meant they were telling me how sexy I was and how they recognized that other men were sexually attracted to me.

Well, with an erection now in my hand it didn't take a rocket science degree to know what my husband wanted, at least to get things started. Then again, it wasn't all that much different from what just about everyone man wants - a blow job.

Reaching for a washcloth, the first thing I did was wipe away as much of the shaving cream as possible. I'd learned the hard way many years ago that shaving cream and other forms of edible cream were NOT the same. Yuck!

With his stiff dick now clean and hard, I slowly bent my knees and gingerly lowered myself down to my knees, using my grip on his dick for balance. With his erection now right in front of my face, I licked my lips in anticipation. Mmmmmmm, sometimes it was hard to believe that this was the same dick that I'd sucked for the very first time when I was just fourteen. Wow, how things had changed since that fateful day in the movie theater. Seeing as it had been our first date, I remember being petrified that I might not do it right or at least not the way he was expecting. With his reputation I knew lots of others girls had been in that exact same position before me so would I measure up? Sure my mom had helped me prepare but there's a huge difference between one of her dildos and the real McCoy!

As ready as I thought I'd been beforehand, the first time I felt a REAL dick slip between my lips was something I don't think I'll EVER forget! Since that evening I couldn't even begin to guess at how many dicks I've sucked. OMG, it has to be in the hundreds, maybe more than 500? It's hard to come up with an exact figure as after some parties I wasn't even sure how many different guys I'd sucked as usually some of them had me do them more than once. All through my high school years I was somewhat judicious about who I fucked but when it came to just blowjobs I like to think my reputation was pretty well established before the end of my freshman year even. Heck, sometimes I wouldn't even kiss on a first date but so long as he treated me well it was a rarity if one of my dates still had a full load of sperm when he dropped me off at the end of the night.

These days though, other than my dad there's nobody that even comes close to my husband when it comes to how many times I've sucked his cock. By now, given that almost not a day went by since we'd been engaged that I HADN'T blown Steve, he MIGHT be close to overtaking my father in terms of all-time high count but it would take a lot for him to match all the times I'd sucked my dad while living at home. I know especially while I high school it was almost a daily thing for him and me.

I do have to say one thing though. Of all the cocks I've sucked the one I love the most is without question my husband's. Sure I love to suck my dad's dick but that's totally different. What I mean is that as his daughter I'm SUPPOSE to do that, assuming of course he wants it. It's not that I ever felt pressured to do so but for me blowing my dad was more about him and satisfying HIS needs. Given I was born his daughter, it's not like I had much of a choice when it came to fathers. Again, it's not that I would want ANY other man as a father, just saying it was all inevitable.

In contrast, Steve is my husband... my soul mate, my lover. I CHOSE to be his wife and while that title brings with it a certain amount of responsibility for submitting to and satisfying my husband, I am ultimately the one responsible for my situation. I WANTED Steve to be my husband.

After having finished and cleaned up we sat at the kitchen table for breakfast. We discussed the previous night a bit, comparing notes. Steve LOVED to hear all about what I did with other men. As for me, I really wasn't overly enthusiastic to hear the details of him and the other wife but I knew he liked to talk about it so I put up with it without complaint or even hinting at my lack of interest. When we were done and I'd cleared up our dishes Steve started to get up but I motioned him to keep a seat for a moment.

"You know I love you, don't you?" I asked him.

Steve look at me with his eyes narrowed a bit. It was all I could do to keep from laughing. Not that I blamed him as usually when I started out with a line such as that it meant either I'd done something really wrong or there was something I really wanted.

"Yesssssss...," he answered cautiously.

"And you know I would do anything for you, right?"

"Yesssssss...," he answered even more cautiously this time. His spidey sense must have been on high alert by now.

I giggled and kissed him and then stood back smiling at him before adding, "Then I want to do something for you... something extra special."

His posture eased a little but I could see he still wasn't quite ready to let his guard down yet as he waited impatiently for me to continue. By now he knew better than to interrupt me when I was like this.

"You've been so wonderful to me lately that I want to grant you one wish."

I paused and stood back, waiting for him to respond. He seemed a little confused, as if he wasn't sure if I was finished, if he was supposed to guess, or what.

"So name it," I said trying to help out

"OK, so help me out a little here," he said slowly, "Exactly what sort of wish are we talking about here?"

"Anything... ANYTHING."

He sensed a trap so he paused and then slowly asked, "And just what do you mean by anything?"

I huffed a little and put my hands on my hips to express my growing exasperation.

"Who are you, Bill Clinton?" I teased him, "I said anything so that's exactly what I meant... anything."

"Can I think about this?"

"Noooooo, you KNOW what you want so just ask me for it."

Men! They can be so difficult sometimes! Of course he knew what he wanted but this wasn't an offer I'd ever made before, at least not quite in this way.

boundaries. We actually sat down one time and each of us wrote out a list. Needless to say mine was quite a bit longer than his. In fact, I remember he'd sat there quite a while before even putting down one thing while I had half my page already filled out!

Technically and "legally" my list didn't count. I mean that as the head of our family Steve had the ultimate authority to make decisions which gave him veto power over anything on my list. However, just because he had the authority didn't mean he had to use it. There were a few relatively minor things where we negotiated and I gave in but on the "big" hitters he respected me out of his love for me. It's the sort of thing that has made our marriage what it is today.

One thing on my list dated back to my childhood - babysitting. A firm rule for me had been that I NEVER did anything with any of the kids I sat. Parents were another thing of course but NEVER the kids. Not even teasing or anything suggestive. It's been the same in my teaching career. Oh sure I know the boys look at me but then they look at ANY female at that age and it's been my personal directive to never do anything to encourage them. Yes, I've known a few teachers that liked to push the line now and then but none that actually DID anything. The last thing I need in my life is to draw any attention to me like that.

The same principles apply when it comes to the kids in our neighborhood and especially the ones that come to our house. It's not like they gather at our place but we come in contact with them in just our daily lives like when they come to the door to sell cookies or popcorn. Forget all the fantasy stories - it never happens! This especially applies to the babysitters. Of course my husband has the same fantasies as I'm sure most of the fathers had when I was the sitter. And yes, I know a couple that like to flirt with him, just as I did with the fathers when they would drive me home and my skirt would "accidentally" ride up. But he knows better - I would neuter him if he ever so much as touched one of them!

Still, as I said it's not like my husband doesn't have the same fantasies about the babysitter as most men. Just look at the porn on the internet and it's obvious it's a huge male fantasy - and for some women as well. So when my husband told me his answer to my offer was "the babysitter", I knew exactly what he wanted.

Fortunately for Steve, unlike most fathers HIS fantasy was something I could provide for him. Well, not with a real babysitter but the scenario wasn't all that difficult to work out. For that I had my Aunt Linda to help me out...

4. Working Out the Details

Once I had Steve's answer the next step was to put a plan in place to fulfill his request. The next day after he'd gone to work I called my aunt to ask her if I could stop over. It wasn't like I didn't do it often anyways, more to make sure she was home. She said to stop by the office after lunch as she had some clients in the morning but her afternoon was free. One nice thing about being a realtor, you pretty much set up your own schedule.

As it turned out getting IN her office was easy... getting OUT wasn't. My cousin Kristi was there as well as a few other associates plus the secretary and everyone had to ask me how I was doing, when I was due, and what seemed to be like a hundred more questions. One thing they all commented on was how skinny I'd managed to stay but for that I could only take a little credit as it was all genetics. It had been the same with my first in that it was like everything was in front where it looked by now like I had a basketball under my dress but from behind people didn't even know I was pregnant! A side benefit had been I managed to lose the weight and get back into bikini shape within a couple of months so with my due date at the end of April I was hoping to be ready for summer when bikinis and short shorts were my primary wardrobe selections.

Kristi seemed a little miffed when she was politely told that just her mother was going out but Aunt Linda explained that she had several closings to get ready for the next day or two and my cousin took the hint. I'm sure that my aunt would fill her in on all the details later anyways, it's not like they kept any secrets from one another!

Finally we made our escape and drove over to a local Panera Bread for a bite to eat. The lunch crowd had dissipated and we found a booth away from everyone where I sat across from her and munched on a muffin and sipped my diet soft drink.

"Soooooo, what's this all about?" my aunt asked, checking to be sure we couldn't be overheard, "You sounded rather mysterious on the phone yesterday."

In a few minutes I gave her the rundown on what Steve and I had discussed the other day. She listened intently and started grinning as soon as I told her what he finally had decided on his "anything" choice.

"Well, THAT was certainly a surprise," she commented sarcastically, "Like I NEVER would have guessed THAT one."

"No, at least not yet," Aunt Linda answered. She knew what I meant by the question.

It didn't surprise me actually. One of the things that had surprised me when we first started attending the "family" parties was how many of the people there did NOT engage in any incestual sex even though they were fine with their kids having sex with other adults. In fact, I'd estimate that more than half fell into this category. It was the reason why incest wasn't allowed at the "public" parties. If you were into that sort of thing then you made your own arrangements to meet with like-minded families.

My Aunt Linda had explained it to me back then that there were a number of reasons for this. The first was the common myth about "inbreeding" that concerned many folks. Oh sure carried to the extreme you get "Deliverance" but one generation or so isn't going to mess with the gene pool all that much. Seems we do a pretty good of that already without worrying about incest! The biggest reason seems to be less "scientific" and simply more cultural. Many people are simply uncomfortable with the idea of having sex with their own kids. I can understand it just from the myriad of conversations I've had with people on-line over the years. Most men seem to be infatuated with incest porn but when pressed as to whether they would do their own daughter the answer is usually a firm NO. Their daughter's friends - yes but their own daughter is off limits.

At the same time I got a bit of a kick out of the way my aunt had phrased her answer, adding in that little "not yet" at the end. Indeed, you never know where people will go and given this girl was an only child it sort of left the door open to her father changing his mind in the future. I knew of several families where this was the case, especially when the daughter got older and the idea of sex became less "creepy" if that's the right way to put it.

"Tell you what, they're supposed to be there this coming weekend so I'll ask her father about it. I DO happen to know they meet up with other families off-line so I wouldn't think there would be any issues."

She paused, her brow wrinkled as she seemed to running things through her mind. Something must have come up because she looked up and asked, "One thing... overnight or just for the evening."

I hadn't really thought about that so now it was my turn to hesitate. I almost just blurted out that it would just be for the evening before thinking it through as been lying to me but still, most people lump it together with "real" sex when they are discussing incest.

Steve sighed. "Oh I'd agree with your father on that one, you're incredible."

She was practically beaming from his compliment and went back to work in my husband's dick. Seeing this little sexual creature sucking my husband off in the middle of our kitchen was more erotic than what I had imagined it would be, especially since she was still fully clothed and he hadn't so far as much as laid a hand on her.

Well, he hadn't up until then at least. As Amanda did her magic on his dick, Steve reached down and pulled up her top. She raised her arms up so he could pull it up and over her head, dropping his dick from her mouth just long enough for it to clear and then right back she was again. When she had said she loved to suck dick she hadn't been exaggerating, that much as for sure.

With her now topless I could see her budding breasts were a little bit bigger than what I had thought when she had the top on. Maybe it was because it had been so tight that it compressed them, I don't know. Whatever the case she had what Steve would have called the perfect boobs - barely a handful, or at least covered by his hand. Her nipples were surprisingly large and deep brown in color. Judging from the way they were poking out she was obviously excited as the kitchen wasn't nearly that cold.

I knew Steve would have loved to have held those perfect little boobs in his hands but that would have to wait until she was standing up straight again at the very least. Meanwhile he seemed to be more than enjoying her expert blow job and I was getting concerned that he was going to blow in her mouth before things even had barely gotten started. Not that his recovery time was likely to be short under the circumstances, but still it was something that wouldn't hurt to wait for a while if you asked my opinion.

Steve then proceeded to strip off his shirt and kicked off his pants and underwear along with his shoes leaving him in just his socks - for the moment at least. I gazed longingly at his naked body. Mmmmmmm, I wanted him! Little Amanda had better appreciate what a hunk she was getting for the night was all I could say!

"Fuck, I have GOT to taste your pussy," Steve suddenly blurted out.

My horny husband seemed terribly anxious to move things along but who could blame him? Now I enjoy being with a woman under the right circumstances

****************

The next morning I woke to find them both in bed with her squeezed in between us. I have to say the touch of her smooth warm bare skin against me was tempting to say the least! Too tempting as I couldn't resist getting at least one touch of that smooth olive skin. God, she felt like warm velvet as I ran my fingertips along her stretched out legs and then over her tight little butt.

After copping a quick feel of Amanda I left them still sound asleep. No doubt they'd pick up where they left off when they awoke. In any case Steve had sworn to me that she would be back with her parents before I returned from church.

After getting dressed I stopped by my dad's place on the way to church for our traditional father-daughter time together before the service. I wasn't about to let an evening like the night before interfere with my duties as his daughter! Of course Aunt Linda was anxious to hear all the details - as was my dad since apparently she'd informed him of my plans.

We didn't have a lot of time before the service started so I quickly told them how I'd watched little Amanda riding my husband and then how they'd fucked in just about every position imaginable - and then some. Turns out she WAS a gymnast and it was pretty amazing the way she could bend in some really weird ways during sex! I wasn't really sure how many times he actually fucked her as I'd gone to bed early and they moved off to other parts of the house to leave me in peace.

Not surprisingly my dad was SOOOO turned on, so much so that we ended up being a few minutes late to church as he couldn't go without fucking me even in my condition after listening to my rendition of the events at our house last night.

"So you told Steve that he could ask for anything, eh?" my dad asked on our way to church.

I nodded warily as he continued, "So if your dear old dad asked for anything, would you grant him his wish as well?"

I rolled my eyes as I could see where this was leading... looks like Amanda's going to be getting another babysitting job!

(Jun 21) Chapter 271: The Best Father's Day

Story codes: MF oral inc daughter father mother son

Me (30)
John - my dad (50)
Steve - my husband (31)
Marlene - Steve's mom (51)

Being an unabashed "daddy's girl" all of my life, Father's has always been extra special to me. Even so, this year it turned out to be one of, if not THE, best ones ever. Not only did my incredible dad have a great day, but my husband also took a huge step towards the day when his daughters can do the same for him.

1. My Dream for My Daughters

Every mother has her hopes and dreams for her daughters. While I don't know if I lived up to my mom's for me, I'd like to think I've done a pretty good job of fulfilling most of them. Finished my education degrees, got a great job as a teacher, married a wonderful man, and now she has two beautiful granddaughters.

For most moms that would probably be enough but my mom had bigger plans for me. I'd like to think I've more than risen to the challenge earning the title of "Class Slut" (I'd like to think by my junior year I even took the trophy for "School Slut"). Thanks to her I'm a cock sucker extraordinaire and most of all... a truly submissive daughter in the biblical sense of the term.

Really, what more could I want when it came to my own daughters? Perhaps the only major thing would be I'd hope that unlike me that they will allow their father to have their most precious gift a girl can give him - her virginity. Of all the things I've done sexually, I really have very few regrets except for this one which tends to overwhelm everything else. While he's far too discreet to tell me himself, I know my dad was extremely disappointed when he learned from my mom that I'd had sex for the first time with my boyfriend. Oh sure, people say I shouldn't feel bad about it because at the time I had no idea he even wanted to be my first, but it's not like you can divorce a husband but family is forever. Because of this if it ever came down to making a choice between submitting to my father or my husband, I know that as a Christian woman my first obligation would have to be to my father. It would be a terrible choice to have to make which is why I laid it out for him before we got married. It was sort of funny when I told him as I'm pretty sure that he thought I was just teasing him. Well, his denials only lasted until he "hid" (or so we let him think) in the closet and watched as my dad fucked me right in front of him!

As things turned out, that was the first and the last time Steve ever watched me having sex with my dad. It's not that he opposes what I do or that he says anything negative about it. We simply practice the time-honored tradition of "don't ask, don't tell". It's sort of the same way we deal with many of HIS activities with young girls which I don't necessarily approve of - "don't ask, don't tell".

The odd thing about it is that it's not like incest is foreign to my husband or his family. His own brother and sister live together posing as a "married" couple in Southern California where nobody knows their true relationship. When Steve and I dated we had sex most every day (sometimes more often than that!). There was one memorable day when his mother caught us and before the day was over I witnessed my first incestuous act when Steve fucked his own mother. Yes, my husband fucked his own mother when he was just sixteen. And yes... it's a lot more complicated than what I'm describing here so check out my diary entry for 1999 (Oct 05) Chapter 8: My Boyfriend's Mom Joins In if you want all the gory details. So if that's the case then you're probably wondering what's the story now?

To start with, to this day I didn't know what all happened after I left that October day when things happened between Steve and his mother. Oh trust me, I've tried to get them to tell me but it's one topic that's absolutely taboo with them both. Some of our worst arguments as a married couple have arisen when I pushed a little too hard to find out. All I know is that to the best of my knowledge they never did it again. Steve's sister was one of my best friends in school and she had a fierce crush on her brother. Sharon was like SOOOOOOO jealous of me when I started having sex with her oldest and hottest brother. Yet no matter how much she literally threw herself at him, he just turned her down totally. It's like after Steve and his mom did it once, they were both so traumatized over it that they simply can't even discuss incest, let alone participate or even condone it.

After that it became "normal" for us when we would visit with her to have sex while she watched. It wasn't like we arranged it or anything, it just happened. We never put on a show but rather simply left the door opened and if she wanted to watch, she could. We would did it the same either way. After a while I just tuned her out. After all, it wasn't like I'd never been watched while being fucked before! If anything, I found myself looking for her, anticipating the rush of adrenaline when she would slip into the room and take her position by the door. OK, so I'm an exhibitionist, sue me!

Once that routine was settled it was like it opened the door for Steve and his mom to be more open about their relationship as well. Only what they revealed wasn't what I was expecting, not in the least! At the beginning I was excited and hoped that maybe now that we were being open about me and Steve doing it in front of her that maybe Steve and his mom would explain why he was still living with her and why they were so "close". Knowing they'd had sex over ten years earlier, I just assumed they'd been waiting for the right moment to tell me. Keep in mind that while Steve knew all about my family background, Marlene didn't have a clue.

If I thought her watching us having sex like a statue was surreal, what followed next was right out of the Twilight Zone - the Sex Edition. Maybe to be more accurate, the NO sex edition. You see, while the two of them behaved like young teens in heat, at the same time there was like this invisible line that neither would even discuss, let alone cross. Basically the "rules" boiled down to this... anything goes but the clothes stay on and nothing underneath them. What this means is that fondling and groping is fine so long as it'[s always OVER her bra or OVER his underwear but never under against the bare skin. Likewise it was permissible to kiss on the lips and neck and even tongue but no sucking cock or nipples. The sheerest night gown was OK so long as there was material of SOME sort covering her, even if it was all but transparent and she wasn't wearing anything under it. She could grab his dick but only with his shorts around it, never reaching inside. Get the idea? What can I say? They weren't MY rules!

Like how weird is THAT? I might even say stupid but then that would be disrespectful. Really, what's the difference between his rubbing her clit through a sheer lace thong that barely covered anything until she orgasmed versus simply pulling it to the side and rubbing it directly? Would any sane person see a difference between stroking his cock through his underwear and just pulling it out and getting it over with? Well, it really doesn't matter what I thought, it was what THEY thought that was important and apparently this served as enough of a distinction to them that it wasn't incest. I'd have to reluctantly agree since by definition, incest means having sex and sex means penetration of a vagina by a penis.

Over the years now that we've been married I've more or less come to grips with the reality of Steve and Marlene's abnormal situation. I've even stopped trying to push either of them to discuss it, let alone to change their behavior. As I've mentioned, doing so just leads to a massive argument. So you might ask, why do I care?

The simple answer is that so long as Steve and his mother draw the line between fooling around and actual incest I can't be myself around her. How could I ever dare tell her about my family relationships when she goes to such ridiculous lengths to draw the line at incest? Most of all though, how can I ever realize the dreams I have for my daughters if their own father is opposed to incest?

It was the birth of my second daughter that caused me to seriously take up the issue after leaving it dormant for so long. I'd secretly hoped to have a son so we'd have one of each but God had other plans for me. In any case we'd always said we would stop at two and we were already taking steps to ensure that it would be medically impossible for either of us to be new parents again. Thus any hopes of being submissive to my son were out the window so it was up to my daughters now to carry on the family traditions. Yet without their father's cooperation and approval, it will never happen.

The time to deal with this wasn't going to be ten years or so in the future – that would be far too late. No, the time was NOW. Somehow, some way, I was going to find the means to break down that last barrier between my husband and his mother. If nothing else I felt like I would be doing the two of them a huge favor as well. Like one of the most satisfying times in my life is when I submit to my father and he takes me and fucks me, cumming in me as a physical expression of his love and lust for me. Why would Steve and his mother not want to share that emotion again... and again!

3. Making Preparations

I knew I'd be playing with fire and girls who play with fire sometimes get burned but what choice did I have? The last thing I wanted was to cause any problems between my husband and his mother or especially between the two of us.

I surprised my dad again when I took him by the hand and led him to the living room. Usually we just did it in the kitchen or even the hallway but again, I wanted some extra time today and not him pulling out of me a soon as he'd cum.

"The couch, eh, something special in mind?" he teased me as he undid his pants and pushed them down just far enough for his already erect cock to pop out. Hey it was Sunday morning with less than an hour before church started so no time to waste!

I feigned some back soreness and this soon after my delivery he didn't question me. So long as my pussy was recovered enough, he was fine with most anything else. Yep, typical man! Sure he was my father but he was first a man.

We'd only fucked a couple of times since my doctor had declared me "available" so it was still pretty special to lay back on the oversized couch, spread my legs as I lifted my dress and felt my father's erection quickly penetrate me. God, how many times had this happened in the almost fifteen years we'd been having sex? Hundreds? Maybe even thousands? The point being no other man had fucked me even close to the number of time my father had or left even a fraction of the amount of sperm inside of me as he has. Sure it's "unleaded" thanks to his vasectomy many years ago but without a microscope who can tell?

"Oh daddy... I love you in me!" I sighed as he pushed himself deeper into me, "Oh God, that feels SO good!"

"Oh baby girl, you're pussy is still as incredible as ever," he groaned, not realizing that it wasn't exactly what a girl wanted to hear when she was concerned about the effects of having recently passed a watermelon through it! Still, I knew what he intended by it and I loved him for caring about me.

"Yes daddy, stay there for a just a minute," I whispered once he was fully inside of me with the base of his shaft now pressed up against my pussy. Oh my god, I just loved this moment when he first entered me fully and I had him completely inside of me. To be joined with my father, to have our bodies combined as one, to have his sexuality buried in me, to see the pure lust and desire in his eyes as I became more than just his daughter to him... THAT was why I wished this moment could last forever. So if anything I wanted for it to last at least another minute or more before his lust could no longer hold him back.

"Sorry, I HAVE to fuck you," my dad groaned as he started to pump his cock in and out of me slowly.

"Yes daddy... fuck me... I want you to fuck me!"

My mom taught me early that if a girl wants to get a man's full and undivided attention, if she wants to fulfill his deepest fantasy, all she had to do was say those two words... "fuck me". Add the word "daddy" and you hit the trifecta! Every man wants to fuck me but what they REALLY want it to have me ASK them to fuck me. Like I said earlier, he might be my father but he IS a man and like a man, he reacted.

"God yes, say it again... tell me what you want Kelly," he moaned in a voice hoarse with sexual desire.

"Fuck me daddy... fuck me... I want you inside of me daddy... cum inside of me."

OK, so maybe "fuck me" is number one but a close second would be, "I want you to cum inside of me".

"Oh yesssssss!," was all he could respond with as he drive himself into me again and again and again.

He must have been unusually horny or maybe he had been masturbating before I'd arrived. In any case he came a lot faster than usual. I wasn't complaining in any case. Our Sunday morning tradition was for HIM, my gift to my dad each week before we went to church and thanked God for having each other. I was getting what I wanted anyways - my father ejaculating inside of me.

I knew he was cumming from the motion of his hips and the sighs from his lips. It can be hard enough to actually feel when a man cums any time but now with my pussy still not 100% I had to go by inference that he was cumming more than anything else. Usually he would announce it but not today, it was like he was so focused on fucking me that he wasn't saying anything more than a few grunts and moans.

When he'd finished I felt him start to back away but I quickly wrapped my legs around him and pulled him in best as I could. Our eyes met and I could see the question behind them.

"Stay in me a minute daddy... I need you in me."

Even if I hadn't had ulterior motives I think I would've asked anyways. I was actually in a rather comfortable position for once, not laying up against the counter or kitchen table as was often the case, so why not savor the moment for a little while?

"Daddy?"

My dad's eyes opened and he looked into mine, the animal lust having faded now, replaced by the love of a father for his only daughter.

"Yes baby?"

I drew in a breathe, here goes nothing...

With my dad's rapidly dwindling incestuous dick still in me, I quickly told him about my plans for the afternoon. He listened without a word until I was finished and then he smiled at me as he looked down to where his cock was now barely inside of me.

"So still going with the 'ask daddy after he fucks me" strategy to get your way?"

He was obviously teasing me so I just smiled innocently, well at least as much as a girl can when she's laying on her back with her father's cock inside of her after having just filled her with cum.

"You know damn well I can never say no at this moment, don't you?"

Again I just nodded and smiled, not ready to break the spell.

Then he chuckled. "Damn, I'd have said yes no matter when you asked me for this one baby girl. Sounds like it could be fun. Are you sure about it though? Marlene can be an ice queen sometimes."

I lowered my legs, allowing him to fully withdraw and stand upright again after a few groans from being sore after having been bent over me for so long.

"So what's your end game Kelly?" he asked, the lawyer coming out from within, "Why push this now?"

I had a big explanation all prepared for this question but then it came to me and I answered simply, "Well daddy, don't you want to duck your granddaughters someday?"

My dad didn't get to be a top ranked lawyer and a senior partner at a prestigious law firm by being stupid. He quickly put two and two together and came up with five and smiled at me.

"Do you even need to ask?" he answered and I'm sure had it been a few years earlier the very thought would have had him on the road to another erection.

I stood up slowly, not sure what would happen with the load of cum in me but for the moment it was OK. Reaching out to him we embraced and kissed passionately, tongues touching and his hands all over me butt and breasts.

"Oh daddy, I can't wait to see you someday with my daughters... I want them to be good granddaughters, just as I want so bad to be a good daughter for you!"

Before he could answer our emotions overtook us and we kissed again, even more passionately than the time before if that was possible.

"Oh Kelly baby, You're the best daughter any father could ever ask for!" he assured me. Then he pulled up his pants and patted me on the butt adding, "Not to mention the sexiest and the best fuck any man could have!"

"Oh daddy!" I replied acting as though I was embarrassed but secretly so proud that he would say that about me.

Looking at his watch he quickly zipped himself up. "Better get going, we're running late as usual!"

Yeah, so what else was new? It seemed we were always making an entrance during the middle of the first hymn anyways. People would likely talk more if we showed up on time!

So the first step of the day was taken... yes it was the easiest one but at the same time, all were critical and none could be missed. Now for the next step.

4. Getting Started

Church was... well, church was church so what more is there to say? Granted, there are those occasional times when I like to be a little naughty... sometimes even a LOT naughty, but a crowded Father's Day Sunday simply wasn't the time or place. Wow, did I just say that? I really must be over 30 now! As much as on the one hand I hate the thought that I might be turning more conservative in my "old age", on the other I also can't help but realize what crazy risks I'd been taking when I was younger without even giving it a second thought. These days, as a public school teacher and mother of two, I simply have to be more responsible knowing the consequences if I didn't.

All through the service people kept asking me about my new daughter and how they wanted to see her. I'd politely smile and tell them she was home with her proud daddy. What really made me feel good though was when folks would say how great I was looking already so soon after pregnancy. Thankfully I'm fortunate in that I'm one of those women who put on almost all their weight during pregnancy in front. More than one person has remarked that from behind they couldn't tell I was pregnant! The best part of that was it also meant my body recovered back to "bikini shape" a lot faster than most women did. Granted, I wasn't 100% of the way there yet but I'd bet I still would look better at the beach than the majority of the other girls.

It was a non-eventful standard Father's Day service with all the obligatory songs and sermon honoring the fathers. When the pastor made some comment about how the Ten Commandments instruct us to honor our fathers, I wondered how many other girls and women who were listening truly understood the full implications of those simple words? How could I honor my father any more than to submit myself to him, to present my body to him and allow him to satisfy his deepest feelings and fervent desires for his daughter? It didn't matter that I was 30 and not sixteen anymore... or even fifty. It didn't matter whether or not I was married. Age and marital status didn't make any difference when it came to our relationship. I was my father's daughter - always have been, always will be, and as his daughter I will always honor him in the most personal and intimate way a woman can for her father.

After the service concluded, my dad and I met up with Steve and his mom at the restaurant along with our two girls. From the way she was doting on them, I think Marlene had enjoyed her moments with them alone without anyone interfering. If she had any questions or comments as to why she had to pick them and Steve up while I went to church with my dad she wasn't saying anything. Then again, it WAS Father's Day so I suppose she just figured it had something to do with that. Besides, Steve rarely went to church with me in the first place and she knew it as often he would visit her Sunday mornings while I met up with my dad for our ongoing morning tradition.

Dinner was nice, if a bit crowded but certainly nowhere as much as it had been on Mother's Day. Having been a bit spoiled by my oldest who was now getting a little more independent and mature, it wasn't long after we were seated that I was reminded again of what it was like trying to take a newborn out in public with you. The good news was everyone fawned over her and didn't make a fuss when she was loud or caused commotion. Still, I had other things on my mind all through dinner and even Steve, who isn't exactly the most observant person in the world, couldn't help but take notice.

"Something on your mind?" he asked me softly when he had the right moment finally.

"Why do you ask?" I answered, stalling for time as he surprised me by even noticing - or was I being THAT obvious?

Steve shrugged and said, "I don't know... it's like you're here but your head is somewhere else. Something like that anyways... Something wrong?"

I quickly perked up and smiled responding, "Oh no Steve, everything's fine... I just hope you're having a wonderful Father's Day!"

Steve grinned mischievously. "You know, we could sneak to the men's room and make it a VERY special and memorable Father's Day."

Horny boy! Actually the idea wasn't all that bad in and of itself but there was no way we could do it under the circumstances so I poked him in the ribs and rolled my eyes melodramatically as if to say, "Good grief, just like a man, one thing on his mind!" Yes, another day and I might've taken him up on his dare. Not today but I DID have a lot on mind and I knew I needed to do better at hiding my thoughts.

Dinner, like church, was uneventful and when it was finally over my Aunt Linda paid the check - although I knew it was probably my dad's credit card she was using. We all piled back in the cars and headed back to their house. After a week of high humidity, heat and rain, it was looking cloudy yet again so we made our way to the family room in the basement rather than the back deck. While normally I would've preferred the deck, the family room fit into my plans better so I was pleased I didn't even have to steer us in that direction.

Being it was Father's Day I sat on the couch next to my dad which left the love seat for Steve and his mom as my aunt took the chair and held my youngest daughter while her sister played on the floor in front of us. Again my luck held up as it was just the seating arrangement I was hoping for and amazingly I didn't have to do anything to make it happen. Now if my string of luck just held out...

It was then that I realized that I hadn't told my Aunt Linda anything about my plans. Damn! Still, knowing her there was no question that she'd fully support what I was trying to do so that wasn't a problem. The trick would be getting her out of the room and just how was I going to do that? Fortunately I had two young ladies helping me out...

"Uh oh!" my aunt suddenly exclaimed as she quickly reached for a towel, "Looks like somebody needs changing."

Seizing the opportunity, I leaned forward towards her and said, "Oh Aunt Linda, thanks so much for helping out with her! If you're taking care of Kylie maybe you could also take Mia up and put her down for a nap or she'll be unbearable later."

Aunt Linda gave me sideways glance as usually I would've jumped up to take care of everything - they WERE my daughters after all. Yet similar to my dad, my aunt hadn't risen to where she was in the real estate business being anything but an astute observer. She'd caught what nobody else had - my hand lying flat on my dad's thigh. Innocent enough normally but I had my fingers a little more into the inside of his legs than what most folks would deem "appropriate". She gave me a quick smile and a wink - god I hoped Marlene didn't see THAT, and then hurried off with the kids. She probably didn't know what my exact plans were but the mere fact I HAD something going was enough for her to clear out and leave us space. No doubt she knew me well enough to have a pretty good guess.

With my aunt and the girls out of the picture, for a moment the room was eerily quiet as we all sat there looking at each other without any of us saying a word. Then just as quickly it broke into pandemonium as we all started to speak at once . We all laughed and sat back, trying to reestablish some semblance of order. I took the lead...

"Well, I guess it's time to wish you a Happy Father's Day again, daddy," I said with a smile as I looked into his brown eye lovingly.

Steve's mom spoke up next saying, "I guess I'll be the one to wish you Happy Father's day Steve since your girls aren't here to say it. And TWICE the father this year as well! I'm so proud of my boy!"

Back to me... "So daddy... let me give you a proper Father's Day kiss."

Nobody spoke but I could feel their eyes boring into me as I took a deep breath. 'And so it begins,' was all I could think at that moment.

Letting out my breath, I leaned up and put my arms around his neck as my dad leaned down towards me and our lips met. THAT in itself should've caught Marlene's eye as I'd never kissed him on the lips before, always like on the cheek. Well, if she hadn't noticed yet then she was sure to soon as I pressed my lips into his even tighter and slipped my wet tongue between them into his mouth. He responded in kind and for several minutes (it felt like hours) we kissed like that in front of my husband and his mother. It was just a kiss but then not JUST a kiss.

"Hey, get a room!" my husband teased.

I turned to him and pretended to frown. "It's not like I'm a little girl anymore you know. I'm a big girl now and I'm gonna kiss my daddy like one."

Steve just laughed and his mother sort of smiled but then I wasn't sure if she was really smiling or what. Sort of a Cheshire cat thing going on there... In any case I wasn't about to leave things at this level.

"So am I going to be the only one giving a father his Father's Day kiss?" I said, looking deliberately at Marlene.

For just a brief moment I caught a glimpse of something in her expression, sort of a "What the fuck are you doing?" thing which she quickly suppressed and forced a smile.

"I suppose so... why not?" she responded as she turned to Steve and kissed him. She kissed him on the lips but just for a moment and it definitely wasn't their usual greeting at all. It wasn't like she was shy about it normally but then hat was with just me looking on, not my dad as well.

"OK... so THERE! Happy Father's Day," she told him after breaking away quickly.

"Sorry Steve, guess I get the best kiss this year!" my dad gloated. I was so proud - I wanted to kiss my dad again to show him!

"Mom?" Steve asked in an anxious tone as he looked from my taunting dad to his mother.

Let me just say at this point that my husband is one of the most competitive guys I've ever known. He can never be #2 in anything if he has anything to say about it, which helped in terms of his career but could be darn annoying at times as well. Even in situations such as this one he couldn't stand the thought of being told someone had done something better than he had. It didn't matter that he was essentially being dared to kiss him mother in front of us, all he cared about was being beat by my father. Steve's mom had known him a lot longer than me so she knew his little quirks as well as anyone.

"Alright then, whatever!" she said, lifting her shoulders and heaving out a sigh that was more than a little dramatic.

Something told me that this time it was going to be more the standard mom-son kiss they'd just shared. Apparently neither of them was going to be outdone by me and my dad so they went at it without restraint. I glanced at my dad seeing him staring at the two people on the love seat across from us. At the same time I also noticed he already had one heck of an erection pushing up against his pants!

With Steve and Marlene making no signs of cutting it short, my dad and I resumed our own make out session although this time I maneuvered my way up onto his lap and put my arm around his neck so it was more comfortable. Sure enough, Marlene did the same with her son. Hmmmmmm, so THIS was how it was going to be, eh? A little one up-manship maybe? This was going to be easier than I'd thought... or maybe not. It was way too soon to tell. After all, it was just a kiss so far.

As my dad's tongue explored my mouth, I found myself thinking back to this very same couch almost twenty years earlier where I was in almost this very same position with my dad, only back then I was just ten years old and instead of wearing a short dress I had on my long nightshirt which was my favorite thing to wear around the house. Indeed, my mom confessed to me many years later that she had gone and would be much of a stretch for him to do so, even with me and my dad there to see. Apparently it was as he kept his hand on her upper leg, although well under the hemline and out of sight. Oh well, his loss as I turned back to look at my dad's face and take in the range of emotions on display - love, lust, desire, curiosity.

When my dad got this horny I knew it was out of my hands and this wasn't an exception. I'd lit the fuse and now there was no running up to put it out at this point. Might as well try to stop a locomotive barreling down the tracks at 60 miles per hour! It was something I'd learned early on when my dad and I first started having sex which sort of scared me a little at first but now turns me on something fierce. My dad was now in control - or should I say my dad's hard dick, and nothing was going to stop him until he'd fucked me and given me his most precious gift - his sperm. The fact that Steve and his mother were watching no longer mattered as one way or another, it WAS going to happen.

Not that I minded of course. My mom always teased me by calling me an exhibitionist, even when I was a preteen and she had to explain what the word meant. Well, who was I to argue as she was right - even though I would tease her back by asking who I inherited it from. I simply LOVE to be watched. It didn't matter the place or circumstances, just that someone was watching me and wishing it was them in place of the person I was actually with (even if that someone was imaginary while I was masturbating). It makes me feel so sexy and desirable to see men (and women) stare at me, even if their eyes never go higher than my neck - or my ass in some cases. It's even better when they watch me having sex because then I really know they wish they were the one that was fucking me! So if Steve and Marlene watched me and my dad... so be it. If anything it was even more of a turn-on than usual as few people have actually seen me and my dad having sex.

So at that point I was "all-in" as they say yet without any assurance of Steve and his mom reciprocating. Had it been even an hour earlier, I doubt I would have gone through with such a risky move but at this point it was really out of my hands. My dad was going to fuck me and if there was one thing I was more determined about than even risking everything with my husband it was never saying no to my father. In over fourteen years now of incest, I've never even once stopped my father once he was determined to have sex with me. Beyond the fact it's what s daughter SHOULD do for her father, it's also a record I'm extremely proud of as well.

This wasn't quite how I'd imagining things going. Steve and Marlene were supposed to get carried away as well seeing me and my dad making out and then go on to do what they usually did - groping and touching each other. Then my dad would have the excuse to do the same for me and push the envelope a little further, drawing them along in the process until things had gone too far to turn back. That's how it was SUPPOSED to go! Instead, they'd just kissed (albeit with his hand under her dress but still not between her legs) and then stopped. God those two can be so frustrating at times!

As my dad's hand began to reach under my sundress, I turned away from my husband and his mother to focus on my dad. If they wanted to watch then so be it and I hoped they enjoyed the show! I knew I would!!!

Then something struck me that I hadn't thought of before, even though I should have so I wondered why it hadn't already. This would be only the second time my husband had ever seen me fucked by my father, and the first time since we'd been married. It wasn't like Steve hadn't watched me being fucked by other men before, far from THAT. There was just one man who he didn't get turned on seeing with me... my father. So now that my entire game plan was in shambles, would watching my dad and I having sex turn him on enough to make him fuck his own mother or would it be a train wreck and screw up everything between us?

5. Being Watched

My mind was all a whirlwind and I was having a hard time focusing on anything with so many thoughts churning, things going on around me, and memories flooding back out of nowhere it seemed. I was feeling so agitated about Steve's "failure to launch"... why the heck couldn't he just do what he usually does when facing any sexual situation and take it for all he could? It's not like I'd ever really ever seen him say no to anything or anyone for that matter. Sometimes I'd swear he'd fuck anything with a pussy and human DNA. Sure he had his preferences but in the end she could be old, young or in between. A friend of mine, a relative, someone's wife or daughter, heck a complete stranger and it didn't seem to matter to him. The one thing though that DID matter to me was in the end I knew there was only one woman he was committed to and truly loved... his wife.

So why in the world wouldn't he just fuck his mother and get it over with? I just wanted to scream it out at him and kick him in the butt. For years now I'd dealt with the frustration and confusion and just when I thought I had everything in place to finally straighten everything out, everything just went to heck.

Then I was brought back to reality as my father kissed me on the lips and I felt his hand moving up between my thighs under my sundress. For a few moments I forgot all about my husband and his mother, all about my ruined plans, and focused on the feel of his fingertips as they traced along my smooth sensitive skin. Speaking of memories flooding back... it was like shortly after we first started having sex and I was sitting on his lap on this very same sofa fourteen years ago. It was after I'd come home from a date with a new boy I'd met at school and my dad had fallen asleep waiting up for me to be sure I got home safely. Well, at least that was his excuse even though we all knew the real reason.

"What the...?" he mumbled as he awoke with a start as I'd dropped onto his lap. Then his eyes cleared and he saw who it was and he smiled asking, "Soooooo, good first date?"

Actually it had been. Although this many years later I couldn't recall his name or even for that matter where we'd we gone, I do remember his dick, LOL. Yeah, some people remember faces, others hair color or whatever. Me... I remember their dicks. While most guys at that stage of my life could count on a BJ the first date, I really wasn't THAT easy so typically I made them take me out at least two or three times before I put out - if at all. The way I looked at it, the BJ was my thank-you for the date while getting laid was my reward if I liked the guy.

"Yeah, he was pretty good," I answered with a shrug as if it was no big deal. Technically it wasn't but to my overprotective father it was always a big deal so I knew he'd want all the details.

"So tell me what happened," he said as he sat up straight and adjusted himself. I sort of smiled as I hadn't even gotten started and yet he was already getting a little stiff.

I recalled how my dad started to rub my bare legs, most of which were exposed with my skirt riding up high after getting onto his lap. It was the same as my sundress was doing today as my dad raised it up to my waist an inch at a time as his hand danced over my bared upper thigh. My eyes shut as I jumped involuntarily when he accidently tickled me, just as I did that night so long ago. My legs were still thin back then although even now I'd like to think I still had pretty good legs for a 30 year-old mother of two.

I could feel his erection more now under my bare bottom, like a lump on his lap that I wiggled my ass ever so slightly over. Reaching under my butt I put my hand on the growing lump and was rewarded with a sharp intake of air both times. He took his hand from my pussy just long enough to undo his belt and zipper, allowing me access to reach in and find his cock. I quickly fished around until I had his hardened warm dick in my hand.

"You're so hard daddy," I whispered. Nobody had been there to hear me the first time but now I was sure both Steve and Marlene must have heard me. I couldn't see them and frankly, at that moment was caring less and less what they were doing. What I DID care about was what my father was doing... to me... to his daughter.

"It's for you baby girl," he said lovingly to me, "All for my beautiful daughter who I love so very much and adore."

I'd started to tell him how when the movie was over and we'd returned to his car how I was already pulling down my panties by the time he'd walked around the car after closing my door for me. He sat in the driver's seat and turned to me where I was holding them up with a grin on my office.

"See anything you'd like to have?" I'd teased him. He smiled and took my panties but seemed unsure what to do.

"What's the matter, never had a girl give you her panties before?"

It was dark but the parking lot lights were enough for me to see him blush.

"Well... aren't you gonna smell them?" I teased him with a grin, "I thought that's why guys steal a girl's panties - so they can smell her crotch."

Something told me he'd never had a date quite like me but then from what I'd heard my reputation was such that he should have been forewarned.

My thoughts were interrupted when my dad leaned down and started to suck on my nipple as his index finger rubbed little circles around my excited clit. It's a little difficult to focus on past memories when your dad's sucking on your boob and toying with your clit!

"Oh daddy... feels so good," I sighed as my thoughts returned to the present. I wanted so bad to turn my head over to look at our peanut gallery but then it would have been obvious I was checking up on them.

"I love you Kelly," he told me in a soft yet firm voice.

Oh how I loved my father! It wasn't like the way I loved my husband... he wasn't my LOVER after all but he WAS my father. If push comes to shove, I can always marry another man - ask the 50% of married couples in the country who do so. However, I two people can, no matter how many times I accept him inside of me, no matter how many times I feel his incestuous cock driving into me, it will always be special to me just as it was the very first time on my bed.

All my cares and worries melted away like wax on a hot stove top. "Oh daddy I love you!" I cried out louder now as I rode his dick, lifting myself up until the tip of his hard cock was barely between my pussy lips and then dropping back until he was buried inside of me. Over and over he fucked me, grunting as I would drop back down on his lap, moaning as I would tease him and not drop back down right away but instead rotate my hips around in circles around his incestuous shaft.

My dad put his hands under my ass and pulled me tightly into him. I knew what he wanted so I wrapped my arms around his neck and held on to him tightly as he worked his way to his feet while keeping himself buried inside of his daughter's welcoming pussy. Twisting around, he tried to stay in me as he leaned down to lay me on my back on the couch but he slipped out, causing us both to sigh and then laugh together at our simultaneous reaction to him dropping out of me.

It wouldn't be for long though as once he had me on my back with my head against the cushion against the arm rest, he quickly dropped his pants and underwear, kicking them off with his shoes. In seconds he was in my favorite position - on top of me old-fashioned missionary style, the head of his dick searching for the entrance to his daughter's sweet and warm pussy.

"Yes daddy! Fuck me!" I cried out even louder now. So what if they heard me as they certainly didn't need me to tell them what was happening. It was for me this time though, expressing my desire to couple with my dad, my NEED to have him join his body with mine. It was like the need of a drug addict for his next fix only this was a loving and respectful need. There was something I wanted, badly, and there was only one thing that could satisfy me - my father's cock.

This time as my dad fucked me it was easy for me to turn my head to the side to see what was going on next door, so to speak. No matter what it wouldn't have changed anything for me at that moment but the longer term implications were too enormous to ignore so I just HAD to look.

I only had a glimpse as my orgasm struck but as my body felt like it was on fire, my mind was just as struck by the sight not more than a few feet away where my husband was fucking his mother! OH.... MY... GOD!

It was momentous yet I couldn't focus on it as my dad's thrusts drove my orgasm to new heights, effectively isolating me from the rest of the world - even the world that was so incredible across the room. It was better than the orgasm I'd had on my boyfriend's lap watching the people go by in the parking lot. It was better than even when my dad had fucked me an hour later in our basement as I replayed the events for him with a demo included. Then again, I think I say that every time my dad makes me cum it's the best time ever. It's not so much that I achieve orgasm - it's that my dad is the one making it happen that drives me to new heights.

"I love you Kelly."

My father was barely able to gasp the words but I knew it was important to him to say them. Ever since the first time he'd fucked me my dad always tried to tell me he loved me just before he shot his load of cum inside of me. Indeed, it WAS an act of love. True, it was also an act of lust but I knew with my father it was always so much more and that the love connection was the strongest between the two of us.

I laid there with my hips raised, welcoming his incestuous sperm into me as my father drove himself into me deep, thrusting hard with each ejaculation. (OK, technically no sperm was used in this event as my dad shoots blanks but really, what does it matter?) My father was mating me, taking me as his as I submitted to his will and desires. Again, technically I would NEVER want to have his child but that's not the point. It was the ACT that made all the difference, the INTENT, not the results. I'd say of all the times my dad has fucked me, only a handful of times has he cum other than inside my pussy unless I was only giving him a BJ. It just didn't seem right for him to do it any other way. I remembered the very first time my father came to my bedroom and took me, the very first time he released himself as deeply inside of me as he could, and how incredible it made me feel. Sure other men had unloaded in me before but never had I felt anything so emotionally intense as I did then - or now. Even when my own husband came in me, even when he actually accomplished the mating task, it was still not the same as my own father doing me. Not that it was any better or worse - just different. After all, my husband is the only man in the world who makes love to me.

Having spent himself, my dad held himself from crushing me with his arms which soon tired forcing him to pull out what was left of his dwindling cock so he could sit on the couch placing my legs and feet over his lap with his cum-covered cock draped over his pubic hair. He gazed down at my freshly fucked pussy where I could feel his cum already seeping out of me. Pressing down on my belly, I used my muscles to try to force a little bit more out of me for him to see more of it.

"Happy Father's Day," I said, gazing lovingly into his eyes.

6. Their Turn

OK, so I know this sounds all but impossible but even after catching a glimpse of my stud of a husband fucking his mother I put it totally out of my mind until my dad was finished with me. Even then he had to turn my attention to the other incestuous couple in the room.

"Ummmmm, Kelly?" my dad said softly with a huge grin on his face as his head bobbed in the direction of Steve and his mother.

Holy crap... FINALLY!

It was too bad we didn't have the place rigged with cameras as I knew I was going to forever regret not paying more attention (or maybe not!) to how things had gotten started but obviously something had set events in motion. Sure enough, there was my perfect husband on top of his mother, much the same as my dad had been on top of me just a few moments before, banging away at her. Somewhere along the line he'd stripped and I couldn't help but lick my lips at the sight of his awesome naked body and perfect ass. Yeah, I wanted a piece of that later, that was for sure!

I turned back to my dad who was grinning like a loon. No wonder as I knew he always had a thing for Steve's mom although he'd been careful to hide his feeling for her - not as much as I think he thought he did though. She was older than my mom and not in as good of shape but still respectably "mature". Her bikini days were long gone but that's not to say she didn't look sexy in the right outfits. At the moment she was still mostly dressed as it appeared all they had done was lift her dress up far enough for her oldest son to get between her legs and pull her white panties to the side enough for him to get his dick into her.

Wow, how had this started? Did they have oral first? Was this their first position or had they been in others before I'd seen them? So many questions for him later!

More memories... more thoughts of the past back to when Steve and I first dated. He was the first boy I dated and I blew him on the very first date - my first BJ as well so I was quite nervous. Sure my mom had told me how to do one, even bringing out on of her dildos to demonstrate but there's something about a real dick that a piece of plastic can't replicate. I was successful - taking the first load in my mouth thanks to my inexperience in knowing when a boy was about to cum but Steve thought it was deliberate so it worked out well.

Once Steve took my virginity it was like we couldn't get enough sex. Oh sure he'd had lost of girls before me but for me it was all new and I didn't date any other boys other than Steve. After all, I loved him and was going to marry him. Oh to be fourteen and so naive again. Then again, I DID marry him although it was over a decade later and literally hundreds of other men for me.

The point being we had sex everywhere - in his car, at school, the mall, the theater, the park, and anywhere else we had the remotest chance of getting away with it. We had it in my room even when my parents were home which freaked Steve out at first although he soon learned that my parents never disturbed us. My dad once remarked that he'd rather we do it in my room than some back seat of the car. Steve wasn't sure whether my dad was joking or what but I knew he was just being honest. Of course also didn't know that my parents, especially my dad, liked to peak in now and then to see how things were going!

We also had sex at his house whenever we could get alone which wasn't all that easy with his brother and sister being around all the time. Then came the fateful day we THOUGHT we were alone only to be interrupted right in the middle of things by his mother with her camera! To his credit, Steve never pulled out or even softened a bit when his mother appeared although I know he was scared. Looking back it had to be obvious to everyone what we were doing but back then we thought we were being so secretive.

To make a long story short (the long version is in my diary) Steve's mom wasn't mad and didn't lecture us. This may sound crazy (and I certainly thought it was at the time) but it ended up with Steve fucking his mom right in front of me. Of course I'm leaving out a LOT in between but that's the meat of the story. It was my first exposure to incest (I had no idea what was going on within my own family yet at that age) and I was shocked to say the least - not to mention incredibly turned on.

Afterwards I sort of expected things to change around his mom but as it turned out, nothing did. In fact, Steve would never even talk about it with me afterwards and his mom acted as if nothing had ever happened. Years later when we were reunited and even after I married him, Steve maintained his silence. In fact, if I even mentioned the subject it would lead to some of our biggest argument so I learned to avoid the subject entirely.

Yet now, after all these years, it was like history was repeating itself. Once again Steve was naked and his mom was wearing a dress. Once again they were on a couch although this time it was in our basement and not his mom's. Most importantly, once again his wonderful dick (Yes, I LOVE it) was buried out of site in his mother's hairy pussy.

Neither of them were saying a word although the breathing was pretty heavy and ragged. We must have caught them towards the end as within a couple of minutes Steve was cumming into his mother's pussy for the first time in eighteen years! I'd seen him fucking my own mother many times by now but this was the first time I'd watched him with his own mom since we'd been married and I thought it was one of the most erotic sights ever.

When he was finished he dropped to her side, keeping himself in her for a while before finally slipping off and struggled to his feet. For the first time since I started watching he turned to us and then his eyes bored into mine.

"Well, are you happy now?"

I smiled at him. He said it in a nice tone of voice, as if he was actually wondering if I was happy and not some sarcastic snarky comment.

Marlene sat up and brushed her hair back from her face. She was flushed and undoubtedly had cum at least once during their lovemaking.

"I can't believe this," she sighed, burying her hands in her face.

Silence for a moment as the three of us looked at her, waiting for her to continue. Was she upset? Mad? Would she blame me? Was my relationship with Steve totally screwed now?

My heart was racing and then she lowered her hands and looked at me with a sly smile.

"Don't think you're so smart young lady... you have NO idea."

7. Back Home With Our Girls

An hour or so later Steve and I were back in our little apartment with two very tired young girls which we quickly put to bed. I put my arms around Steve as we stood by the crib admired little Kylie as her older sister slept on the opposite side of the room.

"You know... someday you're going to hear those words," I whispered to him. Steve looked down at me with a questioning look so I finished, "Fuck me daddy... only you're going to have to deal with two of them!"

Steve leaned down and we kissed.

"Well, I'm sure if they turn out to be as wonderful of daughters as their mother I'm going to be one happy father."

God I loved him so much at that moment! Such a relief, so much weight was off my shoulders. I'd worried for years whether Steve would embrace my heritage and make our daughter 3rd generation incest girls. Would he allow them the honor of giving themselves to their father their first time, to please him throughout their lives as only a daughter can for her father? I was so worried and as it turned out... for nothing.

After Steve's mom had teased me the conversation surprisingly steered away from what had all just happened. It was like nobody wanted to talk about and we gathered our things and quickly headed upstairs to where my Aunt was playing with Mia while poor Kylie was asleep in her bassinette. Clearly my aunt was curious but again, nothing was said by anyone. It was like there was so much to say it was just too much to even begin so we all sort of came to the same conclusion that it would be better to deal with it another time.

Of course I wasn't about to let that last for long so no sooner had we strapped the girls in and started heading back home that I grilled my husband for details. It wasn't the sex that interested me - it was just sex after all even if it was between my husband and his mother. No... I wanted to know more about that teasing comment at the end. No idea???

So here's what I learned. It was sort of like back when I first started having sex with my dad and my mom finally allowed me in on all the family secrets. Yes, it was a lot to take in, almost overwhelming.

It seemed that after Steve's mom and siblings moved to California, things went a little crazy. Basically everyone was fucking everyone. Yes, my best friend finally got her wish and got to fuck her older brother after being jealous of me for so long. Yes, both Steve and his brother fucked their sister and mother and even the two girls got in on the act. He claimed I was to blame - although I think that was a bit of an exaggeration.

Things went along just fine for years. His brother and sister even moved into their own apartment and posed as a married couple. Steve lived with his mom, sharing her bed and acting more as her lover than a son.

Then, as they say, the shit hit the fan. Apparently one day they got a little carried away and thought the office was deserted and were doing it in the conference room on the big table when her boss walked in. The office sex itself was against company policy and then he discovered WHO she was having sex with. Yep, it hit the fan.

At that time Steve was in his mid-twenties so there was nothing illegal about them having sex. Fortunately Marlene is VERY good at her job so her boss wasn't anxious to fire her being nobody else knew about her incestuous relationship with her son. So what to do?

So now I know why they were transferred back to Pittsburgh. It was accept a job somewhere away from the current office or be fired and nobody wanted her fired. The biggest problem was what to do about their relationship?

What they came up with was that while he would still live with her, they would stop having sex. It would have been too much to go totally chaste so they compromised on allowing anything so long as the clothes stayed on. It didn't matter how much so long as bare skin to skin was avoided. Of course neither of them was happy with the compromise but they both knew that if they allowed themselves to go further that they would never be able to stop, hence the anger they had whenever the subject came up.

"So why didn't you just tell me?" was my biggest question followed closely by, "So why come out so against incest in your family?"

While he answered I'm not sure if I will ever get the complete picture. It's one reason I caution people considering incest to think carefully before they cross the line as it can open doors and lead to things they never envisioned - or wanted. Steve and his mom are classic examples of how messed up things can get when problems arise.

No matter and I'm not pressing the issue anymore. What's important is that Steve is now anxious for his girls to grow up and submit to him as I have been praying for so long that they could. I'm glad to see that he had finally opened up about his mother, at least mostly, and it's going to take time to see where this one goes. You can't put the genie back in the bottle so hopefully everything turns out.

In the meantime this will likely go down as one of them incredible Father's Days I'll ever experience and I just hope the two most important men in my life feel the same!!

That's not to say I was an angel while at their house. Remember what I said about the kids being in bed half the time? Well, that's when I would snoop around and it's pretty amazing what seem people leave around for inquiring minds to find. I guess the typical couple didn't think that I'd check out their closets or dresser drawers or snoop through their computer files.

Of course everyone wants to think that I had sex with the fathers - and maybe even the mothers. Sorry... just didn't happen. Well, almost never. Yes, there was one father who I messed around with but he was the exception to the rule. Not that I wasn't tempted or that I didn't tease my fair share of men. One of the most awkward moments of the evening would be when he would drive me back home and he'd pretend not to be interested in me. Despite your typical porn movie plot, the reality is that most men are too afraid to do anything with a teenager so while I knew they looked, that was all they did but I didn't mind. I knew they looked and that's what made it fun!

When I got older and started having sex, there was one guy from my dad's office who fucked me while I was babysitting at his house. That was before my dad and I started having sex so he was by far the oldest guy I'd had sex with at that point in my sexual "career". I have to say that I always look back to him though as the one responsible for planting the seed in me (I mean in my mind as well as the seed he DID plant in me!) that makes me hunger for older married fathers to this day.

I always knew that someday the tables would be turned and so when we had our first child and were discussing babysitters I kept my own experiences in the back of my mind. Would she snoop through our room the same way I had in my teen years? If I left some sexy lingerie out would she try it on as I liked to when I found something that was especially sexy? Would she lay in our bed and masturbate as she imagined my husband coming home and fucking her - as I sometimes did? Then of course there was the BIG question... would my husband fuck her? Considering he didn't have to worry about my reaction, it would likely come down to the girl we chose so who knew?

2. The Group

Of all the topics I get asked about, other than my incest experiences with my dad the one that I get asked about the most is the group of people I meet with for swapping and family sex. Let's call it "The Group" for want of a better term. I've written quite a bit about The Group in previous diary entries so I'll try not to be overly redundant but a general understanding is needed to fully understand the events I'll be describing later...

Basically, people wonder where we find the couple that we swap with and how we get involved in the various family-oriented parties. Needless to say, it's NOT via the internet. You may as well post an ad in the classifieds if you do. Anyone who knows me at all knows I am obsessed with privacy and security so the last thing I would ever do is place myself or my family in jeopardy. Yet if you want to enjoy the type of lifestyle I prefer, then you have to address these concerns somehow.

My Aunt Linda provided the means. While growing up I had no idea she was involved in such activities, let alone that my young cousin was right in the middle of it all. I guess it's the old story of "hiding in plain sight". Looking back it was all so obvious I can understand how people can accuse me of either being incredibly na‹ve or just plain stupid but put yourself in my shoes. So much of my life was already exposed to things of a sexual nature that I didn't think anything when other people from a more conservative upbringing may have thought to be blatantly obvious. In short, she helped to organize "The Group" and to this day serves as one of the key leaders.

The whole purpose of The Group is to provide a safe and secure means for like-minded people to get together and enjoy the lifestyle of their choice. Most of what is done could be considered immoral or even illegal by many people so security is the top priority. Many people are rejected through no fault of their own but simply because of their past or associations - no police officers for instance regardless of their stance on adultery and incest.

The Group has two totally separate and distinct sub-groups - one for swapping and the other for families. Each has its own rules and entry requirements with the family group being much more difficult to join and having much more stringent rules.

Communications are all done using some sort of fancy state-of-the-art computer programs that encrypt everything to where I'm told even the NSA would have a hard time cracking it. Once you're in you get access to other people's profiles and can set up "dates" with other couples you want to swap with pretty much like most any on-line dating service.

Both groups require basic background checks, credit reports, and most of they require references from existing members. Nobody gets in or even is allowed to get in touch that isn't known by at least someone already in the group. Medical records are required including proof of no history of STDs. That's about it for the swapping folks as everyone there must be married and over 21 years old to join (so there are no issues with alcohol).

The family group is MUCH more stringent. First, the vetting process is pretty crazy. In addition to the items I just mentioned, a key part of the process to gain access to the family group is the interview which takes place in two steps. First, the entire family is interviewed by people who are professionals and pretty darn good at reading people to see if they are lying or trying to hide anything. The questions get VERY personal and anyone reluctant to answer is immediately disqualified. Secrecy and shyness are simply not acceptable.

A lot of people with issues are weeded out by the first interview. The second one is where their true commitment is demonstrated, not to mention it pretty much eliminates anyone trying to infiltrate the group. Every family that joins must have a video on file showing them all having sex. If they practice incest then they may choose to have sex between family members. For those who don't, then volunteers from the group are asked to come in and have sex with each member of the family. Everything is done openly and in plain view of the parents. Anyone unwilling to do this or to have a video of them doing such things kept permanently on file out of reach is disqualified.

Provided you make it past the interviews, here are some of the more important rules:

certainly can get it hard and right now he was like a steel pole sticking straight up to the ceiling.

"You know, you MIGHT think about letting it go so she can see it better," I suggested with a bit of a giggle. Men and their dicks... they just LOVE to hold them!

"Oh," Steve mumbled, quickly pulling his hand away from his crotch. No doubt he hadn't even realized what he'd been doing.

"You want to fuck her, don't you?"

Steve audibly groaned at that and I knew in his mind he was already mounting her, probably imagining those thin tanned legs trying to wrap around him and pull him deeper and deeper into her.

"Don't look now but I think she's heading our way."

Sure enough, after giving her dad a hug and a kiss (on the lips I noticed - some girls have a hard time forgetting the "no-incest" rules) she twirled in front of him as if to show off a little and then stared straight at my husband. Just as I thought she was going to come over she twirled again and moved to the other side of the table.

"Crap!" Steve hissed out in exasperation.

I was about to try and soothe his ego but I was also keeping an eye on the object of his desire and lust. It was then I noticed she had gone around to talk to one of her brothers, the older one if I was any judge of age although it can get tricky some times. After some rather animated discussion with him and their mom, all three looked over to where Steve and I were seated and then they huddled with their mom again. She seemed to be giving them some sort of direction. None of which I had any idea about but whatever it was, she grabbed her brother by the hand and pulled him along behind her.

"Hmmmmmm, not THAT's interesting," Steve said softly as we watched.

"Hi, I'm Amber and this is my brother Alex," she announced. I had expected the older brother to take charge, especially at first but Amber not only looked older than her years, she apparently also had as much or more maturity than her oldest brother.

Being the girl introduced them, being the woman I responded back, giving our first names and saying how nice it was to meet them.

"First time?" I asked, not letting on that I knew all about them.

"Yeah, how'd you know?" her brother responded this time.

"Just hadn't seen you guys before is all," I replied, not wanting them to feel out of place.

Our conversation was interrupted when two boys approached us. I recognized the one in front of me - he always seemed to want to do it with me whenever we were at the same party. He was much older - sixteen years old, and this must be getting close to the end of his eligibility. What pleased me even more was that he looked more like he was maybe 18 or older. Smaller boys like Alex were OK I guess but I prefer older men and if I couldn't be with one then at least I could draw one of the older teenagers.

Heather, on the other hand, had about just the opposite to deal with. I could never remember his name but he was one of the youngest of the boys. I supposed that having been fucking her son at this age not all that long ago made her appetite a bit different from mine.

After that night whenever we showed up at a party with Amber's family, Amber always made it a point to run straight to Steve and claim first dibs. It was cute to watch their relationship evolve. It wasn't anything like becoming loves or such, it was really all about the sex which was fine with both of them - and me too.

4. The Perfect Sitter

So how do you find a good babysitter? Well, all sorts of ways. I'd say for most people there are two sources - referrals from friends and family is probably #1 with the local neighbor girl coming in next. I know some try to advertise but that never seemed wise to me - too much like an underage escort service.

Fortunately my husband and I have access to girls at the prime of their babysitting careers from a couple of different sources. One of those is church where I've been involved with the junior high youth group since I was in high school myself. Although my involvement these days is not nearly as much as it was when I was younger, I still try to help out when they need chaperones or someone to volunteer for a fund raiser, that sort of thing. While I love working with the kids, I'll admit to an ulterior motive as well - their fathers.

Actually over the years I've found the best place to find a cheating husband is at church! Many of them attend church only because they are married and their wife insists they go. So many of those same wives are so bent out of shape when it comes to church and religion that they no longer take care of their husbands needs which I find ironic since the Bible teaches women to be submissive to their husbands. Granted, it ALSO teaches husbands to love their wives but when that wife tells them

"What the...?" I gushed, so taken aback I couldn't make up my mind whether to push her away or lay back and enjoy it.

Steve just shrugged and grinned saying, "Hey, don't blame me it was ALL her idea."

This was a first. Over all the years Steve and Amber had been having sex, I'd watched them plenty of times but never joined in. I'd always assumed that Amber was made from the same mold as her mother and didn't like girls, at least not in that way. Apparently I was wrong!

Pulling a pillow up under my head so I could maintain a view without straining my neck, I pushed her hair out of the way so I could watch her eating my pussy. Damn, the girl was good! This wasn't her first time, that was for sure!

It wasn't going to take much to bring me off if she kept it up the way she was going and I somehow got the idea she could sense it because it seemed to be her clue.

"Hey, are you just going to stand there or are you gonna fuck me?" she taunted my husband as she wiggled her butt at him while on her knees bending over between my thighs.

Steve shook his head as if in amazement but he didn't waste any time correcting the situation. Still stroking himself, he somehow managed to fit on the end of the bed enough to get in behind Amber's sexy tanned bottom. Gripping his cock firmly by the base, I could barely see what he was doing but I could tell he was positioning it to enter her.

Amber had her mouth on my clit when Steve leaned forward and pressed his dick into her. I could feel her hot breath on my pussy as she let out a cry.

"Oh shit... you couldn't resist fucking my ass, could you?" she accuse him. Apparently Steve was really taking advantage of the situation. Had our positions been reversed he never would have tried anal sex with me but it would seem Amber had other fetishes I hadn't been aware of.

"Fuck her Steve... fuck her ass," I encouraged him. Mind you I'm not AGAINST anal sex in principle, I just don't like it for myself and frankly, don't really get off watching it all that much. This was different though. If Amber hadn't mentioned it I wouldn't have even known he was poking her asshole as I didn't have that viewing angle. Plus, she seemed to be enjoying it just fine.

(Jul 11) Chapter 273: A Date to Remember

Story codes: MF oral exhib inc father daughter
John - my dad (50)

Nothing turns me on more than knowing a man wants to have sex with me. It's the ultimate compliment a man can pay a woman. But not just any man - not if I have anything to say about it. I mean like face it, just about ALL men want one thing - sex, so it's not like just because a man wants to fuck me that it makes it special or anything. What differentiates the genetic sex drive of the typical male from an erotic lust for me is all about WHO wants me and what he's willing to do to get it. Along those lines, what can beat a husband and father who desires me so intensely that for a few brief hours he takes me as his own wife in the most intimate manner possible between a man and a woman?

1. Saying My Goodbyes

"Damn, you are absolutely the sexiest damn MILF I've ever seen!"

I smiled at those words coming from none other than my own loving husband as he sat on the couch admiring me as I made my entrance into our small living room.

"So I take it that you like my new dress?"

OK, so I was fishing for compliments but why not? After all, I already KNEW he loved it simply from the way his eyes roamed up and down mentally undressing me as they went from my five-inch heels, up my legs to where my stocking tops were barely concealed by the lacy hem of my short dress. A pause as he took in my ass, clearly outlined in the tight thin fabric of my dress. My thong was so small it could barely be seen while higher up my brown nipples showed through prominently without any liner or bra to conceal them. Then again, with a neckline plunging so low and the sides cut so sharply it wasn't like much of my boobs were hidden in the first place. Although my boobs weren't as large as I knew my husband wished they were, I was still rewarded with his eyes fixated on them such that anything from my neck upwards barely got any attention - which was a shame given the charge he'd be seeing on the credit card for the hair styling I'd just had done earlier in the day.

"You know... I'll never figure out how you even get those dresses on," he joked with me, "Some sort of textured paint?"

I couldn't help but roll my eyes at this well-worn joke of his that he never seemed to tire of. He loved all of my tight outfits - the tighter and skimpier the better so far as he was concerned. As yes, this particular dress wasn't the easiest to squeeze into and I did feel somewhat like I was going to split it open any second but the sales girl swore it was designed to stretch without breaking so I'd have to depend on her word on the matter.

Steve nodded at my legs saying, "Those stocking really do it for you... they make your legs look so long and I love how the tops just barely come up to your dress."

Like most women, I'm not a big fan of pantyhose or stockings. There's really only two reasons for wearing pantyhose - first, keeping your legs warm in winter without having to wear pants. Maybe not the most protection in the world but definitely better than bare legs! Then secondly, and the reason most women wear them, is to make my legs look better. Thus if it was always decent weather and nobody ever saw me, I'd never wear the damn things but unfortunately that's far more the exception rather than the rule.

This particular pair were sheer black and thin enough that it was more like they were superimposed over my legs rather than hiding them. The elastic band on top keeping them from falling down my thigh was decorated in pretty black lace. With my open-toe heels I'd chosen a style without the heavy black toe but then I wasn't exactly worried about durability as the life expectancy for this pair was being measured in hours, not days.

"I see you're wearing his ankle bracelet," Steve observed.

Indeed I was wearing my Christmas gift from my daddy given way back in my teenage years It had to cost him a fortune back then and I've always worried it was going to get caught accidently and come off when I wasn't paying attention but after all these years it's still intact.

"Yes but I have YOUR necklace," I soothed his precious ego as my hand went to the sparkling cross hanging by a gold chain around my neck. It was diamond studded and I loved the way it caught the light and shown like a beacon. It was my favorite piece of jewelry and rarely did it leave my neck.

"And don't forget this," I added, holding up my left hand to show off the wedding and engagement rings he'd given me. These NEVER came off no matter what I was doing. It kills me just to take them off long enough to be cleaned and checked once a year by our local jeweler. Just because I was planning on having sex with another man tonight didn't mean I was going to remove my rings. If anything it meant all the more to me TO wear them in such circumstances.

Stepping carefully so as not to trip over my own two feet, I stood in front of my loving husband and twirled on one foot.

"God I'm going to miss you tonight," he groaned as he repositioned himself on the couch to allow his swelling dick some room to expand.

"Well, that's YOU fault," I reminded him all too quickly, "Aunt Linda said she'd watch the girls if you wanted to fuck Kristen tonight but noooooo, you had to play the martyr. And what's with that anyways? Sheesh, I remember when you'd jump at any chance to do her."

Indeed, Steve DID normally seek out any chance he could get to fuck my slutty cousin who was about two years younger than me. Back when she was a high-paid prostitute he seemed to avoid her more but ever since she'd hung up her transparent heels he put all that behind them and it was back to the old days again. Then Kristen married this creepy guy who use to be a client of hers and during that time Steve again seemed to avoid her. None of us could figure it all out though and frankly it didn't surprise any of us when she finally divorced him a few months ago.

"Hey, since when is it wrong for a guy staying home and jerk off while his wife's out screwing another guy?" he asked me teasingly.

"Well, the fact that you EVER have to jerk off is nobody's fault but your own you know."

Steve just shrugged his shoulders and ignored me, or at least pretended to. Sitting on his lap, I leaned into him and put my arm around his neck and then kissed him on the mouth, our tongues quickly emerging to touch the other. Mmmmmmm, I loved to kiss my sexy husband! Then it was like an almost automatic reaction as his hand started to work its way up under the hemline of my dress.

"No no no... you know better," I admonished him playfully as I swatted his hand back, "I want to be nice and fresh for later tonight."

"Well, then you'd better not be fresh when you get back home then," he muttered almost sullenly.

school jock asked out the little incoming freshman who fell madly in love with him, gave him her virginity and felt the tragic loss when just six months later he moved away, never to return - or so she thought. And then how out of the blue he reentered her life and they were engaged and finally she married him, just as she'd dreamed she would so many years before. Yes, most everything I'd hoped for back when I was fourteen had come true - and so much more. Marrying my soul mate, having his children, and pleasing him in every way I could.

Yes, I enjoy going out with other men but that doesn't in any way reflect on our marriage or my love for my husband. Like I could never love the man I'll be sleeping with tonight in even the remotest the same way I love my husband. In the morning I'll leave him and return to my true love, my only love. Yes, I plan to enjoy myself and the feeling I'll get knowing he wants me so badly will surely be indescribable. But that's all it will be - personal satisfaction and sexual gratitude, not love. The only man I love that way is the one on whose lap I was now sitting.

"Soooooo, feelin' horny?"

I grinned... such a silly question. Like duh! When wasn't I?

"Well, it HAS been a long time you know," I reminded him, "Hey... you're not getting jealous on me now, are you?"

Steve pretended to be taken aback by my question answering, "What, ME jealous? Let's see... my beautiful wife is about to go out on a date with a man maybe 25 years older than she is. Then she'll probably go with him to his house where she'll spend the night in bed with him not to mention having sex while she's there who knows how many times. Hmmmmmm, I guess there's nothing to be jealous about in THAT scenario!"

We both laughed as I knew he was just teasing me. If there was one thing my husband does NOT have is a jealous bone in his body. I knew in reality things were just the opposite in that it turned him on knowing what I would be doing this evening. Not so much by what I was doing as it was knowing that when all was said and done, HE was the one I loved and would return to spend my life with. It was like the more other men wanted me the more it turned him on, almost as if he owned me. Sort of like the guy who buys the expensive sports car just so he can show off for other people. My husband seemed to be enjoying his teasing me and I have to say, the more he did the hornier I WAS becoming!

"Close your eyes," he commanded me and I instantly obeyed. "Ok now, just imagine this... a few shorts hours from now and you'll be sucking his hard dick, your pussy soaking wet as you crave his prick inside of you. And then... finally... he's inside of you, filling you up with his dick and finally his sperm. Imagine it Kelly... imagine him fucking you."

Indeed I could imagine it and my pussy was tingling with anticipation. If it hadn't been for the knock on the door I'm not so sure I wouldn't have just jumped my husband and said the heck with the plans I'd made.

"He's here," I barely was able to get out with my heart beating so fast, "Go to the bedroom, I don't want him to see you."

It wasn't I was ashamed of my husband - quite the opposite in fact. It was just I didn't want to destroy the fantasy that my date had undoubtedly made up for me and the upcoming evening as I was pretty sure it didn't include my husband!

Steve gave me one last kiss and a final smack on my bottom as he left the room, leaving me horny and alone to answer the door.

2. Dinner for Two

I answered the door and opened it to find him standing there waiting for me patiently.

"Good evening Kelly," he greeted me formally with a smile. He had one hand behind his back which he then brought around to the front, revealing a single yellow rose - my favorite color for a rose.

"Awwwwww, how sweet!" I said.

"I was going to pin it on you but now I'm not so sure exactly how to do that," he chuckled, "It's not like your dress is loose anywhere."

"It's OK, just go for it," I encouraged him.

He reached his fingers in behind the material right at the top of where my left boob swelled. Working carefully so as not to stick me, he somehow managed to shut the clasp of the safety pin and affix the rose stem to my dress. Standing back, he looked at me admiringly although I think his eyes more on my boobs than they were on the flower.

"You look absolutely stunning," he complimented me. Not a bad start as what girl doesn't like to be told she looks good?

"Now that THAT's done, shall we go?" he asked, extending his hand.

With that he led me to his car like a gentleman. As I sat down, I deliberately did NOT hold my dress down so it rode up almost to my waist as I twisted to get my feet inside, revealing several inches of my bare upper legs from where the hose ended and the retreating hemline started. From the way his eyes were staring, he got to take in a pretty good view before he shut the door.

Our short drive through the tunnel and over the bridge was filled with small talk, nothing I even hardly remember it was so trivial but I almost got to where I was ready to warn him to watch the road after narrowly missing an oncoming car as he stared at my exposed legs and boobs. My sensitive nipples were still hard from my husband's teasing, poking through the thin material of my dress like it wasn't there.

As we neared the restaurant, he turned to me and smiled saying, "I've been SO looking forward to this evening... you have no idea!" Although I wasn't about to say anything, I like to think that actually I DID have a pretty good idea. True, as a girl I can never fully comprehend how a man feels when he wants a woman but I CAN discern his reactions and imagine how he feels about me. Judging from the obvious bulge in his crotch, it didn't take a rocket scientist to have at least SOME idea!

It wasn't long before we pulled up to the front of the restaurant where the valet opened my door and his eyes immediately dropped down to my lap. I pretended not to notice as I stepped out of the car and paused for just a moment before finally tugging my hem back down, just long enough to give him a good look.

"You're such a tease, aren't you?" he whispered in my ear after coming around the car and taking my arm.

Our reservations were confirmed and in this sort of place you don't wait around for your table to be cleared so we were seated immediately.

"Do you mind if I order?" he asked, picking up the wine list.

Normally I don't drink a whole lot and having been pregnant for most of the past year I haven't been drinking at all so I was open to suggestion. Besides, I had a feeling he wasn't going to be ordering anything cheap so why not indulge?

During the course of the entire meal we spoke about our jobs, families, and pretty much the normal stuff any two people would talk about on a date. Religion and politics were carefully avoided but more out of politeness than any other reason. At times it seemed like he seemed more interested in my husband than me, especially when it came to our marriage, kids and the things we enjoyed doing as a couple.

Of all the range of topics we discussed, interestingly neither of us made a single reference to sex, at least in terms of having sex with each other. Yes, I did answer some of his questions about my past and certain events most guys seem to like to hear about - losing my virginity for example. There's nothing regarding my sexual history that I'm ashamed of so it didn't bother me no matter what he questioned me about. Still, not one word about US having sex or what would happen after dinner. Then again, was it really necessary to talk about it?

Just because we didn't talk about sex between us didn't mean it wasn't part of the conversation - just not verbally it turns out. We were seated in a line of semicircle booths such that you couldn't see the people next to you and with us both scooted towards the back half of the table the tablecloth pretty much concealed everything below our waists. It wasn't like a private room yet at the same time was surprisingly intimate given the size of the restaurant and the number of people. Couples and families would walk by us from time to time as they went to and from their tables so it wasn't like we were shut off from everyone. It's what they couldn't see that counted...

"You know, I'm a sucker for a woman in sexy hose," he said softly as he took a sip of wine while we waited for our salads, "And with your legs?.... god but they make yours look incredible!"

"I picked them out just for you."

He grinned and actually I was telling the truth. I HAD picked them out just the day before and I HAD bought them with this date specifically in mind. It's not like most men don't like a women in thigh-high hose.

"And that dress... it's the perfect length."

I squirmed a little, looking down to where it had once again ridden up pretty much to my waist and all but exposing my thong underneath.

"You know, some people might say it's a little short. Your wife for instance?"

He snorted, "No such thing as a dress that's TOO short. And let's leave my wife out of it, OK?"

"My feelings exactly," I agreed smiling naughtily at him, taking note of his last comment as well.

With that he placed his hand in top my leg about midway between my knee and hip, right at the top of my hose such that part of his hand was on my bare leg and part was over the lace stretch top. Lightly rubbing his hand on me, he sighed softly.

"Decisions, decisions... I love the feel of sexy lingerie yet at the same time your skin is so soft and smooth it's almost a crime to cover it."

"You know... I can take them off if you'd rather," I offered.

He shook his head as his hand moved a little up my leg. "Noooooo, they are WAY too sexy and besides...." he paused as his hand moved more between my legs than over them such that his little finger was now pressed against my crotch as his hand gripped my inner thigh before continuing, "It's not like they're in the way like if you were wearing pantyhose."

Just then the waiter came with our salads and refilled our wine glasses. Throughout it all the hand between my legs never made the slightest move to leave and if anything, he pressed up against my warm pussy all the more, moving his little finger against my wet slit as he did. The waiter, a pro in every way, had to have noticed but he didn't make any mention of what was happening practically right in front of him.

As we ate our salads and talked about my teaching career, I could feel his finger moving between my legs, probing and searching for a way around my thong. It actually tickled me more than anything and several times I found myself giggling like a little girl. With our salads finished and now waiting for dinner, I told him I needed to use the lady's room and excused myself.

Sliding around the booth I felt my dress ride up behind my butt such that when I stood up I practically mooned this older couple making their way to their table. Although the husband certainly didn't seem to mind, his wife's eyes could've bored holes through me as she frowned and coughed to signal her disapproval. If she thought that she was making me feel bad for what I'd done the she certainly didn't know sluts like me very well. The only thing better than her husband staring at my exposed butt was his wife disapproving of him doing it.

I excused myself, smiling at the older man and quickly licking my lips. Oh well, so much for that! Making my way to the lady's room, I entered and started to rummage through my purse as I stood in front of the sink and mirror. The room was empty but not for long as I heard the door open and then who should I see in the mirror coming up behind me was none other than my friendly (NOT) wife whose husband I'd just flashed.

"You know, this is a family restaurant so I don't see why whores like you feel they have to dress like that when you come here. What's the matter, did you forget to bring your pole?"

Whew, what a bitch! My first inclination was to simply ignore her and get myself back to my dinner date without making a scene. Then I thought about it and it sort of peeved me off that she had to be so nosy and stick her self-righteous nose where it didn't belong. And as for calling me a whore... that REALLY pissed me off. I'll proudly take the label "slut" but I am NOT a whore!

Apparently she thought I was going to be embarrassed by her comments but if anything it had just the opposite effect.

"So why blame me when your husband clearly prefers looking at MY ass than yours? Seems to me it's more YOUR problem than his or mine."

It was almost like I'd punched her and had the circumstances been different I might have even laughed at the shocked look on her face.

"Well at least I'm not half MY husband's age," she countered and then came back with, "At least MY husband's doesn't have to pay for me to go to dinner with him."

"I'm not a whore," I protested, turning to her with my hands on my hips. Then I flashed her my wedding ring. She didn't need to know it wasn't given to me by him.

"So just a gold digger then," she replied contemptuously, "Like that's any different?"

Then a naughty thought came to mind and before I really thought it through I reached under my hemline and swiftly pulled down my thong and slipped it over my heels and off.

"Here, I bet your husband would like to take this home with him," I teased her, reaching out to her to offer it to her. She waved it off like I was handing her a dead skink which didn't surprise me in the least.

Holding it up to my nose, I took in a deep breath and before I go on, just to be clear... sniffing panties is NOT my thing. Yes, I love eating a pussy but that's entirely different than dirty panty crotches. While I've done my part to encourage it, I've never really understand why men get off from having them in their mouth and over noses.

"Oh come on, I have to wonder... would you like to smell these?"

That was more than enough for her and so she just huffed and stormed out of the restroom, no doubt to complain to management that a now bottomless woman was fooling around in the restroom making the other guests feel uncomfortable. Probably better to get going then so I returned to the table but kept my thong covered in my fist.

"That was quick," he noted, "I thought the rule was that women weren't allowed to spend less than 30 minutes in the restroom."

Ignoring him, I reached over and took his hand and pulled it towards me, placing my other hand over his. Opening my other hand I allowed my thong to drop into his hand and then closed his fingers over it.

"I didn't think I needed this anymore, don't you agree?"

He opened his hand as if he couldn't believe what I'd placed there. And then, almost like he'd been listening to my earlier thoughts, he pulled his hand up to his face and sniffed, almost like he had a handkerchief and was suffering from a cold.

"Not bad," was all he said as he stuffed the thong into his pants pocket, "So then I assume that means something's no longer in the way."

"You'll just have to find out for yourself I guess."

It certainly didn't take long for him to confirm it. His hand started mid-thigh again but quickly worked its way up under the hem of my dress - what little there was to get out of the way, and I shuddered uncontrollably as I felt his finger pressing against my exposed pussy.

Wouldn't you know it... right then our dinner arrived! I expected him to pull his hand back to himself for at least the few minutes while our waiter was placing our dishes but no, he kept his hand right on the upper part of my bare thigh with his two fingers wedged firmly against my horny bare pussy. OK, so granted there WAS a little coverage from my dress but it had to be pretty obvious he wasn't searching for a dropped spoon. I was beginning to think the guy was either blind or clueless when I caught him giving my date quick wink. OK, maybe not so clueless after all!

Each of us had ordered a seafood dish which worked in his favor. Maybe Emily Post would object but he managed to use just one hand to start eating, using the edge of his fork to cut when needed. It was like now that he had his hand against my pussy he wasn't about to move it away any time soon - which by the way, was perfectly fine with me! It was REALLY hard to concentrate on eating, not to mention the occasional couple or family passing by, as his finger worked its way just a little into my pussy. I was so wet by now he could have probably put his whole hand in me if he worked hard enough!

I glanced over at him and if I wasn't feeling him fingering me, from his expression I would never have thought he was doing anything other than enjoying his meal. I kept waiting for him to make SOME comment about me. I mean like a girl likes to have her body complimented when a guy's feeling her up. But instead he just asked me more about teaching and how it was to teach in a public school as compared to a private Christian school.

It was tempting to try and reach over to grab his dick but the way we were positioned it would've been difficult to reach and awkward in any case. It was like he didn't even want me to try as he certainly wasn't making himself any more accessible, that's for sure. The more he touched me the hungrier I was getting – and not for the incredible meal in front of me either. It was a shame in a way. The meal cost a small fortune and was really quite good but I could've had a Happy Meal and it wouldn't have been any different. While I ate it was more mechanical than enjoying the meal. Heck, I'd like to see anyone concentrate on food when the guy next to you has his hand between your legs and rubbing your clit.

"Oh god!"

I couldn't help myself. His finger was rubbing my clit in small circles and I felt like I must be soaking the seat beneath me the way my pussy was craving even more.

"Shhhhhh!" he hissed under his breath. That was all – nothing more. Damn, I really was hoping he'd say SOMETHING. Yes, I loved him feeling me up in the middle of a busy restaurant but it would have made it even hotter if he talked naughty to me, at least a few words about how my pussy felt.

I tried... I really did try. I could feel my face turning red as my breath turned ragged and short. Dang it felt so good the way he as touching me. I couldn't eat... heck I could barely hold a fork. I wanted to scream out, at the very least a loud moan to release some of the sexual tension building inside of me.

"Do it."

Just two words was all he said but we both knew what he was referring to – my impending orgasm. God I was soooooo close... it felt so damn good!

"Oh!" I briefly choked out. It seemed the more I tried to restrain myself the less I was able to control it until I finally reached that point where I simply couldn't hold back anymore.

Of course that's exactly when our waiter stopped by to check on us.

"Excuse me for asking... is everything OK? Is there something I can get you? Some water perhaps?"

His words didn't register as I just stared down at my plate as my pussy felt like it was on fire. In the midst of my orgasm the man with his finger in my pussy answered, "It's ok, everything's perfect," and then to my amazement he removed his hand and put his finger in his mouth, sucking off the wetness form my pussy. "Yep... finger licking good as they say."

I looked up just in time to catch another wink from our waiter. Someone was due for the largest tip of the evening I figured. Dang, had what I thought just happened really happened? The first thing that came to my mind was, "Steve is never going to believe me when I tell him!"

"Ready for some dessert?"

Like, I'd barely caught my breath and he expected me to be thinking about a cheesecake selection? As much as I should've been enjoying the meal, frankly I had much more important things on my mind at the moment.

"Would you mind if we just finished up and left?" I asked tentatively. I didn't want to offend him as this meal must be setting him back quite a bit, at least by my economic standards.

"So does that mean you want to go back to my place and have me fuck your brains out?"

Wow! Talk about out of the blue! Where the heck did THAT come from? Like one minute we're talking parent-teacher conferences (albeit while he was fingering my pussy) and then wham, a crude sexual overture. For a second he caught me off balance which clearly amused him.

"Weren't expecting THAT one, were you?" he practically taunted me, "Well, I don't want you to get any wrong impressions."

Yeah, like fingering me to an orgasm in the middle of a high class restaurant with the waiter right in front of us was giving me any wrong impressions!

"And by the way," he added, patting his pocket, "I'm keeping the panties."

Not like I expected to get them back. Giving a man your panties is one sure way of kissing them goodbye. I've often thought about how much money I could make selling my panties - certainly had enough offers!

Catching the waiter's attention, my dad asked for the check.

"Dessert for home sir?" he said, somehow managing to keep a straight face. It was the first time he did more than just wink and I couldn't help but notice he was staring at me when he said it.

It was more a rhetorical question and when my dad didn't answer the waiter handed him the little book with our bill inside. I couldn't help but grin - he seemed to have anticipated everything quite well.

Rather than pay by credit card, the bill was quickly returned with several large bills. Either someone was in a hurry to leave or he didn't want a record of the evening. I preferred the former reason but it could have been either - or both for that matter.

"Shall we?" he asked motioning for me to take the lead out of the booth. I carefully scooted around the curved seating, trying to keep my dress from riding totally up in the process but not succeeded entirely. I quickly pulled it down as soon as I stood up but who knows, maybe someone got a quick peek at what was underneath - and what wasn't.

Our car was waiting for us - apparently the waiter had signaled for it. Soon we were seated and on our way. I turned and smiled once we'd maneuvered through traffic and were back on the Parkway.

"That was a lovely dinner... thank you so much."

Keeping his eyes on the heavy traffic, he grinned and replied, "Just so you know... I meant what I said this evening."

I didn't answer right away, not really sure what he was referring to, and so he reminded me saying, "You know... about fucking your brains out."

Ohhhhhh, THAT!

Like I was expecting anything less.

3. Spending the Night

It was maybe a twenty minute ride at most to get back to his place during which neither of us said another word. Although I don't know for sure what was running though his mind, being a man I figured it was most likely limited to one of two subjects - sex and sports, and I didn't think sports was the topic of the night.

As for me, all I could think about was how he had fingered my pussy in the restaurant. Yeah, sometimes it's the little things that make the most impact. It wasn't like he'd done anything all that much but it just proved a point I always make in that sex, at least for a woman, is 80-90% mental. Yeah I know the percentages reverse for men but that just makes it easier for us women to rule the male population. True, I loved how he touched me and it was like he'd watched me masturbating in the past as he seemed to know exactly how to play with my clit to make me cum the fastest. But the physical contact wasn't what got me off the most. No, it was all about WHO was touching me, WHERE we were while he was touching me, and WHO was watching - or at least COULD have watched, that really turned me on. Maybe the only think that would've made it better would have been if that cold bitch in the restroom had been seated close enough to see me cumming!

It was tempting to lift my dress and play with myself as he drove. Like I've yet to meet a man yet who objected when I'd done it! Looking back maybe I should've but at the time it seemed a bit much although I was probably being a little overly conservative. Yikes, it's time like this when I really feel I'm getting old! Back when I was a horny teenager I would've done it without hardly a second thought but now that I'm officially middle-aged in my thirties I find myself thinking about things first. I was still debating with myself when he pulled into the driveway and into the two-car garage - although his was the only car in it. Well, we were here!

Allowing my date to take the lead, I followed him up the couple of steps from the garage into the house. This was one of those defining moments for any date, at least the ones I go out on - which room would we go to first? Sure it doesn't sound like anything all that much but it would set the tone for the rest of the evening. It was already close to 10:00PM so what would it be... small talk, some kissing and groping, or maybe just getting right down to it? It's one of those things that makes dating fun - something new and maybe even unexpected whereas had I been coming home with my husband it was almost always straight to the bedroom! Not that I'm complaining...

In this case we passed the living room which took out the middle ground option leaving the two opposite extremes. The kitchen/dining room option usually meant a slow building evening (unless he's really kinky) whereas the bedroom would usually signify more urgency. Well, unless he had an odd house with a kitchen on the second floor, it looked like urgency was winning out.

"Do you need to use the restroom?" he asked as we reached the top of the stairs. I shook my head so he pointed to the left saying, "OK then, I'll see you in a few minutes then... I could use it myself."

Although he hadn't drunk all that much wine during dinner I had noticed him putting away several glasses of water. At his age it didn't surprise me he needed to use the restroom. He closed the door behind him, leaving me standing alone in the hallway so I went into the bedroom and considered my options...

Option 1 - stand there and wait for him. Assuming he just had to pee then he wouldn't be long so why not let him resume the lead?

Option 2 - lay on the bed fully dressed and wait for him. I could strike a sexy pose and it seemed a little more appropriate than just standing around doing nothing.
Option 3 - lay on the bed without my dress in just my hose and heels (face it, nothing else would be left anyways once the dress was off). This option had the added benefit of sending a strong message that I was in a hurry to get things started!
Option 4 - I suppose you could call this the "pure slut option" as I could strip off my dress and lay on the bed, maybe even masturbating when he returned. This was one of my husband's favorites but I quickly trashed the idea - WAY over the top.

In the end - and I only had a brief moment to make a decision so it's not like I debated it forever, I chose Option 2. The king size bed was massive in comparison to the full size bed in our apartment back home so the hardest part was figuring out where to lay down - on the edge or more in the middle? I chose a position about two feet inside the edge of the mattress and lay there on my side with my legs curled behind me. Personally I thought it was a pretty sexy pose and I hoped he'd appreciate it was well.

Any questions along those lines were put to rest a few minutes later when I heard the bathroom door open. With a tingle of anticipation running through me I watched the open doorway and suddenly he appeared, dressed in just a robe. Now THAT surprised me!

"Thought I'd slip into something a bit more comfortable," he explained seeing me eying the robe. Then, as if he wanted to change the topic of discussion he said, "Wow, you are truly stunning in that dress."

Well, considering what I paid for the darn thing - and let's not even THINK about it in terms of cost per yard of material, it SHOULD have looked stunning but hopefully he was referring to what was under the dress as much as the dress itself. I stretched out my legs and received the response I was hoping for.

"I know I've said it before but you have the most incredible legs," he said softly as he approached the side of the bed and reached out to run his hand along the length of my upper leg.

Then he leaned over me and put his hand on the bed behind me to steady himself as he lowered his face to mine and kissed me. Mmmmmmm, I felt like I was glowing!

"Step back a little," I said to him after we'd kissed for a few minutes. He didn't debate and simply did as I asked, standing up straight with his hands to his side, waiting for me to make the next move. I twisted my legs to the side of the bed and stood up in front of him.

"Now THIS was totally unnecessary," I remarked pointing at his robe and then reaching for where he'd tied it in front of him.

"Well, I HAD thought about just walking in stark naked but I was afraid that it might be a little too forward."

We both laughed and I had to say it... "This from the same man who said he wanted to, mmmmmmm... how did you say it... fuck my brains out?"

More laughter as I loosened the belt and opened his robe. "Now why would you want to hide that wonderful sight from me?" I teased him although I pleased to see that he was already erect. Well, pleased in that I was happy to see his desire expressed in such a positive manner although I was just a little disappointed that I wouldn't get to watch him grow and feel it filling my mouth as it did. Erections have always fascinated me, especially the process of getting one, and to feel a guy growing inside of my mouth is incredibly erotic as I know it's me that's making it do that!

Slowly I reached up and pushed the robe off his shoulders, allowing it to fall in a heap to the floor leaving him standing there as naked as the day he was born. Extending my right hand, I carefully took his stiff dick and wrapped my fingers around it as best I could, pulling him gently but firmly towards me. As he got closer he put his arms around me and pulled me in tight to his hairy chest. I maintained my grip on his cock as it pressed into me.

"Damn it feels so good when you hold it like that," he whispered in a husky voice.

Again we kissed, our mouths together while his dick throbbed in my hand, feeling so hard yet warm and soft as well. His dark pubic hair was coarse and thick and I loved the way it felt running though my fingers. Mmmmmmm, I wanted him!

"I'm going to suck your dick," I informed him almost matter-of-factly, "I want you in my mouth."

Not surprisingly he didn't object so I backed away just a little without releasing my grip on him and carefully bent down, hitching up my tight dress up my butt to allow me to dip low enough to where my face was level with his crotch. With my nose just inches away now I could smell the heavy musky scent of his manhood and I licked my lips in anticipation.

"Suck it... suck my dick," he groaned, putting his hands on my head and pressing it into his crotch where his erection waited impatiently for me.

I was only too anxious to comply! Even so, I didn't just pull him into my mouth but rather lifted his erect dick so it was pointing straight up and ran my tongue from the very base all the way up the shaft to the very tip and then back down again.

"Oh fuck that feels so good Kelly," he groaned.

I kissed his cock, letting my lips wet his shaft as my tongues played skillfully along the length of him. Then I focused on the underside of the ridge around the base of the head, letting my tongue run along it and then up the center slot to the hole at the very top. Finally, after teasing him as long as either of us could stand it, I let the head poke between my lips and into my mouth where my tongue again fluttered over the end of his cock.

Did I ever mention that I LOVE sucking cock? LOL

It's sort of amusing to me when I hear women say things like, "That's so dirty," or "That's disgusting," when the topic of blowjobs comes up. Of course a man needs to have decent hygiene but that goes without saying when it comes to just about anything intimate between two people. I mean like kissing someone with morning breath can be pretty disgusting but nobody ever makes a blanket statement about kissing being dirty.

Another rather silly observation made by many men is that someone when a woman gives a man a BJ she's under his control or in some way submitting to him. Submission to a man is an attitude, not an act. I suck a guy because I enjoy it and I know he want me to, not because I subject myself to his authority. If anything, I'd make the claim that the exact opposite is true - that men submit to ME when I blow them. Really, is there much of anything a guy won't do to get me to suck his dick? And then when I AM blowing him, look at the situation. Like whose most sensitive part of his body is sliding between my teeth?

Perhaps one of the things I like about blowjobs is more to do with dicks than what I do with them. A woman can fake an orgasm and most men can never tell the difference. Yet for a guy, there's no faking an erection and the final act of ejaculation. If he's not turned on by me his dick won't respond and by the same token, if he IS aroused by me there's no way he can stop his dick from reacting. A guy can't fake cumming - either the sperm erupts or it doesn't. One of my favorite sayings is that cocks are the world's best lie detector. A man can tell me anything but his dick always tells the truth.

Well, if all that is true then there was no denying how he felt about me at this moment if the firmness of his cock was saying anything about the matter. His dick felt so wet and smooth between my lips, the tip running up along my tongue and then pressing against the back of my throat as he pushed himself into me as far as he could. He would thrust himself into my mouth and then pull out to do it again, over and over and over again. Now and then he'd push it in and stop, holding himself up against my face with his pubic hair smashed against my cheeks and forehead as I could hear him groan with pleasure.

"That's it Kelly... suck it... take it all... God I love fucking your mouth like this!" he would moan as I felt his tremble with lust.

Then suddenly he pulled out and grabbed me by the shoulders to lift me up to my feet again. "Shit, that was so close," he sighed loudly, "Don't want to rush things now, do we."

It was a statement, not a question, and I was in full agreement. It's not like he was some horny teenage boy with the stamina of a stallion. Odds were one good ejaculation would be all he would be good for so better to delay it as long as possible.

He needed a moment to unwind just a little so I took the opportunity to take off my dress, leaving me in front of him in just my hose and heels. For a moment I contemplated stepping over to the chair by the window and slowly removing my stockings, or even just rolling them down to my ankles but then I figured why not just leave them on? He seemed rather obsessed by my legs and face it, the hose showed them off to their best potential so why mess with a good thing? Of course I left on the heels - they'd stay on as long as possible. What is it with men that they love a woman to wear her heels during sex? At least I don't have to stand in them!

He started to reach for me but I wanted to stall his impending orgasm a little while more so I playfully pushed him back and told him to just stand there and watch me. Reaching back to the edge of the bed with both hands, I gave a little jump and landed my bare bottom on the edge of the bed. Reaching over to grab a pillow and pulling it behind me, I then scooted back until my feet were on the edge of the bed while laying back with the pillow under my upper back and head so I could watch him.

"Like the view?" I teased him spreading my knees apart and then pushing them back together, bouncing them in and out slowly to give him a view of my shaved pussy.

"You're fucking gorgeous," he replied with a grin as he couldn't help but reach for his engorged cock to hold it.

"I want you to just watch me for now," I instructed him as I ran my fingers around my breasts and tugged playfully on the nipples. Yeah, they were hard alright! Then I traced the backs of my fingers along my torso, gliding slowly down my belly and then just as I approached my crotch veered off to each side and down the insides of my legs as far as I could reach. I could feel the goosebumps rising as I did the same in reverse until I cupped my boobs in my hands, pulling them up until I could bend my head down enough to lick my nipples.

All the time I kept my eyes fixed on his, noting when he seemed to react more so I could be sure to focus on that part of me more. Of course his eyes would widen the most as I approached my pussy and it was almost funny to see the disappointment in them as each time I would go off to the side just at the last moment.

As much as I was enjoying the tease, frankly after a while I wasn't sure who was more disappointed - him or me! My pussy was crying for attention and since I knew he wasn't going to complain, the next time I surprised him by cupping my crotch with both hands, pulling up and palming my warm wet pussy. God, it was like I was burning up down there!

"Sometimes I like to masturbate in front of a mirror," I told him softly as I rubbed my palm against me, "Do you want to be my mirror today?"

I'm not sure if he thought I was being truthful or just teasing him but actually it was exactly as I said it. Indeed, sometimes I DO like to watch myself masturbating. Yeah, maybe that sounds a little weird or even a little bit narcissist but it's just me I guess. In any event, he quickly nodded which was probably all he could say at the moment without his voice cracking.

And so it went... me masturbating in front of him. Usually I close my eyes when I masturbate - unless I have my mirror of course. Not today though - I was getting off as much from watching him as I was from what I was doing to myself, maybe even more. Whatever the incentive, it didn't take long for my orgasm to rise within me.

"I'm cumming!" I gasped as I rubbed my clit with one hand while reaching under my butt and fingering my pussy with the other. I was so damn wet! The smell of my sex filled the room and I knew that if I could smell it then so could he.

"Oh god!" I sighed, throwing my head back and gasping for air as my pussy exploded with pleasure. My whole body felt like someone had hit my funny bone but in this case it wasn't just my arm that tingled - it was EVERYTHING.

With my eyes now shut tight as I rubbed myself furiously, I wasn't watching him so I was surprised when I felt something pressing against my pussy. Opening my eyes and lifting my head I saw he had moved up to the edge of the bed and was holding his steel-like shaft up against my pussy, trying to push my hand out of the way so he could enter me.

"I can't take any more," he groaned, "I want to fuck you now... shit, I NEED to fuck you NOW!"

Not saying the feeling wasn't mutual!

"Yes... fuck me... I want you in me," I begged him, pulling my hands out of the way as I lifted my hips upward to make it easier for him.

At this point I fully expected him to just ram it in me, pushing himself into me as hard and deep as he could. So I have to say I was a little surprised when he demonstrated more willpower than I would have given a man in his position to possess. Instead of pressing himself into me, which would have been easy enough in my aroused state considering how hard he was at the time, instead he ran the head of his dick up between my pussy lips and over my ultra-sensitized clit, rubbing it up and down as it was his turn to tease me.

"Stop teasing me and fuck me!" I hissed at him, not entirely faking my exasperation. Like I was ready to be fucked and so I wanted him to quit horsing around and FUCK me!

"Well... if you insist," he responded coyly, as if he want as anxious to do me as I was for him to do it. Yeah right!

"Oh yesssssss!" I sighed loudly as I felt him pressing into me. I love sex, I love every part of sex, yet I have to say the moment when a man first enters me has got to be one of my favorites. It's like my pussy has two identities - one wanting him in it and the other doing everything to stop him from doing just that. I was so wet it almost felt like I was peeing yet when he tried to press himself into me he grunted as his dick tried to expand my pussy to take him.

"Two kids?" he murmured as he pressed harder, "unfuckin' believable!"

Call me lucky but that's one thing I've been blessed with by God - a really tight pussy. Yeah, childbirth tends to mess with that a bit but before then I've had guys ask me if I was a virgin the first time they fucked me - and that was well into my late twenties! I was appreciative of his remarks though I knew I wasn't nearly as tight as I had been in the past.

Then the head of his dick popped in and he stopped. I could see down between my boobs to where the shaft of his cock was aligned with my crotch so I could see the head was nowhere in sight. Of course I didn't need to actually SEE it as the incredible sensations in my pussy told me where it was! Still, it was an erotic sensation to feel him inside of me while at the same time watching him entering me.

"Ready for more?"

Like DUH! Yeah, I was impressed. Not many men had the willpower to hold themselves back at this stage. Just goes to show yet another reason why I prefer sex with older men. A teenage boy would have plunged right in and probably already cum by now!

"Yesssssss... fuck me," I pleaded, "I want it ALL in me."

At that point it was like he just caved in. Al his willpower disappeared in a flash as he literally rammed his dick inside of me! The base of his dick met my crotch and with the impact I felt myself pushed back a couple of inches on the bed. Rather than pull out immediately, he ground his cock into me, pressing himself inside of me as deeply as he could penetrate. It was like I could feel him all the up into my belly!

For what seemed like forever, although it had to be only a minute or two at most, we remained locked together, intimately joined as only a man and woman can be. I looked up at his face and it was like he was meditating or maybe he was just totally focused on the feeling of his dick buried inside of my body. While I can't even begin to imagine how THAT must feel for a man, I DO know how it feels to be on the receiving end - literally. The room was dead quiet with just the sound of him breathing deeply and the occasional passing of a car over the brick street to break the silence. I could feel my heart pounding as I laid on my back, not moving a muscle as I let my knees fall to the side and accepted his penis inside of me. It was sort of weird as without him moving the sensation of him in me changed from one of pleasure created by the friction of his cock over the sensitive nerve endings in my pussy to one that's hard to describe. It's like I was "full", almost like there was something inside of me pushing to get out. Of course that makes sense as something WAS inside of me only I don't think it had any intention of getting out any time soon!

"Wow...," he finally blurted out, "Your pussy feels incredible."

I smiled and took another look down past my belly where all I could see was the base of his shaft pressed up against my crotch, the rest of his dick buried inside of me. "Well, I could say pretty much the same thing about your dick," I responded with another smile.

"Sometimes I just like to be like this," he said, apparently feeling the need to explain his rather unusual approach to sex. "Nothing crazy, no banging away, just the feel of a warm pussy surrounding me." He glanced down and then rubbed his thumb over my clit sending little shock waves up my spine. "Touchy, aren't you?" he chuckled, "Do you find it more pleasurable when I touch you when my cock is in you?"

Like duh! Was he seriously asking me a question or was it more rhetorical as how could there be any doubt as to the answer? I say I love sucking cock, that I love being eaten out, all sorts of things but when push comes to shove, when the rubber hits the road, NOTHING beats sex and by definition, sex is the entry of a male penis into a female vagina so that means being fucked! Sure there are various levels of sex that differentiate one time from another - primarily WHO is fucking me and my relationship with him, but that doesn't detract from the underlying requirement that our bodies be joined as one.

"All I'm going to say is you damn well better keep it in me," I practically growled at him and then broke into a grin.

He STILL wasn't moving though and I had to admit I was starting to wonder how long this was going to carry on. I mean yeah, I sort of enjoyed our moment of mutual introspection but come one, let's get things going!

I felt a movement then but what he actually was doing was leaning down over me and kissing my breasts, then running his tongue in little circles around my nipples, teasing them by grabbing them with his lips and tugging on them. Mmmmmmm, it felt so good, especially as it meant he also had to move his dick in me during the process which made the sensations in my boobs feel even better. I put my hands on his balding head and pressed him into my chest.

"That's better... suck my boobs," I moaned softly, "Not so hard... be nice."

The last was when he started to get a little carried away. Sure, SOME women love their nipples pinched and hurt but not this girl. Nope, treat me like a princess, like your own personal Elsa. Nothing wins me over more than to be fawned over, doted on by a loving older man like I'm his little girl. Thankfully he took the hint quickly and stopped squeezing my boob like he was trying to pop a water balloon!

As he leaned over it drew his cock out of me a little and then when he stood back up again it like automatically found its way back "home" again. I mean isn't that what it's all about? A cock trying to return to the place where it came? I know, sort of a silly metaphor...

At that point he finally got down to business. Taking me by the ankles, he lifted my legs up and over his shoulders, allowing me to lock my ankles behind his neck so as to lift my butt up and off the pillow under me and literally drag me into his waiting dick. He helped by cupping my butt with his hands and lifting me up even further until I was back on my shoulder blades. It also had the advantage of making it easy for me to watch him fucking me. Guess it's one reason I prefer a guy on top as I enjoy actually watching a man as he enters me, matching up the visual with the physical sensation for a complete experience.

From there it was sort of what I would call the "usual rotation" if you think about it in gymnastics terms of moving from one position to another. Next we did it doggie with me down on my elbows so my butt stuck up higher for him. I enjoy doggie almost as much as missionary but for different reasons. Whereas missionary adds the visual element, doggie style provides the deepest penetration. Not THAT much more but enough to notice. Soon he pressed down on my ass and I lay almost flat with just the pillow under my belly as he stayed in me the entire time. On to my side which is probably my second favorite when there's a nice big mirror in front of me so I can watch.

Amazingly he still hadn't cum even thought through it all he'd maintained a pretty good pace - enough to keep my heart racing and my breath a bit ragged so he had to be pretty worn out by now. So when he flipped me over on my back and mounted me I was please on the one hand that he was fucking me in my favorite position yet on the other I was just a little concerned he might slip and fall on top of me!

He'd pretty well stopped talking to me a while back but now he seemed to recover his voice. "You're incredible... god I love fucking you so much!"

"You can cum inside of me," I whispered into his ear as he kissed my neck and along the back of my ear. OK, so it was a silly question, as if I had anything to say about it. Face it, once things progress to this point a girl can say all she wants but nothing's going to stop a guy from ejaculating in her pussy if he's determined to do it.

I'm sure it was just coincidence but no sooner had the words left my mouth than he groaned loudly and felt his dick drive into me and grind into my crotch.

"Oh god I'm cumming!" he announced as if I needed to be told. Yeah, there are times when a guy can "stealth" cum in me but most of the time I can tell simply from how he reacts and moves. It's like men lose all color of their composure and don't even seem to realize it. Lots of guys send me videos of them masturbating and cumming on photos of me, my relatives or their daughters and the part I like best of them all is when he cums and I can watch his face as he orgasms!

Whether he was just naturally gifted or simply hadn't masturbated in a long time, whatever the reason boy did he cum! He must have shot off ten times into me judging from the way his butt would slam into me each time. Of course I couldn't actually SEE how much he was shooting off each time, it really didn't matter when you come down to it.

Oddly, at least to me, when he finished he pulled out of me almost immediately. I say odd in that usually a guy starts fucking me as soon as he enters me and then they seem to like to hand around in me for a little while at least afterwards. Today was just the opposite of the usual protocol where he dillydallied away at first and then it was like he couldn't get out of me fast enough once he came. Then I understood why...

"Push it out, show me a creampie."

Oh for goodness sakes... another porn fantasy. I swear guys these days watch entirely too much porn and think all sex should be just like it is on their favorite porn site. I never had guys want facials so bad before they became commonplace on the internet. The "creampie" thing was another internet-driven fantasy I could do without as well. Sure I love a guy to cum in me but then to spread my legs and push like I'm birthing another baby just so he can watch his sperm drain out of me? Give me a break!

Still, I did it as I figure what's the hurt. After all it was HIS bed that it would be dripping down to once it made it past my ass. I bore down until I felt the warmth of our cum dribbling out of me and down over my asshole until it hit the bed spread. He stared at my pussy the entire time without hardly even blinking, like he was admiring his handiwork. At least he wasn't taking a video the way some guys do these days with cell phones and all!

Eventually enough was enough so I sat up and pulled the sheet down to wipe myself off since he apparently wasn't going to offer me an alternative. I really didn't want to run to the bathroom all messy. Besides, it's not like he wasn't going to have to wash the bedding anyways.

I twisted around and pushed the pillow back up to the head of the bead and laid on my side to look at him. I felt good...

"That was perfect," he said gently as he got in bed along side of me, stretching his naked body out along mine and putting his arms around me.

"I love you Kelly," he whispered in my ear as he pulled me in tight to him.

"I love you too daddy... fuck me again!"

Even if he could have recovered - a long shot at best at his age, he didn't get the chance before I fell asleep in my father's arms. It was the end of a perfect evening, one I knew he would add to his memories of so many others we'd shared over the years. The next morning after we woke and he fucked me quick before I dressed to go home to my family I couldn't help but just look in his eyes after we kissed goodbye and it was all I could do not to cry. I was so happy knowing I'd pleased my dad so well!

Yes, it was a date to remember, hopefully one my dad never forget!

(Aug 29) Chapter 274: Ashley Madison 1

Story codes: mf FF inc
Me (30)
Ashley - girlfriend
Ben - Ashley's husband

One nice thing about having the type of marriage my husband and I enjoy is that we don't ever have to worry about the other cheating. Thus when the Ashley Madison debacle emerged I thought it was humorous yet at the same time I didn't think it would have any impact on me. However, that didn't mean the same applied to everyone and I never would have imagined that that would lead to for me.

1. Cheating Husbands

Before I get started, let's get on the same page in terms of what "cheating" means. In my opinion (for what it's worth), cheating in marriage is when you have sex with someone other than your spouse without their knowledge and consent. The key is the last four words - WITHOUT their knowledge and consent. Really, just because you wear a wedding ring shouldn't mean you're chained to one person when it comes to sex. Rather it just means you pledge to be faithful to them and not hide anything from them. It's not like I have to go to my husband ever time before I have sex with someone else to get his permission, that would be silly. We agreed before we took our wedding vows that we could both continue the sexual practices to which we'd been accustomed. If we want to share our experiences with each other afterwards that's fine but it's not mandatory.

The reason I wanted to explain my outlook on cheating is so people don't confuse my Christian values and views regarding adultery with my sexual activities since becoming a wife. Face it, adultery is one of the "big ten" and as such I'm firmly opposed to it and I can firmly state that I will NEVER commit adultery. However I realize that when I say this that people get confused because most people equate having sex with someone other than your spouse with adultery. I respectfully disagree such a confining definition. Why would God bless us with our sexuality and then not want us to enjoy it as much as possible? Also, in my opinion adultery is when YOU cheat on YOUR spouse. The reason I emphasize those words is very important in that just because a husband commits adultery by having sex with me behind his wife's back, that doesn't mean I am doing so as well since my husband knows everything about what I'm doing (if not specifically in that instance, at least in general).

So with that little matter clarified...

While most people probably didn't know it existed just a month ago, I doubt there's anyone today who isn't aware of the web site dedicated to cheating cleverly named Ashley Madison. According to the news reports the name for the Canadian-based site was derived from two popular female names but whatever you call it, the purpose was pretty blatant in that it "helped" people who wanted to cheat find someone of a similar interest. Supposedly about 86% of the people who signed up were men - surprise, surprise. Personally, based on my own experience with on-line personalities, I'd be willing to bet that the majority of the 14% "females" were actually male as well.

When the news hit the headlines that the names and personal information of more than 30 million people were now public information, a number of my friends at church told me that they were shocked that so many people were looking to cheat on their marriage. Many of them wondered who in our congregation might be on the list - including whether or not their own husbands might be members. Of course I pretended to be amazed as well yet secretly the news didn't surprise me at all. Assuming about half the population is male, and that the majority of members were in the USA, that would encompass roughly 15-20% of the male population. Taking into account that these people were supposedly married and over eighteen, and then it probably tapered off for guys let's say over sixty year old, then you could guess that a large proportion of married men were at least members. True, many might have been just curious but still...

The question I want to ask everyone is why are they shocked by the fact that so many married men are looking for an affair? It was all I could do in a couple instances not to smirk when some sanctimonious wife at our church would cluck over how awful men must be to do such things and how thankful they were that THEIR husband would never be involved in such perverted activities. I wanted to grab a few of them by the shoulders and shake them as I told them how clueless they were and how their so-called perfect husband had done more than just sign up for some silly web site - he'd HAD an affair and that the woman he'd fucked behind her back had been ME!

Indeed, over the years I've had sex with about a dozen married men from our church and flirted with who knows how many more. I know some people look down on me for this but I find that having a married guy lust for me to the point he's willing to risk virtually everything, to violate his most sacred vows, simply to enjoy an evening with me, to be incredibly erotic and exciting. It's like a validation stamp on my sexuality passport, or an approval of my desirability. Oh sure it's nice to see a guy staring at me or to have a man compliment me, or even better - to see the reaction of his wife or girlfriend when she catches him looking at me. Still, all that is nothing in comparison to that moment when he gives in to his most deepest desires and lust and I feel his adulterous cock entering me got the first time!

Technically I wouldn't call what I do with such men an "affair" as to me that implies some long term relationship. In fact, one of my cardinal rules is "one and done". Unless there's a special reason, I never have sex twice with a cheating husband. Affairs lead to nothing but problems and that would likely mean trouble for me as well as him. While I realize (and to be honest, a bit proud of the fact) that I have more than a bit of a "reputation" in the community, including my church family, there's a big difference between being known as a slut versus a marriage destroyer. Actually from my point of view I think it's quite the opposite in that I would say I have HELPED most of their marriages rather than hurt them. Allowing a man to fulfill a fantasy that has probably overshadowed his marriage gets it out of his system. Afterward being with me, the next time he has sex with his wife he no longer needs to imagine what it would be like to be doing it with me - now he KNOWS! Now he can please his wife all the better as he has the memories of me being in her place to motivate him as his wife just lays there or he has to ignore the hundred extra pounds she put on since their wedding. There's really no need to do it again with him - I got the "notch on my belt" while he has his memories so there's nothing more for either of us to be gained by putting his marriage further in jeopardy.

So while I would never confront any of those women with the hypocrisy in their marriage, it DOES give me a bit of thrill listening to them and knowing what her husband had done with me. In some cases it was many years ago, some so far back as when I was a teenager in high school, yet it shows how important these times are for me as I can remember each one as if it was yesterday. Perhaps even more interesting are the wives whose husbands had shown interest but hadn't yet crossed the line. If anything hearing them go on about how awful it was what men were doing on line it just makes me all the more anxious to push their husband along a little more the next time the opportunity arises!

2. A Worried Housewife

Besides the ladies at church I've also discussed the Ashley Madison issue with most of my friends as well. It was sort of interesting in that for the most part the discussions went either one of two directions. Most of them were like the church women - shocked at the news yet confident that THEIR husband would never do such things. There were also a small number, like my best friend Beth, who had marriages similar to mine in that they regularly swapped or otherwise were involved with other people to one extent or another. For them the response was pretty universal - not a surprise and happy that we knew we didn't have to worry about our husbands having to resort to such sites to satisfy their natural hunger.

Of the girls in the first category, one was a little different. It was sort of ironic in that that her name is Ashley. We'd known each other since grade school, attending the same schools, the same church, and participating in most of the same community events. While we are pretty close friends, at the same time we are different in many ways, especially when it comes to our sexual lives. While I started having sex when I was fourteen, Ashley was one of those rare girls who hung onto her virginity until she was married. She even drew the line at oral sex even though I tried numerous times to convince her that it wasn't "real" sex. I tried in vain to explain to her that "sex" is a pretty strictly defined term meaning penetration of a female vagina by a male penis. Thus no penetration, no sex. No sex, no cheating. No cheating, no adultery. Ashley has never agreed with me on this line of reasoning and I respect her feelings so I've never pushed too hard as I enjoy our friendship and don't want to allow that to be an issue between us.

What makes our friendship so special is she allows the same for me. Ashley knew pretty much what I enjoyed doing with the boys at school, including much of what wasn't public knowledge amongst the female ranks. About the only thing I never shared with her was when I started having sex with my dad but then there were VERY few people who knew about THAT - even to this day.

Unlike me, Ashley married right out of high school and never went to college. She started her family almost nine months to the day after the wedding (must have been quite a honeymoon!) and so she was a number of years ahead of me in terms of kids with three coming out like a factory line. The youngest was her ten year-old son with the older two being eleven and twelve year-old girls. I guess she was going to keep trying until she got a boy! In contrast, my oldest is my daughter Mia who is now three years old with little Kylie approaching the four month mark. We get together as families now and then but never in a sexual way. While I catch Ben, Ashley's husband, eying me now and then I never think much about it as most men look at me that way. Not that I mean to sound vain, it's just a natural male reaction to a woman, especially when she's a slut like me. Still, out of respect for my friend I never encourage him or flirt with him in any serious way.

It was a hot August day when I met Ashley for lunch. She'd left her kids at home under the care of her oldest. I suppose some might say twelve is a little young to be left alone as a babysitter but I know her kids and they are all pretty mature for their ages. My two girls were spending the day with grandma - Steve's mom, so it left me pretty much free for the afternoon so when Ashley asked if I wanted to meet her downtown at the Strip in Pittsburgh, I immediately said yes. It had been a few months since we'd had a girls' day out together and I was looking forward to catching up with her on all the latest news and gossip. Correction... Christians don't gossip, we "share" and when it's gets juicy we "share in love."

Sitting at an outside table at the caf,, we ordered lunch and discussed out kids - mostly about my newest addition of course. Lots of photo sharing on our phones! Somewhere about midway through lunch we got to talking about news and community and Ashley leaned forward, checking around to be sure nobody was listening.

"Did you hear about the Andersons?" she whispered in a conspiratorial tone.

The Andersons were a couple in our church that had a huge family - six kids at last count, and were one of those couples that seemed to be involved in everything. The husband was an elder and the wife led a woman's Bible study. Their oldest was in college and they had been members long before I could remember.

I shook my head and her eyes widened. "I hear that Susan found out that Gary was one of those perverts using the Ashely Madison site."

She sat back and raised her eye brows, waiting for my reaction. It was all I could do to keep from bursting out in laughter - Gary had been one of the first husbands at church to cheat with me. It was years ago... back when I was a junior in high school in the youth group with one of their daughters. Both Gary and Susan were heavily involved in the youth activities at church so I saw a lot of them both. By the time I was at that age I'd already pretty much established a reputation both at school and church for being a slut and having just recently started having sex with my dad my interest in older men was at an all-time high. Long story short - Gary fucked me in some cheap hotel bed (with all the kids their home was NEVER empty it seemed) wearing his daughter's bikini. When I told my parents about it later (yes, I told them everything I did), my mom warned me about not doing it with him again and that's when I established my "one and done" rule", even though I was quite confident that Gary would've loved to have fucked again and it was pretty hot pretending to be his daughter as he came in me.

"Noooooo! You have to be kidding me!" I somehow managed to blurt out instead.

"Oh yeah... and I hear they're getting a divorce."

I raised my eyebrows, not having to fake my surprise this time. "Wow, that seems to be a little harsh for just being on a web site."

Ashley pursed her lips with disapproval. "It doesn't really matter whether or not he actually cheated, he should never have been on that wicked site in the first place."

From past experience I wasn't about to argue. I knew Ashley well enough by now to know she took the position that when it came to adultery, intent was just as bad as actually doing the deed.

"So then tell me Kelly, what would you do if you found out that Steve was on there?" Ashley asked me.

I just shrugged. "It really wouldn't bother me if he did other than him wasting our money on a stupid web site."

Ashley frowned and I knew what she was thinking when she replied, "Well, I guess that works for people like you."

Yes, Ashley knew that my husband and I swapped. It wasn't something we discussed all that much but some things are hard to avoid when you're as close as we were. She often referred to me and Steve as having an "open marriage" although personally I despise the term. People use it to describe a marriage where people are married on paper but that's about it. More like for couples having sex with everyone and anyone and not really committed to their marriage. To me, that doesn't describe my marriage at all. Steve and I are madly in love, I'd say even more so than when we took our wedding vows. True, we enjoy having sex with others but that's just for fun and has nothing to do with our marriage or commitment to one another. Yet I could see that to someone with as black and white a perspective of the world as Ashley had to where that distinction could be lost.

"OK then, what would YOU do if you found out that Ben was a member?"

Ashley looked down at her plate, not seeming to want to look me in the eyes and suddenly it dawned on me why this topic had come up in our conversation.

"Ashley... you can tell me anything you know," I said gently, reaching out across the table to grab her hand.

The tears started to flow. "Oh Kelly, I'm so sorry but I didn't know who else to turn to. You're the only person I could talk to about this."

While Ashley and I were good friends, I wouldn't have classified us as BFFs so it seemed a little odd that she would say something like that. Surely she had to have someone even closer to her that she could have confided such information with. Then I realized the real reason - no doubt none of her other friends had a marriage like I had. Oh well, their loss.

"It's OK Ashley," I tried to console her, "Odds are he was just curious. I'm sure Ben has never cheated on you."

"But you don't know what he said about himself on there... the perverted things he was looking for... the horrible, AWFUL things he wants," she sobbed.

True, I didn't know specifically but I doubt anything he could've written would've surprised me. Over the past twelve years since I started posting on the Internet I've had literally thousands of men write me and trust me, I don't think much of anything can shock me anymore! But then Ashely didn't have a clue about that side of me, nor was I about to tell her, especially now.

"Men do that sort of thing... that's just what men do," I said, squeezing her hand, "It doesn't mean he would ever DO anything."

"But we've been married for thirteen years now. What if he's tired of me? We were both virgins when we got married, what if he wants to know what it's like to be with another woman?"

I quickly grabbed my water glass and took a drink, anything to hide my face as I almost lost it. Both virgins when they got married? I'd never heard her say that before, guess it's the sort of thing that didn't come up in our type of conversations. The reason for my reaction was simple. While Ashley was undoubtedly a virgin when she got married, and I've no doubt she's never had sex with any other man or even held another dick in her hand, she was dead wrong about Ben. Ben had NOT been a virgin on their wedding night. I can say that with confidence as I know exactly when and where he lost his virginity and with who - ME. Whether he'd ever done it with another girl, I haven't a clue, but fortunately for him men don't have hymens or Ashley would have known the truth the first time they did it - it was HER first time, NOT his.

I finally calmed down my friend and she seemed consoled somewhat by what I told her. Apparently Ben had no idea she knew about his indiscretions so I encouraged her to leave sleeping dogs lay and so long as there weren't any other issues, to just pretend she had never heard anything.

Later that night when I was home in bed with my husband sleeping soundly next to me as our oldest snuggled between us - something that seemed to be growing more common as she got older rather than less as I would've expected, I couldn't help but think about what had happened between Ben and I so long ago. I started to masturbate...

3. High School Memories

It was the fall of my junior year of high school. Sweet Sixteen indeed! I was having the time of my life. It had been more than two years now since I first started having sex and over that time I can say that sex pretty much dominated my life. For the first six months or so after losing my virginity I only had sex with one boy, foolishly thinking at that na‹ve age that I was in love and would never want to be with anyone else.

Well, that all changed when my "true love" moved away when his mom's job was transferred to the west coast and I learned that I could have pretty much anything I wanted in exchange for sex. Who needed to be a cheerleader to be popular? I could have had any football player in school if I wanted him. Why work at some stupid job in the mall when guys would pay for everything I wanted in exchange for just a chance they MIGHT get a blowjob, let alone fuck me. Although I was always a good student, a little extra credit never hurt - especially when I could get it just by flashing my boobs or butt.

One thing I learned about myself early on when it came to sex - I LOVE it when boys and men want to have me so badly that they do things that normally they would never consider doing just to be with me even for a short time. I guess you could say it's sort of like what hunters say in that it's as much about the hunt as the final kill. I love to be the "hunter", identifying my "prey", learning its patterns and secrets, then drawing it in close enough until I finally realize the "kill". Like if I just wanted to get laid, that was easy. If fact I've always asserted that ANY girl who can't get laid within 30 minutes at any time or place just isn't trying very hard. So just getting a guy to have sex with me quickly lost its thrill. It's sort of like playing a video game at Level One and never moving up - boring!

So it was with the boys at school. If I was horny and just wanted sex all I had to do was smile at the right guy and give him "the look" and far more often than not I got what I wanted without much further ado. It was the ones that turned me down or ignored me that made me want them all the more. It became all about the "hunt".

Back then Ben was a senior and I really didn't know him all that well, I just saw him in the hallways between classes mostly. He never approached me or showed any real interest and I had no overwhelming reason to be drawn to him, at least not at first. He attended the same church as Ashley and me and we were all in the same senior high youth group that year but still, for whatever reason we just never had much to do with each other. He and Ashley had been dating for over a year but we never double dated as she wasn't willing to "put out" - which would've pretty much been a damper for me. Like what was the point in going out on a date if you weren't going to have fun?

Then one weekend we had a pool party for the youth group. Being it was a church-sponsored event, supposedly the rules were that girls had to wear "decent" swim suits but that was pretty subjective. What was "decent" for a girl like me wasn't for someone like Ashley. I figured as long as my nipples were covered and no pubic hair was showing (I wasn't shaving yet at that age) then that was OK. In contrast Ashley was the type who wore one piece suits that didn't even let any of her butt hang out and practically no cleavage even. Well, you can imagine who drew the most attention!

Let's be real... the only reason a girl wears a revealing swim suit is to be looked at. Like how many guys who love seeing a girl in a thong bikini bottom ever actually had to wear one? Maybe if they did then they'd realize what a favor she was doing for him! A swim suit like Ashley's was a lot more comfortable and didn't require constant attention to keep in place but then it didn't draw the stares and admiring looks from the boys so what good was it?

While I was flirting in the pool with a couple of boys, playing a little and letting them touch me just enough to turn them on yet not so much that we could be accused of doing anything "bad", I noticed Ashley and Ben doing what they always did - sitting around and talking to each other with their doe-eyes and other goofy little things they did, like they were still in sixth grade. As I watched them I could feel someone's hand cupping my exposed butt but while it felt good, my real attention was focused on the two kids on the other side of the pool area.

There are moments in our lives when later we don't really know WHY we do something, only that we did and later when I would think of this moment that would be the case. I can't explain why I did what I did. To the surprise of the three boys surrounding me, I pushed through them and climbed up the ladder to get out of the pool, no doubt giving them a nice view of my crotch in the process with a nice camel toe to boot.

"Hi Ashley... Hi Ben," I greeted them as I approached their table, "Mind if I sit down with you guys a while?"

Based on the frown on her face, Ashley clearly minded but Ben was always the proper gentleman so he smiled and even pulled out a chair for me. I thanked him and took a seat, ignoring the daggers in Ashley's eyes. Ben was seated to my left so I crossed my left leg over my right to give him as much of a view of my upper thigh and butt as possible without being TOO overt about it. I caught him take a glance quickly but then turn his eyes away. It's not like that was in any way an unusual response from Ben but for some reason it irked me this time.

"Ummmmm Kelly, I think your posse wants you back," Ashley remarked with more than a hint of sarcasm as she nodded towards the three guys I'd left behind rather unceremoniously.

I giggled a little and pushed my wet hair back away from my face. "Oh they'll wait."

"Oh I'm sure they will," Ashley muttered under her breath. Damn she was being a little snarky today!

We chatted for a little while... that is at least Ashley and I chatted. Ben hardly said a word. I figured he probably felt it was safer that way given the stormy mood his girlfriend was in. I shifted in my chair, inching my leg further over to expose more of my bare skin to his occasional glances.

"Kelly, how did you ever get Mrs. Delaney to let you wear that?" Ashley finally asked, seeming almost relieved to get out the question that had obviously been bugging her.

"Oh I think she's given up on me," I said with a laugh and gave Ben a come-hither look which no doubt Ashley caught as well but then who cares? It's not like I was asking him out on a date... at least not yet anyways.

"Yeah but isn't that the same suit I heard that you wore at the park district pool... the one they kicked you out for wearing?"

She was right, as always it seemed when it came to Ashley's memories. About a month ago I'd taken the girls to the pool by the high school. Just a few minutes after taking off my clothes one of the female lifeguards came over and told me I would have to cover myself up more if I wanted to stay. She also had some issues with the suit my daughter was wearing, claiming it was inappropriate for a girl her age. Like what's the big deal with a three year-old wearing a thong? Needless to say I refused, certain she would never carry out her threat. Well, I was wrong and next thing I knew a bigger male lifeguard was escorting me and my daughters out. Gawd, talk about embarrassing!

"Well, I like it," I said with a firm tone before looking towards Ben and asking, "What do you think Ben? Is this an appropriate suite to wear or not?"

Poor Ben, talk about being caught between a rock and a hard spot with Ashley being the rock and the hard spot showing up between his legs. Lucky for him only I could see the erection growing in his swim suit.

"Well, it IS a little revealing," he finally said lamely. What a cop-out!

Ashley didn't seem amused by the dialog and she motioned for me to follow her as she got up from the table and walked towards the refreshments table.

"OK girl, just what the hell do you think you're doing?" she demanded with her hands on her hips.

I acted as if I had no idea what she was talking about but she wasn't buying it.

"Kelly, don't pull that shit with me. Remember who you're talking to. I know you better than that. You have all the other guys here to do your thing with so leave mine alone."

OK, that was two curse words in the space of a few seconds from a girl who normally NEVER cursed. Yeah, she was upset alright.

"Whatever," I mumbled, a little ticked off myself now. It wasn't like I'd done anything overt or like that. So I flirted with her boyfriend a little, it was no big deal, I flirted with all the guys. Heck, I COULD have reached over and grabbed onto that growing erection if she wanted something to really bitch about. Still, Ashley and I rarely fought so I was taking this seriously now. I didn't want to upset my friend yet at the same time I was more than a little annoyed. Annoyed that she was being this possessive when she didn't to be yet even more annoyed at Ben for not giving me the attention I craved.

"Why don't you go back to your boy toys in the pool Kelly," she suggested rather pointedly, "You plan on getting screwed by all three of them or will there be just one lucky winner?"

At first I thought she was being serious but then she smiled and I knew she was just joking. The funny part was that while SHE was joking, I really WAS planning something along those lines. As tempting as it was to tell her my plans, I figured I may as well take her peace offering. I was horny as heck and it wasn't like it was looking as if Ben would be doing anything to help me in that department.

Before the party ended I had indeed been fucked – by the three of them in fact, and blown two other boys as well so I was feeling pretty proud of myself as things wound down. As I was leaving I looked to see if Ashley was still around but both she and Ben were nowhere to be found and their stuff was missing as well. I hadn't seen them leave but then it wasn't like I'd been in a position to see much of anything for the past hour or so. My dad picked me up and on the way home I talked to him about Ashley and Ben, along with telling him about everything else that I'd done while at the party.

"So what's your plans then Kelly?" he asked, "You seem a bit flustered over this Ben character. Is he on your radar now?"

"Well, he IS pretty cute," I answered with a giggle.

"Cute? You're talking about a boy, right? Now I'd call your girlfriend cute – I'd fuck her in a heartbeat you know."

"Oh daddy!" I scolded him. It was typical of him to talk about my friends that way yet at the same time I knew he was just fantasizing. My parents may have been pretty modern in many ways of thinking about sex but one thing my mom was firm about was cheating and adultery. Her definitions were much more like Ashley's – incest aside of course. So far as she was concerned my dad could lust for my friends all he wanted but he knew he'd be facing my mother's wrath if he ever acted on those urges.

I leaned over the console and rubbed my hand on his crotch. "Besides Daddy, why would you need Ashley when you can have me?" My dad smiled at me but the look in his eyes told me that with all this talk he was going to be needing me as soon as we got home!

take much to convince her otherwise. Seeing how adamant I was, Ben caved, no doubt to get out of the parking lot and then hopefully deal with me out of sight of the student population.

"Alright then Kelly, I'll drive you home but I'm NOT having sex with you."

My thought was I'd just won the first battle so it didn't matter what he was saying - it was what he was doing that counted. One step at a time...

It was only a few blocks to my house so normally I just walked. When Ben driving it was just a minute or so before he pulled up to the curb outside my home and turned to me. "PLEASE don't tell Ashley I drove you home, OK?" he requested.

It was my opening... "Fine. I won't tell her IF you come inside and fuck me Ben."

Ben's face reddened and he looked flustered. Before he could say anything I pulled up my skirt, grabbed my panties by the sides and pulled them down and off my legs and over my heels. I handed them to Ben with a grin.

"Here. You can take the rest of my clothes off of me when we get to my bedroom."

Ben dropped my panties like they were radioactive squealing, "Kelly, I don't know what's going on here but THAT is NOT going to happen, clear?"

I turned and looked at him directly in the eyes. The words came out slow, soft and firm...

"Let me make THIS clear Ben. Either you come in and fuck me right NOW or I tell Ashley that you did."

"She'll never believe you," he protested lamely.

"Oh I wouldn't count on that," I responded, "She saw how you looked at me at the pool party and from the way she pushed me away from you I think she would believe most anything I tell her about me and you."

Ben looked totally flabbergasted. I almost felt sorry seeing the look of panic on his face but then at the same time I didn't. Nope, I knew what I wanted and when I wanted something I got it!

"So you're saying either I have sex with you now and you won't tell Ashley... or I don't have sex with you and you tell her we did it anyways."

Who says boys are all stupid? I smiled at him and nodded, not wanting to say anything that might change his way of thinking.

"I can't believe this is happening," he mumbled to himself as he turned to get out of the car. YES! Victory was mine!

Nobody was home of course as my dad never got in until at least six or seven from his downtown office and my mom's shift at the hospital wouldn't be over until six. I unlocked the front door and then shut it behind us once we were both in. From there I didn't waste any time and headed straight up the stairs and to my room where I plopped myself down on the bed, waiting eagerly for him to follow. Ben was pretty much right behind me so it wasn't like I waited long. There he was, standing at the entrance to my bedroom door looking all handsome and flustered.

"Get over here stud," I told him, waving him over towards me. There wasn't any point in wasting a lot of time with kissing and foreplay. Besides, he WAS my girlfriend's boyfriend so I wasn't out to treat him like he was mine. The only part I really wanted to kiss was hidden under those jeans!

"Now hold still silly," I chastised him as I tried to undo his belt but he pulled away. I reached forward and grabbed his pants by the waist and pulled him closer to me until I was able to get his belt undone and stared unzipping his fly. Once it was down I pushed his pants down to his ankles leaving him standing there in his grey boxer shorts. Hmmmmmm, I saw his male "lie detector" was betraying his earlier protests as it bulged out behind the cotton shorts. Soon his boxers followed his pants and there he stood, short still on with his boxers and pants down to his feet with his growing erection right there in front of me.

"So tell me Ben, has Ashley ever sucked your dick?" I asked him. Yeah, like I didn't already know the answer but I wanted to hear him say it.

"No," he practically choked getting out in a hoarse voice, "We promised each other we wouldn't have sex before marriage."

Grabbing his erection in my hand, I loved the feel of him. For that matter, I love the feel of any warm dick in my hands! In this case, knowing my hand was the first one to ever grab his cock in this manner made it extra special for me.

"You DO know that oral sex isn't really sex Ben," I told him, explaining to him my philosophy about sex in general.

Ben shook his head when I was done. "I don't think Ashley agrees with you."

Still holding his now stiff cock in my hand, I looked up and our eyes met. "I really don't care a bit what Ashley thinks, and from the way your dick feels in my hand I don't think you do either."

Ben started to protest but before he could I had his dick in my mouth. Normally when I give a blowjob I liked to play a little, running my tongue along the length and kissing and licking it all over. In this case though I didn't want to lose my fish by playing him too much so I simply plunged his dick into my mouth as far as I could until my face was buried in the thick patch of coarse pubic hair at its base. God he smelled so good! I love the musky smell of a boy when I suck his dick.

"Oh my god," Ben gasped as I deep throated his stiff dick.

Pulling me head off his dick, I looked up at him as I stroked him. "Now tell me Ben... do you really want me to stop?"

Poor Ben, he looked so helpless! "This is so wrong Kelly... we shouldn't be doing this."

Once again I took him in my mouth, this time bobbing up and down on his cock, running my tongue along the sensitive underside of his dick as I gently massaged his hairy balls in my hand. He jerked a little as I sucked on the head, running my tongue along the underside of his helmet and then teasing the slit at the tip. Again I pulled my mouth off of him and repeated my question.

"Do you still want me to stop Ben?"

My pussy twinged as I saw the look on his face that told me that I'd done it - I'd crushed his willpower and released his true urges and feelings!

"Oh god... no... please don't stop!"

"Then tell me Ben," I demanded, "I want you to tell me what you want me to do."

"Oh my god... I can't," he croaked.

"Tell me Ben... TELL ME!" I told him strongly, "Tell me now what you want. Tell me or I'll stop sucking your dick."

For a boy who had been protesting he didn't want me to do it in the first place, he'd certainly changed his tune! "I want..." he started to say and then hesitated but then continued, "I want you to do it."

"Do what Ben?" I demanded, not giving in an inch, "You waited too long so you have to beg me for it now."

"Suck it..., suck my dick Kelly," he said, almost like he was ready to burst into tears, "I want you to suck my dick."

I stroked his dick with my hand and smiled at him in victory. "See that wasn't so difficult now, was it? I knew you wanted it. I knew you wanted me to suck you when you looked at my ass at the pool, didn't you?"

He caved in totally at that point as my mouth encased his hard cock yet again. It was like a dam had broken inside and now it was all flowing out.

"Yes, I did... I wanted you to suck my cock.... I've wanted you to suck me for years, just like you do all the other guys at school."

And so I did, but not enough to make him cum. No... I had better plans for his first ejaculation with a girl and it wasn't going to be in my mouth! After a few minutes he was already starting to show all the signs of an impending eruption so I knew it was time...

"Undress me Ben," I instructed him and he quickly removed my clothes until I was bare ass naked in front of him. The remainder of his clothes followed and finally we were both totally naked in my bedroom.

"Do you like looking at me when I'm naked Ben?"

Ben nodded but that wasn't good enough for me.

"Don't just nod... tell me."

"Yes Kelly... you look incredible naked. Oh god help me... I've dreamed so many times of seeing you this way."

Then a question came to mind I couldn't resist asking.

"Do you masturbate about me Ben? Do you jerk off thinking about me?"

He looked embarrassed and so I had my answer. Still, I hadn't meant to ruin the moment so I added, "It's OK Ben, everyone masturbates - in fact I do every day. I think it's sexy that you masturbate about me."

Being it would be his first time I wanted to make it easier for him, not to mention to give him the prefect memory. So I decided we'd do it missionary style as most likely that was the way he'd probably imagined fucking me the most when he masturbated about me. I laid back on my bed with my head supported by a couple of pillows and spread my legs apart to give him a good view of my ready pussy, I started to rub myself, to wet my fingers.

"I'm ready for you Ben... now tell me what you want."

Thankfully we didn't have to go through the same series of responses that it took earlier to get Ben to admit he wanted me to suck his dick. No, he was ridiculously horny now and I knew that this was a case where the little head was in total control of the big head!

"Oh my god Kelly, I want to make love to you."

I couldn't help but smile. How quaint! Not even my dad would say he wanted to make love to me. No, daddy just wanted to fuck me and usually he made that pretty clear. I maybe should have corrected Ben as making love was something I considered to be reserved for between a husband and wife but why spoil the mood?

"Then do it Ben... do it."

Ben started to move in between my legs but then he hesitated and I knew he must be so nervous.

"It's your first time, isn't it Ben?" I asked gently.

Ben just nodded, looking a little embarrassed.

"Well, as I'm sure you know it's not mine so don't worry... I'll help you."

"I feel like such an idiot," Ben mumbled.

I reached down for his dick and took it in my hand and gently pulled him into my crotch.

"Don't worry Ben, it's not like you can do it wrong," I said with a smile. I positioned his dick with one hand while I opened my pussy with the other, setting the head of his dick at the entrance to my pussy.

"Now push Ben... push your hard dick into my pussy. Fuck me Ben!"

Ben pressed but it was like he was afraid to hurt me and his dick just pushed into me without going in.

"It won't go in!" he said worriedly.

"It's OK, just push harder, you can do it Ben. PUSH!"

Ben pressed into me harder and I could feel his dick flex in my hand as I tried to keep him on course. Then I gasped as I felt the most wonderful sensation when I felt him suddenly slip in, pushing in past the head and almost half-way up his shaft before he even seemed to realize what had happened.

"There! You did it!" I praised him... "You're fucking me Ben... oh god you feel so good inside of me!

For the moment he just held himself still in me, unsure of what do next.

"Keep pushing Ben... push it all the way in me."

Ben obediently followed my instructions until I was rewarded by the feel of him bottoming out, the base of his hairy cock now pressing in hard against my furry crotch. He fell forward, holding himself off of me with his elbows on each side of me, my small boobs pressing into his chest. For a short while we just stayed that way, joined together now as one, each of us savoring the loss of his virginity.

Oh Ben, I can feel you inside of me," I moaned softly. "You can suck on my nipples," I told him and he eagerly did so, gently at first but then more aggressively. In doing so his dick moved in and out of me slightly.

"That's it, stroke your dick in and out of me Ben."

Instinct seemed to take over as Ben began to fuck me in earnest.

"Faster Ben... fuck me harder!"

"Oh god, I think I'm going to cum!" Ben cried out. Oh well, what else could I have expected for his first time? It was probably pretty amazing that he hadn't cum the first moment he was in my pussy as some girls have told me happened with them. I wrapped my legs around him, pulling him in tight as he seemed to want to pull out.

"Cum in me Ben... I want you to cum inside of me!"

Ben seemed to panic at that. "But what if you get pregnant?"

"Don't worry... I'm on the pill."

It's not like he was going to argue with me as suddenly I felt him drive himself deep inside of me and then start to jerk, signaling that he was ejaculating inside of me.

"That's it Ben... cum in me... mate me... give me your love," I groaned as I felt him jerking, knowing that each time he did another rope of his potent teen sperm was being deposited deep inside of my welcoming pussy.

"Oh god Kelly I love you!" he cried out as the final streams of sperm emerged from his cock.

To this day I have no idea if he remembers telling me that as we never mentioned it afterwards or any time since. I took it as being in the heat of the moment, not as a true testimony of his feelings for me. After all, he was having sex for the first time, doing what he'd always considered to be reserved for the woman he loves and I imagined that whenever he masturbated about fucking Ashley he most likely did so saying he loved her. The fact it was me with his dick inside of my pussy instead of Ashley didn't mean that those feelings were for anyone but her.

With that he collapsed, barely able to hold his full weight off of me. I could feel his still hard dick buried inside of me like a hot poker, throbbing with his lust. For a brief moment I thought of my friend Ashley. Imagine if she appeared at my door at this moment! Imagine what she would say if she saw her boyfriend's dick lodged in my pussy, his sperm running down out of me past my asshole and dripping onto my bed cover. I felt fulfilled, sexy, satisfied. I done it! I'd taken Ben's virginity, something he can never give to anyone again. No matter what her did from this day forward, no matter who we was with, he would always know that I was his first, even if she didn't. Even better, I had something Ashley would never get.

Not surprisingly, at his age he was ready to go again almost immediately and this time he didn't hesitate. I helped him get into a couple of different positions and when he came the next time it was fucking me behind in a doggie position so he was really able to bury himself deeper inside of me when he came. What surprised me was afterwards as we laid in bed, facing each other and holding the other in our arms. I'd sucked his cock and he'd cum in me twice yet it wasn't until this moment that we kissed for the first time. Not a word was spoken as we kissed and our tongues explored each other's mouth. He kissed the backs of my ears, then my neck and finally down to my boobs were he squeezed my breasts and sucked on my nipples for what seemed to be forever.

We kissed a little while more and then it was like it was the most perfectly natural thing to do as he mounted me yet again and we merged together as one for a third time. This time was different, as if we'd been doing it for months instead of just the past couple of hours. It was almost like we actually did make love it was so sweet and tender. When he finally came it was the best of the three times by far as we kissed and whispered to each other how we felt. Yes, the "love" word was used frequently but then we were in the heat of passion as much as any two lovers would ever be so it was only natural.

We may have done it yet again had not my dad come home from work. Wow, of all days for him to be early! Ben and I were laying in my bed pressing our naked sweaty bodies tight together, kissing and touching when I heard the door from the basement open (it squeaks horribly) and knew my dad was home. I was tempted not to say anything and let him discover us in bed together but as much as I knew my dad would get off from it, poor Ben would likely be scarred for life!

"Ben... my dad's home, you need to go."

Wow, talk about getting dressed fast! I mean it was like less than a minute and Ben was ready to go.

"Aren't you going to get dressed?" he asked as he headed for the door and then finally realized I was still laying on my bed nude.

I suppose I COULD have told him the truth, that there wasn't any sense getting dressed since once I told my dad what I'd been doing he'd probably be so horny that he'd want to do me right then and there. Common sense prevailed so I made up some story about having to shower first so Ben started to leave but then he turned back and rushed over to me, leaning over me to kiss me.

"Thanks you Kelly... that was... wonderful!"

With that he left. Knowing my dad, he probably just smiled at Ben IF they crossed paths but Ben would be heading straight out the front door so odds were they didn't even see each other. I laid back in bed, legs spread lewdly apart, smiling to myself as I fingered my now sperm-filled pussy, waiting for my daddy to come to my room as he always did when he got home.

4. Never Too Late For a First Time

That was the first... and LAST time Ben and I even were together by ourselves, let alone having sex again. Not that it was by HIS choice. Indeed, he flooded me with calls begging for a chance to be with me again. Still, I had no desire to interfere with what he and my girlfriend had so I refused every plea and turned down every request until finally he realized it was pointless and stopped pestering me. Still, for years whenever we met I saw the look in his eye and knew what he was thinking. He might have been holding hands with Ashley but it was ME he desired.

Of course I never said a word to Ashley. I might have felt a twinge of guilt keeping it a secret from her at first but that wore off over the years. A few months after our high school graduation I was thrilled to be asked to be a bridesmaid in their wedding. I have to admit that as I watched them exchange their vows I felt a little tug at my heart (and pussy) knowing the bond I shared with her new husband. Still, I suppose if the Ashley Madison thing had never happened I would've never given it much thought. It wasn't until she made a point of saying that Ben had been a virgin when they were married that I found myself having problems keeping those feelings and memories at bay.

It was maybe a week later when I got an urgent call from Ashley. She said she had to see me right away so I packed up the girls and headed over to their house as fast as I could. Ashley met us at the door and quickly ushered us in and to the kitchen. Her oldest daughters was kind enough to take my girls into the play room leaving her mom and me alone. I couldn't help but notice how her little but was starting to take shape and was reminded of the remarks my husband had made the last time he'd seen her. Wow, imagine what Ashley would have said had she known my husband got off from imagining fucking her daughters?

No sooner were we alone than Ashley broke down into tears. "Oh Kelly, I should have listened to you," she sobbed.

I wasn't 100% sure what she was talking about so I sat there patiently waiting for her to continue.

"I did it... I did exactly what you warned me NOT to do," she cried, "I confronted him... I told him I had to know."

Now that I knew for sure what she was talking about I couldn't help but wonder. Oh wow, NOW what had she done?

"He said that he loves me but he needs more. He told me that he wants to have a threesome... He wants me to find another girl to join us in bed. Oh my god Kelly, what am I going to do? There's just no way I can do that! No way!"

This was going way too fast... to even hear Ashley talking about a threesome was a little mind blowing as so far as she was concerned, sex was supposed to be between one man and one woman - period. Nothing premarital, no swapping, definitely nothing gay or lesbian.

"This is Ben we're talking about... your husband Ben right?"

I meant it to be a little in jest, to slow her down and pause for a moment to put things in perspective but unfortunately she was too wound up to see it that way.

"Really Kelly? I thought if anyone would understand my situation that you would. Thanks, I thought you were my friend."

She was wound up like spring so I didn't take her retort as anything personal. Obviously this was a major problem for her and she was right, if there WAS anyone who could understand her situation it was me - for a lot of reasons she didn't even know about.

What as making it difficult for her was that the one area where Ashley and I were in agreement was when it came to the biblical authority of a husband over his wife. Like me, Ashley subscribes to the belief that a wife must submit to her husband, although in my case I pretty much restrict that to sexual situations whereas I knew Ashley applied it across the board. Granted, in a Christian marriage there's also a requirement for the husband to love his wife and treat her properly - the part most people forget about when they use the Bible to rationalize their non-biblical views of female submission. So like the situation Ashley was facing now, I too have had to deal with situations in my marriage where I had to reconcile some rather firm beliefs and ethics with the demands of my husband. Of course there are lines that I could never cross, no different than when my mom was forced to divorce my dad because of things he was demanding that she simply could not compromise on. Fortunately I've not found myself in such a predicament as I've always found a way to "adjust" my morals and ethics to where I could agree to my husband's needs while still not living up to my most basic ethical and moral standards.

concerned. Still, I could still relate emotionally so yes, I WAS the best friend she had in terms of dealing with the problem she was facing.

"So what about it bothers you the most?" I asked, "Seeing your husband having sex with another woman or you having sex with a girl?"

No doubt to Ashley there wasn't a real answer as she would have said both if she could but I wasn't taking that for an answer. Better to deal with the most pressing concern and then hopefully the other wouldn't seem so bad.

"I don't know Kelly... I really don't. The idea of Ben even having sex with anyone else kills me but to have to WATCH? I'm not sure I can do that." She paused as if to collect her thoughts and I waited patiently for her to continue. "As for me with another girl... that's just gross. I can't even imagine kissing another girl, let alone doing anything else."

She'd been staring at her hands, wringing them on the table as she spoke but when she finished she looked up at me and he cheeks reddened.

"Oh my God, I'm sorry Kelly. I didn't mean to say anything about what you do."

I just smiled, actually more amused than anything else. Of course Ashley knew about a lot about my sexual preferences and even that Steve and I swapped now and then. Back when we had sleepovers I would kiss the other girls but Ashley could never bring herself to do it, no matter how crushing the dare. When we would masturbate together she would pretend to be asleep, not even willing to watch us, let alone join in.

I pressed her hand in mine and assured her that I understood and didn't take it personally. After all, everyone has their sexual morals and beliefs so who was I to judge hers? At the same time I appreciated that she didn't judge me for mine.

Ashley looked relieved by then asked, "But how do you do it Kelly? How can you even kiss another woman, let along down there? Like I feel so embarrassed when Ben puts his mouth on me there, I can't even imagine how it would be to have a woman doing that."

Hmmm, maybe this was the opening I'd been looking for...

"You mean you don't cum when Ben eats your pussy?"

Her eyes dropped again and cheeks reddened even more. I realized my language was a bit more direct than perhaps she was used to hearing but it was time to get it all out on the table - no mincing of words.

"I've never had an orgasm."

Her voice was so low that I barely heard it when she said it so I wasn't sure I'd heard her right yet what else could she have said?

"You've NEVER had an orgasm?" I asked, trying to keep the incredulous tone from my voice but only partially successful. "What about when you masturbate... don't you cum then?"

"I've don't masturbate," she said in the same soft voice, "I never have."

Oh wow, not THIS I wasn't ready for. Yes, I've known girls who have claimed not to masturbate but frankly I don't believe the vast majority of them. I had a roommate back in my college days who never masturbated but that was because she considered masturbation to be "sex" and sex was reserved for marriage so I've assumed that once she got married she started masturbating. But to go your whole life and not do it even once? It was almost too much to believe. Heck, if I went one day without doing it I was feeling edgy and horny, let alone go for years.

"Does Ben masturbate?" I asked, stalling more than asking a question but it was the first thing that came to mind.

"I've caught him a few times with porn," she answered softly, like she was embarrassed to admit it. The tone of her response didn't bode well for what had happened when she "caught" her husband jerking off. From the sounds of things he felt it necessary to hide it from her and most likely it was a good thing he did.

"And so I take it that you don't approve when he jerks off?"

Ashley rolled her eyes at that one. "Kelly, if your husband's going to have a sexual fantasy about another woman to the point he's stimulated by the thought of having sex with her, isn't that the same as cheating with her?"

From past experience I knew that it was an argument that couldn't be won by either side so I didn't take the bait.

"You DO realize that almost all men masturbate... and most women, don't you?" I asked carefully.

"Whatever... That doesn't make it right," she protested.

OK... Time to move on...

"So why do you think you've never had an orgasm?" I asked, trying to shift the discussion.

Ashley answered surprisingly quickly. "Well, Ben claims I'm frigid. At least that's what he accused me of being when I confronted him about his cheating."

There it was again - "cheating". Poor ben, he hadn't done anything yet he was being labeled for cheating on his wife. It made me think about something so I asked, "Tell me Ashley... do you enjoy sex?"

She huffed and pointed out the kitchen door. "Three kids... doesn't that tell you anything?"

I shrugged and replied, "Not really to be frank. It just tells me you were willing to do whatever it took to have them, not that you enjoyed the process."

"Sex is soooooo dirty, I don't know how people can enjoy it," she practically spit the words out, "Sorry, I know you obviously feel differently but that's how I feel about it."

So cool... since I was about to embark on a career change from being a school teacher to s sexual counselor, this was turning into quite a practical lesson for me!

"I imagine it was your mother who taught you that sex was dirty?"

"Yes, she told me that sex outside of marriage was for whores and perverts. She said that women who touch themselves are dirty and bad."

Oh my God, it was like I'd gone through a time warp back to medieval times!

"So why haven't you ever told me any of this Ashley? You know how I feel about sex."

Ashly shrugged. "I don't know, I like you and I wanted to be your friend so I thought if we just didn't talk about it then I'd be OK with whatever you do - just so long as I didn't have to be involved."

"And now you feel you're involved? Is that the problem?"

"Well, I AM!" she whined. "This was never supposed to happen to me. I've always a good girl."

I looked her in the eyes and smiled saying, "You know Ashley, accepting God's gifts and enjoying them doesn't make you a bad person. C'mon, just look at you, you're pretty, sexy and overall one really hot babe. I've never told you this but I've always been turned on by you?"

She rolled her eyes and looked at me funny. "So you get turned on by another girl?"

I smiled again. "Sure, why not? After all, who knows better how to please a woman than another woman? I bet I could make you feel better than you ever have with a man." I paused for that to sink in a little and added, "And I'd love to prove it to you."

Ashley blushed and broke her eyes away from mine to stare at her hands which she now had clasped in front of her on the table. We were alone, the kids were all occupied, so I figured after all this if I didn't do something now then the moment may never come again. So I stood up and walked over to her and took her head in my hands, running my fingers through her long hair. She looked up at me, her eyes wide as who knew what conflicting thoughts must be going through her head right now.

"You're so beautiful Ashley... so sexy," I whispered and then I leaned over and kissed her gently on the mouth. Her lips stayed tight together and she didn't move a muscle at first but then she pushed me away.

"Kelly! What are you doing?" she gasped.

"What I've always wanted to do Ashley... don't fight it," I whispered softly as I pushed her hands to the side and kissed her again. This time she didn't fight back, at least not so quickly but at the same time she didn't react positively either. I parted my lips and my tongue touched her mouth which caused her to jump. She broke her hands free and pushed me away again.

"I can't do this," she said in a panicked voice, "This is so wrong."

"Just close your eyes and relax," I said soothingly, trying not to rush her yet at the same time not leave her too much time to think any more about it. Again I kissed her and this time I quickly pushed my tongue against her mouth. I held her hands down as I enjoyed the sweet taste of her lips. Finally I felt her arms relax just a little and the stiffness of her lips soften, allowing me to press my tongue deeper between her lips. Glancing at her eyes I saw they were tightly shut and then I felt the tips of her tongue reaching out for mine. I was SOOOOO turned on, my pussy was so wet it felt like I'd wet myself!

"Mom!" I heard her oldest daughter calling out. Ashley practically leaped from the chair, pushing me firmly back looking like a deer in the headlights.

"Oh my God!" she blurted out.

"It's OK, they're in the bedroom," I assured her.

Ashley went running out of the kitchen to see what was going on, leaving me standing there feeling horny as hell. She was back in less than a minute.

"Kids!" she huffed. Then she turned to me with her face still red, "Oh my God Kelly, what if they'd caught us?"

"Then let's go to your room," I suggested. Implicit in my offer of course was that we would continue where we'd left off. At this point I figured it was a 50-50 chance she'd agree, at best, so I was pleasantly surprised when she twisted her face a little and then nodded her head.

5. Ashley and I Do It

Once in the bedroom, she closed the door and I saw that she made sure it was locked. It wouldn't have bothered me for my daughter to see us but hers were older and no doubt would have been quite shocked to see their conservative mom kissing another mom!

"This is crazy," she muttered as she paced the room.

I sat on the bed and watched her having a mild fit and then offered, "Tell you what, why don't we pretend it's the first time we all get together and Ben is sitting there by the window watching us. You know what he wants to see... what ALL men want to see."

Ashley just nodded, probably not at the point yet where she was willing to articulate those desires.

"So let's give Ben a show, what do you say?"

She stopped her pacing and looked to where I was patting the bed next to me. I saw her take a long deep breath and without a word she sat on the bed about a foot away from me.

"Don't think of this as you and me having sex," I said, trying to find a way to make her feel less inhibited as if THAT was possible. "Do it for your husband. You're his wife and you know that you have to submit to him so do it for him. Just imagine he's standing right over there watching us."

She didn't seem all that convinced yet at the same time she seemed to be maybe just a little less tense although that was a totally relative comparison.

"Close your eyes and kiss me Ashley," I said gently, "Do it for Ben."

This time I wanted HER to be the one to initiate the kiss, to take the first step herself and not just follow my lead. I knew Ben would be even more turned on to see his wife wanting another woman than to have her appear as if she was being forced to do something she didn't want to do.

Ashley moved over closer to me, closed her eyes and leaned over to press her lips to mine.

"Put your arms around me," I encouraged her before we got started too far.

Ashley hesitantly put her arms around me, not really hugging me tight but more like you would hug your favorite aunt. It was better than nothing so I was pleased she was at least willing to go that far. In response I put mine around her as well with my lower hand just above her hip.

"That's it... relax," I whispered soothingly as I pulled her in tighter to me, my tongue now pressing against her pursed lips. Finally they parted and I felt my tongue slip between her lips into her mouth where I was rewarded by the feel of hers reaching out to meet mine.

We kissed like that for a while as my fingers ran through her hair. Reaching with one hand, I pressed my palm against her breast through her blouse and felt her stiffen.

"It's OK," I assured her as I squeezed her breast gently. Her boobs must have been at least a D cup and my hand couldn't even begin to cover her but I could feel the outline of her nipple even through her bra. Slowly I unbuttoned her blouse until I was able to reach inside and trace my fingertips over the top of the swell of her bosom. I smiled as I thought of how many times a boy had made similar moves with me and now here I was, playing the part of the aggressor!

"Your breasts are so beautiful Ashley," I whispered in a husky voice as we maintained our kiss while I lifted the bottom of the cups up and over her boobs. I could feel the hardness of her nipples under my fingers as I gently ran my fingertips over he now exposed boobs.

Ashley wasn't saying a word but I could feel her breathing quicken as I pinched her nipples gently. Her boobs weren't as firm as they'd been back in high school but after three kids and over thirty years they weren't exactly sagging either.

"Your turn," I encouraged her. She seemed to hesitate and then she pulled away from me, licking her lips a little. I still had my hand cupping her boob as she looked down with curiously. I leaned back, hands to my side now as I waited for her. Just as I was starting to wonder if she'd lost her nerve, she reached out with both hands and lifted my tank top up and over my head, exposing my breasts as I hadn't been wearing a bra. For whatever reason that seemed to amuse her.

"Something funny?" I couldn't help but ask.

Ashley shook her head but she was still smiling. Then she asked, "Something I've always wondered Kelly... do you even OWN a bra? I can't ever remember seeing you wear one, even at church."

There wasn't any need for me to answer and we both giggled a little which seemed to let some of the tension release from her. I reached out, took her hands, and placed them on my boobs. Mine were smaller, barely a C cup but I felt a little pride in that mine were still perky enough to allow me to get away without the confinement of a bra.

"Ever touch another girl's boobs?" I asked her. Of course I knew the answer but I was trying to get her more comfortable.

Ashley's eyes widened as she clumsily fondled mine. "Oh no... never!"

"Just pretend you're touching yours," I offered but then remembered that she claimed to never have masturbated. Well, I'm sure that didn't mean she'd never explored her own body a little.

Ashley fondled me a little but seemed unsure of herself so I leaned into her and we kissed again. This time I scooted in close to her and with our arms around the other we pressed in tightly until our exposed breasts pressed against each other's.

"Feels good, doesn't it?" I asked softly, twisting my upper torso to rub our nipples together.

"A little," was all she was going to admit but I noticed she was responding just a little herself.

"Lay back," I told her, "Let's give Ben more to watch."

She leaned back with her legs still hanging over the edge of her bed, her large boobs draping themselves to each side until she covered herself with her hands as best as she could. I laid next to her and pushed her hands away.

"Don't cover yourself," I said, "You look so beautiful."

With that I leaned over and took her nipple in my mouth. I don't think she had been expecting that, at least not at that moment and I felt her shiver under my lips. Not wanting to giver he time to react, I suckled on Ashley's breasts like a newborn baby, enjoying the feel of my tongue over her warm smooth skin and hardened nipple.

"Oh Kelly," she moaned softly.

Keeping my mouth on her boob, I started to loosen her jeans, unbuttoning the top after which she put her hand over mine as if trying to stop me.

"Remember... Ben's watching, this is for your husband," I reminded her, "You don't want him to think you're not enjoying it."

She didn't pull her hand away but she did loosen her grip allowing me to unzip and open her jeans. I reached in and slip my fingers under her panties until I felt the start of her pussy hairline. I immediately could tell she wasn't shaving! My fingers ran through her thick pubic hair until I pressed them between her thighs which she still had clasped tight together.

"Move onto the bed," I told her, pulling my hand out to allow her to do so. Ashley seemed to be in a trance, not saying anything yet doing as I instructed. I stood up by the bed and grabbed her jeans on each hip and started to work them down. While she didn't say anything, I was pleased to notice she was lifting up her bottom to allow me to more easily remove them!

With her jeans off, next was the panties and before I think she even quite realized it, Ashley was laying naked on her bed before me, her eyes closed tightly as if by not seeing she was naked it was like she really wasn't.

"Oh my god Ashley... you look so pretty," I praised her, running my hands over her nude form from her boobs down to her hips and over her upper thighs. Each time I worked my way a little more between her thighs until finally I was pressing my hand to her furry crotch with the long black pubic hair. She obviously trimmed the edges for her swimsuit but that seemed to be about the extent of it when it came to pubic hair maintenance. I smiled as it reminded me of my mom and her pussy.

Ashley opened her eyes and she looked panicked. "Kelly, I don't know if I can do this anymore."

I just smiled at her as I stripped off my shorts. Of course I wasn't wearing panties - I wear them even less than I do bras! So now we were both naked in her room.

"You can do it Ashley... you can do it for your husband."

She just closed her eyes again, as if trying to shut out what was happening but at least she wasn't stopping me from doing anything. I stood at the edge of the bed and leaned over her nude form, this time though instead of using my fingers I used my lips and tongue up and down her nakedness. I couldn't help but notice the odor of her pussy as my face passed by her crotch. God she smelled so good!

Kissing her thigh, I gently pressed her legs apart and looked upward towards her crotch where her pussy lay hidden beneath all that pubic hair. With my fingers I parted her hair until her pussy was exposed and I was pleased to see it looked to be a little wet even! A touch of my finger on her confirmed the diagnosis. Climbing on the bed, I kneeled between her legs and ran my hands up and down her thighs, concentrating on the sensitive smooth inner skin. It was now or never so I kissed her belly right below her belly button and felt her squirm underneath as I tickled her with my tongue. Slowly I worked my way down until I felt her pubic hair against my face and then I finally felt my tongue on her pussy slit and tasted her. Oh yes!

"Kelly!" she blurted out. I wasn't sure if she was trying to stop me or encourage and indeed, I wouldn't have been surprised if it had been a little of both. I paid no attention and started to eat her pussy, running my tongue up and down her slit and then I pressed my forefinger inside of her, penetrating her pussy like a small dick.

"Kelly!!" she blurted out even more urgently this time but this time I think it was more out of pleasure than worry.

As I ate Ashley's pussy and played with it with my mouth and one hand, I started top masturbate myself with the other. Damn I was so fucking horny! I found myself wishing that Ben WAS watching us so that he could fuck me like I needed to be fucked so badly at this moment.

Ashley was bucking now under me, her butt lifting off the bed and dropping back again. Looking up, I was thrilled to see that even without me encouraging her she was holding her boobs, rubbing them and playing with her nipples.

"Oh my God Kelly... what are you doing to me?" she gasped as her hips lifted up and she held herself there as I buried my face into her, pressing my tongue up into her swollen pussy as my nose pressed in against her clit. "Oh my god!"

Ashley's first orgasm burst out and she moaned and sighed to where I was afraid her daughters might hear and had they been standing outside the door, odds were they would have. There was no reason to think they would be so I felt pretty safe and besides, they weren't MY daughters!

Ashley grabbed my head and pressed in down tight into her pussy as if she didn't want me to ever stop what I was doing. Seeing as how I'd been experiencing this since I was a preteen, I couldn't even imagine what it must be like to have your first orgasm when you're in your thirties!

Then just as suddenly as it had struck her, she collapsed and laid back in the bed almost lifeless, her body convulsing slightly every now and then as the aftershocks of her first orgasm struck. I moved to her side and laid next to her, pressing my nude body against hers with my leg draped over hers so my pussy was pressing up against her hip. Caressing her face, I kissed her.

"Oh!" she uttered as she recoiled and I realized that she must be tasting her own pussy for the first time on my face as we kissed. I know some girls who claim to not like the taste of their pussy but I'm certainly not one of them!

"It's just you Ashley," I assured her, "enjoy it."

We kissed again, this time without her pulling away.

"Oh my god Kelly, what happened to me?" she finally sighed as she opened her eyes and looked into mine.

I just smiled and pressed my pussy in harder against her, humping her slightly. "Welcome to the club Ashley. You just had your first orgasm."

"I never knew I could feel that way," she muttered in a soft tone.

"Well, now that you DO, you know how to make it happen again," I reminded her.

That drew a response from her. "Oh now... I could never do that - not to myself."

I chuckled a little and humped her a little harder, feeling her hip bone rubbing against my clit. "I seem to recall someone telling me they could never imagine a girl eating her pussy."

"Touch,," Ashley answered, a sly grin now on her face.

"You know, I bet nothing would turn ben on more tonight than watching you make yourself cum in front of him."

Ashley stared at me, not saying anything but I could see the questioning in her eyes.

"Oh yeah," I assured her, "Men LOVE watching girls masturbate. Didn't you see any of that stuff when you were checking on Ben?"

"Well yeah but that's porn," she finally responded.

"True... and that's what turns men or else why would they show it?"

She seemed to accept that but she didn't really say whether or not she would do it. Well, time would tell.

God I was horny! If I couldn't get fucked, the least Ashley could do was return the favor! I was about to suggest that very thing when there was a knock on the door.

"Mom? Are you in there?"

It was her daughter again. God, talk about timing!

"Oh my god!" Ashley cursed under her breath as she bolted upright in bed. She quickly gathered her clothes and started to dress.

"Get dressed Kelly!" she urged me.

I had less to put back on so I was finished by the time she was, even granting her a head start. The room must have smelled of sex, something I wondered if Ashley had considered.

"Any air freshener?"

Obviously she had NOT considered it but when I asked about the air freshener the look on her face told me she was now. Her eyes practically bulged out of her face and she looked around desperately before finally grabbing some perfume and sprinkling it around in lieu of anything else.

"Mom?" the voice outside the door grew more urgent as the door knob turned, "What are you guys doing in there? Why is the door locked?"

Ashley unlocked the door and outside all the kids were lined up in a row and promptly came into the bedroom in single file.

"It smells in here," her youngest daughter said, wrinkling her nose.

"Geeze mom, enough perfume?" the twelve year-old said in that classic tween condescending tone. Well, at least she wasn't asking why it smelled like two people had been having sex.

"Are you OK mom?" the older one asked, noticing the red flushness of Ashley's face.

"I'm fine, now you guys get out of here and we can have some snacks in the kitchen, ok?" Ashley replied, scurrying them out of the room before it got any more awkward.

"Next time Ben will be watching," I reminded her with a grin.

Ashley started to protest but then she just shook her head. I couldn't quite be sure if she was saying no or just amazed at what all had just happened. I could still taste her pussy on my tongue and lips. Yep, personally I was rooting for the latter!

(Sep 13) Chapter 275: Ashley Madison 2

Story codes: MF FF MFF inc father daughter adultery
Me (30)
John - my dad (50)
Ashley - girlfriend
Ben - Ashley's husband

It was only a couple of weeks ago that my friend Ashley confided in me that her husband had been one of the men "outed" in the Ashley Madison debacle. One of the things she learned about her husband were his fantasies of having a threesome with her and another woman. Until then she had never even been with another man, let alone a woman, so she came to me for advice. So now she's been with a woman but the question remained, could she muster up the courage to allow her husband to realize his fantasy?

1. First Times

First of all, if you haven't read my diary entry from 2015 (Aug 29) Chapter 274: Ashley Madison 1, I'd advice starting there as I'm not going to repeat everything. So here's a BRIEF summary to serve as a reminder for those who did read it...

Ashley and Ben are two friends of mine going back to our grade school days. While we're quite different in many ways, particular when it comes to sex, Ashley and I just seem to click and we each respect the other's convictions and lifestyle choices, even if we don't necessarily agree with them. For instance, Ashley was a virgin when she got married whereas I'd lost mine when I was fourteen and had sex with literally hundreds of men prior to being married - ironically to the same guy who took my virginity (talk about going full circle!). My husband's sexual resume, while not as extensive as mine, was pretty impressive but so far as Ashley knew, Ben had also been a virgin when they took their vows. What she didn't know was that he and I had sex once back in high school - something I never intended to ever tell her. While I'm not what I would call a lesbian, I do enjoy sex with women while Ashley had never even kissed a girl. Steve and I enjoy swapping and mixing it up but neither Ashley or Ben have never been with another partner since their marriage day.

I found it rather ironic therefore when Ashley came to me seeking advice after finding out her husband had been a member of Ashley Madison. What I mean is that although I had found out my husband was a member, it would have been no big deal yet he wasn't. Yet in Ashley's case, where it WAS a big deal to her, her husband was a paying member.

When Ashley confronted Ben, he admitted his membership but claimed it was just something he did on line and had never actually met anyone. Ashley believed him, just as I would have. While Ben and I shared something we could never totally put aside, it wasn't something we ever discussed or even mentioned. Fortunately for him, being a man his wife didn't know that he wasn't really a virgin on his wedding night but seeing as how it was just a one-time thing with a girl back in high school, I'd have to say he was pretty much a virgin in spirit!

The biggest issue for Ashley was Ben's confession that he'd always fantasized about having another woman join them for sex. For Ashley, I'm not sure which part of that bothered her the most - her husband wanting to have sex with another woman or him wanted to watch HER having sex with another woman!

Long story short (again, see my diary entry for the details) Ashley and I had sex in her bedroom while our daughters played outside. I only mention our daughters since while they had NO idea what their mothers were doing, they DID interfere by knocking on the door before we'd done everything I'd hoped we'd do but the important thing was that Ashley had crossed the line - two lines in fact. First, she had sex with a girl for the first time and in doing so, in her mind she technically had sex with someone other than her husband which was adulterous. Personally, I would disagree with the adultery thing as unless a cock other than your husband's penetrates your vagina without your husband's permission and/or acceptance, it's NOT adultery but then as I mentioned earlier, Ashley and I have our own views on things and I respect her beliefs.

So now the question was... what next?

2. Making Arrangements

For me, the "What's next?" question was easy - tell me husband. While Steve and I don't necessarily share every sexual experience we have when apart, I do try to keep him up to date on what I think are the more important events. For instance, a simple blowjob at a store or even a quickie for lunch with a friend isn't all that exciting to talk about but I knew Steve would get off hearing about me and Ashley doing it for the first time. Indeed, I knew Steve had a thing for her and had she and Ben been receptive I'm sure he would have had no problem trading wives with Ben for a night! But like me, Steve respects other people's morals and lifestyles and it's not like we had to have sex with EVERY couple we were friends with to enjoy being with them.

Of course Steve was excited to listen to me tell him all the details. He came practically as soon as he started fucking me after I'd finished which was a little more troublesome these days as recovery time now that he was in his thirties wasn't quite the same as back in his teenager days when it was like he could fuck me over and over again without a break. Yet the time in between allowed us to talk more about the two of them and of course his initial reaction was to ask why it couldn't be a foursome. I tried to explain to him that this was just a "fantasy come true" thing, not like Ben was looking to open up their marriage or anything like that. I had no doubt that IF it ever happened it would be a one-time thing, much like when I have sex with cheating husbands who need to have that adulterous episode they always dreamed of but once it was over, it was over. I have to give Steve credit though, he tried every which way to find an angle including offering to hide a video cam so he could watch if they wouldn't allow him to do so in person but I finally convinced him that he would have to be satisfied with my recounting of the day afterwards.

So while breaking the news to MY husband was easy, I had to wonder what was happening between Ashley and Ben. Oh sure she had SAID she was going to propose something to him but I had to admit I had my doubts as to whether she could go through with it. We met for lunch again later the following week and she turned so red when I even brought up the subject that I dropped it and we never said another word about Ben, let alone what had happened between us the week before.

The day after Labor Day I ran across Ashley at the store and we took a break at Starbucks. It was just us, no kids this time, so we didn't have to worry about little ears overhearing our discussion. Not that they would have likely understood anything although her oldest was twelve now and might have questioned a few things. At first we just chatted as usual but finally I knew one of us had to bring up the elephant in the room and it certainly didn't appear it would be her.

"So Ashley, have you talked to Ben yet?" I finally had to ask.

Poor Ashley's face turned bright red which could have gone either way. Then she nodded which actually surprised me as I would have given odds she had chickened out.

"I hope you're not embarrassed about what we did," I said trying to smile sweetly.

After a moment's hesitation she answered, "I still don't know quite HOW I'm supposed to feel about that."

I grinned at her saying, "Well, I know how I do... I loved it."

"Well sure YOU did," she said a little sullenly, "But I'm not a slut."

If we hadn't been such close friends I might have taken that in the wrong way but I knew what she intended to say, even if it had come out rather snarky.

"We'll just have to keep working on that problem," I teased her and she just rolled her eyes in a "whatever" expression. "So have you talked to Ben or not?"

Ashley heaved a bit of a sigh and replied, "Actually I did. Yeah, I know that surprises you but we talked about it over the weekend - it took me all week to get up the nerve. So anyways... he seems thrilled - even more so when I told him it would be with you."

"Oh really?" I commented, trying not to look TOO pleased.

Ashley frowned. "Yeah... not so sure how to take that to be honest. Maybe a little TOO thrilled if you know what I mean."

"Well I'm sure it really wasn't anything to do with me so much as he's excited about doing it with you," I jumped in, not wanting the conversation to go off in any direction where she might suspect that Ben and I had anything but a chaste history.

"I don't know," she said slowly, looking at me with what might have been a little suspicion but then it may have just been my guilty conscience. "Now it's all he talks about when we're alone... Kelly, Kelly, Kelly."

"Did you tell him about last week?" I asked, curious more than ever to know.

Ashley's eyes widened and she shook her head. "Hell no," she replied quickly. For her to use a rare profanity just emphasized how she felt about it. "I'll never tell him. It's bad enough to talk to him about this as it is."

We paused for a few minutes to eat some lunch and then she put her fork down and looked me in the eyes.

"So how do you do this sort of thing anyways?" she asked, "I mean, I don't even know how to get started."

I reached over and took her hand in mind and gently gave it a squeeze. "Tell you what... leave everything to me. You just get someone to take care of the kids Sunday afternoon and I'll come over right after church is done."

For a moment I thought maybe I'd pushed a little too hard in suggesting a date so close but then she seemed to relax. "What do I wear then?"

"Well, you guys always go to church, right?" I asked although of course I knew the answer since I saw her and her family there every week. She nodded and so I continued, "So let's both just wear out church outfits. I bet that turns on Ben even more than if we were in lingerie."

It was obvious she hadn't been thinking along those lines but then she wasn't as experienced as me when it comes to such things. It's the taking of innocence that turns men on so what better than to have us dressed in the same outfits we'd just worn to church?

"Well, if you say so," she answered although not too confidently. So we were set, or least for the moment. I still wasn't ready to make any major bets on Ashley carrying out this plan. Something told me she'd chicken out, even at the last minute. As much as I loved my friend, I knew our little adventure the previous week had only taken place because I caught her off guard. Now she was going to have plenty of time to think about things so would she really be able to do it?

3. Getting Ready

There were several reasons I suggested Sunday afternoon. First and foremost, Steve's schedule would have him home for the afternoon so I was appointing him the babysitter for our two girls. I wasn't sure what Ashley would do with hers as it wasn't like we could just lock them out of the bedroom this time. Oh well, that was her problem to figure out I guess. Then too, I guess I thought it would add a little spice to add the church element given how religious I knew Ashley was. While I'd like to think I am just as "religious" as she is in terms of our faith and commitment, she is much more narrow minded in her interpretations of the Bible and such so doing this on a Sunday right after the service just seemed the right thing to do.

The only person NOT excited was my poor husband who was stuck with babysitting chores while his wife was out having a good time. Oh well, not that I felt particularly guilty about that. There are a LOT more times when I'm the one keeping an eye on the kids while Steve goes out alone or with my aunt to some party so it dressed or in the bathroom in which case I might get undressed and have "normal" sex in bed. It didn't really matter to me as it was all for him. As his daughter I had a biblical duty to honor my father and submit to his so however he wanted to fuck me was just fine with me so long as he did.

"Hi daddy!" I returned my greeting, putting my arms around him as he pulled me in tight with his hands on my ass. We kissed for a few moments, his tongue and mine each exploring the other. AS we did he worked my skirt up over my butt and I felt his large hands cupping my bare ass.

"No panties, that's my girl!" he said approvingly. Well duh, of course I didn't have any panties on - when DID I?" The same with a bra although I sometimes would wearing both if I had a new outfit to show off. Still, most every time I went over on Sunday morning I made it a point to leave my underwear at home. Even if I DID wear it there, it was a pretty safe bet it never made it to church!

"Sorry I'm a little late," I apologized as he started to feel me up.

"No problem... I'm ready to go!" he reassured me. Reaching down between us, I could feel his cock bulging out against his pants - yes indeed he was!

"Besides, I was thinking maybe after the service we could go out for lunch and get a little naughty in the parking lot."

Hmmmmmm, as much as it sounded inviting, I already had other plans. So much for not telling my dad about my upcoming adventure! As I undid his belt and worked on his zipper, I quickly used the opportunity to explain my conflict and sure enough, I'd been correct as to what his reaction would be - spot in in fact.

"OH I remember Ashley - the little one that always wore a one-piece bathing suit," he mused as he stood there with his hands to his side as I pushed his pants down enough to free his erection. Mmmmmmm, he was really hard and I couldn't help but wonder if memories of my friend were having any impact. I couldn't help but smile - he WOULD remember that about her. Nothing my dad hated more back then than was when one of my girlfriends would hide her assets. Then again, had Ashley any ideas of the thoughts my dad was having about her she probably would have never come over to my house again!

"Good grief, she goes to our church dad," I responded with a hint of exasperation, "Like you see her every week." Then again, being twice the age she was back when he was masturbating about her he probably didn't notice her these days, especially as conservative as she tends to dress.

the first. I don't think I'll ever grow numb to the sensation I feel when my father first enters me. Yes, I'll admit I LOVE it when our bodies join as one, when my father gives me what only he can - my father's incestuous cock. My dad doesn't have the longest dick or the thickest. He doesn't have any magical staying powers and at his age he's pretty much a single shot musket rather than the revolver he'd been when he was younger. None of that concerns me as the only thing that DOES matter is the fact that he is my father and that for a few brief moments in time he and I are joined together as one, sharing our love for each other in the most intimate way possible as I submit myself totally and selflessly to him in any way he asked.

"Ohhhhhh daddy!" I moaned loudly, pushing my butt back against him when he would drive his hard incestuous dick deep inside of my wet willing pussy, "Fuck me daddy, I want you to cum inside of me."

Indeed, that was one of the things I loved most when having sex with my dad - having him ejaculate while buried as deeply as he could push himself inside of me. Pulling out and cumming on my face or boobs was the sort of thing people do for porn videos, not in real life, or at least not when a father fucks his daughter.

"God I love you Kelly!" my father exclaimed suddenly as I felt him ram his erect dick as deep as he could inside of me. From our extensive past history I knew what THAT meant so I closed my eyes to allow me to focus on the happenings between my legs which meant so much to me.

Over and over my dad jerked and I knew each time another load of my father's cum was being deposited inside of my body. Finally he finished and for a moment he just stood there with me impaled on his now spent dick.

"We better get going," he said suddenly and pulled out of me. Without his dick acting as a plug I could feel his cum draining out of me and down my ass and thigh. Hmmmmmm, for a moment I questioned my decision about my panties. Maybe I SHOULD have brought a pair with me for no other reason than to catch his massive load of cum as it drained out of me! It's not like I had to KEEP them on after all.

"Just like a man," I teased him, "He cums and then it's all over. What about me?"

"Shit, you can always do yourself in the car on the way over if you're THAT horny," he came right back. Yep, he might be my dad but he thinks like any other man. It's all about HIS orgasm.

I knew my aunt was waiting impatiently in the car so I pulled my skirt down and checked out my hair in the hallway mirror. Not perfect but good enough. I was about to head down the stairs after my dad when I felt something between my legs and made a detour for the kitchen where I grabbed a washcloth and quickly wiped between my thighs to collect the cum that was draining out of me. I decided to hang onto the washcloth as no doubt there would be more cum where that came from.

"Well it's about time," my aunt groused when I finally hopped into the back seat. I just ignored her as she seemed to be in one of her strange moods today and I'd learned from bitter experience that when she was like that it was best just to leave her be.

As my dad pulled out from the garage and hit the door opener button on the rear view mirror, I leaned back into the corner behind the driver seat and spread my legs enough so I could rub my pussy. By the time my dad was on the street I was already masturbating. Ok, so sue me, I was horny!

"Really?" my aunt asked with exasperation in her voice when she realized what I was doing.

"Hey, I'm only doing what dad suggested," I came back with.

"That's a bunch of crap - don't blame your father, I know you a LOT better than to listen to that," she said with a smile. Oh sure, like SHE didn't do it all the time herself.

Aunt Linda turned back around and poked my dad in the ribs. "So let me guess... left your poor daughter high and dry again?"

My dad just chuckled and nodded back towards me in the seat behind him. "I wouldn't exactly say dry."

"Oh you goof!" my aunt retorted, poking him a little harder.

In truth I wasn't really paying all that much attention to them. Instead my eyes were focused on the people in the cars next to us and walking on the sidewalks as we drove by. It was exhilarating to be able to lay back in the seat and rub my freshly fucked pussy - fucked by my own dad no less, and being so close to my orgasm finally which they either drove by or walked by totally clueless of what was going on just a few feet away. I've always loved public sex an masturbation. Oh sure I'd like them to actually see me but in some ways this was even better where I was doing it with them in sight so close to me yet without any knowledge about it. In some ways it was actually more erotic for me to be in a place where people COULD see me than to be where they actually did. I guess maybe because the people who would stay and watch weren't the ones I wanted to see react to my activities.

"Better hurry up if you're going to do it," my dad warned me. Yeah, like I needed to be told. I was horny, not blind!

"Oh yeah!" I moaned with my eyes closed as my orgasm crested and came crashing down on me like a monster wave on a surfer's beach. Just then my dad made the turn into the church parking lot and even in my current state I had the wherewithal to slouch down a little bit more in the seat. Tinted windows or not I wasn't about to let any of the uptight church ladies catch me getting off in the middle of the church parking lot. As much as I'd love to see the expression on their face, years of discipline imposed by my parents ensured I took the proper precautions.

"You done?" I heard my aunt asking softly as my dad parked and turned off the vehicle.

Like when is anybody ever really DONE when they masturbate? OK, maybe guys who only carry a single shot musket but as a girl with the pussy equivalent of a semiautomatic Glock I could have kept going for the rest of the afternoon given the opportunity. If anything, my orgasms just get better the longer I do it. Still, I knew what she meant by the question.

"I guess you could say that," I replied to her teasingly, "Or maybe you'd like to finish me off after the service?"

She just rolled her eyes and answered, "Careful there, horny little nieces shouldn't ask for something unless they're prepared to get it."

"And who said I wasn't prepared?" I teased her as I tugged my skirt down as I scooted out of the SUV. Not TOO much but just enough to be at least a little bit decent - after all, it WAS church so displaying my bare butt wouldn't have been exactly socially acceptable.

My dad finally intervened, "That's enough of THAT you two, or maybe we should just skip the service?" he asked with a sly grin.

"DAD!" I blurted out before my aunt could get in a word edgewise. He knew better - church ALWAYS came first on Sunday.

"Oh don't get your panties in a bunch," he teased me and then raised his eyebrows to add, "Oh that's right... you aren't wearing any panties!"

"John...," my aunt said softly, nodding at the people we were about to join. Sometimes my dad needed to be reminded to behave himself and she took it upon herself at those time to nag him a little. It really would be bit hard to explain how my dad knew I wasn't wearing panties - or even why I wasn't wearing them in the first place.

The church service followed the usual routine so nothing really of note happened. As I sat in the pew between my father and aunt, I couldn't help but look around and wonder what people would say if they had any idea of what I'd been doing with my dad over the past hour, or the conversations I'd shared with my aunt. Other than perhaps revealing what some of the more conservative women in the congregation apparently considered to be too much leg when I crossed my legs and allowed my skirt to ride up, I was pretty sure nobody had any idea that under my outfit there was nothing but me. Well, maybe being braless was a little more obvious but these days with the styles available, no panties lines didn't necessarily mean a woman was going commando.

As I looked over the congregation I saw other girls sitting next to their fathers and I wondered how many of them were fucking their dads. If I had to bet I would have figured at least a few. Based on my own past I knew what people see in church and what happens in the privacy of your own home aren't necessarily anywhere close to being the same thing. Oh sure people sometimes commented on how close my dad and I were but I really doubt whether anyone actually knew just how close we really were.

As the sermon droned on (my least favorite part of the service), I started thinking about Ben and Ashley. I'd arranged with Ashley to where my dad would drop my off after the service so we could all go to lunch together and sort of break the ice a bit without having to jump right into the middle of things. I noticed they weren't in church this morning so I wondered what they were doing right now. Ashley and I really hadn't talked much about what we were going to do but then I hadn't really pushed her into that sort of conversation as I was worried it might overwhelm her and lead to her changing her mind.

Sitting still in the pew. my pussy tingled as various scenarios played out in my head. With my legs crossed I squeezed down a little and was rewarded with a sharp sensation between them, causing me to let out a little squeak before I could better control myself. It was all I could do to keep my hands from reaching down and I found myself longing for winter when I could have my coat over my lap to hide such things. Of course none of this escaped the watchful eyes of my Aunt Linda.

"Behave yourself!" she whispered as softly as she could while nudging her shoulder against mine. I just smile and looked at her with a "what are you talking about?" expression, as if I didn't know what she meant. She wasn't buying it of course...

"It's your fault so live with it."

She turned her head back towards the front of the sanctuary but I got the message. Without panties to soak things up, if I got myself TOO horny it could be a bit embarrassing to walk out of the church with wet spots on the back of my skirt. Not that it hadn't happened in the past but these days I was over thirty so people wouldn't just attribute it to being a typical teenage girl daydreaming in church.

Still, I was getting more and more excited about the possibilities of my upcoming afternoon tryst. The combinations and permutations were practically endless! For instance, how much would Ashley participate? Would she be able to play with me in front of her husband? Doing it behind closed doors in her bedroom was one thing but with an audience - even if it WAS her own husband? How would she react to seeing her husband fucking me - assuming of course he did which I figured was a pretty sure bet at this stage. I've had to deal with situations where the wife loved it to others where she found that turning fantasy to reality sometimes requires a heavy price be paid.

"Kelly... earth to Kelly."

My thoughts were interrupted again by my aunt nudging me and I realized that everyone was praying as the pastor concluded his message. I quickly bowed my head and said a few prayers of my own - undoubtedly with nothing in common with what our pastor was praying for!

When the service concluded we were waiting in line to greet the pastor when my best friend Beth passed by with her husband and two kids in tow. It had been a while since I'd seen her so we hugged as her husband shook hands with my dad. I smiled as I saw them as I was pretty certain that Beth's husband had no idea that my dad had fucked Beth back when we were in high school - twice for that matter. It was pretty significant as back then he was married to my mom with a strict "no adultery" rule in place so to fuck anyone outside their marriage family was pretty much out of the question. I think my mom only went along as Beth and I were so close it was almost like Beth WAS a member of our family. The other important point was that it was the second time when my dad fucked Beth that she learned that he was fucking me as well, making her at the time the only person outside our family that knew this was happening.

"I can't believe you're wearing that outfit to church," she said softly to me as we hugged, "You know you're going to get the church ladies all in snit again if you're not careful."

She stood back and then grinned, meaning forward as if to hug me again but what she really wanted was to get close enough to me so that she wasn't overheard.

"Are you horny or what? Your nipples are poking through like headlights!" she said quickly in a voice so low I could barely hear her yet her mouth was up next to me ear. "And you really should wear panties afterwards... I assume that's what those spots are at least."

Crap, that meant my earlier concerns about dripping onto the back of my dress had been realized. I turned to my dad who had been up for hours. Although I didn't say anything, I couldn't help but think the least he could have done was warn me when we got up so I wouldn't have paraded around with a spotted dress.

"What can I say?" I simply replied, shrugging and smiling.

"You're incorrigible," she giggled after which she said goodbye and left with her family.

I shook the pastor's hand, thanking him for the beautiful message although I hadn't heard a word of it. Then again, had anyone else? A little cynical, I know...

"Don't forget to drop me of at Ashley's," I reminded my dad as he prepared to pull out from his parking spot.

"So will we get to watch the video?" my dad teased as he turned onto the street.

"Oh daddy!" I groaned, my usual response to the same line of questioning we usually went through when he knew I was on my way to a sex party for even just a date. He always got the same answer yet since I first started dating he'd asked the question every time I was about to leave.

It was a pretty short ride to Ashley's and I stepped out of the SUV and blew a kiss goodbye to my father and favorite aunt. As they drove off I turned and walked to the front door, feeling like I was sixteen again on a first date. What would happen in the next few hours?

4. Can She Do It?

Ben answered the door after I rang the bell which sort of surprised me as I'd more or less expected Ashley to be the one. Not really sure WHY I felt that way, perhaps more because I thought she would want to control events, at least to some extent.

"Well imagine seeing you at my front door," Ben greeted me, his eyes quickly roaming over my body. "Nice outfit!"

Judging from the way his eyes were focused on my chest I assumed it was more what as under my outfit. Yeah, Ben had always been a boob guy, one reason most likely why he'd been so attracted to Ashley who had the biggest bra size of any of my friends back in those days. After two kids mine were now considerably larger than the tiny A-cups I sported through most of my high school years - not that the boys complained when I let them play with them!

"So where's Ashley?" I asked, "And the kids?"

Ben poked his thumb towards the house next door. "Kids are at the neighbors playing with their kids... good luck to them! Ash's still upstairs... getting dressed I guess or whatever you women do."

Standing in the living room now with front door closed. I checked to see the hallway was clear and turned to Ben.

"So just to be clear... she has NO idea what we did back then, right?"

Ben smiled naughtily. "Not even a hint. She'd die if she ever found out you know. All that crap about marrying as virgins and such... you know."

I just smiled and then he reached out and grabbed me by the waist with both hands, pulling me in closer to him as his hands slipped down and lifted my skirt up from behind until he had both my butt cheeks cupped in his hands.

"That's not to say I don't remember," he whispered huskily as he groped me, "God, it was so hard to keep a straight face when she thought she had to convince me to screw you."

A sound of a door opening caused him to suddenly pull away and I yanked my skirt back down. Just in time too as Ashley made her appearance. I can't day really what I'd expected her to wear but I HAD assumed it would be a least a little suggestive. Instead, she looked more like she was dressed for church - at least the way most women dress for church, with a conservative dress that came down to just above her knees without even any revealing any cleavage.

"Hi Kelly, sorry I wasn't ready," she apologized as she came up to me and gave me a hug. She started to pull back but I wasn't going to let her get off THAT easily, not with what I had been hoping for all the past couple of weeks. So I pulled he back to me and kissed her on the lips. At first she resisted, more out of instinct I think, but finally she responded and for at least a minute we stood there kissing like lovers in front of Ben who was clearly enjoying himself.

"Now THAT's worth the price of admission," Ben gushed, "Damn, I have to admit I wasn't sure if this whole thing wasn't some practical joke you guys had concocted for me."

"Well Ben, then you ain't seen nothin' yet," I teased him as we parted from our kiss.

There was a bit of a pause at that point, it was like neither of them had any idea quite how to move things along from this point so I decided to help out a little.

"So lunch then? Where do you guys want to go?"

Ashley stammered a little, allowing Ben the opportunity to do what guys do... cut to the heart of the discussion. "You know... personally I think I'd rather just stay here and have some pussy for lunch," he said with a lewd grin, his eyes dwelling on first his wife and then me and then back to her again.

Ashley looked a little distressed and I knew this might be moving things a little fast for her. But then again, I was a little surprised as to how easily she adapted to kissing me in front of her husband. Maybe Ben had the right idea in getting right down to things without a lot of "foreplay".

"I guess that would be OK with me," Ashley said but her tone of voice didn't sound as confident as her words might have suggested. "Kelly... is that OK with you?"

Duh! Let's see... waste away an hour or more at some place like Eat n' Park or get in bed with a sexy married coupe...? Oh yea, like THAT was a hard decision to make.

"Sounds good to me," is what I actually said, trying not to sound TOO excited about skipping the boring parts.

Another pause but this time I left it to one of them to pick up the torch and lead.

"So how does this work?" Ben asked, looking at me as if I was the professional. Then again... I was!

"Hmmmmmm," I pondered with my hand under my chin as if in deep thought. Then I took Ashley by the hand and the two of us turned to face her adoring husband. "Ashley and I have been practicing Ben... would you like to see what she's learned?"

"Oh really?" Ben said, looking rather surprised as he turned his gaze to his wife who was blushing like a high school freshman on her first date. I realized then that she must not have told him about what she and I had done before asking him about fulfilling his fantasy. Naughty girl!

"Why don't you take a seat then Mr. Ben... and watch," I told him, more a directive than a question actually.

Ben had a huge grin on his face now as he reluctantly backed off and took a seat in the middle of the large couch, stretching his arms out along the top and leaning back against the cushions with his legs parted slightly.

"You ready?" I asked Ashley gently as I turned to face her.

"I guess so," she answered barely audibly, her eyes looking down at the carpet.

"I love you Ashley," I said loud enough for her husband to hear. With that I put my hands on the sides of her head and we kissed again, quickly turning it into a deep passionate kiss like we had learned to do back in her bedroom. I didn't look at Ben but I knew he must have been staring at the sight before him.

"Undress me," I said to her after we'd kissed for a while. Personally I couldn't wait to get that dress off of her but I figured it would be easier for her if I got naked first. It's not like her husband had never seen her naked of course, but more about what it symbolized.

Ashley bit her lower lip and then she licked her lips which seemed to have become dry suddenly. It's not like there was all that much to remove after all. A few buttons down the front of my blouse freed it and without a bra underneath I was quickly topless. Once she started it was like she didn't want to stop or she might lose her nerve so she unzipped the back of my skirt and it dropped to my ankles before she could grab it, revealing my bare ass underneath as I stepped out of it. Of course I left my heels on - they would stay on all day no doubt.

"I was wondering...," Ben commented as he grinned looking at my naked butt. "Still hate underwear I see."

Ashley gave him a sharp look, like she wanted to ask him he knew my preferences regarding the wearing of underwear but I think he realized his slip-up as soon as the words were out so he quickly attempted to recover.

"Oh like everyone doesn't know that," Ben admonished his wife, "It's not like she tries to hide it. Shit Ashley, you use to call her a slut even back in high school, remember?"

Ashley seemed to accept this so a potential crisis was averted.

"My turn," I said, more to Ashley but for her husband's benefit too. I turned her around so I could reach the zipper on the back of her dress, undoing the clasp first and then slowly dropping it down to her lower back before it bottomed out. Of course she had on a white bra underneath and as I slipped it over her shoulders and lifted it over her head I saw the matching panties.

I was a little amused at how red her face was now that she was standing there naked in front of us. She started to push off her heels but I stopped her.

"Leave them on Ashley. When I come home alone, the FIRST thing I remove is my heels. When I come home with a man, the LAST thing I remove is my heels."

She couldn't help but smile and while I felt a little guilty plagiarizing an old line from some Hollywood actress, it DID serve to lighten her mood so why say anything?

Once again we kissed and this time I allowed my hands to start exploring her soft warm body. God I love the feel of a woman! Not that I don't like touching men but let's real... a woman simply feels a lot better than a man! My hands roamed down her bare back and then I cupped her buttocks, drawing her in closer to me as our exposed breasts pressed against one another's. My nipples tingled at the feel of her boob pressing against them so I wasn't the least bit unhappy when she surprisingly took the lead and started to caress my breasts even before I touched hers.

"Lay on the couch," I whispered to her and guided her over to where Ben was sitting. I motioned for him to move more to the end and then maneuvered Ashley so she was laying on her back with her head on her husband's lap. At first her legs were extended out until her feet met the arm rest but I gently pushed them up so she bent her knees and then spread them apart for me.

"Ever see a woman eat out your wife's pussy?" I asked Ben with a sly grin.

"Fuck no!" he was barely able to push out.

"Then watch and learn," I said as I lowered my face to my friend's hairy pussy. Mmmmmmm, she tasted even better than I'd remembered! My tongue quickly found her clit and she stiffened and groaned as my forefinger pushed in and explored her already soaking wet pussy.

"Don't just sit there watching," I scolded Ben, "Play with those boobs!"

Needless to say he didn't have to be told twice.

Ashley pressed her legs together so my face was captured by her soft smooth thighs. Oh yeah, they felt incredible against my cheeks! There's something special about a woman's skin in that erogenous zone between her upper thighs that feels so special! I can speak for myself in that I LOVE to be touched there, even if it's my own hands.

Ashley was twisting back and forth as her husband and friend worked together to bring her to the first of what I was hoping would be many climaxes this afternoon.

For a woman who claimed she didn't orgasm, she did a pretty darn good job after less than ten minutes of the proper stimulation.

"Oh my god!" Ashley moaned loudly as her hips lifted up off the couch and she stiffened like a board, "Oh god I'm cumming.... I'm cumming Ben!"

Ben? Like HE was the one licking her delicious pussy and tugging gently on her clit with my teeth? Was HE the one with two fingers up her wet hairy pussy? True, he was doing a fine job massaging her impressive boobs and tweaking her nipples but I'd like to think I was the one principally responsible for getting her off. After all, it's not like he'd been exactly doing it for her all these years. Oh well, it wasn't like it was a contest I guess.

"Oh my god," she kept moaning over and over. Yeah... if there's three words I'd love to purge from our daily vocabulary it would have to be, "oh my god" as it seems that's the only phrase people know when anything happens.

Finally she stopped and she just shut her eyes and breathed heavily, her chest rising and falling as she regained her breath. I looked up at Ben who gave me a thumbs up and a huge grin. I could only imagine what was pressing up underneath Ashley's head at that moment. Then again... why just imagine?

Getting back up on my feet, Ashley let her legs drop as she practically collapsed on the couch. I stepped over to Ben and gently took her head in my hands and pulled it down towards his knees so I could better see his crotch. Yep, there was definitely something there trying to get out!

"While she's recovering, what do you say I take care of your problem?" I teased him as I rubbed my hand on top of his pants right over his obvious erection.

Ben just looked at me and grinned, just waiting for me to carry out my suggestion so I undid his belt and pants, then unzipped his fly.

"Really Ben, tightie whities?" I huffed, feigning exasperation although in truth I was a bit miffed he didn't bother wearing boxer shorts if he simply HAD to wear underwear at all knowing what we had planned for the day.

"What can I say, it's all she buys for me," he said apologetically, pointing down at his docile wife.

"Whatever, I'll deal with it," I muttered as I worked his pants open and reached down under the elastic where the head of his dick was lurking not far down. It was hard to believe that so many years had passed since I last had my hand on this dick! Leaning over him with my hand around his cock, I whispered softly in his ear, "I've missed this."

Ben's eyes widened and he pointedly looked down at Ashley who wasn't asleep, she just was relaxing now and obviously he didn't want her to hear me say this sort of thing. For that matter neither did I but I couldn't resist the temptation to push the bar a little, especially if it turned him on as much as it did me.

I could see Ashley starting to get restless so before I went any further I took my free hand and rubbed her boobs just enough to get her attention. Her eyes opened finally and she looked over at me questioningly.

"Don't mean to disturb you Ashley but I thought you might like to watch me such your husband's dick."

Her eyes opened wide at that and she struggled to get her balance and sit up which worked for me as it made it easier to get at her husband's firm dick.

"Take his pants off for me," I directed her. Then I continued but I was looking at Ben as I said, "I don't want to let go of this nice hard dick."

Ashley almost robotically slipped off the couch onto her knees on the carpeting and pulled her husband's underwear and pants down to his ankles before removing his shoes and socks and then taking his pants off completely. Not surprisingly, she actually folded them before putting them on the couch over at the end!

The best part of all this was to leave Ben naked from the waist down with just his white dress shirt on. For the moment I decided to just leave his with the shirt as the most important part of his body was now revealed. He spreads his legs apart, his hairy crotch fully exposed.

"You're a very luck girl Ashley," I commended her, "Your husband has a WODNERFUL cock. I can't wait to taste it."

I didn't wait long, like big surprise, right? Mmmmmmm, he smelled so masculine and his dick felt so stiff yet smooth and soft as I first licked up the sides and then around the underside of his dick head. Them I took him between my lips as I started to seriously blow Ashley's well-hung hubby. Mmmmmmm, I could have sucked his dick for the rest of the afternoon! It certainly didn't hurt knowing his wife was watching another girl blow her husband for what she thought was the very first time.

"Help me Ashley... let's both suck Ben's delicious dick."

I ran my hands through his lush pubic hair, cupping his hairy balls in my hand as his naked wife took him in her mouth while I watched. We traded back and forth, first one of us licking him while the other sucked and then reversing roles.

"Fuck! You guys are going to make me cum!" Ben gasped as I felt him squirming on the couch under us.

"Remember what we agreed?" I reminded Ashley. She nodded but Ben couldn't help but notice our little exchange and as horny as he was at that moment he couldn't resist asking what this so-called "agreement" was. I turned to Ashley, sending her the message to answer her husband with my eyes.

Ashly took a deep breath and smiled sweetly at her husband. "Kelly gets all your cum today."

"So I can cum in her mouth?" Ben asked. I couldn't help but smile as I saw that it was directed more at his wife for her permission than at me for mine. Ashley just nodded and so he asked, "And I can cum inside her too? I mean in her pussy?" Ashley nodded yet again and Ben just sighed and let his head lay back against the couch as if he was in heaven. Then again, in a manner of speaking I suppose he was!

"You heard you wife... cum in my mouth Ben," I followed up before taking him in my mouth yet again. He came so quickly I had to wonder if the words we'd exchanged hadn't had as much to do with getting him off as our mouths although I'm pretty confident they had a lot to do with it.

I sealed his dick with my lips as my hand stoked his dick until I felt the first ejaculation send his sperm into my mouth, the sharp salty taste quickly filling my senses.

"Oh my god," he groaned as he came again and yet again into my mouth which as still sealed around his dick, keeping every drop inside. I didn't even get miffed at his use of my least favorite phrase but then when a guy is cumming in your mouth it's sort of hard to think about much else of anything.

When he finally finished I leaned back and opened wide to let the husband and wife see his gooey sperm coating my tongue. With a sly grin I closed my mouth and exaggerated as I swallowed it all down in one main gulp. It took a couple of smaller ones to clear my mouth but I don't count those. All gone, I opened my mouth and stuck out my tongue in my best porn-star imitation to show all his cum had been swallowed down into my belly.

"Mmmmmmm, this beats lunch at Applebee's any day!" I joked, well maybe a half-joke, as I licked my lips like a cat after enjoying a bowl of milk. Other than the flavor and texture of sperm as compared to milk, I guess I wasn't far from that!

Glancing over at Ashley who was perched on the couch with her legs tucked under her, I tried to read the expression on her face but it was like trying to deicer the Mona Lisa. Was she pleased or unhappy? Maybe a little of both? Maybe one more than the other? Normally I'm pretty good at reading people but she was making it difficult to say the least. Well, this was just a blowjob which in my dictionary doesn't even qualify as "real" sex so did it really matter?

Ben wasn't the teenage boy I'd fucked so many years ago so his dick pretty much went on strike and shrunk down to a fraction of its former grandeur. I could think of a number of ways to stimulate it back to form, the only question being which one? Well, if Ben was like 99% of the men I've encountered, I might as well take advantage of something I knew would work as well as anything... his wife. By that I mean ME and his wife of course! Especially given the way the last time Ashley and I had been together. Like, she owed me one, right?

"C'mon Ashley, I think Ben needs a little break so why don't we show him your new skills?"

Since technically she hadn't yet eaten another girl's pussy (not even her own for that matter assuming she was being truthful about her feelings regarding masturbation) she was a little confused but then Ben didn't have to know. All the better that he got to visualize us doing it even before today.

Ashley seemed a little hesitant but then I took that was from the fact she wasn't 100% sure even what I was referring to but didn't want to say so in front of Ben. So rather than spell it out, I basically took the same position she'd had earlier with my head on Ben's lap except this time his dick was out in the open next to my face rather than being cooped up inside his pants. Ashley moved out of the way so I could lay on my back and she quickly got the idea of what I was expecting her to do. If that wasn't enough, I made it painfully obvious by saying, "Your turn now Ashley, show your husband how much you love my pussy."

It had to be obvious to Ben that his wife wasn't exactly leaping at the chance but then no doubt he was assuming that we'd only done it once or twice so she was still a little nervous. If anything, I was willing to bet that turned him on all the more thinking that he was getting to see her "learn to be a lesbian", one of those all-time top male fantasies. At the same time, I think Ashley was more worried about disappointing her husband than she was about sticking her face into a girl's crotch so she managed to get in between my legs. I tried to give her some hints along the way, knowing that hearing me would just turn on ben all the more and get that dick to stiffen even faster.

"Lick along the inside of my legs," I said to her gently, running the backs of my fingertips of each hand along my inner thighs. Oh wow, that felt incredible, especially as horny as I was at that moment. Feeling her wet lips follow was even better as I looked down and watched my friend caressing my thighs with her long tongue.

"That's it... now work your way up to my crotch slowly."

Ashley followed my instructions to the letter, slowly but surely inching her way up, wetting my legs with her mouth and tongue as she did.

"That's it... use your fingers to open my pussy."

Ashley shifted her weight to get balance so she could move her hand between my legs. Using her thumb and forefinger she parted my wet pussy lips exposing my swollen clit and vagina entrance.

"Aren't pussies beautiful? I asked Ben, turning my head up to look at him. Ashley also looked up and a noticed a small smile on her face appeared as well.

"Now watch Ben... watch your wife eat my pussy."

Ashley took my cue and stuck out her tongue, albeit rather tentatively at first. I felt the tip touch my pussy right below my clit and then move up until she lingered over my clit. I shuddered slightly as chills ran up and down my spine. Oh yeah, one of the best things about being licked by a girl was she knew from the outset where to lick you. None of this journey of exploration that guys would embark on when they weren't very experienced. Heck, even the experienced ones would often leave the trail and get lost at times! It's pretty simple - stay on my clit!

"Oh yeah Ashley, right there!" I exclaimed although it was more for ben's benefit as Ashley knew what a girl wanted. Even if she didn't admit to masturbating, just the couple of times I'd eaten her out should have been plenty to provide her with a roadmap permanently etched in her brain.

"Finger my pussy... push your finger up inside of me."

This time she took a little longer to comply but eventually felt the pressure of her forefinger as it circled the entrance to my pussy, wetting the tip until it slide easily inside of me.

"Yesssssss Ashley... fuck me... fuck me with your finger," I encouraged her. She started to lift her mouth off of me to focus more on her finger but I pushed her head back down without saying anything and she quickly got the hint and continued licking my clit.

Reaching back with my hand I grabbed onto Ben's dick and was pleased to feel a little life already returning. I wasn't surprised. Heck, if watching his wife eating out the pussy of the first girl he'd ever fucked didn't get him going, what would?

"Talk to her Ben... tell her what to do."

I squeezed his dick slightly and started to tug on it, feeling it growing ever so slightly more.

"Make her cum Ashley. God damn you look so sexy!" he said in a voice filled with passion and lust. Oh yeah, it wasn't going to take him long to get hard at this rate and I knew without any doubt that he'd be more than ready to fuck me as fast as I could mount him.

Meanwhile I was about ready to cum. I turned my head and rubbed Ben's dick against my cheek as his wife made my pussy feel like it would explode.

And then it did.

OK, I have absolutely no idea what a guy feels when he cums. Heck, I can't even imagine having this thing hanging between my legs let alone what it feels like when it stiffens and shoots its load. It MUST feel good or else why would guys be so driven to do it? Still, at the same time I think women have an edge in the orgasm department. Ok, so men can pee standing up but women can cum and cum again and again and again whereas for men it's one and done. All I know for certain is that there is no feeling in the world to compare with my orgasm. Oh sure there are all sorts of variations on the theme. For me it's also as much a factor about the circumstance surrounding me at the time as the actual physical stimulation. For example, the orgasm I get with my husband is like that no other man can give me. We make love - the only man which I can say I do that with. Then again, even that is totally different from what I experience when I cum with my father's dick buried inside of me. True, my dad fucks me rather than making love to me but that's only because I am his daughter, not his wife and lover. With other men it's all about the when and were, not so much the who. Are we in public? Is it behind his wife's back? Hold is he? That sort of thing.

In this particular case it was all about getting licked out by a friend who had always been so chaste and conservative while being watched by her husband, the man who gave me his virginity yet his wife has no ideas as she eats me out that we'd even ever had sex before. I can make myself cum by myself so I didn't NEED Ashley to orgasm. What Ashley did was give me one that was even better.

Ashley tried to pull her face from my pussy as I came but I held her down with my free hand, not wanting to let go of her husband's dick. She didn't really try all THAT hard - my hand isn't THAT strong. After I'd cum I let her sit up and both Ben and I were treated to her face covered with my pussy cum. She started to raise her hand to wipe her face off but I stopped her.

"Don't do that... let me help," I told her, motioning her to come closer to me. Ashley looked a little perplexed but she did as I said and when she got close enough I reached for her and pulled her face to mine where I kissed her and licked my cum off her cheeks.

"Now THAT's hot!" Ben burst out causing both me and Ashley to look up at him and grin.

"I LOVE the taste of my pussy," I told him - and her in the process, "But it's even better when it's on a nice hard dick that just fucked me."

It wasn't like I was saying it just to turn him on - which it DID do as I knew it would. I really DO love the smell and taste of a woman's pussy - mine most of all. I started seriously masturbating when I was eleven. I say "seriously" to differentiate from those early years when I would explore myself out of curiosity but it wasn't until I was a little older that I learned how to get myself off. I'd experimenting by licking my fingers after touching myself at an early age but I learned that there was something special about it after I'd made myself cum. What I like about tasting myself on a guy's dick - other than the fact I love putting his dick in my mouth in the first place, is knowing that just moments before that very same cock had been buried deep inside my body and now after having left his seed in me I could taste him and me on it. It's sort of along the lines like how sprinkles make an ice cream cone even better.

Ashley and I kissed some more but now I was hornier than ever after having just come off such a great orgasm. So many thoughts were running through my head, so many reasons why I couldn't wait for him to fuck me. Of course there was the basic need just to be fucked - that pure and simple instinctive drive to be mated by a male. THAT goes without saying. I also was excited about renewing my sexual relationships with one of the few guys who I'd had the honor of revoking their virginity. I suppose what I was anticipating the most, of course, was to see Ashley's reaction when she witnesses her husband, who has supposedly never had sex with any other girl but her, fuck one of her best friends right in front of her.

"Are you ready?" I asked. I directed the question to Ashley, not Ben. There was no doubt in my mind judging by the firmness of the dick in my hand that her husband was ready and willing. Really, name me one man in the world who would say no to such an opportunity if he's being honest. No, it was his wife that I waited for a response from.

Ashley looked up at Ben and I could see the conflict in her eyes and facial expression. Up until now she had done pretty well if you were to ask me. I mean to go from being such a conservative marriage to even just the oral sex fun that we'd just shared was a HUGE step, more than I would have ever guessed she was capable of just a few weeks ago. But THIS was the real test. For some women sex represents their marriage and can't deal with their husband "cheating" with anyone else but her. "Forsaking all others" in their wedding vows is taking quite literally whereas for women like me, it's the intent that counts, not the literal interpretation. I will never cheat on my husband which is what I meant when I took my vows. That didn't mean I wouldn't have sex exclusively with him. Of course as things turned out I would do it with a lot more men that I'd expected when I said those vows!

"Ben?" she asked softly. It was almost like she was hoping he would suddenly rise to the challenge, declare his love exclusively for her, and tell her that he didn't need to have sex with anyone but her. Well heck, if that's what she was hoping for then she was even more na‹ve than I'd taken her for being.

In my eyes it was Ashley's "fault" she found herself in this position. She was the one who snooped and found out about his Ashley Madison account. She was the one who approached me and asked my advice. She knew me well enough so like what did she expect me to tell her? She was the one who made the arrangements. And now here she was, naked on top of me on her couch after having just shared her husband's dick with me (albeit only orally so far) and eaten me out in front of him. Honestly, what right did she have to think her husband could say no to anything at this point?

Ben bit his lip and for a brief moment I thought he might actually do it! Perhaps my cynicism was misplaced and there WAS one man in the world who could be that knight in shining armor and resist the most incredible temptations. Had things continued on this path, who knows, maybe he would have.

But not if I had anything to say about it!

"Fuck me Ben...," I suddenly broke the silence. It was like both of them came out of some sort of trance and Ben looked down at me and grinned broadly.

"Ashley?" was all he said, looking down at her and then at me. Mmmmmmm, I knew it, he wanted me! There are few better moments in life than to know a man wants me so badly that he's willing to do virtually anything to possess me, even for just a few brief moments. Ben wanted me - I could see it in his eyes, I could feel it in his hard shaft. I knew at that moment he wanted me more than his own wife - so much so even that he wanted to fuck me right in front of her.

From the look on Ashley's face, I could tell that she had come to the same realization. I couldn't help but wonder what it felt like to know that your husband desires another woman more than you, his wife. It was difficult because I can't say I've ever experienced that myself. Yes, I've seen the lust in my husband's eyes for other women. Yes, I've known how it feels to see my husband's most base instincts take over when a young girl offers herself to him. Yet I've never felt at any of those times that he wanted her more than me. I've never been in a situation where if my husband had to make a choice that he would choose anyone over me. It goes both ways in that I will always be faithful to husband. There's only one man to whom I would have to deny my husband if he ever tried to keep me from being with - my father. It's not a question of love - I love my husband more than anyone. It's simply that my dad is my father and that relationship can never be broken whereas a marriage could be. I pray that such a horrible decision will never face me! My Aunt Linda was forced to do so and I hope I would have the strength to make the same decision she did when her husband tried to stop her from having sex with her father.

"Sit back in the corner Ashley," I said to her softly, "Don't say a word... just watch."

For a few seconds I wondered if she was going to be able to do it but then her eyes dropped and she meekly moved to the far corner of the couch where she sat with her legs tucked up under her.

"OK Ben... this is it," I said to him as I lifted myself off my back and stood in front of him with nothing on but my heels. "Tell me... tell Ashley... say you want to fuck me."

Poor Ben! He wanted so bad to fuck me and I'm sure in his mind he was thinking why doesn't this woman just shut up and sit on his dick! But for me this was more than just sex. This was something that marked a major milestone in their lives, in their marriage. I wanted to make it something they would never forget, even if we never did anything like this ever again.

Ben looked over at his wife who was sitting silently in the corner, her hands clasped tightly in her lap to where I could see the whites of her knuckles. What I would have given to be able to read her thoughts at that moment! Then he drew a breath and looked directly at me, our eyes meeting and I could see the determination in them.

"I want to fuck you... Forgive me Ashley but I want to fuck Kelly so bad right now."

Good enough for me! I worked my way onto his lap and straddled his legs such that my ready pussy was directly over his dick which was so hard now it was pointing straight up like a missile ready to launch. I was about to reach down and guide him into me when I looked at Ashley and a light bulb went off over my head.

"Come here Ashley... guide him into me, help your husband to fuck me."

Ashley didn't respond at first but I could see from Ben's expression that he was on board. He turned his head to his reluctant wife and said, "C'mon Ashley, do it... I want you to be part of this."

Personally I thought Ashley had already been more a part of all this than she had expected and that this was maybe a bridge too far but Ben urged her again and she finally drew a deep breath and stood up on her heels.

"She's so beautiful, isn't she Ben," I said softly to him but loud enough for his gorgeous naked wife to hear me clearly, "You're so lucky to have such a sexy wife. You're so lucky to have a wife willing to let you do this."

That drew a smile from Ashley although I wasn't so sure she was as willing as I was making her out to be but the point was, she WAS doing it and in the end that's all that mattered.

"Kneel down and guide him into me," I instructed her. Ben and I watched as she knelt onto the carpet and reached between my legs for her husband's stiff erection. I helped a little by dropping down until I could feel the tip of his dick just touching me.

"That's it, rub it against my clit," I told her. She leaned over a little to get a better viewing angle and then I felt his cock pressing against my still super-sensitive clit. Oh wow that felt so good!

"Tell me again Ben... tell me what you want... tell your wife what to do."

I think Ben was about ready to shoot right then and there! His face was red and his breathing already a bit ragged as he looked down at his crotch where his wife was rubbing his cock against her friend's pussy. He never even looked up at me, he just stared down at what she was doing.

"Damn I want to fuck you so bad Kelly... so bad! C'mon Ashley, put it in her... now!"

Ashley held him in position and I did the rest, lowering myself down onto him until I felt the pressure of his head forcing its way into me. As wet and horny as I was, it didn't meet a lot of resistance and I moaned as I felt myself part open to accept him inside of me. I tried to take it slow, to savor the feeling as his dick pressed into me deeper and deeper but once he was about half way I couldn't hold back anymore and just dropped down and took all of him inside of me with my pussy pressed into the base of his shaft.

"Oh Ben!" I sighed, feeling exhilarated by the sense of fullness in me and the crazy sensations I was feeling emanating from my crotch that seemed to move out throughout my entire body as I rocked slowly on his dick.

Ashley didn't stay on her knees any longer than necessary and moved back to her corned on the couch as soon as I was impaled by her husband's now adulterous cock. OK, so maybe technically in my book it wasn't adultery as his wife was a willing participant, but somehow I got the idea from the look on her face at this moment that she wasn't quite as willing as she had been just a few minutes earlier.

Perhaps part of her change of heart was due to her husband's reaction to having his dick in me. Ben quickly reached around and grabbed my butt with both hands, helping me to rock on his cock and fuck him. I leaned forward so my boobs were in front of his face and he immediately started sucking on my nipples and burying his face in my cleavage. But what I think affected her the most, even more than seeing her husband's dick appearing and then disappearing back into my pussy, was when we kissed. It was wild and passionate and there could have been no doubt in her mind that this was more than mere sex... he LOVED fucking me!

Of course that's exactly what I wanted... I wanted him to love doing me. I wanted him to demonstrate to Ashley how much he enjoyed me. It became even more evident when he pulled me in tight and stood up, allowing me to wrap my bare legs around him as he turned and laid me on my back with my head right next to his wife. His dick never left my pussy during the entire time as he started to fuck me right next to his wife.

I was sort of hoping that Ashley would get more involved at this point, even if it was just reaching over and playing with my boobs or even my hair for that matter but she sat still in the corner, never making a sound and barely even registering an expression. Well, so long as she was still there and watching, I was happy. The last thing I wanted was to push too hard and have her leave the room!

Ben was losing himself as he fucked me hard and fast. He drilled his dick so hard into me that he would drive me towards Ashley a little more with each thrust until I felt my head pressing against her legs. It got to where his head was almost touching hers as continued to fuck me relentlessly.

"Oh my god... I love fucking you," he said suddenly which I think took all three of us by surprise. Oh sure it was obvious from his actions that he did but to come out and say it, and to say it just inches away from his wife? Mmmmmmm, this was working out even better than I'd hoped!

"That's it Ben... fuck me... I love your big cock inside of me!"

It was like Ashley wasn't even there anymore as Ben and I fucked like two lovers, each of us now telling the other how much we loved what we were doing, how good it felt, how we both wanted more. I couldn't see Ashley's face at this point and I was wishing we'd set up a video camera before we got started.

"I'm gonna cum!" Ben groaned as he pushed himself into me as deep as he could and held himself there.

"Cum inside of me Ben," I begged him - no acting skills required at this point, "Give me your cum... I want it in me!"

"Ben?"

It was the first sound I'd heard from her but if she was questioning her husband mating me, well that ship had already sailed. Ben grunted and I felt him thrust hard over and over as he ejaculated deep inside of me, filling my wet pussy with his sperm. It was like he would never end as it just kept pouring out of him until finally he was spent, dropping down onto his elbows and kissing me as his dick throbbed inside of me.

"Ben?"

This time is was little more urgent but neither Ben nor I wanted to deal with her at this moment. I felt so good... so complete. As he kissed me I could feel his dick moving ever so slightly inside of me. He kissed my nipples and then sucked on them gently, still keeping his dick in me.

"Get off of her Ben... that's enough, don't you think? Ok you fucked her so now get off!"

I was wondering if Ben was going to keep ignoring her as he continued sucking on my boobs but then he lifted up his head and said, "OK babe, don't worry."

With that I felt him pull put, leaving my pussy with that feeling of emptiness I get after any guy fucks me, like something was missing now and I wanted him back in me. I felt his cum draining from me and down my ass to where it was likely making a mess on the couch. He sat back on his heels on the couch, looking down at me with my legs spread apart, grinning as he was apparently admiring his creampie handiwork. His dick was almost deflated at this point but it glistened in the soft light with its wet coating of sperm and my pussy.

Looking directly at his dick, I licked my lips and said, "You know what I want now Ben..."

Ben looked at Ashley and while I don't know what she did, one way or the other Ben did what I wanted and straddled my chest to let me suck on his tasty dick.

"Mmmmmmm, I told you I loved tasting a dick after it fucks me," I said for Ashley's benefit. "You want a taste?"

"No, I don't think so," she said rather sharply, "Well Ben, are you happy now?"

Poor Ben. Here he was getting his dick sucked by a woman he'd just fucked and now his wife was already nagging him.

"What do you mean babe?"

"Don't 'babe' me," she spat out, "You know exactly what I mean. Did you enjoy fucking the whore?"

Now THAT was getting a little personal. If there's one thing I take offense at, it's being called a whore. Slut is just fine - can't deny that. But whore? Nope, I don't get paid for sex, at least not as a prostitute.

Ben got off of me which allowed me to sit up slowly as I tried to keep my balance. Ben stood in front of Ashley and reach out for her hands but she wasn't exactly cooperating.

"Ashley, you know I love you more than anyone," he pleaded with her. "You're the only one I want."

It was a little incongruous to hear him say that under the circumstances. Standing naked in front of you wife with your cum leaking out of the woman sitting next to her is hardly the time to be telling her that she's the only one he wants!

"That's not what it looked like to me," she said rather determinedly.

"Hey Ashley, it was just sex so don't blame Ben," I said, trying to defend him a little.

Ashley turned to me and frowned. "I know, that's what we said before but it's not the same when you have to watch it."

As much as I loved having her watch us, at the same time I didn't want this to hurt their marriage. Actually, that's true anytime I have sex with a married man. I never want it to hurt his marriage and in most cases I think it actually helps in that he gets the chance to realize his fantasies in a safe and confidential environment. So now I felt a little bit responsible for helping them through this.

"Ben... I think you need to make love to your wife."

Ben raised his eyebrows, looking at me and then Ashley and then replied, "Oh we will."

I shook my head. "No Ben, not later... NOW!"

The two of them both looked confused so I continued. "C'mon, let's go to your bedroom, all three of us."

"Kelly, I appreciate what you're trying to do but maybe you should leave now."

Maybe she was right yet in my heart I knew that if I did it would likely spell the end of our relationship. Frankly, I wanted to fuck Ben again sometime!

"Just trust me Ashley...," I said as gently as I could.

Ashley looked at her husband who just surged his shoulders in a "why not" expression.

"OK, but if I tell you to leave then you promise to go?"

I just nodded and the three of us made our way to the bedroom. Once there, Ashley pulled back the covers and the two of them laid down next to each other, looking back at me for direction.

"OK guys, here's how this goes down," I started, "Ashley, you are the only one who touches Ben and Ben, you only can touch Ashley."

I could tell they were a little confused as with the two of them in bed together, what other options were there. Then they found out...

"I'm going to lay next to Ashley. She deserves a little extra loving care, don't you agree Ben?"

Ben nodded but Ashley didn't seem so sure. Yet she didn't say no so I took what I could get. I dropped my heels at the side of the bed and snuggled up against her nude body, pressing my boobs into her back as she cuddled with her husband.

"Now make love to your wife Ben, just pretend I'm not even here."

Ben recovered surprisingly fast and for the next hour or so I was treated to being a part of their lovemaking. Yeah, it was fairly conservative with mostly missionary and spooning positions but I loved seeing a husband and wife so clearly in love. Throughout it I fondled Ashley and played with her hair and rubbed my hands all over her. When Ben first fucked her I was SOOOO tempted to grab his dick and return the favor Ashley had done for me earlier but I kept my process and didn't touch Ben the entire time.

Yes, it was really hard seeing him fuck her and not get some of that dick for myself but I managed by masturbating and even got myself off a couple of times - once more than Ashley actually. When they were finally done we all just laid on our backs in bed, Ben and I holding hands with Ashley as she lay between us, apparently happier now that her husband had cum in her almost as much as he had cum in me.

"OK Kelly.... it's time," Ashley whispered, trying not to wake ben who had fallen asleep next to her.

I turned on my side and smiled at her. She smiled back at me whispering, "Sorry I was so bitchy before, I don't know what came over me. It was just so overwhelming!"

I leaned over and we kissed briefly. I ran my hand down between her legs and gave her pussy a quick press.

"Maybe next time Steve can join us. I know he'd LOVE to fuck you!"

For just a nanosecond her face clouded and I worried that maybe I'd pushed too hard, too soon but then she smiled just a little.

"We'll see, OK?" she sighed, "I still can't believe we did THIS!"

I took one last look at the nude couple on the bed and waved goodbye to Ashley before returning to get my clothes in the living room. I called Steve who came to pick me up. On the way home I told him everything that had happened - as we usually do whenever we go out without the other.

"Wow, did she really say I could fuck her?" Steve asked excitedly, "I always figured she would be like the last one to agree to that."

I patted my horny husband on the lap where his stiff dick was ready to welcome mm home.

"I didn't say that was for sure, but we'll see!" I said, trying to keep his hopes in line with reality, "Now I need another good fucking. Know anyone interested?"

(Oct 11) Chapter 277: Another Notch in My Belt

Story codes: MF inc father daughter adultery
Me (30)
Steve - my husband (32)
Donald (Lindsey's husband)

What can I say? I admit it and I'm not the least bit ashamed of it. I LOVE seducing and fucking married men. Not just men who are married though. What I really want is the thrill of driving a faithful husband to his first act of adultery. It's not as easy as you might think!

1. The Thrill

I've explained in my "Appendix (B.4) FAQ - Married Guys" as well as in "Appendix (D.1) My Thoughts About Adultery" (they're the "About Me" folder in my diary) so I won't dwell too much on it here but for those who aren't familiar with my past writings and don't want to bother reading them, here's a brief explanation...

First of all, let me make one thing clear - I do NOT approve of adultery and would never commit such an act against my husband. Adultery is a sin and an affront to your wedding vows, not to mention the insult to your spouse and the potential damage to your marriage, career and family. Of course, I'm speaking using my definition of adultery which may vary from what many people would say. Adultery is the act of cheating on your spouse which means having sex with another person without their knowledge and approval. So long as you and your spouse are in agreement, sex is just sex so why not enjoy it with others as well? It's when you do it behind their back that it becomes a sin.

Thus while a man can commit adultery with me, that doesn't mean I am committing adultery as my husband is fully aware of everything I do, or at least in general. It's not like either of us keeps a scorecard or feels the need to report to the other every time we're with someone else, but we also know that we are OK with it so long as it's just sex.

I've always loved it when men pay attention to me. Seeing the lust in their eyes when they look at my boobs and ass, I feel so sexy and desirable knowing that they wish they could fuck me. It build my self-confidence and it's a definite ego-booster to catch a guy staring at me when he thinks I don't notice but even more so when he's not supposed to - like a married man whose wife doesn't approve of him looking up the skirt of another woman.

For the vast majority of married men, that's as far as it goes - looking. Some will flirt a little which can be a little embarrassing for both of us when it gets to be ridiculous. But face it, 99.9% of men don't cheat on their wives, at least not in a physically sexual manner. It's not that they are all faithful and morally straight. Just look at how many married men were exposed in the Ashley Madison debacle! The reality is that most men don't cheat because they're afraid of getting caught.

This is where the thrill comes in for me. What does it take to make a husband desire me so badly that he finally puts aside his fears and take the irrevocable step to break his wedding vows? Even if I went directly to them, I doubt hardly any would accept an offer for sex and might even think I was just trying to entrap them.

The ultimate thrill then is after what can be even years of flirting and seduction that he finally takes me into his bed. When I feel his adulterous erection penetrate me it's like I am taking his virginity again, taking something from him that he can never regain - his faithfulness to his wife. When he cums inside of me it's such an incredibly emotional moment for us both as he literally is mating me without his wife's consent.

My standard rule is I only fuck a married man once if he's cheating on his wife. It's sort of like the virginity analogy in that once it's gone, what's the point in doing it again? I have ZERO desire to be someone's mistress. There's just too much risk in that and the last thing I need is to get involved in someone's divorce.

While I may not fuck him again, that doesn't mean the thrills are over. In most cases these are men I know, often from church, so I see them every week or so afterwards, usually with their wife and family. I love the tingle I feel when he looks at me and I know he's remembering how much he loved fucking me. It makes me feel so naughty to talk to his wife, who often may even be a friend of mine, and know that I had her husband and that now every time they have sex he is thinking about me instead of her.

Yet despite what the porn industry might lead you to believe, it's not easy to find such men which makes it all the more special when I do. It would be easier if I was open to having sex with the serial cheaters but what's the fun in that? The last thing I want is to be a notch on someone else's belt!

2. The Hunt

People are always asking me where I meet the people I have sex with. The assumption usually is bars, nightclubs, that sort of scene. Well, as a married 30-something with two kids, I really don't hang around those place too often and when I do, it's usually with my husband or friends so it's not like I'm looking to hook up. I believe Groucho Marx said something like, "I would never belong to a club that would have me as a member." Similarly, in most cases I would never want to have sex with a man I meet in a bar - married or single.

So if I'm going to find someone to have sex with, then it would make sense that I take advantage of the places I spend the most time at. Although I'm not teaching this year, in the past the number one place I spent time at would have been school but this wasn't an option. First off, it was mainly populated by kids - not what I go hunting for. Second, the surest way to get fired was to have sex with another teacher.

After school, the next "place" I spend time with is my church. This doesn't necessarily mean the building but more the organization. Through the week I attend services, meet with my bible study group, assist with the youth groups, meet with our couple's group, and generally just assist with administrative or other chores that need to be done.

People seem surprised at first when I say that my church is my primary source of hookups. Usually this changes when I start to explain my reasoning and they find themselves agreeing with my logic.

First and foremost, although this is somewhat cynical, a lot of people who attend church are there for show or because they're dragged there by their spouse or family. A husband whose wife pulls him to church isn't paying attention to the sermon... he's looking at women like me!

A lot of people attend church for their kids, be it out of a sense of duty or guilt, it doesn't matter. Same thing... what does a father do when he's hanging around waiting for his kids to do their thing?

Some couples attend church because of problems they are having in their marriage, as if attending church will fix things by some divine intervention. Usually this is driven by the wife who think if only her wandering husband would get right with God then he'd be the husband she wants him to be. He's just going through the motions of course but it brings out all sorts of possibilities.

Finally, church is considered "safe". I can talk to a husband at church without raising the same level of attention as I would if it was at a store or restaurant. After all, it's church, right? How could there possibly be anything going on between us in the middle of church?

Over the years I've fucked a half dozen or so husbands. They all have pretty much fallen into the same categorization - mid-30's or early 40's, married with preteen or teen kids, usually successful in business but with a marriage that has suffered for it or maybe just getting boring. It would seem it would be easy to find these guys and seduce them but it's actually quite a challenge. I would guess at least 90% of the guys I think MIGHT be a possibility never respond in a positive way and of the remaining, most of them may talk a big game but they never go through with it.

So it was with Donald. I'd known him since high school actually as he was a friend of Steve's. We never dated, let alone had sex, and other than an occasional hello I never really got to know him until a couple of years ago when he and his wife decided to join our church.

Donald's wife, Lindsey, was one of those "power" wives who immediately jumped into the middle of everything. While Donald pretty much stayed in the background, she was the one to always offer a prayer request, the one to volunteer for the latest committee, to drive the kids to their activities. Every church needs these sort of people yet at the same time she could be a little annoying!

Steve hadn't kept in touch with Donald after high school so they renewed their acquaintance. I remember when he first introduced me to him.

"Hey Kelly, come over here a minute," he'd called over to me after the service one day. At the time we only had the one girl and I was holding her in my arms trying to keep her quiet.

"Kelly, this is Don, remember him from back in school?" Steve said, "Don, this is my wife Kelly and our daughter Mia."

Donald turned to me and I couldn't help but smile as I noticed he gave me the quick once-over. It was summer and I was wearing a short sundress with spaghetti straps and no bra and I knew my nipples were poking through nicely. The short hem didn't come even half way down my thighs to my knees and with my having to adjust to hold onto Mia it tended to ride up even more.

"Oh wow, so you guys actually got married!" Donald exclaimed, patting my husband on the back, "That's incredible."

I smiled and answered, "Yes, I knew from our first date that I was going to marry him. Just goes to show God works miracles."

"Well I have to say, you're looking great Kelly. Seriously, you look like you could still fit into that little number you wore at the homecoming dance."

Donald's face quickly reddened and I looked at Steve to see if he had caught it. In any case, Donald tried to apologize.

"Oops, sorry there Steve... I think that was after you had moved to California."

Steve was gracious though, as he always was when someone complimented me. "No problem, I'm pretty sure I know the one you're talking about and yeah, it was something to remember!"

"I think every guy at the dance remembers," Donald chuckled and then realized he had probably quit while he was ahead - if he even was at this point.

"So anyways, all married with children now I see," Donald quickly changed the subject. "I've got two of my own although we started a little sooner than you guys it seems."

Donald looked through the crowd and then pointed in the direction of a group of kids. "That's Chris my son, the one tormenting his older sister Taylor. He's in 5th now and Taylor's entering 6th."

"Wow, I guess you guys did get quite a head start on us," Steve laughed pointing at the baby in my arms.

"Let's just say the wedding dress had to be a little big," Donald said to Steve, winking. I was surprised he would be so flippant about it but then I could see where there was no sense in hiding it as sooner or later someone would start putting anniversary and birth day dates together.

I left the two of them to catch up on old times and no doubt, old flames. I'd met Lindsey briefly at a church dinner where we both were serving. Of course she had to take charge of everything which sort of drew the ire of a number of the older women who weren't any too pleased at having this new girl tell them what to do. At the same time, the dinner went flawlessly and I had to admit that Lindsey had a lot to do with that. Afterwards I asked her if she would be interested in joining my bible study but with her schedule it didn't work out so I asked if she and Donald would like to join our couples group. It consisted of married couples with kids still living at home so we barely qualified and had only joined a few months earlier ourselves. It was usually held at the church as the number of member had grown to where most people couldn't host it at their home.

Lindsey and Donald became regular members of the group and as usual, Lindsey stepped right in and quickly dominated discussions. A few of the other women made some comments "thanking" me for inviting her which made me feel a little bad but then whenever something needed to be done, we always had someone ready to volunteer.

Personally I would have preferred a smaller group as often times it felt more like a service than a group meeting. My women's bible study usually has four to five ladies showing up on any given day so it tends to be much more intimate and personal. Our couples meeting had anywhere from twenty to thirty people so intimacy was NOT part of the equation. On the other hand, it DID make it easier to socialize with the other people, especially the men, without drawing a lot of unneeded attention. This definitely worked to my advantage and in the past six months wince we'd joined I'd struck up a number of "acquaintances" with several of the husband. Nothing had come to fruition yet but at least the seeds were planted. Prior to this group we had belonged to a group for young married couples without kids which was similar in format. I'd managed to bag two of the husbands in the two years we belonged so hopefully I could do the same or better with this group!

One of the sessions dealt with marriage problems after the birth of a child. Afterwards during the refreshments I saw Donald grabbing a drink by himself so I decided to see what I could do to get something started.

"Hi Donald, haven't had a chance to say hello since Steve introduced us," I greeted him with my hand extended.

Donald shook my hand lightly, took a sip from his cup and smiled. "Well then shame on me for ignoring such a pretty woman."

I smiled at the compliment. "So what did you think of tonight's topic?"

Donald's lips pursed as he seemed to try to come up with the right answer. "Well, honestly it's been quite a while since we had to deal with this but looking back I can't say we really had all the problems that were mentioned tonight. Of course it helped that I could afford a nanny to help out Lindsey with her schedule and all. How about you and Steve? Things still going well?"

"Oh yeah," I answered immediately, "We've been so lucky with Mia. You know she slept the whole night through the third night home from the hospital? I woke up in the morning in a panic!"

Donald laughed. "Yeah, our first was sort of like that but just look out for the second one! Payback's a bitch."

Donald looked around furtively as if he was worried someone might have heard his last comment, Then he smiled at me saying, "Sorry, didn't mean to offend any sensitive ears."

"They'll get over it," I assured him, waving his comment away, "So 7th grade now, eh? You know I teach 8th grade so I have some idea what you're facing these days. How's the little princess doing?"

Donald's eyes rolled. "Oh you got her pegged. Maybe we need a session on dealing with puberty!"

"Yeah, I imagine that can strain a marriage," I said softly.

Donald took a couple of sips before answering. "You can say that again!" he finally huffed, more to his drink it seemed than to me."

I suppose I could have pushed him for more but it seemed like we'd made enough progress for one evening. One thing I'd learned by now is that putting on too much pressure is the surest way to lose the fish off your line.

For the next few months that sort of set the tone for Donald and I. We never said much to each other any other time but after the group session we'd somehow always find ourselves at the refreshment table at the same time and exchange a few words. Gradually we would be a little more open and flirt just a little bit. Nothing serious, just more teasing than anything. I'd say it was more like his daughter would be doing with some boy in her sixth grade.

One night it was a little chilly and I had on a light sweater without a bra underneath with a pair of tight jeans that really hugged my butt. The sweater really wasn't warm enough so my nipples were poking out like crazy. It didn't help that the more excited they became, the better it felt when the material rubbed against them as I moved making them respond all the more!

"A little chilly tonight?" Donald asked me as I approached for our usual banter time.

"Yeah, they really need to turn up the heat, don't you think?"

"Oh I don't know, I'd say it's about perfect right now," he joked with a deliberate look at my boobs.

"Now Steve, behave yourself!" I joked, pretending to be embarrassed.

"Well, I always figure if a woman doesn't want to be looked at then she would wear a bra," he teased me.

"Well, if you weren't staring at my boobs you wouldn't know I wasn't wearing one, would you?"

Donald just grinned over his drink as he checked out to see who might be listening. "Hey, don't look at me. Every guy in the room was checking you out tonight - as if you didn't notice."

"Yeah but only one's commented to me about my nipples," I retorted.

"Are you complaining?" he said with a sly grin.

I checked out the crowd and saw we were pretty much obscured by the people standing around looking in other directions so I decided to try something.

"Maybe you'd like to do more than stare at them, eh Donald?" I practically whispered as I brushed my hand against my boob, rubbing my nipple for just a moment.

Poor Donald, I don't think he was prepared yet for this as he reddened and set his drink down on the table.

"On THAT note I think someone might be looking for me," he said hurriedly, looking over my shoulder to see if his wife was anywhere in sight.

"Meow!" I teased him, snapping my arm in a whip motion.

Donald just shook his head and walked away but I felt rather pleased with myself. That night I told Steve about my encounter.

"I don't know Kelly, you may be playing with fire on this one," Steve warned me, "That Lindsey is a tiger and if she ever thought for one second you were after her husband she'd tear your throat out! Besides, I don't know how Don is these days but back in the day he wasn't exactly a player."

Steve paused and ran his fingers over my bare chest as I lay next to him in our bed. "Or is that it? You never bagged him in high school so now you're going to make up for it?"

I grabbed my husband's hard dick and moved my head down to give it a kiss. "Can't a girl just want to get laid without some major philosophical hoopla?"

As I started to suck my husband's cock, I knew one for sure... I was going to get laid that night!

3. The Seduction

The first move is always the hardest but that doesn't make the rest any easier. As I expected, the next time Donald and I had our little banter session it was all about the lesson that night and nothing with any sexual innuendoes. I say expected because most guys are like that. They get a little carried away and then feel guilty. If I had tried to push I would have only intensified those feelings and likely lost him off my line.

The following week though I came a bit more prepared. The weather was still chilly so I wore a pair of black leggings with a long sweater that came to my knees almost like a dress. It buttoned down in front but I left it unbuttoned with a white blouse underneath that was mostly hidden so long as I kept the sweater closed in front of me - which I was careful to do all night as the blouse was also quite sheer. Of course there was nothing underneath it so not only did my nipples pop through, but their dark outlines could be easily seen thought the sheer fabric. Not exactly the type of outfit for general consumption but exactly what I needed to follow up my early success with Donald.

"You look much warmer tonight," he started off and I was pleased that he finished with a nod towards my boobs which were pretty much concealed under the heavy sweater.

"Actually a little TOO warm tonight," I sighed, "I wanted so bad to take this off but then I don't think your wife would have appreciated."

With that I allowed the sweater to part and reveal my boobs with my nipples in full display behind the thin material.

"I think you made the right call there," he said, almost choking on his drink which he had just started to swallow when I parted my sweater.

"I wore this just for you tonight Donald," I said as I moved in a little closer to him.

Donald looked away but then he couldn't take his eyes off my breasts. He kept glancing away thought to be sure nobody was looking, especially his wife but she was at the opposite end of the room fully engaged in some debate over who knows what.

"So what do you think Donald... Like what you see?"

Donald took a long breath, more to stall I think before he had to answer.

"Kelly... I know we've been teasing and such but I'm not sure where this is going."

"Going?" I asked innocently, "Who said it was going anywhere? I just wanted to show you my boobs a little better. Isn't that OK?"

"So you're still the slut, eh?" he came back, "I thought you and Steve had such a great marriage."

"Oh but we do," I answered back, "But that doesn't mean we can each have some fun."

Donald reached out and pulled my sweater together but in the process his fingers brushed against my breasts and I felt a tingle.

"Well, I can guarantee you one thing, Lindsey would never go along."

"Who said anything about Lindsey? This is just between you and me."

"Hey, it was great talking to you tonight Kelly," he said hurriedly and then bolted.

I smiled as he hurried over to his wife. He hadn't said no after all!

Then I got pregnant and once Donald learned it was like all sexual banter was off limits. It would have been funny had it not been so frustrating. One night when I was about five months and starting to develop a pretty nice bump, we finally crossed paths at the refreshments table after a few months of avoidance on his part.

"Well hello stranger," I greeted him, "Seems like you've been avoiding me."

"Why do you say that?" he asked, trying to be attentive while at the same time it appeared he was anxious to be someplace else.

"Well, for starters we haven't talked in months!"

Donald nodded towards my protruding stomach. "I sort of figured you had other things to deal with than teasing married men."

I know he meant it nicely but it still sort of irritated me. "Why do people think just because you're pregnant that you don't think about those things? I mean like did Lindsey do that?"

I wasn't sure if he was grinning or what, sort of an in between look so I waited for the answer.

"As a matter of fact she did. Total off-limits the moment she found out."

"Really?" I couldn't help but blurt out. I know some women think sex during pregnancy is "dirty" or otherwise harmful to their child but that's been debunked by every credible medical expert on the planet. In fact, my OBY-GYN encouraged us to maintain a healthy sex life as long as it was comfortable.

"Oh? What's wrong?" I heard behind me and turned to see Steve standing there with an empty glass, evidently on his way to get a refill of punch.

"Oh nothing, we were just talking about tonight's lesson," Donald hurriedly said and then he quickly made his goodbyes leaving me alone with Steve.

"OK, so what was THAT all about?" he asked.

I tried to explain and as soon as I got to the part where Lindsey had shut off Donald when she was pregnant Steve couldn't help but chuckle.

"I can believe it, she seems the type," he said giving me a hug, "Not like my sexy slut wife who just gets hornier the further along you go. Speaking of which, isn't it time we got home?"

I poked him in the ribs with my elbow. He knew why and he just hugged me all the more.

"OK, OK, sorry to push but I can't help myself," he sighed in my ear.

Of course he couldn't - he's a guy and guys can't help but get horny thinking about fourteen year-old babysitters waiting for them at home. What could I say? She was a GREAT sitter and since she would be staying the night it really didn't matter if we hurried home but I knew my husband better than to ask him to delay any longer.

I realize that I have many things to thank God for when it comes to my body but there's one thing I never knew he'd blessed me with until my first baby. While some women put on lots of weight during pregnancy and turn into low-orbit blimps, people have told me even in my 9th month that from behind they couldn't tell I was pregnant. Oh sure from the side I have a basketball under my shirt but it's like all my weight gain is the baby without spilling over to the rest of me. The only exception, and one my husband really appreciated, was my boobs. Normally a solid B cup, it's like the day I get pregnant they start to grow and by the time I'm in my 2nd trimester I'm actually a true D cup! Unfortunately it's only a temporary benefit and within a few months of delivery they're pretty much back to normal, my boob-obsessed husband LOVES my breasts!

Being I carry most of the weight with the baby, it also means I don't have a huge problem getting back to my normal weight within a couple of months although muscle tone and such takes a bit longer. I HATE a few stray stretch marks but they are mostly hidden once I get back into bikini shape. Yes, I actually do wear a one-piece suit for a couple months after delivery, something Steve seems to find great joy in teasing me about as until my first baby, I don't think I've ever worn one in my entire life.

In any case, things stayed pretty low-key between Donald and I during the summer months after my delivery. During the summer we only had group sessions every other week instead of weekly and even then attendance was low. It wasn't until the kids were back in school that normalcy was regained. Donald and Lindsey were amongst those that pretty much took the summer off from group so I was happy to see them entering the room at our first meeting after the start of school.

Everyone seemed to have stories about back-to-school issues and so there weren't any problems getting people to speak up like we have at times. Of course Lindsey had to be one of those to chime in on everyone else's story and then finally she rose. There was something about her demeanor though that drew my attention - and those of the rest of the group. The always confident, always "in charge" Lindsey looked like she would burst into tears at any moment. Everyone suddenly quit talking and the room was deathly quiet.

"I know people think that Don and I have the perfect marriage with two wonderful kids, a nice home, and you name it. But something happened recently. We weren't going to come back to group but I told Don we had to or else I would leave him. So now he can tell you what happened."

I had no idea what this was all about, nor did anyone else it appeared. The room was filled with a stunned silence as everyone turned to stare at poor Donald who looked like he wanted more than anything else to just run out of the room and never come back.

Lindsey was seated now with her eyes focused on her poor husband like a laser. Any signs of tears had been replaced by something more akin to anger or revenge. Whatever Donald had done, she was going to make him pay for it. As curious as I was, I couldn't help but think to myself, "What a bitch!"

Don stood up slowly and addressed the group. In a few quick minutes he confessed to having dealt with an addiction to pornography for most of his life, an addiction which he had apparently successfully kept hidden until recently. No mention was made of what Lindsey found or how she found it. It could have simply Playboys or something as dark as child pornography or anything in between. I guess in Lindsey's eyes it didn't matter. Porn was porn and for her husband to dabble was akin to cheating.

Donald finished by apologizing to his wife and then to the group for his behavior, promising to make good on his vow to Lindsey that he would seek counseling and make the necessary changes to his life. With that our pastor stood up and offered prayer for Donald and his family, and then for all men facing the struggles of addiction, be it porn or drugs or whatever. I'd wondered why the pastor and his wife had attended tonight as they normally didn't. Well, in the future I'd be paying closer attention to those nights when he showed up!

Needless to say, Donald and I didn't do our little dance around the refreshment bar afterwards. He and Lindsey quickly made their exit without so much as a word with anyone once we broke up. On the way home, Steve and I talked about the incident.

"Wow, that was pretty intense, didn't you think babe?"

I sort of grunted agreement, still a bit weirded out by the whole thing.

"Thank God I have a wife like you," he said sweetly, reaching over to hold my hand.

I couldn't help but laugh a little at that one. "Yeah right. Imagine if I had got up and told them about YOUR porn collection!"

We both laughed together at that. Indeed, Steve had this giant hard drive which was practically filled with all sorts of porn. The only person I knew with a bigger collection was my dad and then only because he'd had more years to collect his. Still, Steve was doing a pretty good job catching up, especially with all the home videos he collected from various parties and get-togethers with other families and couples. At times I get a little worried that somehow the wrong people might find out what they have as much of it is illegal and would like.ly land them in jail or at the very least, brand them a sex offender for the rest of their lives. Back in the early days of the Internet, my father would download all sorts of crazy stuff but I know these days he stays off-line for the most part and doesn't go near anything that would draw attention. Same for my husband. Fortunately they both have their own local sources so they don't have to deal with the Internet Nazis.

"So what do you think?" I asked Steve who knew exactly what was on my mind.

Steve grunted which wasn't really a response. Then he came back with, "I don't know... hard call to make. On the one hand he's in so much hot water and Lindsey is probably watching him like a hawk so odds are he's off limits in any case, On the other though, I bet deep down he's not happy about all this. You don't do what he's done for so long and suddenly go cold-turkey. You know... he MIGHT be ripe for the picking about now come to think about it."

And people ask me why I love my husband so much! Like how many men would encourage their wife to seduce another man, especially one in the situation

Donald was in right now? If anything I could tell he was turned on by the whole idea if the lump in his lap was any indication. I reached over to rub my hand over it.

"I love you so much Steve," I said gently as my hand massaged his growing cock through his jeans.

"Oh you DO, do you?" he teased me. "Then why aren't you sucking my dick instead of just playing with it?"

OK, so he had a point! I quickly corrected my behavior...

The following Sunday I didn't see Donald or any of his family at church. It sort of worried me as I hoped nothing had escalated any further between him and his bitchy wife. The night for our next group meeting came and it looked like they were going to be no-shows for that as well when they came in just at the last minute before the opening prayer. Donald looked like a deer in the headlights and I was sure he feared the worst but everyone greeted them as normal and nothing was said one way or the other.

There were no surreal moments this night and afterwards I saw Donald standing alone and quickly made my way to him.

"Kelly... not a good idea," he said as soon as I was within ear shot. I knew better than to think anything was going to happen with Lindsey on the prowl so I'd come prepared.

"I just wanted to say I thought your daughter did well at the service a couple of weeks ago and you should be proud of her."

Their daughter had sung a short solo as part of the choir so it was a good thing to say to give Donald plausible deniability just in case anyone asked what we talked about. That someone being Lindsey of course. I reached out to shake his hand which at first he hesitated to accept but then took my hand just long enough for me to pass a note. A little old school but a heck of a lot safer than an e-mail or text message for which a permanent record would be maintained.

"Thanks Kelly, I'll be sure to pass that on to her," Donald replied, quickly tucking the note in his pants pocket without even looking at it. With that I left before his wife saw us talking.

On the way home Steve didn't even get the car door shut before he was asking me how things went.

"Heck if I know Steve! For goodness sakes, I just gave him the note and for all I know he hasn't even read it yet."

"Well, he better not forget it's in his pants pocket before Lindsey does the laundry."

I giggled naughtily, "Oh I doubt he's going to forget. I just hopes he flushes it right afterwards."

It's not like I had written him a long letter, just a single short note with an e-mail address and three words, "Chat With Me".

"Hopefully he's smart enough to not use his regular e-mail account or keep a history log going," Steve remarked.

"He seems pretty smart," I remarked.

"Yeah, then how did his wife find out?"

I had an answer for that one. "I was talking to some of the other wives and from what I hear, it's not like she found some treasure trove of hard-core bestiality porn. Apparently all she found were some stories he'd downloaded from some porn story site."

"Oh really?" Steve said, raising an eyebrow, "I wonder if it was the one you use?"

It sort of surprised me as Steve rarely mentions my on-line activities, most of which I think he tolerates more than anything else. From the beginning we agreed that so long as I kept it vague enough for us not to be identified and didn't post anything illegal that he didn't mind me having fun with my "hobby" as he called it. It WAS interesting, though, to think about what Donald had been reading. Wouldn't it be amazing to find out that he was one of my "fans"? Even more so, what if he was one of the ones who contacted me and sent me tributes? Most of the guys who send those to me don't include their faces so unless I saw Donald's dick I wouldn't be able to tell if it was him. In any case the odds were in the stratosphere that he would be one of those guys but it still made me feel a little tingle between my legs thinking of the possibilities. Then I thought some more and figured it was virtually impossible as he would have recognized me from any photo I might have sent him to use when he masturbated about me. Oh well...

Every night for the next week I checked that e-mail account which I'd set up just for him so it wasn't like anyone else would be contacted me through it. Not so much as a peep though. The one night it was late and I was just about to shut down my iPad for the night when a message appeared.

"Kelly?" was all it said. My heart was pounding as I answered back. I didn't ask who it was as I knew it could only be one person, even if the address was something totally unrecognizable.

And so started a series of chats that went on for a month! Sometimes they lasted for just a few exchanges, at others for as long as an hour. He was using his work iPhone for which fortunately his company allowed personal use as well so he could load personal e-mail accounts and even chat via them. Apparently this was a "benefit" he hadn't told Lindsey about so for as far as she knew, all his personal communications were through his home phone with his work phone strictly regulated to work-use only.

We continued to see each other at church and couples meetings but stayed away from each other so as not to draw the attention of his ever-watchful wife. Still, there were those opportunities when our eyes would meet and I could see it in them... the growing desire that I'd been working so long to cultivate.

It wouldn't be long now... I was sure of it. All we needed was the right time and place.

4. Another Notch In My Belt

It was October before anything could happen. In the preceding weeks we'd gotten more bold in our chats but at the same time, I can't say we ever went TOO far. Flirtatious comments and lots on sexual innuendo but never anything like, "I want to fuck you." No matter how secure the communications might be, I think he was still reluctant to say anything that couldn't be explained away as just some flirting and playing around.

Then came the chat I'd been waiting for so long. I chat with a lot of people and many of them ask me if I masturbate when I chat with them. Usually I tell them no but even with those who I try to make feel better by saying I do - I don't. First, it's hard to type and finger yourself. Second, when I masturbate I like to concentrate on what I'm doing, not multitasking. This, however, was one of those nights when I laid in bed stark naked, one hand between my thighs as I typed awkwardly in response to Donald's questions.

Was I available Saturday afternoon? That's right, afternoon, not evening. Why not? Could I make it to a hotel on my own? Like duh. Then he explained that his son had an out of town soccer match with his travel team while Lindsey was going to take their daughter to a movie as part of a mom-daughter afternoon. That left Donald with a 3-4 hour window of opportunity, one he didn't want to spend doing yardwork apparently!

I couldn't help but feel a bit taken for granted when after I said it was OK with me, he gave me the room number at the hotel where he'd already made reservations. A little presumptuous perhaps? But then I really couldn't blame him as it wasn't like I'd given any signs of playing hard to get.

That was all and after shutting down I joined my naked husband in bed - not that he ever wore anything in the first place.

"You're pulling my leg," was his immediate response.

"No... I AM pulling your dick but not your leg," I joked as a laid on my side and stroked his soft dick - a condition I didn't expect it to maintain for long.

"A hotel room, eh? That cuts down on his time so why not just ask you over to his place? That's what you prefer anyways, isn't it?"

Steve was right, I WOULD have preferred to be invited over as it added a special element to fuck a husband in the same spent on the bed where his wife would be sleeping just hours later. Then again, I could see where Donald would be apprehensive of his wife noticing anything out of place or the slightest smell she didn't recognize. Pretty risky when he wouldn't have enough time to ensure the place was cleaned and ready for her return.

"Think he'd let me watch?"

"Steve!" I said, giving his now hard dick a little extra tug, just enough to make him jump a little and get the message, "You know better than that."

Steve just shrugged it off saying, "Hey you can't blame a guy for asking." Then he brightened again with another "aha" moment. "Video?"

I didn't even answer him this time but gave him a really hard tug this time and he got the message this time! My perverted husband. But I love him!

Saturday came after what seemed to be an eternity. Steve offered to drive me, an offer I gladly accepted as downtown parking can be ridiculous.

"Behave yourself now," he said to me as he kissed me before I left to go inside the lobby.

"Oh I will!" I said with a roll of my eyes. I turned and walked away, fully aware that my husband's eyes were fixated on my ass and legs which were on full display starting with my five inch hooker heels, thigh high fishnet hose, short skirt that barely came to the tops of the hose, topped by a skintight sheer white top with long sleeves that fit me like a glove and showed off every curve to its best. It hugged my bustline like Saran Wrap, my nipples showing through as if there nothing covering them at all. A gold chain around my ankle - a gift from my dad many years before, a wedding ring courtesy of my husband, a diamond cross hanging from a delicate gold chain around my neck, and half-carat diamond earrings were it for jewelry. With a skirt this short I wore a high waist thong which did little to nothing to cover my butt with just enough to keep my pussy covered, especially since I'd let my pubic hair grow for the past few months. Nothing too bushy but nicely trimmed and maintained.

I glanced back suddenly and sure enough, Steve was still standing there with his arms crossed admiring his wife as she trotted off to meet another man like a hotel hooker. I smiled as I saw I also had the attention of several other guys as well which was fine with me. After all, what's the point in getting all dressed up if nobody sees you?

I entered the elevator alone, pressed the floor button and waved goodbye to my husband as the doors closed. It was like the doors were a symbolic transition point where I left my husband and now was offering myself to another man. Yes, I love my husband and I want nothing more than to be his wife, but for the next few hours I would be giving myself to another man. True, I wouldn't be submitting myself to him as I did to my husband or father, but so far as he was concerned, I would be his for the taking so long as he showed me what I wanted - his lust and desire for me over his wife. So long as he satisfied MY needs, I'd make sure to satisfy his!

The room number he'd given me placed him on the 15th floor. I barely got started when the elevator stopped and in rushed a young boy in a wet bathing suit followed by what was likely his younger sister and harried mother. The boy pushed the button for the 10th floor and everyone settled in. I looked at the mom as she tried to gather all their things and then finally she got it together and noticed me for evidently the first time. I almost laughed when she quickly pulled her son closer to her, as if I was contagious or something.

"You know, I don't bite," I told her sarcastically. Then I couldn't resist adding, "Unless that's your thing."

She looked about my age yet I could tell we had virtually nothing in common. She turned her attention to her kids and when she caught her son peeking at my legs she pulled on him to turn him around so he couldn't see me. I don't think the elevator could have gotten to her floor fast enough!

Finally I arrived at my floor and walked down the aisle until I reached the door with his room number. My heart was pumping as I took a deep breath before knowing softly on the door. Within a few seconds it opened and there was Donald, dressed in a nice pair of slacks, a long-sleeved dress shirt, and black dress shoes. I could smell the scent of his cologne and noticed he looked freshly shaven. Glancing at the bathroom as we stepped in wordlessly, I saw the shower had been used which accounted for the fresh look.

"Soooooo, here we are," he said nervously as he closed the door behind me.

"Do you like my outfit Donald?" I asked, trying to lower the tension level.

Donald's cheeked puffed and he let out a deep breath. "What can I say? You look... stunning."

"I bet Lindsey never dresses like this for you, does she?"

Donald just shook his head as his eyes roamed over my body, noticeably lingering at my boobs and ass although he seemed quite taken with my legs as well.

"Well, then THAT leads me to a few quick rules before anything starts, OK?"

He looked at me with a curious expression. I guess he hadn't planned on there being any rules to follow but I knew from past experience this was perhaps the most important few minutes of our encounter.

"OK then Donald, Rule #1 is that's the last time we talk about Lindsey. From now on it's just me and you, nobody else, got it?"

"Sure, no problem," he quickly agreed.

"Good. Rule #2... for the next few hours I am your wife and you will treat me as such. In return, I'll treat you the way a wife SHOULD treat her husband."

He seemed a little surprised by that one but he didn't argue, not that I expected him to, so I continued. "Rule #3. What happens here stays here. We never talk about it ever again. No photos, no videos."

I added the last part as I'd seen his phone on the table by his room key and I wanted to be sure he wasn't having any ideas about recording anything. Otherwise it was a simple rule and he had no issues so far.

"My 4th rule is you will treat me as a lady and respect me. Nothing hurtful, no tying me up, no biting and especially no anal sex."

Donald hadn't struck me as the kind of guy into anything kinky but then you never know. Sometimes those are the exact guys who ARE into it as their hidden personality is revealed. Better safe than sorry and get it out on the table now rather than fighting him off later.

Then for the big one. "Finally, I want you to promise me that you will never ever cheat on your wife again. And that includes anything with me. This is a one-time thing and I will NOT become your mistress or lover. I will do my best to bring your fantasies to life today and those memories will be yours if you ever think about cheating on her again."

"You never mentioned this was a one-time thing," he started to resist.

"Let's be honest Donald, up until now we haven't even really said what this was in the first place, have we?"

It was true in that everything leading up to know had been more flirting than actual straight talk. Never once had either of us actually said we wanted to have sex. It was all implied so now it was time to nail it down.

"Soooooo, tell me you want me Donald," I whispered seductively standing in front of him in the middle of the room.

Donald looked more like the kid in the elevator now than a grown father and husband. His cheeks were flushed and his breathing was quick and shallow. Dang, I hope he wasn't about to pass out!

"I want you Kelly... Oh god I want you so bad."

He started to reach for me but then I surprised him by pushing him away. For the moment I was calling the shots...

"Just stand there Donald... don't touch me... let me do it."

I approached him and I could tell he wanted so badly to reach out and grab me but he followed my direction and stood there like a statue. I bent my knees and crouched down, my hands working on his belt and then the button on his slacks. I looked up at him and smiled as I slowly lowered the zipper. The sound of it opening seemed abnormally loud in the silence. Once it was down I reached for the sides of his slacks and pulled them down to his ankles. He was wearing boxer style underwear, black, that hugged him tightly and showed off the outline of his dick quite nicely. I placed my hand over it and gently rubbed it in small circles.

"Mmmmmmm, I've been waiting to do this for a long time Donald," I whispered as I pressed my face into his crotch against the soft material of his underwear. I could feel the heat of his dick against my cheek even though for the moment he wasn't erect. In fact he was surprisingly flaccid despite the size of the bulge. Most times by the time I get a guy's pants down he's already hard as a rock!

"You smell so sexy," I sighed as I rubbed my nose into him. In fact he did! Yep, he had definitely showered before I'd showed up as I could smell the floral scent of the body wash. I had to say I was thankful for his consideration as some guys seem to think the musky scent of a sweaty crotch is somehow sexy... NOT!

I felt him placing his hands gingerly on my head but I pushed them away without saying anything. He got the message... it was my show for the moment.

"Let's see what we're working with here," I said all business like as I leaned back and worked his underwear down to join his pants at his ankles. Out flopped his dick and my eyes widened at the pleasant surprise that greeted me. Damn, Donald was hung! Even though his cock flopped down the moment his underwear was no longer supporting it, I was impressed at the length and more than anything, the thickness. Wow, it was like a giant sausage! And talk about one of my favorite things... his pubic hair was incredibly thick and long, it was like a forest between his legs!

"Whoa!" I said, looking up at him with a smile as I balanced myself by holding onto his hairy thighs, "You never told me you were built like a porn star."

"Well, you never asked," he replied with a grin, obviously pleased that I was impressed. It was true, I rarely ask a guy about his dick as frankly, for the most part it really doesn't matter to me so long as it works. The vast majority of men fall in the mid-range with more leaning on the small side than the large. I've never exactly been one of those girls who gets all fired up over a huge dick. If anything, they're more of a pain - and I mean that literally! Still, I couldn't help but feel a special hunger for Donald now, even more than before!

Grabbing his cock, I could barely get my fingers around it even now and it took almost two hands to grip him from stem to tip. He was circumcised and had nice brown ring around his dick to show for it. The head was HUGE and I couldn't wait to get it in my mouth.

"Oh Kelly!" he moaned as I licked up the side of his cock and then around the head. I kissed the tip and ran my mouth along the shaft using my tongue and lips to wet him and make it easier to stroke him. I looked up at him and as soon as he saw me looking he averted his eyes away.

"You can watch me Donald," I encouraged him as I stroked his cock slowly with my hand, "In fact, I LIKE to be watched when I suck a man's dick."

It didn't take much to convince him! Keeping my eyes locked on his, I slowly took the head of his dick in my mouth. Damn, it was big and felt so soft and smooth against my tongue.

As I worked on his cock, Donald never took his eyes off of me. I knew he wanted to grab onto me but I wasn't ready for that. I had a mission for the moment and until that was complete he would just have to wait.

Slowly, ever so slowly, his cock began to grow. In fact, I was worried at the start that maybe he was so worked up over cheating on his wife that maybe he wasn't going to be able to get it up at all! Those fears were put to rest as I felt him swelling in my mouth, reaching further and further back into my throat as I worked on him.

"So you've never watched a girl suck your cock before?" I asked, taking a breather when his dick had poked down into my throat enough to where I barely controlled my gag reflex, "Really?"

Donald shook his head, as if he was afraid to trust his voice at this moment. His cock was rigid now and again I was impressed. Typically I find guys with larger dicks tend to have less firm erections. It's amazing at times how much a small cock can grow in size, doubling in length and width or even more. In contrast, most really big dicks tend to grow only a small percentage and often fail to attain that steel pipe status. Well, Donald's was the best of both worlds in that while it didn't double in size (thank god!) it certainly did grow and it was amazingly stiff. I pride myself on being able to deep throat any cock but his was going to be a challenge!

"I want you to cum in my mouth Donald," I said, preparing myself for what was to cum. I'd been stroking and sucking him for ten to fifteen minutes by now and my mouth was starting to get a little tired so time to complete my initial mission.

I didn't wait for a response before settling down in front of him, taking a deep breath, and slowly pressing my face further and further into his crotch, taking his cock deeper and deeper into my mouth. The trick to this was to get past the gag reflex and into your throat. Most girls I know that say they can't deep throat are afraid to push past that point, thinking they WILL gag or worse, puke. I try to tell them that they WILL if they just keep it at that stage but if they just push through it as quickly as possible then it's all downhill after that.

Well, that's usually true. In Donald's case I felt like I was taking a log down my throat but I was determined to do it. I wanted him to watch until his entire cock was in my mouth and throat, my face pressed into his pubic hair until my lips circled the very base of his dick. In the end I did it but I have to say, it was one of the most difficult ones I've done!

Pulling my face off of him, I gasped for air and smiled as I looked up at him in triumph. Without wasting further time I worked relentlessly on his cock with my hands and mouth until I felt him starting to thrust and I knew he was close.

"Cum in my mouth Donald," I told him for the umpteenth time now, "Fill my mouth with cum."

Donald grasped my head with both hands and this time I didn't fight him off. He pulled me into him as I felt the first surge of sperm as he ejaculated into my open mouth with perfect aim. I knew he was watching as the next load shot across the gap between the end of his dick and my waiting mouth. Then I took him in my mouth and sealed around his shaft with my lips as the remaining loads of his adulterous sperm filled my mouth.

I held onto his dick as I looked up at him and opened my mouth, sticking out my cum-covered tongue for him to see. Then I closed my lips and swallowed, and then again to get the rest down. Reopening my mouth, I showed him that it was all gone and down into my belly.

Mission accomplished. I knew Donald's first orgasm would likely be quick so now that it was over we could concentrate on having sex without worrying about him cumming inadvertently. We had a couple of hours so I wasn't worried about him reenergizing at least one more time. Standing up, I licked my lips and grinned. "So tell me Donald, how did you like your first blowjob?"

Donald looked a little ludicrous standing there with his semi-flaccid cock while his pants and underwear hung around his ankle. But it didn't keep him from grinning like a Cheshire Cat.

"THAT was insane!" he panted, almost as out of breath as I was.

"Well why don't you take off those clothes now and get on the bed," I said to him. I waited as he quickly stripped, carefully hanging his clothes over the chair.

"Oh no... take off the comforter," I groaned as he started to just climb on top of the bed, "Have you ever SEEN what's on them?" Indeed, just take a black light to any hotel room and you'll be grossed out by what you see. At least the sheets have hopefully been washed!

Donald threw the comforter onto the floor and climbed in bed, laying on his back with his dick sticking up like a periscope from a sea of lush pubic hair.

"Watch me Donald... watch your wife strip for you."

I swayed gently to the music in my head as I slowly stripped off my clothes for him. It's always a question as to what order to go as different men have different fetishes. My policy is to strip such that the things he's interested in the most are revealed last. In Donald's case I'd noted he seemed fixated on my boobs which were still larger than typical having not yet lost all of their pregnancy "enhancements". I'd say I was still a full size C in fact. It didn't hurt that Lindsey was practically flat but then she was so skinny she didn't have much of a figure to start with.

Even when I stripped off my thing I noted that while Donald certainly took an eyeful of my trimmed pussy, he was still locked in to my boobs so I took my time revealing them. By the time I was all but naked, my nipples were so hard that even exposure to the cool room air did little to affect them. I still had on my hose and heels and I debated quickly as to whether to keep them on or get nude. A lot of guys are turned on by hose and heels though for some reason Donald didn't seem the type. I got the idea that he was a man who liked his woman stark naked in bed so I slowly rolled off my hose and kicked off my heels until I was standing before him as naked as the day I was born.

Well, expect for my jewelry. The wedding ring was staying on - I NEVER take it off no matter who I'm having sex with. The earrings weren't a bother but I removed my ankle bracelet and cross as I didn't want the delicate chains broken during who knows what was going to happen in that bed.

I slowly climbed into the bed beside the nude husband lying there anxiously waiting for me. This time when he put his arm around me I didn't resist. From now I was his...

"Love me Donald," I whispered huskily to him, "Love me like you've never loved anyone before."

Donald gently pressed me onto my back as he laid on his side next to me. I watched with a smile as he ran his hands all over my naked figure, from my ankles to my neck with special attention to my boobs at first. Oh yeah, he LOVED my boobs! Then he leaned over and started to suck on my nipples as his hand moved down and pressed between my thighs. I opened them, inviting him inside. He fingers began to caress my pussy as his mouth and tongue played with my breasts.

"That's it Donald, suck my nipples, use your tongue on them," I encouraged him. He was rubbing his finger against my wet pussy so I reached down and gently maneuvered his finger to the entrance of my vagina and pressed him into me. He quickly took the hint and pushed his forefinger deep inside of me. I lifted my hips up to meet his finger, sighing as he fucked me with it.

"Kiss me," I asked him softly, "Love me Donald."

As our lips met and tongues collided, I was in heaven. YES! He wanted me, he desired me. I felt so much like a woman at that moment but I wanted more.

"Make love to me Donald," I sighed, "Love me!"

OK, so a little theatrical but I wasn't about to tell him that in reality, only one man COULD make love to me and it wasn't him. That wasn't the point though. I wasn't asking him to make love to me so much as I was asking HIM to do it from that perspective. I wanted to take Lindsey's place in his heart... and libido. I wanted him to remember making love to me as he had never done to his wife.

At the same time, I DID want him to love me. I wanted to feel loved, to be loved. I didn't want him to just fuck me like a whore, I wanted it to mean something to him, to be something he would never forget as long as he loved.

At first I was a little worried that maybe I had rushed things along. It had been enough to get him hard the first time, what about the second? True, we'd been making out like teenagers on their parent's couch for the last forty five minutes or so now, but was that enough time for him to recover?

Well, two things seemed to take effect. First, whatever feelings of guilt and nervousness that may have been affecting him before were evidently history now. Second, I knew he WANTED to fuck me and that, more than anything else, made me feel incredible. THIS was what I wanted from the first moment I saw him and his wife together. He wanted me... more than Lindsey, more than his own wife.

"Here, put this under me," I whispered as I grabbed one of the pillows and tried pushing it under my butt. I lifted myself up and Donald positioned the pillow under me so it supported me in a more easily accessible position.

As much as Donald wanted to fuck me, there was something else he wanted first, something he'd never been able to do with his wife. Well, if Lindsey wouldn't let him do it then I was more than happy! Donald worked his way until he was barely on the bed and put his arms under my legs, pushing them up with his shoulders as he lowered his face into my crotch.

"Mmmmmmm, somebody's hungry for pussy I see," I teased him nicely. "I hope you don't mind but I've been letting it grow out a bit."

Donald laughed, lightening the mood just enough. "Actually I love it this way. I want to make love to a woman, not a little girl."

My pussy tingled. First, in anticipation but also at the way he'd phrased his response. He didn't say he wanted to fuck me, he said he wanted to make love to me. I wondered if he had any idea of how significant that was to me?

For a self-proclaimed first timer, Donald wasn't bad in the pussy eating department. No doubt with all the porn out there for a guy to learn from he had some idea of what to do to start. I probably could have given him a few pointers but then I didn't want to make him think he wasn't doing a good job so I just let him do his thing. Not that it wasn't enough!

My first orgasm rocked me quickly as I was already on the edge before his tongue ever touched me. I moaned and cried out as I gripped his head and pulled him in tightly into my crotch. God it felt so damn good!

"Did you cum?" Donald asked me so sweetly after I finally collapsed back down onto the pillow.

"Are you kidding?" I gasped, "haven't you ever seen a woman having an orgasm before?"

"Actually..." he didn't finish the sentence but I got the message. Didn't surprise me, that was for sure.

Without another word he pulled himself up and over me, holding his weight off of me as we kissed. Mmmmmmm, I could taste myself on his face and lips and I LOVED the scent of my pussy that now dominated over his cologne.

"Oh Kelly...," he whispered as I felt him pressing into me. Then he suddenly thrusted forward, driving the thick head inside of me as I felt like I was being split in two.

"I'm so sorry Lindsey," he said as he pressed even deeper into me. I don't think I was supposed to hear that last line so I ignored it and pretended I hadn't. IF anything, it just made this moment all the better for me! He was mine now and he would never be hers again.

"Fuck me Donald... oh God fuck me hard!" I cried out, encouraging him to drive it even deeper. God, he was so big inside of me!

I was happy that I had blown him to start as now he seemed to be able to go on forever without cumming which worked out well as we tried out various positions on the bed. Finally I was riding him cowgirl, slowly rocking forward and back as I took the moment for us both to relax and catch out breaths yet at the same time, I didn't want his dick out of me for one second more than necessary.

"You're incredible Kelly," he groaned as he held onto my bare hips while I gently worked his dick in my pussy. "I've never felt like this before!"

This was perfect... exactly what I had dreamed it would be. Donald's body and mine were joined together as one, sharing our mutual lust and needs as only sex can achieve. I loved the feel of his thick pubic hair smashed against my pussy as I took his dick inside of me. To look down and see his cock all but disappear inside of my body while at the same time feeling him within me, was just beyond words. The way he looked at me, the animal lust and sexual desire that consumed him, made me feel so good about myself. I felt sexy, beautiful, like I was the most important woman in the world at that moment.

I was about to answer when suddenly this shrill tone went off. What the heck? It was his cell phone which had somehow found its way to the table next to the bed. When had he moved it? And why was it going off now anyways?

"Oh my god, it's Lindsey!" he almost choked. "I'm so sorry Kelly, I HAVE to answer it or she'll know something's up."

"Well, answer it then," I replied rather smugly as I sat down and imbedded his adulterous cock firmly inside of me.

"But I can't with you..." he pleaded, obviously expecting me to somehow disappear.

"I told you, I'm your wife now so you can make love to me while you talk to her."

The phone was going off and we both knew he had only seconds before it went to voice mail and he would have to explain why he hadn't answered. For him it must have been his worst nightmare while for me it was more like a dream come true. Once before, a LONG time ago back in my college escorting days, I'd fucked a guy while he talked to his wife on the phone and to this day I recall it as one of the most erotic sex moments of my life. It was one of those things that you figure happens once in a lifetime but it appeared as if now lightning was going to strike twice.

"Hi honey," he answered, trying to breath heavily into the phone, "Sorry, I left the phone in the other room."

"Speaker," I mouthed to him. He wasn't exactly thrilled by the idea from the expression he gave me but I threatened to reach for the phone if he didn't so he pushed the screen and I heard his wife's shrill voice.

"We just got out of the movie so I want to check on you. Is everything OK? You sound a little out of breath."

I wiggled my butt around Donald's dick as he tried to keep his composure saying, "I told you, I had to run from the other room. Sorry. How are things going?"

I started to slowly rock on his dick, picking up the pace. He'd been almost ready to cum before we were so rudely interrupted... could I get him to cum now?

"Oh the movie was perfect... you would have hated it of course. Here, your daughter wants to thank you."

I almost giggled at that. It was good enough to be fucking him as he spoke to his wife, but now with his daughter? Oh yeah!

"Daddy, thank you so much for buying the tickets and arranging lunch, this has been a perfect day. I love you."

Donald couldn't answer at first as I was working his cock with my pussy, squeezing on it as I starting to lift myself up and down on his shaft.

"Daddy?" the little voice asked again.

"Sorry baby, I'm glad you and mommy like everything."

I could hear Lindsey telling her daughter to run over to get something and then she was back on the phone.

"Don, I really do mean to thank you for being so thoughtful today. I know things have been rough. Maybe tonight when I get back I can thank you more personally."

Despite dealing with his wife at the very moment he was committing adultery, some things in nature a man can't control. When his dick wants to cum... it cums. As Lindsey went on, telling him she wanted to start fresh and that she loved him, she had no idea her husband was at that very moment having an orgasm, spewing his adulterous seed into another woman's pussy.

"Oh I love you!" he burst out as he drilled his dick as deep into me as he could, filling me with every drop of his sperm he could release.

"I love you too Don," Lindsey replied, thinking that he had been talking to her. Well, I knew better!

"We should be home in an hour or so. I think we'll save the restaurant coupon for another time. We filled up on popcorn and candy at the theater. See you soon. Love you!"

With that the phone went dead and Donald dropped it on the bed next to us. I sat on his hips, luxuriating in the feel of his now spent dick still inside of me. Oh my god, how could this have worked out any better?

"I don't believe this," he groaned, almost like he was in a daze.

I bore down and gave him a squeeze. "Well, you better believe you just fucked the hell out of me. That was perfect."

I lifted myself off and his cum immediately started to pour out of me like a thick soup, covering his dick. I got between his legs and eagerly licked him clean, enjoying the flavor of the mixture of our cum.

"That was SO cool when you came inside of me while you pretended to love her."

Donald had cum twice now and like most men, it was like all his horniness had left him with his cum as he laid there with his eyes tightly shut.

"You know Kelly, I really do love her, even if she is a bitch sometimes."

I moved up and laid alongside of him, my warm naked body pressed in tightly against his hot nude form. My boobs were pushing in against his chest and I lifted my leg over his such that my wonderful pussy was pressing into his hip bone.

"Whatever, but you can't tell me though when you were cumming inside of me that you were telling HER you loved her."

Donald put his arm around me and pulled me in tight. "You got me there."

We lay there quietly for a few minutes, our bare bodies pressed tightly together. I felt utterly at peace. Yes, THIS was how I achieve my self-worth and ego. What I'd just done was something not many women could do and felt so sexy and desirable. It was like I could walk on air! My hand curled around his well-used cock as I marveled at how wonderful it had felt in me. Mmmmmmm, I wanted it back in me again!

For better or worse though, that was something that I would never experience again as Donald gently pushed me aside.

"I really have to go Kelly... she'll never understand if I'm not home when she gets there and besides, I can't have her smelling you on me!"

I sighed, expressing my desire for more of his love yet understanding it wasn't possible. I watched as he quickly dressed and wondered what he would do when he got home to rid the smell of perfume and sex from his clothes and body. Oh well, that was his problem. I'd gotten what I wanted so whatever happened wasn't my concern. Of course I didn't want Lindsey to find out, what I meant was I wasn't concerned about the details.

Donald came over and kissed me on the cheek. He took the opportunity to run his hands along the length of my body and grab one last feel of my breast. Then he was gone.

I stretched out in the bed and thought about what had just happened. I couldn't wait until the next time I saw Lindsey. While I could never even hint to her what I'd done to her husband, I could at least savor the knowledge that her husband was forever going to be thinking about me whenever he was in bed with her. Oh well, she deserved it in my opinion. Had she performed her marital duties properly her husband never would have been in this room today to begin with!

I really hadn't looked at the room very closely but it was actually quite nice. Not a suite but bigger than average with a nice minibar. Hmmm, Donald was paying so why not?

Another thought came to mind. I called my Aunt Linda and asked if she was up to a last minute babysitting request. What can I say, she's always been great to me and she wasn't letting me down today either. She DID say she had something to attend to later in the evening so I hurriedly called my husband.

"Steve... I'm sitting in an empty hotel room and I need to be fucked."

Hey, the room was paid for so why not?

when it came to anything about her. I remember the first time I asked her if she masturbated and how red her face turned! Yet once she finally confided to me that she did and realized that I was just trying to support her rather than digging for dirt to tattle to her mom, she opened up and we had some of the most amazing discussions about her self-satisfaction episodes - and mine as well. We'd never DONE anything together, at least not like my mom and I would back when I was just a young teenager girl, but then it's not like she was raised to be THAT open. I'm sure that if I told her that I use to masturbate openly in front of my parents, or that my dad use to jerk off to porn in the living room while I did my homework, that she would have been shocked to say the least!

Once Katlyn started dating in seventh grade I was deluged with all sorts of questions and concerns. "Do I let him kiss me?" eventually evolved into, "Do I let him feel me up on the first date?" Needless to say I'll warrant my answers and suggestions were considerably different than what her mother would've told her! It's not that I encouraged her to be a school slut as my cousin Kristen and I had been, but I didn't exactly press her to be a prude either. Katlyn was rapidly turning into a remarkably sexy and HOT young teenage girl so why not encourage her to take advantage of her assets?

Now that she's a freshman in a large high school, Katlyn is like fresh meat thrown into the lion's den. Unlike 8th grade where she was older than most of the boys - both by the calendar and definitely maturity-wise, now she was years younger and I'm sure all the guys had their eyes on her, or at least her incredible legs and growing bustline. Little wonder that less than a month into her start of high school she was already seeking me out for advice.

"Aunt Kelly, he tried it again last night and this time I really had to push him off," she confided. It was the continuing saga of her and her latest boyfriend, a junior that was quite a hunk in my book. Her mother was horrified that a boy two years older than her daughter was dating her but then who was I to say anything? When I was younger than her I was dating a boy who was a junior and by the way, who also took my virginity on our third date. Taking into account I eventually married that same boy (over ten years and hundreds of sexual partners later), I'd say it worked out pretty well for me!

"OK then, so what were you wearing?" I asked her, sitting across from her at my kitchen table.

"Well, pretty much what you told me to," she couldn't help but giggle.

"Yeah but don't forget I ALSO told you that wearing a bra can sometimes turn a guy on all the more."

Katlyn grinned at me as she rolled her eyes playfully. "I know, I know. But Aunt Kelly, Matt gets so turned on when my nipples show through and besides, it feels so much better not to wear one."

"And I suppose it didn't hurt that you were probably poking through even more than you are now," I teased her with a nod to her chest.

Katlyn glanced down where her dark nipples were clearly visible through the tight white cotton cami she was wearing - clearly with nothing underneath it.

"Don't worry, I'd of killed to have those puppies when I was your age," I said as her faced turned a little red, "What are you now, a B cup?"

"Almost," she confirmed, "Mom said I needed to start wearing a bigger bra. I wish you could talk her into not making me wear one."

Just then Steve walked in the kitchen and stopped next to Katlyn where he put his arm around her neck and gave her a quick hug. I don't know how long he'd been listening but obviously it had been for a little while. He was wearing his usual outfit for around the house - sweatpants and a T-shirt. As baggy as the sweat pants were I would have thought they would disguise the rather obvious erection he was growing underneath but judging from how he was poking out he wasn't wearing any underwear to contain him.

"Yeah, Kelly was rather petite I guess you could say," he taunted me knowing it was a sore subject for me. Then he glanced down and I would have kicked him if he had been closer the way he was staring down at her boobs. "Trust me Katlyn, you aunt WOULD have killed to have had those back then."

"Oh Uncle Steve," she said softly, glancing down at the table in her embarrassment.

I gave Steve "the look" and he knew he'd better behave or else face my wrath later so he grabbed a cold beer from the refrigerator and headed back to the TV or whatever else he was doing before so rudely interrupting us.

"You'll have to excuse him, he IS a man you know but he still needs to control himself too," I apologized to her once he was out of earshot.

"Oh it's OK Aunt Kelly," she said rather shyly and then she grinned mischievously, "Besides, I sort of like it when men look at me that way."

I smiled at her and nodded. "Yep, been there done that!"

never want to do it again," she whispered. The giggle were gone and a tear was forming at the corner of her eye.

We were seated on the couch in my living room and until then had been sitting facing each other with one leg crossed under the other. Without another word I scooted over closer to her and put my arm around her. It was a little bit of struggle to do so - who would have ever thought my little niece would ever be taller than me?

"It's OK... you can tell me about it," I said soothingly. I felt a little guilty in that while I was worried about her feelings, at the same time I could feel a tingle between my thighs as I wondered what had happened. Not to mention the softness of her shoulder and side as I put my arm around her and pulled her into me. Oh yeah, my husband wasn't the only one infatuated with her. Thank god for being a girl - at least I didn't have this thing growing between my legs announcing my true feelings for her.

"He didn't even kiss me Aunt Kelly. After I let him lick my boobs - he was squeezing them so hard I let him just so he would stop doing that, he put his hands down into my panties and between my legs."

"Did you want him to go further right then?"

Katlyn's face showed the indecision she must have had at the time. "Well yeah, of course, but I also had dreamed about my first time. I wanted it to be all romantic and dreamy."

What could I say? What girl doesn't have such dreams? I was fortunate in that while it wasn't in some opulent castle I DID lose mine on my own bed in my own bedroom which was sort of romantic I guess you could say.

"And then?" I pushed just a little when she seemed hesitant to continue.

"We were in a bedroom at this party and he just pushed me back onto the bed and then pulled off my panties. He just got on top of me and pushed it in without even giving me a chance to say anything. It hurt... It REALLY hurt Aunt Kelly. It wasn't at all like what you told me it would be like, not at all. I hated it! I just wanted to get it over with."

For just a moment I couldn't help but feel a little defensive. OK, so was it my fault she didn't follow ALL of my advice? Losing your virginity is going to hurt no matter how well you prepare, but then you CAN do things to reduce the pain and improve the experience. Obviously her experience didn't include any of the preparatory things I'd recommended but then was that MY fault?

"Did he use a condom?"

"Not at first but I pushed him off of me before he could get in very far and told him he had to wear one if he wanted to finish in me."

"So I assume he put one on,"

"Yeah, at least he did THAT!"

Miracles never cease, as they say. If I'd read what she'd just described in a story I never would've believed it. Getting a teenage boy to pull out long enough to put on a condom AFTER he already started fucking you was pretty unheard of!

"So he came while he was inside of you?"

Katlyn huffed and nodded, sniffling and wiping her eyes. "Yeah, it didn't take long - thank god. I've never felt so dirty."

I hugged my young niece as she started to cry. I really felt bad as this was exactly the sort of thing I've always attributed to bad parenting. I've always felt a little self-righteous thinking that I will prepare my girls so their first time was as good, or better, than mine and now my first opportunity to do so was a failure. It wasn't like Katlyn was my own daughter so I wasn't able to prepare her as well I was planning to my own girls someday, but still it should've been enough to prevent something like this from happening.

"Are you OK now though?" I asked, concerned that maybe he'd been too rough with her.

"Oh I'm Ok now... a little sore for a few days but I was expecting that," she muttered, "At least you were right about THAT."

Now I was really feeling guilty. It was like I'd let her down and now she was blaming me. Granted, had she and I been able to more openly share everything I was pretty confident that this would never have happened yet there was no way that could tell her so now.

We just sat like that for the next five or ten minutes, her wrapped in my arms as we sat silently on the couch. My hand was just under her bosom, up tight enough that I could feel the swell of her breast against the top of my thumb. I would have loved to move it up higher yet never in the course of any of our discussions had Katlyn ever expressed the slightest interest in girls, at least not in that way, so I'd never broached the subject or done anything that might in any way intimidate her. Still, at this moment it was all I could do to keep my hand from moving up and cupping that perky little breast.

"You know, when I was a teenager I found that sometimes the best partners were older than me," I started out cautiously. It was a little daring on my part to use the latest update as soon as possible while my dad usually got it second hand from her or from me the next day.

"Wow Aunt Kelly, my parents would KILL me if they knew what Matt and I did, let alone if I did it with someone like THAT!" she exclaimed.

"Well, sometimes you just have to do what's right for you Katlyn," I advised her, taking the role as her dutiful aunt once again. "I have to say though I wasn't too sure about it at first but it turned out to be really a lot of fun and I have to say that I was hooked on older men after that. Still am for that matter."

"I guess," she muttered softly and then added, "But I'm NEVER doing it with Matt again, that's for sure."

"Well, what about someone older?" I suggested cautiously, "Ever think about that?"

Katlyn sorta frowned. "Noooooo, can't say I have. Besides, where would I ever find someone like that? I'm not going to meet some perverted creep on a dating web site, that's for sure!"

The room was suddenly deathly quiet as I debated my next move while she waited for me to answer. This was the sort of opportunity that came about rarely, if ever, so do I waste it and hope for something else later or take advantage of what I had now? If I waited and the chance never came again, would I hate myself for being so careful? It wasn't like I'd prepared myself for this so now I was winging it!

"Well I just might know someone who would love to be with you." The words just seemed to spill out of my mouth before I was even sure I was going to say them. Now that they were out and could never be retracted, my heart felt like it had stopped as I waited her response.

"Oh? Like who?"

"Well, it's someone who thinks you're a beautiful, sexy young woman," I started, "Someone you know very well... someone I would trust more than anyone else with you."

Katlyn looked at me in the eyes without blinking, just staring at me as I could practically hear the gears in her pretty little head as they whirled.

"Really?" she barely was able to get out with a hoarse voice, "You don't mean..."

It was like she was afraid to name him, leaving it to me to finish her sentence. Well, since I was the one to raise the subject I guess I shouldn't complain that now I was the one who had to spell it out.

"Your Uncle Steve would love nothing more, trust me Katlyn," I said softly, gently stroking her long dark hair slowly as I did.

"Oh... my... god!" she gushed as she bit her lip and her face reddened. "But he's my uncle... your husband! I could never do it with him. That would be..."

I smiled at her and moved my hand upward to cup her firm breast in my hand. I could clearly feel her hardened nipple with my fingers - despite her words she was excited, that was for sure!

"Incest... is that what you're trying to say? Yes, it would be but that's OK, true incest is all about family love and respect. Don't let all the crap on the internet give you the wrong impression."

Katlyn was pretty sharp and she quickly put two and two together. "So you're saying YOU have done incest? With who?"

I hadn't really expected the conversation to go in this direction so now it was my turn to put the brain in high gear. It would no doubt be a bridge too far to tell her about me and my dad so I chose a lesser option.

"Well, to be honest Katlyn... with my own uncles."

If I thought Katlyn's sparkling brown eyes had been big up until now, that was nothing to the saucer's staring into mine now.

"You mean Uncle Jim? she asked breathlessly. Then it was like she just caught the plural in my answer. "My grandpa too? Kelly, you and my grandfather have had sex?" she gasped and when I just nodded she continued, "OMG, does grandma know? Who else knows?"

I shook my head. "No, your grandmother has no idea. I WISH we could tell her as I hate doing it behind her back but some things are better left a secret, I think you'll understand why and agree with me when you get a chance to think about it more. And I'm trusting you will never tell her."

Katlyn vigorously shook her head, "No Aunt Kelly, I would NEVER tell her. You can trust me." She paused and then asked, "What about Uncle Steve?"

"Oh of course he knows," I kept nodding, "I could never hide anything like that from my husband."

I was tempted to tell her that her own father had as well but that might have been too much for her. It was shocking enough for her to know what she already did!

It was a lot for her young mind to take in and for now at least that was as far as she seemed to want to pursue which didn't bother me in the least. I didn't want to lie to her yet at the same time I wasn't anxious to reveal to her everything that was going on within our family, at least not yet. At least the one positive thing this side bar conversation had done was delay her having to deal with my original offer, at least for a few minutes. Sooner or later though it would have to be dealt with as you don't say such things and then pretend they never happened.

"So what do you think Katlyn... I mean about you and YOUR uncle?" I gently nudged her. I purposely phrased it that way to try to tie in what I was asking her to something I had done myself - with her own father at that. I was hoping it sounded more personal and intimate for her to consider having sex with HER uncle more so than MY husband.

All the while my hand was still cupping her breast but she didn't seem to notice, or at least she hadn't reacting to my touch - positive or negative. True, I wasn't doing any more than just holding her, squeezing her just enough to let her know I was there but nothing too overt. Still, she had to know what I was doing... something I'd never ever done with her before, at least not deliberately.

"I really don't know Aunt Kelly," she said indecisively, "It just seems so weird. I mean I KNOW Uncle Steve looks at me that way. All the men in the family do so I'm sort of used to it by now. But I never thought for a moment that he actually WANTED me, I mean I know he probably thinks about it but not for real."

At that moment I wanted to tell her that I knew exactly how she felt, that I'd had the exact same thoughts when I first learned that my own father had been wanting to have sex with me for years. Oh sure he'd looked at me with lust at times and I was more than aware that he would get an erection whenever I was on his lap, especially if we were both nude in the hot tub. Yet all that was just a result of biology - the things all guy do when they see a pretty girl. It never meant any more to me and I'd never even dreamed that he actually wanted to fuck me - not for real at least. Oh sure he may have fantasized but so what? Yet again, I wasn't ready to reveal quite that much yet, at least not today, so I did the next best thing.

"Well then, if you really want to know what he things then why don't you ask him?"

Katlyn stiffened at that and for a moment I thought maybe I'd pushed a little too hard, a little too fast. It was cause for relief when she sighed and smiled at me.

"OK, I guess it can't hurt to ask. He won't think I'm weird, will he?"

I grinned at her and have her boob a little extra squeeze. "Really Katlyn, you HAD to see how he felt when he came in and hugged you a little while ago."

It turned out to be the perfect ice-breaker for what had become quite a tense situation as Katlyn giggled like a sixth grader. "Oh yeah... he was really sticking out, wasn't he?"

What she didn't know was just behind us my husband had been standing the whole time listening to our conversation. I couldn't help but wonder if she would she have said all she had and agreed to what she's just agreed to had she known her horny uncle was less than three feet away, stark naked as he slowly stroked a steel-hard erection?

3. Steve's Dream Comes True

Of course I knew he'd been there the whole time as he'd positioned himself to be in my line of sight and thus out of hers. I turned my head up and smiled at him, giving him a slight nod which he took correctly as my granting him permission to make his move.

Katlyn had her head on my shoulder, not saying anything as perhaps the magnitude of what she'd just agreed to was starting to be realized. Steve slowly walked around the end of the couch from behind her and then stood in front of her, his hands now off his cock as it stood out rigidly from his crotch, like a heat-seeking missile blasting off from a plume of thick pubic hair substituting as the smoke from his lust-filled engine of sex.

"Look Katlyn... you can tell by his erection see how much a man wants you," I whispered in her ear, "Just look how hard you make him!"

Katlyn turned enough to see Steve and I heard her draw in a deep breath and hold it. I started to massage her breast now, enough so that she couldn't help but notice that what I was doing was quite deliberate and not just an "accidental" touch.

"That feels good Aunt Kelly," she said softly, placing her hand over mine but not doing anything to push me away. Mmmmmmm, I'd dreamed so many times before of feeling her perfect little boobs and now my dream was being finally realized!

"Look at your uncle's cock Katlyn, look at how hard he is! And he's that way because of you." I looked up at my horny husband and smiled, "Tell her Steve... tell Katlyn what you've been wanting to do to her for so long."

"Here, lean back so I can see his cum," I told her. I guided her to lay on the couch to the side of him and as she lifted off of his dwindling dick a gush of incestuous cum and her pussy juices drained from her freshly fucked young pussy. Knowing the typical loads my husband blew, I knew there was a lot more where that came from!

With Katlyn now on her back I spread her legs apart and quickly placed my mouth over her pussy. Oh my god, the fresh smell of sex was as overwhelming as it was intoxicating! Not only could I could taste her teenage pussy but also the sharp taste of my husband's cum. As I licked it off of her, even more of it oozed from her pussy and I didn't let a drop go to waste!

"Here, clean him off while I take care of you," I told her and she worked her way to lay on his lap so she could lick his dick as I kept my face pressed in between those delicious thighs. Steve was in heaven. Then so was I!

When we'd finally finished she sat up and I leaned against her, kissing her as we exchanged the remaining cum on our tongues and mouth. I wondered if she'd ever kissed a girl before? I mean, REALLY kissed a girl? Imagine your first kiss of a girl and she was covered with your own cum and that of her husband's after he'd just fucked you! Wow, just think of the thoughts that must've been going through that pretty little head at that very moment!

"Well, was I right?" I asked her after things had calmed down a little and we all had caught our breath.

Katlyn just grinned at me and then looked over at my husband. Then she looked serious for a moment.

"Ummmmm, Aunt Kelly, I'm not protected," she said hesitantly, as if afraid to broach something that must have been worrying her.

I leaned over to kiss her again... it was feeling so much more natural already to do so!

"Don't worry, after Kylie was born we both got fixed so we wouldn't have to worry about such things anymore."

Katlyn's eyes brightened.

"Cool... so Uncle Steve, I want you to fuck me again!" she giggled as she reached for her uncle's not-so-erect dick.

Steve chuckled as he looked at me and smiled. "Well, if you really want to then you're going to have to work on getting me hard again."

She giggled again and then for the first time she put her hand on my breast. Until now I'd been pretty much the only one to do any touching with her either fucking my husband or allowing me to touch her without reciprocating.

"Boys are nice but a girl feels good too, don't you agree?" I asked her softly, not wanting to break the mood yet at the same time wanting her to know I appreciated what she was doing.

She giggled yet again... I almost laughed this time as it seemed she was full of them. "Feels a little strange I guess. I never touched another girls boobs before."

"Then try sucking on it," I encouraged her, "You know what to do... just imagine whatever makes you feel good and do it to me."

Oh if Steve could only see us now! I didn't have a doubt in the world that any sleepiness would have disappeared instantly at the site of this teenage girl suckling on his wife's breast!

I was in heaven! Oh she knew just how to make me feel good! Nibbling on my nipple, she didn't bite so hard it hurt yet strong enough to tug on it just enough to make me tingle all the way down my spine! The girl was a natural lesbian! Then again, deep down what girl isn't?

"Do you think Uncle Steve will want to fuck me again?" she asked me innocently as she licked all over my breast.

I chuckled answering, "I think the question is more like when will you LET him? Now that the barn door's been opened, there's no putting the horses back in!"

She giggled yet again. "I sort of figured that. It's OK, I liked it. You're lucky Aunt Kelly, you get to fuck him all the time!"

For a moment I hesitated but then why not strike while the iron is hot as they say?

"You know Katlyn, Steve's not your real uncle."

Katlyn, grinned and kissed the tip of my nipple before answering, "Oh I know that, and you're not my real aunt but I like calling you guys that, especially now. You got to fuck your uncles so now I got to fuck mine."

Stroking her hair as I watched her pretty face against my chest, I said, "Well I also know someone else who would love to fuck you. Any guesses?"

Unfortunately my question got her attention enough such that she leaned back and stopped playing with me but then I was also more concerned about her response so I didn't mind so much.

"Ummmmmmmm, I don't know," she said but I didn't believe she didn't have SOME idea.

"Oh come on Katlyn," I teased her, "Just think back to this summer when we were all swimming and you were wearing that sexy little number. You HAD to see the guys looking at you."

Katlyn laughed this time more than just a giggle. "Yeah but that was ALL the guys, so that doesn't help."

She had a point so I tried to narrow it down. "Well, who was it that had this raging boner when he asked you to sit on your lap? Who was groping you in the pool?"

So much for narrowing it down... She smiled at me like I was so clueless.

"Well, the boner could have been Uncle Jim or you husband... and we know how your husband feels now, don't we?" she grinned, "Or at least I really know how he feels NOW!"

We both laughed and I waited for her to continue.

"Hmmmmmm, in the pool is harder. Lots of people touch me and I just figured it was by accident." She thought some more and then brightened up, "Now your father seemed to accidentally touch me the most... so does that mean it wasn't so accidental?"

"What do YOU think?" I asked her.

"Well, I remember a few times when it seemed he sort of got a little carried away. And come to think of it, he also was pretty hard when he would ask me to sit on his lap."

"And soooooo?" I said, trying to get her to put the pieces together which didn't take much work on her part.

"Oh my god Aunt Kelly, do you mean your dad wants to fuck me too?"

I rubbed her head and smiled at her. "Katlyn, I'm sure by now you know just about every walking dick out there wants to fuck you so of course he does!"

Katlyn had those gears turning faster than ever though and this time she had a zinger for me.

"Aunt Kelly... I can see you knowing that Uncle Steve wanted to fuck me but... how do you know your dad does?"

Ooops, I hadn't planned on THAT question so I danced my way around it like a modern day Ginger Rogers.

"Well, I'm not saying he has actually TOLD me in so many words," I started out. Technically I wasn't lying as I didn't say he hadn't told me either. "But I see him looking at you... just as you have. Really, do you NOT think that he wants to?"

Katlyn frowned. "I don't know Aunt Kelly. Sure he may WANT to but that doesn't mean he would. Like he must be seventy years old! It would be a little weird having sex with someone that much older than me, don't you think?"

I was about to correct her in that my dad was just under 51 but then I remembered that when I was her age, anyone over 40 looked the same age - OLD! Still, even at 50+ he was more than three times her age.

"Maybe if he was just some guy down the street but Katlyn, he's family so what does that mean for you as a girl in the family?"

I'd alluded in the past to the duties of a woman in a Christian family but I don't think it was until today that she really began to understand what I meant. Even so, she was a quick study as she proved by her response.

"You mean I'm supposed to submit to him, right?" she asked. When I nodded approvingly, she continued, "I guess I never really quite understood what that meant until today."

Yeah, I had her pegged, LOL. It WAS a hard concept for those who don't understand the proper role of a woman but for those who do it can be extraordinarily comforting and satisfying.

"So now what am I supposed to do?" she asked.

"I think you already know the answer to that, don't you?" I replied, wanting her to be the one to make the connections without me leading her on TOO much.

Katlyn placer her head on my chest, resting her cheek on my breast innocently. "Well... I guess know WHAT I am supposed to do. I just don't know HOW."

I smile at her, so proud of my niece for accepting so easily what some people never could seem to figure out. I could only pray that my own two girls could be half so accepting of their responsibilities when they reached the right age.

"That's part of the beauty of Christian submission Katlyn," I explained, "You don't have to worry about such things. All you need to do is submit to him and do what he tells you to do without question or hesitation. You just have to trust him and know that as a member of his family he will never ask you to do something that you don't want."

She was quiet as she seemed to be digesting everything. It WAS a lot to take in considering where she'd been only a few hours before.

"So let me help you get started then, OK? I asked. I felt her face nod against my boob so I continued, "Why not just call him and offer yourself to him – no conditions, just give yourself to him."

"What if he doesn't know what I'm talking about?" Katlyn worried, "What if he turns me away? I'd be SO embarrassed!"

I lifted her chin so she could look me in the eye and smiled at her.

"Trust me Katlyn, he will NEVER turn you away. He's been waiting for you to do this for a long time now."

My biggest fear was that she was going to ask me how I knew all this but for whatever reason she didn't. Maybe she'd already figured it all out in her head and just didn't want to get that deep into things, at least not yet. Something told me though that our day of reckoning wasn't too far off in the horizon!

"Here... call him," I encouraged her, reaching back to get my phone. I hit the speed dial for my dad, put it on speaker and handed it to her. Katlyn held the phone nervously, biting her lip as she was prone to do whenever she was worried about something.

"Hello?" I heard my dad answer.

"Hi Uncle John," she said sweetly. It was like she called every guy in the family uncle!

"Well hello darling, and to what do I owe the pleasure?" he came back.

She looked at me as if hoping I might call it all off but I just smiled and nodded encouragingly. "Just say it," I mouthed wordlessly to her.

"Katlyn? You still there?" my dad was asking when she was quiet for too long.

"Ummmmm, Uncle John," she said hesitantly.

She couldn't seem to get the words out and I was afraid she might freeze totally so I reached over and hit the facetime button, inviting my dad to video chat with her. She didn't seem to quite get what I had done before my dad's face appeared and she realized that he could see her – naked and everything!

"Whoa!" my dad huffed with a wide grin but he didn't turn his eyes away.

"Tell him... tell him now," I hissed at her.

"Uncle John, I want to submit to you."

As incredible as those words sounded to me, I could only imagine the impact on my dad hearing the naked little teenager on the screen uttering those words to him.

"Are you sure?" he asked?

me. I knew my dad had to be stroking himself and lord only knows when he came the first time! No doubt not long after she started if I knew him at all.

"OH!" she cried out as she finally orgasmed, her curvy hips lifting up off the couch as she rubbed her pussy with the flat of her palm in tiny circles with one hand as she gripped her boobs with the other.

By then I'd cum at least twice myself so I was pretty exhausted. Katlyn looked up a little sheepishly as the waves of pleasure smoothed over and she seemed to recall where she was - and who was watching!

"That was beautiful Katlyn," my dad complimented her, "See what you did?"

My dad turned his phone to his dick where he was still holding it with a hand covered with his sperm. Katlyn smiled, understanding that she had been responsible for what he'd done.

"So Katlyn, what do you want?" my dad asked her. Of course I knew exactly what HE wanted and once again I was so proud of my special student who responded perfectly.

"I want you to fuck me Uncle John," she said pointedly and with a huge grin. " I want that dick and cum inside of me next time."

"Well, if that's what you want then Katlyn I guess that's what we'll have to do... soon I hope," my dad replied, a huge grin never leaving his face.

"And Kelly," he continued as I turned the camera to me, "I think you owe me quite an explanation, don't you think?"

We all laughed at that one although I doubted Katlyn understood exactly what type of explanation my father was expecting from me. Maybe someday soon she would. It had been an incredible day and I really didn't think I could add a thing to it without being even more overwhelmed. I just hoped that I would be able to be there when my dad fucked Katlyn for the first time. Who knows, maybe she'd get to see how a Christian girl pleases her father and then from there...?

practiced. For my mom's side of the family that pretty much includes everyone whereas for my dad's side it's less than half but in all fairness that's mainly because her extended family is a lot smaller than my dad's. He side also has the "advantage" in that incest has more or less been a family tradition since my mom lost her virginity to her dad back when she was fourteen (soon to be followed by her twelve year-old sister Linda). In contrast, my dad's side is totally opposite in that until he fell under the influence of my mom, my dad never even considered incest outside of the typical male fantasy realm. Still, once he got on board things spread out to include both of his brothers and a few of his nieces and nephews. That still leaves out a large part of the folks who gather at our family reunions so it's not like you could call it a true family practice. Indeed, both my aunts on my dad's side would likely call the police if they had any idea what was happening behind their backs - sometimes quite literally.

Besides my aunts, one of the "outsiders" has been Katlyn, the granddaughter of my dad's older brother - AKA my Uncle Paul. Technically I guess that makes her my second cousin but we've been so close from day one that she's always called me Aunt Kelly - which I find to be rather cute. Along those same lines, after I married Steve she started calling him Uncle Steve, sort of the same way she refers to my dad as her Uncle John. I suppose some people might wonder about it at times but it's just something that's become common practice and everyone in our family goes along with it.

Interestingly, my Uncle Paul has a bit of history with my mom that started long before my dad married her. Actually I didn't even know until years after my dad started fucking me that Uncle Paul and my mom's history went back to her high school days. Unbeknown to me (and my dad as it turned out) their sexual relationship had continued on a low key basis over the years since graduation and both marriages. I only learned about it the day he first approached me for sex. As you might imagine I was quite surprised at the time but it wasn't like I complained under the circumstances. Yet even though he was fucking his brother's daughter and knew my dad was fucking me too, I never once heard Uncle Paul even mention a thing about wanting to have sex with his own daughter, let alone his granddaughter.

All this isn't really not so surprising when you think about it. Despite what the porn industry would have us all believe, it's really not that easy to get something like incest started when you don't have the family's support. Even then it's not like everyone has the desire, which seemed to be the case with my Uncle Paul. Like many Katlyn was now fifteen, having grown even taller than me and was looking positively incredible! It's amazing how much she has changed just in the past couple of years. In fact, to be perfectly honest I was a little jealous of her in that when I was fifteen some people thought I was twelve whereas Katlyn had people asking her what college she attended. OMG, both my dad and Steve would get so horny whenever she was around! Sometimes they would get carried away and try to steal a quick "accidental" feel of her cute little butt or growing boobs, especially in the hot tub or swimming pool, but she never seemed to take notice. Personally I could relate to that as I remembered having men staring at me all the time when I was at the pool as a teenager. After a while most girls just accept it and stop worrying about it. If anything, I'd try to tease them and see how hard I could make them, something I noticed Katlyn seemed to be doing at times as well!

Despite the growing temptation, both my dad and husband had dutifully kept their desires in hand (literally at times) until last week another of my firm assumptions fell when my husband got to finally fuck Katlyn. (If you want all the details please go read my diary entry for 2015 (Oct 17) Chapter 278: Katlyn... Finally!.) The day ended with Katlyn FaceTiming with my dad, masturbating for him and teasingly offering herself to him - in every way mentionable (and unmentionable). I was thrilled, not to mention a bit in we, at how quickly my little niece picked up on the concept of Christian submission!

Needless to say my dad was more than anxious (a LOT more in fact) to take Katlyn up on her offer. The only problem was the logistics - how was I going to arrange a time and location for them to meet? It's not like it was normal practice for her to go to his house without her parents nor could he just pick her up and take her to a hotel room.

At the same time, my husband was just as anxious for a second go at Katlyn. I guess who could blame him? Heck, I'd even masturbated myself several times in the past week recalling the intense memories of her beautiful nude teenage body pressing against mine, her wet lips locked on my boobs as I stroked my fingers over her warm naked body. OMG, the taste of her pussy after my husband had filled her with his cum has been so incredibly erotic that I couldn't wait for a second helping as well!

Since it would be quite awkward to arrange a date with Katlyn and my dad, I wracked my brain to come up with some other ideas. One thing I had going for me was that being Katlyn and I had been so close over the years, nobody ever questioned the two of us getting together. Indeed, I often would pick her up for lunch or shopping trips. Especially now that I had two daughters, asking her to drop by to help out with them wasn't something anyone even thought twice about. Perhaps I was being overly cautious but as anxious as I was to make the arrangements, at the same time I knew full well that if I botched things up then our entire family would likely be torn apart - at best.

As it seems so often the case whenever I faced a dilemma, my dad was there helping me come up with the perfect solution, even if he hadn't realized it at the time. It was the very next morning after our little adventure with Katlyn and I was over at my dad's house for our traditional Sunday morning tryst prior to us heading off to church. For years we'd maintained this father-daughter bonding tradition, missing out only when he was out of town on business or some other major event or plague interfered. I suppose it shouldn't have come as any surprise that he didn't waste any time getting to his favorite subject - Katlyn.

"Damn Kelly, I don't know how the hell you pulled it off but WOW!, THAT was the most intense FaceTime I've ever shared!" he sighed as he quickly hoisted me up on top of the kitchen counter and spread my legs apart. As usual I wasn't wearing panties under my skirt as it would've just been a waste of time. It was sort of funny how my dad and husband differed in that aspect. Of course Steve loved me to be nude as much as possible but when I was dressed he thought it was sexier for me to wear revealing panties and thongs than go commando. On the flip side, my dad would have me remain bottomless 24/7 which is why I'd been that way 90% of the time when I was living at home! I guess that sort of explains why even today I'm usually commando any time I'm home.

"Well you certainly LOOKED like you were enjoying it," I gasped as he quickly plunged his already stiff dick inside of me without even touching me first. Fortunately I'd anticipated his desires - after submitting to someone for over fourteen years you tend to anticipate such things, and had masturbated during the drive over so I was more than wet enough to allow him to penetrate me without any problems. "I think she was a little surprised to see you jerking off, not to mention cumming all over the place. Dang dad, you were quite a mess!"

My dad just grunted as he thrust his incestuous erection even deeper inside of his daughter's welcoming pussy. I leaned back against the cupboard, supporting myself with both hands to the side of me as he put his hands under my bare thighs and lifted me up and pulled me into his groin. Oh god I loved the feel of his thick pubic hair as it rubbed like a soft brush against my crotch! Closing my eyes, I concentrated on nothing but his dick inside of me as my father fucked me like a man possessed.

How would you explain the difference between red and blue to someone who has been blind from birth? Well, unless I'm talking to someone else who has done it, it's a perfect analogy for the problem I face whenever I try to explain the difference between enjoying sex with my dad and any other man. There are simply no words for something that can never be adequately described, only experienced. As I closed my eyes and submitted my body completely to my father without reservation, it was like I was glowing from something emerging from deep inside of me. Indeed, something WAS deep inside of me, the very source of the feelings and emotions that swelled and then burst within me in a series of orgasms.

Indeed, this was no ordinary man fucking me. The hard dick now inside of me didn't belong to just any ol' horny guy at a party, a lusting cheating husband, or even the man I love most in the world - my husband. The fact is that ANY of these other guys could be replaced with a hundred others. Yes, as sacrilegious as it may sound, even my husband was technically replaceable (technically in that I'd never even want to consider such a reality). In all the world there is only ONE man who can claim to be my father and at this very moment that man was pumping his incestuous cock in and out of his daughter's most precious gift she could give him - her body. Just as my father is unique, so too am I in that I'm the only woman in the world he can fuck as his own flesh and blood, as his loving daughter.

Oh god... each time I felt my father thrust deep inside of me I wanted to cry out with joy and ecstasy. Each time he pulled back, threatening to leave me empty and unfulfilled I wanted to pull him back in with my bare legs that I'd wrapped around him, locking my ankles so he couldn't pull out of me (yeah, like THAT was even a possibility!) I could feel my breasts bouncing when the base of his cock pressed up and pushed firmly into my crotch, pounding into me enough to make me shudder from the physical expression of his love for me.

Normally I knew my dad would be thinking of nothing but me as he fucked me, his sharp mind focused like a laser on his daughter as he mated her. Today though was like no other. Under different circumstances I might have been upset that his thoughts could drift to another girl as he fucked me but who could blame him in the here and now?

be followed by a second and serval more after that. This was the moment I had been waiting for. This was the one moment when my father expressed his love and respect for me in the way only he could. Hundreds of men have fucked me but my dad was, and always will be, someone special.

When he'd finished my dad kept his dick in me, leaning back so we could both get a good view of his incestuous cock as it remained imbedded in me, sort of like a finger in the dike holding back the sea - the sea of sperm that he'd just emptied deep inside of me.

"You know, I don't think I'll EVER grow tired of looking at this," he said softly. He was referring, of course, to the sight of his dick joined with his daughter's bare pussy. Yep, it was a view I also could never get enough of and so I leaned forward a little to get a better perspective. It never ceases to amaze me when I try to relate what I'm seeing to what I'm feeling - to comprehend that the thing inside of me making me feel so sexy and hot was the very same dick I could see disappearing from view.

"Wait a second daddy," I urged him as he started to pull out of me. I reached over and grabbed a dish towel from by the sink. "OK, I'm ready!"

My dad quickly popped his dick out of my pussy (yes, it literally DID make popping sound, sort of like a cork from a wine bottle) and as I expected it was like opening the floodgates as his sperm almost immediately began to drain out of me. Well, this certainly wasn't my first rodeo so I was prepared. I quickly pushed the dish towel tightly into my crotch to soak up the tidal wave of cum and pussy juices that followed before it could make a mess of the kitchen counter and floor.

"Now don't forget to wash it this time before you try doing dishes," I teased him. OK, so I was being a little snarky maybe but I was never going to let him forget about the last time! My aunt had been more than a little annoyed when she started drying the dishes only to realize what was soaked into the towel, LOL.

"Do you have a hankie, daddy?" I asked. Duh, of course he did, he was just waiting for me to ask as I usually did sooner or later. The reason I asked was that his handkerchief was a whole lot less conspicuous than a kitchen dish towel should I need a repeat performance in church later. Always best to be prepared... Too bad I had to learn this lesson the hard way but then what else do those old ladies at church have to worry about?

As usual we were running late so he quickly pulled up his slacks and rearranged himself as I tugged down on my skirt hem and checked myself out, taking special care to ensure that none of his cum had dripped onto the back of my skirt. Of course the one time I'd forgotten to check was the one time a big wet splotch appeared. It wouldn't have been so bad except I was sure everybody knew exactly what it was but if so, then they must have assumed it was my husband's. I mean like who would think it was there because my dad had just fucked me, especially the old folks at church?

Less than twenty minutes later I was seated in church next to my dad, my pussy still tingled with the afterglow of my dad's dick filling it. Wow, I was suddenly so horny that it took just about all my willpower to keep from pulling up my skirt and plunging my fingers inside of me! I looked around and saw a number of girls around that looked to be about Katlyn's age. Hmmmmmm, were any of them were fucking their dad's or other men in their family? As naughty as that sounded, actually I would've been quite surprised had the answer been anything but none! As much as I truly believe incest is more commonplace than most people realize, at the same time I don't think it's THAT common.

As I sat there thinking, I thought about how it was too bad that Katlyn and her family hadn't chosen today to visit our church. Even though they had a really nice home church they often would come to ours to visit. Then again maybe it was a good thing after all she wasn't there as I think my dad might have blown another load without even touching himself had she been in sight right about now! As it was I couldn't help but notice he was keeping a hymnal on his lap which just happened to hide whatever was going on in his crotch.

It was maybe half-way through the sermon and I was daydreaming about how good Katlyn's pussy had tasted when it hit me. Of course! It was so simple that why I hadn't figured it out sooner was a mystery - must be slipping in my old age! Sometimes the most simple solution is the best and I'd call this one almost elegant in that I figured it would make everyone happy by the time it was over - my husband, father and even me!

2. Saturday Night Sleepover

Arranging for Katlyn to sleep over was a piece of cake. I simply called her mom and explained that Steve and I had been planning a date night but our regular babysitter had bailed at the last moment. Would she mind if Katlyn filled in? Since we'd most likely be out pretty late I offered that it would be easier for everyone if she just spent the night at our place, promising we'd bring her home after church services the next day.

Of course Aunt Ginny was more than supportive - I mean why wouldn't she be? So far as I knew there was no reason why she would ever begin to even suspect my ulterior motives. I was positive she had idea her husband had ever fucked me and as for Katlyn, best as I knew she wasn't even aware her daughter wasn't a virgin anymore. Lord help me if I'm ever so clueless when my daughters are old enough to start dating! All I can hope is that they'll do the same as I did after my first time by coming straight home and telling their mother all the details! Then again, it had better NOT be their first time or my husband wouldn't have been doing his duty as their father.

Of course the REAL agenda for the evening was just a little different than what I'd told my aunt. Surprise! Steve and I had no plans to go anywhere. Fortunately his mom was always more than willing to watch over her granddaughters whenever possible so asking her to take them for the night was a piece of cake. Dropping them off was also an opportunity for a little mom-son time. Now that my husband and mother-in-law had stopped hiding their extracurricular activities - and even allowed me to watch, I found myself looking forward more and more to our trips to her house! Another benefit of Steve's mom taking the girls for the night was that she lived not all that far from where Katlyn's family lived so it worked out perfectly.

Steve stayed in the pickup while I went in to get Katlyn and say a brief hello to her parents. As it turned out my Aunt Ginny and Uncle Bill were both home. As always, my Uncle Bill gave me the once-over. Even though we'd done it a couple of times so far it wasn't like we had anything special going on between us. Even so I still enjoy the tingling feeling I get whenever I see the way he looks at me while his wife stood right there, totally oblivious. Yet as much as I enjoyed sneaking behind a wife's back to have sex with her husband, in this particular case I actually wish she knew as it would have made so many things so much easier. Oh well, can't have everything, right?

Katlyn made her appearance shortly after I entered, rolling a small pink suitcase behind her along with her backpack.

"Hey Katlyn, you DO know it's for just one night," her father teased her. Aunt Ginny smacked him playfully in the shoulder saying, "Now dad, girls need a lot more than boys do and don't forget, she's going to church with them in the morning so she has to have all her makeup and such."

"Oh sure, heaven forbid she forget the war paint!" Uncle Bill chuckled but the three of us girls just ignored him. Men can be so clueless at times! Then again, I wouldn't want it any other way as overall I think that works to our advantage.

"Oh honey, don't you think you're going to be cold in that outfit?" her mom asked her worriedly, "I hate to be the one to tell you but summer's over."

My aunt was referring to the denim cutoffs and tight cami Katlyn was wearing. Surprisingly neither she nor my uncle made any mention of how high cut the shorts were - to the point of the bottom of her cute little bum was hanging out. Not to mention the cami looked about two sizes too small, hugging her like it was painted on and eliminating any questions as to whether or not she was wearing a bra - not that the way her nipples were plainly poking through didn't already make it plain to see that she wasn't.

Then again it wasn't all that surprising in that Katlyn had always been allowed to wear pretty much anything, although not quite as risqu, as the outfits my mom use to buy for me to wear. At least she wasn't threatened with the third degree my mom use to receive from my onerous Aunt Shari who couldn't believe any mother would allow her daughter to dress the way I did. If anything though I think it just caused my mom to dress me all the sluttier whenever our families were getting together.

"Oh mom, quite worrying... I'll be just fine," she huffed rolling her eyes and looking every bit the part of an exasperated fifteen year-old teenager.

"Well, at least I certainly HOPE you're not planning on wearing that to church," her mom continued as if she never even heard her daughter's protests. What is it about moms anyways? Dad's never complain about what their daughters wear, at least mine never did.

"Mom!" she blurted out over her shoulder as she dragging her bag behind her and headed out the door.

"I swear, sometimes she can be impossible!" Aunt Ginny said to me with a weak smile, "Oh well, she's all yours tonight to deal with."

Little did her mother know just how true that statement was!

By the time I'd said my goodbyes and made it back to Steve's pickup truck, Katlyn had already made herself at home scrunched up tight against my husband. I often swore that the only reason Steve hung onto this rolling wreck was the bench front seat!

"You know you guys could at least wait until we're out of sight of the house," I admonished them. Katlyn already had her hand rubbing over my husband's crotch where his erection was outlined.

"Sorry Aunt Kelly," she said although her tone didn't sound too sorrowful, "I've been thinking about this all week and just couldn't wait."

I just shook my head in amazement. My god, what had we unleashed onto the world when we'd opened Pandora's Box last weekend? It's not like Katlyn had been some prudish nun beforehand - she was already quite the accomplished tease and face it, like it or not she'd already given away her virginity to some boy at school so odds were all the other boys knew she was putting out now. Still, I'd never expected her to make the leap from virgin teenager to little slut quite so quickly!

Then again, on second thought the only thing that really surprised me was that I was surprised at all. I guess we all tend to forget what it was like when we were teenagers with raging hormones and sex was brand new and so exciting. Thinking back to that night in a dark theater when I sucked Steve's dick for the very first time, I remember how apprehensive and scared I'd been. Not that I scared about doing it but more scared that despite my mom's lessons that I might not do it right. Steve was two years older than me with quite the reputation for his rather lofty expectations of the girls he dated. If there was one thing I didn't want to happen it was for him to think I was some sort of amateur - even though I clearly WAS. Thankfully I discovered that I had a natural talent for doing it, or at least that's what guys have always told me, and I couldn't wait for our next date.

It was the same way when it came to having sex. I mean I don't care how prepared she may think she is, what girl isn't at least a little scared when it comes to giving up her virginity? Yes, it hurts but for me at least it was more a sharp sting rather than like falling down and whacking your knee causing it to throb and hurt for a long time. Again, just like the blowjob once I got past that first time I couldn't wait to do it again... and again and again and again!

So to be fair, I'd say Katlyn was probably pretty much in the same place as I was around her age. She'd made it through her first time with some boy from school and then she seemed to have thoroughly enjoyed her second (and third) time with my husband. Now that she'd discovered how incredibly enjoyable and fun sex can be, who could blame her for being anxious for more? It's not like I had been exactly patient when Steve would pick me up on a date. And to be totally truthful with

"Yeah... he wants his dick sucked!" she announced triumphantly.

"Fast learner," Steve commented with a sly grin and a wink for me.

"See, now that wasn't so hard, was it?" I told her. She giggled at my choice of words - silly teenager.

The light turned green and Steve was forced to focus on driving through the heavy Pittsburgh traffic - always a nightmare and one of the few things I hated about Pittsburgh.

"But Aunt Kelly, he's driving. Maybe you should drive so I can suck him."

I just shook my head, feeling a bit old suddenly as I once again was reminded of how young and naive she was.

"One thing you need to learn about guys Katlyn, they LOVE their dicks sucked and they especially love them sucked in public."

"Public?" she questioned, a little perplexed.

"Oh I don't mean like on stage or in front of everyone. It's more like someplace where you COULD be seen. The secret is to do it where you can see other people but they don't easily notice you. After all, you don't need anyone freaking out on you and getting you both in trouble."

"But won't people see me if I do it now?"

Steve couldn't hold back anymore and had to put in his two cents saying, "All they see is the back of your pretty head, they can think all they want but they won't know for sure. And trust me, if he DOES see you a guy will just be jealous as hell!"

"So do you suck Uncle Steve in the car Aunt Kelly?" she asked. Sheesh, it was like trying to get something across to a toddler who always had another question ready to fire out.

Again Steve answered for me. "Your aunt gives INCREDIBLE road head. She even sucked me off once going through a drive-through!"

"Really?" she exclaimed, although it was more in astonishment than a real question this time.

"Trust me Katlyn, there's a LOT I'll be teaching teach you although some things are fun to learn on your own," I teased her and then decided enough was enough, time to get to work. "Ok then... since we've only got a few more minutes, why not give it a shot?"

"Cool!" she gushed with excitement growing in her voice.

Steve did the best he could while trying to steer to undo his pants. He'd left his boxers at his mom's place so it was easy for Katlyn to fish out his erection and respects you he won't do that. Aiming it into your mouth shows he honors and respects you."

Katlyn sat up and playfully stuck out her tongue to reveal the coating of my husband's white sperm and then she quickly swallowed it down, taking a couple of tries before she could get it all down.

"Hmmmmmm, it really doesn't taste bad," she grinned, "At least not as bad as some girls claim it does." Then she got this questioning expression. "But I thought men liked to do it all over a girl."

Steve started to say something but I wasn't about to let him contradict me so I cut in saying, "Well, like most everything, there's always exceptions. Sometimes Steve gets a little carried away... But trust me, ALL men love seeing a girl swallowing their cum. Just remember, if you're going to take it in your mouth then you'd better swallow it. Spitting it out is SOOOO disrespectful!" I was going to mention that it was OK if she spit it into another girl's mouth but held my tongue - even though I would have loved the taste of my husband's cum on it right then.

With that we headed inside with Steve bringing in her suitcase like a gentleman. Heck, after that BJ he had BETTER do something nice for her! Once inside, the first thing Katlyn noticed was how quiet the apartment was.

"So where's the girls?" she asked looking around.

"Oh we dropped them off with Steve's mom for the night before we picked you up," I explained, leaving out the part about what else Steve and his mom had done, "We'll see how well Grandma can handle them all by herself."

"But I thought you guys were going out?"

Too bad she was a brunette as she couldn't use my standard line when I failed to grasp the obvious. Steve started to say something but I put my hand on his arm and squeezed to keep him from speaking. Hopefully she'd catch on sooner than later.

"Ohhhhhhhhhhhh!" she said as the light bulb flashed over her pretty brunette head. Then she looked at Steve with the most devilish expression.

"So I guess that means you're gonna fuck me tonight, right Uncle Steve?"

Yep, a natural-born slut alright. It was like she instinctively knew exactly what to say to turn my husband on the most. Katlyn started to reach for Steve but I wasn't about to repeat my mistakes from last week so I motioned for them both to stay still while I dug through my purse. Pulling out my phone, I turned to them but directed my question to Katlyn.

"Just watch me," I told her, motioning for her to take a seat, "Steve, you know what to do."

Steve surely did as he sat down in the couch with a wide grin of expectation.

"It's pretty simple really Katlyn, you just dance while you're on his lap... like this."

I climbed aboard and put my arms around my husband's neck as I ground my crotch on his lap.

"Ohhhhhhhhhhhh, OK, I've seen that in movies," she gushed. Hmmmmmm, now what kind of movies had she been watching?

Katlyn started to reach to undo her shorts but I quickly got off of Steve to stop her. "No no no! ALWAYS start out fully dressed," I taught her, "Men love it when you strip for them and the slower the better."

"Cool," was all she said as she took the place I'd just vacated. She started to move and at first was a little awkward but I could see Steve was softly telling her what to do and it was just a few minutes before she started to get the hang of it.

"If you ever go to a club you'll see that guy's usually aren't allowed to touch the girls but we're not to going to have such silly rules here, right Steve?" I teased, offering him a hint as my way of giving him permission to proceed with what I knew he wanted.

"Damn your tits are so cute," Steve complimented her as he put on hand over each. They weren't the biggest by any means but then still more than I had been blessed (cursed?) with when I was her age. Steve had been a boob guy since high school so I knew he appreciated large boobs but he wasn't complaining one bit about Katlyn's firm perky versions.

Steve was horny and anxious so it wasn't long before his hands were working their way under her cami, pushing it up and over her breasts exposing them to the cool indoor air. Her nipples were already little bullets so it didn't really have any further effect on them.

"Mmmmmmm, YES!" he murmured as his mouth encircled her little brown nipples and his tongues rolled around her breast. I stood back a few feet, a little jealous if I was being honest - that's being jealous of HIM mind you.

"Good... now grind down a little harder on his dick," I instructed her and she got this cute little look of determination as she worked her butt around in circles over his cock through his pants. "That's it - see the look on his face - he loves it!"

the evening and this was only meant to keep Steve happy so it wasn't like it needed to take all that long.

"OK, now grab his cock Katlyn," I instructed, "That's it... you know where he wants it... same place I think YOU do, right?"

Katlyn giggled at that and I knew I was correct on both counts. Even though it would've made me happier to be the one directing my husband's erection into her, this wasn't about ME. Rather it was all about pleasing my hubby and as much as it might frustrate me, I knew he loved having her guide in him, showing him she wanted it there.

"Shit you're cunt's so fuckin' tight!" Steve groaned as she pressed down on his shaft. As hard as he was it actually bent just a little as he strained to press himself into her all but virgin pussy. I smiled at the expression on her face - complete concentration as she bent forward to get a better view of the fleshy invader forcing it's way inside of her.

"Oh!" she exclaimed suddenly as it was like he just popped into her in one swift motion. It was so quick she lost her balance and dropped down hard onto his lap, driving my husband's dick deep inside of her so fast it took them both by surprise. "Oh wow!" she blurted out as she just sat there. Steve might not have the biggest cock in the world at six inches (OK, so I'm being a little generous but then I AM his wife you know) but he was moderately thick which I loved even better and I knew she must be feeling positively stuffed.

"Shoot! Hang on or just a sec!" I said quickly, regaining my senses after a momentary lapse but then who could blame me given the view right in front of me. I stepped next to them and took a few quick shots looking down at the incredible view of my husband's hairy crotch pressed in tight into hers without a sign of his dick anywhere. Switching to video mode, I said, "OK Steve, now fuck her... fuck her like you've always dreamed of fucking her."

It was a video I knew he would always cherish - not to mention my dad and who knows, maybe even her own dad someday. It didn't hurt that as she rode his dick she panted and cried out as her orgasm racked her stiff body, her pussy clamping down on Steve's cock as she rocked back and forth on his lap clutching her boobs.

As horny as Steve was, I knew it was only a matter of time - a very short time, before he couldn't hold back any longer. It had been a couple of hours now since

Poor Steve, one minute he was fucking the girl of his fantasies and now he was about to be left home alone as his wife and that same girl left to be with the one man he least appreciated me having sex with - my dad. Oh well, he had better not complain as I COULD have simply had him drop the two of us off on the way home. But then what kind of wife would do that to her husband?

3. Updating Our Sunday Morning Tradition

For a brief moment I toyed with the idea of just having Katlyn put on her coat and remain naked under it for our short trip to my dad's place. I'm sure my dad would've been thrilled to see her nude so quickly but then what had I just told Katlyn about men wanting to watch a woman strip? Yeah, he would've been happy to get down to it quickly but then I knew his memories would be so much sweeter if we did it right.

"Why don't you do to the bathroom and clean yourself off?" I offered to Katlyn who quickly ran off to do just that, leaving me alone for the first time that night with my spouse.

"You sure you're OK with this?" I asked him, not wanting to upset him yet at the same time a little anxious that he might insist on modifying my plans for the rest of the evening. The problem was that if he did then I knew I'd have to obey him as his wife yet at the same time I felt confident that my wonderful husband would do what he knew was best for me.

"Well... you KNOW how I feel about this," he started off rather sternly and for just a fraction of a second I wondered if maybe this time I really WAS going to find myself in a pickle. Then he couldn't keep a straight face any longer. "Hey, I really did appreciate you doing this for me tonight so while I may not be thrilled... I'm happy for you."

I threw myself into my lover's arms and felt his still naked body press against me - something that never would fail to turn me on.

"Of course... there is ONE thing I insist on..."

Uh-oh, now what was my conniving husband up to?

"I want that video while you're gone."

My eyes rolled and I just sighed. My dear husband - always so predictable. No doubt he'd have it Air-Playing to the big screen TV all night. I was about to bet him as to how many times he'd jerk off watching it tonight but decided to leave that one untouched - it was his business and besides, I was the one who filmed it so who could I blame but me?

Surprisingly, Katlyn seemed to be taking her sweet time so I quickly hooked up my phone to our Mac and transferred the video using iTunes. It was still on my phone in case my dad wanted to watch it later but something told me he'd be more interested in making his own version!

"All ready Aunt Kelly," Katlyn announced as she came out all dressed once again - if you call those shorts and cami being dressed which barely qualified.

"Bye Uncle Steve," she said, hugging my husband and kissing him on the mouth. Of course he took advantage of the opportunity to grope her boobs again which I quickly put a stop to before he could get carried away.

"Uncle Steve, don't you wanna watch Uncle John fucking me tonight?" she teased him as we headed for the door. I shook my head in disbelief - what had I created? Then again, I'd have to admit it was exactly what I'd wanted. Steve just let it go and I gave her a little push out the door. It was hard enough for ME to understand the thing between my dad and Steve when it came to incest, let alone try to explain it to a newbie like Katlyn.

It took less than fifteen minutes for me to drive from our house to my dad's and the whole way Katlyn was like a little chatter box. She wanted to know when my dad first fucked me, where we'd done it, had he cum in me, how many times we'd done it after that, and even more about my first time with him. I wondered if she was interested so much in my past experience as she was in her relationship with her own father but for the moment I let that sleeping dog lay. It was something I knew would have to be discussed sooner than later but not at this moment. There was another father to be pleased tonight...

I parked at the top of the driveway so we could enter via the front door. It just seemed more appropriate than driving down to the garage and entering by the basement entrance. Besides, this was often where I parked on Sunday mornings when I dropped by so it seemed the right thing to do. My intentions for the evening were basically to replicate my Sunday morning tradition with my dad - only substituting Katlyn for me. Only problem was that I hadn't taken into account my dad's desires.

"Hey! There's my slutty little girl!" my dad exclaimed as we walked into the entryway. For a moment I forgot myself and started to say something but then felt a little chagrined when I realized his words weren't for me.

Oh from the mouth of babes... Yes, I'd fully expected the first half of her response but I was caught a bit by surprise by the second part. Even my dad raised his eyebrows a bit afterwards.

"And where do you want him to fuck you?"

"In my pussy of course," she answered, giving me a weird look as if to say, "Where else?"

I laughed and shook my head at her response. "Well of course he's going to fuck your pussy," I assured her and I looked at my dad who nodded. "What I meant was WHERE, as in where in the house or wherever do you want him to fuck you?"

Katlyn looked a little sheepish. "Ohhhhhhhhhhhh," she sighed, "Sorry. I guess that was silly." She paused and then finished saying, "I want him to fuck me where he fucked YOU the first time."

My dad just shrugged and then I understood some of her line of questioning during the drive over. Fortunately for her my parents had kept my room pretty much in the same condition it had been when I was living there - even the bed was there same, so that wasn't the issue. I was just a little surprised at her maturity in coming up with something that I knew would turn my dad on so much - which it clearly was doing if the bulge in his slacks was any indication.

"So how do you want to get started?" I asked her, not really sure at this point where things were heading since my pans were certainly off the rails.

Katlyn stood up and took my dad by the hand. "Do you still remember where it started that time Uncle John? Aunt Kelly told me all about it on the way over."

The expression on my dad's face showed us both that he clearly did. "I'll always remember that day like it was yesterday," he said gently as he looked at me with love in his eyes - and more than little lust as well. "I was trying to watch TV in the basement and somebody just couldn't behave herself!"

"Oh, so like it was all MY fault?" I responded, pretending to be upset.

"Well, it's not like I was the one exposing myself," my dad argued.

I turned to Katlyn and looked at her critically. "What do you say dad? I know it's not the same color but I'd say it fits her about the same as that T-shirt I was wearing, don't you?"

My dad chuckled. "Oh yeah, I remember that little number. I don't even know how you got it on with it being so crazy tight and short. Then again, you always did love running around showing off that cute little bare bum." He put his hand to his chin and stared at Katlyn like a film director before a scene. "But the shorts and shoes... those have to go."

"Katlyn?" I hinted, nodding at her.

"You don't have to spell it out you know," she complained slightly as she quickly stripped off her shorts and this time - her sneakers. She stood there semi-naked in the hallway - fortunately my dad remembered to close the door just in time before she exposed her bare butt to the neighborhood through the glass exterior door.

"Perfect?" I asked my dad. He just nodded and then I turned to him. "If I remember right you were wearing those shabby workout shorts Mom was always trying to throw away but you insisted ion wearing.

My dad shook his head. "No, that was the night before, remember? I was wearing sweatpants so these should do I think."

Well, his dress slacks weren't exactly sweat pants but since it really didn't matter assuming we were going to be reenacting the scene I could go along with it.

"OK then... we'll see you downstairs."

My dad started to head to the basement door by the kitchen eating area when he turned and raised a finger. "Just a second, ok?"

He quickly ran up the stairs and almost as quickly was back, this time with his favorite video camera.

"If you're going to record this then I want something with a little more quickly and effects than your phone."

I grinned as I took the camera. Katlyn had only mentioned it once but he wasn't going to forget her offer, was he? It had been ages since I'd used it but then it was like riding a bike. Wow, how many times had he videoed me growing up with a series of cameras, each one claiming to capture me in more and better pixels? I had no idea where he kept his library - no doubt he'd converted everything to digital by now.

Once my dad was out of sight I turned to Katlyn and put my hand on my shoulder.

"So THAT is why you were asking so many questions you little minx!" I teased her, "So do you remember everything I told you?"

Katlyn grinned like a cat with a fresh bowl of milk. "Enough I think... do you think he'll care if it's not a perfect reproduction?"

I rolled my eyes and sighed but smiled as well. Hugging her I whispered in her ear, "I think we both know the answer to that one, don't we?"

slacks - no sweat pants around I guess, but the short was gone, just as it had been way back then. He was seated in his favorite chair, remote in hand as he gazed intently as a porn video on the nog screen TV. Other than the fact the TV was a modern giant flat screen versus the monstrous projection model he'd been so proud of at the time, things were pretty much just the same as I remembered. Looking more closely at the TV, I smiled as my memory was jolted yet again - it was the very same video he'd been watching when I had walked in all alone. Yep, Taboo IV - The Next Generation starring one of the old-time porn stars I most admired - Ginger Lynn. I wonder what the guys I'd blown in high school would've said had they known many of the techniques I used that they so raved about had been learned watching her in action.

"Hi Uncle John, mind if I watch with you?" I heard her say. It seemed that while she was intent on duplicating the scene between me and my dad, the script was going to be hers.

"Of course baby," my dad replied, motioning her to take a seat on the couch, "Do your parents let you watch this sort of thing at home?"

Evidently my dad was going to ad-lib as well. He never had to ask me THAT question, that was for sure. Seeing my dad watching porn was something I took for granted long before I even started masturbating to them along with him.

"Are you kidding?" she exclaimed and then giggled, like a little girl getting away with something naughty.

Meanwhile I was capturing everything on video, taking a seat in the chair my mom use to sit in while watching me and my dad having fun together. It was a little surreal as I realized I wasn't all that much younger than my mom had been at those times. Too bad she didn't have the technology available to her that I had in my hands now. I'd given most anything to have a recording of the first time I had sex with my dad!

We all sat silently, watching the scene playing out in front of us. It was one of my all-time favorites where Ginger says to the son, "First your mom... then me." Then she watches him fuck his mother after which she gives on of the best blowjobs ever and gets fucked perfectly! It was also one of my dad's favorites as well and I watched, knowing what was soon to come and I wasn't disappointed as he undid his pants and started to stroke his hard dick. He never looked at Katlyn or me, just as he never looked at me back then when he would get horny and start to masturbate.

Not to be outdone, Katlyn laid back on the couch with her head on the armrest, laying on her side with her upper leg draped up and over the back of the couch to make it easy for my dad to watch her as she started to rub her pussy slowly. Unlike my dad, she barely even glanced at the TV screen but rather was focused on my dad as he jerked off in front of her. It made me wonder if she had ever watched a man masturbate before, at least in real life and not some porn video on the internet.

My dad HAD to realize what she was doing but he was doing a good job of disguising his interest, just as he use to do when I would start playing with myself as a teenager. My parents had always told me that masturbation was a normal reaction and that it wasn't necessary for me to have to run off to my room to do it privately. Of course I also wasn't expected to put on quite the show that Katlyn was!

Katlyn was either getting herself off quickly or doing an Oscar-worthy performance but then the flushness of her face and the ragged breathing would have been hard to fake as she neared an orgasm. I zoomed in on her, catching her as she pushed first one finger and then a second into her wet sloppy pussy, the very same pussy my husband had been fucking not so long before. Speaking of masturbation... it wasn't going to be too much longer and I'd have to put down the camera and deal with my own issues!

Just as I thought she was about to go over the edge, Katlyn seemed to remember what I'd told her in the car and stopped toying with herself, sitting up straight on the couch before getting up a bit wobbly to her feet.

"Sorry to have to leave you all alone Uncle John but I really need to take care of something in my room."

My dad looked up and asked, "Is it something I could help you with?"

I smiled, remembering vividly how he had asked me almost the same question using almost the very same words. I'd wanted to scream, "YES! I want you to fuck me daddy!" but didn't dare. Would Katlyn? I wouldn't have been surprised given how forward she had been from the start but then she surprised me, and likely my dad as well, by declining his offer. With a naughty grin she wiggled her bare little butt as she scampered up the stairs. Pausing the camera, I sat it down on my lap and looked at my dad.

"So tell me dad, when I ran up the stairs like that how long did you have to think about it before you followed me?"

My dad still had his hand on his dick and I noticed he was still stroking it slowly. Yeah, some things never change!

"Well you have to remember Kelly, you were the one all worried about incest. I'd been wanting to fuck you for years so it was pretty much a no-brainer. Besides, after all the 'seducing? you'd been doing on me for the previous couple of weeks, I figured it was time to stop playing games and just do it."

I couldn't help but feel a little embarrassed even now at how ridiculously naive I'd been back then. Looking back it had been pretty obvious what my dad's desires had been. Even worse, I thought when we'd first starting having sex that my mom didn't know about it which just went to show I was about as clueless as a blonde could be! My mom had never been against my dad fucking me, she just wanted me to be the one to initiate it. It went back to when she started having sex with her own dad but in her case it was more him demanding it of her than her offering herself to him.

"So are you ready to finally fuck her?" I teased him.

My dad groaned as he gripped his hard dick. I was suddenly worried he might just cum at the very thought ad then where would we'd be? It's not like he was some teenage boy who could get hard almost instantly after his first orgasm.

"You know Kelly, this is almost like a dream and I just know any moment I'm going to wake up and it will all disappear. I almost came just watching her fingering her pussy on the couch!"

"Well, no sense in keeping her waiting," I hinted to him. He finally released his grip on his erection, dropped his pants to the floor along with his socks, and headed upstairs naked to where Katlyn was waiting for him. It felt a little odd being fully dressed while my dad was naked and obviously aroused - not the usual case around this house, that was for sure!

Grabbing the camera, I followed and then worked my way in front so I could get a shot of him entering the room. I motioned for him to wait a few seconds while I entered my bedroom ahead of him. There I found my little niece laying back against the bunched-up pillows, stark naked now and playing with herself with her eyes closed. I caught her peaking.

"Just ignore me," I told her, "Go on like I'm not here."

I captured a few minutes of her masturbating and then motioned to the door where I knew my dad was watching through the cracked opening. I turned the camera to capture him opening it and "catching? Katlyn playing with herself.

"Oops, sorry, didn't mean to interrupt anything," he apologized and acted as though he was about to step out. I knew that in reality it would've taken an

As the two of them fucked in front of me I tried to be quiet and not interrupt yet at the same time I wanted to get everything recorded as much as possible. Thank goodness for digital technology! If this had been on one of the old VHS tapes I imagine the tape would be worn out before long, especially the part where I got the perfect angle to capture his dick as it pushed its way into her the first time!

"Roll over," my dad murmured to her, putting his arms around her to hold her tight against him as he twisted himself around to be on his back. Like a pro she managed to keep him in her without slipping out - not bad considering my dad's no porn star when it comes to length! Once they'd accomplished the reversal of positions she sat up and put her hands on his hairy chest and started to rock back and forth on the dick that was impaling her.

"Like that Uncle John?" she said with an impish grin.

My dad responded quickly with, "Unbelievable! Damn you're so fuckin' tight!" He reached up and cupped each of her breasts with one hand adding, "And these are... perfect!"

Yeah, unlike my husband who LOVED big boobs, my dad was more into the small perky ones of which Katlyn's were the perfect representative. She MIGHT be wearing a B cup now but I'd guess they were more like a solid A. Even as she started to bounce more on my dad's dick they barely moved.

"Slow down... you're gonna make me cum!" my dad gasped as she worked her pussy around his cock.

"I want you to cum inside of me," Katlyn said in a firm voice.

It was a no-brainer for my dad but I knew he loved to hear those words, just as all men do. He'd been fixed since I was born when my mom almost died and the doctors warned they shouldn't try for another so even though she was theoretically "safe", it wasn't like anyone had to worry about the 1% chances of her getting pregnant from unprotected sex.

"Oh god!" my dad moaned loudly as he humped up against her, grabbing her thin waist in his hands and pushing her down onto his crotch to fully imbed himself into her as he came. Once, twice, and then several times more he thrust into her, each time releasing another load of his incestuous lust into her welcoming pussy.

Like wow, this was turning into a total memory lane experience for me! Even as I videoed my father mating Katlyn (figuratively at least) I was taken back to the first time he came inside of me. Of course it wasn't my first rodeo but there was something special about having my own father releasing his love into me that I'd never experienced with any of the boys I'd fucked up to that point. Even the first time Steve had cum in me (which was also my first time for sex) didn't compare. It just goes along with my axiom that sex, at least for women, is only 20% physical and 80% emotional ( I think it's probably the opposite for men though). At times like this I think the percentages go even more towards the emotional side judging from the impact having sex with my own father for the first time had on me.

As much as I had managed to be just an observer to this point, seeing my dad thrusting himself into Katlyn, knowing with each one another stream of his lust for her was being left inside of her pussy, remembering how it felt when he had done the same to me for the very first time, pushed me over the edge. Dang, my pussy was soaked! All I had to do was just touch myself through my clothes and it was enough to set me off. The warmth of my orgasm swelled through me as I somehow managed to keep the camera trained on the pair in front of me.

My dad released his grip on poor Katlyn's hips, signaling he was finished as his head dropped back into the pillow. He seemed totally exhausted and at his age, fucking a little nymph like her was enough to do that to a guy! Katlyn looked over at me with the biggest grin on her face as she lifted herself off of him, allowing his dwindling cock to slip out of her and flop over on top his hairy bush of pubic hair. The twinkle in her eye told me she wasn't finished yet and indeed she quickly scooted down until she could take my dad's cum-covered dick in her mouth. Yet again I was impressed at how quickly she was learning.

"Oh fuck!" my dad groaned loudly as she cleaned off his cock with her lips and tongue. The little tease even posed for me, laying on her side between my dad's legs with her legs parted, one hand parting her pussy so I could see my dad's cum leaking from her, the other laying on his crotch surrounding the base of his cock as she held it all in her mouth. It was like a scene straight from one of my dad's favorite porn movies.

"Why don't we all go to the bedroom now?" I proposed before everyone got too relaxed. Katlyn looked at me questioningly, like we were already in a bedroom so what was I talking about? "HIS bed silly - where's the room for all of us."

Yes, I was a little jealous. Daddy's girl wanted some attention too!

Somehow my dad worked up the energy to sit up and as they headed for his bedroom I quickly stripped and left my clothes on my old bed. By the time I joined them, Katlyn was in the middle of the bed laying on her side with my dad spooning her from behind, one arm over her cuddling her against him as he cupped her the first time I did it like that. I loved it! He said you use to love it too when you lived here."

I could have told Katlyn that there were still a LOT of things she would get to experience for the first time but I was too groggy as I sat up and rubbed my eyes.

After taking care of my bathroom obligations and makeup, I returned to the bedroom where Katlyn was laying naked on the bed rubbing herself. God, did the girl ever stop?

"Church starts in 20 minutes, don't you think you need to get dressed?" I reminded her.

She looked a bit sheepish as she pulled her hand away from between her legs and got up from the bed. "Sorry Aunt Kelly... I just can't seem to stop myself." She then laughed and continued, "I was doing it at the table during breakfast and your dad thought it was funny. He said you use to do it all the time at my age." Her voice lowered then as if she was sharing a secret she shouldn't. "He even said your mom had to scold you when you would do it in public."

I just spanked her playfully on her bare bottom. It was true, I LOVED to masturbate when I was younger and even to this day I rarely go a day without doing it at least once, usually two or three times. It has nothing to do with how much I have sex - I just enjoy doing it. From the looks of things it was another attribute I shared with Katlyn.

"That's a pretty dress," I remarked as she pulled it over her head and allowed it to drape down over her thin body. It hugged her just enough to show off her teenage form without being overly slutty. My guess was it was maybe a size too small which showed itself more in the length than the overall fit. The hem was definitely higher than the designers had intended, not even making it halfway down her thighs to her knees. She started to head out the door and I realized that apparently that was ALL she was going to wear - no bar or panties. Thankfully her parents wouldn't be there today!

Not to be outdone, I had chosen a dress of my own that was a little shorter than what I usually wore - not that I had any reputation for wearing long dresses. I hadn't brought any panties, which was normal as it was Sunday and normally I would have been fucked by my dad by now. Going to church bare-bottomed with my dad's cum threatening to leak out of me as I sat in the pews was always an erotic feeling for me. As for a bra, yeah right!

We all met in the foyer where everything has started last night. Katlyn and I had brought heels to wear although mine were about twice the height of hers which brought me to where I was just a little taller. My dad looked handsome in his suit.

"Ready to go?" my dad asked us. Katlyn nodded but I couldn't help myself from being a little glum.

"Something wrong baby?" my dad asked with a worried look. I just stared at him - I mean like how could he NOT know?

"Ohhhhhh!" as he finally came to his senses. Looking at his watch he turned to me. "Church starts in ten minutes... do we really have time?"

Looking at Katlyn, I took a deep breath. "Someday hopefully you'll have something like this with your dad, something that you both treasure and keep dear in your hearts." Then looking at my dad I smiled and kissed him before continuing with, "Daddy, I know you just fucked her and that's fine with me but I don't want to go to church without us at least doing a little."

He didn't say a word as I reached down and undid his slacks, unbuckling his belt and unzipping the fly. He was wearing his boxers so I reached inside of them to release his dick. He was pretty flaccid but with Katlyn watching I had no worries that he would rise to the occasion - literally. Taking him my mouth, I finally tasted my dad's dick after having watched him with Katlyn all night... and morning. As I suspected, he quickly grew and as soon as he was hard enough to where I thought he could penetrate me I turned and lifted my dress up enough to expose my bare butt.

"Fuck me daddy," was all I said which was all I NEEDED to say.

"Oh baby, you know I love to fuck you more than anyone else in the entire world," my dad said softly as he maneuvered his dick into my waiting pussy. I grabbed onto the staircase post as I bent over to make it easier for him to penetrate me. Katlyn took up a position sitting on the stairs right in front of me, watching everything intently. I realized then that it was the first time she had witnessed my dad fucking me, the first time she was witnessing the most intimate of incestual acts.

"This is what every girl should experience," I told her as my dad began to thrust in and out of me quickly. This wasn't the time for a lot of preliminaries and I knew he wanting to cum as quickly as possible which was fine with me. We'd be a few minutes late for church but this was important - for both of us. "Someday your dad will fuck you too. Is that what you want?"

"Yes!" she replied quickly. The energy of her response told me her father had better fuck her soon! Hopefully my dad would have a talk with him. It was a discussion I would have loved to be a fly on the wall to listen.

It only took a few minutes before my dad ejaculated. Granted, it wasn't the biggest load in the world given all his activities in the past twelve hours, but that wasn't what was important. What WAS important was that he had fucked me and mated me, that I now carried the symbol of his ultimate love and lust for me.

"OK, NOW are we ready?" my dad teased as he ticked his dick back into his boxers and rearranged his pants.

I gave him a kiss, followed by Katlyn and we were off!

It was only a five minute drive with Katlyn sitting in between us. Even so, she didn't miss the opportunity to tease her uncle as she lifted her dress up to expose her pussy the moment we were seated.

"So did Kelly use to play with herself in the car when she was my age Uncle John?"

The little vixen! I think she was teasing me as much as my dad and she was loving every minute of it.

"Are you kidding me?" my dad laughed, "Non-stop!"

Katlyn giggled and started to finger herself. "Like this Uncle John?"

My dad glanced down and shook his head. He stopped at a light and looked over at me saying, "Are you sure she's not your daughter?"

We all laughed but Katlyn didn't pull her hand away. She didn't do that until he had parked and started to open the door and even then she seemed reluctant to stop.

The three of us walked up the steps and into the church where the music for the first hymn was playing. We weren't the only ones running late by any stretch of the imagination and the usher showed us to our seats. He looked to be in his mid-twenties and I noticed that he gave Katlyn quite the once-over as she scooted into the pews. It was a look usually reserved for me when I was seated with my dad but I had long ago come to the realization that I couldn't turn this into some sort of competition - she had every advantage!

We sat with my dad between us - I wasn't about to relinquish everything to her. The service went along more or less without anything worth noting although Katlyn seemed to have issues sitting still - squirming and moving almost constantly through the service. As she did her dress rode higher and there was appoint where I

(Jan 08) Chapter 280: See No Evil

Story codes: MF F-solo voyeurism
Me (30)
Steve - my husband (32)

Have you ever have sex and then afterwards wonder who it was that fucked you? Taking that one step further, have you ever done it when you didn't even see who it was? Sound crazy? Well, I did and it just goes to show how far I'll go to please my incredible husband!

Also, after I posted this I got a response from a reader which was so interesting that I added to the end as a new chapter - with his permission of course!

1. Male Fantasies

OK, with such a title this chapter could easily turn into a novel so let's restrict the scope to "husband" fantasies! In particular, what is it about husbands that they love to watch their wife being fucked by other men? When you're dating, they're all possessive and won't even let you kiss another guy and such. Yet something seems to happen when the wedding ring goes on and suddenly it's just fine to suck the guy's dick. It's almost like now that he officially "owns" you it doesn't matter who else fucks you because they know when all is said and done they're going get you for themselves later.

I've actually discussed this with husband Steve many times and all I typically get is the usual male to response to anything requiring some thoughtful insight... "I don't know." Even THAT is doing well as usually it's just a grunt. To be fair though, I really don't think he DOES knows. So much of what a man seems to be driven by instinct and evolution. Thus even though I still ask, I'm not all that surprised anymore when I get the "duh" response.

What I do know is that my husband just loves it when men look at me with undisguised lust and desire. Steve loves it when we go out and I dress all slutty such that all the other guys are staring at me with obvious thoughts as to what they want to do with me. So when it goes a step further and they actually DO fuck me, you can just imagine how excited that makes him! When I look over at my husband while having sex with another man, it turns me on as well seeing how much I'm pleasing my hubby, knowing that later when we get home he'll be "repossessing" me for his own.

When you think about it, it seems most of what women do is based around satisfying the fantasies of the men around them. Really, what do men do when it comes to taking care of MY fantasies? It's not that I'm complaining - just an observation but it's telling in that it forms the basis of much of what I do when it comes to my sex life and for that matter, life in general.

Don't believe me? Well, just look at a typical girl's wardrobe and then ask yourself how much of it would she have if men weren't going to see her wearing it. Shoes are especially true of this. Face it, heels serve only one purpose - making your legs look better for men. A famous actress once said something like, "When I come home alone, the FIRST things I take off are my heels. When I come home with a man, the LAST thing I take off are my heels." Tight short skirts, thongs, form-fitting jeans, 99% of lingerie... all for men.

For me, of all the male fantasies the one that I find the most provocative, the one that at first seems so wrong yet drives my guy so crazy, has got to be when he watches me being fucked by other men, especially strangers. What I find a little odd is that anything less than full penetration really doesn't do it for him. What I mean is that if all I do is give another guy a BJ or let him fondle and grope me, unless it's a prelude to the full monte then Steve doesn't go for it, at least not the same as if the guys fucks me.

To top it off, despite what the porn industry seems to think excites guys, my husband want me to not only be fucked but to be "mated" as well. He wants the guy to cum inside of me - ALL of it. It may also have to do with not having to deal with the mess of a guy's cum on my face or in my hair as Steve reacts to other men's sperm like it's radioactive waste. Whatever the reason, the only time he ever says much of anything when he's watching me with another guy is when it gets towards the end and he thinks the guy might be thinking about pulling out before he cums inside of me. I have to admit, it turns me on to when my husband tells a guy I may have just met to cum inside of me!

So what more can I say? I love my husband and as his wife I'm biblically bound to submit to him so if that's what turns him on then that's what I will do. It's not like that's a burden - it turns me on just as much!

2. Setting the Stage

"C'mon Kelly, you'll love it!"

Yeah, like how many times had I heard THAT line before? In this case it was probably true but my husband could have used a better expression rather than one that he would conjure up whenever he knew it was something I wouldn't love to do - like when he came up with that crazy idea of fucking me on a Ferris Wheel. I'll let your imagination work on that one but it wasn't nearly as hot as it might sound like it was.

"OK, but why the blindfold?" I couldn't help but whine a little.

Steve grinned and rubbed his hands together like he was working on some master plan for me - which he was in fact. "I already told you... he doesn't want you to know who he is."

My eyes rolled in big loops. "C'mon... Like who cares?" I countered, "What's the big deal?"

"I can't tell you," Steve chuckled, "If you knew why then you'd know who it was."

Seemed like circular logic to me but I knew it was pointless to argue any further. "Alright then... so I have to wear a blindfold. What else?"

Steve's eyebrows arched up and I knew the answer before he said it. Guys Aren't very complicated in such matters so it wasn't hard to see where THIS conversation was headed.

"Nothing of course," he confirmed, "Just the way God made you... and every man wants to see you... stark naked nude."

"So I take it that this isn't going to be exactly anything all that crazy. He doesn't even want to watch me strip? No lingerie?"

"Well, although it might seem crazy for YOU I've a pretty good feeling that it's going to be SUPER crazy for him."

"Whatever, so is he married? Can I at least know that much about him?"

Steve put his arm around me and hugged me tight against him. "Yes he is but I'm only telling you that because I know how much it gets you off to fuck a married man and before you ask... his wife won't know a thing about it, and he hasn't cheated before."

Sounded good and at the same time it cut out several guys from on the list of men I was thinking were potential candidates.

"So how old is he?" I asked. Steve shook his head so I tried again with, "At you can at least tell me if he's older or younger than me."

Steve shook his head again and smiled. "Sorry, can't divulge any personal information other than marital status."

I frowned, trying to let him see my frustration but it was useless. He's never in any mood to care about my feelings when he gets all hot and horny - like he was now based on the huge erection he was sporting.

"So tell me again my darling husband... just how did this all get started anyways?"

Steve sort of huffed but this time, after I'd asked the same question now over a dozen times, he finally caved in and answered me. Apparently he'd been at some strip club after work with some of his friends and the conversation got around to women they'd like to see on the stage. Someone mentioned me and much to Steve's delight, everyone agreed and the discussion got a little risqu, as to what they'd like to see me do while up there. One thing led to another and soon in their fantasies I was blowing them and finally fucking each of them on stage in front of the crowd. It was all just male fantasy talk of course and eventually they moved on to another hot wife or girlfriend.

Evidently later in the evening when the drinks had been flowing and the conversational barriers lowered, someone had mentioned to Steve that having sex with me had always been a fantasy of his. Obviously the alcohol was doing the talking as how many men would tell another guy they wanted to fuck his wife - seriously? I would've loved to have seen the look on the guy's face when Steve responded saying he could make that happen! Having had his bluff called, the guy backed down, saying his wife would kill him if she knew he even thought about such things, let alone did them. Then the thing that intrigued me the most came up - he also didn't want me to know about his feelings for me.

It was the last part that had me really curious. Why in the world would anyone care that I knew he was sexually attracted to me? Heck, if anything I did everything I could so that men WOULD be attracted to me. Was he afraid that if I was aware of his desires that I might be tempted to approach him? If so then he didn't know me very well. If anything, seeing a man NOT looking at me that way just made me all the more determined to attract his attention. Flirting with a man who was nursing an erection because of me didn't turn me on nearly as much as getting a guy trying NOT to flirt with me lose the battle.

"So you just told this guy that he could fuck your wife?" I teased Steve, pretending I was flabbergasted. He knew better than to even begin to believe that line.

"Why not? It's not like I was worried you would say no."

I smiled at the compliment. My husband knew his wife as well as she knew him!

"But still I have to be blindfolded?"

Steve let out an exaggerated sigh. "Yes, for the five hundredth time YES!"

"So I assume he won't be saying anything either?"

It was Steve's turn to roll his eyes. "Like duh, that would sort of defeat the purpose of the blindfold."

"So then I would recognize his voice," I deduced. So that meant it was someone a little closer to me daily life. If was just someone I would recognize by his face that would encompass a huge spectrum but now the list was narrowed at least a little.

"Nice try but you're not going to trick me into revealing who he is, my slutty clever wife, Steve taunted me.

"Well at least you called me a clever slut."

We both laughed. He knew full well I loved being called a slut. Indeed, it had been one of my dad's favorite nicknames for me as a teenager - his "little slut". While I know some women take it as an insult - and it can be when used in the wrong context, for the most part it tells me that the person sees me as a desirable, sexy woman who's not afraid to use her sexuality to get what SHE wants. That's in contrast to a whore who uses her sexuality to do what HE wants. Yep - NEVER call me a whore!

"So what's the plan my master?" I asked, pretended to be his slave. It was just an act and he knew it. Submissive - yes, slave no. It was a biblical difference that many people fail to understand but meant a lot to me.

"Well, tomorrow night after the girls are in bed he's going to stop by and fuck you."

That was it? That was his master plan? The blank look on my face must have conveyed my disappointment.

"I told you it wasn't going to be anything crazy. He just wants to screw you."

"Yeah in front of the girls? You know how I feel about that."

"Don't worry, even I know better than that! They'll be in bed and it's not like this is going to take all night," Steve said trying to convince me, then he muttered under breath, "At least it better not."

Huh? What was THAT remark about? And so I asked him and he immediately got that silly look on his face when I know he's trying to hide something from me, like a little boy with his hand caught in the cookie jar.

"Just saying it better not take too long."

"Why not?" I pressed, keeping my eyes locked onto his.

"No special reason... wouldn't want to wake up the girls, right?"

Like I was going to buy that one. Yeah, he was hiding something, that much I was sure of, but what? Why would he care how long the guy fucked me? After all, when we swapped I usually spent the entire night with the other guy so it wasn't like even a couple of hours would be anything special. Something was up that he wasn't telling me. Hmmmmmm....

Then it hit me. Again, it's not like guys are all that hard to figure out. All I had to do was think what sort of stupid thing would he and his friends come up with under the circumstances. It had to be... guys will bet on anything, right?

"So how long did you bet he would last?"

There was no way he was expecting me to figure out his little secret so easily so he wasn't prepared for such a direct question - and the guilty look on his expression betrayed him instantly.

"Huh? What are you talking about?" he tried to make out as if he didn't know what I meant. All it did was confirm that I'd hit the nail on the head.

"Come on, tell me. I can't believe you guys bet on this! So just how many guys are in on this?"

Poor Steve, he looked so guilty! Well, it wasn't like it wasn't his fault. He's a guy after all.

"Six total, counting me and him," he confessed but then countered with, "But I can't tell you... that would be cheating, don't you agree?"

I guess that depended on how you looked at it. If I DID know his bet would I help to make him win.. or work to make sure he didn't? In any case I just nodded. Then another thought hit me.

"If those guys all know, how come the rest didn't want to fuck me?"

The disappointing tone of my voice wasn't lost on my husband. Heck, if I was going to go through all this for one guy, why not five - six if you counted my husband.

Steve leaned over and kissed me, his hand fondling my boobs as he almost always did whenever we kissed. "God I love you Kelly... you're such a damn slut."

Hmmmmmm, two slut compliments in one conversation. Not bad!

In the end he never did answer so I just had to assume things just worked out as they did without knowing the full story behind them. I couldn't help but grin to myself wondering how many of them had already fucked me. It wasn't like he'd told me yet who he'd been out that night with.

By then his hands had worked their way down between my legs.

"Hmmmmmm, someone's getting horny thinking about getting laid tomorrow night," Steve teased me.

I reached down and grasped his erection through his boxer shorts which he was still wearing for whatever reason. "Oh yeah? Well, seems someone else seems to be pretty horny thinking about watching me."

"Actually I was thinking more about fucking you right now," he growled as he lifted me up and headed to bed with me...

Yep, now THAT's what I love about fulfilling my husband's fantasies...

3. Fulfilling the Fantasy

As Steve had said, it wasn't like this was all that complicated. The next night the girls went to bed on time for once - it was almost like they knew what their parents were planning and were doing their best to be good daughters. Of course at their age they could've even watched and not had a clue what was going on but not many guys are all that comfortable with a three-year-old watching them having sex with me!

Once it was confirmed they were passed out for the evening, Steve texted a message to someone. He didn't show it to me of course but I had a pretty good idea who it went to. Well, not by name of course but that really didn't matter at this point.

"OK, strip girl," Steve demanded as soon as he entered our bedroom where I was sitting on the edge of the bed. It wasn't like I had all that much to take off – just one of his dress shirts that he enjoyed seeing me wear around the house.

"Here, I think these should work, what do you think?" he asked, holding out what appeared to be taken from his last flight.

"Really? Airline eye covers?" I teased him.

He just grinned and placed them on my head. "Here, let's try them before he gets here."

Handing them to me, I pulled the elastic over my head and arranged the eye covers in place. For better or worse, they worked pretty darn good! The room had gone pitch black.

"How many fingers?"

"Steve! I can't see anything," I scolded him. Pulling the covers quickly up to my forehead, I looked and smiled replying, "Two!"

"Now no cheating like that, OK?" Steve asked me sounding a little bit worried.

"Oh don't get your shorts in a knot, I promise to be a good girl."

Steve laughed a little at that one. "Trust me, the LAST thing anyone wants is for you to be a good girl tonight!"

"Well I guess that depends on what I'm being good at doesn't it?" I purred seductively, tugging at his belt.

"Later slut... later," he teased me back.

"I'll remember you promised!" I laughed, falling back on the bed. My hand instinctively went to my pussy. God I was so horny! Just then there was a knock on the door.

"Put the shades on!" Steve urged me. It only took a moment and then I started to sit up. "No, stay like you were... play with yourself... God you look so fucking hot when you do that!"

Like he had to ask me twice!

As I started to masturbate I heard Steve leave the room to answer the door. It wasn't long before he was back and from the sounds of the footsteps he wasn't alone.

"There she is, just as I promised... naked and horny."

Oh what I would have given to take just a peek to see the loo on the guy's face! Like who WAS he? How old was he? Was he fat – was that why he didn't want me to see him? OMG, was I going to be crushed!

As my thoughts started to go off course I could hear the guy undressing. I just assumed he would get naked but then not every man was exactly thrilled about undressing in front of another dude, at least not outside the locker room. The blinders over my eyes pretty much shut out everything but there was enough leakage around the edges that I could tell the lights were still on.

"Sorry, no pics," I heard Steve say. Whew, that was good. Last thing I needed was some unknown guy running around with naked pictures of me! It was one thing for my dad and husband to have literally gigabytes of photos of me, at least I knew those were safe, but not anyone else. Even when we swapped we always stuck with the rule that cameras and cell phones were off limits. You just can't be too careful these days as once it's out there on the Internet you can never take it off. Especially being a teacher I have to be extra careful about what was posted on-line of me.

"Just look at her," Steve gushed, obviously proud of me, "Bet your wife doesn't do THAT for you, does she?"

By "that" he had to mean masturbating since that was all I was doing at the moment other than just lying there exposing my naked body to a stranger (assuming he even WAS a stranger of course). Yeah, it was something I learned back when I first started dating - men just LOVE watching me play with myself. Not that I mind doing it of course. What I found absurd, though, was how hung up most guys are about jerking their dicks in front of me (or anyone else for that matter from what I've been told). I remember sleepovers where all of us would be playing with ourselves and nobody cared who saw us. But Steve told me that guys would never even think of doing anything like that, let alone help one another out if they got horny enough as sometimes happened with me and my friends.

I took his comment as a hint as well as a compliment and pushed my middle finger deep into my wet pussy, moaning a little as I put on a bit of a show. It's always nice to see the reaction of the guy, especially when I push my fingers inside of me, so I was missing that feedback but in some ways my imagination more than made up for what I was missing.

"Go on... I think she's ready," Steve encouraged him with a playful tone to his voice. "Remember the rules - no anal, nothing rough. After all, she IS my wife you know!"

God I love my husband! Even at a time like this when he had me totally submissive to him (and whoever), he still cared enough about me to ensure I was treated right. It's that sacred marital bond, that unconditional love, the complete trust, that allows me to submit to him in a way I could never submit to any other man other than my father. It's the key between biblical submission and just kinky sex - the trust and love between us.

I felt the bed move as he climbed up next to me. My heart was racing - what would he do first? Would he want to kiss me? Maybe touch me all over? Then who knows, maybe he'd just want to go straight for the sex? Not being able to see him, to see where he was looking or the expression on his face, kept me from having any advance warning as to his intentions but they became clear pretty fast as I felt his hand on my ankle. The room was suddenly so quiet as Steve must have stepped back and decided to start watching and quit yakking. Without him being able to say anything, there was nothing to create any noise - except me of course, and at the moment I was focused entirely on that hand around my ankle.

Slowly the hand worked its way up my leg, stroking my bare skin with the backs of his fingers and then grasping me more in his grip as he would run his hand up my shin and over my knee. I shivered slightly as he ever so slowly worked his way up my inner thigh, as if he knew exactly where I loved to be touched. It was like he was trying to savor ever moment, to stretch this out as long as possible.

"Oh yeah..." I sighed softly as I spread my legs slightly more for him. His fingertips just grazed my pussy as they trailed up to my belly and then made little circles around my boobs.

"Suck on them," I whispered softly as he lightly pinched my nipples, "Gently though."

Yeah, I'm definitely NOT one of those girls who likes her boobs to be abused, especially my nipples. I see shots of women with clothespins on their nipples and other such things and it makes me shudder. I LOVE my boobs to be played with - I tend to do it myself whenever I get the chance. Why make such a delightful feeling so painful?

Another piece of the puzzle fell in place as his lips gripped my sensitive nipple. Not even a trace feeling of any beard or moustache so at least I knew that eliminated all the guys around us with facial hair which was actually a pretty good number of guys these days.

"Ummmmm," I sighed as his tongue played on the tip of my nipple and then ran around my entire boob, moving from one to the other, "That feels soooooo good!"

As he gently sucked and licked my breasts, I felt his hand working his way back down over my belly and between my legs. At first he just cupped me between my thighs, the palm of his had resting against my pussy as his fingers pressed up against the bottom of my butt. For just a moment I thought he might try poking one up my ass but either he wasn't interested or he remembered my husband's admonitions. It wasn't that I don't like my butt to be touched – actually I LOVE that. It's my asshole that creates the issue with me. Yes, I know a lot of people find that sexy and all but not me. Everything I think of an asshole I think of what comes out of it and that just ruins it for me. It doesn't help that so many guys just don't take good care of themselves... enough said!

His hand moved up slightly, enough for his fingers to run up and down my pussy slit, slowly working their way in between my wet lips until they found my clit which was already pretty worked up from me masturbating earlier. I involuntarily jumped a little when he first touched it.

"Sorry... a little sensitive there," I apologized but all he did was grunt just a little – way too little for me to make any sort of identification. OK, so I wasn't REALLY apologizing – I wanted more in fact so I gyrated my hips ever so slightly under him to give him the hint.

"Fuck me with your finger," I said hoarsely as he pressed it against me. I was rewarded with the incredible sensation of his finger penetrating me, easily sliding in as wet and horny as I was at the moment.

"That's it... just like that," I encouraged him as he slowly pushed his finger deeper into me and then gently thrust it in and out of me while his thumb worked over my clit. Mmmmmmm, he was pretty good!

Until then I'd just laid back with my arms over my head, enjoying myself but I felt like I needed to reciprocate a little so I reached down until I found his dick. Oh yeah, he was HARD! Not the biggest cock in the world... average I'd say, which was just fine with me. While I'll admit to be a bit biased against REALLY small dicks (just one of the reasons I'm not a huge fan of young boys), I don't really like the huge ones either. They may be great for a porn shoot but in real life they're just a pain the neck – sometimes literally!

He was circumcised, no that it helped me in identifying him. I could tell he had a pretty full bush of public hair but again, the vast majority of guys don't trim it down there so that didn't mean anything. While reaching for his dick I noted he had a bit of a belly but it didn't seem like he was grossly overweight. Again, the didn't help me one bit.

"I like your dick," I said trying to compliment him. EVERY guy wants a girl to say he has a great dick so why disappoint him? "Can I suck it?"

It wasn't like I ever expected him to say no, even if he COULD say anything. Like what man in the world has ever refused a blowjob when it's at all possible for him to get one? Sure, maybe if his wife was right there he might not accept my hospitality, but alone (for all practical purposes) in a bedroom with me... not a chance he would turn me down!

I could feel the bed moving as he sat up onto his knees. At first I thought he might straddle me and maybe even rub his dick between my boobs first. Not that I was exactly overly endowed in that category but men still loved to do it. Instead, he put his hand behind my head and pulled me up towards his crotch. I tried laying on my side but it was uncomfortable so I reluctantly moved so his hand had to drop from my crotch and got on my knees. He helped guide me to his crotch until I felt the head of his cock against my chin.

I "looked" up at him, figuratively at least as I was still quite blinded, and smiled as I held his firm erection in my hand. "When was the last time your wife was in this position?"

OK, so call me a tease - I won't argue with you.

Just a grunt and so I licked the head of his cock and then kissed it, just allowing the very tip to move between my lips. Then I pulled away and ran my tongue up the underside of his shaft, from the base of his dick back to the tip and then returned only to repeat it again... and again. God I loved the musky smell of his sex and the feel of his pubic hair against my cheek!

"Ugh!" he groaned as I took his dick in my mouth and quickly lowered my head until my lips surrounded the very base of his dick with his entire cock in my mouth. He was just long enough to press against the back of my throat and actually I was now wishing he was maybe an inch or so more as it right now he was the perfect length top activate my gag reflex but not quite long enough to get past it and down my throat. Still, practice makes perfect my dad always said, so I fought back the instinct and then withdrew, letting most of his dick slip from my mouth as my tongue ran alongside of it.

My mom taught me as a young girl that the key to a good blowjob is lots of tongue action and suction. I just shake my head watching so many of the crappy porn sites now where all a girl does is just bob her head up and down. No wonder the guy has to finish himself off! Personally, I take it as an insult if I can't get a guy to cum without him having to stroke himself.

It was times like this when it pays to know who you're fucking. Like if I allowed him to cum now, was he going to be able to fuck me? The answer to that depending a lot on whether he was 20 or 50 years old. Unfortunately I had no idea at the moment so I figured it would be best to play it safe. The last thing I wanted was for him to blow his load into my mouth and then not be able to recover in any meaningful way. Besides, Steve had made it clear earlier when we talked that this guy wanted to fuck me so he would no doubt be understanding if I didn't push him over the edge right off the bat.

"Mmmmmmm, I think somebody's ready now to fuck me," I said more or less to my audience in the room. As much as I knew the guy whose dick was in my hand loved it hearing me say it, I also know someone else who was probably jerking off at this very moment.

Again being blindfolded made things a little awkward as I couldn't see what position he was trying to get into to fuck me to get started. If it was up to me we'd either start of doggy style or even better, I'd get on top and drop down on his dick for the first time. But that was me – it seems every guy has his own wish list when it comes to sex so I waited as patiently as possible for some hint as to his intentions. I wasn't surprised when I didn't have to wait long.

So missionary it was...

The guy pushed me over onto my back and then pushed a pillow under my butt. I could feel the bed rocking as he maneuvered between my legs and then it was like nothing... I mean nothing was happening.

"Fuck me... please, I want you to fuck me!" I called to him urgently. Yes, it was little bit of playacting as I know every guy loves to hear those words, but in truth I really DID want him to fuck me! I was horny and I wanted a dick in me – and any dick at the moment would do, even one belonging to a total stranger, or at least a totally unknown person.

Maybe he was going to eat me first. Was that what was delaying him? Not sure why it would but who knows at times like this. Then my husband chimed in after having been silent for so long.

"Yeah, I know how it feels. She looks incredible, doesn't she? I mean, just look at that smooth cunt! Hard to believe it's all yours right now, isn't it?"

Ugh, guy talk. Hey - it's a pussy, not a cunt. I don't know why but cunt sounds like something a whore has, not a slut like me. I don't really have a lot of pet words for my vagina - just pussy.

"Go on, fuck the dirty slut," Steve encouraged him. Like did the guy really need to be encouraged? I certainly hoped not!

I felt his hot breath then as he lowered himself over me, the bed pressing down to my side as his one hand held his weight off of me as his other must have been guiding his cock as I felt the head finally oppressing against my shaved pussy. I was tempted to reach down and help guide him in but he seemed determined to do it on his own as I felt the firm head moving around as he tried to get it into the right position.

"Yeah... right there!" I couldn't help myself as I felt him just start to press into me. I lifted my hips upward a little to help him press into me and then I gasped as his cock head penetrated me! Oh yeah, it felt so good to finally be fucked!!

"Deeper... all the way in me," I begged him as I wrapped my legs around him, locking my ankles and using my legs to pull him into me. There's just something I can't quite describe when a man first enters me, when his dick penetrates me and our bodies join together in a sexual embrace. Yes, technically nothing can happen (I made sure of THAT after our second baby) but I still like to think of it as being mated. Even if I am incapable of getting pregnant again, the ACT of mating is still being performed and it's like I am submitting myself to him... accepting his manhood and ready for him to fill me with his lust and desire.

"Fuck yeah... fuck me... fuck me faster," I urged him as he grunted while thrusting himself in and out of me. I could feel myself pushed down onto the pillow under me each time the base of his dick met against my crotch, when his entire dick was buried deep inside of me trying to go even deeper if it could.

"Oh yeah... fuck her!" I heard my husband saying over and over again. It was unusual for Steve to say anything while watching me having sex with another man so I chalked it up to the other guy having to be silent so Steve was providing the dialog. No doubt he was jerking off hard right now at the site of his wife not just having sex with another man, but loving every moment of it!

"Oh my god, I'm cumming!" I cried out as I indeed felt my first orgasm emerging. No faking necessary - I was being fucked, and fucked well, and all I wanted at the moment was for him to release himself inside of me and fill me with his adulterous sperm.

"Fuck me," I kept repeating, "Fuck me like you never fucked your wife. Fuck me like you wanted to every time you saw me."

I don't know if my words had that much impact on him or he just couldn't hold back any longer from fucking his dream girl but whatever the reason he didn't last long. I was still feeling the aftershocks of my orgasm when I felt his dick erupt inside of me. Those aftershock were quickly replaced by yet another orgasm as I cried out as he filled my pussy with his sperm.

"Oh God!"

Wow, he spoke! Not exactly in words I could make out all that well, at least not well enough recognize his voice, but it just showed how he must have been feeling at that moment. Then again, what exactly did "Oh God!" mean? Was he overwhelmed at having just fucked me? Was he suddenly aware of what he'd just done - committing adultery for the first time? Oh well, either way it was Ok with me!

He collapsed on top of me, barely holding his weight off of me as he dropped to his elbows with my boobs pressed tight against his chest. He was breathing heavy but at least he had his head to the side so it wasn't into my face. I could feel his dick still in me, moving every now and then as if it had a little mind of its own.

"You can stay in me a while," I offered him, not wanting him to feel he had to immediately pull out of me. I actually appreciate it when a man DOES stay inside of me after he's cum. It seems so much more intimate and not like he just wanted to ejaculate inside of me and then jump off as soon as possible once he'd gotten himself off. I've actually fallen asleep while lying on top of a guy after he'd fucked me, his softened dick still buried inside of me.

Thankfully he seemed to be willing to accept my offer as he did stay in me for what seemed like forever! In fact, I was starting to wonder if he might start getting hard again but it seemed like that wasn't in the cards for the evening and finally I felt him groan as he pushed himself up and then rolled off of me, his now totally limp dick slipping that last little bit out of me, leaving me feeling empty and incomplete. Sometimes I think the only time I truly feel whole is when a man is filling my empty void with his dick.

"Have to say, I don't know who you are but you're welcome to fuck me anytime you want!" I gushed, my pussy aching for him to fuck me again but it seemed that was to be all for now at least.

No response but then I wasn't expecting one. My husband, on the other hand, was quick to chime in.

"Well, we'll have to just see about that, won't we?"

Was he talking to me or him? If it was me, he should have known the answer already. If it was him, well... he'd BETTER want to fuck me again!

I just laid there feeling the afterglow of good sex as I listened to him dressing and then Steve led him out to the door. Once he was out of the room I took off the blindfold, my eyes blinking at the glare of the overhead light.

"Well, I have to say you seemed to have enjoyed yourself!" Steve said as soon as he returned.

I smiled at my loving husband and reached my arms out towards him as I laid on my back. I could feel the guy's sperm starting to drain from my pussy and down my butt crack to the bed. Oh well, more laundry to do!

"Yeah, I did, but now you know what I want!" I said with a sexy smile for my wonderful husband.

Steve started to undress. Yes he did!

4. A Reader's Response

Note from Kelly: Actually I get very few responses to my diary postings so when I do I try to reply when possible. In this case I felt that the e-mail I received complimented my own experience so I asked if I could include it. Fortunately Tom said it was OK!

Subject: Diary - See No Evil

Dear Kelly,

I've very much enjoyed reading your diary entries for a few years now. Today, I read your latest entry "See No Evil", and it really stuck a chord with both me and my wife. What you described is a practice in which my wife and I have engaged for nearly 40 years. We too have had (and have enjoyed) a D/S relationship for over 39 years. Even at this period of our lives, it does not cease to be just as exciting as the first time we tried it. BTW, it may interest you to know that, shortly after we knew we were serious about each other (4 decades ago), she was the one who first expressed her desire for a D/S relationship, and her reasons were religiously based (primarily via the book of Ephesians) as are yours.

Your description of a husband's response and reaction to the situation in "See No Evil" is a lot more accurate and powerful than you may be aware of. We have many "special" friends where the husband's reaction is exactly as you described. I can only repeat that watching my wife coupled with another man (especially one whose identity is unknown to her) and unleashing her sexual desire on another man is the most potent natural sexual aphrodisiac that I've ever experienced in my life and, after nearly 40 years of marriage, the experience has never dulled my response even once. All of the other men who enjoy the same experience with their wives have repeated the same claim to me. I suppose you really need to understand how the male brain and chemistry works but there's nothing that pumps up my sexual ego (and related equipment) quite like seeing my lovely wife churn the sexual fantasies and desires of another man and take her pleasure with him. I have always told her, and still firmly believe today, that it's one of the things that has kept us so close and so intimately connected with each other's mental and emotional needs. At the very least, it's a component of the cement that has kept us so tightly connected to each other in every sense.

Many thanks for sharing your experience. We really did enjoy it. In fact, I think I'll be making a few phone calls this week in order for us to relive the experience again.

Wow, that's really cool. I was thinking... would you mind if I added your response at the end of my diary entry? I would only include your e-mail address if you said it was OK.

Luv,
Kelly

Kelly,

I would have no problem at all if you added my response and you can certainly include my email address if you like.

Take care, be well.

Tom

It was only a short time later when I was shocked yet again. We were having sex in his basement, thinking nobody was home, only to have his mom walk in right in the middle with both of us nude, Steve on top, his dick buried in me as I lay on the couch under him. Long story made VERY short (it's all in my old diary entries if you're curious), I witnessed my first incestual act as Steve fucked his mom for the first time. Wow, talk about crazy! The only incest I'd known was watching my dad's porn collection so seeing it in person between people I knew was an eye-opening experience for sure.

Despite their early encounter, at the time Steve and I got married I was confident that any such relationship between them had been scuttled immediately after the first time. Indeed, if anything both of them seemed to turn against incest. Of course I had to tell Steve about me and my family before I could accept his wedding proposal, but it wasn't something we shared with his mom. I knew how she felt about Steve's younger sister and brother living together and the last thing I wanted was for her to feel that way about me. Mother-in-Laws can be tough enough to please as it is without throwing in something like that!

Steve wasn't exactly thrilled to learn my dad had been fucking me since I was sixteen. Nor was he enthralled with the caveat to my proposal acceptance that he had to allow that relationship to continue. Still, he loved me enough to understand how important it was to me to submit to my father and while he maintained a "don't ask, don't tell" attitude when it came to me and my father, he didn't seem to mind the benefits of marrying into an incestuous family. Then again, what guy wouldn't be turned on to fuck his wife's mom - with his wife's permission? Unfortunately that same mindset didn't extend to his own mother. I say unfortunately because so long as he was against doing anything again with his mom, we couldn't share with her the things we did with my family. Such a pain!

I can remember as if it happened yesterday the first time we had sex at her house when Steve was still living with her after the two of them moved back to the Pittsburgh area. I about had a heart attack when she appeared at the bedroom door and watched silently, just standing there without a word or doing anything. After the first few times the newness wore off and we pretty much just ignored the audience after that, but it was just one more time when I was taken by surprise by Steve and his mom.

The odd thing though was that while Steve and his mother seemed deadest against incest, that only seemed to establish the limits of their relationship in that crossing the line from porn to actual sex with underage girls - an accusation to which my aunt freely pleads guilty. It didn't help when she moved in with my dad just days after she left after the divorce was finalized.

Soooooo, I have to say that at the moment my life is pretty good. My marriage is as strong as it's ever been, I'm healthy and have a satisfying sex life. Sometimes I wonder if Steve and I aren't getting into a bit of a rut but then it's not like that's a negative. These days I don't go to many of his family parties - I leave that to my cousin Kristen or her mom to be his "spouse" for the day. Steve grins and bears it when I ask him to arrange a swap with an older couple. While Steve still isn't 100% thrilled about watching me being fucked by my dad, he's actually joined in lately - something he never would have even discussed not all that long ago. Our daughters are growing up SO fast and I smile when I see that look in my husband's eye's at times - not to mention the occasional erection when he's with them.

At this point, given my history and current life, I was pretty confident that there was nothing that would surprise me when it came to our families.

Yep... never say never...

3. I Love Being Married

"What do you think about dropping the girls off with Linda and seeing my mom after church?"

It wasn't exactly an unusual question coming from my husband, especially these days since I had a pretty good idea the reason behind his idea. It wasn't that I minded him asking to visit his mom but what I DID feel a little put off by was his timing. I mean like is THAT what was on his mind right in the middle of me giving me a blow job after he'd come home from work?

"Really?"

"Yeah... I was just thinking it's been a couple weeks now since we've stopped by and all."

Like duh! Sometimes I have to wonder about my husband. Obviously the incredulous tone in my sarcastic response had done right over his head - and I mean the big one up on top, not the little one in my mouth. THAT one was paying VERY close attention if the way it had grown and hardened as I enjoyed it. Men! Oh well, what can you do about them - other than enjoy their dicks.

"Fine with me I guess, I'll check with Linda though to make sure she doesn't have any showings," I answered as I reluctantly dropped his dick from my mouth and stroked it slowly in my hand.

Sometimes I think guys forget that blow jobs aren't all about THEM, despite what they may think and fantasize. While I know some girls aren't all that thrilled about doing it, for me it's something I actually enjoy immensely. I'll never forget the first time I took Steve's dick in my mouth almost seventeen years ago in that dim movie theater. I was petrified someone might see us yet at the same time almost ready to burst with anticipation of finally doing what I'd masturbated so many times about doing to a guy. Then when I actually took his stiff cock into my mouth, felt the silky smoothness of his skin, smelled the aroma of his crotch... I was hooked. Knowing his dick was so stiff all because of ME was such a tremendous compliment and ego booster. And then when he came... OMG that was so crazy as I felt his warm cum spurting into my mouth, almost gagging me as I tried to swallow it down before it spilled out.

Now, seventeen years later and literally thousands of blow jobs later, I still feel a chill when I first take hold of a man's cock and realize in a few short moments I'll be sucking on it, bringing him pleasure and pleasing him in a way only a good BJ can bring. What I like the best though, is to start out with him soft and take him in my mouth so I can feel it respond and grow, expanding further into my mouth and thickening with his lust for me. It's a source of pride for me to get a guy off with just my mouth. Forget all those silly porn videos where the guy has to jerk off to cum. Either the girl is incompetent or it's just for the visual of the porn scene as the LAST thing I want is for the guy to have to finish himself after I've worked so hard to get him to that point!

While usually a BJ is just a precursor to sex (remember, in my dictionary oral "sex" is NOT sex as it does not involve the penetration of a vagina by a penis) often times I just like to suck a guy off and enjoy his dick. I know Steve certainly doesn't mind when he's watching TV and I lay on the couch beside him and just slowly stroke and suck him for sometimes as long as an hour or more. Then there's those times when sex isn't an option - like when we're driving around or in a public place where fucking me would either be all but impossible either physically or legally. I know Steve loves it but I think I love it just as much, or more, when I take him in my mouth at those "inappropriate" times.

So it was when Steve came home from work tonight. It was late and the girls were in bed and I was horny - as usual, LOL. I'd changed into one of his flannel shirts and a pair of wool socks and laid on the couch watching TV anxiously waiting for my handsome husband to return to me. To say I'm horny most of the time doesn't really accurately describe me. I mean like I'm up for sex just about ANY time so I wouldn't say that's necessarily "horny". But tonight I felt this need in me, the desire for him more powerful than hunger for food. It was like my body craved something I couldn't give it. Not that I didn't try! I LOVE to masturbate and I'm pretty confident that not many people - men or women, masturbate as often as I do. Most of the time that does it for me when I have that immediate need but face it, my fingers or some artificial toy can't take the place of a real cock. In legalistic terms I guess I'd be classified as bisexual as I enjoy sex with man AND women but in terms of physical fulfillment, no women can please me like a man for one simple reason - she doesn't have a dick. I can't merge my body with a woman, I can't feel a part of her inside of me. She can't ejaculate her sperm inside of me, mating me even if it's more symbolic than actually accomplishing anything. A woman can't give me something that can only be shared though sex - be it out of love or lust. So yes, I LOVE being with another girl but faced with a choice... the guy wins every time!

Tonight was one of those nights when no matter how hard I masturbated, no matter how many times I brought myself off, I was still left with that empty feeling - literally. Empty in that nothing was in me - no cum, nothing physical to tell me how much I turned him on, how badly he wanted me. I guess you could say it was more than just the need for physical pleasure - I wanted the emotional high that came from knowing a man WANTED me, that he desired me, that he wanted to FUCK me!

So waiting there for my husband I reflected on how wonderful it was to be married to him! Oh sure when I was single and horny I could go out and without much trouble find SOMEONE to fuck me but that meant getting dressed and having to deal with who knows what. Being married, I know I can always count on my husband to come home and take care of me - not that Steve seems to mind indulging me when I need it! I think it's sort of funny how so many guys complain that their wives lose their sex drive after marriage and having kids, or how many gripe their wives won't blow them. All I can say is MY husband had better never say anything like that to anyone. If anything, I think I'm the one who initiates sex the most and when it comes to sucking him off he is usually the one to play the "adult" and tell me to wait until the time is more appropriate.

But being married to Steve isn't just about having a permanent fuck buddy. I can honestly say he's my best friend and confidant. I share EVERYTHING with him and what makes that possible is his love for me and lack of selfishness and jealousy. He knows I love him more than anyone in the world and that I am HIS, totally and completely. Sure my religious beliefs compel me to submit to him but that's not the reason I do - I simply WANT to. Now that we've been married and have to adorable daughters, I've also been treated to the pleasure of seeing my husband develop into a loving and caring father.

It also doesn't hurt that not only does Steve not mind me having sex with other people, he encourages me to do so. I do the same for him as well which is one of the cornerstones of our marriage and a big reason for why I think our marriage is stronger today than it ever was. It turns me on SO much to see Steve watching me as another man fucks me!!! I love it when he get to witness how much other men desire his wife, knowing that I am HIS and while they may get to enjoy me for a few moments, I'm ALWAYS his submissive wife, even when I'm being fucked by another man. Even those times when I'm out alone having sex with someone else, while I may enjoy the intimacy and excitement of another man's lust-filled embrace, I know he doesn't love me the way my husband does and I could never give myself to him the way I yield my body to my husband.

Given all that, hopefully you can understand my feelings when my husband finally walked through the door! My first thoughts when I saw him were how handsome he was, how sexy he looked, and how badly I wanted him - right NOW!

Over the years my husband has learned to expect such a greeting so I can't say I took him by surprise when I rushed up to him and threw my arms around his neck, kissing him passionately as I pressed my boobs tight against him.

"Whoa!" he chuckled as our lips finally parted, "Somebody's horny tonight I think."

I pressed my hand into his crotch, feeling for the prize I knew was hiding under his jeans. "And whatever gave you that impression?" I asked as seductively as I could be (which I'm told can be pretty damn seductive!)

"I suppose it wouldn't matter if I told you it was an exhausting day and I just need to get some sleep?" he teased me, like THAT mattered to me.

"You can do whatever you want," I responded defiantly, "But I'm going to have some of this dick no matter what - sleeping or awake."

It wasn't just a joke... It wouldn't be the first time I'd sucked him off as he slept in bed, far be it. In fact, I find it extremely erotic to take him in my mouth as he sleeps soundly, his mind unaware of what I'm doing but his cock certainly pays attention. Actually the first guy I ever sucked in his sleep was my dad and it amazed me at the time how his dick reacted just as if he was wide awake!

"Yeah but I want more than that... you're going to fuck me."

It was a statement, not a question, and he knew better than to even tease me at that point. Steve knew full well that when his wife wanted to be fucked, she wanted to be FUCKED! Just because I say I'm submissive to my husband doesn't mean I don't make demands on him. Submission is more about respect and clarity of roles, not slavery or domination. Heck, why be married if you can't insist on having a good lay now and then? It's not like he doesn't make the same demands of me at times and I'm proud to say I've NEVER refused either of the men in my life I've pledged myself to - my husband and my father. OK, maybe a little hard to get sometimes and not always enthusiastically, but they never went away unsatisfied.

Which led to us where I left off... me stoking my husband's dick trying to figure out what his true motives were. The fact he wanted to leave the girls with my aunt was a sure sign it wasn't going to be a visit to grandma's house. Obviously he was looking to have a little fun. The question was, in what way? Until recently that was a pretty simple question to answer. We'd stop in, engage in a little chit chat followed by Steve and I fucking while Marlene would watch. Depending on the time left, Steve and his mom might fool around a little and that would be about it.

These days it was more complicated now that Steve was openly fucking his mom. Of course his version is that "openly" doesn't apply and they never had done it since that day in their basement back in high school but I haven't quite bought into that one. Not that I think my husband would deliberately lie to me but is NOT saying something a lie? Not only did that totally change the dynamics of our "private" visits in terms of expanding my husband's playtime with his mom, it also seemed to make her more open as well in terms of her reaction to watching her son having sex with his wife. For years she would just watch us, never saying anything or touching herself which I found so odd (even weird?). Back when my mom would watch me fucking my dad, she would often masturbate and sometimes even throw in a few words of encouragement. It actually made me more comfortable now when Marlene would do the same rather than just standing there like a statue.

I was sort of hoping that with his plans for the afternoon that maybe Steve might forego his usual Sunday morning sleep-in and go to church with me. Of course that meant he'd have to come with me when I stopped by my dad's place beforehand but now that he was more open to watching me with my dad, that excuse had pretty much been shot down. Besides, my Aunt Linda wouldn't mind him stopping by either! Other than my mom (and now his own mother), she was the only older women I knew that he looked forward to having sex with. Yeah, he would go along with me when I wanted to swap with other married couples, but I know in his heart (and crotch) where his true desires fall - their young daughters. Oh well, compromise if all part of being married, right?

So when I'd finished my morning routine in the bathroom I was a little disappointed to find my sleepy husband still laying under the covers. Obviously he had no intention of joining me so I left him alone. Maybe had the covers been thrown back showing me his wonderful dick I meant of been tempted but at the moment I was thinking more of where I was heading - my dad's house.

As much as I love being married to Steve, as much as he is the number one man in my life, there's one thing he can never be - my dad. I have to admit that while I say that Steve is number one, that's only true so long as we're married. After all, Steve is just my husband whereas my dad is my father. In theory I can always marry another husband but there's only one father in my life. It's no different than what my Aunt Linda faced so many years ago when her husband wanted her to stop having sex with her dad. Even though he knew about everything when they got married, shortly after they had my cousin Kristen he became jealous and possessive, insisting that she stop having sex with my grandfather. Unfortunately she finally had to make the most difficult decision in her life - she divorced him. I thank God every day that my husband is so much more in love with me and so much more understanding. It would kill me to have to make the same decision my aunt made if those circumstances ever arose!

It was a cold Pittsburgh day so I chose to wear a dress that was a little more conservative than usual - one of the ones from my "school collection". My wardrobe is pretty much divided into two categories - school and not school. Teachers these days are being held to such strict moral codes and the dress codes, especially for the women, have become almost ridiculous. It's pretty easy to tell which category a particular outfit belongs. Anything that extends below the knee - school. Anything that shows cleavage - not school. Utilitarian (as in comfy) underwear - school. Sexy panties and bras (as in desired to appeal men) - not school. Flats - school. Hooker heels - not school. You get the picture. For the most part I tried to restrict the school collection to work only. While I may not wear my sluttiest outfits to church, that doesn't mean I have to dress like an old lady either. If nothing else, I've found over the years that the best place to meet up with married men isn't some bar but rather church!

Given the temperature outside I picked out some sheer black thigh-high hose to wear - not that anyone would know it wasn't pantyhose but I knew my dad would appreciate my efforts, especially given that was all that was under the dress - top or bottom. Outside of work about the only time I wear underwear out is when I want to make an impression on a guy. Any stripper will tell you that men are more turned on when you hide a little to start, especially if it's sexy and he gets to think that nobody else can see it but him. Other than that, I HATE bras and thankfully am fortunate to have boobs that have pretty much have held up over the years through two pregnancies and a 30th birthday. Yeah, gravity and kids have taken their toll but I still feel pretty good when I stand naked in front of the mirror. I guess being a MILF isn't so bad.

After one last look in the mirror and a quick brush of the hair, I grabbed my winter coat. Checking on the girls, they were going well and yet again I thanked my lucky star to have two kids who actually sleep in most mornings! Steve would take good care of them so no worries there as I closed the door behind me and headed out to the parking lot to my car. Even though my coat was long and my legs were covered I still was shivering when I started the car! Dang I hate winter! If my ties to the 'burgh weren't so strong I'd get my hubby to move us to Florida in a heartbeat! My fantasy is to live where I can wear shorts and a bikini year 'round.

As I drove to my dad's place, my thoughts wandered between anticipation of seeing my dad and whatever was going to happen after lunch but the closer I got the more I was focused on him. I love Sundays. First there's church, something that's always been a central point in my life. Then there's the "before church" tradition my dad and I established after I moved out of the house. My parents have always been big on family establishing and maintaining family traditions in that they can be the glue that holds us all together. One of my favorites back in high school was when my dad first started coming to my room in the morning before he left for work. At first I think it was just something that came over him one morning waking up horny but it worked out so well that he started coming back more and more often until it became

"Oh my god, you have NO idea!" he gushed, even though he knew perfectly well he'd probably told me a thousand times over the years how badly he HAD wanted to. This was just a little game we played, I guess you could call it foreplay, LOL.

"Well, then why don't you fuck me now?" I asked almost rhetorically as I was already positioned over him and needed only to drop a few inches to make that happen.

"God I love you Kelly," he groaned as my pussy contacted the tip of his dick. As wet as I was, he easily slipped in and next thing you know I was seated on his lap with my bare butt on his legs, his incestuous dick buried to the hilt in side of me.

"I love you inside of me daddy," I whispered as I circled my hips just enough to feel my dad's incestuous cock move inside of me, "Fuck me daddy... I want you to cum in me."

Given our mutual state of arousal before we even got started, I knew it wouldn't take long for him to fulfill my wish but then I was surprised when my aunt walked into the kitchen.

"Running a little late this morning, eh Kelly?" she said with a smile. As usual, she was nude - and still not bad looking for a woman almost fifty. I think the only time my Aunt Linda ever wore clothes around the house was when we had visitors and even then it was a tossup depending on who they were.

"Shit Linda, I was just about to cum!" my dad grumbled.

Linda just waved him off saying, "Yeah right, like I don't have ears. You guys just started so give me a break John, not even Kelly can make you cum THAT fast."

Aunt Linda squeezed past us, stopping for just a moment to give me a quick kiss before heading over to the coffee maker.

"Forget it daddy... you can do it," I encouraged him, bouncing on his shaft a little faster as I squeezed down on his cock with my pussy.

"Fuck that feels good when you do that," he moaned, making me grin. Like after the hundreds of time he'd fucked me I didn't know all the little things to do to make my dad feel good!

"Then fuck me daddy, fuck your slutty little girl," I replied, "Give me your love... show me how much you love me."

I looked over at where Linda had poured her coffee and was now leaning back against the counter top to watch. I was pleased when she started to rub herself - nothing all that much but enough to signal she was enjoying the show. For just a moment I felt a touch of sadness as it brought back memories of my mom doing the same when my dad would fuck me in this very chair back when I was a teenager. Fortunately my thoughts were interrupted...

"Oh fuck... I'm gonna cum!" my father gasped as he pulled he down tight in his lap to drive his dick completely inside of me. I could feel his thick pubic hair against my bare butt and giggled a little, just as I always has since I first felt it when I was so much younger. True, back then his dick wasn't in me, but I still enjoyed the sensation.

"Finally," my aunt teased softly as she sipped on her coffee while my dad proceeded to unload his cum in me. I closed my eyes and concentrated totally on my crotch, reveling in the unique sensation of my father mating me. Granted, the very idea of ever fathering his child has never crossed my mind, but the erotic symbolism cannot be denied.

"You're incredible Kelly," my dad whispered as I lifted myself off of him and turned so he could kiss me. I quickly made my way to the kitchen to grab a few paper towels to wipe off whatever of his cum I could as it was already starting to drain out of me.

"Yep, won't want to mess up those pew cushions now, do we?" my aunt teased me as she watched me clean up. It wasn't the cushions so much that concerned me, it was my dress between me and that cushion. It wouldn't be the first time if some of if soaked into my dress and left a wet spot showing, but it was also something I tried to avoid as it left too many open questions.

By the time I was done my dad was already sipped up and tightening his belt. Then I remembered!

"Oh Linda, can you watch the girls this afternoon?" I asked, not believing I had let it go this late before checking with her, "Steve wanted to visit his mom after I got back from church."

Aunt Linda gave me a sly grin before nodding her head. "No problem. Anything else I can do to help a son fuck his mom?"

"Oh stop it!" I answered, pretending to be outraged at her boldness. It seemed to me that ever since Steve had started fucking his mom it was like my aunt was a little jealous. Steve didn't fuck many older women on his own so I guess I could understand why she had been enjoying her exclusivity.

"Well, don't blame me - why else wouldn't you leave the girls with me?" she responded as if she was the aggrieved party.

"Well, maybe he'll stop by to pick them up and personally thank you," I teased her back.

"Is that a promise?" she asked with a twinkle in her eyes.

My dad was ready and broke in, "That's enough you two. Let's go Kelly, we're late."

Actually we weren't all that late - the first chorus had barely started when we took our seats. It had been less than ten minutes though since my dad had cum in me and my pussy was still tingling!

"I love you daddy," I whispered spontaneously into his ear as the organ played.

What I REALLY wanted to say was "I love you to fuck me daddy," but then, we WERE in church after all!

5. After Church Surprise

When we got back to my dad's place after church so I could get my car, I was a little surprised to see Steve's truck parked on the curb. That was a little unusual! What did my husband have up his sleeve now? Unfortunately, I soon found out.

"What the...?" I burst out when I entered the living room and say what was unfolding. There were my two perfect little angels, three year-old Kylie and almost a year old now Mia, playing in the middle of the rug which was just fine - Kylie was already imitating me, being the little mommy to her younger sister. What was NOT just fine was seeing my husband fucking my aunt on the couch. My Aunt Linda was on her knees, leaning down on her elbows, as my naked husband was drilling her from behind like he was ready to hit oil.

"Ooops!" was all Steve could say yet at the same time his rhythm didn't slow a notch.

"Dang it Steve! How many times have I told you no sex in front of the girls?" I whined. Well, technically that was no sex with anyone but each other as we'd never tried to hide anything, at least not yet, from our daughters. What I was against was them seeing us having sex with other people, even if that person was a family member. Well, make that especially with a family member. Kids at that age talk (at least Kylie does) and they haven't learned yet what's appropriate and what needs to be kept confidential.

"Kelly, lighten up. They're not paying any attention," Steve protested as he continued unabated.

Steve smiled like a cat with a fresh bowl of milk. Then he nodded back into the room but more around the door where I hadn't seen yet. I poked my head in further and was struck by yet another major surprise. Not only was his mother being screwed by some young boy, it looked like his sister was having a good time watching. Unlike what I assumed was her brother, she was fully dressed in the cutest little cheerleader outfit. It was emblazoned with the name of one of the local middle schools and looked to be authentic so I assumed she really WAS a cheerleader. Not that it changed anything. The sweet little brunette with the pixie cut didn't seem to notice either of us, not that I could blame her. She was focused on the scene on the bed, sitting Indian style on the overstuffed chair with her right hand planted inside her little cheerleader panties, rubbing herself as furiously as her brother was fucking Marlene.

I grabbed Steve by the arm and yanked him back into the hallway and down to the kitchen where we couldn't be heard.

"What... the... HELL... is... going... on?" I demanded through gritted teeth. If my slow, deliberate tone didn't convey my anger, my use of a swear word certainly did. Steve knew full well I never swear unless I'm REALLY angry! (BTW - I don't consider "fuck" a swear word, it's a descriptor).

"Seemed pretty obvious to me," he said back with a grin I wanted to slap off his face.

"So you KNEW this was going to be going on?"

Steve shrugged his shoulders. "Well, let's just say I had a pretty strong suspicion. If anyone, you should know how these things work, you never know for sure until they happen."

"Who are they?" I demanded, not letting up the pressure.

Steve's face sorta screwed up as evidently he wasn't sure. "Not really sure," he answered, confirming my read, "I think they belong to a couple we swapped with not long ago."

When Steve said "we", I knew he was NOT referring to him and me so he must have meant his mother. Dang, another one out of the blue, Since when had he and his mom started swapping? Oh well, THAT was one for another time. I had bigger fish to fry.

"And she knows we were coming over?... So she knew we'd see this?"

"Well, why not?" Steve responded as if it was obvious. Then he couldn't help but grin again. "Guess we know now where the my genes for little girls came from."

"I think we need to leave them alone for a little while, don't you?" I said just loud enough for him to hear.

Steve hesitated - he was staring at the two kids still coupled in front of him. Then he frowned a little but he scooted over and off the bed with me. I looked at Marlene and she nodded, joining us as we went back to the kitchen.

"Oh... My... God!" Marlene gushed when we got there, "Have you EVER seen anything so hot in all your life?"

Steve and exchanged glances and grinned- if she only knew some of the things we'd done and witnessed but then she was right - it WAS hot.

"And god Kelly... seeing you eating Steve's cum from that crazy little pussy... Well I have to admit, I wasn't sure if you would go through with it."

"I've always told you she a total slut Mom," Steve chuckled.

Marlene laughed. "Well, there's total slut and then there's TOTAL slut."

"Hey!" I protested.

Steve poked me in the arm teasingly, "Oh like you mind!"

He had me and we all laughed together.

"So now what?" I asked.

"Well, their dad is due any time now to pick them up. Then maybe we could spend a little more family time together, what do you think Steve?" Marlene said.

Yeah, like she had to ask!

Just then there was a knock on the door. I started to reach for my coat to cover up but Marlene just waved her hand saying it was OK, it was just their dad. Well, I guess considering what we'd been doing with his kids that seeing us all naked wasn't exactly a stretch.

Marlene opened the door and I was a little surprised. He looked a little older than I imagined, almost like an stereotypical accountant - a little pudgy, balding, maybe 5'10". Certainly not the image I had of a man who was fucking his kids but then I guess that's not really fair of me - what DOES such a man look like?

"Hi! I'm Will," he greeted us stepping into the kitchen. It was a little surreal in that if the sight of three people standing nude in the kitchen was something he didn't even notice. Yeah, he DID give me and Marlene the once over but it wasn't like he stared. For that matter, he gave Steve the same look. I remembered the comment by Derek. Well, hate to break the news to him but Steve treats other men's dicks like their radioactive waste! Both he and my dad are so homophobic it's almost embarrassing at times.

We introduced ourselves and then Will asked, "So I take it everything went well? How did you like my little girl Steve?"

Steve just grinned which was more than enough to convey his satisfaction.

"Yeah, she can be quite the little tiger sometimes when she's horny," Will commented as if we were talking about the weather, "Then again, you haven't met her sister yet."

He smiled, this time a little more seductively. There was something about the way he added the "yet" to the end that made me wonder.

"I have to say Will, your kids showed remarkable maturity, I was impressed," I complimented him, "You've done a great job with them."

"Thanks, we try," he said with a smile, "So let me guess... they're still at it?"

Marlene nodded and he grinned. "Yeah, I swear sometimes if we let them they'd never quit. They can be pretty inseparable at times."

Marlene led him down the hall as Steve and I stayed back in the kitchen.

"Ok you two, time to get going," I heard him call out to them from the doorway. I didn't hear the response but I imagine it wasn't positive and he came back with, "You heard me, you can finish at home."

It was a little different, to say the least, to witness such casual conversation. It made me wonder what things would be like when our daughters were older. Would we be as comfortable discussing sex with them as Will was with his kids?

It took a few minutes but then they finally all came back out. Chelsea was back in her cheerleader outfit, looking as cute as a button.

"What do you say guys?" their dad admonished them.

"Thank you!" they both responded as a chorus. It was like we'd just handed out their treats on Halloween!

"Talk later?" Marlene said to him as they made their way out.

Will nodded and smiled. Hmmmmmm, now what?

With the door closed, it left the three of us finally alone. Marlene took the lead.

"Well, now that we're all naked and horny, what do you say we do something about it?"

time? Oh sure I was well aware that I aroused him - I wasn't THAT na‹ve! Having his erection poking my bottom when I would sit naked on his lap in the hot tub made it pretty obvious. Still, my mom would always remind me that even fathers were still men and that's what happens to guys when they see a naked girl - even if she is his own daughter.

All my dad would've had to do was just TELL me, or even just do it, and I would never have protested. If there was one thing I always wanted while growing up to it was to please my daddy and make him happy. So you can imagine how heartbroken I was when two years after my boyfriend deflowered me that I finally learned about my father's past feelings and desires for me! It's a bit of a guilt trip I ride to this day. Still, there's a silver lining in that while my dad didn't get to do me first, my husband DID! Not a bad second choice as how many married women today can make that claim?

Other than that, even the seemingly "bad" things that have happened to me aren't necessarily on a list of things I wish had never happened. Instead, I tend to view most of those times as the things that made me who I am today. Without those experiences - the good and the "bad", who knows what type of women I might have become! A good example is when I tried being an escort back in college and was raped early in my new "career" which caused me to quit. Who knows, without that one time would I have become a whore like my cousin? As much as I hate to admit it, I've had sex with a dog (twice in fact but the second time didn't really count). Would I ever do it again - NEVER! Do I regret doing it - no. It was an "experience", to say the least, and it gave me a perspective towards such things I would never have today without having done it myself.

I've been blessed in many ways throughout my life. My parents have been as supportive and loving as anyone could ask. Finances have never been a huge issue (OK, maybe more so now than when I was growing up). I've got a career that I always dreamed of being a middle-school teacher. Yes, I'm currently just substituting so I can spend more time with my young daughters, but in a few years I plan to return to full time. Then of course there's been my sex life where I have absolutely no complaints. Please don't think of me as being conceited, but I think it's fair to say that God has blessed me with a sexy body that attracts most men, and I've made good use of what He has given me.

Actually, if I had access to a time machine it would be my dream to go back and simply relive many of the sexual experiences I've been so fortunate to have had.

Many of these simply can't be repeated with an obvious example being the day I gave my first blowjob and then shortly afterwards, my virginity. Needless to say, it's the "first times" I think about the most as they can't be repeated even if I tried. Of course the one "first time" that sits at the top of the list would have to be the first time I had submitted and had sex with my dad. Other than the day I gave myself to the Lord, I would say that was the most important event in my life as it changed virtually everything. I have so many special memories of that day and have masturbated probably thousands of times thinking about it so to be able to go back and relive it would be the most fantastic wish to be granted me ever. Of course I wouldn't want a single thing to change - I'd want to repeat it exactly the way it happened - over and over and over again.

Anyone who reads my diary should realize how many things I have available to me think about in terms of wishing I could repeat them. The ones most relevant to the events of this Valentine's Day would be the sex parties my BFF Beth use to invite me to attend.

Beth and I have been BFFs since as long as I can remember. In some ways we're a lot alike but I think that most people would also say we're opposites in many ways. For instance, back in the sixth grade she was already wearing a "real" bra while my mother had diplomatically bought me a trainer even I didn't even need even that until almost the eighth grade. I was always the thin petite one (nice words for being scrawny) while Beth, while not fat by any stretch of the imagination, always has a little more "meat on her bones" as my dad would describe her. We both LOVE sex but in different ways. She was the first to lose her virginity when we were both thirteen but then with her boobs she drew the high school boys like bears to honey. I've always leaned more towards intimacy and 1-1 sex while she's the party girl. Sure, I enjoy partying too but nothing like Beth. Again, that was probably because early on she was invited to all the wild parties even though she was usually the youngest girl there.

One area where we differed perhaps the most was in our family relationships. While I became involved in an incestual relationship with my father and other in my family in my mid-teens, Beth never even came close to such relationships in her own family. She was so lucky to have a brother and it sort of bugged me that she never took advantage of him - what a waste in my view. As for her father - THAT was never going to happen.

I didn't tell anyone, not even Beth or my cousin Kristen, when I first started having sex with my dad. It wasn't until some years later that Beth learned the truth but even that didn't happen until my dad had already fucked her earlier. Yes, if you didn't catch that my dad actually fucked someone outside our family which was as much as shock to me as anyone given my mother's strict interpretation of adultery. I guess because Beth and I were so close that it was almost like she a member of our family that my Mom reluctantly went along with it. However, while Beth was more than OK with fucking MY dad, she wasn't nearly as thrilled when I seduced (he would say tricked) HER dad. Yeah, it was just the one time but it strained our friendship more than anything ever had before... or since. It was a little rough for a few weeks but we managed through it and like everything else, I think the experience was worth it even if it was never repeated.

But back to the parties...

Somehow or another Beth became involved with a group of singles who would periodically get together for what was basically an orgy – no other way to diplomatically describe it. The rules were pretty simple – you had to be single (no dating couples could attend, at least not the same time), under 30 but at least 18, and willing to have sex with multiple people. The last was sort of obvious I guess but then you might be surprised how many people want to attend such things just to watch.

One of my most vivid memories of those days was the very first party I attended with her where I learned Beth hadn't exactly forewarned me about everything. She'd conveniently left out the part about the "initiation" where the new person had to have sex with the party host or hostess in front of the entire group to kick the night off. Not that I really cared, mind you, but it would've been nice to have been told ahead of time!

While I never got into the orgy scene anywhere near Beth's level of interest, it was a pleasant diversion at times so I might pretend to protest when she invited me but in the end I always accepted. For the most part I enjoyed myself as the people there were always respectful and I never felt pressured to do anything I didn't like. There was only one party that I remember as being one of those "how did I ever agree to THAT?" moments where I ended up volunteering to substitute for another girl so she wouldn't have to have sex with a dog (long story... it's in my diary). It was something I'd done ONCE before and had solemnly sworn never to do again but sometimes you just have to bite the bullet and do things to help others which is why

I really don't count that in my "resume". It's not something I'm proud of and frankly, still grosses me out a little when I think about what I did - even though I can't say I didn't enjoy it a little at the time.

Since the rule was that you couldn't bring a boyfriend or significant other with you, I pretty much stopped going once I started dating Steve again. Of course after he had proposed to me I became ineligible so that put a complete stop to it even if I had wanted to go. Steve never did attend one and I've never really told him all that much about the ones I did. While Steve and I don't hide anything about our pasts from each other, we don't exactly go out of our way to through in the other's face either. If he had ever asked me I would've gladly told me anything he wanted to know but as he never seemed all that interested I just never bothered.

My how things change... Now Beth and I are both in our early thirties, married with kids although she has two darling boys whereas I have my two wonderful daughters. We both tease each other that now instead of being school sluts we're the neighborhood MILFs but I think she secretly enjoys her current status just as much as I do. We've swapped since she got married but only a couple of times. Growing up we both enjoyed other girls but somehow or another we never had sex with each other all that much. It was like we were such close friends that we didn't need it - it was a little awkward even. Now that we're older and married, the same mindset seems to have continued. Whatever I guess... I can't really explain it, it's just the way it is.

So you can imagine my surprise when out of the blue one day, my BFF made a proposal to me that she hadn't made in a LONG time!

2. BFFs Unite

"You're joking, right? Ha, ha, not funny."

It was the first thing that came to my mind as I sipped on my morning coffee sitting at Beth's kitchen table. Me and the kids had stopped over for a brief visit and now with the rug rats occupied, we enjoyed those few cherished quiet moments moms never seem to get enough of.

"Dead serious," Beth responded crisply, grinning at me naughtily.

"But I thought those were history now... Like how many years since the last one?"

"Whatever... just saying," she added, determined to get in the last word as usual.

Before I could interrupt Kylie started crying so I had to leave the kitchen for a bit to calm her down from whatever the heck was bothering her. Ugh! As much as I love babies, I have to say I can't wait for her to grow up a little more so she can better communicate her needs!

When I return I found Beth leaned over the table staring into her coffee mug. She seemed startled when I sat down so I asked her what she'd been thinking about. She looked a little sheepish - not a norm for her.

"Oh sorry... I was just thinking back to the good old days."

"Good old days?"

She cracked a smile saying, "Just that all this talk about parties, your husband... brings back old memories. Did you know he was only the third guy I had sex with?"

I couldn't help myself, I had to laugh. Like she hadn't told me a thousand times before. Beth never seemed to grow tired of reminding me how she'd had my husband before I did.

"Oh a few times," I responded instead, trying to be a little diplomatic. "I hated you back then... well, I hated your boobs."

Beth grinned and hefted her breasts with both hands. "Yeah, the girls certainly were popular. I don't think most of them even knew what my hair color was!"

We both laughed and she continued, "You know, I still can't believe he even asked you out. Like, every girl he'd ever dated before you was at least a B-cup. The boy loved his boobies!"

"Well, you know I was as shocked as anyone," I confessed even though she knew the story full well herself.

"Not as shocked as half the girls at school," she teased me. "Everyone figured you must have been giving some of the best blowjobs in his life!"

"Well..." I grinned, "I think I did pretty good even back then."

Beth sat silent for a moment and then turned to me and said more softly, "You know, I really AM looking forward to him fucking me again. I mean like Spencer is great - not complaining mind you, but I've always had a thing for Steve." She paused and grinned wider, "Well, at least I do for his dick!"

We both chuckled at that. I wasn't sure what was with her this morning as we hadn't talked about my husband, at least in this way, in ages.

"Hey, everything OK with you and Spencer?" I asked softly.

Beth just nodded. "Sure, like I said - no complaints. But tell me Kelly... don't you miss those days sometimes?"

"Those days?"

"Yeah, back when we were single and could do anything. I don't know, maybe it's just the reminder of those parties but lately I've been feeling like I'm locked in this house. You know how it is... the kids, money, keeping your husband happy."

Honestly, I DIDN'T know how it was as for me as married life has been the best thing to ever happen to me. Oh sure we all pine for the past now and then but really, why would I want to go back to those painful days in high school when it seemed all I did was try to prove myself to everyone? Still, it wasn't like I could say that to my best friend.

"So how does Spencer feel about this party?" I asked, trying to change the subject.

"He's a guy, what ELSE would he say?" Beth laughed, her mood swinging rapidly.

There was a sharp cry from the bedroom. Oh great, now what? We both rushed up and that pretty much brought an end to our discussion as our kids consumed the rest of the time we were there. When I left I gave Beth a nice long kiss - it had been ages since we shared one, and smiled at her.

"You know I love you," I told her as our eyes met.

Beth hugged me tight and whispered in my ear, "I love you too Kelly."

And so I left with the girls. When I looked back Beth was waving goodbye. As I walked to the car I thought how the next time I saw her would most likely be at the party. Hmmmmmm, why procrastinate? Maybe it was time the two of us had some fun again together?

3. Kicking Things Off

"So how does all this get started?" Steve spoke as he was driving towards the address Beth had texted me.

"What do you mean?" I asked, "It's just a party."

"Not quite 'just' a party and you know it," Steve smiled glancing over at me. "C'mon, I never got to go to one of Beth's shindigs so clue me in."

"The number one rule about sex parties is you don't talk about sex parties," I teased.

"Nice line," he shot back smiling, "I know better so spill it."

To be honest, I wasn't sure myself so I didn't know what to tell him so I kept stalling until we pulled up to the house. It was huge! Wow, somebody was doping pretty good for themselves. There was a big circular driveway which already was almost full with other cars.

"See, I told you we wouldn't be early."

Steve just rolled his eyes, "OK, you know you don't have to tell me you told me so."

Steve, ever the gentleman, rushed over to my door after he'd parked and held it open for me. So much for being a gentleman though as from where his eyes were focused I knew he had ulterior motives.

"Something wrong with my skirt?" I asked innocently as I slowly lifted my leg up and out. I knew the answer of course as the skirt was so short most of my upper thigh had been exposed while just sitting in the seat. As I didn't make any attempt to tug it down as I exited, it just rode up even higher.

"Skirt? What skirt?" he said jokingly, "I don't see one."

Standing up on my heels, I did reach down and tug it a down little - more to straighten it out than anything else.

"Awwwwww, now why did you have to go and do that?" Steve whined like a little boy.

"Don't worry horny toad, I doubt it will be on for long anyways," I answered grinning at him.

While I hadn't been given all that much information from Beth, if this party was like the ones she use to bring me to then that was an understatement. Typically most people stripped immediately after the initiation ceremony or if there wasn't going to be one, then right after they walked in the door although now and then some of the girls would keep on some of their lingerie - at least to get things started.

As we approached the house, I thought about how Steve had been a little disappointed when I told him that this was an all-adult affair and that no kids would be joining. Then, as now, I couldn't help but be reminded of Beth's brief commentary. Yes, maybe it WAS good for us to be with a large group of grown-ups for once. It seemed lately we pretty much did the swap scene and left the parties to the family events - most of which I didn't attend these days in the first place. It had been ages since I got to show off in front of Steve by having sex with multiple men our age or older. Too bad as I loved it when he watched me - and so did he!

"Welcome!" we were greeted at the door. I had to look twice but then I recognized the face.

"Tyler?"

I was rewarded with a smile as he held the door open.

"Hi Kelly, been a long time," he said to me as I passed. Boy was he right! Wow, did I look that much older as well? Not that he looked bad, not at all. If anything the added years gave him a look of maturity that I find quite attractive in a man.

After stepping in, Tyler took our coats and hung them in the closet. He turned back and gave me the once over - twice, as Steve watched.

"Damn girl, nice outfit," he complimented me. He then turned to Steve and shook his hand. After introducing himself he added, "You're a lucky man Steve!"

Steve put his arm around me and hugged me tight into him. Wow! He wasn't usually this protective of me, at least when it came to other men eyeballing me.

"Indeed I am!" he responded with a hint of pride in his voice - at least that's how I heard it.

The doorbell rang and Tyler went to greet the next guests as we made our way into the living room. Well, at least that's what they probably called it although in comparison to our little space at home this was more like a convention hall.

"Kelly!" I was greeted as Beth rose from the couch where she'd been seated next to her husband.

We hugged and she turned to Steve, "Hey big boy, I've been SO looking forward to seeing you today."

Whoa, she wasn't wasting any time! But then that was Beth for you. She was in her element, that was for sure.

"C'mon, you guys can sit next to us, I've been saving a spot," she said as she took my hand and led me to the couch. The two of us sat together with our husbands flanking us.

"Seems like old times already, eh?" she gushed as I took in the surroundings. There looked to be about a dozen or so other couples, most of them still milling about talking to one another. I was having a hard time trying to remember who I'd met before and who was new. Like, it had been quite a few years so who could blame me?

Tyler came in then and clapped his hands loudly in what at first was a futile attempt to get everyone's attention. It took a few more tries but finally the room was relatively quiet.

"OK... I'd like to welcome everyone to our little reunion," he started, "But first I want to introduce my wife Brianna."

A dark-skinned woman moved in next to him and smiled at everyone, not saying a word. She was dressed in an outfit more appropriate for summer than the middle of winter but then I guess that didn't matter. Wow, talk about legs! She was wearing super tight white denim shorts with a tight tank top that left nothing to the imagination - no bra by any means. Steve's mouth dropped open like a fish out of water.

"You'll have to bear with us, Brianna's English is a little limited but don't worry guys, that's about all that will be limited for her today!"

Everyone laughed politely and he continued, "I know that for a lot of you this is your first time at one of our little events but hopefully your husband or wife has filled you in on most of the details. So let's get started... my hope was to run this like the good old days, OK?"

Like who was going to debate with him? There was a low murmur but nobody had anything to add.

"Great, then I don't see any reason to delay things. I'm sure none of you came here to listen to my speeches."

That brought a louder chorus of laughter and then he continued, "So in keeping with the spirit of those days, what do you say we start out with an initiation ceremony? I know we have a lot of first timers today but to keep things moving let's keep it to one person. Soooooo, any volunteers?"

I felt Steve stir next to me. As I hadn't told him anything about the initiation ceremonies he was probably wondering what this all meant but I just kept quiet, looking around wondering who would volunteer. This was slightly different from the past in that typically the person didn't get a choice - that was half the fun, surprising them in front of everyone. Volunteering sort of took away the charm but I could see why as maybe half the people here were new.

While I kept my mouth shut, Beth quickly spoke up. "I would like to volunteer someone!"

I looked over at Spencer, who seemed as surprised as anyone at his wife's announcement. He must have been wondering what the heck she was doing! As things turned out though, he needed have worried.

"Steve here is new... I volunteer HIM."

I almost choked. Not that I was upset, just surprised, although not nearly as much as Steve.

"Wait a minute... what's this all about?" Steve whispered to me. Then he looked at Tyler with a flustered expression asking, "And what if I don't WANT to volunteer?"

That only drew a chorus of laughter from a number of people - most likely the ones with past experience here as I doubt they would've told their spouse just in case something like this happened.

Tyler looked around with his arms out. "Well everyone, what do you say?"

"He's gotta do it," a guy from across the room called out. "Yeah, no copouts," a woman standing up near Tyler chimed in.

Tyler walked over to Steve. "So I'm assuming Kelly didn't tell you about the initiation process we have here." Steve shook his head, looking at me accusingly. "Well never you worry. Trust me, SHE did great with hers... and I ought to know."

Steve looked at me again questioningly but then Tyler explained to everyone how the initiation worked. It was pretty straight-forward. All the new person had to do was fuck the host in front of everyone to kick things off. Once that was done then the party got started for everyone else.

"Don't worry Steve, when your wife did it I got to have the honors but you don't get me," Tyler told him although he was looking at me.

Everyone laughed.. silly joke but still, for a full-blown homophobic like Steve I knew such a concern probably came to mind instantly. "Nope, you get the pleasure of my wife Brianna."

Brianna was smiling from the middle of the room where she'd remained. Steve suddenly didn't seem so unhappy!

"So let me get this straight... I HAVE to fuck you wife, right now, here in front of everyone?"

Well, he didn't have to grin quite so broadly! Oh well, I was happy for him anyways. Steve looked over at Beth and grinned. "Thanks Beth! First time I think I've ever been so happy somebody volunteered me for something!"

Steve leaned over, gave me a quick kiss - a VERY quick one, and stood up before heading for his prize. I couldn't help but think to myself that this was sort of a role reversal for us. While Steve had never been one to be shy, it's not like he was an exhibitionist - certainly nothing in my league. If people happened to be watching, so be it, but it's not like he went out of his way to be the center of attention. Me, on the other hand, well I LOVED to be the focus of attention and I knew Steve loved it just as much when I was - he was so proud to be my husband!

Meanwhile, Brianna wasn't wasting any time. With a hand from her husband, she was already half out of her shorts by the time Steve got to her. Taking the cue, without so much as a glance back at me Steve quickly shucked his clothes until everyone was treated to the same sight I so loved - my naked husband!

"So now we just do it?" I heard him ask Tyler, "Right here?"

"Yep. Like I said, my wife's English is a bit limited so don't worry about any small talk," Tyler told him, "Besides, everyone here has to wait for you guys to finish before they can get started so trust me, this is NOT the time to take your time."

By then Brianna was naked, even dropping her heels leaving her barefoot. Tyler had brought in a thick floor mat which he obviously meant for them to use. I was impressed - she was stunning, everything I knew Steve fantasized about, well at least for one out of middle school. Big firm boobs (they looked real though), dark complexion, GREAT figure with legs I'd kill for, and long jet black straight hair that draped down her back almost to her ass. In short, she was Miss Universe beautiful.

No sooner than she was undressed than Brianna dropped to her knees and took Steve's semi-hard dick in her hand, stroking him as she stared up into his eyes. Spitting on his cock, she stroked him a few times before taking him in her mouth again, quickly engulfing him until her face was pressing tight into his thick hairy pubic hair. Damn, the girl was good!

Steve was oblivious to the watching crowd as he looked down at this gorgeous woman sucking on his dick, quickly hardening until he fully erect. I was so proud of him! Then I felt a hand on my thigh as Beth put her hand on me and started to slowly rub me.

"Pretty good, isn't she?" Beth whispered to me, "Wow, it sure didn't take long to get him to full mast!"

"Well what do you want? She's beautiful!" I replied softly. Indeed, I wouldn't have minded had she "initiated" me.

Tyler had stepped back just a few feet, keeping a close eye on his model wife. Then he looked around and shrugged his shoulders.

"Hey folks, since this is the first time we've had couples at one of these, don't you think the initiation should be with a couple as well?"

It figured, why was I surprised? Now I assumed the question would be which of the new women was to join Steve in the process. Evidently my thought process was a little too constricting as it turned out.

Since nobody seemed to disagree (big surprise!), Tyler then turned to ME!

"So Kelly, get up here and join your husband."

I turned to Beth who just shrugged her shoulders. So now what, a threesome? Yet again I wasn't thinking of all the possibilities. So what the heck? It wasn't like it would be the first time Tyler had fucked me by a long shot. Smiling at the watching audience, I stood up and headed towards where Brianna was still doing quite the number on my horny husband.

"Where you going Kelly?" Tyler called out. I turned and saw he had dropped his pants - no underwear by the way. It didn't take a rocket scientist to figure this one out.

"You know, you were my favorite initiation," he told me as I neared him. I heard a cough from the couch. Beth had once told me that Tyler had done her initiation as well so she obviously wasn't all that pleased to be number two.

"So let's do it then," I said simply, slipping my skirt off and dropping my blouse. Unlike his wife, I chose to leave my heels on, at least for this part given the watching audience. Other than the heels, a gold ankle bracelet (a gift from my dad) and my diamond cross I usually wore around my neck, I was quickly naked in front of them all.

Tyler stood next to Steve and so I got down on my knees next to Brianna and went to work on Tyler's cock. Brianna had a head start on me but it didn't take long for her husband's cock to reach the same status as my husband's.

"So what do you think Steve... great way to kick this off, don't you agree?" I heard Tyler say to my husband.

"Well frankly, I'm ready to fuck yours," Steve replied and I saw his hands reach down to Brianna's head and lift her off his cock. He twirled his finger and she got the message, spinning around so her butt was facing him while she leaned forward on her elbows. She rubbed her pussy and pushed her fingers inside, drawing out her wetness and lubricating herself for him. Steve's dick slid in her easily as I tried to watch out of the corner of my eye while I sucked off Tyler.

"Looks like your husband likes my wife," Tyler said to me as he lifted my head and spun me around, "Why don't you just lean over so you can watch too as I do you."

Frankly, I would've been just as happy to focus on Tyler. It's not that it bothers me to watch my husband fuck another woman. Heck, if I had THAT sort of hang-up then we'd have been divorced a long time ago! Seeing he was enjoying himself why would that be an issue for me? After all, it wasn't like he loved her. Heck, they hadn't even spoken two words to each other and here he was, drilling her in front of everyone. In the end, it just didn't do anything for me. So my husband was having sex with another wife... so what else was new?

I reflexively let out a little grunt as Tyler penetrated me from behind. Not taking his time, that was for sure! Then again, it wasn't like this was supposed to be the epitome of intimacy.

"Damn, I can't believe you have two kids," Tyler said between thrusts, "How the hell do you keep so tight?"

What could I say? Mother Nature may have been a bit unfair with me growing up but she did bless me with a pussy for which most guys still compliment me. Oh sure I know some of them probably say the same thing to every girl, just as I tend to compliment most guys on their dick. Then again, I DO like most guy's dicks so I'll take it that they feel the same way about pussies.

One thing I could say though about watching Steve - I was so proud of him! In my unbiased opinion he looks even more handsome today than when we were married and seeing him nude in front of all these people all I could think about was how lucky I am. Loving husband, caring father, doting son... he was the whole package!

And speaking of packages... if there was one thing that DID turn me on watching him fuck Brianna, it was the sight of his wonderfully hard cock as it appeared and then disappeared into her dark pussy. Of all the dicks in the world, his was the one I loved the most! So even with another guy's inside of me right then, I was still thinking about Steve's and how much I adored him and wanted to make love with him. The best part was that even though I knew at this moment his male mind was zeroed in on Brianna's pussy, when he was done it would be MY pussy he'd want!

Surprisingly, it was Tyler who came first. I felt him pull out and groan, followed by the warm sensation as his cum spurt out onto my butt and back. Crap. I mean, why make such a mess when I would've been perfectly satisfied to have him cum inside of me? Was it just for the show or was this his sort of thing?

Well, speaking of shows... not to be outdone Steve pulled out of Brianna and moved to where his dick was in front of her face. She kept her lips pursed tightly shut as he spewed his cum all over her face and boobs. My first thoughts were I was happy that at least Tyler hadn't done that to me but Brianna seemed OK with it, even if she evidently didn't like the taste of cum.

Everyone erupted in cheers and clapping – whether it was for the performances or the fact that now they could finally strip down and get things going was debatable. In any case, it didn't take long for everyone to get naked and the party to begin in earnest.

4. Back in the Swing of Things

For the first few minutes Steve played the loving husband, leaving Brianna and leading me over to the couch where Beth was kind enough to have already gotten a towel to wipe the mess off of me. Then she was off with a big grin.

"Don't do anything I wouldn't do!" she said cheerfully as she gave me a quick kiss and took off. Yeah, like THAT put any limitations on me.

"Well, now THAT was interesting," Steve said as we sat down on the couch next to each other and he put his arm around me, clasping his hand over my boob in the process – his favorite resting place. "So... you couldn't have at least warned me?"

He tried to look so seriousness but the veneer quickly cracked and we both laughed.

"Oh sure, like you were really upset that you got to fuck that gorgeous woman."

"Well...." he teased, "She wasn't so bad."

"I was surprised she didn't take it in her mouth," I commented, "Pretty lame, especially in front of everyone."

Steve laughed again and squeezed my boob. "I was surprised you didn't say anything about him pulling out."

I just shrugged, it wasn't something I wanted to dwell on.

"So now what?" Steve asked as we looked around. Most of the people had paired off with some of them leaving for what looked like to be the kitchen. In the past the rule was you were supposed to stay in view of everyone making the bedrooms off limits but I didn't know what, if any, rules applied to this day.

"Well, I don't mean to tie you down... have fun!" I encouraged him.

"You sure you're ok with that?"

I sighed and rolled my eyes. OMG, after all the parties and swapping he was worried about leaving me alone to have sex with other men?

"Go for it stud," I replied with a seductive wink, "Just remember - I get it last."

It was the one rule we had when going out. No matter who else we did, before we went to sleep that night we would make love, even if it was just a quickie. It was like renewing our vows and showing our true love and commitment to one another.

Steve kissed me and then kissed me again. With a quick pat on my crotch he was off. I looked around, trying to decide where to best fit in - or should I say who to best fit in me!

For better or worse, the rest of the time we spent at the party was what I would call relatively routine. OK, so maybe not so "routine" as for most people but given our past experiences it wasn't all that special in general. Don't get me wrong, I thoroughly enjoyed myself - like who wouldn't like being with a half dozen or so guys you either never met or haven't seen in years? The best part about such parties is the lack of any connections or expectations. You go, enjoy yourself, and then leave with no commitment, no regrets. True, it also lacks any sense of intimacy or personal satisfaction (other than pure physical), but then that's the tradeoff I guess.

The one thing I DID enjoy though was when Beth challenged me to a blowjob competition. We hadn't done anything like that in ages and once our husbands heard about it they wouldn't let the matter drop until I accepted. Of course they weren't eligible to participate due to their obvious bias, but both of them seemed more than anxious to have a front-row seat in the spectator gallery, so to speak.

The rules were simple, first one to get all three of our assigned guys to cum was the winner. The reason for having three was to even out the individual tendencies. I mean like some guys can cum in a heartbeat while others will hold out for what like seems forever! So with three, that just made it more fair. The other requirement was that each could not have cum for at least the last hour. It's not like they were all young guys anymore!

We lined the guys up shoulder to shoulder, my three facing Beth's three with us in the middle on our knees working our way down the line. I felt pretty confident going in - Beth had never beaten me before after all. Back in high school this was something we did a lot more as having sex in front of their friends wasn't something guys that age tend to go for. Yeah, they love to TALK about it but show their dicks so blatantly in front of other guys.... yeah right, LOL.

In the end it was a closer finish than I'd expected. In fact, Beth had her first guy off in a matter of minutes! We had to swallow, again to keep things fair, but that didn't slow her one bit. Thankfully the last guy she had saved me. He had the biggest dick of them all and seemingly the hardest time getting it good and hard. It wasn't a big surprise to me - I've never really been a fan of huge dicks. Maybe in porn they work but in my experience performance gets traded for size, not to mention it's a lot harder to suck them!

Steve was so proud of me when the last came filled my mouth with cum! He was cheering me along the entire time - as always my biggest fan. I went to kiss him but he pulled back just as I knew he would. My husband is one of the most homophobic men I've ever known! It's like to him sperm is toxic waste. Funny in that he has no problem with his wife swallowing it down by the gallon but he doesn't even like to get it on him, let alone touch it and heaven forbid taste it! And that's his own cum - don't even think about anyone else's!

By the time things wound down I was pretty tired and poor Steve - he looked exhausted! We thanked those that were still there, especially Tyler and Brianna, got ourselves cleaned up enough to drive home and left for home.

5. The Aftermath

We got home about thirty minutes later where I was pleased that the babysitter had the girls already in bed. She was a new one for us, a cute fifteen year-old one of our friends had recently recommended to us. Good sitters are so hard to find! Steve was infatuated with her of course, his babysitter fantasies immediately kicking into high gear, but after a glare from me he behaved himself. Yes, despite how he felt life SHOULD be, not every teenage babysitter was hot to fuck him! She seemed very sweet and given her accomplishments with the girls I was sure we'd be hiring her again so I didn't need my husband freaking her out by exposing himself to her or whatever on the drive home. While he was out I check and found that the refrigerator hadn't even been touched - the girl was a goldmine in a world where decent sitters are so hard to find!

As soon as Steve returned we immediately hit the shower. I was feeling all itchy from dried cum and my hair was a disaster - why can't guys aim? Hopefully the sitter noticed, she probably just figured I needed my hair washed.

"Well, THAT wasn't such a bad party," Steve commented as he washed me down. Of course he seemed to think I especially needed it between my legs and on my chest but what else would you expect? Heck, I'll freely admit that I made a big deal about getting his dick all scrubbed up!

"Mommy?" I suddenly heard. Pulling back the shower curtain, who else but our dear three year-old daughter Mia. I guess she hadn't been so sound asleep as we thought! Of course she was wearing her Frozen nightshirt (I SO wish she would grow out of that phase) looking cute as a button as always. Not that I'm biased of course.

"I can't sleep," she complained, rubbing her eyes in direct contradiction to her statement.

I tried to explain to her mommy and daddy would be out in a minute and we'd help her then. Reasoning with a three year-old is never easy but she finally agreed to sit on the toilet and wait. I was anxious to get her back to bed so we quickly rinsed off and stepped out of the shower. It wasn't like Mia hadn't seen us both naked before. I'd decided from the outset to treat nudity the same as my mom had - something not to be ashamed of but at the same time, not to be flaunted. Along those lines getting out of the shower nude was natural. Running around the house naked unnecessarily was not.

Toweling myself down, I wrapped my hair up in another towel and hustled her back to bed where she insisted I rub her back. Sitting nest her in bed, I gently rubbed her for a while as slowly her eyes drifted shut and finally closed. Once she was out I quickly made my exit to rejoin my husband.

"Out?" Steve asked as I climbed into our bed beside him.

"Like a light," I assured him rubbing my clean naked body up against his. Mmmmmmm, after the shower he smelled so good!

"You looked incredible tonight," he complimented me as we kissed, "I was so proud of you!"

"As I was with you," I responded, my hand moving down to his crotch.

People always ask me why I use the word "fuck" so much. It's not a curse word when I do, it's just a way to describe sex. Basically anytime I have sex, we're fucking. It's entirely different from making love in that there's only one man in the world I ever have, or ever will, make love with - my husband. Not even sex with my father

3. Making Plans

Unfortunately as with most things in life the devil would be in the details. Oh sure the concept was simple, it was the logistics that caused me headaches. It wasn't that I expected any problems getting my dad to go along and I was sure Uncle Paul wouldn't be a fuss either. I figured even Katlyn wouldn't want to miss out on such an opportunity. No, my problems weren't with any of those who I expected to be involved - it was the ones who WEREN'T that drove me nuts. The biggest problem I faced was that it WAS going to be Father's Day how would I get my cousin to allow Katlyn to spend the day with her grandfather rather than her father? It wasn't like I could go to Ginny and ask, "Hey, do you mind if your slutty daughter comes alone with me and her horny grandfather and my uncle so they can fuck her all day?" Of course it WOULD be kinda fun to see her reaction if I did, at last for a few moments until all hell broke loose. Obviously I had to come up with a more realistic approach.

In the end I had to compromise a little. My initial thoughts were to surprise Katlyn but it soon became apparent I would need her on board if my mission was to be successful. Of course THAT meant confiding in her my plans ahead of time. I'd felt pretty confident seeing what a slut she'd become in the past year that once she found herself in a situation without many options she'd gladly go along and from there we'd all have fun. Telling her ahead of time gave her more options though, not all of them necessarily favorable to my plans.

Even before she started having sex with my husband and father I'd realized that Katlyn and I had a few different views about men. For me, the older the better (up to a point). If he was married, all the was better. Add in a teenage daughter or two and it was perfect. Katlyn, on the other hand, was obsessed with boys at school. It may have been because they were just as obsessed with her and fawned all over her throughout the day. To her, older men were just that - OLD. So while the thrill of being naughty in committing incest kept her interest, over time things along those lines dwindled as her sex life with boys more her age blossomed.

There was also the fact that despite my best efforts, I'd never made much headway when it comes to teaching her about the duties and responsibilities of proper Christian daughters, particularly when it came to giving themselves sexually to their fathers. It wasn't totally my fault though as her dad never made even the slightest move in that direction from which she could initiate anything. It wouldn't be such a big deal normally except it was messing with my plans. The problem was that if she wasn't fucking her own father, then doing her grandfather was going to be a bigger step than for most family-oriented girls.

For days I struggled trying to come up with a plan that would work perfectly but just when I thought I had it licked there always seemed to be a glitch. My first thought was to go with the obvious - an invitation to go water skiing. That one was quickly shot down as I knew if we extended the offer to Katlyn it would be difficult to explain why JUST her and not the entire family as was the norm. Maybe if it was just her I might have been able to strike a deal but adding in Uncle Paul without anyone else would be pretty impossible to rationalize.

It wasn't until once again I found myself praying in church when the answer came to me. Hmmmmmm, I don't want to hear anyone try and tell me that God doesn't answer prayer!

One thing my Uncle Paul was big on was fishing. His biggest problem was he didn't have a boat. The main reason he didn't have a boat was that nobody else in the family was into fishing so the money went elsewhere - like their big camper. On the other hand my dad was never one for dealing with messy fish but he DID have a boat. Yeah, it was really meant more for water skiing than fishing but it WAS a boat. From what I'd heard the my uncle would try to take his kids and grandkids out to a nearby lake for fishing now from the bank although I wasn't sure how thrilled Katlyn was about it. She was always pretty much the girly-girl and so dealing with messy, smelly fish didn't seem like her cup of tea. Still, it WAS the only opening I could think of so maybe it could be made to work. Hey, it was better than nothing!

4. Getting Katlyn on Board

All the plans in the world are fine... it's putting them into play that counts. I'd leave it up to my uncle to work things out with his family. When I mentioned to him my plans he was excite - to say the least! As much as he craved his sexy teenage granddaughter, crossing the line with her had proved to be more than he was ready to do on his own. Watching her flirt with him made me almost feel sorry for the poor guy but then she flirted with everyone so nobody thought anything of it. It wasn't much different than when I was her age only my mom caught a lot more flack back then for my outfits even though they weren't much more risqu, than Katlyn's these days. I guess times have changed in fifteen or so years. Wow... makes me feel so old!

Yet again, church came to the rescue - and people wonder why I'm such a church girl! As usual I was seated up tight against my dad, legs crossed this time which allowed my skirt to ride up my tanned bare thigh on the side next to him a bit more than perhaps was socially acceptable but then being "socially acceptable" had never been a worry of mine. This time I'd noted Katlyn and her family were seated behind us so I couldn't see her once we'd taken our seats. It was about midway through the second hymn when I felt a wetness between my legs. Oh crap, I must not have pushed out enough of my dad's cum in the car on the way to church and now it must be leaking out! Had I worn panties it wouldn't have been such a problem but when do I ever wear panties to church - or much anywhere else besides at work? Not like it would be the first time my dad had to walk behind me as we made our way out after the service to hide the wet spots on the back of my dress. Still, why even get into that situation in the first place? With everyone standing and my dad next to the aisle it made it easy to step out and make my way quickly to the restroom on the lower level without drawing too much attention.

Entering one of the stalls, I cleaned off the seat and took a seat, pulling up my dress to my waist in the process. Reaching down, I could feel the slickness of my father's cum as it drained from me. Wow, he must have cum bucket this morning! I wondered if it had anything to do with the discussion we had about my plans for father's Day. It wasn't like I could NOT tell him after all since he had to deal with the logistics.

Wadding up some toilet paper, I dabbed my pussy and then rubbed to wipe it clean. Suddenly it was like a jolt of electricity traveled up my spine as my fingers years ago, instead I pulled my hand from my horny crotch, stood up and pulled my dress back down. At least I didn't have to worry about panties!

"Actually Katlyn, I need to talk to you about something, OK?"

"Wow, must be pretty important," she said with a surprised look, "I mean like you stopped masturbating... you NEVER do that!" and then she giggled again.

I swatted her on the butt playfully. "Give me a break!"

Checking myself out in the mirror, I was a little flushed but otherwise OK so I turned my attention back to Katlyn.

"You know Father's day is next Sunday," I started out, "And I wanted to make sure it was extra special for my dad, fifteen years now and all."

Katlyn looked a little puzzled. "Fifteen years since what?"

I just gave her a "duh" look and then she laughed. "Oh yeah, THAT!"

"Did I ever tell you about how he and Tammy did it the first time?"

Katlyn nodded. "Only about a dozen times," she laughed then in response.

"Well I was thinking about getting my dad to take me to the lake next Sunday." I paused to give her time to consider.

"You mean with Tammy again?" she asked with her eyebrows raised, "I thought she wasn't..."

"No, not with Tammy," I interrupted before we went too far down that wrong road. I looked at her and waited...

"ME?" she blurted out as she finally put the pieces together, "But that doesn't make sense, we've already done it."

She also didn't appear all that enthusiastic. Whether it was something she'd done before or not, she wasn't exactly jumping at the chance to do it again.

"I was thinking more in terms of the next day, remember?"

Katlyn got that screwy look on her face whenever she was thinking hard. It wasn't like I'd actually told her all this stuff a dozen times. A few, maybe. Then she got more serious.

"You mean swap dads?" she asked incredulously, "Oh Kelly, my dad would NEVER go along with that, you know that."

"Well, maybe not your dad but I know someone who would," I tried to tease her.

"Not Uncle Jim," she groaned, "He's a jerk... always trying to feel me up in the pool or when people aren't looking."

"No... someone a little closer to you..."

5. Father's Day Morning

The week went by slowly but finally Sunday arrived. I woke up early, too excited to sleep in even though I didn't have to be at my dad's house for a few hours. My dad and his brother had figured it would placate a few people's feelings if we all at least attended the Father's Day service at church as a family before heading off on our own to the lake.

Wiping the sleep from my eyes, I rolled over towards my husband but instead bumped into someone else - our oldest daughter. Mia was sound asleep and snuggled up against her naked father. Steve and I had debated, briefly I might add, over whether or not to start wearing something to bed when our daughter started sneaking into bed with us. I think it was more a formality so later we could at least say we discussed the matter as neither of us was so inclined. Other than a few brief periods while in college, I haven't worn anything to bed since I was twelve or so. It really has nothing to do with sex but rather more I just feel more comfortable when I'm naked in bed. Don't think that makes me a nudist though. I keep a nightshirt or robe next to the bed and the first thing I do when I get up is to put it on.

Mia, of course, wasn't naked like her parents although we'd had a few battles over it recently when she insisted she had to sleep like mommy. Well, maybe in a few years... or more. For now mommy wins this debate. Yet while she was wearing her favorite Frozen nightshirt, it had pulled up to her waist such that her father, who WAS nude, was laying with his hairy crotch pressed in tight against her bare little bottom.

What could I say? They were both sound asleep so it wasn't like there was anything going on. Still... so much for any thoughts of seeing how hard I could get Steve while he slept - a favorite game of mine that he didn't seem to mind playing. With a sigh I slipped out of bed and grabbed my terrycloth robe. Had I been wearing it in a more public are I would have needed to be wearing shorts or PJ bottoms as it didn't quite come down to the bottom of my butt and if I so much as reached up or down in the slightest it totally revealed my ass. Still, at least I wasn't naked and that was the whole point of putting it on.

Checking in on our other daughter, all was well with Kylie as always. She was an angel! Unlike her older sister who never seemed to have slept a night through in her life and seemed hell bent on spending as much time in bed with her parents regardless of what they might be doing, Kylie had gone the entire night without a peep just the third night after brining her home. In fact, I'd woken up late the next morning after being exhausted the day before and almost had a heart attack when I realized she hadn't woken up. My first thoughts was she was dead but thankfully it was for a much less intense reason.

There was no sense in going back to bed as I would never fall asleep again thinking about the day to come. It was Sunday morning so forget the TV and I didn't want to get started with anything on the DVR. I thought about my short visit with Katlyn in the lady's room at church the previous week and her remark about now knowing anyone who masturbated as much as me. I chuckled, thinking to myself about how my mother use to say almost the same thing when I first started doing it.

I was eleven or so, closer to twelve I think, when I first touched myself in a way such that I deliberately tried to get myself off. I'd been on "journey of self-discovery" (my mom's wording) for a couple of years by then but that was much more driven by curiosity than anything sexual. Once my mom gave me a few pointers, including a demonstration on herself, I learned how to make myself cum and quickly became addicted. Since that day there haven't been many days that I haven't done it at least once, most multiple times. It has NOTHING to do with sex - I just enjoy masturbating myself. It isn't like one cancels out the other - if anything doing one just makes me want to do the other even more!

In the end I just ended up doing my bible study for my women's group at church. It wasn't often I had time to myself these days so it was relaxing and fulfilling as well. So engrossed was I in the material that suddenly I realized I was running later. Dang it! For once I had woken up in plenty of time yet here I was again rushing around to get ready. The plans were to leave straight from church to the lake, stopping only to hitch up the boat at the storage place so I had already laid out my clothes for the day last night. It wasn't like I needed much - just my swim suit, a few towels, the usual purse stuff and the like. Of course I couldn't wear a bikini to church, nor would my go-to short shorts and tank top be well received by the stuffy elders and old ladies. I'd had enough run-ins with them over the years as it was! Still, it was summer and dress codes were much more relaxed these days so I grabbed my favorite "Ben" football jersey which came down almost to my knees to throw over the shorts and tank top underneath. Pretty good compromise if you asked me.

Ready to go, I checked in again on everyone. Kylie was rolling around a bit but was probably good for another hour or two. Amazingly, Steve and Mia were in the just one way of doing this. Of course the number one gift I can give him is my body, to allow him to take me and enter me, to fill my empty pussy with his thick incestuous cock, to accept his ultimate gift as he release his love inside of me, flooding my pussy with his cum.

Indeed, that was exactly what he did not long afterwards. My shorts were at my ankles with my jersey pulled up as I bent forward over the kitchen counter and spread my legs apart for him. Quickly he was in me, penetrating me with no hesitation, thrusting his hard wet erection deep inside of me until I could feel the wooly thickness of his pubic hair against my smooth bottom.

"Oh daddy...," I moaned softly as he withdrew slowly until the tip of his dick was barely in me and then I cried out with pleasure as he thirst himself hard back inside of me, only to repeat this again and yet again.

"Fuck me daddy," I cried with pleasure, tears spilling down my cheeks as I felt my father's body joined with mine. How many times had I had this pleasure, this honor? Hundreds? More? It didn't matter as every time was like the first and I knew no matter how many more times he did it would never change.

My dad groaned as his orgasm grew. "I love you baby girl," he breathed heavily into my ear as his hands clutched my boobs under my jersey and over my tight tank top.

Instead of withdrawing and thrusting he jerked inside of me and I knew exactly what was happening. My father was cumming inside of me! He was mating me, taking his only daughter as his own! It was overwhelming to be loved and respected so intensely by the man who created me, the man who raised me and had given me everything - and continued to give me all he had within him.

"I could stay like this forever," he moaned as he held himself still inside of my throbbing pussy, "I love you Kelly."

"I love you too daddy," I somehow found the strength to reply.

We stayed like that for a while, our heartbeats slowing as his dick slowly dwindled inside of me until finally he withdrew. I could feel the war wetness of our cum as it quickly drained out of me once the plug had been removed from the dike.

"I'd better clean up a bit," I giggled as I reached for a dish towel. My aunt was always fussing at me for messing up the towels in the house when paper towels were always available but it felt better to have the soft cloth against me than stiff paper.

"Just once I'd love to watch you walk into church with a load running down your inner leg or maybe all over you face, just to see the look in old Mrs. Petersen's face!" my dad chuckled as he got himself back together while watching me wipe myself off.

"Daddy!" I scolded him, pretending to be shocked but secretly I would have loved to do it as well. Oh well, SOME fantasies just have to stay as fantasies.

"You know... you COULD leave those shorts and tank top off," my dad suggested, "Not like that jersey reveals anything."

It was tempting but then I knew better. It wasn't so much what the jersey revealed in terms of my body but more what it revealed about what else was underneath. Sort of like seeing a girl with no panty lines or bra straps. True, she wasn't actually showing anything but it was considered naughty all the same. Not seeing any bulges or lines under the jersey wouldn't show anyone my nudity but it WOULD tell them I was naked underneath which to some people was just as bad - especially the people in charge at our church.

"I promise to take them off right afterwards daddy."

The look on his face was priceless. I'm not so sure THAT was exactly what he was hoping I would be wearing once we left the restricted confines of the church.

We made it to church at the usual time - about half-way through the first chorus of the first hymn. I looked around to see if I could locate Katlyn and her family and just as we took our seats I finally caught a glimpse of them way on the other side. I almost laughed - she too was wearing a football jersey. I couldn't help but wonder what SHE was wearing under hers. Dang, I was feeling so old again! At 31 I was wearing shorts and a tank, worried about what people would say if I hadn't. Fifteen years ago when I was her age I wouldn't have worn anything if I could get past my mom that way - who cared what people said about you when you were an invincible teenager?

It seemed like we were caught in a time warp as ages went by before the final benediction. We met Katlyn and her family outside the church at the bottom of the steps. I noticed she had a beach bag with her - all set to go. Uncle Paul there with Aunt Julie along with my cousin Ginny, her husband Bill and Katlyn's younger brother Bill who about thirteen and a half or so.

"Ready to knock 'em dead bro?" Uncle Paul asked my dad, punching him playfully in the shoulder.

"I don't know how he talked Katlyn into going with you guys but I imagine you had something to do with it, eh Kelly?" my cousin asked me.

"I'm just thankfully you said yes Ginny," I replied, pretending to be unhappy with the planned events, "At least I'll have SOMEBODY to talk to while those two do their thing."

"Maybe you can convince them to let you guys do a little skiing?" Ginny suggested. Hmmmmmm, now THAT was a nice suggestion! I tried not to look too pleased with myself.

"I don't know," I said sullenly, shaking my head, "You know what it's like once they get started.

"Well jut behave yourselves out there," Ginny teased me, "All those hunks are going to be fishing for two girls."

We laughed and I gave her a hug. As cousins we'd never been especially close, nothing like I was with my cousin Kristen, but still family is family.

"Oh don't worry, I promise you none of them will lay a hand on her."

Of course I didn't say anything about the hands of her father or mine!

6. Lake Swap

It took over two hours by the time we got the boat and made it to the lake. The drive down was rather uneventful, unlike some other trips I'd made with my cousin Kristen. Maybe it was the age difference as after all, I wasn't all that much younger than her mother and the guys in the front seat were both old enough to be her grandfather - and one of them was! We'd quickly dropped the jerseys once in my dad's SUV where I was treated to the sight of Katlyn's new bikini. Wow, if the men in church had any idea what had been hiding under that jersey! If fact, I had to wonder if her parents knew either. It wasn't like she exactly wore conservative suits to start with but this one was definitely not for public pool consumption, at least not in the United States.

"Excuse me young lady," my dad called back checking us out in the rear view mirror as we drove, "Are you wearing anything? You know the rules, no nudity in the vehicle."

Katlyn and I both laughed as we both knew how absurd his statement was. At the same time it wasn't THAT much of a joke as in the mirror it probably WAS hard to tell she wasn't nude given the small area that the so-called bikini was hiding. It obviously wasn't her usual as the tan lines that were already forming were extremely obvious.

"You like it Aunt Kelly?" she asked as if she didn't already know the Answer from the looks I was giving her.

"How about for today we just call me Kelly, OK?" I offered. She just shrugged which I took as agreement although a few times on our trip down I had to remind her until it seemed she was comfortable with it.

I was still wearing the same shorts and my tank top, feeling totally overdressed in the presence of Katlyn's micro bikini. Even if I HAD mine on I still would have felt so as even though mine wasn't exactly conservative by any stretch of the imagination, it wasn't in the same league as her. Rather than draw comparisons I decided just to leave my shorts and tank on until we got on the boat.

We had to wait almost a half hour at the ramp to unload the boat, most of which Katlyn and I spent laying out on the bow of the boat flaunting ourselves to the men around us. I'd quickly changed once we'd arrived so now neither of us was hiding much of ourselves. My bikini was actually as similar in style to one my dad had bought me back when I was fifteen or so to wear on the boat or on our deck. He had labeled it "Kelly's slut bikini" for obvious reasons. I'd hunted everywhere for it, hoping he might notice and remember the style. Even so, I was a bit surprised when he did!

"Where did you dig up THAT old suit?" my dad teased me once as he passed by while pacing back and worth waiting our turn. I just grinned and didn't correct him. Like how would I EVER fit into a suit from back then even if I DID still have it after all these years? It's not like I've gained much weight but my boobs are considerable larger now after two kids and besides let's face it, I'm 31 - not 15, ok?? Deal with it.

Katlyn was in her element, drawing the eyes of everyone that passed. It didn't hurt that she was practically nude. From behind she was covering nothing with just some thin strings around her. Even from the front she all but spilled out of her top with every twist and turn and she was constantly fussing with the tiny bottom to keep it from pulling into her pussy crack and disappearing from sight altogether.

FINALLY we were in the water! As I stepped onto the boat, my uncle holding out his hand to steady me as I stepped off the pier, I noticed something missing though.

"Ummmmm daddy? Where's the fishing stuff?"

"Really Kelly?" he responded jokingly as he sat down and prepared to leave the docking area. OK, so it was a stupid question. Still, I thought they might at least pretend to be serious about it.

Katlyn and I took our seats in the bow seating area ahead of where my dad and his brother sat in the driver's seat and passenger spot. It was a perfect day with the sky clear and the sun shining brightly overhead. I looked around and saw lots of boats were taking advantage of the good weather and the holiday.

The first hour or so was pretty much your average day out on the lake as we took the time to get comfortable and let some of the initial awkwardness playout. Considering the men in the boat were 59 and 52 years old while the girls were 15 and 31, it was an interesting mix, one I'm sure wasn't lost on some of the folks cruising by us. I wondered if maybe they thought one of the men had married a younger girl (me) and then had a kid (Katlyn) while the other guy was maybe just a family friend or relative. I felt pretty confident that had a poll been taken that none of them would have guessed the truth. Really, this all sounded like something from some silly porn movie, not real life. But then who would have believed it in a movie? Just goes to show that life can be stranger than fiction sometimes.

The best part was that instead of having to deal with stinky fish, we got to go my favorite sporting activity - water ski! All my life I'd been pretty much a klutz when it comes to sports. Something about striking a ball with a stick just isn't in my DNA. My gym teacher even labelled me as the worst tennis player he'd ever seen! Any thoughts of sucking HIS dick went right out the window I can tell you that! For some reason water skiing works for me. I can't snow ski or ice skate but put me on a slalom ski and I'm an ace! Tammy hadn't near the opportunities as me to learn but she could at least get up on two skis and have fun.

These days you really stand out when you ski as most people are on boards or tubes. Few people it seems want to go through the years of practice it takes to be a good skier. I loved raising a huge rooster tail as we zoomed by some poor soul in a tube bouncing along. I LOVED to ski!

Another think I love about water skiing as compared to snow skiing, ice skating or similar activities is that you get to do it in a bikini. Unfortunately you also have to wear this cumbersome life vest which hides most of your top but that also means you can go without anything under it and nobody knows. As for the bottom, these days you can practically go bottomless and nobody seems to mind - as Katlyn was proving today.

It was mid-afternoon by now and as much as I would've loved to ski some more there were other things on my mind. After all, I hadn't planned on skiing for my Father's Day present. Until now things had been more or less innocent. A little grab-ass and groping but nothing serious. Katlyn and I were topless most of the time but then looking around it wasn't like we were the only ones. After my last run I kissed my dad and gave him a hug.

"Time?" was all I needed to ask as he knew exactly what I meant.

My dad looked over at his brother and his hands moved quickly to my ass, grabbing my all but bare bottom and squeezing both buttocks.

"What do you say Paul?" he said with a grin, "I think it's time we did some fishing."

We all knew he didn't mean getting out the rods and lures and when it came to bait, the only worms that would be involved were hanging between the guys' legs.

"Katlyn?" Uncle Paul asked in a surprisingly gentle tone. Then again, she WAS his granddaughter. He patted his lap with obvious intentions.

I looked at Katlyn who suddenly seemed a little unsure. I couldn't blame her. From personal experience I know it's easy to be the school slut where the guys are all your age or close and they practically bow at your feet. Aside for his age, Uncle Paul wasn't just any guy - he was her grandfather. Sure she'd fucked my husband and her uncle, but again I can vouch from my own experience that it isn't anything even close.

An idea popped into my head, one I'd maybe thought about before but never given it any real thought as it had never seemed feasible.

"Daddy, why don't you drive somewhere a little more private while me and Katlyn get ready."

My dad looked at me and I could tell he was dying to ask me to explain myself. Get ready? For what? Oh sure it would ultimately be to fuck her, THAT I'm sure he was confident that I would follow through for him. But I obviously had something else in mind and it was killing him with curiosity - not to mention the rapidly rising of his crotch.

Uncle Paul was likewise curious but he kept silent. Once thing I love about older men trained by years of marriage - they know when to keep their mouths shut!

"C'mon Katlyn, let's sit back here," I told her, reaching for her hand. She took it and followed me to the stern bench seat. With an inboard motor it allowed for an almost sunken living room in the back of the boat - perfect for my idea.

My dad revved up the motor and started moving towards the shore across the lake. This wasn't our first rodeo so to say and over the years we knew the lake well enough to have a good handle on where to go for our more private requirements. It would take a few minutes to get there, hopefully my dad wouldn't rush and give me the time I needed.

"I want you to close your eyes and forget about them, OK," I said into her ear over the noise of the engine. Again, we had an inboard so the noise level wasn't anything like my dad's older boats with the monster engine hanging off the back making any conversation impossible.

With her eyes closed I leaned over and kissed her. As my lips met hers she briefly opened her eyes but then shut them and pulled back a little.

"Just relax and enjoy," I encouraged her as pressed my mouth against hers again. This time she didn't pull back and as my lips parted, hers did as well. Soon our tongues were touching and I could feel the tension begin to fade as I hugged her. Without releasing our kiss, I reached in and pushed her top off her boobs - not exactly a difficult task as it took a lot more work keeping it ON them than off. Mmmmmmm, they felt wonderful, nice firm B cups I estimated. I'm pretty fortunate in that my boobs haven't sagged much with age but I'd be fooling myself to compare them to Katlyn's. Feeling hers, I could remember how it felt to touch mine when I was half my current age. Her nipples were a little larger than mine and when they got nice and hard as they were now they really poked out.

"You can touch mine too," I said, parting my lips from hers just enough to speak and then resuming our kiss. I was rewarded with the caress of her hand on me, fumbling at first with my bikini top and then pulling it up and over my boobs.

Sadly I was sort of on the clock so I pressed things along quickly, pushing a little more until I felt her resist, backing off slightly and then pressing forward again. Each time it was like she felt compelled to push back but on the second attempt she always allowed me to continue. Before too long I had her on her back on the bench seat, one leg draped over the top with the other balancing her on the deck while I was eating out her pussy. It wasn't like it was our first time but then again it wasn't our tenth either and never with her grandfather and uncle watching - my dad as best he could without ramming somebody!

It had been a while since I'd tasted someone else's pussy. I've always found it a little contradictory that while I LOVE the taste and smell of my own, when it comes to another girl it's not such a big thing for me. When I first started masturbating as a tween I was always licking my fingers, driving my mom nuts when I didn't wash my hands afterwards. So while Katlyn's pussy was OK - not counting a bit of lake water mixing in its own flavor, I was far more interested in looking up at her as I licked her, come in her was almost unheard of and I certainly couldn't remember a time recently when he had. I wondered if Katlyn had any idea how much my father craved fucking her? Oh sure she knew he wanted her - didn't every man? But did she know just how special she was to him? Maybe later we'd need to have a little talk about how to better show her appreciation...

Without a moment's hesitation my dad buried himself in Katlyn's freshly fucked pussy - quite an easy feat given how wet she was being drenched with his brother's sperm. Oh sure she might be tight but nobody's pussy is THAT tight! It only took maybe thirty seconds at most before his cum was mixing with his brother's. OK, so technically he was filling her with unleaded while my uncle was premium grade, but for all practical purposes there was no difference just because my dad was shooting blanks.

"That... was... incredible!" my dad groaned after he had cum.

"Yeah, that's one hell of a tight pussy," his older brother agreed.

Meanwhile there was Kelly standing there all alone and empty while my niece lay there content with two loads of incestuous cum draining from her... oh well, just another sign of getting older when you weren't the young teenager getting all the attention - and the cum.

It was getting later and we still had a long trip back home so now that both of them were running on empty it was time to head back. Their lust now satisfied, my dad and uncle quickly slipped on their shorts and T-shirts and got the boat ready to go, leaving Katlyn and me all alone in the rear. Men can be so weird right after they cum, like all their horniness drains out of them with their sperm. I sat down on the bench seat next to her head and ran the backs of my fingers lightly along her smooth cheeks and forehead, remarkably free of any blemishes that plague most girls her age. Her skin was so soft and I loved the feel of her nakedness against mine. My eyes took in her beautiful nude body so deliciously laid out before me. Oh to be sweet sixteen again!

"You were incredible," I told her, "I'm so proud of you."

Katlyn twisted onto her side and rubbed her crotch a little like it itched. Probably all that cum in her now draining out that was making her feel that way. Two loads in quick succession tend to do that! Maybe "itch" wasn't the right word but in any case it just made you want to rub it and rub it!

"Ummmmm... 'proud' of me?" she asked with a wry look, "For what... being a little fuck toy?"

Not exactly the response I'd been expecting.

"Oh no Katlyn, don't let all that fool you. You're so much more than that to both of them," I assured her, "MUCH more... I mean you're his oldest granddaughter for goodness sakes."

Katlyn sat up now and watched the activity ahead of us as she mused, " I guess not many grandfathers fuck their granddaughters like this, do they?"

The way she said "like this", emphasizing the two words, gave me more of a clue where she was coming from.

"I think the real question is more how many grandfathers WISHED they could fuck their teenage granddaughter like this," I replied with the same emphasis on the last two words.

I wanted to explore this more with her, to ensure she was OK with everything, but then Uncle Paul was back with us.

"We're ready... maybe you two should be thinking about put something on?"

I reached for my bikini but Katlyn had other ideas apparently.

"No, I don't think so," she said defiantly. "In fact, I don't plan to put ANYTHING on until we get home." Then she looked at me as if expecting me to back her up. What could I say?

Her grandfather looked a bit out of whack, like he didn't know what to do next. Then HE looked at me like he expected me to back HIM up.

"Hey, sounds like a plan to me," I responded on the spur of the moment. Just HOW we would do that I wasn't sure but then it wasn't like out bikinis hid all that much to start.

Actually it wasn't all that difficult to pull off with the large beach towels we'd brought. Out on the lake we just went nude until we got close to the marina where we wrapped the giant towels around us. Well, maybe not so "giant" as I quickly found that the towels weren't nearly as large as I'd thought - no wonder they'd been on sale! Still, they were just enough to cover what had to be covered although I think we got a few stares along the way.

The ride home was sort of anticlimactic. I'd thought as we rode across the lake that maybe this time we'd split up with boy-girl in the front and back seats but nope, men in front and girls in the back again. It was probably best as Katlyn was still acting a little weird at times. Oh well, she WAS a hormonal sixteen year-old so no telling what was going through her pretty little head.

In some ways it was a little surreal if anything. Anyone spying on us would have no idea what had transpired just hours earlier listening in on our conversations. Not a word was said about anything we'd done, at least from a sexual perspective. Oh lots about water skiing but even then nothing about us being topless and all but bottomless as well as we were in full display of everyone out on the lake. Maybe a few questions may have come up if it was a web cam as to why the two women in back seat were naked but nobody could see us anyways so what was the big deal?

After we exited the highway and drew close to home we got dressed (more or less, "dressed" can be a relative term) in the back seat. I had to admit it felt sort of good to ride home naked - we hadn't bothered with the towels other than to spread them out on the seat. The windows in the SUV were tinted so it wasn't like we were putting on a show for anyone. Unnecessary nudity wasn't ever really my thing and if we weren't going to show off for people driving by then my usual response would have been why get naked? If it hadn't been for Katlyn insisting on doing so I probably wouldn't have but it worked out for the best.

My cousin was waiting as we pulled in, coming down the sidewalk as we drew near. Then I remembered Katlyn's cell phone - had Ginny been tracking us using a phone finder app? I'll have to remember to check on that next time - if there WAS a next time. Oh well, if so it didn't matter this time as we went exactly where we'd said we would - even if we hadn't DONE any of what we'd said we would.

Katlyn's father appeared shortly from the garage and joined Ginny as they welcomed home their daughter. Seeing her parents give her a hug I wondered what they would've said had they any clue at all what she'd been doing since they last saw her in church? Well, maybe the idea of her having sex wouldn't be terribly shocking although I know many parents who like to live in a world of denial, but had they know it was her own father and his brother that were responsible for the remnants of sperm in their daughter's pussy... well THAT might have been a different story entirely.

Katlyn ran off to her room as soon as she'd said hello to her parents without so much as a goodbye or thank you to her grandfather and my dad. Hmmmmmm, yes, I definitely needed to have a talk with that girl!

7. My Father's Gratitude Expressed

It wasn't that long a trip back to my apartment alone now with my dad. For the first time we discussed the day's events. I was thrilled that he seemed so pleased with my "gift" for this special day.

"So what do you think Kelly, do you think she'd be up for something like this again?"

As much as I wanted to make him feel good by saying something like, "Oh yeah daddy, she can't wait to fuck you both again," I knew that would be a lie and just raise false hopes so better to be honest and up front.

"You know daddy, I don't think so. Maybe if her own dad was involved but I think it's just a little too much for her with it being her grandfather and you. Heck, even Steve seems too old for her!"

"Yeah, I wish there was some way we could get Ginny and Bill on board. You know I've always had an eye on Ginny and Laura."

Like I didn't know THAT, LOL.

"Ginny seems pretty open to most things," I mused, "I mean she lets Katlyn get away with murder and even allowed her to get on the pill."

"True," my dad agreed, "but I just don't see it happening now that they're so old."

"Well Laura is only two years younger than me daddy!" I teased him.

He reached over and playfully rubbed between my open legs. "Don't get so upset... you'll always be my baby girl."

"I don't know daddy... you seemed happier with Katlyn today than me," I pretended to pout.

"Well what else did you expect?" he answered defensively, "After all, YOU were the one who set things up."

"So do you want me daddy? Do I turn you on?"

"Oh baby girl, you know I do," he assured me with a smile, "You know there's nobody in the world I'd rather fuck than you."

I pulled away and crossed my arms. "Prove it then daddy... easy to say."

My dad chuckled. "Same ol' Kelly... alright, soon as we get back."

This time it was my turn to be defiant. "No daddy, fuck me right now!"

My dad shook his head and smiled, "I'm driving silly!"

"Then pull over... the rest area is right ahead. Fuck me NOW daddy!"

Indeed it was fortunate that the last rest area was just before our exit and another minute and we'd been past it. It was only five minutes from there to home but I wanted to prove a point.

I've often said this but I think it bears repeating... I don't need to have sex with my dad to know he loves me. I have sex with my dad BECAUSE he loves me. So was the case now. I wasn't overly horny, at least no more than usual, so it wasn't like I NEEDED sex. Even if that was the case I had a perfectly willing husband waiting for me at home who would be more than happy to help me out in dealing with such needs. Other than back as a teen when it seemed I just couldn't get enough of it no matter how often I did, I can't say I've ever gone to my dad because I needed him to satisfy me, at least in a physical sense. Usually it's because HE wants me but there are times when he can give me what nobody else can - his love and respect.

Such it was now as I laid out on the back seat of the SUV after stripping off what little clothes I had on. My dad closed the door behind him and dropped his shorts, his erection popping out like a Jack-In-the-Box.

"Love me daddy," I murmured softly to him as I reached out to him. Indeed, that's what I wanted from him... to love me not just fuck me. Not love in a romantic sense - we'd NEVER gone down that road, not even in a roleplay sense as it was just too creepy and weird for me to even imagine taking my father as a lover. No, what I wanted from him was the unique love of a father for his daughter.

My eyes were closed as my father entered me. I heard a gasp and realize it was from me as he pushed himself deep inside of me and then just stopped, holding himself in me as we both relished this moment.

"I love you Kelly," he whispered in my ear as I felt his hips gently move just enough for me to feel his dick do the same inside of me.

"I love you too daddy.... so much!"

He gradually began to fuck me a little harder and then a little more. We kissed as I just lay there letting him take me as his, surrendering myself totally to him to do with me whatever he desired. Honor your father we're told and what more could I do to honor him than what I was doing at this very moment?

I heard a sound outside the door as some people parked right next to us. Sheesh! An entire parking lot and they had to pick the one spot right next to us. I wanted to roll down the window and shout out, "Hey, my daddy's fucking me so go away and leave us alone!" but of course that would have been ridiculous to say the least. Besides, it wasn't like they were bothering us or trying to peer in through the tinted glass. Not that I would have cared if they had!

My dad didn't even seem to notice, or at least if he did he wasn't allowing it to interrupt things, as he just kept thrusting himself into me over and over - not fast but slowly and deliberately. Each time he bottomed out he would hold himself still for a few moments which let me focus on the incredible sensations created when my pussy was stretched out and rubbed in the most wonderful ways. The thing is though it wasn't just his dick that was making me feel good, it was the fact that it WAS his dick in me that did the trick for me.

"You want it?" he asked me, looking me in the eyes with that intense gaze whenever he was in that world men do as they are about to get off.

I knew what "it" was - his orgasm, and of course I did!

"Fuck me daddy...give it to me now... give me your love... I want it all inside of me!"

My legs pulled him in tightly as his hips jerked and somehow he drove even himself further into me just as he released.

"Oh god I'm cumming so hard!" he winced, trying not to be TOO loud with the people right outside.

It had been a few hours now since he'd fucked Katlyn, plenty of time to reload and he gave it all to me. Dropping to his elbows after he'd finished, we kissed for a while as he stayed in me.

"Oh my baby girl... I love fucking you more than anyone else in the world," he finally told me.

I just kissed him again in response, too worked up to say anything. THIS was what I really wanted from my daddy on Father's Day! In some ways it was almost better right now with his cum filling me as it was held back from spilling out by his dick resting in me. We didn't say a word as we held each other and kissed gently, remaining joined together in an intimate father-daughter bond.

**************

When I finally arrived home I let myself in and the apartment was as silent as a morgue. Hmmmmmm, where was Steve and the girls? It was too early for them to be in bed.

Checking the girl's bedroom, it was empty. Then I got to ours and sure enough, there they were, daddy and his girls.

From the looks of things, and I'd have to confirm it later when they all woke up, Steve had been helping himself to his own version of Father's Day! Oh for sure nothing at all like what my dad had received from me but a foretaste perhaps of things to come maybe by 2020? I will say I was proud of my hubby though for respecting me enough to honor my wishes when it comes to our own daughters. Maybe in six more years or so though.... who know?

(Jul 17) Chapter 284: The Love Boat Cruise

Story codes: MF FF oral voy adultery
Me (31)
Steve - my husband (33)
Greg (40) & Amelia (38)

Other than my dad's ski boat I'd never been on any sort of cruise so when we were invited by some people from our swapping group I was SO excited. To top it off my dad even paid for everything as an early anniversary gift! We planned to pretend to be honeymooners with the only "catch" being our spouse wouldn't be the one listed on our marriage certificates!

1. Swapping Fun

There was a time not THAT long ago when I would've told you I would never cheat on my husband. Of course that was before I was married to Steve when my mother's influence was heaviest on my principles and ethics. My mom is sort of old-school in many ways and when it comes to adultery it's pretty black and white so far as she's concerned. According to her rule book, which she drilled into me all my life, once you put on that ring you don't have sex with anyone outside your marriage... period, end of story.

Granted, my mother isn't a classic conservative in that while she draws strict lines and rules, it's the fine print that you need to read. For instance, "sex" is defined as the intimate union of a man and woman penetration meaning the penetration of a penis into a vagina. This leaves a lot of openings. For example, what most people like to call oral "sex" isn't really true sex in that there's no union involved.

The other key factor element is when she says, "outside your marriage". According to mom, when you marry someone you marry more than just a man, you marry his whole family including parents, siblings, aunt and uncles, and first cousins - all on both sides of the family tree. Thus adultery would be having sex with anyone outside that circle. In short, incest is not adultery. The basis for this is my mom views adultery as the blending of a family, a demonstration of mutual love and respect, and above all compliance with the Bible's requirements for submission of a wife and honor to your parents.

Thus when people ask me if my parents swapped and such I've always said no as swapping with another couple would have been adultery so far as my mother is concerned. Another example she set for me regarding my fianc,. My mother always wished she could've had another child, a son if she had any choice in the matter. For medical reasons this wasn't possible so when I was engaged she was thrilled as this meant once I was married Steve would become part of the family and hence the son she never had. As much as she dreamed of being with her new son, she never allowed herself to get carried away prior to the wedding. It wasn't until we said our vows that my mom's dream of a son to fuck her finally came true!

Naturally when you grow up having all this drilled into you it becomes part of your moral code as well. Thus my intentions were when I married Steve that I would follow my mother's example. So imagine the problem I faced when my husband declared his desire for us to have sex with other couples. He would have preferred swinging but at least was willing to compromise most of the time and just swap.

Before I go on I suppose I should explain what I mean by "swap". People tend to use the term interchangeably with "swinging" but to me there are important differences. Swinging usually involves parties with multiple couples who may or may not be married. It's usually rather voyeuristic in that people have sex in groups or at least in view of others. Intimacy is NOT an attribute of these parties and often I would get home and not even know the names of most of the men I'd had sex with.

In contrast, when I use the phrase "swapping" I refer to the exchange of partners between married couples. While this may involve a brief period where all four are together, it soon moves to where the couples separate for the night and I spend the evening (and usually the entire night) in bed with another married man while my husband is in another room or home with his wife. Yes, I know his name and it's much more personal and intimate, almost like I become his wife for a short while.

So how did I deal with this dilemma? I had only a few options. First, I would have had to divorce Steve if I could not find some way to deal with the adultery aspect. If there was one thing I will not and never will is compromise on it's the issue of adultery. The commandments say thou shalt not and so I will not. If there's one thing the women in my family share it's the determination to NOT compromise on principles and responsibilities. My Aunt Linda was forced to divorce her husband when he told her she either had to stop submitting to her father or leave. There's no way she could stop fulfilling her responsibilities as a daughter so she left! My own mother feels so strongly about underage sex (although as with adultery, incest didn't count) that she was forced to divorce my dad when he couldn't find the willpower to resist.

Well, I wasn't about to divorce Steve if there was any way possible to submit to him so I prayed and received my answer. The scriptures don't provide a lot of guidance on what adultery is in every case so until now I'd been following the lead of my mother. The more I read my Bible and prayed the more I came to the realization her interpretation was a little excessive. It seemed to me that the commandment meant was not to cheat on your husband, that it was the intent more than the act that mattered. So long as my husband was OK with me having sex with other men I wouldn't be cheating on him and thus wouldn't be committing adultery.

Problem solved!

Well, the problem was solved so far as my principles went but then there were the practical issues, the biggest by far being WHO do you swap with?

Believe it or not, it's not that easy finding couples with the same attitudes and compatibility. Fortunately my Aunt Linda had the perfect answer - a swapping group. She'd been a member for over twenty years and was now serving as president so it was easier for us than most people to get an invitation to join and eventual acceptance. The group actually has two parts - one for swapping and the other for families. The family group was what got my dad in trouble with my mom and I wanted no part of it. On the other hand the swapping group is strictly for married couples and even if they have kids there was no involvement by them. I've discussed this group in other diary entries and even in the About Me portion of my diary blog so I won't repeat myself here other than to say it provides us with a safe and confidential means to meet like-minded couples.

As it turned out I LOVE swapping! I think it's helped our marriage immeasurably as a means to go out for a night of fun, bringing a renewed energy to our marriage life. There's no commitments and in most cases we never meet with them again so it's always something new which makes it exciting for me. Over time Steve pushed to become members of the family group as well and even though we didn't meet the requirements (no kids of the right age) my aunt was able to pull some strings to get us in. So now we're both satisfied. I get to swap with another it was they were sharing. Seemed a little rude to be whispering with Steve and I there but then I learned the reason.

"Last night Kelly told me she'd never been on cruise before," he started. Steve looked at me rather incredulously, as if to question why in the world THAT would have come up while having sex.

Greg took Amelia's hand and sat back with a smile. "Well this summer we're taking an Alaskan cruise and we had hoped that another couple could join us. Interested?"

I looked at Steve and my heart raced. Wow! That would be so cool!

Before we could answer, Greg continued, "Well.... there's a catch..."

Of course there was. It couldn't possibly be THAT easy. OMG, was he going to try selling us something like a timeshare?

Greg must have read my face as he put his hand up defensively. "Oh don't worry, nothing I don't think a couple like yourselves wouldn't mind. We were just hoping that we could swap for the entire cruise."

Amelia stepped in. "What my husband is trying to say is that we'd go as married couples, just not as real husbands and wives. Nobody would know but us."

Neither Steve or I said anything at first. It was an intriguing idea but I'd never even thought of anything like this. So many questions and things to consider. We'd never swapped longer than one night and almost never multiple nights with the same couple. How would this work in terms of reservations and such? What about our kids? And then the BIG question... how to pay for such an expensive venture?

Just then Mia joined us in her nightshirt, carrying her favorite Frozen doll. She immediately made herself home on her daddy's lap. I watched Greg closely, curious to see his reaction to my cute little four year-old daughter. Other than a quick glance though, I didn't see any undue interest which made me feel a little better about him.

For the next half hour or so those questions and many more came out and we had quite a lively discussion. While the plane tickets required photo identifications, according to Greg there was nothing so far as the cruise went where anyone would ask for identification where it mattered. Having never been on a ship, I had to take his word for it.

As for the kids, theirs would be spending the week at their grandparent's farm while I had no doubt that I could find someone in our family to tend to our girls. Again, I was pleased that there was no suggestion of our kids joining us although no doubt Steve had hoped for a miracle.

As for the expense, that was the only thing we left open. Obviously Greg brought home a nice paycheck to afford such things but there was no way we had the funds. Sounded like a job for Kelly to see what she could talk her father into doing for his daughter!

As it turned out, the finances were probably the easiest problem to overcome. It wasn't like over the years I hadn't worked out a foolproof formula for such situations. My dad had never been able to refuse me when he was horny so why should this be any different? When I left his house a few days later I carried two things I hadn't had when I arrived - my pussy with a full load of his love and my purse with a VERY nice check as an advanced anniversary present. Who knows what else would happen but at least we wouldn't be worried about money.

3. The Flight

Wow, I never realized how much planning went into a cruise! My biggest problem was what to wear. I guess whenever I'd thought about a cruise I assumed it would be somewhere warm like the Caribbean where packing would have been easy. Not so for the inside passage. Everything I read said be prepared for anything - warm days, cool days, rainy days, dry days. There was even something called "formal nights" when apparently people dressed up like some Titanic scene for dinner. Amelia warned me that laundry was outrageously expensive which meant packing outfits for every day. Steve didn't see any issue but then IU think he'd wear the same clothes every day for a week if I didn't gran them for the laundry.

While we kept in contact for making plans and reservations, otherwise we didn't meet with Greg and Amelia before departure. We figured since we would be posing as newlyweds (my idea!) we may as well wait until the cruise to consummate our "marriages". OK, so we had some "premarital sex" but that was now long in the past.

Finally the morning came to leave. My Aunt Linda drove us to the airport to save us the parking fees and such. She was so jealous!

"I've been trying to talk your dad into taking one of these for years!" she huffed as we approached the airport.

At the curb Steve grumbled something about packing for a month as he unloaded our bags. Well, technically most of them were mine. I gave my Aunt a kiss goodbye and thanked her or the ride. She was just wearing a bath robe as it was only 4:00 AM and no doubt she'd be shedding it as a soon as she got home and back to bed.

It was Steve's turn to kiss and say goodbye but in his case I noted he reached in and grabbed a handful of boob as he kissed her. Sheesh, what a guy. I mean like he hadn't even bothered to look around to see if anyone was watching! This early the airport already busy but everyone seemed too consumed with their own stuff than to worry about my perpetually horny husband.

"Really?" I sighed as he finally broke free and she drove away.

Steve just smiled. "You're just jealous. Besides, who wears just a bathrobe to the airport unless they're looking to get felt up?"

I just shook my head in mock disbelief. Spoken like a true guy alright.

Next thing I knew we were checking in. Poor Steve grumbled the entire time about my bags but then what are men for? At least he wouldn't have to worry about them the rest of the way now that they were checked in.

We'd agreed to meet Greg and Amelia at the gate as you never know how security is going to be so may as well deal with it as soon as possible. Somehow or another we'd been chosen for TSA PreCheck which helped avoid part of the crowd.

Boarding the tram to the terminal area, I was a little disappointed at how full it was. I nudged Steve asking him if he remembered our last trip.

"Wanna try now?" was his response. So typical!

"Yeah right," I sighed, elbowing him just a bit, "Like we need to get arrested the day before our once-in-a-lifetime cruise." It was one thing to blow your husband on an empty tram, quite another when it was filled with travelers!

McDonald's was open for breakfast, big surprise, so with over an hour before our boarding time we stopped in for some breakfast. My phone buzzed and I saw a text from Amelia, saying they were just arriving at the airport. If our recent experience was any indication, we had at least a half hour before they'd be joining us.

"Well, I suppose once they're hear things get started," Steve mused.

Suddenly it was like reality came rushing in. This wasn't just a fantasy anymore. It wasn't something we teased and joked about. No, this was about to be REAL! In just thirty minutes or so I'd take on the role of being the wife of another man and Steve would be her husband. We'd agreed that while we would interact as friends, during our vacation we'd be regular newlyweds with no swapping or fucking other people. Heck, it was going to be more restrictive than our actual honeymoon!

"I love you Steve," I told him reaching out hold his hand mine, my wedding ring glittering in the harsh lights. "You know that, right?"

Steve got this funny expression like he wasn't sure what I meant. Oh he knew I loved him but he also knew when I said things like this there was usually something else going on underneath in secret girl code.

"Of course I do Kelly. And you know I love you."

He was playing it so safe I almost laughed. Then I looked around and then at my watch again.

"You know we have 25 to 30 minutes..." I let my voice die off suggestively.

"Hey, I'm game if you are," Steve reacted instantly.

It wasn't our first trip to the airport so we pretty much knew the layout which included the family restrooms. The men's and women's were way too busy to try anything too crazy but the family ones were always fair game. I grabbed my purse and led the way...

Thankfully it was early and the room was still decent from the overnight cleaning crew's efforts. Steve locked the door and I bent my knees to crouch down and undo his jeans. Yeah, the floors LOOKED clean but it was still a public restroom so no way was I getting on my knees!

"Oh yeah, gonna miss this!" Steve moaned as I started to suck on his already stiffening cock. Not like he wouldn't be getting it from Amelia but then I like to think I'm pretty good at this, probably better than her but then you can't always trust first impressions.

Twenty minutes later I was pulling up my shorts and pulling down my cami as Steve zipped up his jeans. My mouth felt a little slimy with his cum still fresh in it while my pussy tingled with the memory of my husband's dick inside.

"Better wipe your face off," Steve teased me, "We don't want Greg to get any wrong impressions about his new wife!"

Frankly that was exactly the impression I wanted him to have but then after giving it a second thought I figured maybe it would be better to start out slow.

"Why not lick it off my face?" I offered innocently to Steve.

"Oh my god," Steve mumbled with disgust. Yep, I know how to push his buttons. Steve can sometimes be easier than shooting fish in a barrel. If there's one thing I never have to worry about my husband is him leaving me for another man!

My estimate must have been off or the security lines had gotten smaller because Greg and Amelia were waiting for us at the gate. The first thing I noticed was her outfit. Well, it may have been the first thing I noticed but it would have been the LAST thing anyone else did. She looked like any other typical soccer mom on vacation just without the two kids and a dog in tow. White capris, flat sandals, an opaque white blouse (bra straps evident through the material) and hair pulled back into a bun wasn't exactly what I think Steve had been expecting.

Meanwhile, judging from the once-over I was getting from BOTH of them, it was obvious they were thinking along the same lines only in their minds in that I wasn't wearing what they'd expected - only from the opposite end of the spectrum. It wasn't like I was dressed slutty, just nobody would have hopefully looked at me and seen a dowdy mother of two! White denim shorts (not TOO short but enough to show off my legs well enough to catch the eyes of the guys we'd passed in the terminal), pink thong pulled up to show when I bent over, matching pink cami with spaghetti straps and bare midriff, no bra, hair in a ponytail and yes... three inch white heels. Nothing to win me Slut of the Year awards by any means but enough to catch my new husband's attention.

We greeted and hugged, a few comments on the long lines and what a pain TSA can be, and then we took seat to wait for our flight to board. Instinctively I sat next to Steve across from Greg and Amelia.

"Well, now that we're all here maybe it's time we got things started off on the right foot?" Greg suggested, nodding at me.

Ooops! Already I could see this wasn't going to be as easy as I'd thought! My every instinct was to be with Steve so it was going to take a conscious effort to pretend not to be his wife for an entire week. Looking at Steve and biting my lower lip, I stood up along with Amelia and we quickly exchanged seats. Greg immediately reached over put his hand on my bare upper thigh, giving it a squeeze.

"That's better honey," he said to me, "I'm looking so forward to our honeymoon together."

Meanwhile Steve and Amelia held hands. It was a little awkward for all of us at first, especially it seemed Amelia who kept stealing glances over at her real husband.

The gate attendant starting into her routine and we stood up with the rest of the waiting passengers. Greg handed Amelia her ticket and asked me if I had mine. Holding up my phone I smiled. Like who prints anything anymore?

As we waited to board Greg planted his hand over my butt. Hmmmmmm, he wasn't wasting any time! Not that I minded of course, just an observation. Steve, not to be outdone, did the same with Amelia. Was that a slight pull away I noticed? Maybe I was just imagining things as Amelia moved up closer to Steve.

Although my official seat assignment was next to Steve, I sat in the seat next to Greg where Amelia should have been. As nobody actually checks those, unless there was a seat mix-up it wouldn't be an issue. Steve had signed up for "comfort" seating and was in the second row behind First Class. Evidently Greg didn't have a father paying his way so we had just regular coach seats about two thirds of the way back where I couldn't even see Steve. Well, I was now officially "married" to Greg so technically it didn't matter although I still would have liked to keep an eye on the two of them.

I had the window seat while Greg was in the middle, at least at first. Fortunately the flight wasn't packed and so when nobody claimed the aisle seat Greg moved over. Not exactly an auspicious start to our honeymoon! Then again, I don't think Greg was quite as into the whole honeymoon thing as I was (I LOVE weddings!) so I figured he just acted out of instinct. Like who stays in a middle seat if they don't have to?

It was just starting to get light out as I looked out the window. Dang, I was freezing! I reached up to turn off the air blowing down on me but that only helped a little. Greg checked to see if any blankets were available but apparently for those of us in Cattle Class that was another cost savings measure.

Finally a flight attendant walked past and Greg asked for a blanket. She took one look at me and raised her eyebrows but didn't say anything. She returned with one of those ultra-thin airline blankets but at least it covered my bare legs. It was a long flight so once we were in the air I laid my seat back and pulled the blanket over to cover my bare shoulders as best I could. Why do they keep these things so cold?

Having woken up at 2:00 AM I was tired so I closed my eyes to get some rest. It was going to be a long day with the time zone changes so best to grab some sleep while I could. Well, THAT wasn't to be as it seemed just as I was started to fall asleep Greg decided to behave more like a newlywed and moved over, raising the arm between us. I could feel his hand on my thigh again under the blanket only this time it was right up to my shorts. What the heck, why not get things started on the right foot?

I placed my hand over his but on top of the blanket and gently pulled it higher up onto my thigh. Greg quickly took the hint and moved it even further until he was gripping my inner thigh with the side of his hand pressing into my crotch - the only warm spot on my body at the time! I spread my legs a little further apart to allow his hand to fit in better. His fingers felt so good rubbing against the bare skin of my inner thigh!

"Want more?" I whispered. Greg just grinned and so I pulled the blanket up over me a little more secure and put my arms underneath which wasn't entirely for his benefit - I was still feeling chilly. My shorts were buttoned on top but not for much longer as I quickly undid them and then put my hands up to my chest to keep them out of the way. I closed my eyes, pretending to be asleep as I waited to see what Greg's next move would be.

I didn't have to wait long as the hand on my leg moved up and rested on my bare belly. His hand lay flat on my stomach, moving ever so slightly. With the arm rest up and the blanket over me, I doubted that anyone walking by would even notice. Then slowly, ever so slowly, he started to work his way under my shorts until his fingertips encountered my thong.

"I thought you said you never wore underwear," he whispered to me, barely audible over the hum of the engines even with his face up close to mine.

I kept my eyes closed and just smiled slightly to let him know I heard him but other than that he could read into that smile whatever he wanted. Had I planned on sitting next to my husband I wouldn't be wearing any as Steve hated having to work around panties or thongs. Since I knew I'd be next to another man I figured why not give him a little more to deal with?

It was almost like being on a date back in high school when a boy would want to feel me up in a movie theater yet was worried I'd object so he would take forever to get anywhere. It was funny back then as I never stopped them or even hinted they should yet it might be 3/4 of the way through the movie before they even got their hands on my boobs! Greg was no high school boy so I assumed he was more concerned on someone seeing us than worries I'd object. I mean like he'd fucked me just a few months ago so not like this was new territory for him.

A shiver unrelated to the cabin temperature ran through me as his fingertip moved over my clit. A deep breath escaped as I'd been holding it back for what seemed like forever as he drew close. Mmmmmmm, it felt good to feel him rubbing me. It was even better being rubbed on the plane!

My shorts were so tight he was having a difficult time working his finger into me so I put my arms down and grabbed them by the sides, working them down enough so my crotch was freed yet not so far I couldn't easily hide the fact I was for all intents and purposes bottomless on my seat. Not having flown much this was all new for me and while I'd often fantasized about what I'd do in such a situation, the reality was much more erotic. Just then the attendant came by and asked if we wanted anything to drink. I have to hand it to Greg, he handled it like a pro!

"Sure, just a moment," I heard him answer as I kept my eyes closed feigning sleep, "My wife's out so just a water for me please."

Keeping his right hand under the blanket, I could hear Greg use his free hand to lower the tray table in front of him and then he must have taken the glass of water from her and set it down. Keeping his hand in my shorts was probably the smartest move as had he jumped and pulled it out quickly at best he would have appeared guilty and at worst the blanket may have pulled off revealing me with my shorts pulled down!

With that distraction out of the way, I felt his finger pushing down my now wet pussy slit until the tip pressed just slightly inside of me, the palm of his hand now applying pressure over my clit area as he mini-fucked me with his finger. It was too slow to get me off enough to ever orgasm but I loved the sensations it created. One advantage of being a girl - you don't have to orgasm to be satisfied!!

How long this went on I have no idea but I enjoyed it while it lasted. Sometimes just being fondled and groped can be just as erotic as being fucked depending on where you're at. Just being touched isn't necessarily what gets me off. It's WHO is touching me, WHEN he's touching me and WHERE we are when he touches me that determines the response my body returns. It just proves the truth of my old adage about sex being 80% mental.

Finally Greg must have had enough as he pulled his hand out from my crotch. Before he could do anything though I reached out from under the blanket and took his hand, pulling it up to my mouth where I sucked on his finger. Oh yeah, I tasted GOOD!

With that I opened my eyes and smiled at Greg. Then came the toughest part - getting those dang shorts back on again! When I put them on this morning I had the benefit of lying flat on the bed and lifting my hips as I tugged them on. Well, it wasn't easy then and it was REALLY not easy now, especially while trying to keep that flimsy blanket over me.

Finally I had them more or less back in place when I was rudely reminded why I hate thongs. It was hard enough just getting the shorts up but now the thong was all in the wrong places and sitting in this cramped seat was making it impossible to get it right.

"I need to use the restroom," I said softly to Greg. He grinned and I knew what he was probably thinking - I wanted to go finish myself. Actually that wasn't a bad idea but my number one priority was getting that damn thong pulled out from my pussy slit and butt crack.

I made my way to the back of the plane where the flight attendants were doing whatever it is flight attendants do. Of course both restrooms were occupied so I had to stand there with my arms folded and wait. I could see both the attendants looking at me but they didn't say a word. I guess they must teach discretion in flight attendant school.

It only took a few minutes to get myself in order once I was finally able to lock myself in the tiny cubicle. Checking myself in the mirror, it was plain to see how chilly it was as my nipples were in full erection mode, poking through my thin cami like it wasn't there. Oh well, so what?

Making my way back to my seat, Greg was phasing out so I carefully worked my way over him and dropped back down onto the seat cushion. Pulling the blanket back over me, I turned on my side and didn't wake up again until the flight attendant was fussing over my seat back not being in the full and upright landing position.

After landing, we finally got off an joined Steve and Amelia where we made our way to Customs. On the way I managed to pull up next to Steve.

"Well, have a nice flight?" I asked.

Steve just rolled his eyes which told me things either hadn't gone well or maybe things just hadn't gone in the first place. Oh well, we had a week on the ship to get things rolling.

As we worked our way through the never ending line at Canadian Customs, I found myself thinking a little more about Greg and Amelia. I guess we'd just assumed that since they swapped they'd be a little more obvious about the objective of the cruise, well at least what I THOUGHT the objective was. For me it was more than just changing beds with another woman which is why I suggested the honeymoon ruse to provide an excuse for a little misbehaving on board. Everyone expects newlyweds to be at each other all the time so even if we pushed those boundaries a little at least there would be a plausible excuse to fall back on. My fault I guess for thinking things would start off with a bang. Oh well, it's not like Greg and Amelia were TOO conservative or they never would have swapped with us in the first place.

4. Vancouver Surprise

Other than a quick visit to the Canadian side of Niagara Falls with my parents as a kid, I'd never been to Canada before and certainly not British Columbia so I had no idea what to expect in Vancouver. First impression - nice city but just another city. Whatever I guess. Not like this was supposed to be our vacation destination. From the brochures we passed there were obviously lots of things to do but we wouldn't have time with our ship boarding the next morning.

The taxi took the four of us to our hotel which was right across from where the ships boarded which should make it convenient for the next morning. It came at a cost though, literally. Once again I was reminded of the difference between planning a trip using someone else's American Express gold card and having to pay out of your own wallet! Steve and I hadn't given a thought to making the reservation but I noticed Greg mumbling about the cost for one night when we checked in.

Speaking of checking in... it felt a little weird checking into a hotel standing next to my new husband. In some ways it was like a honeymoon I guess, doing things together for the first time. The girl at the counter was so sweet, complimenting us on our wedding rings and newlywed status. Greg had his arm around me the whole time as did Steve with Amelia when it came his turn.

Thinking about it more it wasn't really the first time I'd checked into a hotel with another married man besides my husband but those had been just to get into a room and we didn't play into our roles as I was doing now with Greg. I think the most memorable time was when my dad and I went out on a father-daughter date night and stayed the night in a luxury hotel in Cleveland. It was so obvious I was much younger than him yet we both had on wedding rings which I assume led the clerk to think either I was some kind of gold-digger or my dad had a trophy wife. In some ways I guess he would have right on both accounts!

We were on different floors so Steve and Amelia stepped out before we did, leaving Greg and me alone in the elevator for the next few floors. I turned to him and pressed in tight, my hand planted firmly on his crotch.

"Ever do it in an elevator Greg?"

Greg laughed and nervously looked to see where the hidden surveillance camera might be located. What a kill-joy. Being watched by security was half the fun! It's not like I was am minor and so he would have been molesting me.

The door opened and I removed my hand just in time before a father and his young son stepped in looking to be heading down to the swimming pool. The boy might have been eight or nine I was guessing while his dad hadn't seen the inside of a gym in years from the looks of it. I smiled at him when his eyes finally worked their up past my chest and he quickly looked away as if I hadn't seen him staring at my boobs and projecting nipples. Silly men!

Once in the room I took a quick look around, checking to see the bathroom was clean and the comforter wasn't TOO gross. Liked do they EVER clean those things? Heck, I knew what I'd done in the past to contribute to the collection of bodily fluids!

"Nice room," Greg mused as he looked around. Unspoken were the words I was sure he was thinking, "Should be for over $400 a night!"

I was horny though so I didn't care about his wallet. What I wanted was closely related though, located just on the other side of his pants.

"Whatever... fuck me Greg."

My tone of voice wasn't loud, it was just as if I'd told him to turn on the TV or something. Just a straightforward request... I wanted sex, simple as that.

"Our bags will be coming shortly," he protested as my hands started to undo the buttons on his shirt.

"So?"

"Well so shouldn't we wait a few minutes for them to arrive?"

"No," was my simple answer. Well, if he wasn't going to let me undress him then I'd just undress myself. Not as if I had all that much to take off.

"Oh my god!" Greg sighed as I quickly stripped. Pulling down the comforter (I wasn't about to lay on it naked if I could help it), I pulled down the sheet as well, piled a couple of pillows on top of one another, and made myself at home.

"So does my new husband like what he sees?"

"God you're beautiful," he sighed yet again. He looked back at the door and then at the nude woman his bed. The frustration was clear on his face. Just then his problem was solved as there was a knock on the door.

"Valet, your bags," a voice called through the door.

"Cover up!" Greg hissed at me as he started for the door.

"Why?" I teased him. He was speechless which was the best response I could ask for. I giggled and pulled the sheet up until it just covered my bust. With my clothes at the end of the bed there wouldn't be much doubt to even the least observant bell boy that I was nude underneath.

The knock repeated just as Greg unlocked the door and opened it. The bell boy was cute! He looked to be maybe in his late teens or early twenties and all prim and proper in his uniform.

"Is everything OK with the room sir?" he asked before he bothered to bring in the bags.

"Oh it's just fine, LOVE the bed," I called over to him, grinning from ear to ear.

"We just got married," Greg told the bell boy as if that would explain the actions of his wife.

The kid didn't respond and while he tried to avoid eye contact, I noticed he still took a few glances at me although the sheets kept anything interesting out of sight. Had it been Steve instead of Greg I probably would've teased him a little more but I was still trying to figure Greg out.

The poor guy dragged in our suitcases. It was the first time Greg had seen mine and I could see him mentally counting mine compared to his single bag. Not to mention the struggles the guy had lifting them. Thank goodness for those handy scales for measuring your bag weights as mine were all right at the limit.

"You know this is just a seven day cruise..." Greg started to say.

"You sound like we've been married ten years instead of one day," I interrupted him as I threw back the sheet. "Why don't you quit worrying about my bags and just fuck me."

It was more a statement than a question and this time Greg didn't protest. Smiling finally he quickly undressed and soon was lying next to me in the king-sized bed.

"Mmmmmmm, that's better," I murmured as I reached down and grabbed his cock.

It was when I felt Greg's dick pressing hard into me, as if he was trying to inject his sperm as deep inside of me as possible, listening to him grunting and gasping as he came that it suddenly struck me. For the next week this man was going to be my husband! I thought of Steve, wondering if he was fucking Amelia at this same moment and if he was thinking of me. Probably not. I mean I know Steve loves me more than anyone in the world but it wouldn't be fair of me to expect him to think of his wife while he was having sex with someone else.

Greg gave his final gasp and pulled out, rolling over onto his back gasping for breath as I felt his cum almost immediately start to spill out of me and drip down my butt onto the sheet. Damn, how much had he cum? It was like a sea of sperm was spilling out of me!

"This week is going to be incredible!" he sighed as he closed his eyes and drifted off.

I hadn't cum yet, too many things on my mind I guess, so instead I got up off the bed and moved to a stuffed chair by the window. The curtains were open and I could look don and see where our ship was moored. So many people running around! Leaning back in the chair, I draped one leg over the arm and started to masturbate. Yeah, maybe Greg wasn't the lover my real husband was but I still had high hopes for the upcoming week. I reminded myself as I rubbed my clit that what really mattered was how much fun it was going to be pretending to be his wife, about all the places on the ship I dreamed we might have sex. Would I "cheat" on my new husband? Hmmmmmm, when else would I ever get the chance to commit adultery without actually sinning?

My thoughts focused on my hand as I rubbed myself faster, my fingers strumming my clit like a fiddle as my overdue orgasm consumed me. It was so cool to see the people below me as I came, none of them seeing me yet I could watch them as I trembled with the pleasure of my orgasm. Oh yes, I was planning on doing a LOT of this as well in the upcoming week...

A few hours later we met Steve and Alecia for dinner. We decided to take a walk to find something besides hotel food and ended up in a small place where a crowd had gathered so we figured it must be good.

"So how's married life," I asked Steve as he sat across from me. Of course my husband for the week was seated next to me.

"Let's just say we consummated our marriage."

Amelia actually seemed to blush but the way she looked at Steve seemed to signal more than just mild embarrassment. Trust me, a woman knows and a wife especially. It was almost the kind of look I probably gave Steve when we first started dating. OMG, Amelia was infatuated with Steve! Not that I could blame her as compared to Greg, Steve must have been quite an upgrade in the husband department. Steve of course didn't seem to have a clue and for that matter, neither did Greg or at least he wasn't letting on he noticed anything. Like wow, they couldn't SEE it right in front of them? Hmmmmmm, things could get interesting...

"You wouldn't believe what Kelly did to the poor bell boy," Greg told Steve as if Amelia or I couldn't hear everything.

Steve grinned and looked at me knowingly. "Let me guess, she gave him a BJ for a tip?"

"Steve!" I protested playfully.

Greg laughed. "Actually I think she would have if she wasn't so anxious for him to leave so we could get at it."

Oh man, what an ego! The ONLY reason I didn't blow the kid was because it would have likely embarrassed Greg to no end. And now here he was bragging he was the reason I turned down the opportunity to blow a cute guy in front of him.

Greg put his hand over mine and patted me like a puppy. I just smiled graciously but my eyes met Steve's and I knew he wasn't fooled. Steve had more than enough of experience with me to know better.

As we ate dinner I dropped my heel off one foot and reached out to touch Steve between his legs. He glanced at me over his fork and then at the other two who didn't seem to notice anything which only served to encourage me. Mmmmmmm, I loved to play with Steve's cock in public!

After dinner I excused myself to use the restroom. I asked Amelia if she would join me. Not like a girl can go to the restroom alone, right? Besides, it would give me an opportunity to see what was going on between her and my real husband.

"So what's with you and Steve?" I asked her when we were alone in the lady's room.

"Sorry... what do you mean?" she answered as if she really didn't know.

"Oh come on Amelia, I saw those doe eyes looking at Steve."

She blushed but I put my arm around her and said, "Hey, I don't blame you. I felt the same way about him seventeen years ago! He's quite a guy."

"Yes he is!" she gushed and then caught herself.

"It's OK, I know my husband so it doesn't bother me in the least if you fall in love with him. Just remember that one week from now and he's mine again."

"But I'm not falling..." she started to protest.

I broke her off, kissing her on the cheek softly. "Like I said, it's OK. Enjoy him for the week. I really want this to be a great trip so I'm counting on you to please my husband... totally, understand?"

"It's just... well I never expected it to be this way," she murmured.

"I know this is probably different than your other swaps," I said agreeing wither, "We've never done anything like this either. I mean, one night is the longest I've ever spent away from him."

For a moment I thought she might cry! Then she blurted out something I'd never anticipated.

"Easy then for you I guess. You guys must do this kind of stuff all the time. We only did it that once with you!"

THAT stopped me in my tracks. Oh wow, I would NEVER have expected that to be the case.

"You mean you guys had never swapped before you met us? But the way Greg talked you did it all the time."

Amelia shook her head, her eyes red. "HE said that, I never did. Steve is the only guy I've had sex with besides Greg... ever!"

Oh boy, wait until Steve found out! He was going to be in seventh heaven if I knew him at all. When had been the last time he'd been with a woman who had never had sex with anyone beside her husband? In fact, had he EVER had such a woman? Now if the roles had been reversed it would have been different as that was the sort of married guy I sought out. But Steve wasn't out prowling for married mothers looking to cheat like I was for married fathers. As if she could read my mind she pleaded with me. "Don't tell Steve... PLEASE. And PLEASE don't let Greg know what I just told you. He'd kill me!"

Well, hopefully that was an exaggeration but I could understand the reasoning. Greg was already "competing" with Steve it seemed and the last thing he would want Steve to know is his "amateur" status when it came to being with other woman. Amelia hadn't commented on whether Greg was been a virgin when they met but I wouldn't have been surprised since it was the sort of thing such couples typically shared.

"Greg was so thrilled after having sex with you," Amelia continued. "That's when he came up with this cruise idea. I thought it was going to be just the two of us as we haven't had a vacation alone together since the kids were born. I never even dreamed I'd be spending it in bed with another man."

We'd been in there for a while now and thankfully nobody had come in to disturb us but I knew we needed to get back before they wondered what was happening. Too long and Greg might even get the idea that his wife had spilled their secret and that wouldn't do.

"Don't worry, this will all work out fine. Just have fun, OK?" I encouraged her, "Trust me, just do whatever Steve wants and you'll have a great time."

"I'll try," she said, gathering herself together. "I was so afraid to tell you... you're great Kelly, even if my husband prefers sex with you over me."

What could I say? It wasn't my fault I'd had over 300 men more than her to practice with? I just smiled and we walked back out to meet our husbands, whoever they may be.

"Everything OK?" Steve asked when we returned. I just nodded and wondered whether or not I should tell him the real story behind this cruise. Nawwwwww, let him find out himself and if he didn't, so much the better. Not to sound too boastful but all in all I think of myself as a pretty darn considerate wife!

5. Cruise Highlights

Wow, I could write a book about our week so for now I'll just recap some of the more memorable moments while on board. We stopped at several ports where we did lots of things but those stories will have to wait for another day... sorry!

Not-So-Private Balconies

Back when I first thought about a cruise I had visions of tiny cabins with little portholes to peer out from, your basic claustrophobic nightmare. Sure I'd seen photos in the brochures but it was hard to imagine the real thing.

Once again the differences between our bookings was evident. Using my dad's AMEX card we'd booked a full suite of which apparently there were only about a dozen on the ship not counting the ridiculously huge suites for the rich and famous. Greg and Amelia had booked a standard size balcony room which were pretty much the standard for most people on board other than the inboard rooms for those on a tight budget. We hadn't really thought about the consequences until we prepared our luggage for pickup and Greg commented that I should use Amelia's tags on my bags so they would go to the right room. At first it didn't hit me but then a light went off over my head - no, a blazing sun! Whoa! That meant Steve and Amelia would be getting the big suite while I'd be in the smaller room with Greg. No way!

I immediately called Steve on my phone and laid it out... it was on my dad's credit card, I was his daughter, so I get the suite. Really, what was there to debate about?

The phone was silent for a moment and my face flushed as I prepared for battle should he disagree. Apparently Steve knew me well enough that he didn't even try to argue as he simply came back with, "OK." I'd been holding my breath so I let out it all out in a whoosh. I was almost disappointed as I had a whole speech prepared in my head should he even dare THINK about stealing that room.

Greg and Steve worked it out as Steve came to our room and exchanged tags with Greg. Before he left though, he gave me a kiss and whispered in my ear, "You owe me one." I just grinned from ear to ear. Meanwhile Greg was looking pretty pleased with himself. Obviously getting the keys to the bigger room while relegating his wife to one half the size didn't bother his conscience.

This whole thing of switching places was making things complicated as to get through Customs we had to have our passports and boarding passes that matched so we went through as "real" married couples. Then when we checked in to board we swapped boarding passes as another difference in our experiences as when we showed our boarding passes came to light. Apparently as suite holders, Greg and I bypassed the long check-in line and went straight to a special desk while Steve and Amelia were shuttled off to the cattle car line with a hundred people in front of them.

Greg and I checked in quickly and were led off to a special holding are with snacks and drinks. We bypassed a large room with chairs where everyone else had to wait to board - no food or drinks there! Poor Steve! Oh well, it wasn't like I hadn't earned it when I convinced my dad to pay out a fortune for the trip.

We struck up some conversations with other couples. Most were a lot older as apparently to reach this level you had to have taken a LOT of cruise before or paid a LOT of money for your cabin so that probably leaves out most younger families. One couple was on their 58th cruise! Of course I told all of them we were newlyweds. It was so much fun!

Finally the ship was ready to board and yet again we got to enjoy special privilege as out group was boarded before everyone else. Not that it really made any difference as it wasn't like a plane where overhead space was at a premium. A few wrong turns and we finally found our room which had balloons and a sign announcing our honeymoon. How sweet!

Walking in my eyes widened. OMG! No claustrophobia for me. It was bigger than our hotel room with a couch and chair, a queen bed, closet, restroom and a shower. It even had two TVs, one in the bedroom and the other you could watch from the couch.

Then I saw the balcony. Wow! It was the size of two balconies below us. One thing I noted was the balconies were staggered such that the people above could see about half of the balcony below. Above us we only had one room as it was a suite like ours but below were two sets. The walls between adjacent balconies were high such you couldn't see over them but anyone in the balcony above us, or even the ones to the sides of it, had a pretty good view of ours. I guess that wasn't so bad... if you don't mind people watching and if there's one thing I LOVE, it's people watching me.

Being larger than most our balcony had two lounge chairs plus a table and four chairs. I noted the ones below us only had smaller tables and a single lounge chair not to mention ours seemed much nicer. I guess that would be what Steve would be getting. Oh well...

"Hello neighbor," a voice from above called down. I looked up and saw another woman, maybe in her fifties, looking down at me smiling.

"I'm Nancy and my husband is Ron, we're from Chicago," she introduced herself and her husband who was out of sight.

I replied with our first names as well and added in we were on our honeymoon. May as well lay the groundwork from the start.

"Oh that's so sweet!" Nancy gushed, "Now you lovebirds behave yourselves," she teased.

"I wouldn't count on that," I warned her. Nancy laughed, thinking I was joking apparently. She'd find out differently before long if things went my way.

Greg joined me and I introduced him. Ron also made his appearance, evidently having heard his wife talking. They both seemed like your typical Midwesterners. Nancy explained to Ron that we were on our honeymoon. Ron looked down at us and congratulated us but I was pleased to see he wasn't paying any attention to Ron. My cami was pretty tight which served nicely to show off my boobs and nipples. It was cut low and while it offered a nice cleavage view, it was also tight so what you saw was what you got, nothing to gain from looking down from his vantage point. Hmmmmmm, maybe I'd have to keep that in mind for later though.

The next couple of hours were busy with unpacking and the silly lifeboat drill. Well, no lifeboats, just cramming into one area with a hundred other people holding our lifejackets listening to what would happen should the ship sink. Somehow I couldn't see the actual thing being nearly as casual and calm!

Later that night after we'd had dinner and explored the ship a bit, we returned to our room. It had been sort of surreal already, touring the ship with Greg and no sign of Steve or Amelia. There were over a thousand people on board and their cabin was a couple decks down and on the other side of the ship so it wasn't like we would routinely pass each other. Still, I wondered how things were going with him and Amelia, especially now that I knew her secret.

Returning to our room, I immediately made it out to the balcony. We were already out of sight of land and the other balconies were all empty so far as I could tell. Apparently the wonder of being at sea wore off quick when there was nothing to see but water. Greg was fooling around with the TV and his phone. Apparently there was some sort of app that worked on the ship's Wi-Fi where you could make reservations and such. Oh well, that was his thing to worry about. I didn't intend to use my phone for anything more than a camera all week.

Back in the room, I noted there were two heavy robes hanging in the closet. Hmmmmmm, they were nice! I thought for a moment and undressed, checking myself out in the bathroom mirror before donning the robe which came down almost to my ankles. If felt so soft and luxurious against my bare skin!

Greg was still fussing with things as I passed by him, hardly even acknowledging me as I went back to the balcony and rested my arms on the railing. I felt so calm as I watched the waves and the setting sun. The days were already getting longer and I wondered how it would be when it stayed light out past midnight!

I did a quick look around and seeing nobody was in sight I dropped the robe and tossed it over one of the chairs. Standing there at the railing barefoot and naked, I stretched out my arms and closed my eyes as I faced the sea. It was like a scene from Titanic, well, almost. It was a little chilly but if anything it felt good against my bare skin for the moment.

My thoughts drifted and I remembered what my dad had told me when I asked him about paying for the cruise. He'd just finished fucking me and I was laying on top of him, my boobs pressed into his hairy chest feeling his dick under me. It was the perfect time to ask him anything and I took advantage of it. Of course he'd said yes, what else COULD he say at that moment? Then he mentioned something about how maybe someday we should take a father-daughter cruise. It was just said in passing and I hadn't really thought about it until now. As I looked out over the ocean, feeling the breeze across my nude body, I wondered what it would be like to have my father press in behind me and fuck me as I leaned over the railing. It would be the most wonderful thing I could imagine!

Turning around, I laid out the blanket that was rolled up on the lounge chair and spread it out, then I stretched out and laid back. Looking up all I could see was the steel overhang of the balcony above with all its pipes and wires. My hand reached between my legs and I thought about Steve and wondered what he was doing with Amelia right at this moment. Knowing my horny husband, they were in bed for what would be an all-night fuck. Meanwhile, I was laying out naked on the balcony masturbating while my husband was playing IT guru.

Through the glass of the balcony I could see the ocean and I thought how it was the most beautiful scenery I'd ever had in front of me while masturbating. I wasn't really working for an orgasm yet, it just felt good to play with myself and touch myself. I tell people how much I love masturbating and guys usually think it's like watching some porn scene where the girl gets all hot and bothered and works like mad until she comes to a screaming orgasm. Well, that's porn for you which explains why in general I could care less about it.

No, what I was doing now was more typical. I looked down and dragged the backs of my fingers over my flat belly, going from side to side and then down, just over the top of my pussy and back up until they reached my boobs. From there I traced lines around my breasts, lightly touching my nipples and shivering as they responded. With my other hand I cupped my breast, squeezing it softly and massaging it gently as the fingers on my other hand ran over it. Oh it felt so good to touch my breasts!

Gripping my one breast with my left hand, my right moved down between my legs. I had my knees bent so my feet were flat on the chair, each at the edge of the chair with my knees bowed out. At first I just cupped my crotch, my palm flat over it with my fingers pressing down barely into the entrance of my pussy. The back of my palm rested perfectly over my clit, pressing down on it gently. I felt so warm and increasingly wet as I held myself while massaging my breast.

Slowly my fingers began to work their magic and for a while that's all I needed or wanted, just the light touch of my fingertips tracing over me, touching against my soft inner thigh, running up along the junction of my leg and crotch, around my belly button and back between my legs again. Around and around, a slightly different path each time as I closed my eyes and listened to the passing ocean.

Gradually things heated up as my lust and sexual energy grew like a fire starting from an ember. A warm glow at first, then the start of a flame and finally my body felt ablaze with need and desire. God I needed to be fucked! I suppose I should have gotten up at that point and sought out relief from Greg but I couldn't take my hand off my pussy as my finger worked its way inside of me, my imagination taking it as a dick seeing entrance. I as incredibly wet and I replaced one hand with the other as I licked my pussy wetness from my fingers as I coated the others with more. Mmmmmmm, I loved the scent of smell of my own pussy, so sensual and musky when I was aroused.

My hips thrust upwards into my hand as I dreamed of being fucked by an unknown assailant, a man desiring nothing more than to quench my sexual urges with the driving force of his dick inside of me. Again and again I drove my hips into his monstrous cock as he fucked me. I could feel him in me, swollen and hot with his lust for me. Oh god I came.... I came SO hard! It was like the ocean had spilled over the railing and washed over me with waves of pleasure. My head pushed back against the blanket as I gasped aloud, moaning as I couldn't control myself while my hand worked furiously to drive me even higher...

Laying back, sweating now despite the cooling night air, I struggled to regain my breath. And people ask me why I like to masturbate! Are they kidding? Oh sure I love sex even better but this had been perfect, exactly what I needed at this moment. It was all about me and nobody else but me which was fine with me. LOL

"Kelly?" I heard Greg calling, my reverie broken. Wow, had I passed out or fallen asleep?

"Oh there you are," Greg said as he pushed open the sliding door to the balcony, "Aren't you afraid someone might see you out here?"

Greg might be my "husband" for the week but he was certainly not my husband! Of all the thing Steve might say had he found me laying naked out on the balcony of a ship after satisfying myself, that was probably the last thing on the list.

I may have calmed down somewhat at this point but that didn't mean the needs and desires that had overwhelmed me were quenched. I looked at Greg and saw a man, a man I wanted to fuck me, a man with a dick designed and created by God for one purpose... to fit into my pussy and deliver his sperm. Well, it was time it served its purpose...

While I couldn't convince Greg to fuck me from behind as I stood at the rail (what a prude!) it didn't take much talking to get what I really needed most - his dick in me. So what if we did it on the bed and not on the balcony? Another time and place that would have been fun but tonight at THIS time and place I wanted one thing more than anything - a man to give me his dick and become one with me!

As my mom always told me, sometimes it's the simple things in life that brings the most pleasure.

Movie Night

If there's one thing that turns me on it's having sex in the middle of a bunch of people and they don't know it. I remember the first time my boyfriend fucked me at a beach in the water with me leaning over a float. Leaning over the inflatable raft, I was holding my bikini bottoms tucked into my hands (I didn't trust him not to get carried away and lose them) while he entered me from behind. My feet were off the bottom but he was able to just stand up to keep us balanced. The water was up almost to his chest and being lake water nobody could see anything more than a foot or so below the surface.

I was SO turned on! I mean like people were all around us, mostly kids but a few adults trying to keep herd on their kids passed by as well. Not one of them seemed to have a clue that Steve's dick was the warmest dick in the lake! Some of them ever said hello or whatever as they passed by and I simply smiled and said hello back, all the while trying not to cry out as I felt my boyfriend's cock moving behind me. He didn't even have to try as the movement of the water and the raft floating on it were enough to make me move relative to him.

Funny thing about it was if I tried to do that today with my husband I'm sure people would have thought differently. So many things I could get away when I was a teenager that now as a thirty-something mother of two were off-limits unless I wanted to get arrested. We would still look for opportunities - doing it behind a clothes rack in a store was still an old favorite of mine as I could watch the people shopping and quickly drop my skirt if someone approached too closely.

Greg and I faced a similar quandary on the ship. Well, maybe not so much Greg but I did. I think Greg would have been happy to stay in our suite all day and just fuck me on the bed but why be on a cruise ship if you're not going to take advantage of it? The problem was where to do it. I was a little surprised at how difficult it was to find a spot private enough to have sex yet public enough to be in view of others. The pools and hot tubs were full of kids. There was one "adult" pool but because it WAS adult only, it was always full of adults! Not that I wasn't a natural-borne slut and ready to be a little playful, but there ARE limits to what you can get away with before they call the captain in.

Nonetheless I was always keeping an eye out for possibilities. While looking at the ship's app on Greg's phone I noticed there was a movie playing that night out on the upper decks. Apparently they did this every night on the screen I'd noticed while walking around. People could see it from the pool and the surrounding chairs, as well as a couple of decks worth of tables and chairs surrounding the pool area.

Hmmmmmm... my mind was working overtime as it seemed such an obvious answer to my quest. Now to just get Greg to go along with. Yet again I found myself wishing my "real" husband was with me - he'd be over all this... and me as well.

After dinner I mentioned my idea to Greg. At first he seemed pretty unsure of things, immediately saying something about being caught and all. He was easy to convince, just as all men are when you ask them while you're sucking their dicks!

The movie would start in an hour so I needed the time to get ready. Guys have it so easy but girls always have so many things to deal with, not the least of which is what to wear. The only thing Greg had to think about was keeping himself "accessible". If he wanted me to play with him then he had to wear something that wasn't too difficult to navigate - NOT the time for tight pants he'd outgrown or buttoned jeans. Fortunately he'd brought a loose-fitting pair of cotton pants more fit for a Bahamas cruise than Alaska but perfect for what I was planning.

In the end, after several false starts and changes, I finally chose a floral wrap meant to wear to the pool over your bikini. Along with it I chose one a bikini top that wasn't so much revealing as accessible and easy to maneuver. What I mean is that it wasn't one of those tiny ones that has to be positioned perfectly to not cause a nipple slip or a complex string contraption that I had to be looking in the mirror to get right. I always wanted to avoid anything that couldn't be put back in place easily so that left out anything tied behind my neck or I had to put my arms through. In the end I chose a simple strapless bikini top that was little more than a headband around my chest. People seeing me would naturally think that I'd be wearing a matching bikini bottom under the wrap. Those people would be wrong...

After finishing my makeup and hair, the last thing I did before dressing was to do a quick touchup around my pussy to ensure I was nice and smooth for Greg. Nothing's too good for my new hubby, right?

Greg looked me over and smiled his approval at my outfit. I didn't say anything about how what he saw was all I was wearing but if he hadn't figured that out by now then what could I say? It was day three of the cruise and I had yet to soil a pair of panties!

It was tempting to wear heels but that would have been more snooty than sexy from what I'd observed, especially in the outdoors areas. Only the snobs wore heels to anything but dinner. So instead I just put on a pair of flip-flops, grabbed my ever-present purse and I was ready to go!

I hadn't even bothered to check on what the movie was and wouldn't you know it, it was some kids movie. Really, it was 10:00 at night so shouldn't the rug rats have been in bed rather than a showing of, Lord help me, Frozen? I mean give me a break! I'd long reached the saturation point with the movie and all the marketing ploys that Disney deluged us with. About the last thing I wanted to watch was yet another showing and having to listen to "Let It Go" yet again. Thankfully I wasn't planning on watching much of the movie.

The pool deck was mobbed with kids and parents so Greg started to lead me to another deck where we could view it more privately. Where was the fun in that?

"But I like it down here better," I protested, tugging at him like I was just another kid in the mob.

"A little crowded, don't you think, for what we have planned?" Greg replied looking at me as if I was crazy.

"That's the whole point, isn't it?"

Again he just stared at me uncomprehending my logic. Then he smiled wryly. "You really get off from this sort of stuff, don't you?"

It was sort of like my panties, or lack of them... if he hadn't figured that out by now, then when would he? While nothing major, I'd taken every opportunity to play the newlywed game to the hilt. Every time we were in the elevator alone (which unfortunately wasn't very often) I was rubbing his dick through his pants or exposing myself to him. Come to think of it, a few times the elevator wasn't empty. At meals I would rub my foot into his crotch if he sat across from me and flirt with the waiters. My motto for the week was, "Why button more than you need to?" allowing plenty of other husband and a number of their sons to get an eyeful while Greg looked on.

There were a number of couples we seemed to pass on a regular basis where their husband would be looking at me the entire time waiting for me to tease him. Then there were our balcony friends who soon learned I loved to lay out topless with just enough to not be bottomless as well. Nobody complained so why not?

Most of the chairs and lounges were taken, at least all the "good" ones but that was looking at it from the perspective that you intended to watch the movie. There were a few off to the side with obstructed views that nobody was taking so I grabbed a couple of pool towels and spread them out on one. Greg was looking around for something so I asked him what he need.

"I'll see if I can get another chair," he said as he started to walk off. I ran after him and grabbed his arm.

"One's all we need, right?"

"A little tight, don't you think,"

I grinned, "Exactly my husband."

I'd brought one of the blankets from our balcony with but it turned out they had more as with the sky darkening the temperature was starting to drop. It was still likely in the upper 60's but without the direct sun it felt a little more n the chilly side. Fine with me as it's hard to justify being covered by a blanket when it's90 degrees out1

The movie was started but I didn't care. Like what adult can stomach this one more than once? Before settling down I sent Greg off on a mission for a couple of glasses of wine and some popcorn. Even if we didn't watch the movie I wanted my movie food.

While Greg was out I arranged our seat better, grabbing on of the complimentary blankets and adding it to act as more of a seat cushion. I raised the back to a comfortable height and laid down on my back, feigning interest in the opening. I looked over and saw a dad with two princesses enthralled with the movie. He looked about as interested as I was and when I caught his eye I smiled at him. He smiled back and I was pleased to see his eyes wandering. Too bad I was married! I laughed at the irony and settled back to wait for Greg. I had to be careful with my wrap which kept trying to UNwrap. Flashing husband is one thing, little kids not so cool!

Greg finally made it back, huffing about long lines or whatever. He handed me a glass of white wine while he had gotten himself a beer. Best part was a bag of popcorn!

"Take a seat," I offered as I scooted over on to my side. The wrap pulled back and exposed my bare legs up to about 3/5 upper thigh but enough not to show any butt so I didn't try to pull it back into place. I'd disposed of the flip flops when we arrived leaving me barefoot.

Greg worked his way onto the chair on his back with me on my side more or less draped over him to fit without falling off. It really wasn't meant for two people, that's for sure!

"Here, pull this over us," I told him, grabbing the blanket we'd brought and tossing it over us.

Greg arranged the blanket such that we were covered from neck to feet. I giggled thinking about the guys who had probably been watching wondering if my wrap was going to go any higher. Ahhhhhh, they must be so disappointed to see me covered up now. Any bets they wished THEY were under it with me?

"What's so funny?" Greg asked, sounding a little annoyed as he was probably thinking I was giggling at his discomfort.

"Oh nothing, let's just have fun, OK?"

For the next half hour or so I munched on popcorn as Greg felt me up under the blanket. I wondered if people could see his hand moving under the thick cloth, especially when it was on my butt. What they couldn't see of course was he'd discovered I wasn't wearing a matching bikini bottom... or ANY bottom for that matter. He'd started to say something when his hand first touched my bare butt but I just shushed him and told him to enjoy the movie. Yeah, like he was watching it any more than I was.

Over time the accessibility qualities of my top became apparent as Greg pulled the band down off my boobs, leaving me effectively topless with just the blanket covering me. Together with pulling the wrap away from my butt, had anyone pulled off the blanket I may as well be naked in terms of what would be hidden from the general public. I glanced around, looking to see if we were generating any interest but it seemed everyone was just watching the movie, even the movie dad a few feet away.

After what seemed to be a reasonable waiting period, I figured it was time to make this more interesting. Sort of like when do you date after your husband dies. You may want to do it right away but you have to wait an appropriate period before it's socially acceptable. So too was fooling around in public. You might want to start immediately but things you can get away with later on are not considered acceptable from the start.

So far Greg had done little more than a typical guy on a date back in high school. He'd felt up my butt and groped my boobs but that was about it. As for me, I'd just relaxed and enjoyed it with my head on his chest and my arm wrapped around him. I had my right leg draped over his right leg, my crotch pressed tightly into his hip bone. Now and then he would play with my hair which I loved as well. Anyone watching would think we were just your average newlyweds enjoying a night out.

One by one I unbuttoned his shirt and then spread it out to uncover his chest. Running my fingers through his hairy chest, I slowly but surely made my way down until I met the resistance of his pants. As it's been said, "resistance is futile."

"Feel good?" I asked him as I nuzzled in closer to press my breast against his bare chest.

Greg couldn't help but look around as he just nodded but at least he smiled.

"It gets better," I teased him as I started to move my hands down to his pants.

Greg started to reach to push my hand away as I started to slip it under his pants but I wasn't about to take no for an answer.

"You know... the more you move around the more people will notice."

He seemed to grasp my logic and relaxed as my hand slipped further down until I could feel his dick. It wasn't exactly responding yet, most likely he was too nervous but that could be overcome based on plenty of past experience. I remember one guy I was dating that about leaped out his seat when I put my hand on his crotch while sitting next to him in a booth at a McDonald's. It wasn't all that crowded so the risk of being seen was low and once I had my hand on his bare cock he didn't seem to mind at all!

I could feel the warmth of Greg's cock as I just held him in my hand to start. His thick pubic hair acted as a bed for my hand to rest, my thumb gently stroking under the lip of his cock head, right where men tell me it feels best. I lifted my head up just enough to look down and while I could definitely make out my arm under the blanket, it wasn't like it was TOO obvious what we were doing. Besides, who would say anything?

"Your cock feels so good in my hand my sweet husband," I murmured to him. Greg countered by moving his arm on the side where I was laying so his hand was twisted to feel my bared pussy. By now the poor wrap had pretty much given up any hope of covering me, leaving just the blanket between me and the cool night air.

"Mmmmmmm, I like that," I softly cooed as he fingered me. With my on leg on top draped over his and my other lying flat it left him a nice space in between to fit his hand without drawing attention.

Between my grip on his cock and the feel of my pussy, I could feel him responding, slowly thickening and growing in my hand. The only thing better than feeling a guy growing as I hold him is to have him grow as I suck him. I've always been fascinated by cocks, especially when they change magically from this flaccid small thing to a magnificent hard erection. Even before I knew much about sex I use to stare at my dad's dick when he would watch a porn movie or even just a sexy girl on TV and his cock would grow until it emerged from his boxer shorts. Of course I didn't know any better back then so I just assumed all men popped out of their shorts when they grew. Even today as a 31 year-old housewife and mother of two, I still get all horny and itchy when men send me photos of their dicks growing stiff and hard looking at photos of me. It's the perfect therapy for a girls with low self-esteem like me!

Eventually his dick grew until my fingers barely wrapped around him. Without thinking I slowly stroked him, like a reflex reaction to his cock in my hand. Stiff cock - stroke cock, right?

"Ohhhhhh," he groaned softly as my fingers played over his cock.

"Shhhhhh!" I warned him.

Yep, just as I knew it would Greg's little head began to wrest control from his big one. I'd only been stroking him for maybe five or ten minutes and not very fast at that when he started to leak precum. It was like one thing led to another as his precum lubricated his shaft making it all the easier for me to stroke him which just led to even more until it was like a stream of liquid pouring from his stiff dick. If not for the consistency and the fact it didn't small like a bathroom it was almost like he was peeing in my hand!

The only negative was the more he was consumed by his growing lust, the less he was able to focus on his hand by my pussy until eventually it was just still between my crotch as I pressed down onto it and gently rubbed myself on him. Typical man. Oh well, not like I wasn't enjoying the hand job I was giving him.

I sort of lost track of time as it wasn't like I was in any rush to make him cum. People walked by all the time but Greg wasn't paying any attention now to anything but his cock in my hand. His eyes were closed and he had that rather dazed look men get when I suck ion them and they're getting close to their orgasm.

"Don't stop," he whispered hoarsely as he let out along breath. Yeah, like THAT was something I was planning to do.

If there's one thing guys could never accuse me of it was being a cockteaser. Oh maybe when I flirted but once I had a guy's dick in my hand or mouth I wanted them to cum just as badly as they did. There was none of this getting you close and quitting crap when you dated Kelly! It was sort of like my fascination with the erection process. So too do I LOVE to see a man ejaculate. It's just the coolest thing! The best thing is once that train leaves the station, it never stops in that once the process starts, there's no stopping him until he does it. I could be sucking on a boy and his parents walk in and if he's starting to cum I don't care what happens between him and them, he's cumming in my mouth one way or the other!

I felt his dick surge as the launch sequence counted down to zero. Greg gasped as his first load shot out onto his stomach and then another, followed by several more. Mmmmmmm, he was a horny guy all right! His whole body seemed to quiver beneath mine as I could feel him jerking just a little as he climaxed. Nothing anyone would have noticed had they not known what we were doing but enough to turn me on.

"Geeze, what a mess," Greg whispered as almost instantly he switched from horny guy squirting sperm to boring guy worried about the loads of cum now all over his belly and how know what else.

Maybe in my teen years I might have put my head under the blanket and licked him off but OK, I'll admit it... I'm not a teen slut anymore and mothers my age just don't do those sort of things in a public place surrounded by little kids and their parents. Not the sort of thing I enjoy confessing but that's life I guess.

So instead I grabbed a pool towel I'd been thoughtful enough to stash next to the seat within reach beforehand and used it clean up things as best I could. Greg worked on fixing his pants and shirt while I pulled up my bikini top, hopefully high enough to keep from flashing all the eight year old boys and girls.

"Had enough of the movie?" I asked him teasingly once we were more or less in a state of dress ready for public view.

"Movie?" he joked and we both laughed. Not like either of us had watched a frame.

Now came the tricky part - standing up without exposing my bare ass to everyone. I'd tried to pull down the wrap as best as I could but without standing up it was pretty much impossible to get it right. Hmmmmmm, maybe I should've worn the thong after all?

I ended up using the blanket as a wrap as I stood up on my bare feet while Greg followed once I was off of him. Trying to hold the blanket together with one hand, I reached inside and did my best to adjust the wrap until I was pretty sure I wouldn't hear any gasps when I dropped the blanket. Sure enough, I dropped it and no gasps.

I looked around for my flip flops and grabbed my purse. Before we left I looked after at Movie Dad whose kids were still mesmerized by their little princesses. He smiled and gave me a thumbs up. I just smiled back and winked. Something told me he hadn't been watching much of the movie either!

Formal Night

When I first found out that there was going to be a "formal night" I immediately had visions of the movie Titanic and everyone dressed up in tuxedos and gowns. While some people actually do go full out, more research told me a really nice dress would suffice. Of course that meant buying a new one as what girl wears a used dress to such an event? Well, at least not me.

It took a while but I found one I really liked. Steve wanted to see it but I teased him, telling him I wanted my "husband" to be the first to see me in it. Even though I was just teasing he didn't seem all that thrilled about it. Oh well, there you go. It's not like this wasn't his fault in the first place.

A few hours before dinner I started to get ready. Greg was taking a nap so I undressed and got in the shower. Yet again I was reminded how nice it was to have a full suite as the shower was much larger than I'd expected. The hot water flowed down over me as I washed and rinsed my hair. I thought about Steve, wondering how things were going with him and Amelia. Would they be dressing up? I knew Steve had brought his suit. I tried to get him to rent a tuxedo but that went over like a lead balloon. Steve's not a "suit guy" to begin with so just getting him to put on a tie was quite an accomplishment!

The more I thought of my real husband the more I missed him. Was it worth doing the cruise without being with him? I probably could have convinced my dad to pay for one just for the two of us although it had been a lot easier once he found out the circumstances for this trip. Sure I was enjoying myself but I knew by the end of the week I'd be more than ready to return to the arms... and dick... of my husband!

With my eyes closed and the water cascading over me I caressed my breasts, cupping them and squeezing them together as my nipples poked between my fingers. God was I so dang horny! My pussy itched so bad I squeezed my thighs today almost like I was trying to hold back going to the bathroom. It didn't help. Keeping one hand on my breast, I reached down and palmed my pussy, fingers reaching between my legs and pressing down on my clit. Mmmmmmm, felt so good to rub myself!

I began to fantasize about Steve fucking Amelia while Greg and I watched. It was so hot to imagine her with my husband, only the second man she'd ever had sex with. After being fucked by Greg, I knew she was getting an upgrade this week. Would she ever be fully satisfied by her real husband ever again or would she remember how it felt to have Steve fucking her whenever she was with Greg?

My mind wandered to thoughts of leaving Greg and lying next to Amelia as my husband thrust slowly in and out of her. I could almost taste her boobs as my tongue flicked over her rock hard nipples, feeling her hot breath on my neck as I sucked on them. My head turned to the side, I could see Steve's rock hard erection appear and then disappear again inside of her as he fucked her slowly, making her beg for more, crying out to be fucked harder and faster but he just teased her with his cock.

I rubbed my clit, just as I would watching my husband enjoying the feel of another woman's pussy around his hard cock. I'd kiss her, tongues intertwined as she moaned with the ecstasy of the best orgasm a man had ever given her, like none her husband ever had.

My own orgasm swelled within me as I pictured Steve starting to ejaculate, spewing his sperm into another woman as I watched, fingering my own pussy as he came inside of her. Was he thinking of me when he shot his cum into Amelia or was it just blind lust driving him, focusing on nothing more than the feel of her warm wet pussy surrounding his incredible dick?

My whole body jerked violently as I came, my cries echoing in the shower as my orgasm peaked and filled me. I clasped my free hand over the first and pressed down hard into my crotch, bending over as I held my breath and tried to maintain this feeling as long as possible. Finally I couldn't hold back any longer and exhaled and then just as quick drew in a deep breath, groaning with pleasure.

It was like I couldn't move, like I was frozen in this position in the shower stall. The water felt so good over me, like my entire body was sensitized to the slightest touch.

Did I ever mention I LOVE to masturbate?

Finally I turned off the water and sighed. Opening the glass door I reached for a towel and dried myself off standing on the mat outside the shower. Now THAT's what I call a shower!

Checking on Greg, he was still sleeping so I returned to the bathroom to dry my hair and get ready. It was almost an hour before I checked out the results in the mirror and smiled. OK, so sue for being a bit egotistical me but I think I looked pretty damn good for a 31 year-old mother of two.

In the closet hung a clothes bad with my dress. Pulling it out, I checked it over and it seemed to have weathered the trip pretty well so far. It was actually quite similar to a dress I'd worn to a school dance way back in high school. Of course it was black - what else? I'd debated long and hard as to whether I should invest in a fancy thong to wear under it - no way was I going to wear a bra in any case. While my boobs were now solid B's, actually close to a C since the birth of my second daughter, I was fortunate to defy gravity in that they were almost as firm and perky as when I was eighteen. How many more years I'd be able to claim that was unknown but I wasn't complaining.

Like my school dress, this one was long - down to the floor WITH four-inch heels. It draped over one shoulder, leaving the other bar as it curved down and revealed as much cleavage as possible without my boobs popping out. My nipples aren't as dark as some girls nor as large as say my BFF Beth's. It was actually fortunate (though Steve might disagree in that assessment) as had mine been like hers the dress wouldn't have covered them fully.

From there it fit me like a piece of Sara Wrap to my hips where it feel to the floor with a slit up the left side. This was where it varied just a little from my high school dress. Back then since I had to wear it to school I couldn't get one that came up TOO high on my hip as the jerks chaperoning the dance would likely have sent me home. As it was I got a few second glances and not because they were admiring my exposed leg. The new version I'd bought didn't have to contend with such narrow-mindedness so it came up almost to the side of my hip. Standing up it closed and was almost invisible but all I had to do was start walking and it opened and closed like a flag waving.

Sitting down was the most fun as I had several options. If I wanted to be the most modest I could grab the upper portion and keep it down and over myside, almost entirely hiding anything underneath. At the other end of the spectrum I could pretend not to notice how it would ride up, especially when I crossed my legs, and display my entire leg from the side. Something told me which option I'd be choosing for most of the evening and it wasn't the first.

Of course a new dress requires new shoes and I'd bought a matching black pair with stiletto heels that made me over four inches taller. This late in summer my legs were tan and having just shaved this morning they would be smooth to the touch. Hmmmmmm, I wondered who would put that to the test?

Around my ankle I'd brought a light ankle bracelet to remind me of the man who'd made this all possible - my father. He'd bought it for me when I was still in high school before we even started having sex, just to be a wonderful father! Of course like all gifts he gave me I had to pose wearing it and like all gifts, all I could wear was his gift for the mini photoshoot session. Since then I'd treasured it and wore it to many special occasions.

Around my neck I wore a present from my mother - a gold chain with a small diamond cross. I loved it and not just because my mom gave it to me shortly after I'd lost my virginity. It also reminded me of my faith and religious obligation to be a loving and submissive wife and daughter. If what I was doing this week didn't demonstrate my submission to my husband then I don't know what could.

Next was a pair of diamond earring from my husband - a gift after I'd announced I was pregnant for the first time. They always reminded me of him as well as our beautiful daughters.

Finally came a matching gold bracelet, a gift that I'd never told anyone who it was that gave it to me. It really didn't matter WHO he was but more what it represented. He'd been married at the time and I knew his wife from church. Their marriage was struggling and for the first time he was considering cheating on her. Their daughter was in my youth group so I often would see him and we'd get to talking. I knew from listening to his wife at Bible Study, asking for prayer for their marriage, that things weren't going so well which only served to perk my ears as such opportunities don't come around every day. It took a few months but eventually I was able to bring him around to where he was able to rationalize committing adultery with me. While he was initially hurt by my refusal to repeat out initial tryst, in the end I watched as their marriage grew stronger now that he had these urges addressed. Then one day he'd given me a present - a gold bracelet, as thanks for what I'd done for him. I was overwhelmed and to this day I treasure it.

All decked out, I returned to the bedroom to find Greg out on the balcony watching the beautiful scenery go by. Somewhere along the line he'd woken up and gotten dressed for dinner. I had to admit he cleaned up pretty good! Stepping out in the glare of the sunshine, I stood by his side, my arms on the rail as I took in the spectacular view.

"Beautiful," he said softly looking straight ahead.

"Scenery or me?" I teased him, standing up and striking a pose.

I knew what he's meant but when he looked at me I could see in his eyes that he was about to change his answer.

"Wow!" he whistled, "You look incredible!"

"Oh yes she does!" I heard above us. Sure enough, Ron was hanging over the railing staring down at me!

"Hey, you looking down my wife's dress?" Greg taunted him.

"Can I help it if the scenery in Alaska is so beautiful?" he replied back with a grin but I saw his eyes never left my bust.

We all laughed and then Greg put up a finger as if to tell me to wait. Turns out that was exactly what he meant.

"Wait here a minute, I've got to get my camera!"

I was about to protest as one of our rules for the week was supposedly no photos but then I guess that was more pertaining to nudity and sex. Heck, every guy on the ship would be seeing me shortly so why not let Greg take a few?

"Back up to the rail Kelly," he directed me when he returned. "Spectacular... great mountains, great tits, REALLY great legs."

I twisted a bit, allowing the slit to do its thing as it opened up and exposed my entire leg and most of my hip.

"Whoa, are you wearing anything under that?" Greg asked as he snapped one after another. Thanks goodness for digital cameras!

"You'll just have to find out later," I teased. I looked up and Ron was still watching, seemingly oblivious to the fact he was staring at another man's wife while his own must have been someone close by.

"I vote for nothing!" he called down grinning. I wasn't about to settle the question on way or another but I did pull back the back half to show off a little more of my butt though not enough to put to rest any questions over whether I had a high-top thong or not.

"That dress shows off your legs perfectly Kelly," Greg complimented me.

I was beaming. I love it when men tell me I look good, but then what girl doesn't? Why else do they make dresses like this one in the first place? I felt like a princess. It was so light and without anything under it I could almost imagine I was naked.

"About time to go," Greg said, looking down at his watch. Looking up at Ron, he grinned as Ron gave him a thumbs up. A few naughty thoughts went through my head but by then we were inside with the sliding glass door shut once more.

"You know, I'd bet anything he'd fuck you in a heartbeat after seeing you in that dress," Greg laughed.

"isn't that the point?" I said teasingly.

"Damn, you ARE a slut," he sighed.

"And you just figured THAT out now?" I laughed, tossing my hair back over my shoulders.

"Good point," he nodded, "Let's go... I can't wait to show you off."

Yeah, he was just like my "real" husband. Steve always tells me the same thing, about how he loves to go out and show me off like I was his trophy wife. It's probably the same train of thought as when he tells me he loves to watch me being fucked by other men. The more he sees the desire of other men for me, the more they want to fuck me, heck the more they actually fuck me, the hotter it is for him knowing when the day is done I go home with him and he gets to claim me as his.

We stepped out into the passageway where other couple were already on their way dressed in their fancy outfits. I was thrilled to get my first stares - one of appreciation from the husband and another of jealousy from his wife. Perfect!

I'd expected this to just be for dinner but it turned out to be an entire affair as a couple of photographers were taking pictures of everyone (which I'm sure would be available later at some ridiculous price). Maybe half the people I saw were dressed up with the rest apparently not into this sort of thing but so far as I was concerned it was their loss. This was fun! I looked around to see if I could spot Steve and Amelia but without any luck. It was a big crowd so it wasn't surprising but I was curious what she had brought to wear and how it compared with my dress.

"Do you mind if we get a portrait made?" Greg asked me as I held his arm. I just smiled and shrugged. Why not?

We got in line and I checked out the other women - just as they were all doing themselves. The husbands were doing something similar but in their case it was for different purposes. Women were being critical, looking for any flaw in the other whereas the men were just checking the ladies out, no doubt fantasizing about a few of them - hopefully I was one of those lucky ones.

When it was our turn we took our position and I smiled as I noticed a number of women pursing their lips in disapproval. I wondered if they realized that their jealousy was more of a compliment to me than the stares from their husbands! I made sure to turn just enough to cause my dress to open and pushed my leg out to bare it even more as the photographer took the shot.

"Yep... you're indeed a sexy slut!" Greg whispered in my ear as we moved off to the side with his hand planted on my butt over my dress. So long as he kept it over the dress I was fine but without any panties on I wasn't going to let him get away with anything more. The whole point was to tease, not to flash.

We made our way to the elevator where along with a number of other couples we waited to board to go to the deck where we would eat. The elevator was crammed tight with us in the back, perfect for Greg's purposes as it turned out with his hand immediately snaking in through the slit in my dress to check out my bare butt.

"Naughty boy," I whispered as I pressed back hard against the wall of the elevator to trap his hand before he could get any further. The elevator opened then, depriving him of further opportunity as we all got out and headed to the dining room.

"Kelly!" I heard someone cry out and then I finally saw Amelia, Steve dutifully by her side. She was dressed in a black dress as well but nothing compared to mine. While it did a nice job of exposing some cleavage, other than that it seemed a bit baggy to me and even with her plus size figure she should have worn something a little more tight fitting.

"That's a beautiful dress," Amelia gushed as we met. Then she looked down to where my leg was exposed and I could see her eyes widen. "Oh my...I could never wear anything like THAT!" was all she could say.

Whether she meant she couldn't because of how revealing it was or she couldn't because of her figure, it didn't matter as both would probably been right.

"So... how are things going?" I asked her as the guys compared notes or whatever it was they were discussing beyond earshot. It could have been most anything given they were guys.

For a moment he eyes dropped and her happy expression cracked just a bit but then she beamed again although it seemed more forced this time.

"Everything's OK," she said. Just OK? She was shacking up with my husband, only the second man she'd ever been in bed with in her life, and things were "OK"?

"You're husband has been so wonderful," she added, "I couldn't ask for anything more from him."

As in more dick or more polite? I almost laughed as I pondered the question but I didn't want to do anything to upset her.

"Well Greg has been great as well."

Amelia smiled wryly. "So I've seen."

My eyebrows raised and I waited for her to continue.

"I saw you at the movie, I couldn't believe what you were doing!"

"We were just laying down watching the show," I countered.

Amelia shook her head. "More like BEING the show from what I saw."

"Well, isn't that sort of the point this week?" I asked defensively.

"Maybe," she said, looking over to see if the dining room was open yet, "But I guess I didn't expect you to be... to be... well, to be so brazen about it!"

Just then the doors opened and the crowd started to move. Steve and Greg took the arms of their respective "wives" and we made our way to our assigned tables. We had seats at opposite sides of the room so that was the last I saw of them that night.

"Everything OK?" Greg asked as we walked to our table, "Amelia seemed a little agitated."

I debated whether to tell him anything but then figured why not? "She saw us at the movie."

Greg just grinned. Obviously he didn't mind that his wife had seen another woman jerking him off in public under the cover of a thin blanket. But then what mad wouldn't if given the chance?

"So how did Steve say things were going?" I asked, a little curious.

"I don't know, we didn't talk about it."

Figured!

We introduced ourselves to our dinner companions. No doubt Greg was happy that I was the youngest women there by at least ten years. From the initial looks I was getting, the other husbands didn't mind either. With the table serving as cover, I crossed my legs and didn't bother to arrange my dress, allowing it to fall between my legs in front, exposing pretty much my entire leg and hip on the one side. With more self-control than usual I restrained myself from looking but I couldn't help but wonder who was checking me out from the table next to us!

Dinner was rather uneventful. I loved the king crab - red Lobster would never be the same again! Amazingly Greg was able to eat with one hand most of the meal as his other was planted on my bare leg the rest of the time. He probably would've gone further fi he thought he could have gotten away with it but it wasn't like I had a blanket over me like he'd had during the movie. It must have been making him horny though as we finished quickly and he announced we were leaving - the first at our table to do so. My suspicions were confirmed as we walked out and he whispered in my ear that he couldn't wait to get back to the room!

Well, I had better ideas. I hadn't bought this dress to just wear for a photo and dinner. Having left so early, we were one of the first to walk out which had the advantage of making it easy to get an elevator by ourselves. Greg reached for our floor but I pushed his hand away and pressed the top button. He looked at me and I just smiled.

"I'm not ready to go back yet Greg," I said softly, "I want you to fuck me."

"That was sort of the plan," he said looking a little confused.

"Not in our room silly!"

I grabbed his hand and pulled it in so his hand was finally free to roam underneath. The elevator started to move as I felt his palm against my bare butt and then his fingers checking me out.

"Ohhhhhh, so you really aren't wearing any," he announced with a grin as he reached under and between my legs, his finger finding my pussy without anything in the way.

"Surprised?"

Greg laughed, pressing his finger into me, "Can't say I am. Actually I would have been surprised had you BEEN wearing any."

I pretended to be shocked although I did nothing to deter him from feeling me up. "Greg, just what kind of girl do you think I am?"

"I know exactly what kind of girl you are," he practically growled, the lust in his tone becoming more pronounced.

Just then the elevator stopped and he barely got his hand out from my dress when the doors opened. Nobody was there though... false alarm. We stepped out and made our way over the enclosed walkway to the lounge at the stern of the ship. I hadn't been here yet but I'd read about it in the brochure. It was supposed to offer a great view being one of the highest points we could go on the entire ship. One additional feature I liked - nobody under 21 was allowed in so no kids to worry about.

Greg escorted me into the lounge as I hung onto his arm like we were newlyweds. It was pretty deserted as apparently we were there well before the usual activities started. I didn't even see anyone at the bar. Off to the one end was some dude with his computer doing something and other than that the only other couples were two old folks sitting near the window watching the wake behind the ship and a foursome sitting off to themselves seemingly having a good time laughing and joking.

"Want to dance?" I asked Greg.

Greg didn't look exactly enthusiastic about my idea. "There's no music," he answered.

"So?" I responded smiling sweetly at him, "C'mon, let's have some fun."

"Fun" wasn't exactly the way Greg seemed to think when it came to dancing but then he'd never dance with me. Nobody seemed to be paying any attention to us as we centered ourselves in the tiny so-called dance floor. We assumed a classic dance position holding hands with my other hand on his shoulder and his on my back.

"Really?" I teased him reaching back and pulling his hand down, "You've been trying to grope me all night!"

Greg finally smiled as he planted his hand firmly on my butt. "You have such a sweet ass," he said softly as he gave it a squeeze.

We just kinda shuffled around but it didn't matter as dancing wasn't really on our minds. I pressed in tight against him with my head into his shoulder as he continued to rub and squeeze my butt.

"You know, I didn't pick this dress out so you would rub my bottom over the top of it," I tried to hint.

At first it was like he didn't get it but it seemed he wanted to check out the "crowd" before doing anything so blatant. Like who cared? Not me, that's for sure. It wasn't like we were surrounded by kids this time.

Finally! I could feel Greg shifting to slip inside the side of my dress until his warm bare hand was on my hip. He just kept it there for what seemed the longest time until slowly - and I do mean SLOWLY, he inched it under more and around to the back. Sheesh, I felt like a teenager again being felt up in a guy's car by some horny teenage boy afraid he was going to get shot down if he moved too fast. Back then I never told them to stop and some things haven't changed in the fifteen years or so since.

"Mmmmmmm, that feels good," I murmured into his shoulder as he cupped my buttock in his hand. Funny I guess. For someone who simply HATES anal sex, I LOVED my butt to be touched and played with. So long as a guy stayed away from my asshole he had free rein so far as I was concerned.

"Amelia would kill me if I ever did this with her."

I wiggled my bottom just a little and replied, "Well, I'm not Amelia, am I Greg?"

Greg chuckled saying, "No, that's for sure!"

"I bet she wouldn't do this either," I said reaching in between us and rubbing his crotch with the palm of my hand.

"You can say that again," he sighed, "Maybe we should go back to the room now."

"Later," I said firmly this time, "But not until I get what I want."

"Oh?"

I wasn't about to tell him what I wanted. Heck, if he couldn't figure THAT out with the way I was gripping his now erect dick in my hand through his pants then there was no hope for him. I reached my hand around and started to pull down his zipper.

"Kelly!" he hissed at me, "People can see us."

"Exactly," I giggled as I started to explore inside his pants. He started to tug at my hand but I fought back. "You know, the more of a scene you make the more people will wonder what's going on. Just stay in close to me."

"Oh fuck, I can't believe you're doing that," he groaned as I finally wormed my way through his open pants and underwear until I had my prize in hand... literally!

"I love holding your hard dick in my hand while we dance Greg," I cooed, "This is so beautiful... the ship, the ocean, your hard cock..."

"Can we at least take a seat?" he asked with a hint of desperation. Well, he certainly was no Steve, that was for sure! My hubby would have been egging me on rather than trying to go hide.

"Whatever," I sighed, pulling my hand out.

Greg led me over to a circle of chairs as far away from everyone as he could find. I could still hear the laughter and carrying on although from this distance it was hard to really see what they were doing. I guess that was Greg's thoughts as well. Oh well, half a loaf is better than none, right?

"Now where was I?" I giggled as I reached over and found his cock again. It took a little work, especially since he didn't seem to want to help, but I was finally able to free him enough to get maybe half his cock poking out. Greg kept twisting his head around keeping an eye on everyone but apparently nobody was paying us any attention. Well, his big head might be all worried but his little one certainly didn't care. Mmmmmmm, he was so nice and hard!

"Do you like it when I stroke your cock Greg?"

Greg rolled his eyes. "Of course... it's just insane to do it here though."

"Why? I think this is the perfect place," I countered, "But then, any place is perfect when it comes to sucking a man's dick, don't you agree?"

Before he could react to what I was implying, I was on my knees between his legs working on his cock with both hands, pushing down his pants to expose as much as I could without unbuckling him. While I might like a little fun I also know how far to go. Well, usually I do, LOL.

I quickly too his dick in my mouth and I felt him jump at the contact with my tongue on the head. Then I let it out and licked up and down along the side, my eyes looking up at his and I tried to smile best I could while my tongue ran along his shaft.

"Oh my god," he sighed, shifting his weight to slouch down which allowed me better access to his horny cock. Yep, right on schedule as the little guy was taking control from the big one.

My biggest fear was he would cum too soon and spoil everything. At Greg's age it wasn't like he was a teenage boy with the recovery rate of an Energizer Bunny. If I got careless and overdid things then we WOULD be heading back to the room!

"Ever get a blowjob from Amelia in public?" I asked naughtily as I kissed the tip of his cock.

"Shit, just GETTING one is hard enough," he groaned as I took him back in my warm mouth. "I thought this sort of thing only happened in porn movies."

That made me giggle which must have felt good to him given his dick was still engulfed in my mouth as he jumped a little. Ooops! Not too much as I had a better place for his sperm waiting for it. Obviously he wasn't going to last much longer so I accelerated my plans a bit.

"I want you to fuck me Greg," I said softly in a husky voice as I stroke his dick all slick with my saliva.

"Well, let's get going then!" he grinned, not understanding my intent. I guess that's the sort of mindset a man gets when married to a woman like Amelia. Well, Greg was about to learn what it was like to be married to a woman like me...

"Nope," I grinned, "I want you to fuck me NOW!"

"Kelly!" he started to protest but I wasn't having none of it. I stood up and did a quick check to make sure we wouldn't be TOO noticeable. Coast was clear - relatively speaking, so I pulled my dress to the side revealing to him my bare pussy as I climbed aboard the Greg Express. The chair was wide enough for my knees to fit and straddle him. As wet was I was at that moment he easily slid inside of me as I reached down to guide him while I dropped down onto his lap. Before he even knew what was happening I was sitting on his lap with his erection buried inside of me!

"This is crazy!" he hissed but his instincts betrayed him as he revealed his lust for me as his dick pressed up into me.

"God I've been wanting you in me all night Greg!" I sighed as I put my arms around his neck and kissed him. "Fuck me... Oh Greg fuck me!"

Other than our obvious position I doubted that anyone even close by would actually SEE anything as my dress covered my butt. Oh sure in front my bare crotch was exposed such that I could look down and see Greg's dick as it disappeared inside of me but that would be hidden from anyone else's view. It wasn't like I was riding a bucking bronco but the gentle rhythm of me riding his dick would have been a dead giveaway.

Greg's breathing and the expression on his face spoke volumes. Yep, he was almost there already! Again I couldn't help but compare him to the teenage boys I use to fuck, cumming so quickly the first time. Only thing with Greg though was instead of packing a loaded revolver he had a musket that was only good for one shot so I needed to make it count.

"Cum in me Greg," I whispered into his ear as I rocked my hips to draw him in and out of me, "Give it to me... give it all to me."

"OH!" he suddenly let out more loudly than I'm sure he would have liked had he been thinking straight but what man thinks at all when he's about to orgasm? The train was leaving the station and nothing was going to derail it now no matter what happened.

I could feel him bucking under me, thrusting his cock even deeper into me as he came. I closed my eyes, trying to imagine the tip of his dick so deep inside of me and the sperm that it was spewing out to fill me. Each time I felt him jerk I imagined another stream of his adulterous sperm shooting out like a firehouse as one load of his cum after another entered me.

"That's it Greg, give it to me," I moaned into his ear, "I want it all!"

"Oh shit," he groaned as he finished, his shoulder slumping as his head went back and he stared into the ceiling.

For a few moments I just stayed there, my bare butt planted on his lap with his now spent dick still within me. It felt so warm in me! Nothing make me feel more complete, more like a woman, more sensual and desirable, than when my body is coupled with a man's, my pussy no longer empty but filled as it was meant to be.

"Satisfied?" he asked as I felt him trying to lift me off of him. Typical man! Now that he'd cum who cares about the girl? I would have loved to just stay like this, our bodies blended as one trying to keep him in me as long as possible as he dwindled. Oh well, maybe I'd get more later if I was lucky.

"Oh you wanted it as much as I did," I teased him as I backed off his lap and stood up, straightening my dress back around me.

He didn't argue that time!

"So NOW can we go back to our room?"

"Well... only if you promise to fuck me again," I teased him as he zipped himself back up again.

Greg smiled as he stood and took my hand to lead me out. "Now THAT's a promise I can keep."

We kissed briefly and headed out. Just before we hit the ramp I heard clapping. We both turned around and saw the small group looking at us and applauding. Greg's face turned a brighter red than I would have thought possible.

"oh god!" he groaned.

"Hey, it's no fun if someone doesn't see us," I teased him.

"You're incredible Kelly," he sighed as we walked out, "Steve is a lucky man."

Speaking of which, I wondered how things were going with Steve and Amelia. Too bad they couldn't have been in the lounge to watch us! Maybe Amelia might have learned something about how to please your husband. Then again, if I knew my Steve he was probably giving her lessons right then.

By the way... Greg DID keep his promise!

6. Back Home

All in all I enjoyed the cruise, enough that I'd like to take another soon so maybe I need to work on my dad some more! Only next time it's going to be me with my REAL husband and someplace where we can do more wearing less clothes like in the Caribbean.

I'm not sure who was more thankful to have her real husband back - me or Amelia although I'm not so sure Greg wouldn't have minded extending our time together. Steve, on the other hand, was definitely ready to take me back!!!Once off the boat we pretty much split up and that was the last interaction we had. Given our normal policy is not to repeat even our usual one-night swaps with the same couple, a week was definitely more than enough for me. If anything, it made me all the more thankful we imposed that rule from the start even though there had been times when an encore performance would have been fun. Really, what's the point in having sex with the same guy twice unless he's family? It's not like there's any shortage of ready and willing dicks available. Like I've always said, any girl who can't get laid within thirty minutes simply isn't trying.

Surprisingly, we both pretty much slept on the lights home. With the time changes and spending weird nights without much darkness, we were both fairly exhausted. It was rather ironic that all week I'd been dreaming of being back in my husband's arms having sex and now that I had him to myself I just slept with my head on his shoulder.

I suppose it goes without saying that when we got home we made up for lost time! With the girls still with their grandmother until the next day Steve and I got to do what we hadn't in ages - fuck all night in our own bed with no interruptions! God I missed him!

Although we were supposed to pick up our daughters the next day, first things first. It just happened our first full day back was Sunday which meant church which meant spending some quality time with my dad beforehand. It was rare we missed a week but the last Sunday was unavoidable with our trip and all. So now not only had we missed a week but I also owed my dad a BIG thank-you for funding our cruise. Of course he had never stated anything about owing him a thing but there are just things you do out of simple respect and courtesy.

Fortunately I'd set the alarm on my phone or I probably would never have woke up in time. I had no idea when Steve finally ran out of steam (or sperm should I say?)

but it was late and thankfully very dark for the first time in over a week. As tempting as it was to hit the snooze I got out and showered as once I start down that road I'd be in bed another hour. It's not like I had a reputation for being early, quite the opposite in fact. All too often we ended up doing just a quick BJ or maybe squeezing in a quick fuck and then it was racing to church to get there before the first hymn was over. Today of all days I wanted to be early!

The shower felt good, especially getting my hair clean again. Steve had been extra horny last night, that was for sure. Usually he would cum in my pussy or at least on it, then maybe now and then in my mouth but he knew I really preferred not getting it all over me, especially my hair where it seems to be impossible to get out and even more so if allowed to dry. Still, there are times when he gets carried away and I guess I couldn't blame him last night. Heck, one week was the longest we'd gone with sex of some sort since we said our vows!

Soooooo, when Steve was ready to cum quickly when I started blowing him in bed, he insisted on playing macho porn star and jerked himself off to finish so he could shoot it into my open mouth. Ladies... things like this happen when your husband watches too much porn. The problem was that he got so carried he was jerking all over the place and cum was flying everywhere. A little on my tongue but the vast majority on my face, in my eyes, forehead, and inevitably in my hair. While I wiped most of it off my face with the sheet (Steve, ever the homophobe, refuses to kiss me if I have cum on my face or mouth) I still could feel it in my hair and I just knew it was going to be a pain in the neck sooner than later.

Well, several passes with my shampoo and conditioner and I finally got the mess out but the entire time I was muttering about how this was never going to happen again. Yeah and while I'm at it I may as well declare the sun will never again rise in the east. Still, a girl can hope, right?

While on the cruise I'd found a pretty sundress at a shop in one of the stops we made and convinced Greg to buy it for me. It made me smile to see him frown at the rice but then if you want to marry a slut then you better be ready to deal with the maintenance fees. Just ask Steve - he's always complaining to my dad about me being "high-maintenance" like he expects to get any sympathy from him after having raised me through my teen fashion years!

The sundress was a light peasant girl style in that it was strapless with an elastic top around my boobs that always appeared to be one slip away from falling down and letting my boobs pop out. Maybe I should have brought one size bigger but I actually liked the look. Of course I would never admit that I'd tested it out in the dressing room by bouncing hard up and down and the girls stayed home no matter how hard I tried to free them. Why ruin the suspense?

It was definitely not the shorted sundress I owned but then it wasn't exactly conservative either. It was just long enough that I could sit down without having to tug it down hard to keep it under my butt. With some of my shorter ones I could hardly sit down in certain places because unless I grabbed the hem and held it down as I sat the next thing I knew I could feel the chair seat against my bare bottom.

Not that I went commando or anything like that. First, the dress was just a little bit sheer. Opaque enough that inside it wasn't an issue but outside with the sun behind me it didn't leave much to the imagination. Second, I WAS going to church and while I'd never shied away from having fun at church, THAT was done in the proper time and place rather than flashing the pastor and any other guy with his eyes riveted to my ass. I suppose it comes with the territory as you get older in that you learn to be more respectful of others even when it's not what you WANT to do.

Often times when I was running late I'd just through a pair of panties or a thong ion my purse to put on after my dad was done with me since they'd just be coming off anyways so why waste the time? Yeah I know, it take two seconds to take them off but it just SEEMS like something unnecessary I guess more than anything. With what was looking to be more than twice the usual time we had most weekends I decided to surprise my dad and wear something under my outfit.

It was sort of like when I lived at home in that the only time I wore panties on a consistent basis was on dates. Actually those were also the only times when I wore a bra as well. My mom had told me before I started dating that guys love to see a girl in her underwear and more so, to take it off of them. Sure enough, as always (well, mostly always) mom was right. Oh sure guys fantasize about girls with no underwear but I could tell they were so much more turned on after undressing me than if I just dropped my dress and was naked.

Ready to go, I took one last look at my husband passed out on the bed. Hopefully he'd wake up and be ready to go when I was back from church. It was so strange not to worry about my girls and I missed them, even when my little angels WERE a bit of a nuisance. I smiled seeing Steve stretched out nude with the covers thrown off. After spending a week with Greg I was definitely ending up with the better half of the deal compared to what Amelia most likely had in her bed right now.

I gazed lovingly at Steve's limp cock, flopped over lying on a thick bed of male pubic hair. Mmmmmmm, I wanted to run my fingers through it and kiss his cock but I knew better than to tempt myself that way or I'd never make it to daddy's house...

"Daddy!" I cried out when I finally arrived after driving over to his house. He was waiting at the front door for me, evidently as anxious to see me as I was to see him.

"So how was the cruise?" he asked, even though I'd told him a lot when we'd talked on the phone over an hour while waiting at the airport the day before. Of course I hadn't told him EVERYTHING.

"It was incredible daddy," I gushed, "Thank you so much for letting me go!"

My dad smiled. Even though I was now in my thirties he still loved it when I called him "daddy". Once when I thought I was getting too old for such things I'd tried calling him by his first name. Whoa, I'll never try THAT one again! I was always his little girl, his baby, or my favorite, his little slut and I knew that wouldn't change even when I was in my sixties.

"Nothing's too good for my little baby girl," he replied cheerfully, hugging me close to him.

A couple hours later as I sat next to my dad in church my mind started drifting during an especially boring sermon. I squeezed my crossed legs together a little more tightly and felt the tingling sensation in my crotch I always feel after being fucked well. I'd wiped off most of his cum that was threatening to dampen my dress with his handkerchief on the drive over but you never knew what still make an appearance. Well, it wouldn't be the first time I'd stood up and had my dad walk behind me to try and hide the wet spot on the back side of a dress.

Sometimes you don't know how good you have it until you don't. A whole week without my dad or husband! Except for when I was away at school, I couldn't even remember the last time that had happened. Heck, usually I was counting the time in hours, let alone days and certainly not weeks!

Sitting in church was the perfect time to pray and be thankful for everything in my life. A loving husband, two perfect daughters, parents who loved me, a father who wasn't afraid to SHOW me his love, so many friends! Who could ask for anything more?

(Jul 22) Kelly's Diary is Back[13]

Dear Loyal Reader,

Every now and then my diary disappears and then reappears raising questions as to what happened. Usually when this happens it means I'm overly frustrated with the lurkers and pervs who seem to hang out at sites like this. When it comes to the lurkers, ASSTR provides its authors with reports of the number of hits for each posting and thus I know that 99% of the readers never contact me. Well, it takes a lot of work to write about my experiences and the only payback I get is the response of my "fans". The people I consider perverts are the ones who only want nude photos of me or free phone sex.

I made the mistake of mentioning in some diary entries about my daughter Mia. I was astounded at how many men seem to be interested in sex with a four year old girl! Not only does this not interest me, it's my own daughter for goodness sakes. At first I played along with some of them being curious about this sort of thing but it quickly became boring and repulsive. Hey, if that's your thing then fine. I just ask not to be part of it.

So one day in a fit I just blew up and deleted everything. We then went on a cruise with another couple and before I knew it ASSTR has deleted my account for "inactivity". My requests for reinstatement were ignored so I opened this new account.

So if I was so upset then why am I reposting them again? Well, it goes back to why I started doing it in the first place. Most people probably don't realize that I've always been extremely insecure. My struggles with my self-image go back to my middle school years, back when it seemed I was the only one in my group of friends who hadn't graduated from a training bra - albeit a theoretical milestone since I never even owned one but you get the idea. My parents were so concerned that they took me to a counselor who taught me coping mechanisms that helped me, some of which I continue to use today. One of the most effective has been to seek the attention of men which then serves to make me feel better about myself. Yeah, I guess you could say I was officially sanctioned to be a slut! It worked in that nothing boosts my ego and self-image like a guy wanting me so badly that he's willing to sacrifice everything - his marriage, family, girlfriend, even his job just to have me, even if it's only a photo of me in a dress or jeans. Matter of fact, it worked so well I still rely on it today for those days I am depressed and unsure of myself.

Getting such attention is pretty easy when I meet guys in person. Sometimes all it takes is just the right look, a smile, or a flick of  my hair to do the trick. Once he's on the line, a little bending over to reveal some major cleavage or up-skirt views and he's hooked!

In contrast, on-line it's a LOT more difficult as guys can SAY anything but who knows if they're telling the truth. I assume now after over 13 years of this they usually aren't. Thus I've come to rely on the old adage, "Dicks never lie!"  Hence my push for men to submit tributes as nothing backs up their words like showing me photos and videos of them masturbating, their hard dick shooting out their sperm all over my pictures - or that of whomever they are lusting for be it their daughter or another girl/woman in their family.

In the process there's one thing guys always seem to get wrong but I really can't complain - they're guys after all and so when it comes to girls they do most of their thinking with their little head. The reality is that I could care less about nude photos of your wife and daughter. Actually less than that - I don't want them at all, especially if your daughter is under eighteen!  I mean like give me a break. How many real father have nude photos of their daughter?  (OK, so I know of one!)  My immediate assumption in such cases is that they were stolen from the Internet so I could care less about them as they're just porn. Even worse, it tells me I'm being taken for a fool, scammed or worse - trying to entrap me thinking what I do is more than what I say which simply isn't true.

The thing to remember is that the only reason I'm on-line is to satisfy MY ego, not yours. For the women out there, my therapist was right ? this DOES make you feel better about yourself. So if that makes me sound selfish or self-absorbed then so be it. At least I'm being honest which is more than I can say for most people who contact me.

For me it's all about reality as the only thing I care about is if you REALLY feel about me the way you claim. Thus I usually start by asking for "normal" shots of your family as they tell so much more about them and your relationship with them. My favorite ones are wedding photos and family vacation shots. When it comes to photos, size DOES matter (or at least numbers). I mean like in this day and age of cell phones and digital cameras, who doesn't have hundreds of family shots?  Yet I still have guys who claim they don't have any or that they're "on the other computer", or that their hard drive crashed and they lost them all, or some other ridiculous excuse. C'mon... I have literally thousands of me and my family so anyone who plays such games is telling me that whatever web site or FaceBook page they stole them from doesn't have more to "share" with me.

Then there are those that that claim they only have nudes. Like give me a break - do you really expect me to buy that? The REALLY dumb ones send me porn site photos! Both my father and husband have massive porn collections so they can tell me instantly who has been stealing photos.

One more thing guys... pretending to be a woman doesn?t get you anything special. First, most men are so horrible it's easy to identify them almost immediately. Even some of the best "posers" trip up sooner or later so trust me, I've probably already met someone trying to use your line so don?t even try.

I don't expect guys to share with me without something from me in return but most guys never get a single photo of me because they won't share first. I NEVER initiate contact with anyone so sorry, YOU contacted me first so you share first. Of those that do get one, 99% of them will never see me out of a dress or jeans. As for the remaining 1%, most won't get more than maybe a sports bra or bikini shot. I've decided for my own privacy concerns that unless a guy is willing to be totally upfront with me and open up completely about themselves and their family, followed by tributes, then he isn't interested in me enough to earn a naughty photo.

Usually this process take months if not years of interacting with someone. This is because for security/privacy reasons I NEVER do phone calls or video. People complain but I don't care as both are WAY too easy to record and track. Thus please don't expect much if you're contacting me for the first time. Pushing me will only get you blocked.

So yes, Kelly's Diary is coming back! I plan to restore it slowly and use this opportunity to edit my stories as many were written a long time ago and as a teacher I cringe now when I see the spelling and grammar errors. Please have patience as this will take time! Also, people grip when I post too many at a time which I understand as I feel the same way when other like the Nifty folks do that.

If you want my diary to stay around this time then how about dropping me a line to at least show your appreciation? Even better, do a tribute to demonstrate to me that I turn you on and that you think I'm pretty and sexy. Tell me your REAL thoughts about your daughter (or whomever in your family turns you on no matter what age or relationship) that you've never confessed to anyone else. Maybe you could even do a tribute to them. Don't you think it's the least you can do in response to the hours and hours I spend sharing my life so you can masturbate about it?

Oh... one final note. My belief is that ANY fantasy is OK so long as that's all it is - a fantasy. Fantasies can be about literally anything and while I may not be turned on by yours, it doesn't mean you don't have the right to have it. On the other hand, it also doesn't mean you have the right to expect me to like your fantasy so please don't bother if you're into bondage, anal, scat, porn, animals or anything else I personally consider disgusting or disrespectful of women. Also, I do NOT trade porn so please don't ask me for nudes of me. When you've earned them you'll get them so asking for them it just makes me stubborn and you definitely won't get any.

Finally and most important... I especially want NOTHING to do with child pornography, not even the old-time favorite "topless in the bathtub" shots of your little girl. Sorry, the Wild West days of the Internet are a thing of the past and everything we do now is being monitored by Big Brother. Therefore to protect myself if anything of this nature is sent to me it will be immediately forwarded to the FBI so you've been warned!

Luv,
Kelly

(Aug 13) Chapter 285: The Seduction of Keith

Story codes: MF oral adultery
Keith (36)

OK, so this is something I've never done before... writing from a man's perspective. So does that make this a fantasy or a diary entry? My thoughts are that since it is based on real events that it belongs in my diary. Sure I've had to make up pretty much everything that Keith is thinking and feeling but for the most part his actions, at least those involving me directly, are accurate. In the end isn't that what matters the most anyways?

1. LBK (Life Before Kelly)

How did this happen? I've always been pretty much an ordinary guy, not some pervert or cheater. Pillar of the community and all that crap. Who would ever think someone like me could get caught up in something like this? Now my marriage, my wife, maybe even my job are in jeopardy and for what purpose? I want to blame her but to be honest, she only took advantage of my weaknesses.

Who is "she"? None other than Kelly, a married woman, mother of two, devoted daughter and dedicated volunteer at our church. Before our lives crossed my life was so much simpler.

Born 33 years ago as the oldest son of my conservative mid-west farming parents, I pretty much grew up in your basic "Mayberry" town where everybody knew everybody, Republican politics ruled, and 90% of our WASP neighbors attended one of the local protestant churches. I met my wife Megan in church youth group, finally getting the nerve to ask her out my junior year of high school. We were each other's "first" and so far as I know, "only" although I have no reason to believe Megan was ever with another guy.

I had my life planned... high school graduation, engineering college, then on to a comfortable middle class life in the suburbs with my wife, three kids and our dog living happily ever after.

Well, that never happened as wouldn't you know it, Megan got pregnant the summer after we graduated so there went my college plans. What can I say? We were both stupid and didn't use birth control so sooner or later it was bound to happen but at that age we thought we were invincible and somehow it could never happen to us. After all, we were the "nice" kids and Megan wasn't one of the school sluts although THEY never seemed to get pregnant!

What choice did I have? We got married less than a month after Megan found out and then wouldn't you know it but she lost the baby! Maybe I should have tried to annul the marriage as after all, I never even formally asked her to marry me, we just did what had to be done. In my family thought that sort of thing just wasn't done so we stuck it out.

Ryan was our first born followed by Molly after which I said enough was enough and got a vasectomy. Two kids was plenty when you struggle from paycheck to paycheck. Working for the local construction company paid OK - when there was work but not as much as I'd dreamed of making before I was forced to marry Megan. OK, so maybe nobody literally put a gun to my head but I could never have shown my face in town again if I hadn't so isn't that the same thing?

When the construction firm went belly up I was forced to look for another job. The economy in our part of the state was going to hell so we ended up moving to where the work was, in this case Pittsburgh, PA. It was new for us all and we did our best to fit in. We moved into the city of Mt. Lebanon on the south side, known for its outstanding school district and equally outstanding school taxes. Still, the kids were unhappy enough as it was having to leave their high school friends behind but at least they were just getting started and not having to deal yet with missed proms and graduations.

We immediately joined a local Presbyterian church which was maybe five times bigger than our church back home. While Megan was concerned about being lost in the crowd, we were both excited about the youth programs as well as the various opportunities for small groups and other social activities that would hopefully help us fit into our new home. Little did I know just what I'd be "fitting" into before all was said and done.

2. Innocent Church Girl or Slut?

With Ryan being a sophomore and Molly a freshman, they both joined the high school youth group. It met on Wednesday evenings which just happened to be at the same time as Megan's women's bible study. I think the two groups deliberately overlapped to allow for the moms to bring the kids and then not have to leave and drive back later to pick them up which is exactly what worked out for Megan and the kids.

One night Molly wasn't up to par so she asked me to take the kids. It was about a 20-30 minute drive so I figured it just made sense to hang around rather than drive through the crowded streets of the Pittsburgh south side. Turns out I wasn't the only dad finding a seat in the meeting area outside the gym where the kids met. Several guys I'd met casually during services and such were also doing penance, most of them engrossed in their cell phones.

At one point the kids all poured out to head to the parking lot for some game they were going to play. It was a herd of buffalo passing though! The leaders tried to maintain some semblance of decorum while they were still in the building with little to show for their attempts. I was about to go back to my e-mails when I looked up and drew in a breath. Whoa! Who was THAT? Most of the leaders were parents so about my age or even older as well as a couple of college kids attending local universities but one girl stood out. At first I thought she was one of the students being about the same height and weight as most of the high school girls. She was even dressed pretty much the same in short shorts, a tight-fitting cami and sneakers with no socks. If anything though, her shorts were even tighter and skimpier than the others and that cami looked at least one f not two sizes too small the way it hugged her breasts. She was either not wearing a bra or it was the thinnest I'd ever seen as there were no lines and her nipples were just visibly outlined. It was then I saw how she was trying to corral the kids that I realized she wasn't one of the students but rather one of the leaders. Wow, they allowed leaders to dress like THAT? I was starting to like this church even better!

"Kelly."

I wasn't sure who said that but I instinctively averted my eyes from her ass and looked back down at my phone, trying to appear as if I hadn't noticed anything.

"Her name is Kelly is you wanted to know."

I looked at the guy closest to me who was grinning as he nodded towards the most perfect ass I'd ever seen leaving the building.

"Not sure what you mean," I lied defensively.

The guy laughed and smiled at me. "Don't worry, every guy gets that look on his face the first time."

"First time?"

He reached out with an outstretched hand. "The name's Roger. Welcome to Wednesday night with Kelly."

I shook his hand and introduced myself. "Sorry, what do you mean?"

"I've been attending this church since forever and I still can never get enough of that sweet piece of ass," Roger sighed glancing toward the door which was now closed. "Why else do you think most of us hang around here every week?"

He looked around and the others were listening and nodding their heads.

"Biggest cock teaser in the church," one of them muttered.

"Biggest SLUT you mean," another countered.

"Hey," Roger cut in, waving his hand, "All rumors, nothing but rumors."

"Not from what my son tells me," one of the older ones argued, "He claims she was the biggest slut in her class back in high school. Fucked half the class from what he heard - and not just the boys."

"Naw, I heard her cousin had THAT honor," another guy who'd been silent until now added.

I was flabbergasted that these guys could all be saying such things openly in the middle of a church about anyone, let alone one of the leaders of our kids' youth group.

"So what's the story then?" I asked no one in particular.

"Ok... she's maybe 30 or 31, married to the luckiest prick in the world, two kids - can you believe it?" Roger ticked off on his fingers, "Teaches at the middle school."

"Thirties?" I asked rhetorically. No way, she didn't hardly old enough to drink legally!

"Yeah, it should be illegal to have a wife like that," Roger chuckled. Then he wagged his finger, "Just don't let your wife catch you eyeing her sweet ass again. From what I've heard she's just a major tease but good luck convincing your wife of that."

"I don't know about that," someone responded, "From what I heard she was the reason for Bill's nasty divorce a few years ago."

Roger shook his head. "I don't buy it. Who would approach her? Her husband may have his own wandering eyes but her dad watches over her like a hawk."

That sounded a little odd which must have been signaled by my expression so Roger explained.

"What I meant was that she and her dad always attend church together. Apparently hubby isn't a big church fan, chases a few skirts supposedly himself. Just saying if anyone tried to make a move on her that her father would probably cut his balls off!"

At that point the discussion digressed into a comparison of notes regarding Kelly's various outfits and which ones showed off the most of her assets. By the time the kids came back in I found myself eagerly waiting to get a better look at this woman of whom the entire conversation had dwelled for the past half hour.

I almost missed her as she was mixed in the middle of the boys. Damn, I couldn't believe anyone would dare to wear shorts so tight and cut so high to a church youth group meeting. Any higher and her butt would be spilling out! This time her nipples were definitely more defined, poking through the thin cami that wasn't hiding anything. I could just imagine if Megan was here now, she would have had a fit that our daughter's leader was setting such an example. Megan would have Molly dressed in a heavy sweatshirt in the middle of summer if she could get away with it and shorts had to be at least mid-thigh to get her approval.

To my embarrassment Kelly glanced my way, catching me red-handed staring at her. She just smiled at me, flipping her hair back over her shoulder in almost a suggestive manner although that was most likely a product of my over-worked imagination. A few seconds later and she was out of sight.

No doubt about it, I was in love! Or maybe better said, I was in lust! I'd never cheated on Megan and honestly had never even seriously considered it but I'd have to say at that moment my resolve may have weakened given the opportunity. That night after everyone had gone to bed, rather than checking out some porn on my computer to masturbate with instead I closed my eyes and tried to imagine those tight white shorts slowly dropping. Did she shave or trim? Was she even wearing anything underneath? My dick erupted as I came imagining fucking her, the thin camisole pulled up exposing those perfect breasts with her nipples hardened as I drilled her deep, releasing myself deep within her. Slipping into bed next to Megan I felt a little guilty yet at the same time I just couldn't get that cute sexy smile out of my head.

The next day at dinner I asked the kids how they liked the Wednesday night program. As usual, I got a couple of shoulder shrugs and "It's OK," which from those two could have meant anything from incredibly boring to the most monumental adventure ever. Teenagers! I tried getting a better response by asking how they liked the leaders, hoping maybe for more information about Kelly but this time all I got were eyes rolling like, "Dad, why are you even bothering to ask?"

Trying a different tact, I asked Megan about her women's bible study - more specifically who was leading it.

"It's pretty good, we share a lot - Christian version of gossip, right?" she laughed. Then she added, "Kelly and Lyndsey are taking turns leading it this year. You probably saw Kelly helping out with the kids as it was Lyndsey's turn this week. Why do you ask?"

"I know why," my smart-mouthed son snickered.

Megan looked at me and then at our son and frowned. "I was trying to be civil," she said with ice in her tone, "I guess some women can't grow out of their high school years."

I looked down at my plate, trying not to say or do anything that might betray my thoughts at the time but it didn't help as once Megan got on a rant there was no stopping her.

"Personally I think it's outrageous the elders don't say something to her. I mean the way she flaunts herself in those outfits and flirts with the men - married ones at that. It's a disgrace that she's allowed to mentor young girls."

The table was silent for a while and then we moved on to another topic but the message came across loud and clear - Megan didn't like Kelly and we'd all better stay clear of her if we knew what was good for us.

So THAT was a topic I'd never bring up again! Little did Megan realize was that her outburst just made me all the more curious. Guess I'd better keep a closer eye on this Kelly from now on. Oh yeah, twist me arm just a little more... OK, I'll do it!

3. Old Enough to Know Better

Over the course of the next few weeks and months "watching Kelly" sort of became a hobby of mine. Albeit the only hobby where you go home afterward and jerk off but it was rewarding in its own way to say the least. I had to be careful whenever Megan was around as she would watch me like a hawk when Kelly was anywhere in sight. We never discussed Kelly again but the huffs and eye-rolling told me plenty when Kelly would come to church in a short sundress that was almost transparent in the right light. Then there was the youth swimming party where she showed up in a bikini blatantly flaunting the un-written rule against "revealing" attire. Not that any of the male chaperones were about to say anything and the women just huddled and whispered snarky comments.

Over time I tried to get a little closer to her without being overly flirtatious, just saying hello and thanking her for her work with the youth, that sort of thing. Always innocent. Kelly always rewarded me with a sensuous smile and a twinkle in her eye that I hoped meant she was pleased... pleased enough to suck my dick in private later, at least she was when I would masturbate thinking about our encounter later.

Using my kids as camouflage I sneaked a few photos of Kelly now and then under the guise of capturing Ryan and Molly at play or with their friends. Somehow the camera would sometimes miss a shot and instead focus on an incredible ass or deep cleavage. Funny how it always seemed that Kelly was just in the wrong spot at that moment to get in the photo instead of the kids. Those nights I'd make sure the photos were off my phone and stored on my secret thumb drive that I kept hidden in my work bench. After a few months I had quite the collection for use when I'd fantasize about being with Kelly as I jerked off. One of my favorite "go-to" jerk-off fantasies was Kelly leaning over to show something to Molly. In my perverted mind Kelly would be wearing a loose top that already hung open to show most of her boobs. Somehow I would capture the perfect moment when it dropped and be rewarded with almost an unobstructed view of her boobs all the way down her top! Just another half inch and I'd have had those nipples that always seems to be popping through on their own.

One thing I noticed was that I rarely saw Kelly's husband. In fact I don't think I ever saw him in a Sunday service and it was only a few times when he'd pick her up on Wednesday nights that I even got a glimpse of the mystery man. On the other hand, come Sunday mornings she was practically inseparable from her father, sticking to his side like glue. It was the subject of much discussion how they always seemed to arrive a few minutes late to service. Usually their arrival came during the opening hymn as if they wanted to be sure everyone there saw them as they took their seats. From the remarks I'd gleaned from some of the old-timers it wasn't anything new as apparently she'd be a "daddy's girl" back as far as anyone could remember. My wife's comment about women who can't grow up came to mind. What can I say? Heck, if MY daughter looked and dressed like Kelly when she was in her 30's I'd escort her alone to church in a heartbeat! Her mother was never with them though, something about a divorce from what I'd overheard Megan saying one time. Wow, talk about your male fantasy machine at work... divorced father, hot daughter... the things that come to mind (and dick) are simply too crazy to be true but what if they were? Oh well, it made for a few good masturbation sessions.

As my "hobby" continued, I'd watch the other husbands at church and take solace in their unfulfilled fantasies of Kelly. At least I want the only one dreaming about the unreachable star. Even so, I just hoped I wasn't as obvious and looked so pitiful as some of these guys who couldn't help but turn their heads and stare as the best ass in church made its way past them.

At time I would fantasize I was Kelly's father. I'd see Kelly arrive to church, five minutes late as usual, holding hands with her dad as they found a pew. My dick throbbed as I took in the shape of her bare legs - no need to wear hose when your legs were as tanned and smooth as hers. Did she have any tan lines? Was she wearing panties under that short pleated skirt? Was her pussy dripping with her father's cum after having just fucked him in the parking lot which is why they were late? Oh yeah, I had quite the fertile imagination when it came to Kelly, most likely a product of too many nicest porn sites!

It was like I was some high school boy in heat to lust for a girl in this way - more like a woman in Kelly's case. For crying out loud I was in my thirties now, old enough to know better. Girls like Kelly never fall for guys like me. Oh sure they tease and flirt but you can see it in their smiles that they're enjoying the reactions more than any sense of actual desire - on their part at least. Old to know better but still young enough to not care, that was my motto.

The nights when Kelly would lead the women's study sucked, putting it bluntly. You could almost feel the disappointment in the air when my group of guys would learn that she wouldn't be putting on a show for us, at least not until everyone was heading home when we might get a brief glimpse. Plus then I had to worry about being caught by Megan. She wasn't a dumb blonde by any means and I already heard enough griping about how Kelly was dressed that night or what she would wear to church. It may have been my imagination but sometimes I would get the idea she wasn't griping so much about Kelly as watching to see my reaction to her running commentary. It was like walking a tightrope as she would've been even more suspicious if I tried acting as if I never noticed anything. Still, I couldn't agree TOO much or then she was question why I'd been looking enough to be able to make such an evaluation.

4. Kelly Weaves Her Web

OK, it was just my imagination working in overdrive, my dick taking control, a classic "Dear Penthouse" moment or whatever. No way had Kelly actually flirted with me. Or had she?

I was watching the girls playing basketball in the gym one Wednesday night. Molly wasn't exactly WNBA material to be sure but I tried to cheer her on and encourage her. Kelly was acting as one of the coaches who also served as referees, sort of a conflict of interest but it wasn't like they were even keeping score. What happened next was totally my fault and totally embarrassing. But no court in the world would convict me - so long as my wife wasn't the jury foreman.

It was those damn shorts again. Well, not the exact same pair but obviously from the same rack. Black this time instead of white but just as tight and every bit as short, maybe even a little bit more so. When Kelly would bend over to grab the ball her butt cheeks would briefly poke out - not for long but an eternity for the men like me begging for another ball to go out of bounds. And then when she would trot along the sideline to keep up with the action. No way could she have a bra on, not the way her breasts bounced and jiggled. I must have sort of zoned out imagining my hands on each side, forcing them slowly down and off of her, when suddenly it was like a train hit me in the head!

Turns out the train was an errant basketball and fortunately it hit me on the side of the head and not directly on my nose. Still, it was enough to sting and I shook my head to clear the ringing... or at least tried.

"Are you OK?" I heard an angelic voice ask. I opened my eyes and right in from of me was none other than Kelly, my fantasy girl extraordinaire.

"Sorry, I guess I should've been watching closer," I started to apologize as she tossed the ball back and the action resumed. Rather than turning back to the game though, Kelly stuck with me apparently to check to be sure I was OK.

"Maybe if you had been watching the GAME as close as you were watching my bottom you would've seen it coming," she accused me teasingly.

"Uh... Uh...," I floundered, embarrassed now at being caught. Oh crap, it was fun so long as she didn't see me but now I felt like some perverted stalker.

"Oh it's OK... I really don't mind," she went on with a giggle almost like Molly would have done. "Sort of a compliment if you ask me."

"Really, I wasn't staring at your...," I caught myself before I called it her ass, "At your bottom."

Kelly's eyebrows raised and she smiled seductively - at least if you ask me it was seductive. "Don't worry, I won't tell your wife if that's what's bothering you. Like I said... to me it's a compliment when you look at me that way."

From the tone she was apparently trying to let me know that this wasn't the first time she'd caught me staring at her assets. I couldn't help but blush, feeling every bit the shame of a sixteen year-old caught by his mother jerking off in the bathroom.

"If you'd ever like to see more of it, just ask, OK?" she said almost like an afterthought as she smiled and then turned back to the game.

My eyes widened. Did she really say that or was my dick driving my imagination yet again? Even if she had, what exactly did she mean by it? Well I can't say for sure what HER thoughts actually were I know what I fantasized she meant later that evening as I masturbated.

For some reason, and maybe again it was just wishful thinking or male hormones in overdrive, Kelly started flirting more openly with me, I mean more so than she did with the rest of her "fans". Nothing major, just a wink as she walked by, a little tongue running over her lips as she caught my eye. While Molly never mentioned anything, I was getting more status reports on her progress from Kelly - just quick comments about schoolwork, her outfits, nothing really major but enough to warrant a few sentences and then. Each time as she would finish she would give me that damn smile again, like she knew I hadn't been listening to a word she been saying. Funny thing... if that was true then she was right.

One time I was standing off to the side trying not to look too obvious as I watched Kelly working with the kids. During a break she made it appoint to stop by, something I was starting to look forward to more and more.

"Molly's shorts are getting a little tight on her, don't you think?" Kelly commented as if she was mentioning the weather, "But I don't suppose you've noticed, have you dad?"

She grinned as I turned various shades of red. Like where had THAT come from? True, now that she mentioned it I could see that maybe it was nearing time to retire Molly's wardrobe as she'd be on a bit of a growth spurt lately - and more than her legs were involved if I was being honest. Still, I left that department to Megan as now way was I going to say anything about my daughter making her way through puberty.

"Just curious," Kelly continued when I didn't respond, "Would you say you're more a boob or an ass man?"

I almost choked on that one! Maybe that might be something a drinking buddy might ask after a few beers but a married woman - and not my wife, bringing up such a topic wasn't exactly something I was prepared for, especially in the middle of a church gymnasium!

"If you don't want to answer that's OK," she said off-handedly, "But I'd guessing you're into girl's butts, am I right? Either that or you don't like my boobs."

Why not just ask me when I'd stop beating my wife? No right answer - only minefields no matter what I said. Yet I couldn't say nothing... could I?

"Your boobs... I mean your breasts, are incredible too Kelly," someone said and then I realized that someone was ME! Oh god, had I really told her that she had great boobs, like really straight to her face?

"Why thanks, I'm glad you like them!" she answered happily, grinning at me as she moved off before I could say anything even more ridiculous for a man my age and marital status.

Once the barn door had opened it was like the horses kept trotting out. I wondered if it was just a game for her, just something to tease some poor married father who'd been caught red-handed with his hand in the cookie jar. Well, maybe I was WISHING my hand was in it but I'd certainly been caught staring at it and now it was like I was paying the price. It got to where she'd pass by me two or three times a night, dropping a teasing comment about her ass or tits although she never called them THAT, just her "bottom" or "boobs". I was masturbating almost every day now imagining her next "fly-by". My porn collection was almost forgotten as visions of a nude Kelly filled my thoughts when I was jerking off.

She seemed to be having fun at my expense, there was no doubt about that. At one point I almost felt a little anger. I wasn't just some teenage boy available to be taunted by the school cock-teasing slut. I had at least a little self-respect, didn't I? Maybe not as much as I gave myself credit for though as I certainly never allowed my frustrations to come forth and discourage Kelly's little game.

"Can you help me get something for the snacks tonight?" Kelly asked me one night. Yeah, like I was going to refuse? I followed her down to the end of the hallway to a storeroom I'd never noticed before. Looking around it seemed more like a janitor's closet than a food storage room.

"What did you need help with?" I asked, being serious actually as I looked and saw nothing but boxes of toilet paper, napkins and paper towels.

"Do I make you horny?" I heard behind me, not really realizing I'd even turned my back to her as I scanned the shelves.

"Huh?" was my instinctive response. OK, so not eloquent but she caught me by surprise yet again. Kelly seemed to have quite a knack for doing so it seemed.

I turned and saw Kelly leaning back against the door which she had somehow shut without a sound. She was standing on one leg, the other bent with her foot against the door as were her hands to her side. Then I noticed her shorts and it wasn't just to admire how they form fit her bubble ass. The top button was undone with the zipper down maybe half-way. Even better, nothing was visible but bare skin through the opening.

"I just asked if I made you horny," she repeated softly, "Do you masturbate about me when you go home after church?"

"What are you doing Kelly?" I responded automatically, as I'd been "trained" to do after over thirty years of being raised in conservative WASP neighborhoods. It was OK to LOOK, well, so long as you didn't get caught being overly aggressive in doing so, but not to TOUCH. Window shopping is OK but don't buy the goods.

"I know you do and it turns me on," she said in the most seductive voice I'd ever heard. It was like the siren call of old, luring me into a trap from which I could never escape if I followed.

"Kelly, I don't think we should be doing this," I tried to protest weakly, "I'm married... you're married..."

"Is that all you're worried about?" she grinned, "It doesn't bother me that you're married."

No mention of HER being married but somehow I was getting the idea that it didn't matter for her.

As I stood there like a statue, my eyes alternating between her open shorts, wishing she'd undo the zipper a little more, and those perfect boobs which now threatened to spill out with only a single button holding her blouse together. How or when the others had come undone I didn't have a clue!

"Well, if you ever change your mind you know what to do," she said suddenly, the seductive tone flipping to dead pan flat instantly as she buttoned her blouse and did he shorts back again. She opened the door and then it was back - that sultry smile and tongue sticking out just barely between her lips as she wet them.

And that was it. She was gone and I was left standing in the middle of the tiny room with an all-to-noticeable erection threatening to burst through my jeans! No way could I return in this condition so I paced in circles as I tried to erase the image of Kelly all but asking me to fuck her. I mean, that IS what she meant, didn't she?

What an idiot! All this time I'd dreamed of just this very thing happening and then when it did I'd frozen like a teenage boy getting his first glimpse of a girl's bra - at least first time when a girl was wearing it. What if I had responded to her teasing properly, called her bluff? WAS she just bluffing or did she somehow know I would never have been able to respond given such a surprise with no notice?

Damn I was so fucking HARD! No way this was going down and it wasn't like I didn't have enough napkins available so I shut the door and dropped my jeans and underwear, leaning back against the door to make sure it stayed shut in case the lock failed. It was literally less than thirty seconds and I was shooting buckets into the napkins in my hand, soaking them with my cum as I imagined Kelly dropping those damn short shorts to the floor and turning to allow me to fuck her from behind.

Even so it took another few minutes before my swollen member dropped down to manageable size, the whole time I was almost shivering with fear that someone might try to come in and then wonder what I'd been doing inside with the door locked - all alone at that. Finally I made my way back and joined in the crowd, just in time as it was as everyone was leaving for home. Megan spotted me and joined me.

"Where have you been?" she asked, "We got out a little early but I didn't see you with the other fathers."

I mumbled something about taking care of business to which she took the hint and just rolled her eyes, saying something about TMI. It was an old fallback that never failed to end a conversation I didn't want to continue and thankfully it worked as well as ever.

Just then Kelly went by, totally ignoring me which was actually not a bad thing with Megan right next to me. Still, only a few minutes ago she'd all but stripped for me and begged me to fuck her and now it was like she didn't know me. OK, so a little exaggeration but that was my story and I was sticking to it.

"Oh for goodness sakes," Megan huffed, "Can you believe it?"

I pretended to have no idea what she was talking about but Megan wasn't buying it. "Don't give me that. Look, every man here is looking at her like moths to a flame," she griped, "I'd never let Molly wear anything like that even at home, let alone to church. It's disgusting."

"Well, you know dear, Molly's starting to outgrow a few outfits of her own these days," I tried to take advantage of an opening to change the subject. Out of the pan... into the fire...

"Since when would YOU notice?" Megan cut me off accusingly, "Dang it Keith, what's getting into you lately?"

I paused outside by the car as the kids jumped in and were out of earshot. "What the heck do you mean by THAT?"

Megan frowned and looked at me accusingly. "I'm not stupid Keith and I'm certainly not blind. You think I don't know what you do in the bathroom every night?"

"Oh give me a break!" I came back defensively. I quickly got in the car with the kids, effectively ending this line of conversation but something told me it wasn't to be the last of it.

Despite her words, I was so horny that I couldn't stop myself. When I thought she was asleep I slipped out of bed and locked myself in the bathroom. I was already hard as a pipe and quickly came as I dreamed of Kelly's ass being revealed as she slowly dropped those shorts in front of me. As I came I imagined my cock buried in her tight pussy, so much tighter than Megan's even though she had the same number of kids.

Slipping back silently in bed, I pretended not to notice when Megan shock my shoulder gently and then harder.

"Feel better?" she whispered sarcastically, "For your sake I hope so 'cause don't think you're getting the real thing again for a while."

I just stayed silent, figuring anything I had to say would only make things worse. If anything I was angry. So I wasn't going to get any, eh? Yeah, not like I was getting any as it was so what's the difference. I found myself thinking that I'd bet Kelly's husband never went two nights in a row without getting some of hers.

True to her word Megan shut me off. There had to be more to it than just a comment about our daughter's attire but what I couldn't be sure. Had she found my porn stash again? No, I was pretty sure that if she had the blowup would have been even bigger than the last time, especially since now it was highlighted by my photo album of Kelly. Did she have any idea of my lust for Kelly? Was that part of why she was so critical of her? Whatever it was it was just me and the one arm bandit for the next couple of weeks. It didn't help that for whatever reason not even Kelly was giving me the time of day. Was she mad at me for turning her down? Something told me not many guys ever turned down an open invitation from her.

All I knew was I was SO damn horny and none of the women in my life were doing anything to help. To my horror I was even starting to look at my daughter a little closer. She wasn't a Kelly, that was for sure but she WAS developing curves where they'd been missing before and I couldn't help but think that if she wasn't my daughter...

5. Crossing the Line

It was like being back at square one with Kelly. After turning her down she'd stopped flirting with me, at least stopped any of the more personal attempts and now it was just the usual general teasing she did for all the husbands in her fan club. God, it was like every night now I relived that moment in the closet, dreaming of how things might have been if I hadn't been so stupid. If only I could turn back the clock and be given another chance. I certainly wouldn't blow it this time, that was for sure!

Then one Sunday morning after the service Kelly became separated from her dad, something that almost never seemed to happen but he was caught up talking to someone about who knows what, leaving her standing alone just outside the door waiting patiently for him. She looked like an angel, her figure outlined perfectly in a white dress that hugged every curve and line of her body like it was spray-painted on. It was just plain white with no frills but in its simplicity it looked incredibly erotic. Either she wasn't wearing a damn thing under it or underwear technology had advanced into the 22nd century as there wasn't so much as a ripple anywhere that might indicate a bra or panties hiding underneath. She was just standing there, hands crossed as she held a small white purse that matched her dress and heels. I noticed a beautiful gold chain around her ankle and wondered who had given it to her... and why.

Megan had told me to go to the car and wait as she would be a few minutes late so with some time to kill and being horny as usual I figured what the heck, why not? Most likely had I hesitated my nerve would have failed and nothing would ever have happened but this time I wasn't going to fail, not again.

"Need some help with anything?" I asked her with a gentle smile.

Kelly looked at me as if she had x-ray vision, peering into the very depths of my soul as if she could see my every intention.

"I guess that depends on what you want to help me with?" she came back non-committal.

"I think you know," I tried to tease back but she wasn't having any of it. It was like she had given me a chance once and now that I'd blown it I was going to have to beg for another chance. Well, if begging would work I was game.

"Look, I know I messed up and I wanted to make it up to you."

Her eyes brightened just a little. "And just how do you intend to do THAT?"

I really hadn't thought this through, that was becoming apparent. I'd just assumed that since she had all but thrown herself at me once that all I would need to do was let her know I was ready and willing and she'd take me up on my offer without question. Guess that's what you get when you assume something.

"Dinner maybe?"

What the hell made me say THAT? I'd panicked and it just came out. How was I going to get away with taking her to dinner? In any case, why would she want me to take he n the first place? This was worse than the first time I tried asking a girl to dance!

To my surprise for the first time she really brightened up and smile. "Oh wow, that sound like fun! When do you want to take me?"

"First of all, it's Keith," I corrected her, actually more stalling for time as I had no idea whatsoever where, when, or how I was going to pull this off. I'd created quite a mess for myself and boy did I ever step in the middle of it.

"OK then Keith, " she giggled, "I accept. Text me."

I was about to say something about how I had no idea what her number was when her dad came through the door.

"Hi daddy," she greeted him, snuggling up against him more like her husband than a father. Lucky him I thought at first and then I corrected myself. Actually he had to be the most unlucky guy in church with her being so intimate with him yet at the same time being his daughter.

They walked away arm in arm as I was left wondering what the hell I'd gone and gotten myself mixed up with. Then Megan and the kids joined me and we left to have lunch at the local Eat 'N Park. It was hard to keep my mind on what everyone was saying as it seemed all I could think about was taking Kelly out to dinner. But dinner? In all my masturbation fantasizes going out to dinner hadn't played a part.

That night I was surprised when I felt Megan's hand reaching into my pajama bottoms. Without a word we made love, something we hadn't done in weeks now. Yet as I thrust into my wife all I could think about was what it would be like to have Kelly under me, to have Kelly moaning with lust for me to fuck her harder. After I'd finished I rolled onto my back and Megan snuggled up next to me with her arm across my chest.

"I missed that," she whispered.

"I love you," I answered, feeling like a total heel as I did as in my mind it was Kelly's perfect breasts pressed against me, it was her slim tanned leg draped over mine, her bare pussy (I assumed) pressed into my hip bone that I was thinking about as I said those empty words.

I'll never forget that moment. It was at that exact moment in time that I crossed the line. It was no longer just a jerk-off fantasy. It wasn't just fooling around acting like a teenager in heat stalking a pretty girl. I knew what I wanted then more than anything else in the world...

I was going to fuck Kelly.

6. Dream Come True or Nightmare?

First things first... how was I supposed to text Kelly when I didn't even know her phone number? Then it hit me. Duh! She was in the church directory. Of course whatever number in there would be her cell phone. Who even had a land line anymore? Certainly not anyone her age.

A quick look on-line to the church youth site and that road block was cleared. Next step - where? It couldn't be TOO far away as it wasn't like it could be an overnight trip yet at the same time I couldn't take any chances that somebody might recognize us. I gave it about a 24 hour grace period before Megan found out if that should happen. Searching around I finally found a nice Italian place that wasn't really all that far away yet small enough and tucked away in an out obscure location that the odds were miniscule we'd be seen by any one of consequence. Heck, I'd never head of the town myself, let alone recognized the name of the restaurant.

Hurdle #2 cleared. Next problem to address was when. I didn't want to wait too long, not after having finally taken the step of no return as I liked to refer to it now. Yet what excuse was I going to use? Good fortune must have been smiling at me when I looked at the calendar. Megan had entered a date for some women's conference in the north hills region along with hotel information. Somewhere along the line I'm sure she mentioned it to me but most likely I'd just let it go in one ear and out the other since it was probably another boring "men-bashing" conference. I wondered if she was planning on taking Molly? Hmmmmmm, sounded like something I might suggest if she wasn't.

That just left Ryan. It was a Friday night and so hopefully he might be going out with friends. Maybe even a date of his own if things were working out with this girl he'd been swooning over recently. In any case he'd be out late - hopefully late enough not to know, or care, about his father's whereabouts.

Plans in hand, I texted Kelly before I lost my nerve. I have to save hitting "send" was one of the most nerve-wracking yet erotic moments ever. No take-backs. Once it was gone it was irretrievable and I was committed. Probably a good thing as I'd be second-guessing myself from then until next Friday night!

The women were gone - Megan and Molly had left mid-afternoon for their retreat. Molly thought it was a GREAT idea when I suggested she go with her mom now that she was a big girl. Megan was concerned about the extra cost which normally would have put me in high alert as well but I was so gracious in telling them not to worry, or so they assumed. Nothing like getting major husband-daddy points for agreeing to something that allowed me to cheat on my wife!

As for Ryan, he had a date with his new girlfriend. Last thing I needed was for him to get home before me so I teased him about making sure he was home before mid-night. Teenage boys can be pretty easy to manipulate at times and my reverse psychology worked like a charm. I got back a, "Oh Dad!" and I knew he was out until at least 2:00AM now. Oh well, let HER dad worry about them getting in late.

It was finally 7:00PM and I was a nervous as a schoolboy on his first date. Was this for real? All I'd gotten back from Kelly as a simple, "K" for my text messaging efforts. C'mon, has it gotten so bad that people can't even take the time to spell out "OK" anymore or am I just showing my age?

After a shower I'd picked out a nice pair of khaki slacks and a simple white short sleeved shirt. For a brief moment I toyed with the idea of not wearing underwear but after trying on the slacks without them I felt totally weird so I ended up with a new pair of black boxers Megan had just bought me. A few years before she'd announced she hated me in my whitey-tighties and thrown them all out to be replaced by colored boxers. It took a while to get accustomed to "swinging loose" but I have to admit that I've grown to like them. A pair of brown loafers and socks and I was done. It's great to be a guy! Five minutes to dress, a little deodorant and I was ready to go. Megan wouldn't have even picked out her outfit yet, let alone finished with the ridiculous makeup and hair rituals.

Before I left I ran over everything in my mind and then I thought of something. Whew, almost blew it! I pulled out my phone and turned off the location services. All I needed was for Megan to get nosey and look me up only to find me someplace unexpected. It would be far easier to explain why my phone had unexpectedly changed its settings than to come up with an excuse as to what I was doing in a part of town we'd never been.

On the way I stopped at the bank and pulled out some cash from the ATM. Again, I may have been crazy paranoid about covering my tracks but I figured it was best to not have any credit card records from this evening. Even though I handled all the bank records such that the odds were she'd never notice, it would be just my luck something would come up to where we'd look at the account and then I'd have to explain the unexplainable.

Another close call... I was about to program in Kelly's address into the GPS as I wasn't exactly sure how to get there. The roads in Pittsburgh are the classic case of "can't get there from here". Nothing runs in a straight line! Just in time I pulled my hand away like my phone was on fire remembering that anything I entered would stay in the history - another thing to explain that couldn't be explained, especially if she checked to see what was at that address!

Without the aid of the GPS I made a few wrong turns but I finally found Kelly's apartment complex. After parking the car I realized this was one step I hadn't thought through sufficiently. Was she going to be waiting outside for me or did I have to go to her door like some boy on a date? If I had to knock then who would answer? Suddenly my stomach knotted. This was insane!

Not seeing her anywhere, I summoned the courage to walk to her apartment door. I stood there for several minutes before finally taking a deep breath and knowing twice. Damn! My worst fear was realized when the door opened and who should appear but Kelly's husband! Ummmmm, talk about awkward. Well, it was for me anyway. On the other hand Steve seemed quite amused at my discomfort.

"Hey Kelly!" Steve grinned and then turned and said loudly enough such that I was sure the entire complex could hear, "Your date's here!"

Steve turned back to me and offered for me to step inside. "She'll be late to her own funeral," he sighed, shaking his head. After he closed the door he grinned again at me and added, "So you're the guy who's going to fuck my wife tonight, eh?"

Can't say I've ever had THAT one tossed my way before! My face was burning with embarrassment and had I been of sound mind and body I would've run out the door and forgotten the entire evening. At first I thought he was taunting me or maybe just trying to get a rise out of me. Worse, maybe he was out to humiliate me? I just knew that had the tables been turned I couldn't see myself having a casual conversation with some older guy my wife was planning on committing adultery with that evening.

I hemmed and hawed which just got Steve to laugh as he slapping me on the back like we were old-time buddies. "Aww, just messing with you Keith... it IS Keith, right? Guess I'm getting older, just can't keep track of all her guys it seems."

OK, so NOW he was messing with me but at least he admitted it. Not that it made me feel any better. Was this like the price I was having to pay for the privilege of seeing Kelly privately? Yet again I was back in my younger days, waiting for Megan to some out while her father grilled me relentlessly. Just then I got a glimpse of Kelly as she scampered from what must have been the bathroom to their bedroom wearing what looked to be nothing but a small towel around her body.

"Be there in a minute Keith!" she called out from the bedroom where the door had been left open.

"Wow, she must like you," Steve chuckled, "Usually I would have given her another ten or twenty minutes before she was anywhere close to being ready."

He called THAT close? Nothing but a towel wrapped around her? OK, so now he'd moved from taunting me to being a used car salesman selling me a bill of goods. Oh this car was made just for you... She must like you... yep, they were one and the same.

"Look Keith, I'm sorry," Steve apologized, suddenly more serious. "Just remember one thing, OK? If she doesn't come home happy... well, you know."

I started to try to say something - what I have no idea but thankfully he didn't wait for an answer as he left me standing there finally alone. He disappeared down the hallway and turned into the room where I'd seen Kelly entering a few seconds earlier. From there it was like eternity. Remember what I said about men getting ready faster than women? Well, Kelly was making Megan seem like a speed-dresser. It seemed like hours but later when I checked out the time on the dashboard clock in my car I realized it was more like ten or fifteen minutes when finally she appeared. Thankfully Steve remained nowhere in sight. My god, she looked incredible!

"Hi Keith, sorry to keep you waiting," she greeted me, "Like my dress?"

Like it? I LOVED it! A pale blue sundress that had the initial appearance of being almost sheer yet somehow managed to barely hide what was underneath. Tiny spaghetti straps over her bare shoulders struggled to hold up the bustline enough to cover her boobs and even then I was guessing the clearance from the top of the material down to her nipples could have been measured in millimeters. No bra - that was apparent from the outline of her nipples through the smooth thin material yet it was amazing how perky they were knowing she'd had two kids. No sagging like Megan's. It hugged her torso and then her hips, ending in a hemline that seemed more appropriate for a figure skating outfit than a dress for wearing in public. My immediate thoughts were to wonder if there was anything under it but it did hang low enough to cover her ass and then a little more - although not much more!

Then there were her legs... oh my god! Perfectly shaped, tanned, smooth as silk without a blemish. Her matching blue heels were impossibly tall - how do girl even stand up in them? The effect on her leg muscles made her legs look even better

- if that was possible. She even had matching blue polish on her finger and toe nails. A simple gold chain around her right ankle, a similar gold chain around her neck with a small but exquisite diamond cross, large diamond earrings (they had to have set someone back a pretty penny!) and her wedding ring were all the jewelry she wore.

Kelly twirled with her hands over her head which had the dual effect of raising the skirt sufficiently to answer my initial question. Yes, she WAS wearing underwear if you can call her miniscule thong legitimate underwear. From behind you'd almost think she was wearing nothing as all there was were some thin strands around her waist and then down almost hidden within her butt crack. In front the strings met at a small piece of triangular pale blue cloth that matched the sundress. Either she was shaved totally or 99% as it wasn't hiding much, that was for sure.

"You look incredible," I somehow managed to croak out in a hoarse voice as she flicked back her blonde hair which was hanging loose over her shoulders.

"Thank you Keith, you're always so sweet to me," she replied moving in closer to me. Then to my surprise she threw her arms around my neck and pulled me down until she could kiss me. My arms hung uselessly to my side as her tongue almost immediately emerged and pushed into my mouth. I didn't know quite what to do having never intimately kissed another married woman before, let alone in the middle of her living room with her husband and most likely two daughters somewhere nearby.

"You know you CAN put your arms around me when we kiss," she giggled, reaching down and grabbing my one arm and pushing it behind her.

Somehow until now it had all been some kind of dream, as if it never was REALLY going to happen. As I reached around her slim body, wrapping my arms around her and pulling her in tightly against me, suddenly it all seemed VERY real. Holy crap, I was actually holding her and kissing the girl of my dreams, the girl I'd masturbated about so many times! At first I just kept my arms around her back but then as our kiss intensified it was like caution went to the wind and I reached down and grabbed her perfect ass, one perfect buttock in each hand. God she felt so good! Firm and round, almost like Megan's had been so very long ago only better.

"Maybe we don't even need to go out," she offered as we finally broke our kiss. At first I thought she was teasing me but from the look in her eyes I could see she was being quite real.

"But Steve... the kids," I stumbled.

"You kidding?" she giggled, "Steve would LOVE to watch and it's nothing the girls haven't seen before."

A bridge too far was how I'd always remember it although I admit now when I look back I want to kill myself for not taking her up on it. How was I to know it was a one-time offer? OK, so maybe somewhere along the line she'd mentioned the night would never be repeated but it must have gone in one ear and out the other as who would be listening to such trifles when she was so close?

"OK, then let's get going," she said, suddenly changing course. Without so much as a goodbye to her family we were quickly out the door and to my car. I started to go to my side as she approached the passenger door but then I noticed her just standing by the door.

"Forgetting something?" she asked innocently.

Either I was too nervous or just a moron. Whichever didn't matter as I'd already started the evening off wrong. Damn, how could I not have opened the door for her? I quickly moved around the car and opened the door.

"Why thank you Keith, you're such a gentleman," she said without a hint of irony as she lowered herself in.

The sundress immediately pulled up but she made no effort to do anything about it, acting as though she didn't even notice that it was now almost up to her waist, enough that I could see the small outline of her tiny thong between those fantastic tanned legs. As I made my way back to the driver door my eyebrows raised. Oh boy... what was I getting myself into?

It was about a thirty minute drive to the restaurant during which Kelly kept up a running conversation focused mostly on my wife and daughter. She asked what they were doing this evening, how they were doing in general, and generally the sort of questions I might expect from most anyone interested in my family life. Nothing TOO personal or intrusive but she did seem genuinely interested in them both. We talked about church and how Molly was doing in the youth group. I noticed the subject of the women's bible study wasn't mentioned much except to remind me that it was one of those things where people didn't talk about what was said. So much for getting the goods on what Megan was telling people about us.

I used the valet parking and noticed the eyes of the college kid fixated on my date's ass as she made her way out of the car. Kelly DID make a rather perfunctory effort to tug the hem down when she stood up, not that it made a whole lot of difference in terms of percentage of coverage of those fantastic legs and ass!

Inside we were quickly seated thanks to the reservations I'd made in a U-shaped booth. It was large enough to accommodate up to six people which gave us the option of sitting opposite each other at each end or scooting in to sit next to each other facing outwards. I allowed Kelly to sit first and waited before sitting on the opposite side to see where she would roost. It was all I could do not to do a fist pump as she worked her way inwards to sit inside, waiting for me to join her and take the adjoining seat which I quickly did.

"This is nice," she commented, her hand disappearing under the long tablecloth to rest on my thigh. The waiter handed us our menus and took our drink orders. I wasn't sure what to order, not knowing what her preference in alcohol was, only to be a bit surprised when all she asked for was a Diet Coke! So much for my mixed drink as I ordered an ice tea to match.

"You can order a drink if you want Keith," she told me, "I've just never been one much for alcohol."

I assured her I was just fine with my selection after which the waiter disappeared, finally leaving us alone.

Before I could say anything, Kelly turned to me with her hand still planted firmly on my leg, out of sight from us both under the white table cloth.

"So tell me Keith... when you masturbated about being with me tonight what did you imagine me doing at dinner?"

Oh boy! This was turning into a night with all sorts of new situations. First, she just seemed to assume I'd masturbated about this but I couldn't be upset as she was right! Then again, what normal guy wouldn't have? But to then ASK me about it... THAT hadn't been part of the fantasy. Really, how do you even answer such a question?

"If you don't want to answer that's OK Keith," she comforted me, "Was it anything like this though?"

I had just taken a sip of my ice tea as a stall tactic after her first question when she asked this one, moving her hand up my thigh at the same time until the palm of her hand was planted firmly on my crotch. Oh yeah... in my wildest dreams this was it except now I wasn't just dreaming as I jerked off in private!

"Hmmmmmm, I was hoping for a little more," she teased me with a pout, "Does this help?"

I could feel her tugging at my zipper as I glanced around, positive that everyone in the restaurant must be watching us but realistically nobody seemed to care about us. Thankfully so as I felt my zipper being tugged down until her hand tried to work its way inside. Suddenly I was regretting the choice of boxers. Damn, why had I worried about being comfortable?

With the boxers blocking her way, Kelly gripped my rapidly rising dick in her hand through the cotton material. For a brief, horrible moment I thought I was going to blow right then and there!

"Hmmmmmm, I think it likes this, don't you agree Keith?" Kelly said softly as she took a sip from her Diet Coke with her free hand as she gripped my all but fully erect dick in the other.

Wouldn't you know it but that was when our attentive waiter returned, checking to see if we were ready to order. I fully expected Kelly to pull her hand out of my pants the moment he appeared but while she stopped her gentle pumping action, there was zero attempt at withdrawal. Then again, I suppose if she had then it would've been even more obvious. Still, I felt the blood rushing to my cheeks as I turned my attention to the menu while Kelly's hand gripped me.

Somehow I managed to order the steak special. Really, at that point I could have just told him to give me anything so long as he just disappeared! Kelly ordered the fresh fish special - whatever it was as I wasn't listening too well and it didn't make any difference to me anyways at this moment.

As soon as he left us Kelly pulled her hand from my pants and grabbed her small purse which until now I hadn't even noticed. Where the heck had she been hiding that? Then again, if it hadn't been attached to her breasts or ass the odds were pretty good I would never have seen it.

"I need to use the little girl's room," she announced as she scooted her way out, leaving me with my pants undone and an erection as hard as a steel pipe. No way was I going anywhere in this condition!

I watched her beautiful ass gently swaying as she walked slowly away. Surely she had to know I was staring at it - along with every other male in the place from what I could tell. I sat there with my hands clasped above the table, my erection still throbbing under the table. Surprisingly, she was back in less than five minutes.

"Miss me?" she asked as she made her way back around the table next to me.

"What do you think?" I tried to joke.

Kelly reached down under the table again and did a brief check to verify my erection was still there before pulling her hand back out again much to my disappointment.

"Well, here's something in case you DO forget about me next time," she teased, reaching into her purse and pulling out a small piece of blue cloth.

"You might want to put this in your pocket before everyone sees it," she giggled as she handed me her thing. Damn! I quickly scrunched it up and thrust it into my jacket side pocket. As I did, Kelly bounced up just a little with her hands to her side and I could see just enough to know that her sundress was now pulled up to where there was nothing between her fine ass and the booth seat - not that there had been much to start.

"These seats are cold!" she giggled as she wiggled her butt. She looked at me in the eyes and added, "It doesn't bother you that I'm not wearing anything underneath my dress, does it Keith?"

"Well, not like you were wearing all that much before," I said trying to sound humorous.

"You can keep it if you want," she came back. At first I wasn't 100% sure what she meant which she must have seen in my expression so she added, "My thong silly... you can keep it if you want."

Married too long - my only excuse and defense as my first thought was where the hell would I keep them so Megan would never find them?

It wasn't long before Kelly's wandering hand was back in my pants. "Dang, don't these have an opening in front?" she said under her breath more to herself I think than to me. She seemed to be a little frustrated and yet again I cursed my decision to wear them in the first place.

"Ahhhhhh!" she sighed triumphantly as her fingers found their way between the sides of the elusive opening and I was finally treated to the feel of her small hand as her fingers encircled my rigid dick.

Between her trip to the restroom and the time it took to figure out my damn boxers, no sooner had her hand gripped me than our waiter appeared with a large tray and folding table to set it on. Again I expected Kelly to release her grip but now that she had me it was like she was more determined than even before to keep ahold of it. This time though I noticed our waiter taking a quick glance and I swear he allowed a smile to crack for just a moment. Yeah, he knew the score.

"Anything else I can get either of you?" he asked when everything had been placed in front of us, "More water, bread... maybe some napkins?"

If looks could kill the damn kid would've vaporized from the glare I gave him. Napkins indeed! I suppose he thought he was being quite clever. Kelly, on the other hand, took it all in stride.

"I'm OK for now but Keith... now that he mentioned it you might need some napkins soon."

The girl was outrageous! By throwing it right back at the waiter it was his turn to turn a bit red having his supposedly "cute" comment actually validated. The waiter excused himself after which Kelly laughed and gripped my dick all the tighter.

"Did you see the look on his face?" she giggled, "Well, I suppose we should eat now. I can always have dessert later."

She just grinned naughtily at me as she gave my aching cock one last squeeze before pulling her hand out. Just when I thought we were back to "normal" she put her hand to her nose and sniffed.

"Mmmmmmm, I LOVE the scent of a horny man," she whispered to me and smiled.

For the next twenty minutes or so we ate our meal and the conversation went back to everyday events and other generally mundane topics. I kept waiting for her to jerk me off. Even more so, I found myself recalling some of my masturbation fantasies, hoping she might find a way to crawl under the table and blow me with the table cloth providing cover. In my fantasy the waiter would check up on us and ask if she had gone to the lady's room after which I would just nod while her mouth engulfed me. Maybe I'd even cum right there in front of the waiter! Alas, there's a reason such things are called fantasies!

Our illustrious waiter checked in as we finished, asking if we wanted to see the dessert menu. If there was anything at that moment I did NOT want to see it was anything that would keep us in the restaurant any longer than necessary!

"No... I don't think so," Kelly answered as my response was delayed. She looked at me then and smiled before turning back to the waiter, "I think I'll have MY dessert when we get home."

She looked at the waiter and licked her lips seductively. There was no doubt in any of our minds what she was referring to, that was for sure!

"Indeed madam," the waiter nodded as he presented Keith with the check, "Some napkins to go perhaps?"

Now he was being a jerk but Kelly seemed to revel in the game. "No, that won't be necessary," she answered with a naughty grin, "I swallow."

Clearly the game was going out of bounds now for our poor waiter! He'd seemed so cocky up until then but he didn't have a comeback for Kelly's blunt retort. He quickly took the check and Keith's credit card and then hurried off without another word.

"You're incredible," I said for what must have been the hundredth time already that night.

"Cool! Did you see the look on his face when I told him I swallow?" she giggled. The she turned towards me and smiled, "Oh and I do by the way... swallow I mean."

"Well we'll just have to find out," I answered, suddenly feeling my oats a bit and trying not to appear to be such an old fuddy-dud.

The waiter returned and simply dropped off the charge receipt and card with a simple thank you and then hurried off. Evidently he'd met his match with Kelly!

"So now where?" she asked. I realized then I hadn't really confirmed my plans for the night.

"My place?" I asked, hoping against hope she wouldn't for some reason prefer some place more like a hotel room.

"Perfect..." she said softly, almost to herself than answering me. It made me wonder WHY it was so perfect but then I wasn't about to look the proverbial horse in the mouth, not tonight at least!

As I started to make my way out of the booth, Kelly giggled yet again. "Ummmmm, Keith..." she said, nodding towards my crotch. Damn, I was totally unzipped and with my dick still hard it was threatening to poke right out! It was then I asked myself had I ever gone through an entire dinner before with a raging hard-on the entire time? Not in my memory, that was for sure.

I noticed this time when she worked her way out from the booth that she was a little more attentive to her dress, tugging it down as she stood up. She must have noticed me watching.

"Well, can't exactly put on TOO much of a show here, you know?" she explained, "Unless you want to give me back what you have in your pocket. Some things only YOU get to see tonight".

At this moment was there a man in the world luckier than me?

*********************

As horny as I was, I pretty much expected the drive to my house to be about the same as the earlier drive to the restaurant but yet again I underestimated Kelly.

No sooner than the car was brought up for us and we were on the road than she was pulling up her hemline and exposing her bare pussy!

"You know I shaved extra careful for you tonight Keith," she declared as if it was perfectly normal for her to expose herself to another man and discuss her hygiene practices.

I was too awe-struck to respond so she just flipped the bottom of her sundress back down and turned to me smiling. "So how far to your house?"

I estimated maybe 30 minutes to which she replied, "I bet you can't hold out before we get there."

I started to ask what she meant by "hold out" but it quickly became apparent as she reached over the console and undid my slacks for the second time that night. This time she undid the belt first and along with it the top button making it easier for her to unzip me.

"I hate underwear," she murmured as she pulled the elastic band out from my belly with one hand as she reached inside with the other, searching for my erection hiding inside. Well, at that moment nobody hated it more than me!

"There!" she sighed triumphantly as she pulled my underwear down until my dick was exposed, her hand gripping it firmly about mid-way up the shaft. She looked at me and grinned. "I've been dreaming about this all day!"

With that she bent over and took me in her mouth. Oh my god, Kelly was sucking me! It was everything I'd dreamed of... and more. No matter how I might have fantasized about it nothing could compare with the actual feel of her warm wet mouth as it surrounded my hard cock while her tongue ran along the side and over the tip. In the first ten seconds she already was making me feel better than Megan ever had with her feeble attempt at pleasuring me orally. I think what made the real difference was that with Megan it was forced, never done because she wanted to do it. Kelly, on the other hand, obviously enjoyed sucking me!

"Oh god," I sighed, swerving slightly as my cock twitched in her mouth.

"Eyes on the road!" she reminded me, taking her mouth off of my dick just long enough to serve her warning.

At least twenty minutes before we got home. As for "holding out", well that was a forgone conclusion from the moment I felt her talented mouth on me. It wasn't a question of whether I'd make it not, just at what address along the way I'd be blowing my wad into her waiting mouth! It wasn't like she was taking her time either. If anything it was almost like she WANTED to make me cum as fast as possible. The way her tongue played along my shaft was impossible to describe other than it created the most erotic sensations I've ever felt with my horny dick. She didn't just suck my cock, she made love to it. None of this head-bob forever crap, not for my Kelly. She WORKED my dick, sometimes with it in her mouth, other times kissing it or running it between her lips as she made her way up and down my hard shaft over and over again.

Perhaps the most incredible sensation though was when she would press her head down and engulf me totally within her mouth, the first time in my life I'd been deep-throated. OK, so I'm not a porn star with a huge dick but it's not exactly all THAT small. I could actually feel it entering her throat, almost like I was fucking her pussy as it pressed into her. How she didn't gag I'll never know but she was good... DAMN good! Kelly would bury her face into my pubic hair, twisting so her cheeks and nose rubbed against my coarse pubic hair.

"Fuck I'm cumming!" I groaned, "You're making me cum!"

At this point in my usual masturbation scenario she would pull her head off my cock and look up at me, begging me to cum on her face and all over her tits before diving back down to finish me off. Well, she HAD said she swallowed, hadn't she? And swallow she did as I blasted into her mouth with her lips acting as a seal around my shaft, sucking me and literally pulling my erupting cum from my cock into her waiting mouth. I could feel her mouth moving as she swallowed twice to make room for the rest of my cum, never once relaxing her grip on my shaft with her lips to allow anything to escape.

When I'd finished she sat up in her seat and grinned at me. I pulled up to a stoplight at that moment and for once in my life I said a silent prayer to thank that the light was red! I turned to her and watched as she opened her mouth and stuck out her cum-covered tongue before closing her mouth and swallowing down the remainder. Then she once again exposed her tongue to demonstrate that it was now all gone - buried deep in her belly now.

"Mmmmmmm, now THAT's what I call a dessert," she said softly as she smiled at me, "And check it out... no napkins required!"

The light turned green and I was forced to pay attention to the road so I didn't even notice her until I felt her mouth on my spent cock again.

"Mmmmmmm, you taste so damn good," she sighed as she sucked on my dwindling shaft, "I could suck this all night!"

Well, if that's what she wanted... why not? Then again, truth be told I had someplace else I was hoping to fit my hard dick into before the night was over.

She didn't say another word as I drove the remaining distance to my house, never once taking her mouth off of me the entire way as she gently suckled my cock. Well, I'm not exactly eighteen anymore and as I drove I found myself worrying as to whether or not I'd be able to get it back up again any time soon. Maybe I should have taken up my doctor's offer of the Viagra last time I'd seen him?

In the end there was nothing to worry as I wasn't taking into account the effect Kelly would have on me after being accustomed to the lackluster love life I'd had all these past years. This was the first time in my life anyone had taken me in her mouth like this and I was pleasantly surprised at the results as by the time we reached my driveway I was already responding - and in record time!

"We're here," I announced as I opened the garage door remotely and then closed it after driving in so no none of our nosy neighbors would see who was exiting. Kelly didn't respond, instead she just kept sucking my cock like a calf nursing on its mother.

"Kelly, we're here!" I said a little louder this time with the car now turned off.

Kelly finally lifted her head and smiled at me, gripping my semi-erect shaft in her hand.

"Sorry, just was enjoying myself," she explained with a smile, "Can't blame a girl for that, can you? Like I said, I LOVE sucking cock!"

"Let's go in where we can be more comfortable," I offered to which she seemed to reluctantly agree. We got out of the car and entered the house into the laundry room from the garage.

*********************

So here I was, standing in my empty house with Kelly, the woman of my dreams. I looked at my watch. Damn, the night was going by so fast! It would take at least an hour to drive her home and get back and I didn't dare be gone if anyone came home. The girls were unlikely to come home but it was Ryan that I was concerned about. Not that he would ask me anything worrisome but I was more worried he might make some comment later the next day.. or week, or whenever for that matter which would make Megan ask me what he was taking about. No, I HAD to be home for good when he got back from his date and I couldn't assume he'd be out as late as I'd hoped. That left maybe an hour... one hour with Kelly when what I wanted most was to spend all night with her!

As much as I hated to admit it, she was probably right. Now that the subject had been brought to light I had a sneaking suspicion that her nasty prediction would be coming true. It was eerie how Kelly could manipulate me and it make me wonder for a moment just how far she could push me. Was there anything I would refuse her? Looking at her incredible body at this moment, I knew the answer.

We finally made it to the master bedroom where she quickly made herself at home atop the bed, stretching out on her side leaving her short dress no option but to pull up enough to allow me to get a glimpse of her bare pussy. Those incredible legs laid out in full view and yet again I marveled out perfectly shaped they were. God she looked so sexy! Oh yeah, there wasn't anything I was going to refuse her.

"So... are you ready to fuck me Keith?" she teased me, rolling over slightly such that her upper leg moved over the lower, effectively shutting off access to her crotch from my eyes.

In all the years I'd dated Megan and then throughout our married life, never once had she ever asked me such a question. It was always in some secret sex code or "nice" language like, "make love to me" or "let's do it". Never once would she be the slut I so wished she would be. Never once had she ever just come right out and asked me to FUCK her. Yet here I was now in our bedroom and within a minute of entering it Kelly had already said those magic words. Damn, I could only imagine what it must be like to be married to HER!

I started to move towards the bed but she sat up suddenly, swinging her bare legs over the side and standing up. Moving over to the dresser, she started pulling out the drawers as she searched for something. I had no idea what to say as she rummaged through my wife's clothing until she opened up the one with Megan's lingerie.

"Cool, this is what I was looking for," she murmured softly, rearranging everything. I panicked for a minute, knowing how particular Megan was about her things. Surely she would notice they weren't how she'd left them! What possible excuse could I give when she asked me about it? My worries were shunted off to the side though as she giggled and turned to me, holding up her prize.

"I like this one," she announced, holding up one of Megan's sexier numbers. It was a sheer black baby doll negligee I'd bought her years ago at Victoria's Secret, hoping it might rekindle some of the kinkiness in our marriage. She'd worn it once and promptly announced she felt like a whore in it and never wore it again. It was actually surprising that it was still in her drawer.

Kelly held the negligee up against her front, turning and looking into the mirror atop the dresser.

"What do you think Keith?" she asked innocently, "Want to see me in it?"

Personally what I really wanted to see her in was nothing but her birthday suit yet the idea of her wearing my wife's lingerie was creating all sorts of conflicting feelings and emotions within me. Oh yeah, I'd LOVE to see her in it yet at the same time it WAS my wife's so could I really handle seeing the woman with whom I was about to commit adultery wearing it? In the end it wasn't like I had much choice. Kelly didn't wait for a response but instead turned and disappeared into the master bathroom.

"No peeking!" she teased as she shut the door behind her, leaving me standing there somewhat flabbergasted.

So now what? Was I supposed to undress? If so, did that mean strip naked or leave on my boxers? In my mind arose images of a group of friends and neighbors all emerging from the bathroom yelling, "Surprise!" as I lay sprawled out nude on the bed harboring a massive erection in anticipation of fucking a woman who was NOT my wife. As crazy as it might seem, what if this all was some sort of sick joke my wife was pulling on me? I really couldn't imagine Megan ever doing such a thing but still, what if? The longer I stood alone in the quiet bedroom the higher my anxiety levels rose.

OK, so call me a coward or maybe just an idiot but I ended up just standing there like a marble statue, wondering what was taking Kelly so long. It's not like she had all that much to take off and how long could it possibly take to drop a simple negligee over her? It seemed like hours but in all fairness it was probably only a few minutes before the bathroom door reopened.

Oh... my... god!

Kelly looked like a sexual vision, one that couldn't possibly ever be real yet there she stood wearing nothing but my wife's sheer negligee and her jewelry... and her high heels of course. She just stood there, hands on her hips with one leg forward, knees bent ever so slightly, posing for me as she watched me to see my response.

"Well, what do you think?" she asked, breaking the silence as I couldn't say a word with my mouth dropped open like a fish out of water.

"You're beautiful," I gasped.

It was a dream come true. Oh sure I'd seen girls in similar outfits posing for the audience at strip clubs but I wasn't under any illusion that they had any real interest in me other than emptying me of the contents of my wallet. No, at this moment one of the sexiest and prettiest women I'd ever seen was standing before me wearing nothing but the sheerest and shortest of negligees, waiting for ME to respond, waiting for ME to fuck her!

"Do I look better in it than your wife?" she asked, biting her lower lip as if she was really worried she might not. Yeah, like there a chance in hell Megan could EVER look so sexy. Even when Megan HAD worn it that one time she'd included a matching pair of panties and of course no heels. Whereas Kelly looked confident and obviously KNEW the effect she was having on me, Megan had been embarrassed and shy even though it was ME, her own husband, that was looking at her.

Kelly slowly walked over to me. Each step a deliberate act as her hips swayed sexily from side to side. Her arms reached out for me and we embraced, pulling each other in tightly as we kissed passionately. As hard as I was I could feel her pressing against my cock as it strained to be released. My hands reached under the lower edge of the negligee and I cupped her bare ass in my hands. It was incredible - I was actually holding Kelly's perfect ass in my hands without anything between them! God she was so firm and smooth!

"I thought you'd be undressed when I came out," she whispered as our mouths parted, "Strip for me."

Kelly pulled back and started to pull back the covers from Megan's side the bed as I undressed quickly, dropping my clothes to the floor in a pile. It occurred to me I had noted she was undoing Megan's side. I guess she must have deduced which was hers from the contents of the nightstand on that side of the bed. Once the top sheet was down she lay on the bed, bunching up pillow behind her head to watch me as I finished stripping.

Once undressed I glanced at the mirror and cringed. Other than Megan no woman had ever seen me nude and seeing my belly sticking out and the beginning of man-boobs starting to emerge made me want to turn out the lights and hide from Kelly's sight. How could such a beautiful woman be turned on my a middle-aged, overweight hairy man like me?

"Leave it on," she called out as I started to reach for the light switch, "Don't you like looking at me?"

How could I tell her it had nothing to do with her when it was ME that I wanted to hide? Yet she had a point. When would I ever again have this opportunity to be in bed with a woman like her? I just wished I had a video recorder going but at the very least I was hoping every image would be burned in my brain forever. Turning from the wall switch, I quickly got I bed next to her, trying to minimize the time she had to see me nude just in case she decided to call it all off.

"Mmmmmmm, that's better," she sighed as she pressed herself into me, "I love being with a naked man."

Again we kissed and this time my hands roamed all over her body, especially her boobs. Two kids? Impossible! Compared to Megan's sagging breasts Kelly's tits were firm and perky, hard nipples poking through my fingers as I gripped her breasts. I'd never felt breasts so perfect and I couldn't resist dipping my head down to taste them as I pulled the negligee up and out of the way.

"Yesssssss," she sighed as I took her nipples I my mouth and sucked, my tongue teasing the tips. As I licked and sucked her tits my hand worked its way down her incredibly smooth and flat belly, down to where I would be feeling Megan's pubic hair but not with Kelly who was shaved bare like a young girl. A little further and I hit pay dirt - Kelly's pussy!

Kelly lifted her hips in response as I ran my finger up and down her pussy slit, pressing into her already wet hole and dragging up to her clit. She moaned as my finger pushed into her and my heart raced as I pressed even further into her. Oh god, I was fingering Kelly's pussy!

Kelly's hand reached down and gripped my hard dick, her fingers wrapping around it and just holding me in her grasp and I fingered and licked her. Reluctantly I moved my head from her breast - reluctant in I could have suckled on her all night yet at the same time eager for more. Kissing her smooth skin on her torso, I slowly moved downward and as the scent of her sex grew stronger and stronger. It was like the smell of heaven!

"Right there Keith!" she groaned as my mouth encircled her clit. Without removing my mouth from her pussy I worked my way around until I was between her legs, pushing them further apart with my hands on her smooth inner thighs. She tasted wonderful and even better was the feel of her writhing under me as I tongued her clit with my finger pushed up into her pussy as far as I could reach.

"Don't stop Keith," she cried out as her hips lifted up against my face, "Make me cum Keith... make me cum!"

My face was suddenly flooded with her pussy cum as her orgasm hit. It seemed unreal. Megan use to allow me to eat her out when we were first married but she never seemed to like it and eventually I just stopped doing it. Certainly she never orgasmed when I ate her out. In fact, sometimes I wondered if she really orgasmed ever. Not so with Kelly as she bounced under me, crying out and grabbing my heads with her hands as she pulled my face in tighter to her bald wet crotch. I moved my hands under her ass, gripping it and pushing my face in like I was eating a large melon.

Kelly's hips dropped to the bed again and now instead of pushing my head into her she was grabbing it and pulling me up towards her. Moving on top of her, I kissed her with my face covered with her pussy cum.

"Mmmmmmm, I love the way I taste on your mouth," she whispered. It was amazing - Megan wouldn't even let me near her face after I'd eaten her pussy until I'd washed it off.

Kelly pushed me away slightly until we could look at each other in our eyes. Her face was wet now with her own pussy cum, giving her such a sexy slutty look. For a moment we just looked at each other. I could feel my erection pressing against her crotch and I instinctively rotated my hips slightly to move it against her.

"Fuck me Keith," she whispered huskily.

That was all she said... just three words. Three of the most wonderful words I'd ever heard. God, Kelly wanted me to fuck her! The woman I'd dreamed about for so long, stared at during church for so long, masturbated about so many times, actually ASKED me to fuck her! Of course I wanted to do her just as badly, probably a lot more, but the point remained she'd ASKED me to fuck her rather than just agreeing to allow me. No woman had ever ASKED me to FUCK her before.

I felt her hand between us as she reached down to take my erection in her hand. Following her unspoken directions, I shifted to allow her to position me at the opening to her pussy. The feel of her warmth, the wetness of her sex, was overwhelming. I wanted nothing more at this moment than to be inside of her, to fuck her. Yet she wasn't going to let it be that easy... not Kelly.

"Tell me you want me more than your wife," she whispered, "Tell me you want to be with me more than her."

My mind was so crazed with desire I'd have done or said anything if that meant she would allow me to enter her so quickly responded with, "God yes... I want you more than my wife. I want to fuck you more than Megan."

"Then fuck me Keith... fuck me her in her bed."

It confused me for a moment but then I understood. I was so focused on Kelly's body, on her sex, that I'd forgotten where we were. Indeed, Kelly was laying exactly where Megan had been the last time we'd had sex. She was wearing Megan's sexiest outfit. Was this what Kelly wanted? Was this what turned her on - causing a man to commit adultery in his own wedding bed?

Oh well, who gave a shit? Not me at that moment, that was for sure. Megan could've appeared at the bedroom door at this moment and it wouldn't have mattered. An earthquake could've hit and it wouldn't have mattered. Hell, the surprise group of my nightmares could've jumped from the bathroom right now and it wouldn't have mattered. I was going to fuck Kelly and I was going to do it now no matter what. My thirst for her, my hunger for her sex was impossible to hold back any longer as I thrust myself forward, ramming my dick into her wet tight pussy all the way in one hard stroke! I felt the hot wetness of her incredibly tight pussy gripping me as I buried myself in her, forever breaking the vows I'd made to my wife - and happy to do so.

"Oh yeah Keith, that's it... fuck me good!"

I'd had sex with Megan an untold number of times over the years but it had never been like this. It was always tempered by my concern for her reaction, my worry over what she thought of what I was doing and whether I was adequate or not. She rarely even made a sound, let alone say a word out loud and after I'd cum she would just lay there and wait for me to pull out and move away. In other words, it was NOTHING like sex with Kelly.

Fucking Kelly was like nothing I'd ever dreamed could ever happen to me. I thrust myself deeply into her, pulling almost all the way out only to ram myself back into her again as deeply as I could. She met me with her own movement, pushing her hips up against me as if she wanted me even deeper each time I entered her, wrapping her long legs around me and pulling me into her like she couldn't get enough of me. Through it all was a non-stop series of sighs, moans and a litany of outspoken desires for me to fuck her harder, to make her cum, to give her everything I had. I like to think she came several times before finally I couldn't hold myself back anymore.

"I'm gonna cum," I gasped as I started to pull out of her more out of routine than true desire. Megan hated for me to cum in her pussy except when we were trying to get pregnant. Obviously Kelly wasn't Megan!

"Don't you dare!" she cried out sharply, locking her ankle around me and using her legs to pull me back into her, "I want your cum... give it to me Keith, give me your love. Give me your wife's sperm."

And I gave it to her - buckets it seemed. I hadn't cum this hard since I was a teen and even then never inside of a woman like this. Over and over I ejaculated sending stream after stream of my adulterous sperm deep inside of Kelly's pussy. We'd never once discussed birth control but I had to assume a slut like her was protected and in any case it wouldn't have mattered at this moment. She wanted it in her - she got it in her!

"Oh my god," I groaned hoarsely as I barely was able to keep my weight off of her when I'd finished. I started to pull out so I could move off of her but she would have none of it.

"Stay in me Keith," she moaned ever so sweetly, the sound of contentment if I'd ever heard it.

"You'll never be able to make love to your wife again without remembering this moment," she whispered into my ear, "I'll always be a part of your marriage, always in the back of your mind whenever you tell her you love her. You're mine now... forever."

It was almost like she was implanting some hypnotic suggestion but it didn't matter - I knew as I laid there with my dick still inside her hot pussy that she was 100% correct. I would NEVER forget this moment, NEVER purge my mind of the feel of her wet pussy gripping my expended dick after having just fucked her with everything I had.

I could have stayed like this all night, regardless of how my arms were hurting from holding myself off of her. Unfortunately I made the mistake of checking out the clock on her nightstand. Oh shit!

"We have to go," I said in a voice louder than I'd intended. It was almost impossible to describe how quickly things could change. One moment I was a sex-crazed wild man fucking the woman of my dreams, the next I was a scared-stiff husband looking to cover my tracks. Suddenly the feel of my dick still within Kelly's tight pussy lost the eroticism and became a nightmare. Hold crap, what had I done?

"No really Kelly, we HAVE to go!" I said urgently, scared stiff now that the clock had struck midnight and my carriage was about to turn back into a pumpkin if we didn't hurry. What if Ryan came home right now and saw his father in bed, naked on top of another woman who was wearing his mother's negligee? Not that I thought he'd recognize it (at least I hoped he wouldn't) but the point remained.

"If you say so Keith... but I bet I can get you hard again if you want to fuck me again."

That would have been a sucker bet for sure (no pun intended), one I would've loved to have lost but now with my lust having drained from me along with the sperm I'd left behind in Kelly's pussy I was being more practical-minded. Had I known what I do now though I would have taken her up on her offer, the hell with getting caught.

As it was I pulled out of Kelly and even as distracted as I was I still couldn't get over the erotic sensation as my dick dropped out of her. Would I ever feel this again? God I wanted to fuck her again... and again... and again! Shit, I'd dump Megan in a heartbeat if I thought Kelly would marry me!

Grabbing my clothes from the floor I started to dress as Kelly made the bed. Damn, I hadn't even thought about doing that. It wouldn't be until later that I would give any thought to how the bed must smell after all the times Kelly had cum and then to have my cum mixed along with it, draining out of her onto the bed. Then she disappeared back into the bathroom but this time she was out in less than a couple of minutes, back into her slut dress.

"Thank you Keith."

I looked at her in amazement. SHE was thanking ME? My expression must have betrayed my thoughts.

"I mean it Keith, it means a lot to me for you to do this. For you to show me how much you want me... to tell me how much more you want me than your own wife. It made me feel sexy... and wanted."

Well, if there was ever a girl who never needed to worry about feeling sexy and wanted it would have to be Kelly. Still, it made me feel good for her to say that. Talk about an ego boost... THE amazing Kelly said I made her feel sexy!

With that we left. I half expected her to kiss me or at least hug me but we made our way to the car in the garage without another word. Even during the drive back to her place was silent. I wasn't sure what to say so unless she said something I wasn't going to say something stupid.

When we got to her apartment complex I headed for the lot but she told me to just drop her off at the entrance to her complex. Before I could do anything she opened the door for herself and stepped out.

"Thank you Keith," she said, dipping her head back into the car.

"When can we do this again?" I finally had to ask. The question had been burning a hole in me all the way back and I couldn't let her go without asking. Surely if I'd been all she said she would want me to fuck her again, right?

"No Keith, I'm sorry," she said shaking her head, "We only do this once. I'm happily married and have no desire to be your mistress."

"But..." I tried to interrupt.

"No 'buts' Keith," she said in a stern voice. Suddenly all the sexiness and softness was gone, replaced by a cold business tone. "Never ask me again or try to touch me again... never."

With that she shut the door and turned to walk away, not even glancing back. I drove home an emotional wreck, filled with confused and conflicting feelings. What had I done? What was I going to do? The only thing I was sure of as that I would never have Kelly again yet she was right, I'd never get her out of my mind. In the back of my mind I couldn't help but wonder if that was her intention all along...

(Sep 24) Chapter 286: Shopping With Aunt Linda

Story codes: FF inc aunt niece
Me (31)
Aunt Linda (48)

As much as I see her and as intertwined as she has been with my family throughout my entire life, you'd think we would do this more often! Oh well, I guess it just makes it all the more special when we do.

1. Part of the Family

There are times I look back at my childhood and can't help but feel more than a little embarrassed at how clueless, naive, or however else to describe what I was. Yet at the same time it just goes to show that all children grow up thinking things in their family are "normal" and the same for everybody even though later in life they usually learn differently. In some cases it's sad as the child who is abused or sees her mother abused doesn't understand it's not right but rather accepts it as how things are. Even more sad is when those impressions are so deep they carry over into their teen and adult life. All too often you hear about a woman abused by her husband only to learn that she was raised in a family under similar circumstances.

Fortunately in my case I was never abused or molested in any way, shape or form by my parents. Indeed, if anything I was always treated with what I now recognize as extraordinary love and respect. Oh sure at the time I probably would have told you different, now that I have the advantage of 20-20 hindsight and the maturity (at least I'd like to think) that comes with being in my thirties I look back with admiration and thankfulness for my parents. Oh sure there were times, especially during those rebellious teen years, when I might not have agreed with such an assessment. However, now being a parent myself of two lovely young daughters I'm seeing things from a totally different perspective. Were my parents perfect? Heck no! That's not to criticize them as has there have NEVER been perfect parents outside the TV world of the Brady Bunch, My Three Sons and such unrealistic families. Still, I was fortunate to have been blessed with such a wonderful upbringing.

The reason that I say all this is because people sometimes look at me (a figurative term as it's usually by letter or e-mail) as if they think I'm either making all these things up when I tell them how much I did NOT know was going on in my family while growing up or that I was just totally clueless, maybe even stupid. In my defense it's not like my family was really all that different than most. We lived in an upper-middle class neighborhood doing the same things that most families did. We attended church where my dad was an elder and my mom was in the PTA. Sexually my parents were somewhat conservative in that they didn't swing or host crazy sex parties. We weren't nudists or go about flaunting our naked bodies for no reason. Heck, I didn't even see my parents having sex (not even by accident) until I was sixteen!

At the same time to be fair there WERE a few things I couldn't help but notice that were different about our family from those of most of my friends - the things my mom made sure that I knew from an early age not to talk about with other people. While I mentioned that we weren't nudists, it's also not like anyone went bonkers if seen undressing or even totally naked. For instance, as my bedroom door was almost never shut, if I was dressing and my dad just happened to pass by on his way to the bathroom he might look and see me but it wasn't considered anything worth mentioning by either of us. It's not like I would turn or try to cover myself yet at the same time I didn't "perform" for him. If my mom or dad were in the shower I didn't have to wait outside the bathroom door if I had to use the toilet - I just did it and nobody said anything. My dad had this silly thing about no swim suits in the hot tub - he claimed it had something to do with maintaining the water chemistry. So we all just dropped our towels and got in naked - no big deal. I never saw the parents or siblings of my friends nude when I was at their house but then again, they didn't see MY parents nude either so was it really all that different? For all I knew growing up they did the same. I wasn't supposed to talk about it so I just figured they weren't either.

Perhaps the most "extreme" thing that differentiated my family from most, at least from some people's perspective, involved masturbation. My parents viewed masturbation as a normal event and as such didn't have to be hidden. Even so, like nudity it may be acceptable but it wasn't something to be flaunted either. I didn't start myself until I was eleven or so but while growing up before then it wasn't all serious while my aunt, even now in her fifties, tends to play the role of the "little sister" looking to cause trouble. They don't even look much alike and supposedly my mom would tease her younger sister that she had been adopted. While my mom married a great guy - my dad, Linda married a real loser who dumped her shortly after the arrival of my cousin Kristen. What a jerk! Even though he knew all about her incestual relationship with her father long before they got married, apparently he assumed things would change after they got married. Of course they didn't as incest isn't the sort of thing you just stop once you do it. Apparently he suffered from an over-inflated ego and couldn't handle the thought of his wife doing what a proper daughter SHOULD do when it comes to submitting to her father. After much arguing he gave her an ultimatum to either stop fucking her father or he would leave her, leaving her with no choice but to divorce him. Aunt Linda never remarried so while I was growing up she and my cousin spent more time at our house than theirs - or at least that's how it seemed at times.

Aunt Linda's personality and outlook on life were just as different from my mom's as their looks. While my mom went along with my dad's "no swim suit" decree in the hot tub, other than that I rarely saw her naked unless she was taking a shower, dressing or in bed. Even around the house she always wore at least panties and a bra and 99% of the time more than that. In contrast, her younger sister was always running around the house stark naked which was sort of hypocritical in that she fussed at her own daughter if she tried to follow the example of her mother.

When I say some things I didn't notice were obvious in hindsight, Aunt Linda is Exhibit #1. As I said, it's almost embarrassing to confess to my cluelessness. Like how could I have possibly bought into the story that she and my dad shut the door to his office so they could discuss taxes for her realty work without being disturbed? When she would sit on his lap naked in the hot tub, how could I have not realized what was really happening right in front of me? All their flirting, even the blatant groping and more, simply went right over my head. Again, in my defense when you see something most every day from as early as you can remember, it's not something you really notice.

For most girls, hopefully that is, "the talk" comes when they're young and their mom explains periods, boobs, boys and such. For me, such a talk would have been rather redundant given THAT was all covered by everyday type of conversation. For me, the "talk" came when I was sixteen soon after I started having sex with my dad. One day after my dad had fucked me my mom pulled me aside and filled me in on everything they'd been keeping from me until then. As you might imagine it was a bit of a shock to say the least. Learning my mom had sex with her dad wasn't really that big of a deal given I was now fucking my own dad. What really surprised me though was them having sex with my uncle and aunt. Given my mom's sometimes forceful reaction to reports of adultery, I had to grapple with the idea that when it came to sex "family" now meant ALL of my family, not just my parents. It made sense so it's not like I had to think about it TOO much. In fact, it served as a useful learning experience for me in understanding that sometimes you had to adjust your thoughts about some things so long as you didn't abandon your core principles. A VERY handy lesson I've put to use a number of times since then when faced with certain situations!

Since they now longer had to worry about me seeing anything, things became less secretive between my dad and his sister-in-law. For instance, the study door wasn't shut and while I may have noticed they certainly weren't doing taxes, the same principles of nudity and masturbation applied in that I didn't just stand in the doorway and watch, not even when invited to do so. When they fucked in the hot tub they didn't just do it underwater but I just used the time to make use of my favorite water jet. They did their thing so I did mine!

While I DID eventually have sex with my Aunt Linda as a teenager, it wasn't something we did very often. The few times we did was usually when I was playing around with my cousin Kristen and one way or another her mom would find an excuse to join in. Perhaps one of my most memorable times was when I pretended to be my aunt's daughter while I was helping her to close a deal with one of her clients - something my mom would never have done!

Unfortunately, not everything was perfect when it came to my aunt and dad's activities. One thing I learned about years later was her involvement with a secretive group that arranged for swapping between married couples as well as bringing together families for "community" sex parties. My dad wasn't exactly subtle about wanting to swap with other couples but my mom stood her ground firmly. As a proper wife she may have submitted to her husband in most areas but there WERE a few lines she couldn't cross. What eventually happened was similar in concept to when my aunt had to leave her husband because she couldn't cross a line.

Like most men, my dad LOVES porn and over the years he has acquired a rather impressive collection. My dad also shares a number of characteristics that I've found to be common to most men over the years, one of which is that as he has

2. An Invitation

"Hey slut!"

Yep, there was no mistaking the voice on the phone and besides, not many people would greet me like that in the first place. Thank goodness it wasn't a FaceTime call or she would've seen my eyes rolling!

"Hello Aunt Linda... and to what do I owe this unexpected pleasure?"

OK, so it was a little sarcastic of me but really, she almost NEVER phoned me. Thus my attention immediately raised to a high level as the few times she DID call me were usually about something that was sure to either get me in trouble or something close to it.

"Oh now Kelly, is that any way to answer the phone?" she tease me, "You're supposed to be the "good one", remember?"

At that I couldn't help but smile. She was of course referring to the inevitable comparisons between me and her daughter, my cousin Kristen. My mom and her sister were always teasing one another about how their daughters turned out with the usual conclusion that Kristen was the wild and wicked irreligious daughter of a single mother while I was the so-called "good daughter" who always obeyed and submitted to her loving parents as a proper Christian daughter should. BOTH descriptions were wildly exaggerated in my opinion although like most generalizations there was an element of truth in each.

"Well if I remember correctly the last time you called you tried to set me up with that neighbor kid," I corrected her.

"Oh posh! That was nothing," she replied, "You would've loved him and you know it."

Yeah sure... inviting the fourteen year-old neighbor boy who mowed my dad's lawn in for a "treat" was NOT something I would've ever thought of doing. Now THERE was a recipe for trouble if I ever heard one, especially considering he was a student in one of my classes! Like talk about something being wrong on so many levels!

"So now what, the pool boy need a tip?" I teased her.

"We don't HAVE a pool boy," she answered in a tone that clearly implied she wished they did. "Can't I just call my favorite niece and say hello without it being about sex?"

I was one breath away from telling her that was exactly my point - she couldn't, but I caught myself just in time.

"OK, I'm sorry... so then why DID you call me?"

"I was just going out shopping and thought maybe you'd like to come along with me."

"Oh? What KIND of shopping?" I asked suspiciously. With my aunt that could've been most anything from groceries to middle-school boys.

"Don't get all uppity now," she came back, clearly sensing the tension in my voice, "I've got some open houses in the next couple of weeks and was just looking to get a few new dresses."

For most people that would've been a complete answer and not anything remotely risqu, or worrisome. Well, my Aunt Linda was NOT "most people" so due diligence was always required.

"So do you mean for during the open house or after?" I clarified, knowing that it was the latter that dictated where we'd be shopping.

"Both," she answered, clearly enjoying our little repartee. She wasn't showing her hand which meant she was still holding some aces.

"OK, so when?"

"How about now?"

Dang it! Sometimes I think she forgets I'm not single anymore! If we'd gone grocery shopping I'd have just taken them with but trying to corral two toddlers wasn't something I was ready to tackle at the stores where I suspected that my Aunt Linda would be shopping. I quickly thought of a couple nice girls I could call last minute to sit my daughters and told my aunt I'd get back to her. It took several calls before I found someone willing, or at least desperate enough for the money, to spend a weekend afternoon with my daughters.

A phone call to my aunt and we were all set. I quickly sent a text to my husband to let him know I might not be home when came in from work, warning Steve that it was NOT one of our "friendly" babysitters so to behave himself! Good babysitters were hard to find and the last thing I needed was my horny husband hitting on one and scaring her off!

Then the hardest part... deciding what to wear...

With my bank account in the tank I wasn't thinking about buying anything but that didn't mean I couldn't try on some outfits which could serve as future hints for my hubby and daddy. Thus I didn't want anything that would be difficult to take off and back on again yet at the same time being I would be shopping with my aunt so I wanted to look sexy when I tried them on. We hardly never went shopping together but I knew that there was one common denominator when we did - we loved to fool around and tease the guys!

While the summer heat was still oppressively higher than normal I still had a wide range of options given the mall was heavily air-conditioned. I considered some high cut skin-tight shorts but then my favorites were to the point where I to practically lay on my bed and lift up my butt to pull them on! Not exactly a good thing to try in a cramped dressing room. So that left my choices to either a skirt or dress which was actually an easy choice. With a dress I would have to take it all the way off no matter what I was trying on whereas a skirt allowed me to either remove my top or bottom depending on what I was checking out. Hmmm.... maybe I should make it a naughty schoolgirl day? It hurts to say it but I'm 31 now even though most guys still think I'm at least ten years younger - especially the bar tenders who insist on carding me! Then again, why not take advantage of it while I could still pull it off?

So I dug out my short white and red checked pleated skirt and after some frantic searching finally found the matching sheer white blouse hanging way in the back of my closet. Apparently it had been longer than I'd thought since wearing this outfit! My dad had bought it for me years ago while I was in college - he's always had this thing for the "catholic schoolgirl" look. The outfit, with white ankle socks with lace tops and tall black heels really wasn't something I normally wore in public so it was still in good shape. The blouse had been tight when he'd bought it meaning now it was even tighter. OK, before anyone says anything nasty it wasn't TOO tight and forgive me for being ten years older and having been pregnant twice. Personally I think I deserve a medal for even being able to squeeze back into it.

Looking in the mirror, I pulled my hair back into a ponytail and put the finishing touches on my makeup just as the doorbell rang announcing the arrival of the sitter. Karin was fourteen, almost fifteen and cute as heck making her one of my husband's favorites. Unfortunately for him, all he'd ever gotten from her was a flirty smile while hoping for a nice tip. Oh well, not like he should expect every teenager to jump at the chance to fuck a guy over twice her age. Then again, YOU try and tell him that!

"Hi Kelly," she greeted me. I smiled at her as it had taken most of the past year to get her to call me by my first name. It goes with the territory I guess when you're a teacher. Heck, even I still find myself calling my past teachers "Mr." or "Mrs." even today!

"Hi Karin, thanks so much for bailing me out!" I told her as I opened the door to let her in. Karin gave me a quick once over and I could see her eyes widen while the wheels spun in her pretty little head.

"Ummmmm, where did you say you were going?" she asked almost nervously, as if maybe she thought she shouldn't ask.

"Oh, just some shopping at the mall with my aunt," I replied. Honesty is the best policy!

"OoooooK," she said softly under her voice, her eyes taking in my full outfit.

OK, so she probably had a zillion questions but she was too sweet a girl to ask them and I wasn't about to say any more than necessary. Honesty may be the best policy but that didn't mean you had to tell someone everything either. As always, we quickly reviewed my safety rules, the food situation in the refrigerator and pantry, phone numbers, etc. and then I was off!

3. Out With My Aunt

Entering the front door (yes, I still have a key to the house I was raised in), it was so quiet that at first I thought maybe nobody was home. I knew my dad was more than likely at work as most Saturdays that's where you'll find him. Still, I'd expected my aunt to be ready and anxious to go! Then I heard footsteps on the stairs, accompanied by those squeaks I knew all too well. Growing up and trying to sneak in after getting home late, I'd learned the secret path to avoid the worst ones, like I was making my way through a mine field.

"Be right there Kelly!" she called down, "Make yourself at home."

Like I wouldn't? After all, I still like to think this is more MY home than hers. Just because she'd moved in to replace my mom without even waiting a day didn't make it HER house. Not being bitchy... just making a point.

Soon she came down the stairs in what I can only describe as a schoolgirl mom's outfit. It was surprisingly modest, in fact I was surprised she even owned such a dress as I can't say I'd ever seen it on her before. It must've been the only skirt in her closet that came below her knees and the blouse was actually a little loose rather than tightly conforming to her bust line as usual. Yeah, she LOVED showing off those boobs even if they DID have a little help a few years ago. Then I looked closer as I couldn't believe my eyes. OMG, sure enough she was wearing a bra! Like WOW! Since she'd had her boobs lifted (just tightened up, no implants) a few years ago she refused to wear a bra, claiming she didn't spend all the money just to be uncomfortable. In all fairness though I think my dad paid the bill but I couldn't blame her. If I wasn't forced to wear one at school I'd probably go braless 99% of the time as well. Well, it would be more like 100% but there ARE those times a sexy bra can make for a more enjoyable evening with a husband - yours or someone else's.

Taking a closer look at her, I had to say that for a 48 year-old woman she looked pretty damn good! While the blouse wasn't exactly form-fitting, with her C-cups it still was pretty obvious there was nothing underneath the way they jiggled as she came down the stairs. While most of her legs were hidden, I knew she was proud of how well she'd kept her figure - with a lot of work at the gym I might add. So far I'd been fortunate that my DNA had allowed me to avoid working out but no doubt those days would be coming to an end before too much longer. OK, so maybe a touch too much makeup but I wasn't going to say anything. It was tastefully done - not like she was wearing clown makeup.

Aunt Linda smiled at me when she saw my outfit saying, "I had a sneaky suspicion you'd choose that to wear today so I thought I'd play along. So what do you think... sexy schoolgirl and her distraught mother?"

OK, so she finally confirmed what I'd expected - she wanted to roleplay a bit today. Well, whatever floated her boat but it sounded like fun actually. Even though I was now 31 I could still pass for at least a college girl and if I worked the attitude maybe even a high schooler. While no amount of makeup or choice of outfit was going to let my aunt pass for a young woman anymore, she still had a youthful look for her age and staying in shape as she did didn't hurt either. Yep, still a definite MILF.

"So... where to?" I asked as she followed me down the wooden stairs to the basement and the attached garage.

"Just a moment... stop right there girl," she called from behind me just as I hit the landing about a third of the way down where the stairs turned. I looked up at her a little confused but she quickly moved in up close and then I knew what it was about.

"Just a panty check," she chuckled as she lifted up my short skirt, "With a skirt THAT short we could get arrested you know."

We both laughed as I doubted that would ever happen. In all the years I've ventured out bare-bottomed I've never had any run-ins with a cop even when I knew people had noticed I was sans-panties.

"Oh Kelly, nice thong!" she commented, teasing me a little by pulling it away from my butt and then letting it snap back. "Can I assume it covers a little more in front?"

I grinned and twisted around, lifting my skirt to show her. True, the back was just a few strings that hid absolutely nothing and while there wasn't much material in front, what WAS there was strategically placed to cover my pussy in all the right spots without pulling in TOO easily between my pussy lips although it was inevitable without me constantly tugging at it.

"Hmmm, still shaving I see," she said more to herself than me. True, it seems more and more of the girls I know have started leaving more hair down there recently. It's like the baby-girl smooth look has come and gone, at least for the meantime. As for me, I was planning to let mine grow out a little now that summer was over, just not yet.

Without further commentary she dropped my skirt and made like we needed to continue but I wasn't letting her get away that easily!

"Uh, uh... your turn now," I protested as I reached down to grab her skirt by the hem. It didn't help it was ridiculously far down below her knees but she was also a couple of steps up which made it less difficult. My aunt just stood there with her arms crossed defiantly while I convened my investigation. What a surprise... NOT! Yep, not a thing under the skirt, not even hose but then when DID she wear anything? Personally, I think if she could get away with it she'd just go nude 24/7 and get it over with!

"Cool... you finally trimmed!" I exclaimed with surprise. Wow, first time for everything I guess. While my mom and her sister were opposites in many ways, one trait they shared was their love for their thick, lush pubic hair. Sure they both trimmed it a little so it wasn't poking out a swim suit like some European beach slut but otherwise it was pretty much au naturel. I'll never forget the first time I licked my mom's pussy not long after my dad first fucked me. Feeling all that coarse curly hair with her pungent aroma against my face was certainly a unique experience, even after blowing my dad with his own thick pubic hair!

My aunt just shrugged saying, "I figured what the hell, why not? I was just noticing at the last party that I had the hairiest crotch there - by a lot I might add. Just seemed like the right time I guess."

Just goes to show even 48 year-old aunts can bow to peer pressure! Then again, most of the mothers at those parties were considerably younger than her so if you asked me it was more a case of her trying to stay "young" than anything else.

Without even discussing it we just automatically got into her car - for me I figured why not use up her gas, and we were on our way to the mall. It had been a while since I'd been there other than to the theater which technically isn't even in the mall but rather across the parking lot from the food court. To my semi-surprise she found a parking spot right outside the lower entrance to Macy's. Then again, not so sure why I was surprised as it wasn't like there were that many options for shopping these days at the mall.

"Since their sales started dropping they've broadened their choices," my aunt explained as we made our way through the parking lot, "And besides, they have the best dressing rooms of any store in the mall."

My aunt's definition of "best" used a different set of criteria than most folks. For her it was more about what COULD be seen versus the expectation of privacy that most women would expect. I knew from past experience the dressing "rooms" were more like cubicles with what I called "saloon doors" - the kind that swing open from the center and don't go to the floor or much higher than the average person's head. It was also a very short walk from the dressing area to the shopping area and people standing in the right place outside could see the hallway from which the rooms were accessed. Not at all like their competitor Sears where the dressing rooms were like Fort Knox in comparison.

We made our way straight to the Juniors section from which technically even I was well past being eligible but in my outfit and with my hair and makeup I was hoping to pull it off. It would be just another ordinary everyday mom taking her daughter shopping, right? Yeah right.

First stop - bras and underwear...

"I wish they'd had this selection when I was a junior," my aunt mused, reaching out to feel the texture of a small push-up bra that was all lace and soft. I was about to say the same thing!

"Just think, another few years and you'll be here with your own girls," she said smiling at me. Well, maybe in six or seven at the very least. I prayed my daughters hadn't inherited their mother's genes when it came to boob development or it might be more like ten years!

"What do you think of this dress?" I asked her, moving over to the next aisle where a few remaining summer dresses were surrounded by the winter crop. It had a deep cut down the middle guaranteed to show off a young girl's emerging cleavage and was so light I felt like I was barely holding anything. I think the metal hangar weighed more than the dress!

"It's terribly sheer," my aunt observed thoughtfully, "Probably need to wear a slip under it."

We both giggled at her inside joke. Yeah, like either of us ever wore s slip under a dress, no matter HOW sheer it might be. Really, what was the point of even buying such a dress if you were just going to hide everything underneath it?

I looked at the tag. "It might even fit me," I mused, putting it off to the side while I went through the rack. By this time of the year the selection was really picked over with most of the dresses either for midgets or fat girls.

"May I help you?" I heard behind me. I turned and a store clerk was standing there with a smile. She looked to be college age or so, probably earning some extra money on the weekend. I might pull off LOOKING like a college girl but I certainly didn't FEEL like one, especially seeing the real McCoy. Dressed in tasteful jeans and blouse with a dark jacket, she looked professional yet casual at the same time. I suppose she meets all sorts working in a store like this but I couldn't help but wonder if she'd ever met a "mother-daughter" pair quite like me and Aunt Linda.

"I don't know... do you think this would look good on me?" I asked, holding up the dress I'd chosen, "My mom here thinks it might be too sheer though."

"Well, we have some nice slips I can show you," the clerk offered. I looked closer and saw the name on her tag was Emily. Cute name, a little dated but then she seemed the "Emily" type.

"I don't know Emily... I think I might try it on the way it is, would that be OK?"

"Ummmmm, sure I guess," Emily answered, looking at my aunt as if she expected her to say something. Maybe something about picking an outfit my size? Or even something that wasn't quite so revealing but then given my current garb it wasn't like we gave the appearance of adhering to a strict dress code.

"You right Kelly, it would probably spoil the look I think. Let's just go and see how it looks on you," my aunt offered.

The store was rather empty and again I found myself wondering how much longer these big dinosaur stores could survive in today's world of on-line shopping but then at least for me, I'd never want to see them totally disappear. Like we wouldn't be doing this sort of thing on-line, now would we?

Making our way to the dressing rooms, my aunt turned her attention to the clerk. "I assume it's OK if I go in with her, right Emily?" she asked.

Emily nodded vigorously and for a moment she reminded me of that girl in the TV AT&T commercials. Not quite as cute but she had her beat in the innocence category. and answered quickly with, "Oh sure, not a problem at all. I'll be out here in case you think that you find that you need that slip."

Of course it really hadn't been necessary to ask. Like what store ever would keep a mother from accompanying her daughter to a dressing room? I fully understood that it was more like my aunt wanted to emphasize to Emily that she would be with me. Poor Emily was too clueless to catch on to the subtly of my Aunt's question though.

Leaving the girl behind, Aunt Linda chose the first "room" although technically it was more like a three-sided box with a door. By design it allowed anyone to see that it was occupied without actually getting a view of who was in it. It was the sort of style that I'd learned to avoid when out having fun with boyfriends or even my husband or dad as it was all too easy for anyone to see that I wasn't in there with another girl. It also made it difficult to squat or kneel down to blow him without essentially advertising to everyone outside what I was doing. May as well leave the door open! Now I LOVE public sex but for me the turn-on is doing it while seeing other people, not other people actually seeing me. It can be a fine line between an erotic episode and getting arrested.

My aunt latched the door shut as I hung the dress on the hook on the back wall. She watched as I quickly undressed, leaving my heels on of course. The very thought of my bare feet on the gross carpet was too much to think about. I've seen people change diapers and just about everything else in dressing rooms! You might say that dressing rooms aren't just for sex anymore.

"Oh... My... God! You're amazing," she said softly as she took in my naked body as I stood there posing with one hand on my hip trying my best to look young and innocent. "How the hell do you do it?"

"Do what?"

Aunt Linda rolled her eyes, not buying my attempt to act all innocent for a second. "Fifteen years, two kids, you eat like a horse yet never work out, and yet somehow you still manage to look like when we first did it."

She was referring of course to the first time we'd had sex. Actually it had been with my mom as well not too long after my life had changed so dramatically thanks to my new incestuous lifestyle.

"You're too kind," I said feeling suddenly a little shy. The way she was looking at me reminded me more of the way most men did when they first saw me undressed. She subconsciously licked her lips which only served to emphasize the point. I don't care what those stupid women's rights dykes say about objectifying women. It makes me feel incredibly good about myself when men look at me like I'm a piece of meat with just one thought in mind - how can they fuck me? Well, my aunt was certainly not man but the look in her eyes was the same.

Even though I'd assumed it would come to this - or something like it, when I accepted her invitation, suddenly I wasn't quite sure what to do. In the end I figured I might as well go along with our roles and turned to take the dress off its hangar.

"Here, let me help," she offered as she reached for it and helped me to duck under and then pulled it down over me. It was snug, VERY snug in fact, especially around my bust. Now THERE was one area where I definitely was NOT the same girl she'd bedded fifteen years earlier. For most of high school, at least after my freshman year, I was a solid A-cup, a B-cup in my dreams. It wasn't until years later I was able to buy a C-cup and actually fill it out without the help of some tissue.

"Chilly?" my aunt teased me, nodding at my boobs. I looked at myself in the mirror and saw the dark outline of my nipples and the way they pushed out from the tight thin material stretched over them. I just giggled at how yet once again they betrayed me. It's sort of ironic that a man can't control his erection and when he gets cold it shrinks yet for a woman, while we can't control our nipples we can always claim they're cold as an excuse. Yet again, women rule!

"I suppose a 'nice' girl would ask Emily for that slip," I observed as I checked myself out closer in the full-length mirror.

"Your point being?" Aunt Linda asked innocently. OK, score one for Team Linda. Yes, a "nice" girl would dress appropriately but then when had I ever been one, especially when it came to my wardrobe? Even when I was living at home my parents would keep me stocked in sexy clothes, especially my dad. True, my teaching wardrobe was a totally different story but had I been given the option it would have never been bought in the first place.

"Why don't we ask Emily's opinion," my aunt suggested with a naughty grin.

"You're so nasty," I teased her.

"Why thank you sweet daughter," she responded, suddenly looking all prim and proper. We both laughed as she unlatched the door.

The general area was still clear of anyone except our attentive clerk although I noticed a couple of teenagers shopping nearby with their mothers. True to her word Emily was right there, all ready to do her best to make a sale. I wondered if Macy's paid her a commission or she was just the eager-beaver type naturally.

"Oh my, that looks... amazing," she stuttered. The wall behind me was lit up to show the dresses hanging there so it was like being outdoors with the sun behind me. While I couldn't see myself, I had a pretty good idea of what Emily was seeing and it wasn't just a dress.

"I don't think we'll need a slip," Aunt Linda said to Emily standing next to her while they both watched as I twirled around. Not only was the dress quite tight on me, being a couple sizes too small it was also more than a little short and while I don't think it lifted high enough to show I was sans-panties, I doubted in the current lighting conditions that anyone would have to actually see under the dress to realize that.

"What do you think Emily?"

OK, so now my aunt was just being mean, teasing poor Emily who obviously couldn't believe what I was wearing - or not, not to mention the fact my "mother" was encouraging me.

"I guess not, if you don't think so," was all she could say although her tone didn't match her words. She clearly DID think a slip was needed and to be fair, it was but that's like saying I should be wearing a bra as well yet nobody mentioned anything about THAT. Being shaved it wasn't like she could see any pubic hair yet THAT area seemed to grab all the attention while my dark nipples showing through didn't even get a glance.

Not about to let my aunt have all the fun, I turned to look in one of the mirrors just as another mom and her daughter walked by, the mom carrying an armful of dresses. I noticed they both gave me quite the look, especially the mom who also looked at my aunt with one of those patented motherly, "You HAVE to be kidding me!" looks.

"Oh mommy, I can't wait for daddy to see me in this," I exclaimed cheerfully, making sure everyone could hear me. In the mirror I could see Emily's eyes widen while my Aunt Linda just rolled her eyes and smirked. Yep, score one for Team Kelly! The other mother hustled her daughter down to the last dressing room as if she didn't want her to hear any more.

"Maybe you can surprise him with him next time you go out together," my aunt said, piling it on now pretty thick. I would've thought Emily might have realized by now that we were pulling her leg but she was still on the line - hook, line and sinker as they say. True, I WOULD have loved to have my dad see me in the dress but that was beside the point. This was more about having a little fun with Emily than anything to do with my dad.

"My apologies but I need to help out some other shoppers, call me if you need anything," Emily quickly said. Funny how she could hang around while two sets of mother-daughter shoppers went unattended but suddenly now she needed to leave to help out the remaining pair. My aunt and I returned to the dressing room, mission accomplished.

With the door latched again, my aunt almost burst out in laughter.

"That was SO funny," she whispered to me, "Did you see the look on her face when you mentioned showing it off to your dad?"

"Which one?"

Aunt Linda grinned even wider. "Well, both that mom and Emily - both were priceless!"

I started to lift the dress up to take it off but my aunt put her hand on mine to stop me.

"Leave it on for just a little while longer... you really DO look ridiculously sexy in it."

With that she put her arms around me and pulled me in close. I closed my eyes like a schoolgirl waiting for her first kiss as I felt her warm moist lips against mine. We were about the same height making it all the more easier as her tongue and mine met.

"God you have me so fucking turned on right now," she whispered huskily in my ear.

Her hands reached down and pulled up the short hem until she was able to grip my bare butt with them. Our lips pushed even harder together as she squeezed my ass, pulling me into her as our boobs pressed tightly together.

"I'd kill for your ass," she said softly as she kneaded and caressed my bottom, gradually working her way around to my shaved pussy where I felt the palm of her hand cup my warm crotch. I sighed, louder than I meant to, as her finger pressed into me, easily pushing all the way thanks to my horny wetness.

"Sit," was all she said as she pressed me back against the bench on the back wall. She held my dress up so my bare bottom was touching the cool painted wood. With one hand on each knee, she pushed my legs apart to expose my bare pussy. It wasn't like I was resisting...

"You're so beautiful," she sighed softly as she squatted down and leaned her head between my thighs. Her tongue ran up my inner thigh sending a tingle up my spine until her face was pressed against my exposed crotch.

"Oh yeah...," I whispered to her, looking down and pushing her hair to the side so I could watch. I shivered and shook as her tongue lapped me like a cat at a bowl of milk. Her lips took my clit between them, gently tugging on it while her tongue teased the tip. God it felt so good!

I pushed the thin straps of my dress to the side, exposing my boobs so I could hold them. My fingers teased my nipples as I pressed them tightly together while my aunt's tongue expertly brought me closer and closer to her goal.

"Oh my god... right there!" I whispered maybe a little TOO loud but at this point I didn't care. I wanted just one thing at this moment and nothing else in the world, let alone the occupants of a Macy's dressing rooms, mattered.

"Yes!" I groaned, almost more a growl as the dam burst allowing my lust and desire to flood through me. My orgasm filled me with the most unimaginable pleasure as my sexy aunt, sensing I was cumming, renewed her efforts with vigor. Just when I thought it couldn't get any better her finger was followed by a second and then a third, all of them pushed up inside of me, fucking me like a thick dick as she worked my clit with her mouth. Her eyes looked up at me and mine locked in with them. Even so I could still see her smiling as her tongue continued its assault without a pause.

It was truly amazing. I've already mentioned a lot about the differences between the sisters but here was one area where my mom and her sister were virtually twins. I've never had anyone make me cum from licking my pussy like my mother does to me, not even my dad or husband. Maybe it's more mental than physical as after all, she IS my mom - something nobody else can claim. While I would still give the trophy to my mom, she only wins by just a nose over my her sister, Aunt Linda. Indeed, I could've closed my eyes and it may as well have been my mom loving me!

As my orgasm finally wound down after I have no idea how long, my aunt straightened up - with a little effort I might add, LOL. Well, she WAS almost fifty you know. Leaning down to me, she kissed me and I could taste the delicious flavor of my pussy cum on her mouth and tongue. I've known girls who refuse to kiss a guy after he eats her until he washes and brushed his teeth but not me. Nope, I LOVE the taste of pussy and none more than my own. Even as a little girl I would play with myself and put my finger in my mouth like it was a treat much to the consternation of my mother as I wasn't always as concerned as she was about where I was when I when I did it.

"Now THAT was incredible," I whispered to her as we kissed for the longest time.

"Funny... I was about to say the same," Aunt Linda agreed with a smile.

I stood up and it was my turn to be a little shaky although for a different reason. Aunt Linda said, "Oh well, I guess we really do have to buy that dress now."

I looked at her and she nodded towards the mirror. Sure enough, right in back there was now a large wet spot where somewhere along the way it had worked under me and with all the cum I'd gushed when my orgasm arrived, the dress material was just perfect for showing off every drop. We both giggled like naughty schoolgirls.

"Maybe I should just wear it home."

She didn't respond to my bait as I was just teasing and my Aunt knew it. It was back to the thing I mentioned earlier about public sex. Wearing a sexy schoolgirl outfit was one thing, a sheer dress with cum stains... probably a bridge too far considering we weren't in some bar or close to home. My mom had taught me better than that. It was one thing to be slutty and act like a tease, quite another to be a whore.

With the dress back on its hangar I put my outfit back on while Aunt Linda straightened her hair out in the mirror. As we stepped out in the hallway I noticed that at the end the mother was still there with her daughter checking out a cute winter dress. As soon as she saw us she shooed her daughter back into the room as if she didn't want her to see us. Kind of uppity of her but then again who knows what they'd heard. I knew a few times both us had been a little louder than might have been appropriate but we'd tried to keep it reasonable.

Back in the main store area, Emily was with some other customers, different ones than before I noticed so she'd been busy. We made our way to the counter where I laid the dress and waited impatiently.

"Why don't we just leave it - it will dry and nobody will know the difference."

My aunt looked at me with a surprised expression. At first I think she was wondering what had gotten into me but then Emily politely coughed to get her attention and she realized who I'd been speaking to indirectly.

"Oh... sorry Emily, I didn't see you there," my aunt apologized unnecessarily.

"Oh that's OK... happens all the time," she assured us, "My mom says I move like a cat."

It was soooooo tempting to make some pussy-related comment but I wasn't thinking all the quickly yet. Maybe we should have stayed and made out a little longer in the dressing room after giving me that crazy orgasm? "We'll take this one," my aunt told her and I watched as Emily took it off the hangar and lifted it up to fold. She HAD to see the large wet spot but I had to give the girl credit when she didn't miss a step and ignored it. It made me wonder where she'd been while we'd been in the dressing room. Something told me she hadn't been helping customers the entire time.

"Thanks mom!" I gushed, turning to her and kissing her in front of Emily who was doing her best to appear nonchalant but I noticed she couldn't help herself from staring a little as I kissed my "mom" on the lips and gave her some tongue.

"I can't wait for Daddy to see me tomorrow morning in it."

OK, so maybe I was pushing a little but I couldn't help myself. Had Emily said something or at least blushed a little I might have quite but she had turned out to be a lot more impervious to our teasing than I'd originally assumed she might. Was she just clueless? She certainly didn't look to be the dumb blonde type, especially given she was a dark brunette.

My aunt handed over her credit card and Emily finished up the transaction and handed her the receipt while holding out the bag with the dress to me. Just as I was taking it from her she smiled... a funny little smile at that.

"Too bad that's the last one... I bet my daddy would love to see me in it too."

A twinkle appeared I her eye and she winked... I think at least as she turned away the moment she said it and made her way to another customer. I looked at my aunt she as she looked at me and we both put our hands to cover our mouths like OMG! Now who was doing the teasing? Better yet, was she just teasing? Talk about turning the tables...

We left via the lower mall entrance to Macy's and stopped next to the kid's play area where a dozen or more rug rats were sharing germs. I could never imagine allowing my kids to come anywhere close to such a place!

"Wow, I didn't see THAT coming!" I exclaimed to my aunt.

"Maybe we should have asked her to join us and give her opinion on the dress," my aunt mused and I think she was only half joking.

I looked over and saw a store I hadn't seen before. Then again it may have been there for ages given how seldom I was in this part of the mall these days. It was called "Sweet and Sassy". Hmmmmmm, sounded like my type of store.

We made our way over and I realized what it was - a tween's dream and a parent's nightmare! Whoever thought of the concept was a genius though. Before we'd left I must have run up a hundred dollar bill buying cute little things for my girls. Thank goodness my aunt had my dad's American Express card!

From there we just toured the mall. Riding up the escalator by Sears, my aunt had first waited until the opportune moment and then stepped right in front of a couple of boys. They didn't say anything but at first I could tell they were a little mad we'd gotten in their way. That is, until my aunt reached over and planted her hand firmly on my butt right in front of them! I was a little surprised but didn't move, leaving it up to her. The ride up only lasted a few seconds so it wasn't like she could do anything THAT naughty, right?

Even so, in just those few minutes she gave those boys something they're probably STILL bragging about to all their friends, none of whom I imagine believe a word of it. Had she just kept her hand on my butt over my skirt - maybe that would have given them points but then she pulled up the material, exposing my now bare bottom as I'd somehow "forgotten" to put my thing back on when getting dressed again at Macy's. It was only for a couple of seconds before we were up too high and she had to loosen her hold and allow the skirt to drop back down but for those brief precious moments they had an up front and personal view of my bare butt and pussy as I wasn't exactly being lady-like with my feet planted as far apart as I could on the step.

At the top we both just stepped off and walked away without so much as looking back. After about ten steps I couldn't help myself and twisted my head around for a peek. Sure enough, the two of them were talking wildly to another group of boys, gesturing and pointing our way.

"What do you think Kelly, I'd say they don't believe a word of it," my aunt chuckled as she also had turned to look. We both laughed and continued on our way.

We spent maybe another hour or so shopping and teasing. It was almost TOO easy at times. My aunt preferred to flash the young boys while I kept a lookout for the bored husbands in their chairs waiting for their wife to finish spending their money.

4. Showing My Age?

By the time we'd made our way back to the car, I was ready to leave. My aunt was all excited and spent the entire trip back reliving her favorite moments while I sat in my seat and pondered. Yes indeed, I was 31 now and no teenager anymore. While I enjoyed the flirting and teasing, somehow it just didn't have the same impact it use to when I was young and less experienced. Back then it was all new and I was thrilled at the responses. But now... as I mentioned it was maybe TOO easy. Any guy with a pulse it going to look when he sees someone dressed like me flaunting herself. While his wife might get pissed if she catches him looking, it's not like he cheated on her so the danger level is minimal.

That night after I'd made love with my husband, I laid next to him in bed holding onto his now spent dick after he'd cum in me. I'd gotten him all hot and bothered telling him about my adventures with my aunt earlier in the day and he'd fucked me especially good - although ANY sex with my husband is always good. As he drifted off to sleep, I thought about how I'd felt in the car afterwards.

OMG, I'm OLD!

OK, maybe an overreaction but still... I'd changed so much since those early days as a teenager when I could spend an entire afternoon at the mall or grocery store teasing men for fun. Now it was like if they weren't married I wasn't even all that interested. Even then, if they didn't end up fucking me, what was the point? Without the reward of knowing they were putting their marriage on the line, that they were putting me ahead of their wife... it was like it was all for them and nothing for me.

It was sort of ironic that I found myself in the same camp as the women who fought against men objectifying women only in my case it was for different reasons.

They fought it because it made them feel humiliated and belittled while I felt unsatisfied that they didn't go further.

As I fell asleep I thought about one of the male teachers at school. There weren't all that many these days at the middle school level but one of them in particular had caught my eye. I'd heard he was married but no kids, maybe a few years older than me. I'd never met his wife and we'd actually only briefly interacted crossing paths during the school day. All my life I'd made it a point to never have sex with a teacher but that was as a student. Teasing them was fair game of course but sex – too many potential problems for both of us that could get out of hand quickly. Well, I wasn't a student anymore so after today's revelation maybe I needed to revisit my "no teacher" policy...

(Nov 06) Chapter 287: BFFs Share Everything

Story codes: MF oral voy inc father daughter
Me (31)
John - my dad (51)
Beth - my BFF (31)
Ryan - Beth's Father (52)

While a number of my friends qualify for "BFF" status, there's one who has always been at the top my list - Beth. We've been best friends since I can remember. Through the years we've shared everything, the good and the bad. As teens it was boyfriends, school, and church. Then it was college and eventually marriage followed by kids. I didn't think there was much more we could share but isn't that how it always is - it's the things you never saw coming that keep life interesting!

1. Sharing With Beth

The phrase "BFF", or Best Friends Forever, tends to get tossed about to the point where today it has lost most of its meaning. Yes, I'm guilty as well of using it to describe most of my friends Still, if anyone wanted an example of what it REALLY means to be BFFs, I would hold up my relationship with Beth as Exhibit #1. From the time we met as little girls in preschool to today where we're in our thirties, married with children, we've always shared a special bond. Of course we've had our ups and downs but we always reconciled and if anything I believe it's been the struggles that have brought us even closer in the end.

I've been fortunate to have been raised by the most wonderful parents anyone could ask for. Oh sure some cynical people might say that's easy to say given that I was an only child of two professionals, each bringing home six figure salaries. OK, I'll admit I was spoiled from the perspective I didn't lack for much but there's a lot of kids who are financially better off than me who don't get along at all with their parents. And yes, those same people might say I've been "groomed" by my parents for their sexual gratification but that would be so wrong I can't even begin to express my disgust at such a suggestion. They conveniently forget that I didn't even start having sex with my dad until I was sixteen so it's not like I was abused or anything. By then I'd been sexually active for two years!

What makes my parents so special is not their wealth or sexual activities but the emotional support they provided me and the ethical/moral values they instilled in me. Also, as much as I may have felt differently about it at the time, they were also rather strict with me in many ways which I realize today was for my own benefit and kept me from landing in trouble while still giving me the freedom I wanted. First and foremost they raised me to be a Christian and church has always been a major focus of my life. Most of my ethical and moral values are tied to my religious beliefs, as well as those of my parents - especially my mother.

Beth is my #1 BFF but my mom has her own special place. She IS my mother so I guess technically that disqualifies her from being a BFF but in terms of sharing my most intimate secrets she's always been there. For example, it was my mother who I first told after losing my virginity although Beth was a close second.

People always ask me about my sexual relations with Beth. I know what they want to hear - that she and I have had rampant sex since we were little girls. Actually the opposite is true, at least in terms of being physical with one another. Who was the first girl I masturbated with? Beth. Who was the first girl I had sex with - NOT Beth. Who invited me to her sex parties? Beth. Who was the one girl I rarely had sex with at them? The same Beth. Why? It's hard for me to explain as I'm not even sure how to describe it. I love Beth as a person, not as a lover. I think we both realize that being sexual would bring in an element to our friendship that isn't needed.

The one thing I didn't share immediately with Beth was when I started having sex with my dad. With all the time she spent at our house while we were growing up, she knew my parents weren't hung up about my sexual activities but the rules my parents had were such we didn't show her - or anyone outside our family, everything. For example, I wore my bikini in the hot tub and my dad wore his swim suit whenever Beth was with us. While my dad might have his usual erection (he IS a man after all so some things can't be prevented), it stayed in his pants and he never masturbated openly when Beth was with us. When he would have us pose for him and take pictures, while we might have fun wearing something suggestive and posing a little naughty, it never crossed a certain line.

One rule my mother had always been adamant about was adultery. While sex with her father and my dad's brothers was OK as incest isn't adultery, it also meant no swinging, swapping, or anything sexual with someone outside her marriage family. She applied the same rule to my dad which meant while I knew he was turned on by Beth, he also never crossed the line with her. Oh sure he might "slip" in the hot tub and grope a little but it was always "accidental" and something we laughed about later rather than leading to anything more.

So that said... enter Beth. While legally she was not my relative, in every other sense of the word she was like a sister to me. Other than my cousin Kristi, I spent more time with Beth than anyone else. We certainly didn't LOOK like sisters - I've been jealous of her boobs since she was wearing a real bra in 5th grade! Then again, look how many REAL sisters don't look anything alike. We have different opinions and preferences. I've always preferred more intimacy during sex whereas she's been the ultimate party girl. I'm extremely religious but Beth only enters a church when I drag her in. I was having sex with my dad and so far as I knew Beth wasn't (and in reality she wasn't).

So imagine my surprise, not to mention more than a bit of shock, when my dad suddenly fucked Beth right in front of me one day while we were all in the hot tub together! It's a long story (I've written a diary entry[14] devoted to it) but it was one of those events that stressed our relationship. It was certainly erotic to watch my father fuck my BFF but for him to commit adultery - and right in front of me? Considering how forceful my mother had always been on the subject - and then for her to watch as well (from my bedroom window unknown to Beth but I knew), I couldn't help but felt a bit of resentment towards Beth. I'd never seen my dad fuck anyone outside my family and never thought he would and here my BFF was the one to lure him into sin.

Of course we made up. Two things helped. First, the next time my dad fucked Beth I didn't just watch - I made sure he fucked me too! Wow, talk about opening her eyes! Incest was something we'd never really discussed. Really, for 99.99% of the world incest is porn fantasy, not something "normal" people do. Seeing Beth's expression when my dad's dick first pushed into me was priceless! Yes, we had some interesting discussions later! In the end I'm not sure she ever entirely understood why I would want to have sex with my own father but like other issues where we were on different sides she accepted it and I think she secretly was turned on more about it than she admitted. To this day it's something more we have an understanding about more so than discussing it. At the same time I have never pushed her into doing it with her dad as I realize it's something that just will never happen.

[14] 2004 (Nov 27) Chapter 66: First Time With My Best Friend Beth

As much as seeing my dad fuck Beth made me resent Beth more than anything else had ever done in our history, I got my "revenge" by seducing her father. He'd been sneaking peeks at us in our bikinis by their pool and I took advantage of his horniness. Granted, I may have used a little blackmail to get my way but in the end all that mattered to me was that he fucked me. Although Beth didn't see us, I made sure she knew about it right afterwards! She was so mad at me! I wasn't sure if it was that I'd fucked her dad or that he cheated on her mom that infuriated her more but things were a little dicey between us for a week or so until we inevitably made up. We declared a truce and that was the last time either of us fucked the other's father.

Over the years Beth has remained my confidante and friend. We both are married now with me having two daughters and her having two sons. Sometimes we joke about our kids fooling around when they get older although I think it's less of a joke for me than her. One thing we do NOT discuss is incest with our kids. While she doesn't agree with me on the topic, I know Beth respects me enough to not judge me. At the same I time I respect her views and don't rub it in her face or make any suggestions about her and her sons. I DO have to admit I'm a bit jealous in that she got TWO sons while I have none. Still, I love my daughters and accept that it's God's will.

For those curious, yes we HAVE swapped husbands although only a couple of times. Beth's husband was a frequent attendee at the sex parties she loved to frequent so they share similar interests when it comes to such things. It's funny though in that I found it a little awkward having sex with my BFF's husband, much the same as how I feel when it comes to having sex with her. Not that my husband had any such problems! After all, he was fucking Beth back in school long before he did me. Something about her big boobs attracted the boys like flies! While I'm much more happier with my breasts today, they still pale in comparison with hers and I know from the way he stares at them that Steve thinks so too. Oh well, he married ME after all so I'm not complaining.

2. Surprise Announcement

A few weeks ago I was at Beth's home sharing a little wine while our kids played in the back yard. While I'm not much of a drinker, for some reason whenever I'm with Beth it seems like a good glass of white wine tastes better than my usual Diet Coke. It was unseasonably warm so we were seated on her back deck. Someday I hope Steve and I can afford our own house as living in an apartment we don't have the privacy I miss from living with my parents. While not a nudist, I DO like to lay out in the sun naked at times although Steve says I look sexier with tan lines. Having a private back yard also had other advantages which I was exploiting much to Beth's chagrin.

"Kelly! Really?" Beth exclaimed as she shook her head.

"Hey, don't blame me," I retorted, "You're the one getting me turned on."

Beth had been relating the details of the last sex party she and her husband had hosted. Being married they weren't eligible for the ones she use to attend and besides, those had pretty much changed over their attendance list as people married and moved. Shortly after their wedding she contacted some of the couples she had known and started a new group with a different twist. Now instead of requiring people to be single and forbidding couples, the new rules allowed for only married couples and both had to be there.

Steve and I had attended a couple of Beth's parties but neither of us found them particularly fulfilling. For me, I guess I'm getting older as I just don't find the sex party scene all that much fun. Fucking a series of guys, most of whom I don't even learn their names, is so impersonal. I've become drawn to more intimate encounters, one-to-one where I can spend an evening or even an entire night with a man. Also, while I find being fucked by a married father to be erotic and fulfilling, the shine comes off when the wife is an active participant. It means so much more to me when a man cheats on his wife as it shows me he finds me more sexually attractive than her to the point he is willing to risk his marriage and possibly his career just to spend one time with me.

For Steve it's not nearly so complicated. Fucking older married women is simply not his preferred partner. Oh sure he doesn't complain! After all, he is a man with normal male urges so it's not like he turns down the opportunity. As I said, it's more a matter of preference. It's why he prefers the sex parties my Aunt Linda

Now I knew she was pulling my leg and we both laughed. Little did she know that her last offer WAS more than just a little interesting!

For the next few minutes we sipped on our wine and watched the kids. I couldn't help but reflect how OLD we were getting to be! It was like seeing my mom with her friends when I was a kid. Not exactly a thrilling thought. I could only imagine what it will be like when I hit forty... UGH! My musing was interrupted by Beth...

"Do you remember back when you first did your dad in front of me?"

Whoa, now THAT was certainly a detour I hadn't seen coming. I looked at Beth a little bewildered, not quite sure how to answer so I just nodded and waited to see where was going with this. Like it was something we hadn't discussed in ages!

"I've guess I've always been a little curious, you know?"

No, I didn't know but I don't think she was really asking a question as she continued.

"Why did you decide to just do it in front of me? Why not tell me about it first?"

OK, so now what do I say? I was mad at her for seducing my father into sin? I wanted to get back at her for making my mom watch her husband commit adultery? Oh sure my point would have been made if I HAD just told her privately but surprising her as I did by doing something I'm sure she never suspected... that was better. Still, not like I was going to tell HER that. Being BFFs didn't mean we shared EVERYTHING. Sometimes being a friend also means spinning little white lies.

"I don't know... I hadn't really thought about it and it just happened."

"You DO know I wasn't as surprised as I let you think I was, don't you?"

I looked at her, my eyes narrowing a bit as I wasn't wearing my glasses. Now what did she mean by THAT?

"C'mon Kelly, you think I didn't always suspect there was something between you and your dad? Like how he was never embarrassed to have a hard-on in front of us? The way you sat on his lap and ground your ass on it? The "accidental" boob groping? The way you kissed him... I mean how many daughters French kiss their own father? And the way you dressed for him and posed for him... I would NEVER have done anything remotely like that with my dad, at least not in those outfits and not in those poses."

"So why didn't you ever say anything?" I asked, curious now as much about why she was telling me all this than anything.

Beth shrugged. "Well, to be perfectly honest I wasn't sure if you were actually having SEX. I mean incest isn't the sort of thing you think about normal people doing. Sorry... I didn't mean that the way it came out."

"It's OK, I know what you meant."

"I figured you might be touching more, maybe even sucking him but I REALLY didn't think you were actually fucking your dad until I saw him doing it with you that day."

I giggled a little at that. "So you WERE surprised then."

Beth huffed and dropped her shoulders like I was pointing out the obvious. "Well duh! Face it, incest is the sort of thing I think about happening in the hollers of West Virginia or some pedophile abusing his daughter in a trailer park. I never considered anything like what I saw with you and your dad. That's what I think surprised me more than anything. It wasn't like you were acting out some porn scene... I could see how much you adored him and he obviously was totally in love with you in ways I never imagined a father could be."

"So if I set such a good example, then why didn't you ever fuck YOUR dad then?" I countered.

Beth almost choked on that one. "Oh Kelly, don't be so silly. You know perfectly well why not. The same reason every other girl in the world I know doesn't have sex with HER dad, at least other than YOU. He's my FATHER! I just couldn't even imagine doing such a thing and I'm sure he never thought about ME that way."

"Yeah, I've heard THAT one plenty enough," I grinned, "Most every dad I chat with on-line gives me the same line about his daughter. Oh sure he lusts for her friends but NEVER her. Well, THAT is almost a line of crap when push comes to shove. Just about EVERY father confesses to me sooner or later that he has lusted for his daughter. The difference is most of them never ACT on those feelings. I bet your dad was no different. I saw how we would look at us when you wore those bikinis so skimpy your boobs practically fell out."

Beth didn't take my bait, instead changing course a few degrees.

"So may I ask you something? Do you think your daughters will have sex with Steve when they get older?"

I hesitated for a moment. I knew the standard answer I give out to people on-line who ask me this question and I DO get asked it a LOT. "It will be up to them. I HOPE they do but in the end it's their choice," is how it goes in one way or another but that's the general gist of it. But this was Beth and I wanted to be honest with her.

"You heard me. My dad and I have been doing it for four months now."

"Does Keith know?" I asked. I knew how MY husband had reacted when he learned about me and my dad and I could only imagine the response from hers.

"Fuck no!" Beth exclaimed, "He'd just want to watch... or maybe even join in. he can be such a perv and I'm NOT goin' there."

"But... but how? Why?" I blurted out.

"Well, since my mom dumped him he's been so down..." she started before I interrupted.

"You've GOT to be kidding me," I interjected. What I meant was she was starting out like so many so-called "erotic stories" where a father and daughter start having sex right after either the mother dies or leaves. It's SUCH a corny line and when I encounter it I just skip the rest of the story as it's just SO silly and unbelievable. Beth was well aware of my feelings on the matter after dealing with enough of my soap-box theatrics after having just read such a stupid story.

"I know... it's so stereotypical but don't forget I also HAVE had the prefect mentor," she tried to explain.

"Me?" I asked, not quite believing what I was hearing.

"I know I always say I don't want to hear about it but it's so obvious in how you lead your life," Beth continued as if I hadn't interrupted, "Anyone with eyes can see how adoringly you look at him and how he undresses you with his eyes. The way you hug him, kiss him, everything. Sometimes I can't believe what you guys get away with but I guess people buy your perfect little "church-girl" routine so they simply ignore what's right in front of them."

"But that's nothing new," I came back, "I'd say if anything we've toned down on that over the years. It's not at all like it was when I was a teenager."

Beth giggled. "Yeah you're right on THAT. Still, even I was fooled back then until you demonstrated it in front of me. Given your involvements in church and the community and your dad's standing at work and in town, who would even dream you guys were doing it? I mean sure once I knew it was SO obvious but I wouldn't ever have believed it if someone just told me!"

"So back to you and your dad..." I said to bring her back on course.

"He was so crushed when she dumped him although you have to admit, she DID upgrade. He almost lost his job he got so depressed. He just moved out a few weeks ago when he finally found a place to stay. Meanwhile while he was staying with us it wasn't like there weren't a few 'accidents' now and then. Like forgetting to lock the bathroom door and him barging in while I was in the shower, that sort of thing. And you know me... I don't exactly wear all that much at home although I did make a special effort while he was staying here."

"Still... why would you want to have sex with him now after all these years? It's not like he's a spring chicken anymore."

I was trying to diplomatically say that her father wasn't exactly the epitome of a stud. He'd never been all that handsome and the beer belly he'd had even when we were teens had become bigger every year since, not to mention the gorilla suit he wore with all that body hair! Beth caught what I was saying though.

"Hey, YOU fucked him once, remember?"

Well sure I did but the operative word was "once". Also, I didn't fuck him because he was handsome and sexy, I fucked him because he was my BFFs father and that was the ONLY reason. Sure I've fucked a lot of guys who weren't all that sexy or handsome, but they all had some redeeming quality even it was just having a wife and daughter at home for him to cheat on when he was with me. But again, the key word was "once". If you're just doing a guy for the emotional thrill of the hunt, then once you've "bagged" him what's the point in a doing it again? It would be like shooting a deer again once it was dead.

Obviously I didn't point this out to her. LOL

"One night it was late and we were all in bed... or at least that's what I thought. I had to use the toilet and when I went out I barely heard the TV. When I peaked in the living room my dad was watching some porn movie and jerking off! I'd never even seen him naked, let alone doing THAT."

She paused as if expecting me to respond but I just stayed quiet and waited for her to continue.

"I know I shouldn't have watched or at least been disgusted but I just couldn't tear myself away. And then when he was getting close he started to mumble something but I couldn't hear him over the TV, even though it was barely audible as it was. It wasn't until he started to spurt out that I could make it out. Kelly, he was talking to me! Well, not to me really but he was fantasizing about me! He kept saying how he wanted to fuck me and cum inside of me. It was incredible!"

I couldn't help but smile a little smugly. "Well, I TOLD you every father fantasizes about fucking his daughter."

Beth nodded. "Yeah but hearing you say that and hearing HIM say it was totally different."

"So then what?" I pressed her, anxious now to hear more.

"Well, nothing that night. I went back to bed but it took me forever to get back to sleep as all I could think about was watching my father jerking off while thinking he was fucking me."

"It's not as if other men haven't dreamed of that you know," I teased her. "Heck, I think half the boys in grade school were jacking off at night after you wore that see-thru blouse to school, probably even Mr. Edwards."

I was referring to our sixth grade teacher. He'd dragged her off to the principal's office where they called her mother and made her change clothes before she could return to class. Still, I remember even now how he'd looked down her top before they left the room.

"Yeah but my own dad?" Beth continued, "OK, so I know what you say about you and your dad but nobody thinks that sort of thing happens to THEM."

"Go on then..."

"So now I was curious. I wanted to say something to Keith but I was afraid he would either be grossed out or get so turned on he might say something to my dad so I didn't say a word. I started waiting for Keith to leave for work and then change into something sexier in the morning for breakfast, like a negligee or a panties with a T-shirt look. I wanted to see if my dad would notice."

I couldn't help but smile at that one. "Yeah, like any male with a pulse wouldn't!"

Beth actually blushed a little which surprised me as she was probably the LEAST self-conscious person I knew when it came to displaying her body. Like they say, if you got it, flaunt it! Beth certainly flaunted hers.

"Whatever Kelly... well he did! The more he looked the more I would work to grab his attention. Like wearing a button-down short with no buttons buttoned or just a bra. Maybe a really short robe with nothing underneath while we watched TV."

Sheesh, would she EVER get to the punch line? OK, so I was getting horny again and if she didn't want to stop so I could masturbate again she had better get on with it.

"I didn't know what to do though. I wanted so bad to ask you but I knew what you would say... to just fuck him."

OK, so she had me there...

"Then I remember those movies you told me you thought was so hot... the Taboo ones? Remember?"

Like I wouldn't? I've mentioned may times I'm not a big one for porn, especially the modern stuff which is so predictable and redundant. See one and you've seen them all. All those silly "interviews", "castings" and so-called "first time" amateurs. It's ridiculous as the same girls appear in all of them and the plot is the same for each one. The only ones I can bear are the "vintage" ones from the 80's where they told a story, as lame as it may be sometimes. At least the actors were good at what they did! I have to admit a lot of my moves and techniques have been stolen from watching girls like Ginger Lynn who really made it look like they enjoyed what they were doing!

"So anyways, I went on-line and watched a couple of them. Do you remember the one where the girl snuck into her parent's bedroom and started sucking on her dad while he slept next to her mom? And then he woke up and fucked her while mommy slept unaware? I was SO turned on watching it!!"

Visions of that Dorothy Lemay scene came to mind. Yep, she wasn't the only one turned on by that scene! Dorothy Lemay was what I call the perfect slut and I believe that was one of her best scenes. When she said, "Quiet daddy, you'll wake mommy!" I thought I'd cum on the spot!

"It got me thinking about my dad and how hot it would be to do that with him. I know, my mom isn't here but the idea of him waking up to me sucking his dick... the more I thought about it the more I found myself thinking about really doing it."

"So you did?" I asked rather rhetorically as obviously this is where she was leading.

"OMG I DID!" she blurted out. Even the kids heard her as I noticed they turned their attention to us but then went right back to their toys.

"I was SO nervous... I had to play with myself for an hour before I got the nerve. In a way it was almost like the movie in that my husband was sleeping while I went to my father's room. I even wore just a sheer nightshirt, just like she did in the movie. Keith had given it to me for our last anniversary which made me feel all the naughtier for wearing it."

I was already miles ahead of her and my pussy was screaming for attention. Really, there was no way she could blame me this time for anything so I once again removed my shorts and tossed them on the deck.

"C'mon, you know you want your off too," I encouraged her. Beth sheepishly checked out the kids. It was like the stars were aligned as for once they were all behaving themselves. It was like they knew we needed this time to ourselves and

"It only took a few minutes before he was firm in my hand and it was a little difficult getting him through the crotch opening without waking him but I took my time and did it. I held his dick and just stared at it Kelly... I knew what I wanted to do but my courage almost failed me. I was one step removed from dropping it like a hot rock and running from the room before he caught me!"

With my eyes still closed I could imagine her in the dim bedroom, her hand on her father's erection with her perfect big boobs dangling out from the sheer negligee. Had it belonged to anyone else I'm sure she would have devoured it immediately but this was a huge step for her, one not easily made by anyone, let alone a girl who had sworn all her life that incest was for naughty girls like her BFF.

"OMG Kelly, I just did it... I just leaned over and took him into my mouth without anything else first. It was so surreal I almost thought I would wake up at any moment. It couldn't be real... I couldn't REALLY be sucking on my dad's dick, could I? But there was no mistaking it... I was and now that I was there was no turning back. It's like you can't be a little bit pregnant, it's all or nothing so if I was going to suck him then that meant now I had to fuck him."

"So did he wake up?"

"Of course he did Kelly. Like how could he not? I think at first he thought he was dreaming as he didn't say a word but just stared at me. Then it seemed to dawn on him what was happening and he started to push me away but I pushed back and took him even more into my mouth. He was SO hard by now I don't think he could even think about what to do so he just laid back and let me continue."

I looked over at Beth next to me and saw she had unbuttoned her blouse and pulled her bra up and over her huge breasts. God they were still incredible even after two kids and over thirty years! I felt mine under my hand and for perhaps the millionth time in our lives I dreamed of what it would be like to have boobs like hers. SHE would say they were more trouble than anything giving her backaches and almost always having to wear a bra. She would tell me that she wished she had MY boobs and could go braless without looking like she was flopping all around. Oh well, I guess we each had pluses and minuses to go with our boobs but I still wouldn't mind going home to Steve one day with DD boobs and get his reaction. He may claim he loves mine but I know he wouldn't hesitate a second if I told him I wanted to get bigger ones.

Beth started to tell me about how she sucked her dad's dick for the first time, in the same explicit detail she was known for. I kept my eyes closed as much as I could while still ensuring the kids were OK, imagining how her heavy boobs draped over his erection as she rubbed it between them. Oh sure, I have to admit by this time I was starting to question whether or not this was all some ruse just to serve us both as a masturbation fantasy. It certainly wouldn't be the first time one of us made us a whopper to get us going. Usually it was about something that was obviously sheer fantasy as both of us knew the lines the other wouldn't cross so it was our "duty" to at least come up with a fantasy that did do. Normally we didn't try to pretend it was real though, so I wasn't sure what her motivation would have been to do so today but what the heck, we were both having a good time now so why not?

"It was incredible Kelly," Beth continued. I noticed she seemed to be more interested in watching me, seeing my reaction to her story. It was fine with me, as she knew so well I LOVE to be watched!

"You've told me in the past how it made you feel when you looked into your dad's eyes as you blew him and saw his lust for you, how it made you feel so sexy and desirable yet at the same time so loving knowing it was your own dad looking at you that way. I never really understood what you were telling me though until I saw that same look in my dad's eyes."

It was like by telling me she was reliving it, something I could relate to as often I feel the same when I write about my experiences. Just as I often stop to masturbate when I write, so too Beth would pause at times as if the memories were too much to ignore and she HAD to touch herself. It gave me time to visualize my own father just a matter of days earlier when I kneeled before him in submission, wearing my Sunday dress as I took his dick into my mouth and pleased him as I knew only I could.

"Honestly I think until that moment I wasn't going to be able to go all the way," Beth said softly, "But the way he LOOKED at me Kelly... the expression on his face... it was like nothing I had ever seen before, not even with my husband. It was at that very moment I knew I HAD to do it, I HAD to know what it was like to have him in me."

Talk about bad timing...

Just then her oldest son stood up and yelled at his brother who promptly stormed off to complain to mommy. I noticed him first and nudged Beth who almost choked when she saw him approaching. We both straightened up and crossed out legs, acting as though nothing was out of the ordinary.

It took a few minutes to soothe things over to where the kids were playing nice again. My pussy was screaming the entire time as I worked my legs together to stimulate it best as I could with her son standing right in front of us. If he noticed his mom and her friend were all but naked he didn't say a word. While I knew Beth didn't allow her boys to be in the room while she and her husband had sex, she wasn't all that hung up about letting them see her naked so more than likely he just figured it was just one of those times. I couldn't help but smile as I wondered how many more years she had before he started asking more questions. I guess it's no different than when I wonder when my daughters will stop just ignoring her parents when they do it when they are around.

The break also gave me time to reflect on one difference between Beth's realization of her father's true feelings for her and her decision to have sex with him versus my own experiences. It had been totally different for me. My decision to have sex with my dad started well before I discovered his desires. That night I came home early from a party and watched my parents in the hot tub from my bedroom window. It was the first time in my life I had seen them having sex. I'd never even so much as seen my mom give my dad a blowjob although with the thin walls in our old house I knew without a doubt they had quite an active sex life. I'd always known my parents loved each other but it wasn't until I saw them MAKING love that I realized just what they were doing demonstrated that love as nothing else I had ever witnessed. It wasn't just sex like some porn movie... it was LOVE. While I could never even imagine loving my father as a lover, I DID love him as my father and I knew at that moment I wanted to have sex with him so I could demonstrate my love for him just as I watched my mom doing. It took time after that before my desires were realized, but it was everything I had ever hoped it would be... and continues to be.

"Kelly?"

I must have drifted off, lost in those memories from so many years ago a Beth poked me. I felt her hand reach between my legs and tease me. Well, THAT got my attention!

"They'll see you!" I half-heartedly protested.

"Yeah, like THAT would bother you," she giggled but she did pull her hand back to her own lap where she started to touch herself again.

"Have they ever seen you masturbate?" I asked. It wasn't that I wanted to change the subject but I was just curious.

"Oh no!" she came back quickly, "God no, I could NEVER do that!" Then she looked at me with her eyes narrowed a little. "You let them watch?"

"Well, it's not like we put on a show or anything," I explained, "There's nothing about masturbation to be ashamed of so why hide it?"

Beth didn't miss one detail in what I had told her. "Steve does too? Oh my God Kelly, Steve jerks off in front of your girls?"

I huffed a little like she was being over dramatic - which she WAS in my opinion. "Again, he doesn't just standing front of them and wank it. It's no different than what my dad when I was a little girl. If he had the urge he did it, nothing special about it."

Beth shook her head and grinned. "Yeah, you've told me a hundred time how you guys sue to masturbate in front of each other but I guess I never really paid much attention to it. Now though... with them right in front of us... it's hitting a little closer to home I guess."

"So anyways... you fucked your dad then?" I interjected, not wanting to stray TOO far off subject.

That lit up her eyes. Her free hand pulled back her blouse again to expose her breast which she then held in her hand as she reached further down between her legs.

"I guess I hadn't dared to fantasize we would actually do it so I wasn't sure what to do next. I mean what position would we do it first? Should I stay in control or let him take over? WOULD he take over if I let him? It was that worry which made the decision for me. I was afraid he might not go through with it if I left it up to him so I dropped my nightshirt and straddled his waist. I've kissed my dad a million times over the years Kelly, but I've never KISSED him if you know what I mean. So I leaned over and we kissed. I couldn't believe it when his tongue reached out for me... he WANTED to kiss me!"

Again I reflected on how different our two experiences with our fathers had been. I'd kissed my dad like that since I was a little girl. None of this cheek pecks stuff, we always kissed full on the mouth and I loved it when we would use our tongues. It was like a game we played but my mom also made sure I understood THAT game was for home play only. I suppose people might have questioned things had they seen how we would kiss as I sat on his lap... especially if they had seen the big erection it gave him!

"I was SOOOOO wet Kelly, it was like his cock just slid along my pussy like I was oiled up. I could feel his head rubbing along me and touching my clit. We hadn't said a word up until that moment but I felt like I had to say SOMETHING before going any further so I just whispered into his ear, 'Fuck me daddy.' His eyes were SO wide but I felt him buck up under me and I knew he wanted me."

Beth gasped as she rubbed herself, pausing for a moment as she did. Oh the heck with it! I reached over and gently pushed her hand out of the way and replaced it with mine. Oh yeah, she was hot and wet! Our eyes met as I pressed my middle finger up into her pussy as far as I could.

"Kelly...." she whispered as she gasped yet again.

"Tell me Beth... tell me how your daddy fucked you."

Hey, by now I was 99% sure it was a fantasy but boy oh boy it was one of her best, that was for sure. I figured a little extra "motivation" wouldn't hurt so I fingered my friend as she struggled to cope with what I was doing while trying to relate her story.

"I reached down and guided him in me. It was like he just slipped in all the way without me even trying! Oh god Kelly, I was fucking him! I was fucking my father! I was fucking my daddy!"

Her words coincided with my hand pressing against her clit as I pressed a second finger into her hot pussy. Beth's hips instinctively thrust forward to meet them.

"He didn't last long but it was wonderful. We looked at each other the entire time, our eyes never separating. His hands reached up and grabbed my breasts as I felt him thrust into me as I pressed down onto him, driving him into me as deep as he could reach. And then he came... he came inside of me Kelly, my daddy's cum was inside of me! Oh god I've never felt the way I felt at that moment when my daddy fucked me."

She may not have felt quite the same as she had then but she certainly was feeling good now as her orgasm exploded and I felt her gush over my hand. Her hips bucked up as if she was imagining her father fucking her and even though I knew it was all a fantasy I was so turned on that she would even HAVE such thoughts now after all her years of denial.

Beth tried to hold it back but she couldn't help let out a couple of soft cries as she came harder and harder as I worked my hand on her pussy. Suddenly she just slumped in the swing and tried to catch her breath.

"Oh wow!" she sighed with her eyes still tightly closed. THAT didn't last long though.

"Mommy, is Aunt Beth OK?"

We'd taught our kids to call the other "aunt" as each of us cringed at the thought of being called "Mrs." by them. We were all but sisters anyways so why not? So it was only natural for my Mia to wonder if her Aunt Beth was OK given she must have thought she was having a seizure or something.

"Oh my god.... Mia!" Beth exclaimed as her eyes popped wide open and she realized my daughter was practically stepping on her feet. Mia looked so innocent, a look of concern on her face. Beth bolted upright and crossed her legs in one motion, flinging my hand from her crotch as she pulled her blouse together.

"Aunt Beth is just fine baby," I assured my daughter, "You know how daddy sometimes make mommy feel good? I was just doing the same for her."

"I can't believe this," Beth was muttering. Meanwhile, satisfied that her "aunt" was ok, Mia went back to play with Kylie her sister.

"Like I said, if you teach them it's nothing unusual or bad they learn to just ignore it."

"Well, it didn't seem she was ignoring me!"

"It's not her fault, she just never saw you do it before."

"We need to get dressed anyways," she insisted so we grabbed out things and gathered ourselves back together again. Once we were 'decent" again, at least by her definition, we refilled out wine glasses and reflected on what had just happened.

"Well I got to tell you Beth, THAT was one of your best," I complimented her.

"What, you think I was spinning a fantasy?"

"Hey sister, I was complimenting you so don't get all huffy," I protested.

"Well it wasn't a fantasy. You think you're the only girl who can fuck her dad?"

I had to admit that when it came to the two of us, yeah, I DID think I was the only one. While I didn't actually SAY it, my expression must have given me away.

"Well news flash Kelly, we've had sex most every day ever since."

I gave her my patented "you've got to be kidding" look and she rolled her eyes.

"OK, so not EVERY day but we've done it a few times now."

"Seriously?" I questioned.

"What do I have to suck, fuck him in front of you to make you believe me?"

I couldn't help but grin at that. I recalled how when I had first told Steve that my dad was fucking me that he didn't believe me either. He had just asked me to marry him and I had to be sure he was OK with me and my dad before I could accept so I told him all about us. To my surprise, he thought I was just pulling his leg! I actually had to have him hide in the closet and watch as my dad fucked me before he took me for my word.

"Well, I'm NOT going to ask him to put on a show for you if that's what you're thinking."

Actually something has popped into my mind that immediately grabbed my attention. It was perfect!

"No I wouldn't ask you to do that but I DO have a suggestion."

I could see from her reaction she knew what was coming. Whenever I had a "suggestion" it usually led to something weird or crazy, not that she minded of course.

I explained my idea and to my surprise she seemed to go along with the idea. The strange thing was I STILL wasn't 100% sure she wasn't just pulling one over on me but of nothing else this would prove it one way or another. We went on making plans until the kids were played out and it was time to leave.

"You know, you really should try doing it and let them watch," I suggested naughtily as I kissed her at the door after the girls had gone out.

Beth smacked me on the butt, a little harder than necessary!

"You never give up, do you?" she lamented.

"Hey, you're fucking your dad and you said THAT would never happen. I'll make a bet that before they are in high school they fuck their mommy."

"Oh Kelly!"

I ducked out before she could smack me again and waved. Who knows, in a few more years we'll see who wins THAT bet.

4. Taking It to a New Level

I didn't go running off to my dad and tell him anything because I still wasn't convinced that Beth wasn't trying to pull of the biggest scam ever between us. I struggled to find a reason though why she would. The only thing I could come up with was maybe for some reason she wanted to have sex with my dad again. Why she would after all these years and changes in her family life I had no idea but it was the only thing that made even a little bit of sense. My sense was I would show up with my dad and it would be just her and then the two of us would do it with my dad. Not that it was such a bad idea, but why not just come right out and tell me that she wanted to do it? Why the elaborate ruse? There was something more to all this than I was seeing but what could it be?

It wasn't until the next Sunday that I mentioned it to my dad. I decided to stop over a little early before church to give us more time rather than rushing things as it always seemed to happen. Arriving a little over an hour earlier than usual, I let myself in and found him still in bed with my Aunt Linda.

"Did we forget to set the clocks back?" my dad teased me as I almost NEVER show up more than fifteen or twenty minutes before the services starts.

"Just wanted a little quality time with my daddy," I said in my little girl voice, "Is that OK with him?"

"Fine with me," he grinned, "But I think she's not ready to get up yet."

"So?" was all I said as I quickly undressed. We had the time so why wrinkle up a nice dress or risk getting cum spots on it right before church?

Although admittedly it wasn't my true reason for arriving early, it WAS nice for once to take our time. Sometimes all we have time for is a quick BJ and while I make sure he always cums, typically it's more for him than me. It's OK with me, that's my duty as his daughter, a duty I relish performing. Still, having us both cum together as he mated me was a treat. He even stayed in me after he came, propping himself on his elbows as I felt his hot dick inside of me, his love for me expressed in the sperm that was still dammed up deep within me.

"OK, so spill it girl, what's the REAL reason for the unexpected pleasure this morning?"

I looked over at my aunt who had somehow managed to sleep through the entire episode! It wasn't I didn't want her to know - my dad would be sure to tell her everything in any case after I had left. I just wanted to discuss this privately with my dad first. I explained to him about the plan Beth and I worked out, including my concerns that it all might be a charade. He took it all in stride and didn't seem the least bit worried about my concerns.

"So let me get this straight... if it works out as planned I get to fuck your Beth. If you're right though, then I get to fuck the both of you. Sounds like a Win-Win to me!"

We both laughed and I could feel his dick move inside of me as he chuckled. God if we could only stay this way forever, father and daughter united as only sex allows.

"I guess I hadn't thought of it that way," I answered. True, from HIS perspective it was a no-brainer!

I looked at the clock and saw we needed to get going if we weren't going to be even more late than usual to the service. It didn't take me long as all I wore was the dress. Sunday mornings were reserved for pleasing my dad and I knew it pleased him the most for me to sit in the pew with him bare under my dress with his fresh sperm inside of me. You know, I think I'm a pretty darn good daughter!

Beth and I had debated the most on the location. Should we do it at one of our homes? Hers was so much bigger than out apartment but then it's not like we would need a lot of space. While it would have been the easiest it was also immediately tossed out as the plan was to make it an all-night affair which meant our husbands and kids would have had to find someplace to stay. While I'm sure Steve would have been happy to spend the night with my aunt, it just didn't seem right.

We were leaning towards getting a couple of hotel rooms, maybe adjoining rooms so we could go between them. While that pretty much met all the requirements, it seemed so sleazy, like I was meeting with one of my old escort customers.

In the end we went full circle, back to using my apartment. Putting aside any thoughts I might have, I knew Steve would love to spend a night with my Aunt Linda and the girls certainly loved her as well. With their real grandmother living so far away in Oregon, my aunt had become their surrogate grandmother - not that my mom was entirely please but then she couldn't complain living so far away.

My thoughts were to make it a father-daughter "date night", maybe going to a movie, dinner, and then back to the apartment for sex. I was a little surprised when Beth wasn't as thrilled about the idea as I had thought she would be.

"Don't get me wrong Kelly, I sounds like a nice evening but that's not how it is with me and my dad," she tried to explain. "It would just feel weird to 'date' him I guess. I mean like we love having sex but that's what it is - us having sex."

Whatever. It just made me all the more convinced that "daddy" want going to show up which is why she wanted to start out in my apartment. It would be a little awkward making dinner reservation and then have just her show up.

The night FINALLY came. Steve seemed to be as excited as I was but for all the wrong reasons.

"What if I hide a few webcam? I'd give anything to watch," he tried to suggest.

OK, so I may submit to my husband but that doesn't mean I'm his slave and I don't go along with all his crazy ideas. After all, ONE of us has to be the adult. Left to him, we'd both probably been arrested years ago!

"Hey, you can't blame a guy for asking," he chuckled when he saw the look I gave him. I wanted to say something about how he never wanted to see me and my dad having sex before but kept it to myself.

I got the girls packed and kissed them before they left with their father. The apartment seemed so empty without them! I'd been debating all week what to wear at first with ideas ranging from full nude to a bikini to a nightgown to a Sunday dress. Finally I settled on what I knew turned MY dad on... one of my school outfits. I don't mean the "catholic schoolgirl" type that he would buy me when I was younger. I'm talking about my daily wear when I teach my eight graders, one from the closet with the clothes I refer to as my "Little House on the Prairie" collection. It's easier to keep two closets - one for school and one for everything else. All the "school" dresses are long hems - well below the knee, NO cleavage, no bare shoulders and totally opaque. Along with them I wear a bra and panties - no thongs. We're talking bras from Macy's not Victoria's Secret. Bras that are comfortable, not sexy (usually the two don't mix). Shoes with low heels, pantyhose, basically everything NOT in my other closet.

My dad arrived first as I had given him a time about a half hour earlier than the others. He gave me a nice long kiss after he closed the door behind him.

"I have to admit, NOT the outfit I was expecting," he laughed taking it all in as he looked me up and down, "Those young men have no idea what's being hidden under all that I bet."

"Oh they have imaginations I'm sure," I giggled. And they did! If they could get all excited with me dressed like a nun, imagination if I came to class in one of my date outfits!

We just talked about work and local politics although staying away from the national election as I knew it always got him riled up. The top of the hour arrived and no Beth. Hmmmmmm, maybe she wouldn't even show up? I suppose it might be a little embarrassing to show up alone and have to confess she had been pulling my leg the entire time. Then again, that would kill my thoughts as to why she might have made the whole thing up in the first place if she didn't show up for a threesome.

Another half hour passed...

"Well, looks like it's just the two of us," my dad finally said. He seemed so disappointed!

"Hey, you still have me you know," I reminded him, "Besides, it's been ages since we had the whole night alone together."

He kissed me, long and soft as his hand caressed my breasts over my dress and bra. I was a little surprised when he started to laugh softly.

"What's so funny" I asked, a little perturbed.

"You're wearing a bra," he answered, "I can't remember the last time I felt one on you."

"Well if THAT's a surprise, wait a little bit," I teased him.

"Oh god no," he gasped in mock shock, "You don't mean you're wearing panties?"

I nodded and he threw his head back as if the world was coming to an end. I was about to remind him how he could take them home with him when there was a knock on the door. For a brief moment I was disappointed - I had just gotten use to the idea of spending the entire night with my dad!

"Guess she's here," my dad said as he leaned back. I noticed he said "she" and not "they". Was he also suspicious of her story?

Well so much for our expectations. I think I was more surprised seeing her with her dad at the door than I would have been if it had just been her.

"Beth!" I exclaimed as we hugged, "You made it... and your dad too."

"I told you so," she whispered into my ear triumphantly.

I moved aside so they could enter. My dad had remained back and stood in the middle of the living room with his hands in his pockets. I decided it was up to me to make the introductions as it occurred to me they had never met before, at least not privately. Oh sure they'd crossed paths at school and community functions but that was an entirely different situation that what this was, to put it mildly! Just as I started to say something my dad stepped in.

"Hi, my name is John," he introduced himself extending his hand, "Ryan, right? I think we met at the last community board meeting."

They may as well have been meeting at church! Before I knew it they were discussing some issue that had been raised recently, leaving Beth and me to stand there watching! I noticed Beth had made a similar decision as I had, choosing a rather conservative outfit. Still, she didn't have to worry about middle school dress codes and with her boobs, I think everything she owns is designed to show off her splendid cleavage. This particular number was cut so low you could see half her boobs even before she leaned over! No bra with this one although from the looks there was quite a bit of support built into the dress.

"Ummmmm, daddy?" I finally cut in.

Both father's chuckled. I think for Beth's dad it was more out of nervousness as he seemed less comfortable leaving the safety of their conversation.

"So.... now what?" Ryan blurted out. Yep, he was nervous!

"Why don't we sit down and have a drink?" my dad suggested. Beth took a seat next to her dad on the couch while I pressed in tight by my dad on the love seat after passing out some wine. I know my dad would've preferred beer but I hate the taste on him.

"From what Beth tells me John, you and Kelly have a lot more experience at this than we do. I have to tell you, I'm more than a little uncomfortable with all this but Beth insisted." He put his hand on her exposed thigh - no pantyhose for her. "And as I'm sure you understand John, when your daughter insists who can say no?"

We all laughed at that but the anxiety level meter was still pegged high. Thankfully my dad seemed ready to steer things.

"Well, it's not like it's the sort of thing we usually share with people. I'm sure you're a little concerned that this might be some sort of trick schemed up by our daughters... not that THEY would ever do such a thing."

Again we all laughed... the meter dropped just a little.

"So maybe I suggest we all put our cards on the table at the start and get that over with."

I wasn't quite sure what he meant and Beth and Ryan certainly seemed uncertain but my dad continued.

"Why don't you show Ryan how you suck my dick Kelly?" my dad told me, "It's not like Beth hasn't seen it but I'm sure Ryan would feel better if you did."

Whoa, talk about jumping right into things! At first I thought maybe he was joking but he started to undo his pants and I realized he was dead serious. Oh well, why not? No point in dragging things out I guess.

Surprisingly my dad didn't just open up his pants but actually took them off, along with his boxers, socks and shoes. He still had on his dress shirt but he pulled up the tails so his hairy crotch was exposed. I guess I don't think of my dad as being much of an exhibitionist so this was a different side to him for me. While not in full-blown erection status, his dick was already starting to show some life, lifting slightly from its bed of thick pubic hair.

Looking over at Beth and her dad, I grinned as I saw them both staring at my dad's dick although I was pretty sure they had quite different perspectives. Beth was undoubtedly being reminded of where the dick she was staring at had been in the past while Ryan seemed more mesmerized by the fact my dad could be so open about his sex.

I got off the love seat and lifted my dress just enough to allow me to kneel on the carpet between my dad's legs. Reaching out with my hand, I grasped his semi-hard dick at the base with my hand and smiled at him. Oh well, here goes nothing!

Cupping his hairy balls with one hand as my other held his shaft in place by the base, I licked him slowly from the base to the tip and then kissed the tip of his dick. My dad has his hands palm down on the love seat cushion, anchoring himself in place as I took his dick in my mouth. I twisted just enough to I could watch Beth and Ryan as I began blowing my dad in front of them. It made me feel good seeing them staring as I loved my dad's dick. Actually if there's one dick I regularly have that the fewest people have seen me suck, it would be my dad's. I rarely have had sex with him when anyone outside of our family was there so this was a special treat for both of us.

"Well, time to ante up Ryan," my dad encouraged him.

Beth and her dad looked at each other. As I sucked on my dad's dick I wondered if they were going to go through with it or if he would chicken out and just watch. One thing seemed certain though. Any idea I might have that she and her dad went having sex were gone. No way would she have invited him if they weren't.

It seemed like hours but was likely more like seconds before Beth placed her hand on her father's crotch and nodded at him. Ryan took one more look over at where my dad was enjoying his daughter's mouth on him and shrugged. Soon his pants joined my dad's and Beth assumed a position similar to my own.

"Best sight in the world, eh Ryan?" my dad called over. Beth's dad wasn't saying a word but his dick betrayed him – already stiff as a pipe!

"This is a pain having to talk like this... move over baby," my dad told me. I leaned back and he moved over to the couch by Ryan. I think at first Ryan was worried something inky might be about to happen but he didn't know how much a homophobe my father was! There was a good foot or to between them, about a close as my dad would allow himself to get with another exposed dick.

"This is better," my dad mused. "Talk about two beautiful daughters! I have to say Ryan, we were two VERY lucky fathers."

Ryan was obviously happy with his BJ but I wasn't so sure he felt as flippant about the entire situation as my dad. Then again, this was still all new to him so what would you expect? If everything Beth had told me as true – and it seemed that was now the case, then he'd only been involved in incest for a few weeks and nothing so far as group sex or being with other people. Actually it was amazing I guess you could say he could even get it up!

"How about a friendly wager Ryan, father to father?" my dad proposed, "Which of our daughters can get her dad off first?"

I glanced over at Beth who did the same with me. Her eyes opened wide but she didn't let her dad out of her mouth.

"Ummmmm, I don't know John," Ryan stuttered.

"It's a fair bet," my dad went on, "Trust me, I've been blown by them both and their both EXTREMELY good. From what I hear you know as well."

Basically he was telling Ryan that he knew all about how I had fucked him years ago at their house. I wasn't sure if Beth had told her dad about having sex with my dad but in any case THAT was on the table now as well.

"I think to make it fair we should swap daughters."

Wow, THAT I hadn't expected and from Beth's expression, neither had she. Holy smoke, Ryan was raising the bet! Maybe he was just compensating for his nervousness by a false sense of bravado but whatever the reason, sounded like a pretty good idea to me.

"Why not? I agree, it would even the playing field," my dad concurred. I noted they hadn't set any wagers but in this case pride was as much at stake an anything.

"OK girls, switch daddies," my dad announced.

Soon I was sucking on Ryan while Beth had my dad in her mouth. It WAS a little more fair as I had sucked my dad probably thousands of times of the years so I knew every nuance and trick to get my dad off. In contrast Beth had sucked him twice and I had sucked Ryan once but those had all been many years ago. Both of us had been sucking dicks since we were teens and if anything, Beth had started a couple of years before me so it wasn't like either of us had a real advantage in the experience department. It wouldn't be the first time we'd competed in such a competition although this was the first time our fathers were the lucky recipients.

Beth still insists it was a tie but I think I got her dad just a fraction of a second before my dad let loose in Beth's mouth. It was so close that it was basically impossible to tell as they both came in our mouths so even if we had a camera recoding us it wouldn't have been possible to see who actually ejaculate first.

It was Beth's idea though to snowball. We looked at our dads and opened our mouths to show off their respective loads when Beth tapped my leg and turned to me. I immediately knew what she intended and we leaned together and kissed, exchanging our fathers' sperm and mixing it together between us. Finally, when we each had a mouthful of the mix, we showed them again and then swallowed it down with a flourish.

"Damn, I'd say they're both as slutty as they come, agree Ryan?" my dad bragged.

Ryan has still reeling from my blowjob. I leaned forward and couldn't help but tease him a little saying, "I bet you never thought I'd be sucking your dick again, did you?"

He just grinned and shook his head. "A few weeks ago I would have said ALL of this would never happen!"

We all laughed at that one. Indeed, I think we all would have said the same thing.

With both men in their fifties, their cocks were dwindling rapidly. None of the ol' teenage boy instant replays for them! Based on my experience with my dad, I knew it would be at least a half hour or so before he had any chance of regaining an erection and even that would require some "motivation". Well, if Ryan was like 99% of the men I knew, I had just the solution.

"Hey dad, what do you say Beth and I put on a little show to help you guys along?"

The two father's looked at each other and it was like they read each other's mind as they each gave a thumbs up at the same time. I had to say for a relative rookie Beth's dad was getting into the swing of things pretty quickly. Then again, from my experience with other fathers like him, he'd probably been fantasizing about something like this for most of his life and I would have bet my next paycheck his computer was filled with incest porn. It obviously wasn't a new concept to him! With his wife leaving him his self-image must have suffered even more, making him all the more open to this sort of thing. This had to be like a dream come true for him.

The two of us stood up and moved to be in front of our own fathers this time. Slowly but surely we stripped for them, dropping once piece of clothing at a time while running our hands over ourselves and each trying to look more suggestive and sexy than the other. Now I was actually happy to be wearing a bra and panties as it let me string it out even longer until finally we were both nude except for our heels. That was the one exception I'd made to my outfit, substituting a pair of 5 inch spike black heels with a strap around my ankle from my other closet rather than the bland short ones from my school selection. Beth had on a similar pair as well so we were about the same height although I was by far the skinny one. Not that Beth was fat but she was little more on the plus size. It didn't help that she'd had more problems dropping weight after her pregnancies than me. It made me proud knowing I can still fit into my wedding dress without cutting off my breathing.

"Nice," my dad complimented us, his eyes roaming over each of our nude bodies.

"My thoughts exactly," Ryan confirmed.

With that we turned to one another and hugged, my hands reaching around to her ass as she grabbed mine as well with both of hers. Her large breasts pressed in tight against mine as our lips touched and I could feel her warm breath on my face. Softly we kissed, tongues reaching out and touching, lips pressing against one another our passion built. Each of us pulled the other in tighter until our naked forms were pressed tightly together. Slowly we dropped to the floor where we laid on our sides, hands now wandering over each other as my leg pressed in between hers and I could feel my warm pussy against her thigh.

Beth was the first to break off our kiss, moving slowly down my sensitive neck and then to my breasts, taking each nipple into her mouth and toying with it between her lips with her tongue. I found myself watching the reaction of our fathers as much as watching her. Each of them was sitting there motionless, hands to their sides with their flaccid dicks dropped over into their hairy crotches. I was sure each of them wanted to grab their cock and start jerking on it but Ryan was probably like my dad, not too thrilled about masturbating in front of another man. It's funny how men love to watch girls masturbating together but when it comes to doing it with another guy - no way!

Rolling over onto my back, Beth worked her way slowly down my torso, licking a circle around my belly button before continuing to my pussy where I gasped as her tongue teased my clit. She was laying on her belly now between my bare legs, her face looking up at me as her fingers ran over me and then pushed inside my wet pussy. Reaching down, she licked me from the bottom of my pussy slit to the top.

"Mmmmmmm, you taste perfect," she sighed softly as she licked her lips. My dad tossed me a cushion from the couch so I could prop up my head easier to watch as my best friend brought me to the brink of an orgasm and then literally shoved me off as I cried out with pleasure, begging her to never stop!

The scene repeated, only this time it was my mouth bringing her pussy to its peak. I couldn't even remember the last time I'd eaten her pussy it had been so long. Damn she tasted good! No sooner had she climaxed than we scissored, grinding our soaking wet pussies against one another's as our fathers maintained their vigilance. It was tempting to run to my room and grab my trusty double ended dildo - how could I have forgotten to have it out and ready? Each of us came again after which we rested somewhat in a 69 with me on top. I say rested because we just took our time, each of us savoring the other's cum-soaked pussy rather than rushing to bring on an orgasm as we had earlier.

Out of the corner of my eye I saw a movement. Looking over I smiled as I saw my dad finally cave in and grab his cock. It was starting to respond finally and while he wasn't stroking it- yet, he at least had a grip on the thing. Soon Ryan followed suit.

Another day, another time, and I think Beth and I could have just enjoyed one another for the entire evening. Still, I think we both knew this was just to get our fathers ready again and as much as we were enjoying it we both kept an eye out to see when they would be ready. Even with the "motivation" we'd given them, it was still like a good 45 minutes before they were both hard again! Maybe I should have added some Viagra to their drinks.

I was about to say something when my dad and Ryan started talking for the first time since Beth and I began our show. Perhaps along with the return of their erections they blood flow was diminished to their brains lowering their inhibitions? Whether that had any truth to it or not, who knows but then again, who cares? The point being that's what was happening.

"Hope you don't mind me saying this Ryan but I've been horny for Beth since she was in sixth grade."

Fortunately Ryan was in a good mood, to say the least judging by the size of his cock at the moment. "I've never told anyone before but you weren't the only one

John. Where she got those boobs from I have no idea, certainly not her mother. It was all I could to not stare at them all the time."

"Yeah, I don't know what's worse, not being able to look openly or to BE able to look but not touch. Kelly was always running around half naked and when she would sit on my lap it was all I could do to keep it my pants."

I couldn't resist chiming in at that point. "What do you mean daddy? You were always 'accidentally' slipping out."

My dad just waved me off, pretending he had no idea what I was talking about. Beth had her two cents to add as well saying, "Yeah John, just like you 'accidentally' grabbed my breasts whenever I sat on your lap in the hot tub."

Poor dad, being picked on by us both but he didn't seem to mind. Judging by their dick status, it was time though to stop the teasing and get down to business. Holding Beth's hand, we each straddled our own father and stared grinding slowly on their dicks until I couldn't hold back anymore and let him slip inside of me, followed closely by Beth doing the same with her father's incestuous dick.

"Ah yes... incest... it's not just for breakfast anymore," my dad sighed with a smile as I slowly raised and lowered myself on his pole, "what do you say John... is there anything sweeter than fucking your own daughter's pussy?"

I turned to Beth and her grin was as wide as mine. Seeing her father's cock filling her pussy, I felt rather foolish now for not believing her earlier. Indeed, there was no questioning her now - she was definitely fucking her dad! I can't even begin to estimate how many men I've watched fuck Beth, including my own husband and father. Still, I have to say this was the most erotic scene with her I'd ever witnessed. Come to think of it, this was the first time I've watched someone having sex with their father who wasn't in my family, at least someone I felt close to.

"Switch?" I mouthed silently to her, hoping the guys wouldn't notice just in case she didn't want to do it. She shrugged as if it didn't matter then broke into a smile and nodded vigorously. We both lifted off our surprised fathers and switched positions. Neither of our dad protested!

"Been a long time Ryan," I teased him as I gripped his dick with my pussy, "Although I bet you've been dreaming about the day you fucked me ever since."

Poor Ryan, from his expression I knew I had him pegged dead to rights but it was like he was afraid of offending his daughter of he confessed.

"It's OK daddy, I think John here feel the same about me," Beth confessed.

"Guilty as charged," my lawyer father confessed raising his hand.

"Hell, what can I say?" Ryan sighed.

"Switch!" said Beth this time. As I felt the emptiness of my pussy after Ryan's cock left me be filled once again by my own father's erection, another spark of genius struck me.

"Let's play Russian Roulette," I offered to which all I got back was two blank expressions although Beth knew what I was talking about. It was a favorite game at her old sex parties as I explained. "Every minute or so we switch daddies until one of you cums."

I didn't mention that in the party version usually at least three or more men would be involved and that the "winner" was the girl who got the first guy to cum. For her prize she got to finish off and receive the sperm of the other contestants.

Between having recently cum about an hour earlier and the frequent breaks in action as Beth and I would trade laps, the guys were taking a lot longer to cum this time than the first time we did it. Not to mention neither Beth or I were hurrying things along either. There's a lot a girl can do with her pussy to hasten events but what was the hurry?

It was around twenty minutes or so before Beth's father erupted with a sharp gasp and quick upward thrust. As luck would have it the lucky recipient was his own daughter. Destiny was smiling on us tonight! Once he had cum I started fucking my father in more earnest, successfully bringing him to ejaculation a few minutes later.

The two of us remained pegged on our father's cocks like butterflies in a collection. Neither of us wanted to be the first to drop our dad's dick from our pussy! Rather than push things along, I leaned over and kissed my dad, taking pleasure in the feel of him inside of me as we did. It was like he couldn't decide where to keep his hands - on my ass or boobs. Beth followed my lead and I noticed her grinding slowly on her dad's dick, her hips rotating ever so slowly around him. He had his face buried in Beth's boobs to where it was barely visible as they wrapped around his head. Oh well, THAT wasn't about to happen with mine, LOL.

"Ready?" I asked my dad. After having cum in me hundreds of times we didn't have to say much to convey what we meant. He nodded and I gently lifted up and off his cock which dropped out of me and flopped over on its side against a lush bed of wiry black pubic hair. Almost immediately it was followed by a flood of cum that coated his poor little cock. Dismounting, I leaned over and too his dick in my mouth, scraping off his cum into my mouth with my lips as I let it drop out. Mmmmmmm, nice dessert!

Beth and her dad had watched and it seemed they were ready to do the same. After Beth asked if he was ready, she also lifted herself up and no sooner had his dick stopped plugging her pussy the flood of sperm came flooding out all over his dick and pubic hair. Again, just like me she took it in her mouth and swallowed the= entire mess down in one gulp.

Beth and I squeezed in between our dads, our naked bodies pressed tight against each other on one side and our fathers on the other. Each of them put his arm around his own daughter, with Ryan reaching around to get a handful of Beth's boob.

"So Beth tells me you guys started doing this when Kelly was sixteen," Ryan remarked, "How the hell have you kept it a secret for so long?"

Not as hard as you might think," my dad answered, "Really, it's no different than in one of my legal cases. People tend to see what they want to see. So long as we didn't go overboard, why would anyone think we were committing incest?

Ryan seemed to digest that for a moment before responding back. "I guess you're right. I know there were a few times I noticed you and Kelly seemed awful close but I just attributed it to her being an only child, a daddy's girl, that sort of thing. Besides, the way she dressed and acted it wasn't like it was any secret she was easy."

"Oh, and like your daughter was some angel?"

Ryan quickly clarified himself saying, "Oh I know. Beth was as much the school slut as Kelly but that was her mother's fault, not mine."

I was about to protest. Sure Beth was a slut but she wasn't anywhere near my league, at least not at school. And as for it being her mother's "fault", what was wrong with being a slut? My dad must have felt me tense as I got ready to say something so he cut me off.

"No matter. What counts now is what you guys just did, right?"

Ryan gave his daughter a squeeze. "You're right. I'm still having a hard time believing this isn't some sort of dream though. It's like any moment I'm going to wake up with some doll in my arms and a bed soaked with cum after having masturbated all night!"

Beth had her dad's dick gripped in her hand now, same as me. They might not be ready for action but it was comforting to have it to hold. My dad leaned down and we kissed. For the next half hour or so it was like a high school party where we made out on the couch, kissing and touching one another. It stayed as father-daughter which was just fine by me! Finally it was time for bed... or at least time to go to bed.

"So how is this going to work Kelly?" my dad asked as we broke apart and faced the next step.

He was diplomatically pointing out the flaw in my plan, As I never really dreamed that Beth's dad was going to show up, I hadn't worried about the fact that we only had one adult-sized bed. My assumption would be it would be the three of us which would have been just fine. Now what?

"I tell you what. Why don't Beth and I go back to my place and you and Ryan enjoy each other her tonight?" my dad offered, "Linda won't mind sleeping in the guest room Kelly and the girls won't even know we were there if we leave first thing in the morning."

I looked at Ryan as I had a feeling he would be the deciding factor. I assumed that Beth had told him that we were planning to spend the night with each other's father... had she? I mean like I can always be with my dad but how many chances did I get with hers?

"Ummmmm, I guess that works... OK with you baby?"

Beth seemed to be struggling between her earlier commitment with me and now her desires for her father. I knew exactly how she felt. When my dad first started fucking me I wanted to be with him every waking moment and by be with him I mean with him IN me. It was even worse than after I gave my virginity to Steve and couldn't wait to fuck him every day after. It was easy when I thought she was just teasing me but now it was real so how could I ask her to so this?

"You know daddy, I think Beth and Ryan need to be together tonight," I gently nudged him, hoping he would remember how it had been for us fifteen years before. From the smile that emerged on his face I gathered he did!

"You're right Kelly, as always."

"Oh daddy!" I gushed as I hugged him.

"Are you guys sure?" Beth asked.

"Oh yes, not a problem," I assured her. "You guys stay here. Besides, Steve and the girls are already at my dad's so it's like we'll all be having a sleepover."

"Feels sort of funny kicking you out of your own bed," Ryan commented.

I went over and hugged him, his arms wrapped around my slim nude body.

"OK then, I'll make a deal with you. Spend the night tonight here with Beth but you have to fuck me again sometime in the next month. OK?

stereotyping. Like, does it really make any difference what color or race your partner is when you're having sex?

That said, I'm not just another dumb blonde. I fully that realize my rants aren't going to change the way much of the world views interracial sex. Heck, even though he knows full well about my feelings on the subject, even my own husband makes no effort hide how much it would get him off to watch me being fucked by some big black stud as well as his own desires for young black pussy (with emphasis on the "young" part of that description).

Despite my husband's lurid fantasies, it's been years since I've had sex with a black guy and I've never seen Steve with his fantasy young black girl. Sure, I certainly haven't been there every time he's had sex outside our marriage so I can't be 100% sure he hasn't, but I'd still be simply amazed if he could keep it a secret had he ever fucked a young black girl knowing how horny it makes him to even fantasize about it. Please don't try to read anything between the lines when I say that it's been a long time since I had sex with a black guy. It's not like I've ever made a conscious decision about whether or not to do it - or with any guy of any race for that matter. The few times it's happened were nothing special. From my perspective the guy fucking me just happened to have much darker skin than me. As for all the silly talk about black male endowment, I can't say they were all that different in that department than most male white guys I've had sex with and I'd like to think I've had a pretty extensive dossier to compare. It's been more a case of opportunity than anything else - or rather lack of opportunity. Our friends and the people we know through our on-line sex-swapping group simply seem to have sprouted from more Caucasian and Asian bloodlines. Oh I'm sure the liberal apologists would say something like it's "imbedded racism" but that would just be baloney. It's no different than driving through neighborhoods in Pittsburgh where the old adage, "birds of a feather flock together" plays out quite openly.

As I mentioned, I HAVE had sex with a few black guys over the years but they've all been older than I was at time, some quite a bit older. Perhaps the most memorable time for me was when I met a father whose daughter was in one of my classes. Long story short... by the time my visit to their home was over my suspicions about there being an incestuous bond between them was confirmed beyond any reasonable doubt. That occurred well before I was married, or even engaged for that matter, so my husband wasn't involved. Since being married and joining our sex group Steve and I have enjoyed sex with primarily some version of Caucasians with a do NOT engage in incest, incest is not allowed during the family parties so as not to make it overly complicated as to who can have sex with who. Imagine what a pain it would be to have to wear wrist bands of different colors to denote who you'd be willing to have sex with!

As the leader of the group, my Aunt Linda is one of the more active "interviewers". She has asked Steve and me a few times to help out with adult applicants needing a couple to join them for their video. Although I'm the type that LOVES to be watched, normally I have a strong resistance against being recorded being a teacher and all. It helps knowing that these recordings are kept extremely secure and unreachable from the Internet making it not a concern for me.

Unfortunately Steve and I don't get to watch the families during their final interview - my Aunt means it when she says those videos are kept private! On the other hand, Aunt Linda will often give us advance notice of a new family's first party. Steve almost always finds a way to attend those while I try to stay home whenever I can get away with it. The reason I stay home most of the time is while I LOVE the adult swapping sessions, the family parties are definitely Steve's "thing", not mine. Why you ask? Well, even though there ARE usually a number of guys who check off the boxes on my list of preferences - married, teen daughter, older than me, etc., I never get to have sex with them! The rules are quite strict in that sex is only allowed between a parent and a kid, no incest partners, and it's the kids that get to choose their partners. As a result I don't get the opportunity to have fun with the dads so whenever I can get by with it I let Steve go with my cousin Kristi in place of me. Like her mom, she's attracted to young boys so she's more than happy to do me the "favor" so it's a win-win for everyone!

So anyways, enough of all that. A while back my Aunt Linda was out of town for some sort of realtor convention for which she'd been invited after having closed a number of large sales in a tough market. She took advantage of the all-expenses paid trip by blending in some "me time" by herself. Before leaving she asked me if I could fill in for her should any interviews get scheduled in her absence. Typically there are very few, if any, each month so odds were my services wouldn't be needed but she liked to keep her bases covered. What my Aunt Linda lacked in morality and ethics she more than made up when it came to organizational and planning skills, probably one of the reasons she'd risen to be head of the group.

Well, as things turned out there were not one but TWO interviews scheduled. The first was for a younger couple, married just a year, looking to spice up their ass and long lithe legs to match. Wow, she was going to be a busy girl if not already when it came to the boys!

Reading through their responses to the numerous survey questions, I learned that Trevor and Charlene were high school sweethearts which made me smile - same as me and Steve! Unlike us though, they didn't go through a ten year separation period but rather stuck together more or less through college and then got married after which they quickly added Marcy to the family.

As if it was needed, Marcy's questionnaire confirmed my earlier assumption. She'd lost her virginity just this past summer at band camp. I couldn't help but grin when I read that - sheesh, how typical! Then my eyebrows lifted when I saw that she claimed to have only done it with only one boy so far, which took me immediately to the next section of the questionnaire. Hmmmmmm, no incestuous activity, nothing with girls and most curious - no oral sex, not even with the boy who had fucked her. I took that to mean she just let some boy at camp fuck her without much, if any, foreplay. Maybe that's why she only listed having had sex with him a few times.

Marcy's relative inexperience was a major red flag to me making me wonder how they'd even managed to get to this stage in the interview process. Incestuous experience was a requirement to be a member - a firm, non-negotiable requirement at that. Well, that meant doing it at least ONCE, even if just during the video interview although it was extremely rare for that to be the case. I'd heard rumors of instances where people had lied on their applications, evidently hoping that somehow they could sneak by without having to actually do it. Well, THAT never worked as sneaking wasn't an option - the camera sees all and if it didn't capture an unobstructed view of a father's dick buried in his daughter's young pussy then it was game over. It would've been the same if they had a son in regards to having sex with his mother. Checking to see, I saw the initial interview wasn't conducted by my Aunt Linda which made sense as had she been doing the interview she would've dropped everything then and there rather than wasting any more time listening to delusional parents try to rationalize whey they were special and didn't have to conform to the rules.

Well, it was obvious that if I was going to do this interview I needed more information so I removed the small envelopes in their file and took out the USB memory stick inside. Plugging it into the side of my computer, I opened the video file from their initial interview. Anytime during in the application process the couple or family interacted with someone it was recorded. This was primarily for security purposes to avoid any claims of "I never said that" but it was especially useful to me as tone, inflection and body language often gave more information than just words in a transcript.

The first thing I noticed was how the three of them positioned themselves for the interview. The room allowed for several options with a combination of several types of chairs and a large couch. Unknown to applicants, this was done quite deliberately as how they chose to sit was part of their "test". It was encouraging to see Marcy seated between her parents and not off to the side. It was a small point but telling. When a couple sat together with their kids set apart my first instinct is that this is all about them and meeting their own needs more so than their kids. It makes me wonder if they're simply using their kids as their ticket to get to the parties. Seeing Marcy snuggled in between her parents with her father's arm around her and his hand on her shoulder made for a good first impression.

Trevor was dressed in what people refer to as "business casual". Khaki Dockers, a pale blue dress short-sleeved shirt with black dress shoes and black socks. At least he seemed to be taking this seriously rather than showing up in jeans or worse - cargo shorts. At the same time a suit coat was a little much, maybe indicative of being a bit rigid and uncompromising? Clean shaven, he didn't appear overly nervous but he kept glancing at his wife and daughter as if he was concerned about them. Overall I scored him an A so far. OK, so I'm a teacher, get over it!

Charlene also impressed me, pulling off an alluring look without being slutty - something many women just can't seem to get right. She was wearing a tight white dress that hugged her body like Saran Wrap - someone spent some serious time at the local health club! It was short but not TOO short. I mean like it was short enough to draw appreciative looks but no much so that she looked like a hooker. With her bare dark legs crossed, it rode up a little more than half-way up her firm thighs. Matching white heels looked to be on the expensive side and I noticed a delicate gold chain around her left ankle as she bounced her leg just slightly - a little nervous perhaps? Then there were those boobs - wow! As tight as the dress and being strapless as well, you just knew she was proud of them and had every reason to be. She wore a matching gold chain necklace with a small diamond cross - very similar in fact to the one I usually wore. Her hair was straight and shoulder length, nothing fancy but it framed her face nicely. Overall she didn't look like a mom in her mid-thirties - mark up another A for the family.

And then there was Marcy...

"Well, I think we each just feel like our marriage has gotten a little stale in that department, maybe a little routine if you know what I mean."

Charlene just nodded as she allowed Trevor to continue.

"I started checking out some adult sites but then the Ashley Madison scandal hit and I became worried about getting involved with anything like that. Then I was having a few beers with a buddy of mine I've known since high school. Things loosened up a bit and we started talking about marriage and how it was to be locked in with just one person. He mentioned he belonged to this private group and how it's helped his marriage. Over time we talked about it more and he asked if we wanted to be recommended. I talked about it with Char and well... here we are!"

"So you were OK with your husband wanting to join a swapping group?" the interviewer asked Charlene.

Charlene smiled and looked at her husband before answering. "Well, I can't say the idea hadn't crossed my mind as well. I mean I LOVE Trevor and would never want to cheat on him so I just assumed there wasn't anything I could do about it. So when he mentioned this group and how safe and confidential it was it seemed almost too good to be true."

Trevor then continued saying, "I have to admit, I had NO idea the application process would be this complicated. I was a little concerned at first by all the personal information - especially the financials. But then I realized that if everyone was providing this information it was a pretty powerful incentive to keep things private and confidential. I mean, you guys know enough to pretty much ruin our lives with that alone, let alone the more... personal stuff!"

"Well we have no intention of ruining anyone's life," the interviewer assured them, "In fact, that's the whole point of all this - to NOT ruin anyone's life."

"Oh I get that now but still, all this is pretty intimidating," Trevor agreed, pointing his finger right at the camera.

The interview continued with the standard questions about their other sexual partners and experiences. Nothing much interesting, all pretty much routine stuff. All the while Marcy just sat there quietly without much expression as she listened to her parents describe in detail their sexual histories. Was this all new to her? It wasn't like Trevor and Charlene exactly jumped at the chance to share all this. In fact, the interviewer had to press them repeatedly for more details.

Finally it was Marcy's turn. When she was asked about her first time she bit her upper lip and turned to her mom as if asking if she really had to do this. Poor girl, I

"Since your parents told you about all this, have you masturbated about having sex with older men?"

More nods and a grin as she looked at her dad.

"Do you talk to your parents about sex? About masturbating?"

"Noooooo," she answered shyly.

"But yet you are now, aren't you?"

Marcy shrugged this time. "They said I have to answer everything or we wouldn't be accepted."

Not exactly a resounding note of assurance but then she WAS willing to discuss it given the right incentive. Still, SO many questions came to mind and the biggest had yet to be broached. Amazingly, the interviewer never asked a single question about incest! OMG, my Aunt Linda would NEVER have been so flippant. I wondered if maybe the interviewer knew them and knowing that this would be recorded, decided to put it off until the final sex interview.

The video ended so I closed the file and sat back to think about what I'd seen. Well, it looked like the ball had been passed to me. Maybe "dumped" on me would be a more appropriate way to put it! OK, so Trevor was a little more "personal" with his hands on his daughter than the average father but in no way could it be interpreted as anything more than just an innocent fatherly touch.

Yes indeed, this was going to be "interesting" to say the least!

4. The Final Interview

The morning arrived for my interview with Trevor and his family. I deliberately chose one of my school outfits so as not to give any impression that I might have any intentions other than conducting the interview in a fully professional manner. With my dress almost to my ankles, bra and panties and flats, I looked more like I was going to be teaching one of Marcy's classes than orchestrating an incestuous event.

We met at my father's house. With my aunt away and my dad working at the office (Saturday's were a just another work day for him) it was empty plus I didn't have to worry about my girls as they stayed home with their dad. I got there early to get things ready, setting up the cameras in the basement family room area. Unlike the first interview, which used just a single camera, this one would have three to capture different angles. This way I could just watch and offer suggestions rather than trying to hold a video camera and do the interview as well.

Right on time the doorbell rang and I quickly went up the wooden basement stairs to answer the front door. Sure enough, the three of them were there. I welcomed them all in and without fanfare Trevor put their coats in the hall closet after which I led them back downstairs where they took a seat on my dad's couch - much as they had in their first interview.

As we got situated I was pleased to see that they'd followed the recommendations in their application package with Trevor in sweat pants and a T-shirt while Marcy and her mom were also in casual sportswear. If things went as planned, they wouldn't be wearing them for long so why make it any more difficult to get out of them than necessary? If they had followed the instructions to the letter they wouldn't have anything else underneath and judging from how Charlene's boobs were outlined in her tight white tank top it appeared this would be the case.

"Wow, quite the setup you have here Kelly," Trevor commented, nodding at the array of cameras and monitors which allowed me to ensure everything was being properly documented without having to get up and check out for each camera.

"When it comes to IT and gear like this, several of our members have been quite generous," I explained briefly, "Hopefully your friend told you all the parties are captured on video as well- now THAT requires quite the setup as you can imagine. Wouldn't want anyone to feel left out."

My poor attempt at a joke fell flat. They were nervous, that was more than obvious.

"So when do the others arrive?" Charlene asked, looking about and seeing how we were the only ones there.

"Others?" I asked, my pulse quickening as I had a pretty good idea why she asked and it wasn't good.

"Well, Trevor said he was told we had to do some sort of 'demo' tape to prove we aren't part of some undercover sting operation," Charlene explained, "So where are the others?"

I looked at Trevor to see if he displayed any signs of guilt for not having told his wife and daughter the entire truth but he looked as curious as his wife. Uh-oh, his friend must not have mentioned everything to him. Still, it wasn't his responsibility but rather that of the first interviewer who I was REALLY becoming annoyed with.

"Did your friend - Riley, happen to mention who was included in his video interview?"

Trevor looked annoyed but answered, "Yeah sure, he said they were a couple from the North Side. No names of course."

I nodded. "OK, that would have been for their application to the swapping group but this is for the family party group. Did he say anything about THAT?"

Trevor again looked annoyed, as if I was asking an obvious question. "Well, he said he couldn't tell me any details of course but he said he got to watch his wife with two teenage boys. He doesn't have a daughter so he said he didn't have to do one for the interview."

My mind was whirling. OK, so technically everything Riley said was true. It was what he had NOT told his friend that made all the difference.

"Ummmmm, Trevor... you DO know the two boys he mentioned were their sons, don't you?"

Charlene's face dropped and went pale. Trevor just had a look of disbelief as if he must have assumed I was just teasing. Marcy was just grinning, apparently finding her parent's reactions amusing. Well, there was nothing amusing from my point of view.

"yeah but I thought the rules said there was no incest allowed at the parties," he protested.

"What do you think baby... would it be so terrible to do it with your own father?" Trevor asked Marcy softly, placing his hand on her thigh as he had done in the previous interview but this time noticeably closer to her crotch.

Something told me dear old dad had been dreaming about fucking his teen daughter a lot more than he was confessing. Then again, what father didn't? To paraphrase an old saying, in my experience there were two type of fathers - the ones who admit they masturbate about having sex with their daughters and ones who lie about not wanting to do it. The biggest real difference was that the vast majority of dads never get the opportunity to realize their dreams.

"I guess not," she answered softly. She may have sounded hesitant but I couldn't help but notice her looking at her dad's crotch for the first time since they'd sat down.

"OK with you then Mom?" I asked, trying to get things moving.

Charlene took a deep breath and rolled her eyes. "Whatever I guess. I mean like if that's the only way we can get this done then what choice do we have? You're sure that everyone has done this... you're not just making this up to get us to do this?"

I assured her that yes, EVERY family that she would meet had sex with their kids before being granted membership.

Charlene seemed relieved and then she smiled. Hmmmmmm, maybe mommy was more interested in getting involved in the family party scene than she had been letting on! I wondered if she had her own dreams about the two sons we'd been discussing earlier. After the last interview I looked to see if I could figure out who this "Riley" guy was that Trevor had mentioned. That wasn't the name listed on their application as their reference but when I checked out that person sure enough, a guy matching the description with two sons the right age came up. They'd been members for several years. Looking closer, I recognized the boys. Wow, both of them had fucked me a few times! I briefly thought about mentioning it to Charlene but held back, not wanting to freak her out with too much information at one time.

"So why don't we get things started then?" I encouraged them. They all just sat there so I went on, "Well... just don't sit there - get naked!"

Trevor and Marcy got up off the couch but Charlene remained seated.

"You too Charlene," I directed.

"But if it's just the two of them, why do I have to get undressed?" she asked. Then she took a sharp breath. "You don't mean I have to do it with her too?"

reached an orgasm but I knew later when I checked out the recordings THAT omission would be addressed.

"No daddy...." she sighed, her voice tapering off as he finally withdrew from her. His cock was covered with sperm and her pussy cum as she just laid there with her long thin legs spread wide open, almost obscenely as her freshly fucked pussy remained spread wide allowing her father's cum to slow emerged and drain down past her asshole onto the couch. Mmmmmmm, what I would have given to lick her pussy at that moment!

Apparently I wasn't the only one with such thoughts except her mother had one advantage - it was HER daughter lying there and it was her husband's cum overflowing her pussy so who had a better right than she did to do what she did...

The look on Trevor's face was priceless! I don't think any of us had any expectations that Charlene would do anything, let alone this. Even little Marcy seemed shocked to a degree when she felt her mother's tongue on her pussy. Marcy's eyes had been shut tight as she reveled in the moment but they popped open wide as her mother licked her clean.

"Mom?"

"Shhhhhh," Charlene simply said as she returned to her daughter's pussy. Oh my god, now THIS was SO hot to watch! It didn't take long for Marcy to cum yet again making that what, three or four orgasms for the lucky girl? I was willing to bet she'd never done THAT before! When she'd finished Charlene sat back up next to Trevor, leaving their freshly fucked little Marcy to lay back on the couch to recover.

"Well?" was all I had to ask.

Trevor and Charlene looked at each other and then each burst out laughing. Nothing hysterical but more like they both realized that something incredible had just happened. Something special...

"Well... Not exactly what I woke up this morning expecting to be doing," Trevor observed.

"YOU didn't expect it!" Charlene teased, poking him playfully.

"Well, that's all I need for today," I said, wrapping things up. "Although I can't speak officially, I don't think there will be any issues getting your application approved now... not after THAT performance!"

"So when's the next party?" Trevor asked.

"Actually there's one tomorrow afternoon," I answered. "it's not a very big one with the annual Christmas party coming soon. There's a few folks who can't make

"You know dear, it won't be too much longer before she starts asking some uncomfortable questions and you're gonna have to stop doing that."

Steve just grunted, all sleepy now that he'd gotten off. "We'll see," he grumbled.

No sense arguing. True, as a submissive wife I bow to the wishes of my husband but that doesn't mean I'm his slave. As a husband it was also his duty to love me unconditionally which meant taking my thoughts and wishes into account when making decisions. True biblical submission doesn't mean mindless obedience! It's actually a two-way interactive between equal partners in a marriage. Technically Steve had the final say but for him to go against something I felt so strongly about wouldn't be right either. OK, so if he REALLY demanded I would agree having anal sex with him but when it came to our daughter's health and well-being there were no compromises.

"I want to go with you tomorrow," I whispered in his ear. I was met with the sound of my husband falling asleep. So much for him taking care of MY needs after one of the hottest mornings in recent memory. Oh well, that's what fingers are for!

Later that night as I was fixing dinner, Steve silently moved in behind me and put his strong arms around me, reaching inside his shirt I was still wearing to grab my boobs.

"Hey, you wanna eat or not?" I teased him.

"Oh I want to eat," he murmured into my ear as he kissed my neck - he knew I LOVED that, "I want to eat some pussy!"

"Well you could've had THAT when I came home earlier," I taunted him, "But someone was too busy doing his thing with our daughter."

"Hey, I played by your rules so how about giving me a break," he protested like a little boy.

"Yeah right... you know big fella that one of these days you're going to get carried away and then I'll have to neuter you!"

For a moment I think he wasn't sure if I was teasing or not. Actually even I wasn't quite sure myself. Mia came in then looking for supper so that was the end of that but I was looking forward to when they went to bed this evening. Fingers are OK in a pinch but I LOVED my husband's dick and what it could do for me.

About halfway through dinner Steve looked at me and grinned. "So did I hear you right when you came home? You want to go with tomorrow?"

"But you're saying we can't do it here?"

I was about to give him another sigh and agree when I looked out at the people in front of us. My dad was now fucking little Cindy and Steve had wasted no time arranging Marcy into position and was enjoying her mouth on his dick. My aunt and her daughter were getting fucked as well by teenage cock and here I was just standing there watching it all.

What the hell, why not? What could they do, ban me? My aunt would never allow that even if they tried.

"Tell you what Trevor... as soon as my husband cums in your daughter, you can fuck me."

"Why wait?" he responded with a sly look?

"I just assumed you'd want to watch," I answered, "I mean it's not like every day you get to see your daughter fucked by a total stranger for the first time."

"Well, I have to admit that Marcy seems more than happy right now," he observed, "Still, I think it would be hot as hell to fuck you right next to your husband while he fucks my daughter. Shit, sounds like something right out the script of an old porn movie!"

I laughed as we quickly made our way over to where my husband was enjoying the ever improving skills of Trevor's daughter.

"I take it this little goddess of love belongs to you?" Steve grinned as Marcy's outstretched tongue licked the tip of his rigid dick.

Trevor just grinned and looked around. "Well, unless someone's wife likes 'em black, I'd say that's a pretty safe guess."

"Kelly told me she didn't start sucking cock until this week," Steve said conversationally as Marcy looked up at her dad with the head of my husband's dick in her mouth.

"Well, have to thank your wife for that!" Trevor answered and then he groaned as I started on his cock, "Jesus Kelly, how do you DO that?"

He was referring to me at the end there as I suddenly just plunged down on his cock, taking it all in until my cheeks were pressed against his thick black pubic hair. What the heck, I figured I'd surprise him and evidently I had!

Although I was about to gag I knew Marcy was watching and frankly I wanted to show off a little for her. Besides, I couldn't remember ever Steve getting to watch his wife deep throat a black dick so why not "make a memory" as they say?

(Dec 10) Chapter 289: Flying Solo

Story codes: MF Mf oral inc father daughter
Me (31)
John - my dad (52)
Shannon (28)

One of the things that really makes our marriage work so well is trust. My husband and I love and trust one another totally and completely without any hesitation or conditions. While sex plays an essential role in our marriage, we also recognize the difference between sex as in "making love" and just plain ol' having sex for fun. For the most part we tell each other everything we do but now - that can really lead to some fun time later! Then again, sometimes it's fun to just go out on our own.

1. Making Love vs. Fucking

Over the years many sanctimonious people have criticized me for my use of the phrase "fucking". OK, so maybe I DO overuse it sometimes but in my defense it's just easier to use then something like "having sex" or other euphemisms. The way I use it I don't see it as a curse word but rather just a description of an action.

Perhaps the quickest way for me to define "making love", at least how it would appear if I was editing the dictionary, is to say there's only one person in the world who has or ever will make love to me - my husband. My love Steve is so much different from that I have for any other man (or woman for that matter). Steve's my husband, my best friend, my lover, my soulmate, my inspiration and most of all - the father of my children. I can't even imagine what my life would be like without him. Because of that, the term "making love" means something special to me. Yet even when it comes to me and Steve it's not like every time we do it I consider it making love. Heck, there are lots of times one or both of us gets really horny and we just have sex for the simple fun of it. In situations like that we're simply addressing our physical needs, more so than an act of love between a husband and wife. The times we DO make love are special and only happen when we are alone - no kids, no relatives, nobody else.

That said... EVERYONE else just fucks me and that includes my father. As I've also said, he's my father, not my lover!

All this is not to imply anything bad or to demean having sex with someone besides my husband - actually I'd say quite to the contrary. There are many "levels" you could say when it comes to fucking. For instance, at the top of the list would be when my dad fucks me which is not anywhere the same as when I'm doing it with some guy whose name I don't even know. However I've no desire to complicate things by devising some sort of ranking for me being fucked based on who, when and where I have sex so I just resort to using the catch-all phrase "fucking". Hey, it works for me!

Another way of differentiating between the terms "fucking" and "making love" would be to compare how they would apply to a marriage more "conventional" than ours. My guess (and hope) would be that the typical wife would agree with what I with regards to "making love" with her spouse be that male or female. However, my suspicion is that she wouldn't look upon "fucking" the same as me because her relationship with her husband is probably a lot different than mine. Without the deep trust and self-confidence my husband and I share, I'm sure that if her husband fucked someone that she would call it an act of adultery and lead to a few issues with their marriage, to say the least.

Such a wife would more than likely be surprised to know that I also abhor adultery and that I've warned my husband he would be neutered in his sleep without anesthetic if he ever committed such an act. Then again, I'll admit that my definition of adultery is a little more flexible than for most wives. In short, I believe adultery is the act of sex with someone besides your spouse without their permission. Another way of saying it would be that adultery is "cheating". Adultery is being dishonest with your spouse, hiding something from them that should never be hidden. Even so it doesn't necessarily mean that Steve has to tell me every time he has a little fun with someone else, just that he never deliberately hides it from me or lying about it. He knows that he has my blanket permission to have sex with anyone he wants so long as if I ever ask about it that he tells me. Personally, it doesn't turn me all that much on to listen about his little adventures or whatever he calls them. It's not that I'm jealous or anything, it just doesn't get me off.

The same goes with me. While I tell Steve about the vast majority of my extracurricular sexual activities, I don't feel compelled to "confess" the next time I see him. Usually I DO tell him simply because I know he gets off from hearing about it! So I suppose while I tell him most everything, typically if it doesn't impact me in some way then Steve's more than welcome to just keep it to himself. That's particularly true when it comes to having sex with my dad - something he'd rather practice "don't ask - don't tell".

Now that I'm in my thirties with two beautiful daughters, I find my needs and desires slowly changing. Actually, I'd rather say they're "evolving" more so than something I feel needs to be altered. For most of my life I've enjoyed striking out on my own like a cat on the prowl, seeing the reaction of men and just enjoying myself for the evening or afternoon, sometimes with multiple men. Older men - preferably the "happily" married ones are now my favorites. It's even better if they have a teen daughter or two. It's such a boost to my ego and self-worth knowing such men want me so bad they do something they've dared do before!

Nowadays I find I'm more and more into intimacy which mean more one-to-one relationships. I'm much more satisfied these days after spending the night with someone than just a few hours of wild sex. The fact that he has a wife at home clueless about what he's doing turns me on something fierce! Knowing he wants me more than her, even though it's just for one night, makes me feel so sexy and desirable. Fulfilling his fantasies about his daughter can be such a turn-on, especially knowing when he goes home he'll more than likely be looking at her with even more lust than ever before. If nothing else he'll always remember what he did with me! It's like I've been tattooed into his brain. He'll never make love to his wife or hold his daughter close again without memories of me intruding.

Because of my personal "evolution", I find that most of my sexual dalliances outside our marriage (as in non-incestual sex) now tend to be swapping with other married couple. True, it takes away the "cheating" aspect I find so erotic but then it's a whole lot easier to find a couple that wants to swap than a husband who wants to cheat for the first time. Any man who has been married that long hasn't cheated for a reason, even if he WANTS to do it. All of which just makes it all the more fulfilling for me when he does with me!

There's a HUGE difference for me between being fucked by husbands who cheat regularly on their wives and the first timers. I know this may sound strange at first but bear with me... I despise men who commit adultery, especially the ones who do it serially. In my eyes marriage is a solemn commitment and he took an oath before God and his family which makes such a violation wrong on many levels. Thus other than his first time, where's the joy and thrill of being fucked by such a bastard?

Keep in mind I'm referring to the ones who hide it from their wife. As I said, while it's still wrong and a sin, I don't hold the "first timer" in such contempt. Let's be real... typically it's not all his fault. Shouldn't his wife have to share some of the blame if she's not satisfying his needs? I mean like if she was then he wouldn't have been seriously thinking about it fucking me in the first place. Also, I'll admit I often have to bear a smidgeon responsibility as the average married guy I fuck doesn't usually come on to me first. It's like almost always I'm the one who has to pursue him. True, that's usually only when I see some sort of signal he might be interested but in most cases I doubt that if I hadn't made the effort then nothing would have happened. Doesn't every man fantasize? It's getting them to cross the line from fantasy world to the real world that's the problem.

As much as I get grief from it, I have maintained a personal policy that I don't do it again with a husband who has cheated just once with me. Maybe it's a bit to assuage my guilt but I have no desire to ever hurt someone's marriage or become someone's mistress. Rather I like to believe that in most cases allowing him the opportunity to cheat with me HELPS their marriage by allowing him to release those pent up needs and live out the fantasies he's been masturbating about. OK, so maybe for the rest of their marriage he thinks a little about me every time he makes love to his wife, but at least she's still his wife! If anything, if she ever found out she should thank me for the great sex after I did it with him. I know... fat chance of THAT ever happening but I can dream!

Thanks to writings such as this one, I get letters from all sorts of guys who claim to fit my desired "profile" - married, never cheated, teenage daughter. Most of these I take with a grain of salt as I figure they're just saying what they think will get my attention, maybe even convince me to send them a nude of me or two and have some free phone sex. If that's the case they're doomed to be disappointed but still it can be a little entertaining to go along with them for a while although it gets boring pretty quickly. I say that because if they're lying then they quickly use up the fake photos stolen from somebody's Facebook page or run out of excuses as to why they won't rummage through their daughter's underwear and cum on it. Amazingly though, every now and then I get a real guy which can lead to a long-term "relationship" where I share more than usual. Still, it's all just fun and games as I would never consider getting more intimate with anyone on-line, certainly not to where I would share personal information or even cam with them or talk on the phone.

Meeting real guys though is different from chatting on-line of course yet in some ways not so much. For example, I NEVER share my real name or any information with a guy that I don't need to share, even after he's fucked me (or should I say, especially after he's fucked me). In some cases it's unavoidable because we met in church and he's known me maybe for years. It's when I'm with someone I've never met before that my obsession for secrecy comes in full throttle. I'd NEVER consider meeting a stranger at my apartment or even let them see my car (license plate!) or share a photo showing something that could link me to my "real" life. At the same time it can be quite interesting when I've known the guy previously and then see him again later knowing what we've done - especially if his virtuous wife or adoring family is with him. Greeting his clueless wife shortly after he's fucked me, knowing she has no idea I'm carrying his adulterous sperm within me, is incredibly erotic!

2. Developing the Need

It had been months now since I'd been out on my own with anyone. It's not like it was something I made a conscious decision about, it just happened. Then one night I was masturbating in bed while Steve was at work and started daydreaming about various men I'd met recently or knew from the past that had flirted with me or I'd caught staring at me when I wasn't looking. Om my God I was so dang wet! It's such a turn-on to be viewed by men in such a way, especially now that I'm not exactly sixteen anymore. Even so, people tell me all the time I don't look like I'm even 21, let alone 31. Hey, I'll take it!

As I played with myself I smiled as I felt something I hadn't in years - my pubic hair. I've been shaving more or less regularly for ages now but times change and the trends now seem to be more towards the hairy look. Not full-on bushes like my mom and Aunt Linda still maintain, but well-trimmed and tasteful. It feels a little funny now when Steve eats me out with feel my growing pussy hair rubbing on his face but thankfully he seems plenty happy with my new appearance. Then there's the advantage of not having to shave myself smooth. Trimming is still essential but not nearly as much a pain - sometimes literally.

Rubbing my wet sensitive clit, I sighed as my bare legs tingled with the pleasure that emanated from my crotch and progressed down through them. With my free hand I cradled my breast, gently squeezing it as I pressed my finger just

As I previously mentioned, if there's one adage I've always followed it's you don't mess with your career. Being an eighth grade teacher, people are always asking me if I'm ever attracted to a student. Well duh, of course! Then again, so what? I'm attracted to a lot of men but that doesn't mean I want to have sex with them. Besides, any teacher who does it with a student deserves to lose their license and go to jail if for no reason than being insanely stupid. Like what young boy is not going to eventually tell his friends he's been screwing his teacher? Even if a girl doesn't say anything now, how does a guy know she's not going to come after him years or even decades later and destroy his teaching career and marriage?

Similarly, messing around with other teachers has never been a thing for me. Sure, when a guy like Shannon comes around I'm attracted and may even masturbate about him at home just as I was now. Again, that didn't mean I was ever planning to DO anything with him. Maybe if I was single it would be different. Single teachers date and even get married all the time. Everyone knew I was married - and I made sure they saw my ring to prove it! For me to have an affair with another teacher would likely bring nothing but trouble - the kind that gets you fired under the "inappropriate behavior" clause of our contract.

Still, for whatever reason I'd found myself thinking a lot about Shannon from the start of the school year. He teaches in the room next to mine so we see each other often in the hallways and sometimes in the teacher's lounge or cafeteria. We've always maintained a strictly professional relationship although I could've sworn there were more than a few times when he "checked me out". It's not like I wear anything particularly suggestive at school to draw attention to myself. In fact, it's quite the opposite. The majority of my school outfits would feel right at home on the set of Little House on the Prairie with their long hemlines, high necks with NO cleavage, bra and panties at all time, nothing sleeveless or revealing. The dress code for teachers, particularly female ones, is quite detailed and ridiculously strict - so much so I felt it was a little unfair given the "anything goes" mentality when it comes to the seventh and eighth grade girls I teach. Even though they're mostly just twelve to fourteen years old, it amazes me how their mothers will allow them to come to school dressed like little sluts and yet nothing ever gets said to them.

Despite my better judgement, around mid-October or so found myself starting to REALLY fantasize about Shannon. These days it seems like whenever I masturbate at least part of the time I'm imagining it's him fucking me. I think it's sorta quaint that some guys worry when they write me, saying that they hope their fantasies are not too extreme or turn me off. Well, no need to worry as my feelings are that NOTHING is wrong so long as it's just a fantasy. Instead, it's what you DO that counts. OK, so I may not necessarily share your enthusiasm for your weird fantasy but that doesn't mean I would ever condemn you for having it. Trust me, there are plenty of guys with fantasies that are total turn-offs which I try to politely turn away but hey, if it turns him on then he can have them - just not with me.

While I have definite rules and boundaries when it comes to my real life, I DO have some fantasies that can get pretty crazy. Some things just never turn me on - scat, BSDM, sex with animals and very young kids, that sort of thing. However there are plenty of other things that I'd never DO in real life that I still enjoy dreaming about them. Most of these fantasies have to do with people I'd love to fuck but know I either can't or never will have the opportunity - celebrities and such. For instance, I can remember watching TV with my dad as a little girl and masturbating over some guy I thought was cute - just as he did when Amanda Tapping of StarGate was on the screen or another sexy girl. Needless to say I wasn't going to ever actually have sex with them. Back then I use to make myself cum thinking about a teacher at school, or even my pastor at church - men who the idea of fucking me turned me on yet I would never do them in real life. OK, so I did a youth pastor (and later his wife) once but never a head pastor!

At first my thoughts of Shannon followed the usual pattern - nice fantasy material when I was pleasing myself but at the same time knowing it would never happen in real life. Then for whatever reason I started thinking to myself, heck with all this nonsense - why not do it? It wasn't like he was some fifteen year-old kid who would go running off to his friends bragging about doing the teacher. No matter what else might happen I still felt confident that I would only want him once, sort of like notching my belt so to say, so it wouldn't be like we would have to hide an affair from the rest of the staff. Shannon was just so dang HOT and seeing the young girls flirt and fawn over him while he maintained such a distance from them yet at the same time gave just enough attention to be effective turned me on even more. I wondered if he jerked off at night thinking about the teens and tweens who so idolized him. Just the same, I wondered if he'd ever done so thinking about fucking ME!

Of course Shannon knew I was married and maintained an extremely professional demeanor with me at all times. He'd even met Steve in the parking lot a few times when my husband picked me up from school. I wondered what Shannon would've said if he knew Steve was checking out the guy who'd been making his wife so horny recently? Not that Steve would EVER have considered anything with him. My husband's phobia against homosexuality was legendary – at least between two guys. Knowing I was married and seeing how I kissed Steve to greet him, Shannon had to know what a great marriage we have. I'd bet most anything though that he had no idea that one of the biggest secrets to our success was Steve allowing me to be with men just like him! It's not like Steve pulled him aside and encouraged him to fuck me – although sometimes when I was masturbating I'd fantasize that he did just that!

As much as the desires grew and my fantasies became more and more livid, I was stuck. Like how in the world could I ever convince Shannon to fuck me? For all I knew he might even be offended to know how I felt about him. I mean he might take offense that I'd think HE would be willing to do such a thing. It's another reason I find it so hard to find married men to cheat with – many of them may WANT to do it but their ethics and moral values prevent them from doing so. Like what would happen if I flirted with Shannon and then he told someone else? I shudder to think!

Well, one of the reasons I was so into masturbating about him at this moment was that I HAD just recently taken a risk...

3. Teasing

My heart was beating a mile a minute. For crying out loud, I felt like I was thirteen again with a crush on one of the older boys in my church youth group. I'd been planning this out carefully, like a hunter checking out his prey in the weeks before deer season. I knew between period two and four that Shannon usually spent time in the teacher's lounge snacking on something. I also know that it was one of the least frequented periods of the day so far as that location went. For the past week I'd passed through quickly, checking to see who was there but it seemed there always one person or another who just had to be there, ruining my plans in the process.

Not so today. The small room was empty so I quickly shut the door behind me and took a seat on a small couch opposite the table he was seated at, snacking on what looked to be a Greek yogurt container.

"Hi! Hope you don't mind me ruining your solitude," I greeted him.

Shannon just smiled. God I loved that smile! How many times has I imagined seeing that exact same smile as I took his dick into my mouth?

"No problem, not like it's my private sanctuary." With that he went back to his yogurt and what looked to be some news app on his phone. CNN?

Silence... I leaned back in the chair and sighed, reaching behind me to push in against my back and then straightening up. Using both hands, I cupped my breasts and gave them a heft or two as if I need to adjust how they were cradled by my stupid bra. Sort of like when men grab their crotch and give it a hitch. All the time I'd deliberately NOT looked at Shannon and then with my hands full of boob I looked up to see him eyeing me. I dropped my hands and pretended to be embarrassed.

"Sorry!" I said with a giggle, "I just HATE wearing bras and this one is REALLY killing me today!"

Shannon just smiled, a Cheshire cat type that gave away nothing.

"Well, thankfully men don't have to deal with those medieval instruments of torture."

We both laughed. I frowned then asked more rhetorically than anything, "It's really not fair you know... students don't have to wear them so why do teachers?"

Shannon didn't answer for a moment and then said, "Well, from what I've always heard, I think most of them WANT to wear one."

Again we laughed together as I replied, "True... true... I remember when I was this age and I was SO self-conscious that most of my friends were wearing one while I was still so flat. Thank God for Kleenex!?

With that his expression flattened a little and I was afraid maybe I'd gotten a little TOO personal. He quickly changed the subject to something he'd read on his phone and that was the end of our first discussion about my boobs - or at least that's how I like to remember it.

Well, THAT didn't exactly go as it did the last I masturbated about it! Still, it was a start and served as the foundation for what was to be a slow but steady journey. Like a hunter on the trail, I worked my way slowly towards my prey, ever careful not to get too aggressive and spook it away. I guess you could say I felt like I was hunting with one bullet - and I needed to make it count!

As I said, it was a start of our teasing about bras. I'd make a show of twisting myself a bit in it and he'd joke about how I really needed to go out and buy some new ones. Sometimes we'd be monitoring the hallways and he'd nod ever so slightly at some girl blatantly showing off her new assets. Who could blame them? I'd have given anything at that age to be able to wear some tight flimsy blouse with my boobs pressing out and nipples poking through. I'd been SO jealous of my best friend Beth who was practically in a B cup while still in sixth grade! She NEVER wore a bra and we use to laugh and giggle after school talking about how some of the teachers use to stare at her chest when they thought she wasn't looking.

It was a while before I had him to myself again, this time at a table in the cafeteria. Glancing around, his nose wrinkled in such a cute way as he asked, "So why DO teachers have to wear bras anyways? I mean I can understand why some of them would WANT to."

We both laughed as I saw him tilt his head towards one of our more matronly teachers. Yeah, her bras had to be industrial strength to keep those monsters in check. I couldn't even imagine how they would hang left on their own!

"C'mon, you know," I sighed, "Same reason I have to wear this granny dress. Can't have the little boys getting all excited now, can we?"

Shannon smirked. "Well, don't take this wrong but I think you could come to class in a gunny sack and they'd be turned on so what's the difference."

"Oh Shannon, that's so sweet of you!" I exclaimed, smiling at him.

"Sorry... that came out before I had time to think about it," he apologized, his face turning a bit read. HE was SO cute!

"Well I took it as a compliment," I assured him but the period was ending and it was back to class.

*****************

God, it WAS like being back in high school again except this time it was ME chasing the boy instead of the other way around. Not to mention that he wasn't being nearly as "easy" as I'd been. I mean it's not most boys had to work very hard to get me to go out with them. Having the sort of rep I enjoyed as the school slut meant never having to spend a Friday night alone!

Along those lines, our next conversation took me a little by surprise...

"I hadn't realized you had been a student here," he casually mentioned.

"Oh yeah, I guess that's one reason I was able to get a position here so young," I answered. It was true, the waiting list for a teaching slot in the district was huge and I knew my alumni status had helped. "So how did you find THAT out?"

Shannon just shrugged. "Oh someone was mentioning it the other day."

That peaked my curiosity. Now how had THAT come up just in some casual conversation? "Oh really?" I came back.

Shannon paused in that way he always did when I could tell he was debating whether or not he should say something. Thankfully it seemed that lately he was coming down more and more of the side of telling me.

"Well, from what I hear... and mind you I'm sure it's just gossip so I hate to even repeat it... but from what I hear you, shall we say, were pushing the dress code yourself back in the day."

"I guess you could say that," I murmured with a smile.

"So no granny dresses back then?" he teased me.

This time I tried to put more of a seductive tone when I answered. "Well, even now they're just for school. I wouldn't get caught dead in public wearing an outfit like this!"

Shannon smiled and I noted his gaze momentarily dropped to my chest before he caught himself.

"Well, I'm sure there's a few places where you do... church and such, right?"

I couldn't help but smile at that. "Like I said, wouldn't be caught dead!"

"Hmmmmmm, maybe I need to start attending church," he joked... or at least tried to make it sound like he was. I took the opportunity to tell him the name of my church and the times I attended. He smiled dutifully.

"Sorry, wasn't trying to convert you or anything," I apologized.

Our time ran out but I couldn't help but wonder if the seed I'd planted would take root. Odds were it was for naught but then one never knows! That following Friday as I passed by him on the way to my car I "fertilized" my seed, calling out to him to remind him about the service on Sunday. He waved and nodded but that was about it.

****************

When I got home I couldn't get the girls busy and strip fast enough! Flopping myself flat on my back in bed, my hand immediately plunged between my thighs. Dang I was SOOOOO damn horny!

"Mommy, Kylie hit me!"

Crap! I looked over and there was my cute Mia, hands planted on her hips.

"Just get in bed with mommy and don't worry about her," I urged her, anxious to get back to business. She clambered up, dragging her favorite doll and laid on the pillow beside me.

"Now just be quiet and leave Mommy alone for a few minutes, OK?"

"What are you doing mommy?"

The question had nothing to do with the fact I was naked and rubbing myself. She was ALWAYS asking me that question - drove me batty sometimes with it. I'd learned the hard way I couldn't ignore her or she'd just keep asking so the best thing to do was play the "mommy card".

"Just something mommy's do."

Amazingly it still worked - as it did most of the time. I guess so long as she got SOME response she was happy. Whatever the case, she rolled over on her side facing me and held her doll tightly in her little arms as she watched me. Oh well, at least she was quiet!

I closed my eyes and did my best to ignore her which became easier and easier the more I touched myself. Imagine if Shannon met me in church... if we snuck downstairs during the service... if he fucked me in the furnace room just as the boys use to do when I was a teenager in heat!

My free hand cupped my boob - no dang bra and dress in the way this time! My finger plunged into my pussy as I dreamed about Shannon's hard erection filling me. God I wanted him to fuck me so bad! Feel him inside of me, wanting me, his monstrous dick so HARD for me.

"Oh yeah!" I gushed as I came, my orgasm of course cumming just as I imagined Shannon releasing his sperm inside of me, flooding me with the symbol of his lust and desire for me. I felt like I was on fire, sweating now as I kept rubbing myself, trying to drive myself even higher.

"Fuck me Shannon... Fuck me harder!" I whispered to myself, semiconsciously aware of my daughter next to me and the need to control myself at least a LITTLE bit.

I came again! My fantasy Shannon never went soft as he fucked me over and over, cumming inside of me time after time like a teenage stud. My pussy was flooded now with my cum, dripping down my butt and onto the bed sheets as my only thoughts were of how badly I wanted... no I NEEDED him to cum yet again in me. I laid there exhausted, the room reeking of my sex but who cared? Mia wouldn't notice and Steve certainly wouldn't!

******************

The next day I was picking up some milk and bread at the local Giant Eagle when lo and behold who should I see but Shannon! So far as I knew this was the first time I'd ever crossed paths with him away from school. Dang, and here it was so cold out I was wearing a long winter coat over jeans and a thick sweater. So much for not wearing a granny dress. For once I wasn't wearing bra but he'd never be able to tell.

"Hey, fancy meeting you here," I greeted him with a smile. I don't think he'd noticed me up until then as he seemed startled but he quickly recovered. We compared notes over our purchases and then just as we were about to part I poked him saying, "Don't forget about the service tomorrow... you promised you know!"

In all fairness he had done no such thing but he didn't contradict me. Instead, he just nodded concomitantly and walked away. Sheesh, what did THAT mean?

*****************

Sunday morning and that meant just one thing - daddy time! Yet as much as I looked forward to our weekly ritual, I found myself daydreaming about Shannon as my dad was fucking me - apparently obviously so.

"Damn... you're hot and horny this morning baby," he observed as he easily slid into me as I leaned over the kitchen table with my dress pulled up over my butt. Of course I was sans panties. "What's got you so worked up... couldn't wait to be fucked by your old man this morning, eh?"

We both laughed as he stroked his incestuous erection in and out of his only daughter. I didn't tell him how I'd been playing with myself the whole time as I'd driven to his house... or the reason WHY I was playing with myself.

"Oh daddy... you know I love you to fuck me!" I assured him in my little girl tone of voice I knew he loved as I worked my bare ass against his hairy crotch.

For a moment I debated telling him the real reason. Well, it wasn't like it was the ONLY reason as after all, I DO enjoy having sex with my dad. Still, I had to admit I WAS a bit hornier than usual this morning! I closed my eyes and once again dreamed it was Shannon inside of me only this time it wasn't my fingers pretending to be a cock but rather my own father's hard cock. Mmmmmmm, that made it a whole lot easier to imagine!

"Oh baby girl... daddy's cumming," he announced quite unnecessarily as he thrust himself hard into my ass, driving his cock into me as far as he could as he released his cum inside of me. It wasn't like after him fucking me now for over fifteen years that I didn't know the signs of his impending explosion!

In my mind Shannon's cum flooded me yet again as my dad erupted inside of me. Oh god this felt so much better than just my finger and imagination! I love it when a man cums inside of me, especially when that man is my father. How better could he ever express his love and respect for his daughter than through this most intimate act?

Less than ten minutes later I was taking a seat in our usual pew, my pussy still tingling from the incestuous fucking my dad had given it just minutes earlier. I'd tried to wipe up as much of his cum as possible while it leaked out of me on the way from his house to church but I could still feel a bit under my dress. Oh well, who cared?

Unfortunately there was no sign of Shannon. Damn! He'd stood me up! I squeezed my thighs together making my still sensitive clit throb. What I would have given to sneak off out of sight and show him my father's cum in my pussy! Well, I didn't know at all how he felt about incest so maybe that wouldn't have worked in real life but hey, I was fantasizing so no rules, right?

Throughout the entire service I was distracted by thoughts of being fucked by Shannon. Then as the service ended, who did I see shaking the hand of the pastor ahead of us but none other than the object of my masturbation sessions of late - Shannon!

In the parking lot I saw him ahead of us so I called out to him. He turned and smiled.

"Well, I made it but I thought I'd missed you," he apologized.

I introduced him to my dad and after some small talk we went our separate ways.

"Let me guess... so THAT's who had you so horny this morning, eh?" my dad teased me on the way home.

"Oh daddy, you know better," I tried to defend myself - being about as successful as I had ever been as a teenager.

My dad laughed as we pulled into his driveway. "That's right... I DO know better."

We both laughed and then as he held the door open for me he continued, "Well, since half this morning was evidently about HIM, then I think you owe me," he taunted me.

"Oh daddy," I came back again... it was a phrase I seemed to use a lot with my father.

"None of this "Oh daddy" shit," he corrected me as he closed the door behind us, pretending to be serious about disciplining me, "Now strip!"

I laughed and pretended to protest but at the same time was already doing as he ordered. After all, I AM his daughter which means I submit to him unquestioningly.

This time it was all about him...

4. Culmination

Seeing Shannon in church made me think maybe he WAS more interested in me then he let on. I mean why else would he have bothered to get dressed and attended service at a strange church? Still, it was LONG step to go from meeting him at church to meeting him in bed.

The game had gone on too long as far as I was concerned. Heck with this, I wasn't a silly teenage girl anymore! We were both adults in our thirties so why did we need to keep playing these games? I mean like he HAD to be interested in me, right? I don't mean to sound full of myself but I'd never met a heterosexual man who DIDN'T want to fuck me - not to mention more than a few who weren't necessarily heterosexual. Oh sure they all didn't fuck me - opportunity can be an obstacle no matter what the desire. But since I'd first lost my virginity I really wasn't all that accustomed to being turned down by men once I'd set my mind to having sex with them. Well, Shannon wasn't about to be the first.

That morning I lay in bed touching myself as I made my plans. I rehearsed everything, knowing full well that when push came to shove I'd forget all my lines and make it all up on the spot but that didn't keep me from thinking about it as I masturbated yet again. As I dressed, I was sorely tempted to leave off my underwear. Still, even though I knew that would likely make it almost TOO easy, I decided that I'd better stick to the rules or I'd likely not get a chance at Shannon before I was sent home and disciplined.

Sometime I can tell when I'm doing something right or wrong just by how everything works out. If obstacles keep dropping in your path, maybe second thoughts are needed. In this case, it was like a steam roller was ahead of me, clearing a path. I said a silent prayer, thanking God for giving me the signs that it was OK. Never hurts to have the big guy on your side!

Yes! The teacher's lounge was clear, or least clear with the exception of Shannon. I took a deep breath as I walked in, my resolve steady. It was now or never.

"Hey, how are you this morning?" he greeted me, "Any girls catch your eye this morning?"

We both laughed. It seemed that lately the bra thing had become our private "in" joke. These days I didn't even have to answer, just a roll of my eyes was enough to get my point across. But then I wasn't there to discuss bras, or lack of them, amongst the student population. Instead of taking my usual seat on the couch across from him, this time sat in the chair next to him. Leaning on my elbow on the table, I smiled.

"You know Shannon, we're both adults," I started but he cut in.

"Oh no, now what did I do?" he teased me, putting up his hands to shoulder height like he was surrendering.

"Can you just be serious for a moment," I lightly chastised him. His wonderful smile disappeared but I could see the curiosity remaining in his expression.

I took a breath... well, it was now or never!

"OK... so what would you say if I told you that I wanted you to fuck me?"

His eyes immediately widened and I could hear him take in a sharp breath. He started to smile and answer but then I think he saw in my face that I wasn't joking.

"Are you serious Kelly? I mean REALLY serious??

"I thought I asked a simple question," I said ignoring him, "So let me make it easier for you... Shannon, will you fuck me?"

He coughed and I could almost see the thoughts spinning in his head.

"You ARE serious," he said breathlessly, "But I thought you were married. That IS a wedding ring on your finger, isn't it??

"So?"

He sighed, "Well, that means you're married and your husband would kill me. And if he's the same guy you introduced me to a while back I don't exactly want to piss him off!?

"Quit worrying about my husband and just answer the question... will you fuck me?" I pressed him, licking my lips seductively.

"Here? Now?" he questioned.

That deserved a heavy rolling of the eyes and then, "Of course not silly... someplace a LITTLE more private I would think would be best."

"Ummmmm, Kelly... What the hell brought THIS on?" he asked, obviously trying to stall for time to think, "Some kind of joke or something??

"I don't get it. Just because I'm married shouldn't mean I can't enjoy being with other men," I explained, "And besides, don't worry - Steve's just fine with it. He makes out in return, trust me!"

Shannon sat back, putting a few inches more clearance between us as he glanced anxiously at the door as if worried someone might overhear us.

"I mean really Kelly, I'm flattered," he whispered conspiratorially, "But I don't think I could ever do it with a married woman... Besides, I thought you were such a Christian with all the church-going and Bible reading between classes and such."

"First, I AM a Christian and a VERY serious one at that so let's get that straight. It just seems to me that if God gave me this body that he'd want me to use it to the best of my ability, don't you think?" I argued, "Like why buy a Ferrari if you're going to stay within the speed limits? "Now for the last time... will you or will you not fuck me? Last chance Shannon - please don't make me beg."

Poor Shannon. The lust and desire was evident in his eyes - no mistaking that! The color in his cheeks, the licking of lips... every sign was there that he was aroused. Still, I had the feeling he wasn't quite buying my assurances about Steve but then so what? It wasn't like I was asking him to be part of a threesome.

"OK then, so I'd be lying through my teeth if I said I hadn't thought about it," he sighed. The he sat up straight and shook his head with a determined look.

"OK Kelly, that's quite enough," he announced forcefully, "Fun is fun and I get it that you're a tease - you DO have more of a reputation with the staff here than perhaps you realize. I'm not sure what your game is..."

"Trust me, I'm NOT teasing," I insisted, crossing my arms in defiance.

Just then the period ended and we both turned to leave. Shannon put his hand on my shoulder for a brief moment.

"Don't get me wrong... if you were single I'd call your bluff," he teased me as he opened the door and we walked out.

****************

Later when I got home I plopped back on the old couch in our living room keeping an eye on my girls as I started to masturbate while trying to imagine Shannon fucking me - my usual theme of late. Yet as horny as I was all I could think about was him turning me down. I mean like NOBODY ever turns me down when it comes to sex. If anything, I'm the one who determines who and when I have sex, NEVER a guy. Sheesh! What's a slut got to do these days to get a guy to just fuck her? There was a time not all that long ago when all I had to do was LOOK at a guy and he would be trying to get up my skirt. Then again, I didn't even have to look most of the time!

Thoroughly frustrated but still horny as heck, I stood up, pulled down my sweatshirt and went into the kitchen to prepare supper. Boy, Steve better be ready when he gets home! Oh well, Shannon's loss was going to be my husband's gain... Somehow, I didn't think he would complain!

I suppose I should've cut my losses at this point and given up. Yeah, that's what most people would say but then it's not like I'm accustomed to men turning me down for sex! Nope... it's supposed to be the other way around in that it's ME who teases and then turns THEM down! Shannon mentioned something about my reputation. Well, you don't get that sort of reputation by giving up so easily. Now it was more than just being horny for him¦ now it was a challenge.

Frankly, I didn't think it was actually all that gig of a challenge. Oh sure, I HAVE been turned down over the course of the years but when that DID happen it wasn't subtle. Thankfully there are some men in this world who ARE faithful to their wives and marriage vows (thankfully I'm married to one of them!). SO the mere fact Shannon played along, even if not that long, was enough to show me the cracks were in the dam and all it was going to take was a little more pushing to get it to burst.

Shannon seemed to avoid me the next few days but I wasn't about to let that deter me. The plan I had in mind would only take a few minutes so I kept an eye out for an opportunity. He seemed to be avoiding the teacher's lounge, at least when it wasn't occupied, so I had to seek out another option...

After school that day I waited around instead of hurrying out to pick up the girls from daycare. Keeping a close watch, I saw Shannon putting on his coat and seized the opportunity. The halls were all but deserted by this time which helped as well. I greeted up with some small talk about the weather and such, asking how his Christmas plans were coming along. It really didn't matter to me one way or another but I wanted him to feel comfortable with me and it seemed to work as he immediately launched into how difficult it was logistically when you lived so far from family. I remarked how most of my family was in the area which made it easier and we just kept up the banter until we reached his car.

"Well, good luck with your plans," he said to me as he unlocked his car and made ready to open the door.

I looked around... cast was clear. There were a few groups of kids closer to the school but nobody with a direct view given the way he was parked had his car between us and the school.

"One second... I forgot to give you something," I told him.

Shannon looked at me curiously as I was just carrying my purse.

"Here, would you mind holding this for me just for a minute?" I asked him, handing him that very purse. He took it from me by the strap, holding it out like it was a dead skink. What is it with men and purses anyways? Just holding one doesn't make you gay!

Another quick glance... Then I bent down and lifted up my dress just enough to reach my panties - no hose needed when your dress is to your ankles! One swift motion and they were down to my ankles where I stepped out of them. I'd been planning this from the moment I woke up so rather than my usual "granny" cotton panties I'd been wearing a light blue thong. As horny as I'd been all day it had to reek of my sex!

"Here... for you," I said as I handed it to him, "Something to help you think about my offer when you get home tonight."

He automatically reached out to take them before I think he had time to process what was happening. I took my purse from his hand as he stood there like a statue with my used thong in his hand.

"Enjoy!" I called out to him as I quickly scampered away to my car without looking back. At least he didn't chase after me to return them!

In my mind one of two things would happen tonight. He'd jerk off at home smelling panties or toss them away like they were radioactive. Well, I was certainly hoping the latter as it would've been a waste of a nice thong. I smiled to myself during dinner as I thought about how many men have asked me to send them a pair of my panties over the years and here I just gave a pair away to Shannon without him even asking.

The next day at school I saw Shannon standing outside his classroom. I gave him a wink as I passed by. Hey, he smiled at me!

"Enjoy?" was all I said as I paused.

"Maybe," he teased back. Yeah right, I knew better! There was no doubt from the way he looked at me that my efforts had not been wasted. Now for the coup de grace. My pussy tingled as I stood before my class. So close now! It was sort of like that dam analogy I was using... it takes a lot of effort to get the cracks started but once it bursts...

Sure enough, Shannon was back to being alone in the lounge when I checked. Once again I took a seat next to him.

"Need another pair yet?"

Shannon chuckled. "Well, I take it then that subtlety is not exactly one of your strong suits, is it?"

I licked my lips just enough and then answered, "Why bother... when I see something I want I go for it... and I saw something I wanted."

"OK... and so what do you want now?" he said softly, clasping his hands in front of him.

I checked to see that the door was closed. Thankfully the teacher's lounge had one of the few doors in the school without a window! I quickly reached down before he could move and placed my hand firmly on his crotch. Mmmmmmm, even without being aroused I could feel him!

"This!" I said firmly as I pressed down on him just as firmly.

"Kelly!" he exclaimed as I saw his eyes go straight to the door - not only did it not have a window but it also didn't have a lock.

"Oh don't worry, it's not like I'm gonna blow you right here and now," I teased him, pulling my hand away, "Unless of course that's what you'd like!"

"Oh yeah, like THAT would go over well as the next school board meeting," he sighed, obviously feeling a little better now that my hand was where it belonged, at least in his view.

"So... do you believe me now?"

Shannon looked at me curiously, as if he wasn't sure what I meant. Oh my god... men can be so dense sometimes!

"C'mon, you know exactly what I mean... about me wanting you to fuck me."

He coughed again... must be that season, LOL.

"Well, I DO believe now some of the stories I've heard about you. "I pretended to be shy. Yeah, as if I was the least bit shy of my past. "Oh? And what stories would those be?"

Shannon got this smug look. "Well, word is you were the school slut who put out for anyone on the first date."

I frowned. "Well, not always the FIRST date. I DID have standards you know."

"Oh really?" he teased.

"Yes... really," I insisted, "Besides, that was then and this is now. Tell me, do I LOOK like a slut now?"

Shannon chuckled again. "Well, I don't think the Playmate of the Year would look hot in THAT getup."

OK, so maybe he could go TOO far. Sure, I knew the dress and small heels did nothing for me, but I didn't think I looked THAT dowdy!

"Would it help if you knew I wasn't wearing panties today?"

"Sure," he replied, seeming to get more into the game now, "but then I only have your word for it..."

Ha! I'd come prepare for this. For what was the first time this semester at least, I'd left my panties at home. Usually when I was in the mood to go commando to school I brought along a pair in my purse just in case something happened to where I needed them. What that might be I had no idea but better prepared than not. Well, not this morning. Once I'd made my mind up to go without them I decided to play it out to the fullest.

"Believe me now?" I asked as I quickly lifted my dress to expose myself to him, just long enough for him to get a glimpse of my growing bush before dropping it back down again.

"Ahhhhhh yeah," he whispered hoarsely, "I guess that does it."

"You better take care of that before class," I teased him, glancing down at his lap seeing the growing bulge. With that I gave it another pat and let him be.

Back in class I couldn't get my mind on the lesson as thoughts of the feel of Shannon's bulge kept creeping in. It was almost funny... like I was a teen girl again all excited about a boy that I hadn't fucked or sucked yet. It WAS true what I'd told Shannon. I really didn't fuck every guy on the first date. Now regarding a blowjob... OK, guilty as charged. For most guys though, that was all they got as I was indeed a little picky about who got to fuck me. Well, not THAT picky but a girl has to have standards, right?

There's a saying that goes something like, "strike when the iron's hot". In my experience, that applies to relationships as well. Now that I had Shannon's attention, this wasn't the time to give him time for second thoughts. Besides, I was tired of masturbating to just fantasies about him - time to give me some material regarding the real thing!

In my fantasies he'd fucked me everywhere by now - school, church, local library, grocery store, you name it - he'd fucked me there by now. Still, those were all fantasies and no fantasy can ever be as good as the real thing. It wasn't like I was looking to DATE him or be his girlfriend. My expectations were that my policy as to "one and done" would apply to Shannon as well. This was rather primeval in that I was just horny for him - nothing more complicated than that. I just wanted him to fuck me once... I wanted the experience, the notch in my belt, the memory.

Soooooo, where did that leave me? As much as the fantasies of him fucking me at school got me off, that was simply too dangerous - for both of us. Honestly, to be perfectly frank I was more worried about ME than him. Getting caught at school would end my career whereas getting caught by a guy's wife in his bed was HIS problem. Thus my definition of danger was largely biased by the danger to ME. Being so, it left a lot of other options on the table. OK, so we couldn't fuck IN the school... but that didn't mean we couldn't fuck AT the school... right?

Once again I waited for him after school. This time though as we walked down the hallway our conversation was filled with innuendos and teasing. Still, I was 100% confident he had no idea of my plans. All the better...

Back at his car again, this time after he unlocked the door he turned to me and held out his hand. "Well, should I hold your purse again?" he offered with a grin.

I did one last check around.. the lot was pretty deserted and nobody seemed to be looking our way.

"Nope... I'll take care of things," I answered flippantly as I opened his door and reached in to unlock the other. I looked back at him and he just stood there watching, obviously mystified as to what I was doing. Leaving my purse on the front driver seat, I closed it and then opened the back door. Unzipping my jacket, I turned and backed into the rear seat until I was completely inside. Pulling up my dress to my waist, I spread my legs enough for him to see my exposed pussy.

"Well... are you gonna just stand there or fuck me?"

Shannon eyes widened, probably as much from the shock of what I was doing as seeing my pussy waiting for him.

"Hey, I'm getting cold like this so either fuck me or close the door!" I teased him with a sly grin.

Shannon climbed in the back with me. I think it was an Impala or something like that. The back seat wasn't all that big but at least he wasn't driving a Corolla. Hey, I've done it plenty of times in tighter spaces!

"This is crazy you know," he muttered as he unbuckle himself.

"Isn't that the point?" I countered.

"No I mean it... this is CRAZY!" he said louder as he pulled down his pants and underwear. Well, his mind might be saying it was crazy but his dick sure was having other thoughts. Damn, he was already hard!

"Look like somebody wants me," I cooed as I spread my legs further, "Now get that bad boy in me and warm me up!"

Yet again I felt like I was back in high school. Why had it seemed so much easier back then? Wow, given the number of times I'd been fucked in a back seat you'd think it would be like riding a bike. Instead we were fumbling around and at one point we both just paused and laughed together.

"You know, they DO have these things called hotel rooms now," Shannon puffed as he caught his breath.

"Oh where's your sense of adventure?" I teased him, reaching down to grab his erect dick so I could direct him into me.

"Back in 1999," he grunted as I felt the tip of his cock pressing against my wet and waiting pussy.

"Just shut up and fuck me, OK?" I said as I felt him push himself into me. Oh wow!!! Shannon's hard cock was actually about to fuck me!

"Oh yeah... fuck me Shannon," I groaned as he eased into me. I could feel filling me as inch by inch of his rigid cock penetrated me until finally he bottomed out, the base of his cock now pressing hard against me, putting just the right pressure on my clit.

"Oh Shannon... I've wanted you in me for so long!" I sighed as he fucked me silently except for his grunts.

I wanted to wrap my legs around him and pull him into me but it was really difficult under the circumstances so I just let one dangle off the seat and raised the other up and over his shoulder which allowed him to drive even deeper inside of me.

"God you're tight!" he groaned as he drove yet again into me. Well, maybe he was being generous as after seventeen years of heavy sex and two kids I wasn't exactly a virgin anymore. Still, I suppose as I was pinned in this position it didn't make it any easier for him so hey, I wasn't about to contradict him.

It was just what I wanted from him.. pure, raw sex. We didn't kiss, I hadn't blown him, I was still mostly clothed as was he. It was just two adults fucking one another, a male breeding the female so to say although that was just an image, not ever a reality. I'd cum so many times imagining him fucking me and now I finally came with the real thing inside of me!

"Fuck me harder!" I cried out as I came, my orgasm washing over me like a flood, "Fuck me... fuck me!"

It was just as I'd dreamed about it so many times while masturbating at home... or anywhere else for that matter except this time it wasn't my finger inside of me - it was Shannon, or at least the part of him that mattered most to me. Really, what good were most men except to carry around a dick to fuck me? LOL - just teasing, I'm not THAT shallow you know.

Shannon was fucking me like a demon now, driving his wonderfully stiff cock so hard into me over and over again like a pile driver, nonstop. Every few stokes or so he'd pause while deep inside of me, grinding his pubic bone into me as his thick pubic hair meshed with mine. Wow, I came again... even harder this time.

This was about as natural and raw as sex can be. There was no love, no intimacy. Nothing about it was about US - it was about HIM and ME. Neither of us really cared about the other - it was all about what we were each getting out of it. He wanted to fuck me and I wanted him to do it just as badly. We both wanted to cum...

"Cum in me...," I begged him, "Give it to me..., give me your sum Shannon... fill me with it."

Yeah, like I need bother asking. From the way this guy was going he had no intention from the start of ever pulling out and God help him if he tried! Asking for him to cum in me wasn't just acting out for his benefit. Sure I know men love to hear me ask but the truth was, I DID want him to stay in me as he came. Nothing's worse if you ask me than a man pulling out just as he cums. Like HE gets what he wants but I get left empty and unfulfilled. It's like we're mating, like he's taking me and giving me something I can only get from a man. OK, so being with a girl is nice but no dildo can ever replicate the feeling I get when a man's dick explodes inside of me! It's not even so much the physical sensation. Heck, often I wouldn't even know he was cumming if he didn't tell me or his body language didn't alert me. It's the KNOWING that counts, KNOWING he's done something to me that so incredibly personal, so natural, so perfect. It's the fulfillment of being a woman!

"Oh fuck!" he groaned, the first recognizable words out of his mouth since he'd finally entered me. YES! I felt him push hardest yet into me and then convulse as he began to ejaculate while still inside of me. YES! Again and yet again his hips thrust into me, each time I knew he was shooting yet another load of his sperm into me. Judging from the number of times he did, I must be ready to overflow with his sperm!

"Oh fuck! Now THAT was insane," he groaned as he finally stopped and all but fell onto me, barely keeping his weight off as he grabbed at the back of the car seat to steady himself.

Normally I would've asked him to stay in me, to let me relish the feel of his pulsing dick as it slowly dwindled and withdrew from me. Not this time - I'd been fucked, fucked good, and that was all I'd wanted. So when he pulled out of me moments later, I didn't say a word although for a moment my pussy felt suddenly so alone and empty I was wishing he was back in me.

"We'd better get going before someone catches us," Shannon said as he pulled up his pants. He was all business with his lust now residing in my pussy. Typical male, he cums and suddenly it's like all his horniness spilled out with his sperm.

"Yeah, wouldn't THAT make the morning news," I laughed as I waited for him to get off of me.

Shannon reached back to open the door and somehow managed to work his way backwards out of the care without killing me. Once he was out I maneuvered my way until my legs were out and I could pull my dress back down again.

"Well, now THAT was fun," I giggled as I zipped my jacket back up again.

"I can't believe we just did that... not in a million years did I ever think I would do anything like that!" Shannon muttered as he kept looking around, apparently convinced we'd been watched the entire time. Oh sure the school security cameras would show us getting in the car but anything else would be just circumstantial, nothing to hang us with.

No kiss goodbye, not even a handshake. Somehow that just seemed right. We each went our separate ways. It took all my willpower not to skip on my way back to my car.

Mmmmmmm, I couldn't wait to get home and masturbate... only this time with Shannon's sperm leaking from me and the memories of his REAL cock in me!

(Feb 18) Chapter 290: Reunited, Literally

Story codes: MF oral adultery
Me (31)
John - ex-boyfriend (33)

John was one of my boyfriends back when I was fifteen. While we had lots of fun together back then, I pretty much assumed that I'd never see him again after we graduated and went our separate ways. For over fourteen years my assumption was correct. I guess fate decided that was long enough.

1. Fond Memories

When I look back at all the guys I've been with I have to admit that I tend to classify them into certain categories. I'm not talking about the party dudes where everything you do with them is impersonal and crazy. Heck, usually I never even really talked to those guys, let alone knew their names. We both wanted the same thing at the moment so why clutter things up with unnecessary small-talk? What I'm referring to are the guys I "dated" where I made some sort of time investment.

For better or worse, the vast majority of guys I dated fell into the "been there, done that" bucket where he paid for the entertainment and as such I reciprocated. More often than not that meant just giving him a blowjob although if it wasn't much of an evening even that might be cut back to a little flashing and just touching myself for him to watch. On the other hand, if he made a good effort then my thoughts were usually something along the lines of why not let him fuck me? Besides, if I enjoyed it then it was a win-win for both of us. Any way you look at it, it may sound a little narcissist but the end all I really cared about in those days were my own needs and self-satisfaction.

At the other end of the dating spectrum were the guys I became somewhat "serious" with. This would be someone I'd go out with multiple times and considered things between us as more of a partnership than just only for my own self-gratification. Between my high school and college years I guess that would be maybe a couple dozen guys or so. That's really not a lot at all when compared to how many guys I've had sex with but probably more than average for most girls.

In the middle were the guys I wasn't too sure about - sort of like taking them out on a test drive so to speak. Maybe I liked them on the first date and saw some potential. Maybe they were just a little more "talented" than usual and I looked forward to having sex with them again. Although there were some who did make the transition to the "serious" category, usually most of these guys dropped to the wayside as I got bored and moved on to someone else. It's not like I ever lacked for options. Not bragging... just how it was.

John was one of those boys that quickly elevated himself to becoming one of my most "serious" boyfriends in high school. He was ultra-cute but could still carry on an intelligent conversation - two qualities that you rarely find in the same boy. I was fifteen when we dated for several months which was a really long time in my book which just goes to show how special he was. Now I don't mean to say we were ever "exclusive". Like that ship sailed when my first boyfriend Steve moved away after I'd given him my virginity and dreamed of someday marrying him. After being crushed by his departure I vowed never to allow myself to be dominated by just one boy again. Still, even though I was seeing other boys at the time, John had "priority" status in that if he asked me out at the same time someone else did then he got the nod - and my pussy as well.

Readers of my diary should be able to figure out who the guys were that were special to me in high school. After all, they DID make it into my diary! The fact that John qualified for three entries just goes to say how special he was. Rather than rehashing those over again and boring the folks who have already read them, these are the ones to read if you're interested:

2. Surprising Call

After high school graduation I went on to a Christian college out of state and lost contact with most of the people in my high school class other than some close friends like my BFF Beth. In fact, almost all of the people I stayed in touch with were girlfriends as I wasn't anxious to get too involved with some guy just to have to leave him when I went back to school. The LAST thing I wanted was to become "exclusive" with anyone and then have to restrain myself more at school than what the insane rules were already.

After college the years flew by... I had my degree, teaching credentials, a husband, two kids... life went on and my high school years faded into a distant memory. Oh sure those day will always remain as something to look back with a bit of nostalgia but the memories were getting dimmer with each passing year. I do have to say that at times when I'm at the lake and see a couple hanging out by themselves that I can't help but smile and remember the naughty fun I had being fuck by John at a crowded beach. Oh well, we were young, horny and not as risk-adverse as I was now that I'm in my thirties with husband, kids and a teaching position in a public school.

Then one day I was sitting home having just put the girls down for a nap when my phone rang. Although I didn't recognize the number it was from a Pittsburgh area exchange which made me curious. Whoever it was wasn't someone I knew or their name would have popped up so at first I was tempted to just refuse the call and add the number to my huge blocking list. On second thought, at least the number WAS visible so against my better instincts I answered.

"Hello?" I answered. Yes, my parents taught me proper phone etiquette which in today's world meant never saying more than nece4ssary when answering a call from someone you don't know!

There was a pause and then a sound like someone taking a deep breath. Oh crap, another effing crank phone call. Sheesh, don't guys have anything better to do than dial random numbers and act like creeps? I was just about to hang up when I heard...

"Hello? Is this Kelly?"

My eyes rolled. Yeah, like you think I was born yesterday? Like I'm going to offer up ANYTHING about me to someone I haven't a clue about?

"Sorry... Seems like YOU called me so how about YOU tell me who YOU are first," I answered in a firm voice, still just a step from hanging up.

"Sorry... fair enough. This is John."

OK, so I know maybe a dozen "Johns" and I don't mean the customer type. Like my own father's name is John but this was clearly not him.

"OK... John who?"

"Sorry," he apologized yet again. Ugh, what a loser! Now I WAS almost about to hang up when he caught my attention with, "I guess you don't remember your old boyfriend from high school?"

Hmmmmmm, interesting but not like THAT narrowed it down a lot. I'd had like dozens of so-called boyfriends while in high school - probably a lot more if you included the ones who considered themselves such even if I didn't. I mean like just because I go out once with a guy and blow him doesn't make him my boyfriend, you know? My silence must have evidently sent the proper message as he finally came back with more.

"Really? You don't remember the beach thing we did... how about the mall restroom?"

Ohhhhhh... THAT John! Well what did he expect? It's not like a thirty-something guy was going to sound like his high school self after so long. Even then how was I supposed to remember?

"Hey, how's it going?" I replied rather automatically, stalling for time as my thoughts whirled. OK, so I remembered him now. Still, what the heck was he calling me about after all these years?

"Am I bothering you? Should I call another time?"

What I WANTED to say was more like, "What the hell are you calling me for in the first place?" What I SAID though was, "No this is fine... how did you get my number?"

"Just saw you yesterday on the school Facebook page and reminded me some of the good times we had. Looked you up on Whitepages.com... Not exactly difficult to get someone's number these days you know."

True, and it's not like I try to hide from everyone. As most people who know my real name don't have any idea what I do in private it's not like I worry much about on-line privacy. Still, it just felt a little creepy I guess at first realizing how easy it was for him to get my cell number. Steve and I have never even had a land-line since we were married, depending entirely on our cell phones. Although he didn't say it, he must've paid for the "premium" service that lets you look up cell phone numbers which meant he still had more than just a passing interest in me.

"So what's this about?" I asked, getting a little antsy now. Heck, it's been so long since I last dated him that I've actually lived more years afterwards than before!

"Oh I was just thinking about you and wondering whatever happened to the sexiest girl in school. We had some pretty good times back then, didn't we?"

"Yeah, it was fun," I answered rather non-committedly.

"Well, I guess in full disclosure you should know I'm married now - ten years as of just last week. Three kids, all girls, oldest is eight."

He paused and I shifted the phone to my other ear. Where was this going? Next thing he'd be telling me how his wife has lost interest in sex - same old story I hear from so many guys. So what did he want ME to do about it? Sure enough...

"So you're probably wondering why I'm calling. Well, things haven't been going so well with the wife. Actually, not well at all. Thinking about you and all the fun we had... well I know this may sound crazy but I was wondering if you ever think about them as well?"

"Look John, while I'm really sorry to hear about your marriage and such, why call me to tell me about it? I haven't even seen you since graduation day. You DO know I'm married, right? You said you saw my FaceBook page so you had to see all the photos of my daughters and husband."

"Yeah, I read your FaceBook profile. Still, I don't mean to be insulting but a zebra doesn't change its stripes. I thought maybe you might still be up for a little fun again?"

Well, he scores two points for being outrageously forward. Just because I was a slut in school didn't mean I still was almost two decades later. OK, so his little comment about stripes not changing hit home and indeed, mine hadn't but for him to assume so... AND have the audacity to call a married woman and ask her out for sex. Pretty incredible. At the same time, I had to say I liked the idea!

"And if I was?" I said softly.

"The I was just hoping maybe you'd like to meet sometime... you know, rehash the good ol' days and such."

"You mean like go on a date?" I asked incredulously.

"Sorry," he said yet again and then seemed to catch what he'd been doing, "Sorry - seems I keep saying sorry... there I go again!"

We both laughed and he continued, "Just lunch or dinner was all. I didn't mean to offend you. Like I said... I've been thinking about you a lot lately... a lot."

Yeah, and I could just imagine WHAT he was thinking about when he thought of me. Likely holding his deprived cock in his hands staring at my yearbook photo fantasizing that he was back in high school fucking the school slut (which would be me of course). The again, I guess I couldn't blame him for being a man. If anything, the more I thought about it the more I'd say it was a compliment. Heck, if we were chatting on-line I'd probably have asked him to do a tribute for me, preferably with a pic of his wife next to me while cumming in her bra just to show me how much more he wanted me than her!

"Well, I suppose there'd be no harm in that. How about lunch this Saturday? OK if I bring my girls? They're just four and one so not like they'll exactly be interested in our conversation. Somehow I get the feeling you don't want to discuss the latest Steeler free-agent decisions anyways."

I heard a chuckle on the other end. Men! So easy to figure out. So easy to manipulate. Then again, I wasn't complaining.

We settled on a time and place. He seemed rather surprised at my suggestion - a Subway located inside a nearby Walmart. Obviously as usual the guy wasn't thinking as far ahead as I was. It's not like we were teenagers anymore - some things need some planning when you're in your thirties with two kids!

Of course that night I told my husband about everything. It's not like I feel compelled to "confess" to him everything I do or everyone I have sex with. Still, I think being as open and honest as we are with each other is one of the reasons why our marriage is ever stronger today than ever. No seven year itch for my husband if I have anything to say about it!

Steve's reaction was predictable. Once again I'll say it... men are easy! Of course he would have liked it better if somehow he could have watched but then he'd just have to do with me telling him about it later. It doesn't bother me to watch my husband having sex with other women as I know he's just doing it for fun and to satisfy his needs. While I'm not threatened or worried I don't meet his needs as best I can, some things are just impossible for me to do. Sure I can roleplay as someone else but you just can't duplicate the feeling you get when fucking someone new! Still, while it doesn't bother me, it doesn't get me off either unless it's with someone I really care about like one of our mothers or a good friend, that sort of thing.

On the other hand, Steve - like most men it seems, REALLY gets off watching me having sex with other men, especially someone I haven't been with before. I have to admit it took me a long time to understand but over the years I think I have it figured out. I think he likes it because it shows him how sexy his wife is and how much other men desire me. While they get me for a few hours at best, he knows afterwards I'm his for as long and often as he wants. Indeed, some of our best sex seems to be after he's watched me with someone else, almost like he's "reclaiming" me as his once again.

On that note, it's sorta fascinating that while my husband loves seeing me with strangers, the one man he does NOT like to watch me with is my father. Again, that is one of those things it took me a while to comprehend but I do think I have an explanation now thought it's different from the lame excuses he gives me. While Steve knows when he sees the joy and satisfaction I get from sex with other men, he also knows it's really nothing to do with that guys, per se, but about his dick and how I love it in me. On the other hand, when I am with my dad he knows it has EVERYTHING to do with WHO it is and my feelings for him. Oh sure I love my dad's hard cock in me but it's so much more than that. SO much so that I think Steve doesn't get the same thrill from watching us together knowing the true love and intimacy between me and my dad is something no other man, not even him, can duplicate.

Actually it was Steve that gave me the idea of meeting John at the Subway. Actually it wasn't the Subway that was what I was thinking about, it was what we'd done in the Walmart family restroom not all that long ago! Well, I guess I'd find out if practice makes perfect...

3. The People of Walmart

Saturday came quickly and as things turned out the timing was great. My Aunt Linda called and asked if Steve was available to go with her to the latest family party and he jumped at the chance. Sheesh, how many times do I have to say it... men are so predictable!

Aunt Linda picked up Steve around 11:00 Saturday morning. I guess this party was about an hour or more away and they were going to have lunch together since I would be "busy". She came in to say hi and I explained to her my plans.

wearing a bra, LOL. Her sandals would be a lot more comfortable than my heels, that was for sure!

With the girls in their car seats I headed for Walmart. It was only a few miles but when you live in the South Side of Pittsburgh, nothing is "just" a few miles away! I wear you can go out at 3:00 in the morning and the traffic is still a pain. Being it was a pleasant Saturday as well as being lunch time, the crowds were out in force. As horny as I was in anticipation of meeting John again after all these years, it took all my attention just to drive meaning I couldn't even masturbate as I drove. That didn't mean I felt this incredible itch between my legs that needed so badly to be scratched. Oh well, with any luck THAT would be taken care of before too long.

Pushing the stroller into the store entrance with Mia doing her best to "help" me, I smiled at the old geezer greeting folks. Being a man and predictable, his eyes immediately dropped to my chest where I knew he was enjoying the view of my barely concealed boobs. Between the cleavage the low cut tank top was showing and my nipples now in full perky mode as my anticipation grew, I suppose I couldn't blame him for doing what most men would in his situation. I imagine I could've stolen something and the only thing he would have remembered about me were my boobs.

The Subway was right inside the door to the right so I steered my way in, looking to see if I recognized John. He would be like twice as old now so how much had he changed? Back in high school he was quite the hunk and I knew all the girls were jealous of me while we dated. Yet time changes everything and while I still fit in my wedding dress, I wasn't fifteen anymore either.

"Kelly?" a voice came from behind me. I looked back and realized he must have come in right behind me. Perhaps he had been watching from the parking lot until I had arrived? A little creepy maybe...

"John?"

He reached out his hand as if to shake mine. Oh for goodness sakes! Instead I reached out with my arms and we hugged although for the moment he didn't press himself into me. We each stepped back and took in the other. Well, time DOES change people! I recognized his face although of course it was now that of a middle aged man and not a high school teenager but beyond that much had changed. First and most noticeable, he was half-bald and from the looks of things not that far removed from being a total chrome-dome. Gone was the athletic body, replaced by the typical middle-aged guy with the gut sticking out such that his belt rode underneath in a valiant attempt to hold up his pants. I smiled as he was likely one of those guys who bragged about wearing pants not much larger than when he was younger. The difference, of course, was the length was a couple of inches shorter to make up for how low on his hips they rode to avoid the swelling of his belly!

Still, he was still not bad looking for a guy in this thirties. Not necessarily my "type" but then I was planning on fucking him, not marrying him, so did it really matter. Guys tell me all the time they are embarrassed to show me their dicks when they do a tribute to me but I keep having to explain that it's not the picture of his dick that sets me buzzing but rather what his dick is DOING. So long as he wasn't a total slob, being overweight wasn't a deal-breaker for me when meeting a guy just for the purpose of having sex. So many other factors determined how hot it made me - his marital status, family makeup, how his wife looked, and so forth were far more important to me. Being fucked by a father being his wife's back as he fantasized I was his teenage daughter is about as sexy as it gets for me in this type of situation.

"Damn... pardon my French but you look even hotter than you did in high school," he said softly, trying not to be overheard by the lunch crowd.

"Let's get a table, ok?" I suggested. He started to say something about getting something to eat but I brushed that aside saying, "John, do I really have to say I didn't agree to meet you to eat at Subway?"

His eyes flashed and for a moment I could tell by the expression on his face that everything he'd hoped for was coming true. Well, maybe everything. Taking a seat at the table, he motioned at Mia and Kylie.

"I have to say, I thought you were just teasing when you said something about binging your girls along."

"Me? Tease? Now when have I EVER teased you John?" I teased him. We both just laughed at how silly a statement that was. Like that's all I did when we dated. After all, I had a hard-earned reputation to maintain if you pardon the pun.

"Don't worry, they won't be a problem," I assured him.

From his perplexed expression I doubted he shared my assessment but then he didn't leave either which was a good sign. We spent the next fifteen minutes or so catching up on things. I learned how he married a girl he met in college after which they had the usual tribe of kids, the standard house and two cars, the careers, and then the inevitable falling out as their sex life deteriorated after the last pregnancy.

Actually, I think I could have written the script myself it was so stereotypical. It just made me appreciate what Steve and I had all the more.

"Wow, I can't believe you and Steve hooked up again after all that time," he said after I related our fairytale reuniting and subsequent marriage, "I have to say though, we all were thrilled when he left."

He chuckled and I just rolled my eyes. "Why, because I blew half of them?"

John smiled knowingly. "Just half?" he teased and we both laughed, "Well, I doubt it was for lack of trying."

I looked around the store. "We had some good times, didn't we?"

John's grin broadened. "Maybe we should have met at the mall food court again," he sighed, "THAT was intense. I thought for sure someone was going to pull hard enough on that door and catch us."

I giggled adding, "and the looks people gave us when we walked out of the men's room together. I think I had some of your cum in my hair as well if I remember."

"Ever do anything like that with Celeste?" I asked, referring to his wife.

"Yeah right," he huffed, "You mean Miss Missionary Only? Hardly."

Glancing around again, I looked back at him and thought for a moment. It was now or never as the girls weren't going to remain angels forever. Oh well, why not?

"How about a repeat performance?" I offered. He looked at me a bit puzzled.

"Now?" he questioned me looking distinctly at my daughters, "It was difficult enough sneaking you in the men's room alone but..." and he paused, as if not certain what to say next but then added, "I mean, like I said before. I thought you were joking about bring your daughters so doesn't that sort of rule things out?"

Grinning in response, I fired back with, "Well, they have these marvelous inventions now they didn't have back then - 'family' restrooms so nobody will question us if we use it. Besides, with the girls it would seem all the more natural for the two of us to go in to help each other out."

John's eyebrows raised. "Look Kelly, I know you've always been a bit of an 'outside the box' kind of girl but really, isn't it a little creepy with your girls here?"

I shook my head smiling. "Oh John, we just have to deal with what we have, don't you agree. Besides, I have NO intention of putting on a sex show for my girls."

"But how..." he started to protest but cut him off.

"John, in all the time we dated didn't I always so to not worry and leave it up to me? Remember when you were so worried about fucking me in the lake surrounded by all those kids? That didn't turn out so bad, did it?"

He grinned. "Nope, can't say it didn't!"

We both smiled as I'm sure he was recalling some of the same memories I was as he had slipped down my bikini bottom as I leaned over the raft and then entered me from behind. The opaque lake water prevented any of the hordes of kids swimming by from seeing what was happening below the water line as he fucked me. Oh my God it was so hot! My only fear was my bikini bottoms would get lost and then what would I have done? LOL

"Soooooo, what do you say?" I asked, trying to get things moving.

John looked around as if worried someone might hear us but then not like we were saying all that much really. "What the hell, let's go for it?"

We walked together from the Subway. With the girls and us both wearing wedding rings anyone watching would have thought we were married with kids – exactly what I wanted. As we approached the restrooms I saw a mother and her kids leaving the family restroom which was perfect – it was empty and waiting for us. I opened the door and steered Mia inside. It was wonder she didn't run into anything with her face glued to that iPad! The stroller with Kylie was next, followed by me and then John who quickly locked the door behind us.

You had to hand it to Walmart, when they build a family restroom they don't pull out any stops. The place was HUGE, as big as out bathroom back in the apartment, maybe even bigger if you didn't consider the bath tub and shower. There was a single toilet to the one side and a sink on the other with one of those baby diaper change table mounted against the wall in between. The rest of the room was clear with plenty of space for a wheelchair to maneuver – TWO wheelchairs for that matter.

Parking the stroller with sleeping Kylie in the corner opposite the toiler, I faced it outward so I could keep an eye on her. Placing my hands on Mia' shoulders, I steered her to the toilet where I cleaned it off and then had her take a seat on top the lid. I started to say something to her about being a good girl and keeping quiet but she just growled at me. Heaven forbid I do anything to lose concentration when the princess was singing! She had on her earphones and with her full focus on the little screen she may was well have been parked in her room for all she would see.

Turning finally to John, I put one finger to my mouth and tried to give him that same look I'd perfected back as a teenage slut. "OK then, ready for me to suck your dick again John?"

John couldn't help but look to the other side of the room. Granted, it wasn't not like we were THAT far from the two of them but I wouldn't have offered if I hadn't been confident they may as well be on the moon.

"Don't worry, I'll stay in front so even if she DOES look she won't see anything," I assured him as I reached for his belt buckle. He didn't stop me and soon I had his jeans undone and pulled down on the hips enough to expose his dick. Hmmmmmm, someone was obviously a bit flustered over having two young girls in the same room. It was so silly of him. Like, would I allow my girls to see me having sex with a strange man? Noooooo, so why worry?

Taking his dick in my hand, the memories came flooding back of when I'd been in a similar position a few miles down the road at the mall food court restroom except back then it was the men's room and I'd snuck in between guys to meet up with John in the handicapped stall. I loved the warmth his cock in my hand as I gently stroked him, cupping his hairy balls with the other. All the while I was looking up, our eyes meeting as I felt a stirring in my hand.

"Is this what you have been dreaming of John?" I asked softly.

I caught him glancing in the direction Mia but he quickly locked on to me again. "Sorta," he chuckled. Oh well, I had to give him that one. Not many men would fantasize about fucking their dream girl in a Walmart restroom while her two young daughters were present.

"Oh god!" he groaned as I took him in my mouth. I wanted to feel him growing, feel his adulterous cock fill my mouth as his lust for me swelled. My tongue played over the head as I gently sucked and licked him. At first it was easy to take him all in until my face pressed up against his overhanging belly and his thick pubic hair scratched my face. I suppose I should have been repulsed by his obesity but who cared when his dick was filling my mouth more literally every second.

"You're even better now," he gasped as my tongue and lips caressed his erection. Well, considering how many dicks I've sucked since I was fifteen I darn well better be! I can't even imagine how many that is, especially if you take into account the various groups I've done and parties attended. Heck, one time I went with Kristen on one of her appointment while she was working as a whore and must have sucked at least forty or fifty cocks by the time it was over!

I quickly checked and sure enough, Mia was locked onto her iPad, the headphones blocking out anything else happening in the room. John was like a steel pipe now as I struggled a bit to get him all in but the last thing I was going to do was gag or even let him think I was having any problems. At least he appreciated my efforts.

"Shit... It's hard enough to get Celeste to even suck me but she NEVER take it all... you're fucking incredible!"

I smiled at him. Yeah, like I know I'm a great cock sucker but it NEVER hurts to be told. As horny as he seemed to be though, the last thing I wanted was to have him cum in my mouth. OK, so maybe not the LAST thing but given his age and the fact we couldn't remain in here forever before someone called security, it was time to move on.

Standing up, I grabbed him and twisted so we switched positions so his back was now to the girls so they would see even in the remote possibility they should look. I brought them with because I didn't want to fool with a babysitter, NOT to put on a sex show for them! OK, so to be more honest I brought them with to freak out john but I STILL didn't want them to see anything.

Turning my back to him, I reached under my skirt and pulled my thong down to just above my knees. Looking back over my shoulder, I grinned saying, "Well, what are you waiting for John? Fuck me!"

"You haven't changed a bit, have you" he grunted as I felt him maneuvering his cock against my now fully exposed butt, "Speaking of which... DAMN you ass still looks great! Are you sure those girls are yours?"

I smiled to myself. People often said that to me. I was one of those fortunate few that carried almost my entire pregnancy weight in my belly rather than my arms and legs or butt. As a result even when I was nine months people would tell me they couldn't tell I was pregnant from behind. One benefit was it made losing the weight easier after wards and the only real lasting effect of spawning two children was my boobs never returned to their former selves but actually stayed about a half cup larger than they'd been before I was preggo, making me a full-fledged B cup now rather than an A and a half. Actually depending on the brand I almost could fit into a C cup which I did for my school bras as comfort was the overriding concern. Otherwise I preferred them a little small to help emphasize the girls.

"Oh yeah!" I gasped as suddenly he was in me. It was like one second nothing, then the next I was filled with his cock! It didn't hurt I was sopping wet with desire by ignore everything around her. Oh well, as frustrating as that trait might be at times when I was TRYING to get her attention, today it came in quite handy.

"Well?" I asked with a smile as I turned to him, "Was it as good as you remembered."

John seemed a bit confused but he still managed a grin as he checked himself out in the mirror.

"Oh yeah... better," he sighed, "But I have to say I NEVER expected it to go down quite like this." He looked at me and started to move closer as if he wanted to hug me. I pulled back to his surprise but then I had no desire to give him any false impressions or hopes.

"John, it was great but I want you to understand that it will NEVER happen again and you are NEVER to contact me ever again, agreed?"

His face fell in disappointment. "Why" he asked like a little boy derived of his candy.

"Simple," I explained, "I'm married... you're married. I love my husband and while I have to say I really enjoyed this, I would never have an affair with anyone. As for you, I hope maybe with this out of your system you can go home and be a better husband to Celeste. I know you said it's her fault but remember, it takes two to make a marriage work."

Just then the door knocked. Someone called out, "Hey, someone die in there?"

We both laughed and I grabbed Mia by the hand. She whined but I told her she could finish in the car. Pushing the stroller, John opened the door and we all walked out. A mother with two little girls was standing there and did I wish I had my phone handy to catch the look on her face as we all walked out!

We headed out the door and I said my goodbyes to John. He started to speak but I knew it would just be another try at meeting me again and I shut him down. With that we shook hands - no hugs this time, and went to our cars. I watched him walk away and wondered if today would help his marriage or make it worse. Well, for his sake I hoped it helped. It wouldn't be the first guy I'd fucked who went home and became a better father and lover.

As I drove him I couldn't wait to see Steve again. I knew the party would last most of the day and maybe into the evening so he wouldn't be home but in the meantime I'd get myself ready for him. I had some great plans in store for my sexy husband when he got home!

(Apr 16) Chapter 291: Easter revelations

Story codes: MF oral inc father daughter
Me (32)
Ginny (38) - Uncle Paul's daughter
Bill (38) - Ginny's husband
Katlyn (17) - Bill & Ginny's daughter

I'd always wondered, and perhaps even feared a little bit, what might happen if the wrong person were to find out what went on in my private life but then the odds against it were incredibly high so there was nothing really to worry about... or was there?

1. Easters Past

Aside from the significance in my Christian life (which is of course the most important thing) Easter has always been a special holiday for me. Oh sure Christmas gets more attention but sometimes it can be too much. Because of the competing demands of in-laws, vacations and such, for my family Easter is the one time of year when we all can get together. Of course when you have a family like mine, "getting together" can also take on a whole different meaning than for most.

We all like to think our own family is unique and better than others in one way or another but the truth be told, most families are pretty much alike once you get past the surface. It's the same for me in that I like to think we have special circumstances yet in all fairness we're really no different or any more special than any other family. However, to paraphrase the Wizard of Oz as he spoke to the Scarecrow and Tin Man... there IS one thing though that sets us apart from the majority of families - incest.

In a perfect world I'd be able to say that everyone in our family is involved. Unfortunately the sad reality is that only about half of us truly understand incest well enough to practice it in a safe and respectful manner. I'm proud to say that for those of us in the "inner circle" it's been a positive reinforcement of our family values rather than some sleazy excuse for child abuse as it's so often portrayed by the press, not to mention most porn movies and stories.

My earliest memories of anything "special" during the Easter holidays was just shortly after I'd turned fifteen years old. While nothing really happened it was commonplace for me and my younger cousin Kristen to tease my dad and his brothers relentlessly. I suppose it's sort of clich, to talk about uncles and nieces playing around but the reality was that's all it was – just innocent teasing and flirting. Well, maybe to our aunts' eye it wasn't always quite so innocent but it was still a long ways from being anything they could really complain much about.

Looking back it's somewhat remarkable that it wasn't until five years later that my Uncle Jim first fucked me and then not long afterwards his own daughter Tammy. It wasn't just a coincidence that it happened during Easter as it was one of those times when there was the most opportunity. The next year I had the honor of submitting to both of my uncles, again right in the middle the family Easter gathering (figuratively speaking of course, not literally in the middle!) Even when circumstance prevented anything from happening at later Easters I still enjoyed being with my family, especially knowing neither of my aunts had a clue that their husbands loved fucking me and my cousin Kristen. So while it wasn't like it was one of things we did all the time we took advantage of any opportunity we had.

In a small way having just said what I did about my aunts makes me feel a bit hypocritical in that my usual stance on incest is that the entire family needs to be involved or none at all. The reason I say so is that trying to keep such activities private is all but impossible. Sooner or later it's bound to get out in which case having kept it secret likely will have made things all that much worse. Still, given about half our families were in on things it wasn't like we were a small group isolated from the rest. Besides, like most people I was confident that while other families might not be able to keep things under wraps, MY family could. After all, MY family was special, right?

Well, up until now such confidence had been rewarded but that was about to change...

2. The Gang's All Here

The usual rush was in full swing as everyone arrived at my dad's house for the annual Easter hoopla. The brothers tried to rotate it each year so no one family was stuck having to deal with it every time. This year was my dad's turn which meant me, my Aunt Linda and cousin Kristen got stuck with it! Like my dad was going to have the house in order on his own... not hardly. Besides, with my aunt living with him since my mom had left following their divorce, she was the de facto "wife" although both of them would adamantly dispute the use of such a term to define their relationship. Yeah, it was matter of convenience for them both but not everyone saw it that way.

Now that everyone had arrived and the initial frenzy of greetings had calmed down, dinner time was fast approaching. As was our custom we'd all attended church together - almost filling an entire pew from end to end. Even so I was determined to maintain our "tradition" so despite everything I still somehow managed to find time to let my dad fuck me before church.

As I sat in the pew not long afterwards with the tingling of my dad's incestuous cock in me still a fresh memory (as was the cum threatening to wet the pew cushion beneath me) I looked down the line of relatives and smiled. My cousins Tammy and Kate, daughters of my dad's youngest brother, were seated between their parents with their brother on the opposite side of Uncle Jim. Wow, everyone was looking so old this year! Indeed, Rick was now 28, soon to be engaged if the rumors held true. As hard as it was to believe, it had been years since he or his dad had fucked me which made me wonder when the last time they'd had sex with the Tammy, the youngest in their family although at 24 and a college grad she certainly wasn't the same fourteen year-old my dad had de-flowered ten years ago! Kate sat next to Tammy and I couldn't help but for the thousandth time marvel at the stark differences between Tammy and her sister who was only two years older. Tammy, while admittedly not nearly the slut these days that she'd been while in high school, was still dressed in a skirt so short I'm sure it infuriated her mother while Kate as usual looked like an nun - just like her mother.

Next down the line was my dad's oldest brother, my Uncle Paul, seated next to Aunt Julie. Of the three brothers he'd been the last to fuck me although I learned at that time he'd been doing my mother since they dated back in their high school days. Needless to say it had been quite a shock when he told me as my mom never had to me - or my dad from what I gathered. Their youngest daughter, my cousin Ginny, and her husband Bill sat next to each other along with their two kids. Katlyn was now an incredible seventeen years-old while her younger brother Ryan was just fourteen but I had to say remarkably cute for his age. While boys that age normally don't draw my attention (after all, I teach a room full of them) he WAS family which put him in a different perspective for me and I couldn't help but wonder if I turned him on at all. Judging from the way he was always checking me out, it was an easy call to make. Other than my cousin Kristen, Katlyn was my favorite cousin. While technically Katlyn was actually my second cousin I usually refer to her as my niece and she calls me her aunt. I smiled, knowing I knew Ginny's deepest secret going back to her bachelorette party when I was just eighteen. I wondered if she had ever told Bill about how she had fucked the stripper just a couple of nights before their wedding? Odds were she hadn't but then again I was pretty sure Bill had never told her about fucking their daughter Katlyn either! That, or how my husband and father had been fucking her as well over the past few years. Ginny wasn't exactly all that conservative but at the same time she wasn't that open-minded either so I doubted she would've tolerated such things if she knew.

Last down that direction was my other cousin, Ginny's older sister Laura and her husband Alan. Their two kids, Julie at ten years old and Alicia a year younger, sat like little angles next to their mom. Alan perplexed me! Basically he was the only man in the family I hadn't had sex with and while he was just as much a flirt and tease as his brother, I'd never had so much of a hint from him that he was interested in anything more. Given the potential consequences if he really wasn't and I made the wrong move, I knew it was best to just wait my time. Yeah... sooner or later I'll get him!

On the other side of me was my Aunt Linda and her daughter Kristen, two years younger than me. Naturally my aunt sat next to my dad given they'd been living together since my mom had divorced him. At the beginning it had caused quite the whispers at family gatherings but over the years I think people have come to accept it. Even my mom doesn't get that annoyed expression on her face anymore when she seems them heading off to bed together when she visits. My Aunt Linda had been forced to divorce her husband not long after Kristen was born when the jerk couldn't deal with her fucking her father despite the fact that she'd told him all about it before they were married. She and Kristen more or less lived at our house growing up making Kristen more a sister to me than a cousin although we didn't start having sex until my dad had fucked her while I was a Freshman in college.

Aunt Linda and Kristen were the only members of the family present from my mom's side and it never ceased to amaze me how different the two families were. My dad's side was generally conservative and until he'd married my mom there hadn't been a hint of infidelity let alone incest within the ranks. On the other hand, my grandfather on my mom's side had taken both of his daughter's virginity at about the same time when they were just fourteen and twelve. Years later I became the second generation to continue the family tradition although my dad certainly wasn't close to being my first - something I regret to this day!

So the gang was all here and it was finally time for Easter dinner. We sat around the tables set up in my dad's basement and held hands as my Uncle Paul said grace. My cousin Ginny had taken a seat to my right while Kristen was to my left. I looked over at the other side where my Uncle Paul was sitting next to both of his son-in-laws. Well, at least two of the three were looking at me with the look I knew bode well for later that day!

3. Cousin Confrontation

As we passed the food and started eating, the usual small-talk ensued but something seemed amiss with Ginny. While Kristen was her usual chatter-box, Ginny was definitely giving me the cold shoulder. Usually we got along great so I wasn't sure if she was just in one of those moods or what her problem was. Oh well, whatever... so I looked across and smiled at her husband. Cold shoulder or not, I still felt a twinge between my legs when I thought of how later I might be talking to her with her husband's fresh load of sperm still deep inside of me! Judging by the way he was looking at me, the odds of it happening were looking better all the time!

"It's NOT gonna happen," I suddenly heard although I barely made it out with all the noise and conversations. I looked to the side and there was Ginny glaring at me.

"That's right... slut. It's NOT gonna happen so you can just stop quit flirting with my husband."

I quickly glanced around, worried that someone might have overheard her but apparently everyone else was too engrossed in eating or just couldn't hear her soft voice. Looking back at her I raised my eyebrows and responded saying, "Ginny, I really have NO idea what you're talking about."

In a manner of speaking I was being perfectly honest. I really didn't know what SHE was talking about! OK, so she'd caught me teasing Bill but still, it's not like it was the first time and so I didn't think that warranted such an angry response. I mean it's not like I don't do that sort of thing all the time whenever we all get together. Besides, I knew Kristen was likely doing the same but for whatever reason Ginny was pissed at me and not her. It just didn't make sense...

"I know...," she whispered, almost too low for me to hear, "I know... everything." The way she said "everything"... slowly while emphasizing each syllable, made my heart skip a beat. Was there was some sort of dark secret behind her statement?

Although Ginny didn't say anything more there was a smoldering fire in her eyes that told me things were far more serious than I'd thought at first. Oh my god, what DID she know? Like there were so many things she COULD know but that didn't mean she knew EVERYTHING, although she might think so. My heart was now pounding in my chest. What could I say? Well, there really wasn't anything I could so I just kept quiet and waited to see where this was going.

"After dinner we need to have a talk," she said firmly, "Someplace outside I think would be best. I really don't think you want everyone to know what I've learned."

Needless to say the rest of my dinner pretty much was left to get cold on my plate as my appetite disappeared with the twisting of my stomach. Things could be worse I guess - at least Ginny was family. Whatever she knew would stay in the family, or at least I assumed but then everyone know what "assume" means. Even so, my worst nightmare was having someone outside the family learn everything that went on behind closed doors. THAT was something I didn't even like to imagine!

After dinner everyone helped to clean up and then most of the women headed upstairs for the living room while the guys gathered around the TV in the basement family room to watch some sporting event. What event they were interested in I had no idea but at the same time I doubted they really cared either. No doubt half of them would be sleeping soon anyways considering how they'd just stuffed themselves. It was a time that under different circumstances would be ripe for sneaking off with one of my uncles but all such plans were officially on hold as Ginny motioned for me to follow her out to the garage. My dad's garage was at the same level as the basement - typical Pittsburgh architecture with all the hills, but once I was out I saw she had gone out to the driveway to be further away from the house but not so far as we could be seen from the upstairs windows.

Ginny was facing away from me as I approached. It was a little chilly and I was already wishing I'd grabbed my coat but all those thoughts disappeared when she turned and glared again at me, only this time with even deeper intensity.

"OK you filthy slut, so how long have you been fucking my husband?" she demanded, getting straight to the point.

I reacted with surprise and trust me, it wasn't much of an act. My gut had been telling me that this was about me and Bill but even so I hadn't expected her to just throw it out there right at the start.

"Oh you can drop the stupid act Kelly, I KNOW how long you've been fucking him. The bastard confessed everything to me... EVERYTHING!"

"Really Ginny, it was just sex...," I tried to counter, knowing it was a feeble argument before I even said it but it wasn't like I could deny her accusation. After all, if she hadn't known for sure then she wouldn't be here accusing me of it so what choice did I have but to defend myself?

"Just sex?" she scoffed, "So apparently THAT's how you honor your wedding vows, eh? Well I'll have you know that this is about MY husband and MY marriage so it's a lot more than just sex and you know it."

At this point I was starting to feel a little anger myself. After all, I hadn't been lying - it WAS just sex so far as I was concerned. I had absolutely no desire to be her husband's mistress or to have an affair with him. It simply turned me on having him fuck me - albeit more so when she didn't know although from the looks of things that ship had sailed.

"I really don't give a damn so much about that though - I can deal with my husband's infidelity and he'll pay for it, believe me he will," she ranted on, and then she hit me with something that I hadn't believed she would EVER find out about.

"But what I CAN'T deal with is what started this little conversation in the first place. Last night I caught him fucking our daughter... well, not actually doing it but it was obvious what had been going on. And from he tells me he's not the only one. My God Kelly... your own husband? Your father? And as for you... well THAT is just downright disgusting."

I again tried to speak up in my defense but she was on a roll and cut me off before I could get a word out of my mouth.

"My god Kelly, and to think she was just fifteen when you perverted my little girl! How could you do that to her? Give me one good reason why I shouldn't have the whole bunch of you arrested for statutory rape. It's been a nightmare for me since last night and now all this... trying to put on like nothing is wrong... even in church at that!"

She paused, finally out of breath it seemed from her onslaught. I just stood there like a statue with no idea what to say. While I'd always known such an encounter was something that theoretically COULD happen, I'd naively never seriously thought it WOULD so I'd never planned for it. My mind was racing... was this all she knew? I mean things seemed bad enough as they were but what if she knew more? Did she know her own father had been fucking her daughter as well? Apparently not so that must have been one thing Bill hadn't told her. Then again, did he even know? My guess was he didn't as odds were somehow Ginny had caught Bill with Katlyn and he'd confessed everything... at least everything he knew.

"Well, what the hell have you got to say for yourself?" she demanded.

"Ginny, you know I love Katlyn and would never do anything to harm her," I started but she was too worked up to let me finish.

"Oh! So you honestly think a fifteen year-old girl having sex with her own father AND your husband, not to even mention YOUR father, isn't harmful? Damn, what kind of sick perverted bitch ARE you? It's like I don't even know you anymore Kelly. Who ARE you? For that matter, WHAT the hell are you?"

My mind was racing so I took up the best position I could think of for the moment saying, "Well, have you bothered asking your daughter how SHE feels about it?"

It was a shot in the dark but to my surprise it was like a pin had burst her balloon. All the hate and anger instantly disappeared and suddenly she looked like she was going to cry. Her whole body sagged and I feared she was about to faint so I quickly reached out to grab her and held onto her. At first she tried pulling away but then she wrapped her arms around me as well and buried her head in my shoulder, now crying openly.

"Yes... and that's the worst part," she sobbed, "My own daughter.., my very own flesh and blood stood there and defiantly told me that even though she's only seventeen that she would leave and never talk to me ever again if I did or said anything to anyone. She told me she's loved everything she's done and won't stop no matter what I say. Oh Kelly... that look in her eyes when she said it... I've never seen it before. I just know she meant every word. Oh god Kelly, I don't know what to do! I love you but right now I hate you so much now for doing this to me... and for what you've done to my family."

My first thought was like why was I was the one responsible? Like how about giving a little credit to the guys who had been fucking her, not to mention Katlyn herself. For goodness sakes, it's not she didn't take to sex like a fish to water!

Still sobbing, Ginny pulled away from me then as if suddenly repulsed by my touch. She just stared at me for a moment with red eyes, tears staining her cheeks like she didn't know what to say but something told me she'd thought about this quite a lot already so I braced myself.

"You know what really bothers me about she told me? She said that you like to watch... she even told me that she had sex with YOU," Ginny snarled, back to her accusatory attitude again as she flipped like Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde. "I mean like it's bad enough YOU are a lesbian but really, doing it with a teenage girl? How could you Kelly?" She paused to catch her breath and then continued, "What REALLY gets me even more though is I can almost deal with you watching Steve with her - everyone in the family knows you guys are a lot more kinky than you like to believe we know. But my god, how can anyone watch their own father having sex... and with a girl so young to boot?"

Well, some questions don't need to be answered in words. What the heck, it wasn't like it mattered anymore. It's like you can't be a little pregnant - either she knew nothing or she knew everything... well almost everything. So I just smiled and shrugged and then her eyes widened even further.

"Ohhhhhh... myyyyyy.... god!" she gasped, "YOU?... I mean there's always been something I couldn't quite understand seeing you two together but incest? Really? How long?"

I hesitated before responding. I mean it's not like I'd rehearsed this although I was now wishing I had. Still, it's not like I ever thought this would ever actually happen - although in retrospect I guess it was inevitable. My biggest debate at the moment was how much to tell her. She was already in shock as it was and if I told her everything it might push her over the edge. The last thing ANYONE needed was for her to go crazy and start telling people about everything. It seemed like forever but was more likely only a few moments when I made up my mind to tell her the least I could get away with, at least for now.

"Since I was in high school," I told her without expanding on it.

"Yeah, you always WERE such a ridiculous slut back then. I still can't believe your mother allowed you to wear what you did to school," she mused, "Well I suppose I should've known the way you flaunted yourself in front of him. I guess it just wasn't something I believed could even be possible in real life yet here I am with my own daughter doing it."

We'd gotten sidetracked talking about me and my dad and for a moment I thought maybe somehow it would deflect her from her outrage over her daughter's activities but that wasn't to be the case. Ginny's eye flashed and her jaw was more determined now as she sat back and looked at me.

"So what am I supposed to do now?" she asked rhetorically.

"You know, as she said your daughter IS seventeen now and it won't be long before she can pretty much have sex with whomever she wants," I tried to reason with her.

Ginny looked at me like I was some kind of alien or something. "Look, it may be OK for someone like you but for us normal people, what you guys are doing is just sick."

Reaching out I took her hands in mine. At first she pulled back as if I had leprosy or something contagious but then she stopped resisting. Squeezing her hands I told her, "It's OK Ginny... it's the most wonderful thing in the world a daughter can do with her father. Trust me, I know!"

"I think I'm going to be sick," she barely got out and indeed, she looked like death warmed over.

"What am I going to do?" she sobbed. She seemed to be talking more to herself than asking me but someone needed to help her and there wasn't anyone but me.

"Look, you don't have to like it, or even agree with it but you DO have to accept it," I said, "What Katlyn and her father have now is something they will always cherish. I know for a fact they've wanted to share this with you but were afraid you'd never understand – apparently they were right. The very least you can do is acknowledge what they have as being real and honest. You really have to believe me Ginny, being joined so intimately with your father is the most rewarding and fulfilling act a girl – or a woman for that matter, can experience."

The look she gave me was a conflicting mix of disgust and anguish. "So I'm supposed to just sit back and do nothing while my own husband has perverted sex with my daughter? I don't even know how I can ever sleep in the same bed as him again. You can bet he slept on the couch last night. Hell, if it wasn't for our son I'd march up to him now and tell him to pack his bags."

For a fleeting moment I toyed with the idea of suggesting that maybe it wouldn't be a bad idea for her to do with Ryan what her husband was doing with Katlyn. After all, a mom doing her son while dad was doing the daughter was something I'd always dreamed about. For better or worse God had blessed me with two daughters so THAT would never happen but it didn't stop me from fantasizing about it. Still, fortunately better judgement kicked in and I managed to keep such thoughts to myself.

"Yes, that's EXACTLY what you have to do," I said, a little more forceful now, "I'm not saying you have to participate or even watch, just don't try to stop them or you'll just end up losing them both. Remember, he's married to you while she is his daughter. Only one of those situations can be undone so don't force him to choose."

"But even taking the incest out of it, as if that was possible, that would still mean he's been committing adultery with our daughter and how can I NOT divorce him for that alone?" she countered.

Oh wow, she was SO clueless! Someday she'd likely find out her "faithful" husband wasn't so faithful after all but the last thing I wanted now was to add fuel to the fire and tell her that I'd also been having sex with her husband.

"But incest isn't adultery," I tried to explain, "A father simply isn't cheating on his wife when he's having sex with his daughter. Ginny, you need to understand that he doesn't make love to her... he only makes love to you, his wife. But Katlyn IS his daughter so it's only natural that as her father that he would want to be as intimate with her as possible and face it, there's nothing more intimate than sex."

"Natural?" she argued, "There's nothing natural about it! I've NEVER even ONCE... not EVER thought about having sex with my dad."

My standard response when someone tells me something like that, especially fathers who claim to have never masturbated about enjoying sex with their teenage daughters, is that 80% DO and the other 20% are either lying or in denial. Yet something told me that I didn't think such an argument wouldn't go over well at the moment so I kept my statistics to myself and instead tried to change the direction of the conversation.

"Look... just TRY to understand," I cajoled her, "Obviously your husband and daughter don't agree with you... and for what it's worth neither do I. Maybe if you just tried watching them once you would have a better understanding about what I'm talking about."

OK, so maybe a step too far or just a little too fast? Whatever the case she pulled away again and sat up straight with a spirited look in her eye.

"WHAT? Are you trying to insinuate that I should WATCH my husband having sex with my own daughter?" she asked incredulously, "Damn Kelly, you're not just perverted, you're fucking crazy. I could NEVER do that!"

Now it was my turn to take a stand. "Well, in that case my question to you then is are you willing to lose them both just because you won't put aside your hang-ups and do something so simple?"

"Oh yeah right, there's nothing simple about watching something so disgusting," she retorted with a snort.

"Well, how do you know it's so disgusting if you've never tried it or even seen it?"

"Really? C'mon Kelly, I don't have to watch someone eat shit to know it would be disgusting."

Good grief, with analogies like that flying this was going nowhere!

"Look... listen to me... just stay here and let me get them," I offered, deciding finally that I'd never reason with her and that the only recourse left to me was to just push it on her.

"What? You mean right now?" she asked with disbelief, "With everyone here?"

"Not like it would be the first time," I let slip out before I'd realized it and immediately regretted it.

"WHAT? How could they? What if someone had ever seen them? Dammit Kelly, are you all just insane or what?"

"Seriously, just wait here... I'll be back in a few minutes," I told her and stood up to leave.

"Well don't expect me to be here when you get back," she said threateningly but the resignation in her voice betrayed her. She was bluffing - or at least I prayed she was so I just ignored her threat and left the room. After closing the door I took a deep breath and slowly released it. Holy smokes, what the hell was going on? I knew what I'd told her but how the heck was I going to pull it off?

4. If You Can't Beat Them...

There was no time to waste for debate, especially with myself, so instead I quickly hurried downstairs and hunted for Bill. Finally I found him in the basement by the food - the first place I should've looked! Grabbing him by the upper arm, I yanked him over to the side and quickly explained to him what had just happened. His face went blank like a stone wall as I told him what was likely the LAST thing he'd expected to hear.

"You're not serious, are you?" he finally asked me when I'd finished, "You don't really expect us to do that, do you?"

I nodded and he looked around to be sure nobody was within earshot. Of course I was serious about it or I would've never told him all this!

"So she knows... everything?"

I shook my head this time answering, "No, not EVERYTHING, not even close. Besides, you're the one who told her about my dad and husband having sex with Katlyn. Oh.... and speaking of my dad... I DID have to tell her about me and my dad."

"Damn, she must've gone even further off the deep end when she heard that," he muttered.

"Yeah, it was touch and go for a while," I agreed, "But if you guys don't get up there pretty quick she's gonna have enough time to think more about it and then who knows what!"

"Kelly, be reasonable... this is insane... everybody's here," he protested, waving his hand at the people gathering about.

Huffing, I grabbed him harder by the arm. "Look buster, either get up there right now and fuck your slutty daughter in front of her mother so she can see how much it means to both of you or Google a good divorce attorney." I almost had to laugh as that line had to be the craziest thing I've said in a long time!

"Alright then... so where's Katlyn?" he asked. Not like it had taken all that much to convince him. Horny as he appeared to be, odds were that had I not appeared he might be feeling up his daughter right now.

For once someone asked me a question for which I had a pretty good answer and so with Bill in tow I went upstairs and out the kitchen door to the deck. Sure enough, there was little Katlyn flirting as usual with my husband. Of course of everyone out there only I was the only one who knew the full story so only I knew she was actually flirting whereas everyone else must have just thought she was being a little overboard in her attention to him. Reluctantly she allowed me to drag her over to the hot tub where I sat her down and explained everything. She looked over to where her dad was waiting by the door with eyes wide.

"Dad's really OK with this?" she asked over and over as if she couldn't believe my repeated assurances.

"Well, maybe not totally but there's really not much else we can do," I told her, " I think if you do it now then maybe we can settle this before or mom gathers her wits and makes a scene."

Her face brightened as the inner slut in her emerged in full force. "Cool!" she said cheerfully. I wasn't sure if she was referring to her mom watching or her dad fucking her. Most likely a combination of the two if I had to guess.

Katlyn hopped up and raced over to her dad. The two of them then went into the kitchen where I managed to catch up with them.

"OK now... nothing crazy," I tried to coach them, "You MUST show her it's an act of love and not just two horny people fucking."

"But what if it is just being horny?" Katlyn joked back although I wasn't so sure how much a joke it really was.

My eyes rolled and she got serious finally. "OK, I get it... make mom happy."

"Yes, and that's EXACTLY the point," I insisted as they started to leave, "You're only going to get one chance at this so you better make it good."

As they started for the stairs I had another thought and hurried up to them and wormed my way in front. My reasoning was that maybe it would be better if they didn't just barge in and that if I went in first I could soften the blow so to speak.

Entering my bedroom, Ginny was pacing and glancing out the window at the people below on the deck. She must've seen me talking to Katlyn so my entrance shouldn't have surprised her. Still, she seemed startled when I first walked in.

"You OK?" I asked.

Ginny let out sort of a half-laugh, like she wanted to say, "Are you kidding?" Then she said, "Oh sure Kelly, I'm doing just FINE... After all, not only is my daughter screwing my cousin's husband and her dad, but now I find out that very same cousin is also committing incest with her own father. As if it wasn't enough knowing my husband has been sticking it to our teenage daughter. Oh yeah Kelly, everything is just FINE!"

Something told me I'd make it back just in time, if even that. It was just what I'd feared might happen - she'd taken advantage of the time alone to think about everything and as I'd also feared, wasn't takin it well. There was no time to waste as odds were that things would only get worse from here unless I did something... and did it quickly.

"Alright then, why don't you sit down Ginny," I said softly, pointing to the chair by my desk against the wall. I deliberately ignored her last rant as there was little I could say that wouldn't just drive her even further down the road she was on.

"Why? Is it show time?" she asked sarcastically but even so, she did as I asked and took a seat. My flabbergasted cousin looked at the door and then back at me to say, "I saw you talking to Katlyn out on the deck... the little wench certainly seemed enthusiastic. You know, I really can't believe I'm going along with this. For that matter... I'm still not sure I am!"

"Well whatever you decide, just promise me you won't say anything, OK?" I pleaded. Heck, even if she DID promise I had little hope she'd keep her word but I figured it was worth a shot.

"Whatever," she mumbled, more like something I'd expect Katlyn to say after being told something she didn't like.

There was no point in waiting further so I opened the door and motioned Katlyn and Bill to come in the room. Katlyn quickly popped in with broad grin on her face ? oh well, at least one of us was happy. She came bouncing in, followed by her father who seemed considerably less enthused by everything yet at the same time he seemed to be a little flushed. Hmmm, was it from embarrassment or anticipation? Either way we'd all soon know.

"Now Katlyn, do you have anything that you to say to your mom?" I asked, trying to get the ball rolling so to speak. It was an awkward moment for all four of us if for different reasons. I felt extremely anxious as more than just their marriage and family was potentially at stake here. If things didn't go right then who knows how far the damage might spread given what Ginny now knew about me and my dad. My fear was that it could be like a line of dominos as one family secret after the next fell.

At first I thought maybe she was going to tongue-tied but then I'd never seen her afraid to speak her mind so I should have known better. "Mom, I love you and I'm sorry if I've hurt you in any way," Katlyn started out ever so cute and innocent but that quickly changed with, "Even though I'm old enough now to make decisions for myself I realize now that I should've included you and not done things behind your back."

Listening closely, I couldn't help but note that at no time did she apologize for WHAT she'd done nor did she bother with minor details such as all this having started well BEFORE she was seventeen and therefore hadn't been so independent. In any case at least her mom was keeping her promise to me, if only for the moment, and just sat there listening with her hands clenched tightly together on her lap.

"So I just wanted you to know how much I love being this way with daddy," she continued after seeing her mom wasn't contradicting her, "I love making him happy and I know he respects me totally and that he just wants to show me what a good daughter I am."

Unfortunately it all just came out rather stilted and I totally wished she hadn't tried to make it sound so formal. I mean like why not just come out and say it? C'mon girl, own it! Just tell your mom that you love your dad fucking you! Then again, in all fairness that would be a lot to ask of someone in her situation.

Katlyn looked at me questioningly as if I was supposed to tell her what to do next. Well sorry to say but it's not like I had this all planned out with a script and such to follow! Yep, I was ad-libbing everything! In a small way though I felt responsible for all this so it wasn't like I could just walk away so I nodded towards her dad and smiled at her. Thankfully she got my not-so-subtle message and turned to her dad. At first I feared she was going to make some sort of speech again and based on her monotone soliloquy to her mom that was the last thing we needed. Fortunately my fears were unfounded as for once she kept her mouth shut and just moved in close to her dad who put his arms around her and hugged her close.

"I love you daddy," she murmured into his shoulder as she buried her face into his shirt.

"I love you too my baby girl," he whispered hoarsely with his hands on her back. Ever so slowly they moved down until he was cupping her tight little ass over her dress.

Then Bill bent down as Katlyn raised her head and they kissed. At first it was just a peck on the lips but that was quickly followed by a full-on, tongue-searching kiss as Bill pulled his horny daughter tight up against him. As they kissed Bill maneuvered them over to my bed where they sat on the edge and turned to one another without a pause in their passionate kissing.

For the first time, or at least the first time I'd noticed, Bill looked over at his wife. A slight grin appeared as their eyes met and then he gasped slightly and his eyes rolled as his daughter's mouth engulfed his hard dick. I was torn between watching her taking her father's cock into her mouth and seeing the reaction on her mother's face. As I'd seen Katlyn blowing her dad before I was more inclined to focus on Ginny yet remarkably, other than what looked to be her taking a deep breath as Katlyn lowered her head to her husband's hairy crotch, that was the extent of her reaction.

"God yes," Bill whispered almost inaudibly as his hand moved to grasp her head and hold her against him. Katlyn had the palms of her hands planted on her dad's thighs to steady herself as she bobbed on his dick, her hair flowing around her face partially obscuring the view until Bill pulled it to one side so he could see - and at the same time allowing her mother and me to watch as well.

Bill wasn't endowed with the largest of dicks by any means - I'd say about average if I had to classify it. It also wasn't the thickest either, certainly not as thick as his father's, but that just made it all the easier for Katlyn to take it all in without having to worry much about gagging on it. She buried her face into his thick forest of pubic hair with her lips wrapped around her father's shaft, nuzzling her nose into the base of his dick as she sucked on him with her cheeks pulled in.

Bill leaned back, placing his hands behind him as he stretched out and looked down at where his beautiful daughter was showing all of us her love for him. He glanced quickly at me and smiled but just as quickly turned his attention back where it belonged - his daughter sucking his cock. I looked over again at Ginny and other than MAYBE a little tighter grip on the chair she had yet to display any real emotion, or any reaction of any kind for that matter. I would've given a LOT to be able to read her mind though!

We didn't exactly have all day before someone noticed we were missing and so I was glad when Katlyn appeared to understand that and leaned back until her all but bare butt was resting on her heels, grasping her father's wet cock in her hand and smiling. Their eyes met and I noticed an almost imperceptible nod by Bill - some sort of telepathic communication they must've worked out in the past for what was to happen next as Katlyn seemed to take her cue from it.

Standing up, Katlyn reached down and grabbed the hem of her dress with both hands and then lifted it up and over her head. Standing there in just her heels and tiny thong, she looked incredibly sexy and from the way her father was staring at her, he was of the same opinion. The thong was next as she lowered it down to her knees, dropping it to her ankles and then stepping out of it leaving her naked with the exception of her heels. I was sort of proud of her seeing her leave them on - apparently she'd been listening to my suggestions in the past. Something about a girl naked in heels seems to turn men on something crazy!

At this point I was trying to guess their next move. Would he undress? What position would he use to fuck her, at least to start? Would he eat her out first? So many options yet so little time...

I'm not sure if time was the driving force but whatever the reason, they weren't wasting any of it. Bill sat back further on the bed, dropping his shoes in the process and with them, his pants and underwear. I rolled my eyes though seeing him leave his black socks on. OMG, how ridiculous looking it made him!

Bill reached out his hand to his all but naked daughter which she took and then he pulled her closer to him. She worked her way onto his lap, straddling him with the worn bottoms of her heels facing out to her mom and me. She was up on her knees as high as she could be such that her father's incestuous dick was between her thighs but still a few inches below her crotch. God he was HARD! I could see Bill's cock literally quivering with the adulterous lust and passion he was feeling for his only daughter at that moment. For a moment they hugged and kissed but then she pulled back and reached down to grab his stiff erection in her hand.

"I love you daddy," she said in such a sweet soft voice. This was no "love you" that gets thrown out at the end of a phone call. Noooooo, there was no doubt in the way she said it that she LOVED him.

"I love you too baby girl," her horny father replied.

"Show me how much you love me daddy," she answered, a little louder this time. Was it that she wanted to be sure her mother heard? I certainly wouldn't have been surprised if that was the case.

"Yes baby... do it," he encouraged her. He glanced over at where his wife was watching. Was she holding her breath? If not she was certainly being awfully still! Was this the moment she perhaps thought would never happen, even after all she'd been told and all that she'd seen up to this moment. Was she holding out her last hopes that it was all exaggerated and that there was no way her husband would EVER do this with their only daughter? I mean like he'd confessed to her that they'd done it so why would he have possible lied about it?

Well if that was indeed the case, those hopes were soon dashed. I kept my eyes on Ginny, not wanting to miss a thing at this moment. Then it happened... her eyes widened and her hands went to her face, covering her mouth as she let out a small cry as I heard Katlyn call out a loud, "YES!". Quickly looking over, I saw that she had dropped down onto her dad's lap, impaling herself on his rock-hard dick like a butterfly on a pin in some collection. From her mother and my view, all we could see was her impossibly cute butt planted firmly on her father's lap but there was no doubt what was happening underneath once she rose back up and her father's shaft emerged from her pussy.

Ginny didn't say a word but I saw her lips moving with what looked to be a silent "OH my god!" Her mouth just hung open and she stared at the incestuous union of her husband's cock and her daughter's pussy as she began to move up and down on him.

"Oh daddy!" she said loudly... a little TOO loudly if you ask me knowing how thin the walls were in this old house. How many nights had I laid in bed and listened to practically every sound and word emanating from my parents' bedroom when they had sex? Hopefully nobody was in that room now or things could get interesting.

"Love me daddy," she encouraged him as she rode him a little faster. Then as the continued I could see the lust and desire emerge in them both as these overwhelmed their more chaste emotions and drove their passion even higher.

"Fuck me daddy!" soon replaced "Love me daddy" as Katlyn's instinctive needs and deepest desires consumed her. The same shift in emotions was happening with her father, if anything even faster and more intense as he groaned and bucked underneath her, driving his cock into her as she dropped sown onto him, his hands on her bare hips pulling her down into his waiting lap.

Bill lifted Katlyn off his lap, his throbbing dick now glistening with the wetness of his daughter's pussy as he all but threw her down on the bed onto her back. He still had his dress shirt on as he mounted the impossibly gorgeous girl, lifting her fine butt up with one hand as he steadied himself with the other. Katlyn helped by directing her father's cock back into her and as soon as he felt the warmth of her waiting pussy he drove it forward until he was fully enveloped by her welcoming pussy.

"Oh daddy! Deeper!" she cried as he fucked her harder and faster, "Fuck me deeper daddy... all the way in me!"

Bill pressed himself into her as hard as he good, driving his dick even deeper as he orgasmed. I could see his butt clench and then pressing into Katlyn with each ejaculation.

"Oh... my... god," Ginny suddenly blurted out. Her stony face finally cracked and tears were flooding down her face as she stood up with her hands to her face.

"Forgive me... I can't do this anymore!" she cried as she headed for the door. Before I could stop her she'd opened the door. Thankfully my worst fears weren't realized as nobody was in the hallway or they would've had a good look at Bill withdrawing his cum-covered cock from his daughter's freshly fucked pussy!

Ginny had escaped before any of us could stop her so I was left with no option but to shut the door before someone DID come up the stairs. I looked at Bill and Katlyn, expecting to see some sort of reaction as after all, his wife and her mother had just fled the room rather than watch her husband finish fucking her daughter. Yet in some strange way they seemed totally unconcerned as Bill laid beside her and they kissed as he fondled her perky breasts. She had twisted on her side and pushed her leg between his, pressing her messy pussy up against his thigh and humping him ever so slightly, as if she wanted even more of him.

Well, I wasn't needed so I left to see where Ginny had rushed off to. It wasn't hard to find her as she simply U-turned and fallen onto my dad's bed.

"Ginny?" I called to her softly as I approached her. She was sobbing into the pillow, her whole body shaking as she cried.

"Ginny?" I asked again more softly as I sat on the side of the bed next to her, "Are you OK?"

Ginny turned her head to face me and she looked horrible. Her makeup was smeared, eyes all puffy and red, and the expression was one of total sadness and betrayal.

"The bastard," she spit out. I waited but that was all she seemed to have to say so I felt I HAD to pursue this a little more.

"Who? Your husband?" I asked, "Didn't you see how much he loved her? How much he WANTED her? Not to mention how happy he made her and how much she wanted it as well?"

"That's the point... he's NEVER made love to me like that," she said, her voice cracking, "At least never with that expression. And then my daughter... my own daughter for God's sake... satisfied him better than I ever have."

"That's not true," I consoled her, "That's not true at all! Trust me Ginny, I KNOW... I know exactly how she felt and what she wanted. She's not his lover - only you fill that place in his life. But you can't blame him for enjoying sex with a girl as young and beautiful as Katlyn."

Just then Katlyn walked in, hesitant at first but then she leaned down and kissed her mom before Ginny realized and had time to react.

"I love you mom," she said softly as she stroked her mother's hair, "Thank you for being so understanding... I've wanted so long for you to be a part of what I have with daddy."

Somehow I didn't think Ginny was quite as anxious to be a "part" of any such thing but yet she didn't protest. This was a time when I didn't need to be involved so I left them alone so mom and daughter could work this out. In the hallway Bill was leaving my bedroom with a smug look on his face.

"Thanks Kelly... that went better than I'd ever dreamed possible."

My jaw almost hit the floor. THAT was better? Damn, what did he think MIGHT happen? Of course, Ginny could have pulled out a gun and shot the two of them but let's keep it to reality.

"Really?" I blurted out, "THAT was good?"

"Well, she stayed and watched, didn't she?" He shrugged, "Not like she can say anything now."

Was THAT his concern, that Ginny was going to blab it to everyone, maybe to the authorities. She might not be eighteen yet but at seventeen that's cutting it pretty thin.

"I think you need to go in there right now and tell your wife you love her like you haven't in a long time."

Bill looked in the doorway where Katlyn was hugging her mom. "Looks like things are under control."

I wasn't about to let him get away with that so I pulled out my trump card saying, "Look mister, if you ever want to fuck me again then you get your ass in there right now and do what I said."

Bill's eyes met mine as if he was assessing whether I was serious or not. Apparently he was still suffering from blood loss to the brain after his huge erection or he never would have said what he did next.

"Give me a break... don't try that on me... You want it just as much as I do you little slut."

OK, so maybe he was right but so what? Yeah, I loved when he fucked me at family events but he didn't know how much I was worried about his wife - my cousin!

"I'm not joking... Last time, you're cut off if you don't."

His eyes rolled but evidently my message finally got through as he sighed melodramatically and headed into the room. I shut the door behind him and breathed a sigh of relief before heading down the stairs to see how things were going.

"Have you seen Ginny?" my Aunt Seri asked. What a bitch! I almost told her that yes I had - and she was upstairs having just watched her husband fuck their daughter. My inner bitch was silenced though as I was pretty certain that the sanctimonious witch would kill her husband, and maybe their daughter, if she had even a clue what the two of them had been doing the past ten years or so.

"Yeah, she was upstairs with Katlyn... girl things," I hinted at. What an idiot! Like Katlyn wasn't old enough to deal with those things herself yet she bought it hook, line and sinker. Fortunately she didn't ask about Bill as I wasn't sure how to cover for him.

It wasn't long before Ginny and Katlyn appeared. Aunt Sheri pounced before I could say anything, asking if everything was OK. For a moment Ginny froze but I managed to catch her eye and flash her an OK sign. While she didn't know what I had told Aunt Sheri, Ginny was observant enough to understand I'd apparently greased the skids so to speak so she just smiled and said something to the effect things were just fine. Then she looked at me and repeated, "Yes, just fine!" with a little emphasis on the fine at the end. While my aunt didn't catch the nuance, I certainly did and something told me that everything wasn't just "fine".

We turned and joined the rest of the family. Bill must have snuck down not much later as I noticed him over talking to my husband. Well, HE certainly seemed happy with himself. I wondered what the real story was now given the difference in vibes between him and his wife. Ginny, though, seemed to go out of her way to avoid me so it wasn't like I could ask her and I knew it would just be a waste of time to ask Bill. That left Katlyn... It wasn't until things were wrapping up that I finally had a chance to catch her off to the side.

"Well?" I asked her. It wasn't like I needed to say more as she knew full well what I was interested in.

"We'll be OK," she assured me, "Mom's still a little weird about everything but I think she understands now."

"So she's ok with you and your dad?"

Katlyn rolled her eyes and grinned a naughty smile. "Oh I wouldn't say she's OK with it exactly but I don't think she will do anything." Then she gave me a hug and whispered in my ear, "Thanks so much Aunt Kelly... I don't know what would've happened without you!"

Yes, we'd ALL dodged a bullet. With everyone about gone I told my dad about everything that had happened and we agreed that it could have certainly gone a lot worse! That night in bed as we made love, I told Steve everything as well and I could tell he was turned on by everything. Typically guy!

"I can't wait someday for you to watch me fucking the girls," he panted as he fucked me. I loved it when he got so horny! Well, one good thing was at least when HE finally got to fuck his daughters he wouldn't have to worry about their mother being all upset about it!

(Jul 10) Chapter 292: Anniversary Present

Story codes: MF oral inc father daughter
Me (32)
John - my dad (52)
Steve - my husband (34)

It's been almost six years since I pledged myself to my husband. Six of the most wonderful years of my life! I wanted to give him the best anniversary present but with limited financial resources, nothing I thought about seemed within reach. Fortunately I have a wonderful father who can never say no his little girl =- given the right persuasion!

For the sake of our privacy I don't mention the actual resort name or location. I could've made up something but then someone would've either pointed out it wasn't real or if I'd used a different one then I would have had more critics. Oh well, can't make everyone happy!

1. Love Being Married

Wow, SIX years! It seems almost impossible to believe it's been that many years since I stood in my wedding dress in front of friends and family as I pledged myself to my husband. It seems like yesterday that my father was walking me down the aisle give my hand to another man while my pussy still tingled from my final time together with him as a single woman.

Looking back over those years it seems even more impossible that so much has happened in such a short time. When I see our two beautiful daughters I'm amazed at the incredible results of our love making. Indeed, if anything shows to the world the love we share in bed (and lots of other places) it's our children.

While it's "only" been six years we've still beaten the odds according to the surveys I've seen. It seems such a shame so many marriages fail by this time whereas I'd contend that ours is stronger than ever. Whenever I say something that people almost immediately ask me what's the secret. Unfortunately, as much as I'd love to tell them for better or worse there are few who I would dare tell everything!

Of course there's are a lot I can say to most anyone about the success of our marriage. First and foremost, as a Christian wife I submit to my husband in accordance with scripture. Oh the eye rolling I get when some people hear me say that but that just tells me they don't have a clue what scripture actually says regarding marriage and roles. So many people will pluck a verse here and there and then use them totally out of context. I won't go into the details here other than to say I'm NOT my husband's slave or anything kinky. Yes, I recognize him as the head of the household but I still get a say in everything. At the same time he loves and respects me as a woman, mother and daughter.

Another "secret" to the success of our marriage is that we're committed to living within our means which avoids the complications of financial hardship that seem to tear so many marriages apart. Although that's meant living in a small apartment, driving older cars, and limiting travel and entertainment costs, fortunately neither of us are driven by material wealth. OK, I DO love clothes and jewelry! As for entertainment, what we love best is for the most part free - SEX.

Steve and I both grew up with active sexual lives. Indeed, I had quite the reputation in school, one which I worked hard for and was quite proud of even to this day. Steve was quite popular with the girls and indeed I was amazed he even asked me out given his reputation for chasing the ones with the big boobs while mine were far from that. When we discussed our upcoming marriage we both agreed that our rings would symbolize our commitment and love but that didn't mean we had to suddenly stop doing the things we loved.

The first thing people say when I tell them this is something like, "Oh, so you have an open marriage." Frankly, I don't like that description as it seems to imply that we're not totally committed to one another, at least sexually. Nothing could be further from the truth! There is only one man in the world I make love to - my husband. EVERY other man I have sex with, even my own father, is fucking me. I don't say that that to be crude or crass, it's simply the easiest way to describe any sex with someone other than my husband. I enjoy sex with other men for one reason - I LOVE sex. It's that simple. It has NOTHING to do with my marriage or my feelings for Steve. It's the same for him and I believe this is a major reason for the strength of our marriage - we love each other enough and trust each other enough to not be jealous. Indeed, I think nothing turns Steve on more than to watch me with another man and see how badly he wants me. When it's over though, Steve knows whose bed I'll be in plus he gets to have me as much as he wants unlike that guy who only could enjoy it for a short time. While I personally don't get nearly as turned on watching Steve with other women, it's more because I'm much more of an exhibitionist than a voyeur.

So with our six year anniversary approaching... what was I going to get for the man I loved more than anyone else in the world?

I was discussing my dilemma with my Aunt Linda one day while my dad was working at his office downtown. After my mom divorced my dad and moved to Oregon to be near her best friend her sister moved in practically the very next day. There were the not-unexpected snide remarks and whispers amongst much of the family but it didn't bother me as I knew nothing really changed - just more convenient for them both. My dad still loves my mom and I know beyond any doubt that he could never feel that love again for anyone, not even her sexy sister.

As I talked Aunt Linda listened patiently while leaning over the kitchen table such that her exposed breasts were just touching. She'd always had a bit of a nudist streak in her, unlike my mom who never liked to be seen without at least a bra and panties. Over the years I'd become accustomed to it and hardly even noticed anymore. Aunt Linda was always trying to get me to join her but being nude just wasn't my thing, at least not without having a good reason.

"So what are you looking for? A nice present? You could always give him some sexy lingerie... with you in it of course."

Typical Aunt Linda... I just laughed. "Nope, been there done that. I want something new, something that will surprise him."

My aunt grinned and got that naughty expression she shows whenever she is thinking that way. "Given all you've done that's not going to be easy to do. Say, how about giving it to him with another girl wearing it instead?"

Laughing even more, I answered, "Nope, been there done that. C'mon Aunt Linda, what's the best thing I can give him without breaking the bank?"

The teasing over, she seemed to finally be a little more serious, frowning at first but then she lit up. Suddenly she just got up and ran out of the kitchen leaving me sitting there wondering what the heck was going on. Just as quick she returned holding a glossy brochure.

"I just got this in the mail yesterday. It looks PERFECT! Talk about timing... must be meant to be."

She opened the brochure and showed it to me. It was for some fancy resort which immediately screamed expensive with a capital E.

"We could never do anything like this Aunt Linda. I don't even have to read it to know it's way out of reach so why tease me?"

"Just read it before blowing it off," she insisted, "Then let's talk. Go on, it's new and I bet it would be perfect for you two."

I hadn't really looked that closely but when I did, the first thing I noticed were the photos. At first glance they looked pretty much like any others you see for such resorts with luxurious rooms, beautiful pools and beaches, etc. However, in addition to all the bikini clad girls and beautiful couples, I noticed something you DON'T see in the typical brochure - naked people!

"Ummmmm," I started to say but she cut me off.

"Don't judge it by the photos... read it," she urged me, "This isn't some crazy orgy resort, it's supposedly VERY high end and sophisticated."

I was about to point out that if THAT was true then it was pretty pointless to even bother. Heck, we couldn't even afford a desperation trip to a New Jersey beach at moment. Anyways, I read and it WAS rather interesting. It wasn't BRAND new, open for about a year now, and was in line with what seemed to be the trend - all-inclusive and adults only, more specifically adult couples. There was a brief statement in that by "adults-only" the intent was to address the needs of those who want to vacation without the intrusion of children, NOT to indicate anything regarding the type of activities allowed. So while some nudity was allowed in certain activities and locations, the expectation was that in public areas a little more modesty was appropriate although apparently the bar was set pretty low based on the photos.

One of the features was that every room was at least a "mini-suite" with its own hot tub and balcony overlooking the ocean. For the most part everything seemed to be included such as meals, water-front activities and such. Butler services were an option though, as were several "premium" services. The one that caught my eye was the romantic beach massage where couples could have massages together right at the edge of water!

"OK, so it looks great," I sighed, "But there's no point in even dreaming about a place like this. My goodness, it must cost a fortune!

Aunt Linda just shrugged. "Most likely, but I know someone who wouldn't blink an eye at the cost."

I thought for moment and then it hit me... "No... I couldn't ask him. That's WAY too much."

My aunt just rolled her eyes at me. "Why not, you didn't seem care about the cost when you wanted that fancy new phone."

I glanced guiltily at the new iPhone sticking out of my purse. "Yeah but that's nothing compared to this."

She shook her head as if I wasn't getting it... and she was right. She sighed and went on with, "C'mon Kelly, after all these years haven't you figured out it's not how MUCH you ask for, it's HOW you ask for it?"

I'm not THAT blonde not to pick up immediately on what she meant. Of course I knew my dad loved it when I wanted something really bad. I'd learned long ago how to get my way with him. Yet as effective as that had always been (my dad has NEVER said no to me when I showed him how much I really wanted something), never had I even thought about asking for anything even remotely close to as expensive as this.

"Crap, it's not like he can't afford it," she continued, "I mean like he doesn't know what to do with everything he makes as it is."

While I'd never really discussed my dad's finances with him, I DID know he must do pretty well. Senior partners in legal firms such as his didn't exactly work for minimum wage! Back when I was looking for a university he didn't even blink an eye at the exorbitant tuition for the private school I selected. Then there was my wedding which must have cost a fortune!

"Just take the brochure home and think about it," she offered.

"But what about..." I started to ask but she'd already anticipated me.

"No worries. I'm sure between me and your mother-in-law we can take care of the girls. They'll be totally spoiled by the time you get home."

That night I did some more research on-line and easily found the resort's web page. I also read various reviews and everyone concurred on two things - it was one of the best resorts they'd ever been to and one of the most expensive! After Steve and I made love I was next to my naked spent husband and tears came to my eyes as I thought of how much I loved him. If that's what it took to do this for him then I'd do it. Not that I minded one bit. "Persuading" my dad to do what I wanted was as much enjoyable as it was productive.

2. Persuading My Dad

Once I'd made up my mind the next step was to plan a time I could be with my dad long enough to properly ask him. Since getting married and living on my own I wasn't at his house all that much and most of those times were shared with others. For years now we'd established a "tradition" where I'd meet him at his house for some quick sex before leaving for church. I'm not sure which of us was more turned on with me sitting in the pews literally minutes after he'd cum inside me! I'd look around at the other fathers and daughters and wonder how many of them had the same twinge between their legs I was experiencing.

For my purpose though, Sunday morning weren't quite right as invariably I would run late and we'd have to rush as it was just to get him off and still make it before being TOO late for service. Still, it WAS an established time that I knew would be available without tipping off my hand. Well, I'd just have to get out of bed on time for once and get my butt over there in time for some serious one-on-one time with my dad!

After having set the alarm for a couple hours earlier than the norm, I was rudely awakened by it early Sunday morning.

"Damn, why so early?" Steve grunted groggily. Instinctively he reached for me and I could see he had his usual morning wood.

"Lots to do before church," I mumbled as I wiped the sleep from my eyes and brushed his hand from my boob.

"Oh come on then.. just a quickie," he teased me, opening his eyes more and grabbing at my breast again.

"Didn't you get enough last night?" I teased back, turning to get out of bed.

"NEVER" he grunted but he gave up as I stood. Seeing as I was going straight to the bathroom I didn't bother putting on the robe next to our bed. We always slept nude but weren't nudists in that we always wore at least a little bit. I slept something by the bed to through on, sometimes even just a T-shirt or cami. For me it wasn't so much that every square inch be covered, just my top. Even in college I'd had small boobs so this had been my coping mechanism in terms of directing eyes to my butt which was, in my humble opinion, significantly more attractive.

After quelling my full bladder's call I showered and shaved. These days that meant just a trim around my pussy enough to look decent in my bikini. It took me almost as long at my closet trying to decide what to wear! Finally I chose my pale blue sundress and matching heels. It was just sheer enough that without a slip the sun would shine through it and reveal just enough to see I was under it but not quite enough to give away any details making it the perfect dress for teasing a little at church - not too slutty but more like stealthy naughty.

I smiled as I closed the clasp on my ankle bracelet. It was just as simple gold chain but meant so much to me. I knew when my dad saw it around my ankle he's remember that special night he'd given it to me - especially as it was the only thing I was wearing at the time. I absentmindedly twisted my wedding ring as I checked myself out in the full length mirror on the back of our bedroom door. Last was my gold cross with diamonds hanging from a delicate gold chain - another gift from my dad. Hopefully I looked good enough for my daddy... but then in all fairness I think could show up in a gunny sack and he'd be just as happy. Even so as , his only daughter I still did my best to present myself to him as I know he liked to see me.

Leaning over the bed to kiss my husband's cheek who was now back sound asleep, I smiled as I looked down and saw his flaccid dick laying limp in a bed of thick pubic hair. Mmmmmmm, there were so few time I ever got to see it this way! It was so tempting to kneel down and take him gently in my mouth. I closed my eyes and envisioned it slowly hardening as I sucked on it softly. It was one of those thing I'd learned early - dicks are indeed little heads with a mind of their own - and they never slept! They had always fascinated me, especially the erection process. Knowing they do it because of me never fails to make me feel good about myself! Feeling a man stiffen while in my mouth was especially sensual for me and here was the perfect opportunity!

But no... as much as I knew we both would love it, I had bigger plans and if things went right then Steve would be getting something much better than a wakeup blowjob! Sighing, I turned and checked on the girls. They looked so precious! Steve would have a few hours most likely before they were jumping in bed to waken him.

It was only about a fifteen minute drive to my dad's house given the light Sunday morning traffic. What I would give for it always to be this way as usually the drive would have taken as much as twice that amount of time, time that I could've been spending much more productively with my dad.

Arriving at my dad's house I looked at my phone and saw I was over an hour earlier than normal. While that was good for me I also was concerned that he wasn't expecting me and sometimes surprise visits aren't always the best, especially when a man sleeps with a woman like my Aunt Linda! Then again, I knew our Sunday mornings were as special to him as they were for me and at his age he wouldn't want to tempt fate by cumming just an hour before I arrived. While I prefer sex with older men in general, not just my dad, it was more for the intimacy and care for MY pleasure that drew me. Of course there was always that issue of down-time. Face it, fifty-something men just didn't have stamina of a teenage boy! So no, there wasn't much risk of walking in on them doing THAT, but at the same time that didn't mean she might not be warming him up for me!

Parking on the street so I wouldn't be in the way when we left in his SUV for church, I slowly walked down the front sidewalk to the porch. Even if I had looked odds were I wouldn't be able to see if anyone was watching me so instead I was left wondering as always if anyone ever questioned why I showed up alone every Sunday morning. Probably not but it was fun to imagine some old lady spying and clucking about how improper it was. Actually it was one thing we were rather strict about. In all the years I'd been fucking my dad I doubt anyone who didn't already knew ever has had a clue.

The front door was locked - long gone were the days when everyone just left their doors open. Then again, was there ever really a time they did or was it just nostalgia at work? Whatever it was, I had a key of course so I quietly let myself in and stood in the foyer. Hmmm, not even a moan. Seemed everyone was still asleep so slipping off my heels I carefully made my way up the old wooden step. Years of trial and error paid off as I avoided the worst of the squeaks and arrived at the landing in front of my dad's bedroom. It was funny how I had to catch myself from thinking of it as my parent's bedroom. Still, I'd lived in the room next door for over eighteen years so it was a hard habit to break!

Peeking inside, I say my dad laying naked on his back with my aunt up against him, her arm draped over his hairy chest and top leg over his. Of course she was naked as well. In fact, I don't think I could ever recall EVER seeing either of them with anything on in bed. Even when we had visitors my parents would simply close the door - something they normally NEEVR did.

With the extra time I'd bought by coming in early I'd decided ahead of time that I would undress this morning. Normally I'm always running late so my dad will just lift my skirt or dress and fuck me without undressing me. As a rule I never wore panties to church, or anywhere else much for that except school were it was required, it worked out just fine. Given what I was hoping to ask for today though, I thought it only fair he get to fuck me naked as he preferred.

Slipping out of my sundress (which was literally all I was wearing), I felt the cool air of the air conditioning against my naked body and felt my nipples tighten. The sight of my dad and aunt laying naked in bed together didn't hurt either! Moving over to the side of the bed opposite of her, I was presented with an image something similar to what I'd just left behind at home - a limp dick flopped over on a bed of thick pubic hair - only this bed was a California Queen compared to a twin size in terms of sheer amounts of pubic hair! My dad was a bit on the hairy side and while this would turn me off on a younger man, it really didn't matter to me when they got older.

My nude aunt was still sound asleep and my dad wasn't showing any signs of consciousness. Just as I was about to wake him I glanced again at his limp cock and a naughty idea came to mind - a great start for what I was hoping would lead to the prefect finish. What the heck, how often do you get a second chance for a second opportunity?

My dad was snoring which told me he wasn't faking. If there was one thing he HATED it was being teased about his snoring. Although he would insist that he never did, the few times he'd tried faking it he didn't even come close to the real thing. It was like having an alarm set because whenever he stopped snoring that meant he was awake, even though sometimes he thought we didn't know it!

I gingerly reached out and with two fingers carefully pulled his soft cock away from where it was nestled in my dad's thick pubic hair. Taking one last close look at the two of them, I bent down and carefully took his dick into my mouth, being extra cautious to avoid any accidental contact with my teeth. Mmmmmmm, he felt so good all soft and warm like this. It was a rare treat as usually whenever I was this close to him there was a least a little stirring in him.

As I caressed my dad's dick in my mouth, it wasn't long before I felt the first signs of arousal. I smiled as best I could with a mouthful of daddy cock thinking how amazing dicks were that they could respond without their own even being conscious! His erection quickly expanded and within a few minutes he was filling my mouth. Mmmmmmm, I loved it and even more so because he was still snoring away, totally unaware of what I was doing.

Under any other circumstances my goal would be to see how far I could take this with the ultimate prize being to make him cum without first waking up. Of course whenever a guy DOES cum that pretty much ensures he DOES wake up but to see the look on his face when he realizes what has just happened is priceless. But this morning was just any normal time, I had a bigger prize in sight so I let him slip from my mouth and stood up to admire my handiwork. Mmmmmmm, it looked so much better now!

I moved up and kissed my dad on the cheek. He didn't seem to notice so I reached down and gave his dick a little tug which did the trick! The snoring and stopped and his eyes opened. It was moment before they focused and he took in his surroundings.

"What the...?" he stuttered trying to orient himself. Then he realized what was happening and he grinned. "Now THIS is what I call a wake-up call!"

Aunt Linda must have felt him stirring as she also woke, a bit groggy-eyed but she also quickly assessed the situation and chuckled, "Don't look now John, but you're daughter's got your dick in her mouth."

"Yeah, like I needed to be told that!" he exclaimed as I took every inch of him into my mouth, "DAMN... how the hell do you DO that?"

My eyes met his as there was no way I could respond at that moment. I could already see the desire building in him from the way he was looking at me. Still, my mission was more than this so one more plunge down my throat and I lifted my face from his crotch.

"Morning Daddy," I said softly in a tone as sensual as I could muster, "Hope you don't mind me stopping over a little early this week."

I stood up straight and let him see my nude body. Even after all the years he still loved seeing me naked and I loved the way his eyes roamed all over my nakedness. Without wasting any further time - we WERE on the clock if we were going to do all I had planned and still make it to the service, I climbed in bed and gently pushed my aunt's leg aside so I could straddle my dad.

"Sorry Aunt Linda," I apologized as I lined myself up with my dad.

"Hey, don't let ME stop anything," she laughed, "Would you rather I leave the two of you alone?"

Whether her question was directed at me or my dad I wasn't sure but apparently he took it as his. "Doesn't bother me if you stay. You okay with that this morning baby?"

I was 32 years old and definitely NOT a baby but I still loved when my dad was affectionate. I just shook my head, concentrating more on his hard dick which was now just below my crotch, ready and willing to make its way into me given the opportunity. Well, what better time than the present to give it one? With that thought I lowered myself down until I could just feel the thick head of his hard dick poking into me and then in one swift move, I put me full weight on him and felt him drive deep inside of me until my crotch met the base of his dick. His lush pubic hair caressed my pussy as for the moment we just both were still, enjoying this moment of union.

"God Kelly, I love watching when you do it that way," Aunt Linda sighed as she watched us, "Nothing sexier in the world than seeing a father's cock just disappearing inside his daughter's pussy."

"Well you should see if from my angle," my dad teased her.

I was just grinning as I enjoyed the feeling of him in me. Considering all the men who have fucked me over the years, you'd think it wouldn't be all that special but every time my dad first enters me it's like the first time he did in my bedroom so many years ago. There was just something special about looking at him and knowing it was my own father's cock that I could feel so intensely. Knowing I was literally joined with my father in the most intimate act possible between a man and woman was... well, beyond words!

"Oh yeah... like that," my dad groaned as I swiveled my hips slowly to move him around within me. I loved the way his thick pubic hair brushed against me as I did, like a soft hair brush teasing my crotch.

Looking at my Aunt Linda, she winked at me. I smiled back... everything was going according to plan! While I hadn't expected her as an audience, I didn't mind. After all, she was the one who came up with the idea in the first place.

"Yesssssss," he moaned loudly as I started to slowly lift myself up on him as I continued to swivel, raising as slowly as I could until just his head was in me, pausing just a moment and then swiftly using my weight to drive him deep once more.

He couldn't just lay still anymore as the lust and desire built within him and I felt his hips rise to meet me whenever I took him back in. eventually he would do a quick thrust and drive himself in as deep as his incestuous dick could reach within his daughter's pussy.

"That's it John... fuck her... fuck your slutty daughter," my aunt whispered to him. I saw that she was holding her boob with one hand while playing with herself with the other as she watched us.

"So close..." he groaned as our pace quickened. Normally those words would be music to my ears but not this time. In this case they served as a warning. Yes, I wanted him to eventually flood me but not yet... not quite yet. I had other things to take care of first. With that I sat still on his crotch even though he was still trying to hump me. Leaning over, I put both hands on his hairy chest and kissed him on the cheek - sorry, he hadn't brushed his teeth yet!

"Daddy, I have something to ask you," I said in my best little girl voice that I knew he could never resist.

"Oh god... anything Kelly, you can have anything. Just don't stop now!" he moaned. Sometimes that was all I needed to hear but then usually that meant just getting his AMEX card and doing some shopping. This time it was a little bit more though.

"Daddy just slow down and listen a second," I said softly, trying to rein in his thirst for me, "You know Steve and I are celebrating our sixth wedding anniversary soon."

"Card's in the wallet... make me cum," he all but begged me as I felt him push up against me.

"No daddy, this is more... I want you to send me and Steve to a resort Aunt Linda showed me."

That seemed to catch his attention as he looked over at her. She came back with her patented "who me?" look but that didn't fool my dad. He knew her all too well to believe she wouldn't be behind something like this.

"Don't tell me," he was suddenly serious, "Linda, the one you were showing me last week?"

Linda finally dropped the fa㌢de and grinned, "That very one."

"Damn... no wonder," he mused, apparently figuring out what was going on this morning. Then that look reappeared, the one that told me what he wanted nothing more than having at this moment and I knew I had him hooked, "What the hell, it's only money... now finish what you started you little tease!"

I grinned from ear to ear as I resumed fucking my dad's dick. I really hadn't expected him to wait even this long before caving in to me.

"Fuck me daddy... I want you to cum inside me," I whispered huskily. Yes, the two phrases EVERY father wants to here. Well, every man for that matter but I knew my dad especially was turned on no matter how many times I'd told him before.

brochure shows, everything I've seen if full of old men with wrinkled dick and hairy women with their sagging tits."

I was going to remark that maybe he would be better off looking at something beside the porn sites before passing judgement but I knew better. Besides, I knew neither of us was really into public nudity. Sure, not like I minded people seeing me nude but frankly those times were almost always involving some sexual activity. The idea of just running around naked for no reason just didn't thrill me. Not that the bikinis I'd packed did much to cover me! Still, there was still quite the difference between a string bikini and being full nude.

"No, it's not a nudist colony," I replied rather defensively. I checked and that's only for certain areas. The majority of the resort requires at least bottoms - women AND men."

"Oh yeah, so you plan on showing off the girls?" he teased me. I smacked him playfully as he knew full well how I felt about that. Actually for me I'd far rather run around in a bikini top and no bottom. For most of my life my ass and legs had been my greatest attributes and covering up my top, even if just something small or sheer, helped to focus wandering eyes lower.

So here we were finally... checking in. I'd never checked into any place so fancy and it was so cool to have a concierge take us aside to a seating area and sit next to us on a couch while showing us everything on a coffee table in front of us. She gave us our room keys and a pile of various brochures and handouts describing all the activities. I'd thought we'd spend some time checking out the rest of the island but from the looks of things we had more than we could possibly do just staying on the property.

"So when would you like to schedule your massage?" she asked us as we neared the end of the process.

Steve looked at me as if he expected me to answer but I had no idea. The blank look on our faces must have told her all she needed to know.

"Ah yes... I see someone else made the reservations and as part of your package they asked that the massage be included. It's really very special - so few guests get to enjoy one as they are in quite heavy demand."

"So what's this massage all about," Steve asked leaning forward.

"Oh it's very special," she repeated herself but then continued, "We set up a special area by the beach where you each have a masseur. It's right near the water with a spectacular view."

"So everyone watches us?" Steve asked a little skeptically. Again, like nudity we both LOVED to be watched but that was for sex. Otherwise he actually tended to be a bit reserved.

"Oh no!" she immediately replied, "That would never do. The tables are surrounded by mesh curtains. They allow you to see out but people outside can't see you. As I've emphasized we do everything we can to make your stay here as private and comfortable as possible."

"Well" I asked, looking at Steve. He just shrugged. The only massages he normally enjoyed were massaging my boobs but he could tell I was anxious to do this and from the sounds of things it would be quite romantic. Who knows? Maybe after the massages they would let us stay behind a while...!

We scheduled a day half-way through the week and I thought we were though when our host gathered everything together into a folder but then she looked around as if hunting for someone and said, "Great, we're done then so let me introduce you to your butler."

Butler? We had a butler? God bless my Aunt Linda!

It was then I realized it was a title more than what I'd always associated with the name as a gorgeous young girl dressed in a sheer sarong and bikini top came over to greet us. Steve's eyes immediately went to her boobs - of course. Small wonder as for a girl so small hers were spectacular. The material over them was so thin as to be translucent and her nipples were prominently displayed.

Our concierge introduced us, explaining that actually we had two "butlers" who traded off days with the other being a male. Apparently anything we needed or wanted, all we had to do was contact her on our phones and she'd take care of us. I could see the look in Steve's eyes as he licked his lips subconsciously.

"So.... like anything we need? ANYTYHING?" he asked, all but drooling. I was SO embarrassed but the host handled him perfectly.

"Sir, I would remind you that the entire staff is at your disposal 24 hours a day and are extremely professional. However we would also request that you respect them as well and refrain from any overtly sexual interactions. If you find you need such interaction your butlers can arrange it of course but your package doesn't currently include this provision. Would you like me to add it to your bill?"

Steve actually had the nerve to look at me as if there was even a CHANCE I'd agree. So far as I knew Steve had never been with a prostitute in his life (OK, but my cousin Kristen doesn't really count) and there was no way he would be starting now. Besides, he had ME!

"I appreciate the off but that won't be necessary," he said trying to act as if it was a normal discussion to be had.

The host just smiled and our butler took us to our room where she showed us the amenities, gave us her contact information and left us to get acclimated. The room was incredible! A king sized bed in a huge bedroom, a living area, kitchen, bar, and a hot tub as promised right outside the door leading to the balcony which, by the way, provided a spectacular view of the beach and ocean. No sooner had she left than we were stripping down and trying out the bed!

4. Beach Massage

It would be impossible to even begin to describe everything we did that week so I won't even try. I'd never been anywhere so beautiful and thrilling in my life and EVERYTHING was included! I'd heard of people going to "all-inclusive" resorts where the basics were included but then they were hit with additional fees and such for "premium" items including water-front equipment. Not so for us. Simply put, if you saw it and it was available - it was yours!

Finally the day came for our romantic beach massage that I'd been so looking forward sharing with Steve. I'd seen where they did them on a section of the beach that was easily accessible while at the same time off the beaten track which seemed to minimize the traffic. Other than that I couldn't see inside - just as our host had promised, so I had no real idea what went on.

We'd been told to meet our massage therapists at a location near the beach in our swimwear which was what we'd had been wearing most of the week except for dinner. Soon we were approached by a man and woman who introduced themselves and welcomed us to our romantic beach massage. Mmmmmmm, obviously one of the requirements to be a massage therapist was to be HOT!

Selena looked to be barely eighteen but then I didn't know what the rules were here for workers regarding their age. She was a couple inches shorter than me and extremely petite with one exception - her breasts were incredible! Wearing a bikini top that left nothing to the imagination, her deep cleavage made me instantly envious along with her large dark nipples that were already hard enough to poke through the unlined almost sheer white bikini top. A multicolored sarong wrapped around her impossibly thin waspish waist was sheer enough to ensure anyone could see she lacked any bikini bottom while hiding just enough to make you wonder what was underneath. I adored her thick long black hair that hung straight down the small of her unblemished back to just above her well-defined buttocks. Not even a single tattoo marked her skin. I was like seeing the dreamy island girl personified.

As for Llanzo, he looked like he'd stepped right out of the brochure for the resort - tall dark and handsome as they say, I was guessing in his mid to late twenties at most. Like his beautiful partner, he also had long black hair which in his case hung almost to his shoulders. He looked like a frequent visitor to the gym yet without having that bulky body-builder look I don't really find attractive. A pair of brilliant white shorts hung to just above his knees while fitting snuggly enough to give me pretty good idea of what he was blessed with between his legs.

Selena took Steve by the hand and smiled as she led him away leaving me with Llanzo. He silently offered his hand to me with a smile and I gladly gave him mine. He nodded, smiled again and the two of us followed behind my husband and his lovely masseuse. It was just a short walk to where the tables were set up on the sand. Poles in each corner supported a white tent top which served to keep the hot sun at bay while ropes between them supported "walls" made of flowing dark netting. As our hostess had described, the weave was such that up close you could get a pretty good idea of what was outside while from more than a few feet away it was all but impossible to make anything out in the inside.

One thing I noticed right away was the placement of the tables. Typically even during a couples massage the tables are separated apart enough to let the person doing the massage be on all sides as needed. In this case though the two tables were set right next to each other. Well, it WAS supposed to be a "romantic" massage so being right next to Steve would certainly be a step in the right direction. We'd had couples massages in the past during which I hardly even saw him the entire time!

Llanzo silently led me to one table while Selena did the same for Steve. Strange as it may seem, I felt a little apprehensive as I'd never done anything quite like this before. Oh sure I've had a "massage" before but this was something special - the real deal as it's said. There was a large beach towel folded and laying at the end of each table which Llanzo pointed at and then smiled at me. Now what was I supposed to do? I started to ask but Llanzo put his finger to his mouth with the unmistakable sign to be quiet.

It was only I then realized that other than the formal introductions at the start, neither of them had spoken a word and from what I gathered they didn't seem to be so inclined at this moment either. The only sound breaking the silence was the crashing of the waves not far from us and the occasional bird chirping. Glancing around, I didn't see anyone else near us although further down the general beach area was more crowded. Steve didn't hesitate and quickly loosen his swim trunks, dropping them to the floor leaving him standing there naked and apparently totally unconcerned that Selena might be watching. Then again knowing my husband maybe it was more BECAUSE she was watching, LOL. On the other hand Selena was busy preparing her oils and other preparation and didn't even so much as glance at him until he'd wrapped the towel around his waist. Apparently she must have just been discreet as she reached down for his swimsuit, carefully folding it and setting it aside.

In past massages I'd been nude but had never just stripped at the start but what the heck? It wasn't like I was exactly shy about letting people see me naked or anything so I reached behind my neck to undo the knot but in doing so I turned my back to Llanzo. He must have taken that as a signal I needed help because suddenly I felt his deft fingers untying my bikini top and helping it off of me. It was the same for the sides of my thong, untying it and then gently removing it and then placing the two scanty pieces of cloth on the table next to the bed. I took the towel and wrapped it around me, tucking in the end into my cleavage to hold I in place. It wasn't as big as I'd thought though, barely enough to reach to just the bottom of my butt cheeks.

Each of us was then directed by hand signals to lay on our respective table, face down to start. I did as I was expected although conscious that in doing so the towel did nothing whatsoever to hide the view from behind. Even though my pussy and the bottom of my butt were on full display Llanzo didn't so much as blink an eye. Steve, on the other hand, was well covered as the towel started at his waistline. I rested my face in the circular padded headrest, cutting off any view I might've had of Steve with nothing but the sand beneath me.

Once I was on my stomach I felt Llanzo's hands gently tugging at the towel on my sides. The tuck between my boobs had little chance against him and quickly let loose, allowing him to remove the towel and leave me nude on the table. At first I thought this was how the massage would be conducted but then I felt him drape the towel over my butt and upper thighs. I actually felt a little disappointed! While I couldn't see Steve, I just assumed Selena was doing the same for him.

Llanzo started his massage by covering me in warm oil. It was already plenty hot out but a gentle breeze was blowing in off the ocean, sometimes strong enough to billow out the side drapes while keeping me cool. Mmmmmmm, his strong hands felt so good on my bare skin! While it wasn't what I could call a "deep" massage, it felt so good to have his hands all over my back and neck, sometimes down my arms and then he moved to my legs, gripping them one at a time with both hands as he worked his magical fingers.

It was so gentle and soothing - almost enough to put me to sleep! Then suddenly I felt even cooler as he silently removed the towel, exposing my naked bottom to him. He expertly massaged my hips and now bared buttocks, his thumbs running down my butt crack as his hands spread out over my bottom, squeezing and massaging my buttocks. Several time his fingers almost grazed my pussy, not like an actual touch but more like a ghost passing in the night. I could feel the arousal rising in me as I found myself actually hoping he would get just a little bit closer but THAT sort of attention wasn't on the menu I guess. Ha! I was starting to regret not paying for the "extras" our host had offered!

Suddenly his touch stopped and his hand pulled gently upward on my shoulders. I can take a hint so I rolled over and he placed a small pillow under my neck. I was total conscious that I was exposing myself to him now but then this WAS a real massage and so far Llanzo had been nothing but perfectly professional. A quick look over at Steve and I saw he was in a similar position only with his now semi-erect dick on display. He turned his head to look at me and I mouthed, "I love you," as he took my hand and squeezed it in his.

After rubbing my bare butt but all the while studiously avoiding any contact with my crotch I was curious whether my boobs were in play - a question that was satisfied quickly enough. Llanzo's strong hands easily enveloped my breasts, kneading them almost like bread dough as he held them in his large hands. Like my back, he eventually worked his hands over almost every square in of me but then just like my back, he never came closer to my crotch than an inch or so. The avoidance of contact was almost more arousing then if he had and I could feel my pussy responding slowly. Steve seemed to be in a similar situation yet Selena acted as if his rising cock couldn't even be seen. It was obvious that both Selena and Llanzo were experienced professionals as neither of them put even so much as a hint of sexual spin on things even though the atmosphere was already charged with sexual tension.

My eyes closed as I shut out everything but the warm feel of Llanzo's hands as he worked almost every inch of my nude body with his hands. Then I heard a slight gasp and Steve's grip on my hand tightened. My eyes popped open just as Steve was raising his head to get a better look at where Selena was now massaging his already HARD dick. Well, so much for wondering if anything more erotic was included in the package my Aunt Linda had reserved for us! Then again, I should have expected it from her.

My thoughts were interrupted abruptly when I felt Llanzo's oily fingers gently tracing over my oh so horny pussy! His other hand was pressing softly on my flat stomach. He started by slowing rubbing my pussy in small circles and then his fingers began to explore me. When he FINALLY touched my sensitive clit I almost jumped off the table!

"Oh wow!" I gasped.

Steve had his head laid back and returned with, "You can say THAT again!"

I could barely see what was happening but it was enough to understand the pleasure in his voice as I saw Selena slowly stroking his oiled erect dick with both hands. She would grip him at the base and then slowly raise her hand along the length of his shaft, ever so slowly while simultaneously twisting it back and forth. When there was room she'd put the other hand back at the base again and follow the other up as each tiny finger rippled along the base of his engorged cock head. It was far too slow and deliberate to make him cum but at the same time seemed to be driving him crazy with the anticipation.

Well Llanzo wasn't about to let his partner show him up as he proved to incredibly talented in the lost art of clit manipulation. I say "lost" as it seems so many guys now just do it for the minimum time they can get away with before the girl says it's OK for them to move on. Similar to Selena's technique, slow and precise was his calling card. His finger would lightly rest on my anxious clit and then slowly start to circle in ever increasing circle. Every now and then he's make a detour down my pussy slit to my pussy and teasingly press into me just a little, then pull out and slowly draw it back up my oiled slit until back to my ultra-sensitive clit again. God! Talk about heaven!

It was eerily quiet as Steve and I each grew more and more roused, the only sound other than the nearby waves being our gasps and moans. Knowing Steve was enjoying it just as much as me only made it even better. Then out of the corner of my I saw Selena take one hand off my husband's hard dick and undo the knot in her cleavage, allowing her top to open and her boobs to spill out. A quick twist and she was topless after which she returned her hand to Steve's quivering dick. Damn they were perfect! As she would reach over Steve for his dick they would bump along his cheek - not exactly brushing over his face but more "accidental" in nature. Even so I had no doubt there was nothing "accidental" in this case though!

Any thoughts I may have had regarding my potential "special" treatment were quickly answered as I felt more than saw Llanzo lowering his shorts. I didn't dare turn to watch but something told me I'd soon find out - which turned out to be spot-on. The next time he leaned over me his hands rested on my breasts and then I felt it, a feeling I was more than familiar with - a feeling of warmth against my cheek and the soft touch of a man as Llanzo's cock lightly brushed against my face. It didn't hardly move at first as he massaged my breasts but then ever so slowly I felt it brushing my cheek gently back and forth as he swayed his hips ever so slightly.

Steve's grip on my hand tightened and I hear a muffled sigh so I turned away from Llanzo's cock just enough to see Steve face with Serena's boobs resting on it, his nose in the middle of her ample cleavage. She had her hands on his chest but it appeared to me more to balance herself as she leaned over him than for anything to do with massage therapy. That is, of course, if you didn't count what her breasts were doing to his face and cheeks as a form of massage. Similar to what Llanzo had done, she was rocking back and forth just enough to allow those perfect breasts to brush against his face.

Returning to a face-up position, I once again felt Llanzo's thick cock along the side of my face. Seeing how Selena had put herself in a position which was clearly inviting my husband to enjoy her boobs, I took Llanzo's increasing pressure against my cheek as a silent invitation. I mean what man rests his dick against a girl's face without the hope she'll accept the invitation? So I gave his dark shaft a light kiss and waited for his response...

Apparently even just a simple kiss on his dick was sufficient to signal my approval as he wasted no time in repositioning himself to the outside of the table, draping his thickening shaft directly over my parting lips like a hotdog in a bun. I extended my tongue and felt him sliding slowly back and forth across it an my lips, like a saw starting to cut into a board. For the first time since he's started I looked up into his face and our eyes met. He smiled ever so slightly, the stone-faced professional veneer cracking just enough to show me he was pleased with my decision. A slight nod told me I was welcome to do more. Well, not for me to say no!

Turning my head towards him, and thus away from my husband, I opened my mouth and allowed him to guide his warm cock inside. My lips closed over the head and my tongue teased the tip. The smile widened just enough that I knew he was enjoying it - no to mention the stiffness of his wonderful dick was increasing every minute!

Llanzo continued to massage my breast with one hand while he used the other to pull my head further into his hairy crotch, forcing me to take even more of his now full erection into my mouth. Wee, maybe "forcing" isn't the best description. Yes, he was pressing it in but at the same time I certainly wasn't being forced to do anything! The feel of his stiffness in my mouth was only enhance knowing my husband was just inches away, undoubtedly feasting on little Selena's beautiful breasts.

The more I took him into my mouth, the more his hands would drift from my boobs, down my torso, and then back up again until finally he was teasing my clit and then pressing the tip of his finger inside of me, all the while with the head of his dick in my mouth as I suckled on it like a giant nipple. I so wet it was like I'd peed myself!

Without a word of warning, Llanzo's dick pulled back and out of my mouth. My eyes met his and again that Cheshire Cat smile appeared. Silently he move to the end of the table and spread my legs apart, then gripping me by the ankles and pulling me down such that my legs draped over his broad shoulders as he bent down and started eating my pussy! I felt his hand under each buttock as he pulled me into his face almost like he was eating a piece of watermelon. Trust me, I was just as wet or more than any watermelon I'd ever eaten!

Turning my head I saw Steve was in a similar situation only that Serena was kneeling between his legs while sucking on his stiff dick. Squatting low as she was only served to emphasize her cute butt and allowed her boobs to dangle below her, the nipples looking so large and hard. He had been staring at her but must have sense me looking as he turned his head and smiled at me. I'm sure he wanted to tell me something but with neither Llanzo or Serena making a sound (other than what came from their lapping and slurping of our genitals) neither of us seemed to want to break the silence.

Llanzo may make a living as a professional massage therapist but if that was all then he was missing his true calling. My god he knew how to lick a pussy! In fact, I could almost go as far as saying it was the best I'd ever had. In all fairness to those before him though, the beach-side tables, the sight of other couples nearby, having my handsome husband right next to me getting what appeared to be an equally professional blowjob from a beautiful island girl... all this might have had some influence.

For all I cared Llanzo could've kept his face in my crotch for the rest of the day but we WERE on the clock a no doubt there were other couples scheduled in after us. This probably explained why after he brought me to just one orgasm he lifted his face from me and used a nearby towel to wipe the results from his face. Then again, it may also have been to coincide with Serena's change in position as well or for all I knew they had this all choreographed ahead of time. Whatever the case, when he stood up with his raging erection plainly in view while my ankles locked behind his head, I knew there was only one thing that could happen...

As Llanzo moved in closer, gripping his beautiful cock in one hand while using the fingers from the other to part my wet pussy lips, I saw Serena simultaneously mounting Steve's cock, straddling him and then grasping my husband's mega hard cock with her hand as she slowly lowered herself onto him. Although the two of them didn't seem to be watching one another, it was amazing how they each managed to achieve penetration at virtually the exact same moment. I moaned out loud this time as Steve groaned next to me as two hard cocks slipped inside two wet pussies.

"Oh Gawddd!," I moaned yet again as I felt the length of his stiff cock sliding into me inch by inch. Llanzo was relentless, pushing himself into me in long drawn-out thrusts until the base of his crotch was pressing firmly against me. By now I was so horny it was all I could think about, that perfect feeling deep within me I get only when a man is fucking me. You can finger yourself, use a toy, whatever but unless it's the real thing it just isn't the same. Then add to it the erotic situation we were in and what more I ask for?

"Fuck me Llanzo... fuck me!" I begged him, forgetting for a moment where we were. The drapes might provide decent protection from prying eyes but they most certainly weren't soundproof.

Then perhaps the most surprising thing happened. Both of them had been so quiet the entire time until now that I'd become accustomed to their silence so I was shocked when Llanzo leaned over me, driving himself even deeper inside of me as he put his mouth to my ear and whispered, "Yes my Kelly, I intend to do just THAT!"

It was so unexpected, so erotic, so unreal that I came instantly! My hips bucked up against him, wanting even more of him as I felt my body tingle from heads to toe, almost convulsing underneath him as my orgasm consumed me, driving any thoughts, any sensation other than the intense feeling other than that created by his glorious dick within me. Somewhere in the back of my mind I knew Serena was riding my husband but for a brief moment the only man I cared about was Llanzo - perhaps more precisely Llanzo's wonderful dick and how it felt within me.

Llanzo seemed to be able to sense the ebbing of my orgasm as he started fucking me harder, fingering my clit as he thrust fast and hard within me. It was clear that he wasn't going to let me stop at just one. Not that I was complaining!

A loud groan reminded me that I wasn't the only one being fucked by a pro this afternoon. I somehow managed to look over in time to see Serena riding my husband's dick like a cowboy on a bronco. Her petite body looked beautiful as she ground her pussy into Steve's crotch and then rose and fell on him, only to grind on him again. Her boobs bounced just the perfect amount as she leaned back and put her hands on his thighs to give him a ringside seat view of his dick as it appeared and then disappeared once again into the depths of her hot pussy.

Again I came - even harder the second time and longer, moaning so loud the people down the beach HAD to hear me even though they showed no signs. God I felt so good!

Usually when a man is fucking me, especially for the first time, he'll ask if it's OK to cum inside of me. 99% of the time it's a no-brainer - like DUH, of course! Actually I think it's more that it turns them on for me to say it then being courteous but why spoil things by reading motive into it? Well, not so with Llanzo. He'd controlled me for the past hour and it was like he wanted to display his domination in the most direct sense possible - fucking me and cumming in me as HE desired. And so it was as I saw his eyes meet mine and finally a wide grin.

"OH God!" I moaned as he thrust into me and I felt the warmth of him ejaculating inside of me. The it was Steve's turn as it was like we were somehow psychically connected in that he was cumming inside of Serena at virtually the exact same moment. Unlike me, she kept her silence as he thrust underneath her, filling her with his lust.

I just laid there on the table as Llanzo gave a few last thrusts into me and then pulled out. Damn, I wanted him back in me! I was about to even ask when he surprised me yet again by bending down to lick my pussy and eat his sperm that was draining from me. OMG! Steve, and 99.9% of all men that had fucked me, wouldn't even discuss the idea let alone actually do it.

Damn I came yet again as he licked my ultra-sensitive pussy! Was he ever going to stop?! It was like I couldn't even remember where I was... all I could think about was how good Llanzo was making me feel.

Finally he finished, standing up to wipe his face with the towel yet again. I could see his semi-flaccid dick hanging now and couldn't help but wonder how quickly I could get it hard again with my mouth. Unfortunately that wasn't to be the case as they each quickly dressed. Serena gave Steve a quick kiss and then Llanzo said their goodbye.

"We both hoped you enjoyed your romantic massage today," he said grinning, "I know Serena and I certainly did!" Serena gave Steve the biggest smile yet that I'd seen from her. "You're free to take your time getting dressed and leave at your convenience. We do have another session scheduled soon though, so please... if you'd like to continue your romantic adventure we ask you perhaps go to your room... or where you find yourself."

With that they left, leaving the two of us alone. Steve looked at me and grinned saying, "THAT was incredible! God you looked so sexy when he was fucking you, I loved it."

Someday I'll truly understand why men like watching their wives being fucked - and the more they enjoy it the better it seems. Meanwhile, I had other plans for my husband back in our suite!

(Sep 26) Chapter 293: A Grand Father-Daughter Experience

Story codes: MF inc father daughter exhib oral
Me (32)
John - my dad (52)

It's been billed as the trip of a lifetime and doing it with my father only made it even more special.

Note: Believe it or not, in the past I've had people try to identify me based on the descriptions in my diary entries. Given the relatively few trips such as this that are being made at any given time, I've taken liberties with the dates and other details that could be used to identify the company and trip. For example, the "Diary Date" above which usually is about when the event I'm writing about occurred, in this case is when I published this entry, NOT when the trip was taken. The problem is that people post photos on-line of their trip so a little research could potentially lead to photos of me and my dad being discovered that I don't even know about. Therefore if you've been on one of these trips please don't complain that I'm not 100% accurate in every detail.

1. Preparations

Wow! Just when I think there's nothing my dad can do to surprise me... he surprises me. As an only child of two well-paid professionals I'll admit to being a little bit spoiled (OK, so my husband would say a LOT spoiled). Even so, I'd like to think I turned out OK. As for my husband's sarcastic take on my upbringing, he DID marry me after all, right? At the same time, my parents' livelihoods mean that one thing I didn't do growing up was to travel a lot so this past winter my dad gave me and Steve an all-expense trip to a Caribbean resort for our anniversary. It was an incredible adults-only resort although that simply meant no kids - not some erotic sexually oriented place although we DID have an incredible couples massage that was something special.

fucking me before worrying about whatever it was he wanted to talk about. Alas, that wasn't to be the case...

"Remember that rafting trip we took in West Virginia back when you were in high school?"

How could I forget? Like I was terrified most of the trip! Anything where you have to wear a helmet in case you fall out is a little much in my book. Thankfully he seemed to recognize that.

"Now I know you were a little scared but I was thinking we could do something similar that isn't so scary but at the same time let us spend some quality time together. You know... special father-daughter time?"

Oh yes, I knew what he meant... special father-daughter SEX time! I just stood there impaled on my dad's cock as he continued.

"One of my clients had scheduled a trip with his son and was about to cancel it due to some scheduling conflicts so he offered it to me. I know it's a little last-minute but normally these things have to be booked over a year in advance so I couldn't pass up the opportunity."

Now I was curious... what sort of trip had to be reserved so far in advance?

"So what do you think about spending a week with your dear old dad at the bottom of the Grand Canyon?"

Whoa! Did he just say Grand Canyon? Where the heck did THAT come from? My mind instantly filled with images of monster rapids, scorching hot weather, flesh eating bugs, and every other thing I didn't like.

"Ummmmm, Grand Canyon?" I questioned him timidly.

"Oh it's nothing like you probably imagine. He showed me brochures and photos from a trip a friend of his had taken a couple years ago. We'll be on a huge raft with a dozen other people. They take care of everything. We just have to show up and they handle the food, tents, and sleeping gear."

The mention of "tents" worried me... I was about to say something about not being for me when I felt him slowly start to fuck me again, drawing himself out slowly and then pushing just as slowly back into me again.

"Oh daddy... that feels so good," I sighed, relieved that he was back to doing what I loved with no more crazy talk about some week-long wilderness trek. I loved the feel of him as he slid in and out so easily with me being as wet and horny as I always was when we met for our traditional time together.

"I've already talked to Linda and Kristi - they'll be happy to watch the girls and I'm sure Steve's mom won't mind either. You don't need to take much and I've already bought us any extra gear we'll need."

Unbelievable! Just when I thought he was back on track again he was still going on about this trip we were supposedly going on together. How was I supposed to concentrate on that when he was fucking me? It seemed that for once the tables were turned. Usually it was me teasing him while trying to get him to do something for me so it wasn't like I cold complain. It was sort of ironic that I found myself in the same position he was usually in - ready to agree to anything just so we could get back to what we both wanted.

"OK, I'll go," I gasped as he suddenly thrust hard into me, "Now just fuck me.... please daddy!"

"Mmmmmmm, anything for my little girl," he groaned as he picked up the pace, slapping his crotch into my bare butt and driving me into the counter top with each thrust of his dick. It wasn't long before I heard those words I wanted so badly to hear...

"Oh god Kelly... I love you so much," he groaned and then he grunted as he started to ejaculate inside of me, "God you feel so good!"

Again and yet again I felt him thrust hard into me, squeezing me into the counter top as his incestuous love filled me. How many times had he done this since we first had sex in my bedroom when I was barely sixteen years old? Damn, that was like half my lifetime ago! It didn't matter as each time was like the first and I knew it would never be any different no matter how many more times we did it.

"Whoa, now THAT's how to start off a Sunday morning," he panted as he withdrew from me. I quickly grabbed a dishtowel by the sink to catch his cum as it dripped out of me. For a moment I felt a pang of guilt as my mom had always told me not to use them but what other option did I have in such circumstances? I didn't want any to get on my sundress and walk into the sanctuary with a strategically located wet spot! As I wiped myself off carefully, squeezing down to try to drive as much of it out of me now so it wouldn't leak out later, my dad was pulling up his pants and watching me with a grin.

"Do you have any idea how incredibly sexy you look when you do that?" he asked rhetorically. "I wonder how many fathers just fantasize about watching their daughter wiping their sperm as it drips from her pussy?"

"Didn't realize I was putting on a show," I teased him although to be honest, I knew it turned him on which is why I'd made sure he could see me doing it.

As I sat in church, my pussy still tingling, I thought about the trip my dad had planned for us. It certainly wasn't anything I would have ever excepted, that was for sure! I had no idea what it all involved so I knew I'd be spending a lot of time on-line in the next few days. No matter what though, spending an entire week alone with my father doing anything would be a first for me and the anticipation grew the more I thought about it.

2. Arrival

The time between my dad's surprise announcement and our departure on a direct flight to Phoenix from Pittsburgh flew by. I'd checked into the trip and spent hours on-line watching videos and reading about what to pack and expect on the trip. Most of it seemed alright, even exciting with the rapids looking awesome but at least nobody was wearing helmets! I had pretty much everything I needed already except for some rain gear, a water bottle and some other small items which my dad had bought for us. From what I'd read it seemed right up my alley - swimming gear, shorts, light-weight tops and a sarong made up most of my packing list.

The flight was non-eventful and once in Phoenix my dad rented a car even though it would be parked for most of the trip. From Phoenix it was a long drive to the Cliff Dwellers Lodge in Marble Canyon, AZ where we relaxed and rested up for the approaching adventure the next day. As we were using what had been his client's reservation, while the names had been changed to ours the accommodations had been made for him and his wife meaning my dad and I shared a room with a single large bed. Checking in, the desk clerk gave my dad an odd look and then a smile. From the expression on his face I got the impression he assumed I was either his young second wife or someone he was having a secret affair as out her in the wilderness a wife would never know. Not that I blamed him as after all, how many fathers would reserve a room with single bed to share with his daughter, even if she WAS in her thirties?

One thing for sure... we were certainly out on the middle of nowhere! I'd never been in the Southwest before and so everything was new and exciting. The lodge where we'd be spending the night was quaint yet still more than adequate. There was a small restaurant which pretty much could (and did) charge whatever it wanted seeing how it was the only one available for miles. Before going there I sat down on the bed next to my dad to discuss something that had been on my mind after seeing the expression on the face of the desk clerk.

"So dad, did you see the look the guy ate the desk gave you at the check-in desk?"

My dad grinned, "Yeah, I bet he thinks your my sexy young wife or A gold digger, probably assumed I divorced my first one for an upgraded model."

"Yeah, seemed that way but it made me wonder about the rest of the week," I mused, "Any thoughts on what we tell everyone this week?"

"What do you mean?"

Oh I knew exactly what he meant but I wasn't about to give him the satisfaction of me making the decision for him. Yeah, somehow I wasn't buying for a minute that my dad hadn't already been giving this a LOT of thought. As a highly paid attorney and partner in his firm, if there was one thing my dad was NOT it was stupid or naive. Huffing just a little in exasperation, I gave him a look which hopefully expressed my doubt in his feigned ignorance after which he rolled his eyes and smiled.

"Well, I suppose that's as much up to you as me. After all, we both have wedding rings so it wouldn't be hard to go with that if you're game."

I shook my head in disagreement saying, "No daddy, I'm not calling you 'John' all week long. Besides, even if I tried I'll eventually call you dad sooner or later so don't you think it would be better just to be upfront from the beginning?"

"Well, it will certainly raise some eyebrows and to be honest, I'd sort of planned on us being newlyweds so people wouldn't be surprised if we were a bit 'affectionate' if you know what I mean."

Again, I knew EXACTLY what he meant. Granted, the idea did have some merit but at the same time I wasn't all that happy about it. It wasn't often that I got to have fun with my dad in public and while our "audience" would be small, from the looks of things it would be fun.

"Besides daddy, who will we ever see again?" I countered, "Like who cares what they think? It's not like I'm sixteen anymore you know so nobody can accuse you of molesting me. C'mon daddy... it would be such a turn-on to see their reactions, don't you agree?"

It was my dad's turn to grin as my proposal percolated in his mind. To help motivate him even further I rested my hand on his cock through his shorts and was rewarded by the hardness of a familiar lump underneath.

"So... what do you think daddy?" I asked seductively, rubbing my hand over his crotch.

"I don't know..." he said in a drawn out response, "It may take a little more convincing."

"You mean something like this?" I asked softly as I unzipped his fly and started to undo his belt.

"I'd say you're on the right track."

"This even better?" I whispered seductively as I reached into his boxer shorts and took out his hardening cock.

"Getting there..."

"Then this must be even better," I said as I lowered my head and took him in my mouth.

No words in response this time as my dad gasped sharply at the feel of my wet tongue on the tip of his throbbing dick as I locked my lips around the firm head of his warm cock. As I drew more of my father into my mouth I was rewarded with the feel of his cock swelling to its final stage of erection. Mmmmmmm, I don't care how long I blow men I can't ever imagine growing tired of this sensation. Knowing it's ME that causing this involuntary reaction never ceases to turn me on. Yes indeed... As I've always said, dicks never lie! A man can tell me all day how much I turn him on but a thousand words can't match the sight of his cock growing erect for me. I mean like I've yet to meet the man who can simply will his dick into an erection, nor one who can stop the process when properly motivated.

It had been a long day yet I knew after spending all day next to me on the pane and in the car he had to be horny as heck for me and sure enough it wasn't long before he erupted, filling my mouth with his desire for me. After years of experience I knew my dad well enough to know what he wanted next so I lifted off my head and opened my mouth to show him his incestuous cum coating my tongue. Then with a naughty grin I swallowing it down with a couple of gulps before opening wide again to show it was all in my belly.

"Soooooo.... what do you say? Like we're daddy and daughter this week?" I asked with a sly grin, licking my lips and savoring his cum on my tongue. Honestly still I wasn't 100% sure at this point how he wanted to play things. I was certainly old enough to qualify as he young girlfriend which to be fair would make it much easier for all involved. Still, the thought of what people might say or do if they knew I was his daughter and saw what we did together... or at least what I HOPED we would be doing together, was enough to raise goosebumps!

"Do I have a choice?" he pretended to grumble but I knew he was as thrilled as I was at the prospect. The best part was it was true when I pointed out that we would never see any of these people again so who cared what they thought of us?

After getting our clothes back in order we headed off to get a late dinner where we met several other couples and families who were part of our party. I could tell already it was going to be quite a diverse group with both young and old, families, couples and even a few singles. Most were older although there was one family with two teenage boys that looked to be college age. A mother-daughter couple were there as well. Later I learned she was divorced and her daughter was about to be married so this was something they thought would be fun to do together. I was surprised yet please that other than the two sons there were no children and even those two certainly didn't qualify as kids.

Knowing that first impressions are always important, when choosing my outfit earlier I'd figured why not get started on the right foot. As such I'd chosen a pair of faded and ripped denim cutoffs cut so short the pockets showed and a good portion of my butt cheeks were exposed. If that wasn't enough, a couple of long tears in the fabric further provided a view of my butt. My tank top as a couple sizes too small making it so tight that my nipples showed through like it was made of Saran Wrap. Simple sneakers offset the rest of my outfit, helping it be more a hot "girl-next-door" look rather than designated "slut". Other than a gold ankle bracelet my dad had given me as a gift when I was younger that was it. No socks and of course, no bra or panties. In fact, I hadn't even packed any underwear as I expected to be in my bikini bottoms most of the time anyways... or less.

My dad made the introductions and when he introduced me as his daughter I saw a few eyebrows raise on a couple of the wives even though he DID mention that I was happily married with two daughters already missing me back home. I was further rewarded with a few surreptitious looks from some of the guys, especially the two teen boys. While normally I never go to tanning booths I had taken time the past couple of weeks so that I would look better in my bikini and shorts, not to mention hopefully avoiding being too terribly burned by the hot Arizona sun. While it had been a pain to make all the appointments, seeing the looks from around the room I was glad I'd done it.

That night my dad and I had some quick sex before going to sleep a little early as we had an early morning wakeup call, not to mention it had been a LONG day! As we kissed and his tongue met mine I felt his large hand caressing my pussy as his rigid incestuous dick finally entered me, I looked about the room and realized this would be the last time we did it on a bed for the next week! Hopefully the outfitter would have something comfortable to sleep on other than just the ground.

3. Day One Orientation

The alarm went off ridiculously early as we had to pack things up and get some breakfast before our 8:30AM meeting time where we met some of the crew, packed our river bags, and too a shuttle a few miles down to the river. At Lee's Ferry, the starting point for all Grand Canyon rafting trips, we met our guides who provided the mandatory safety instructions and taught us a little about the rafts. Apparently at that point there wasn't much for us to do other than put on a life jacket and have a seat.

Having to wear a bulky life jacket sucked but we were told that it was mandatory to wear one at all times while on the river. It would've been nice to be able to bring the one I wore waterskiing but according to their brochure all life jackets had to be provided by the outfitters. Originally I'd planned on just wearing my bikini top but it only took a few movements to realize the life jacket chaffed horrible and so I pulled out a T-shirt to make it more comfortable. Oh well, it wasn't like it made much difference considering the life jacket pretty much kept everything out of view anyways.

Other than the T-shirt and life jacket the only other clothes I was wearing was one of the bikini bottoms I'd brought, rather conservative ones at least from my perspective, and Tevas. My dad had bought me this silly floppy-brimmed hat to wear which was so horrible I was about to stow it when the trip leader warned that the sun would be intense and everyone needed to wear something on their head, not to mention lathering the sunscreen on.

Everybody and our gear fit on these two huge inflatable rafts. The gear was piled in the middle and everyone sat around it. It was explained to us that where we sat would determine the type of ride we would experience going through the rapids.

Way up front was the "bathtub" where a few people could take the brunt of the waves. Along the sides were padded benches where most people sat. In back was an area just ahead of where the guides drove the raft which was euphemistically referred to as the "tea room". Supposedly it was the least "adventurous" and generally reserved for older people and those with back issues and such. Along the sides were strapped big banana-like pontoons which had ropes around them where people could ride in the smaller rapids, sort of like a bucking bronco.

My dad and I took a seat about in the middle of one of the benches and waited as everyone else found a spot. Next to me was a middle-aged couple from Iowa. The wife sat next to me although I found it funny that her husband had first tried to take the spot but she determinedly moved him over and positioned herself between us. On the other side of my dad sat one of the single guys. Wouldn't you know it? Turned out he was a lawyer as well so they got along famously from the start.

And so we were off... The water was mostly smooth to start and everyone seemed to want to talk as the canyon walls quickly rose above us. We stopped to eat lunch on a beautiful white sand beach and soon afterwards experienced our first rapids. Damn the water was COLD! The contrast between the blazing hot sun and frigid dam-released water was starting to say the least. Still, I was glad to be in just my bikini and T-shirt as the sun and arid air dried us off in minutes and once again I was hot.

I have no idea of how far we travelled the first day. The guides always talked about "river miles" so it would've helped if someone had posted mile markers like they do on the interstate highways. Setting foot on the beach, the first thing I noticed was how soft the sand was. Wow, like talk about the perfect beach sand! The guides quickly organized us into a line to unload the rafts. It didn't take long to prove I was totally unsuitable for the task and was soon relegated to helping set up chairs and other tasks that didn't require as much strength. At least I didn't have to wear my life jacket anymore and had tossed my aside at the first opportunity when we landed.

Once the immediate task of unloading the gear took place, Linda (the only female guide) asked for all the girls to come with her. She introduced herself to those who hadn't been on her raft as being 34 and a true "river rat" having been brought up by parents who were on guides and even though she was only 34 she had been on the river every year of her life since she was a teenager. The primary purpose of our little chat was to discuss female hygiene - or as it turned out, lack of it. The biggest concern, especially amongst the older ladies, was were to go to the bathroom and Linda quickly made it clear there was only ONE place to pee - the river. Although we would have two "groovers" in which to take a dump, everyone was expected to use the river for their pee to keep from filling up the groovers sooner than planned. She told us that those who were shy would get over it quickly as things turned out - she was right. Perhaps more jarring for some though was the sight of the men peeing openly into the river - it didn't take long for THEM to adjust!

Tents were available for anyone who wanted one but our guides warned us that they would be sweat boxes for anyone foolish enough to try to sleep in one. This sort of surprised me as I'd more or less taken it for granted that my dad and I would have some privacy at night. The thought that we would be sleeping out in the open in plain sight of everyone else had never even crossed my mind! It was our first night and we managed to find a spot with some bushes that provided a touch of privacy but anyone walking along the trail to get to the river and back would have to go right past us. Hmmmmmm, this was going to be more interesting than I'd anticipated!

My dad had told me that the company bragged about the food they provided but I hadn't been overly optimistic. I mean face it, we were totally out of touch with the outside world - Rim World as the guides referred to it, and with no electricity, phones, or any other modern devices I wasn't holding out any expectations figuring if I started out low then they could only go up. As it turned out, our meals the entire trip were incredible and the only thing I was worried about was putting on ten pounds!

Everyone was so buy introducing themselves the evening went by quickly. With the canyon walls reaching up the sun set earlier than usual so the darkness approached quickly. Feeling a little grungy, I got out our environmentally friendly bottle of soap, a wash cloth and towel and worked my way to the river to find a place to wash off.

"It's COLD!" a voice warned me and I looked up from watching my feet to see an woman grinning at me.

"Hi, I'm Holly," she greeted me, reaching her hand out. "You probably saw my boys Connor and Tanner. Well... at least they saw plenty of you!"

I couldn't help but smile at her introduction which was to say the least - unusual. I replied telling her my name and how I was married with kids and on the trip with my dad.

"Glad you told me," Holly grinned, "Some of us were wondering if maybe your dad was having a do-over."

"Do-over?" I repeated, not quite sure what she meant. Then it hit me but she was already explaining herself.

"You know... second start, trading up, reliving his youth..." she laughed. Then she frowned adding, "Sorry, didn't mean to offend you. My friends tell me I have a big mouth."

"No problem," I assured her although I had to admit I was a little surprised at how open she was about such things. In my case I took it as a compliment but I could see how someone else might easily be offended by such statement from someone she didn't know.

"Ever do a Polar Bear?" Holly asked, shivering as she dried herself off.

I shook my head and she laughed pointing at the swift-flowing water, "Well, it's not QUITE that cold but you'll think it is the first time in."

With my towel and washcloth hanging on a branch, I held my breath and dropped down, quickly submerging myself in the frigid water. I burst upward and gasped, "Oh WOW!"

Holly giggled. "Well, I warned ya!"

As cold as it was, I was even dirtier so I determinedly soaped myself down and rinsed myself off as quickly as I could while Holly watched which seemed a little odd but then everything about her was odd.

"You know if you're going to wear something that tight and sheer when wet, you might think about a bikini top... not to mention those blaring headlights."

Her tone was light when she said it which took away any ill thoughts but even so her forthrightness was a bit surprising.

"Don't get me wrong," she continued, "If I had a pair like that I'd be showing them off as well. Just that I have two horny teenage boys ? fourteen and seventeen, not to mention a forty-something husband in the midst of a mid-life crisis, and if any of them saw you like this right now..."

She finished with a wolf whistle and rolling eyes which lightened the moment and we both laughed.

"Well I'll try not to upset them too badly this week," I couldn't help but tease her.

"OK but don't think you have to hide them around me," she finished as she left the beach, "Have to say I didn't mind admiring the view myself."

With that she left me and I just watched her as she left in amazement. Was she coming on to me? In any case I was freezing so I quickly got out of the water and tried to dry myself off. My T-shirt was soaked though and with the sun setting so went it's warmth and I was shivering terribly. Looking around, nobody seemed to paying much attention so I turned my back to them and quickly stripped off my soaking wet T-shirt, then wrapped the towel around me as if getting out of the shower.

Walking back to our cots, I passed Linda the guide who smiled and nodded approvingly saying, "See, I told you all it wouldn't take long to get accustomed to life on the river!"

I must have looked a little confused as she went on to explain herself. "You've already got the hang of it, just turn your back and strip."

I looked down at the towel and grinned. Little did she know I would've much rather NOT have turned around!

By the time I walked back to the cot my wet feet were covered with sand. My dad had laid out a tarp under and between our tarps and as I approached he warned me to wipe my feet before getting sand everywhere.

"We'll be covered with sand in every nook and cranny by the end of the week, no sense in hurrying the process along," he joked.

Using the end of the cot as a seat, I used my towel to clean off my feet and then swiveled around to face my dad.

"You know Kelly, it may be getting dark but people can still see pretty much everything," he commented, pointing at my chest. With night approaching so quickly I'd dropped the towel covering me to take care of the sand without even thinking about how it left me topless.

Covering my chest with a hand-bra, I smiled and teased him saying, "What's the matter daddy... don't want anyone to see you daughter's boobies?"

Then I told him about my brief encounter with Holly. When I had finished he just stroked his chin in thought for a moment and then said, "She sounds like a piece of work. Although I must say the boys pitched in nicely today. They seem like good kids."

"Yeah but I liked their dad more," I giggled. Admittedly I'd only seen a few glimpses of him during the unloading but I was curious to get my dad's reactions.

"You and your married men," my dad sighed shaking his head in mock despair. Then he looked around and seeing nobody close by he leaned over and we kissed.

Nobody could see us but if they had there would have been no mistaking this for your typical daddy-daughter smack on the cheek - no to mention I still wasn't wearing on top and all I had on the bottom was my small bikini.

"No remember what you promised," I finally managed to say.

"Oh? And just what might THAT be?" he asked, his hands toying with my nipples.

"To fuck me EVERY night... and every day as well during this trip."

My dad's hands squeezed my breasts together as his thumbs rubbed on my hard nipples. "And just when did I promise THAT?" he teased, "I don't remember making any such promise."

"Well daddy, it doesn't really matter of you did or not, does it?" I reasoned, "Because you ARE going to... right?"

My dad sighed and glanced around. "I hadn't really expected us to sleeping out in the open though..." he started to say but I interrupted, reaching down to pull down my bikini bottoms leaving me bare naked.

"Well I intend to sleep the same here as I do at home. Actually I think it's pretty wild that we can do it under the stars."

"Under the stars... in front of twenty some odd people," he finished for me.

"It's getting really dark daddy, they won't see us," I tried to reason with him.

"So I take it that you've never heard of this magical invention called the headlamp?"

I laughed softly and reached for his crotch where his hard dick betrayed any real concerns he might be trying to pretend he was having. Yep, he wanted me! I felt my heart begin to race with the anticipation of what was only inevitable at this point.

"Fuck me daddy," I whispered in a soft but husky voice in his ear. I may have been super horny but I was still fully aware that the awesome still of the night down here in the canyon would allow my words to travel especially far if I wasn't careful.

"Oh my god Kelly, how could I EVER say no to that invitation?" he groaned softly as he pulled his shorts off and pushed me back onto the cot. The moonlight was such I could clearly make out the outline of his rigid cock and it thrilled to know where it soon would be.

He started to mount me but the cot creaked something horrible. They were pretty rugged but I suddenly was worried whether or not they were designed with THIS in mind. Apparently my dad had the same thoughts as he dragged the sleeping bag off his cot and spread it out on the tarp between our cots. It was WAY too hot to Suddenly he stopped. I felt him reach over to my bed and grab my sleeping bag, pulling it off and spreading it over us. Still not sure what was going on, I dropped my legs, allowing it to spread out further over us. Then I heard the footstep.

"Be careful Ed, you almost ran right into them!" a female voice called out. She seemed to try to keep her voice low but like most people, the more she tried NOT to be heard the more I could hear her.

"Well if you would turn on the flashlight maybe I could see where the fuck I'm going," a male voice snorted back. I didn't recognize the voices but knew from the guest list we'd been provided that this must be Ed and Suzanne, a married couple in their fifties. One thing about being a teacher - you get pretty good at picking up on people's names!

My dad's cot shuddered as someone stumbled into it. All I could do was lay still as my dad's cock throbbed inside of me.

"Ouch! Dammit Suzanne, turn on the fuckin' light!" Ed growled, apparently he'd been the one to bump into the cot. In just the last few minutes it had really gotten dark and trying to see anything was all but impossible.

"Alright, just a minute!"

It was our first night and apparently she hadn't practiced with her headlamp controls as I heard her fumble and gripe trying to push the right buttons.

"There!" she said triumphantly a the headlamp suddenly burst into full intensity. Obviously she wasn't aware of the lower intensity settings or better yet, the red LED setting.

"Oops, sorry!" I heard her say as suddenly my dad and I were like under a spotlight. The light was so bright in the darkness that I couldn't see her face below it. "Oh my god!"

The light quickly swung away from us and that was the last thing she said while still within earshot of us. While I THINK we were mostly covered, it was hard to tell with the way my dad had just flung the sleeping bag over us in a rush. Hmmmmmm, what had she seen that had made her cry out and then hurry away?

No sooner than they were clear than my dad started humping me again! He didn't even bother saying a word about the intruders or the potential view we'd provided. It had grown uncomfortably hot under the sleeping bag in just the few minutes it had been over us so he reached back and in one swift motion flung it back onto my cot.

I couldn't help but look over my shoulder toward the river where I saw Suzanne's head lamp starting to move back in our direction. I was about to say something to my dad when I saw it veer off and take a different return route. Apparently Suzanne wasn't up to seeing us again! Thankfully so as by now my dad was so far gone I doubt he would have even bothered to try and cover us had our visitors returned for a repeat performance. Actually this was one of those moments I find the most erotic, that time when my dad wanted me SO badly that nothing, and I mean NOOTHING, was going to stop him before he finished.

"I love you baby girl," he groaned as I felt his hips thrust hard into me and the first of several eruptions exploded inside of me, filling my wet pussy with his bear.

"Oh daddy I love you too!" I sighed as I gave myself to him totally and completely, as only a daughter can give of herself to her father.

When he'd finished my dad stayed inside of me and just laid on top of m, his weight supported by his elbows on either side of me. Lowered his head, he kissed my neck and then our lips met and we kissed passionately for serval minutes as his erection quickly dwindled within me. Soo it just took a little movement on his part for it to flop out of me, followed by a gush of cum that oozed slowly down from my pussy, over my ass and then down to the sleeping bag under us for what I had no doubt wouldn't be the last time it soaked up our love.

While I felt wonderful, I was also dog tired by now with all the day's events so I made my way quickly back onto my cot after spreading out my sleeping bag again. My dad slipped on his water shorts and just laid on the cot, leaving his sleeping bag on the ground to dry.

I hadn't even given much thought about being naked when I feel asleep as that was how I normally went to bed anyways. The next morning I woke up to the call of "Coffee's ready!" and realized it was already morning. Wow, I hadn't even woken once the entire night! I glanced about and saw people in various stages of their morning rituals with some still asleep while others were already up and folding up their gear. I was laying on my stomach, perched up on my elbows to see better when it dawned on me - I was naked!

It didn't seem like anyone had noticed, or at least nobody was looking my way trying to see better so it seemed so far I'd gotten away with it but with the sun rising I knew THAT wasn't about to last so I reached down for my bikini top and quickly slipped it on, followed by my thong bottoms. My dad was still sound asleep, snoring, but at least he'd put on his water shorts before going to bed.

Suddenly I felt the need to pee... BAD. Unfortunately the "bathroom" was a bit of a hike. I was tempted for a moment to sneak behind a bush but we'd been warned numerous times in just the first day NOT to pee on the sand so I quickly made my way down to the river. The guides were all up, working on breakfast, and a few of our party were drinking coffee and exchanging notes on their first night on the river. I hurried past before anyone could say something and delay my rush to the river. OMG, it was even colder than yesterday! Still, I stepped out a few feet until lit was up to my knees and then pulled down my thong and did my thing. I didn't look back to see if anyone was watching. Heck, wasn't like they were seeing much more with my thong OFF than when it was ON.

I stopped by the cooler with the coffee, thinking I'd take a cup back to my dad, when I realized in my rush I'd left our mugs at out camp site so I turned to head back and get one. In doing so I just about bumped right into Suzanne.

"Oops... Good morning," she greeted me with a grin, "Kelly, did I get it right?"

"Yes, and you're Suzanne... and Ed," I replied with a smile. "So how did you sleep last night?"

"Well, to be honest it's been a LONG time since I slept on a cot and I can't ever remember sleeping out in the open but it WAS a beautiful night."

"Yes, the Milky Way was incredible!" I replied.

"Well, you were obviously getting a good view of it last night on your back," she said rather snappish all of a sudden. I gave her a questioning look as if I had no idea what she was talking about.

"Listen, I didn't see anything last night, alright?" she said sipping on her coffee so as others wouldn't hear, "To be frank, I'm not quite sure WHAT I saw or if I even want to know so let's just leave it at that."

"I appreciate that Suzanne," I told her, not quite sure what else to say. With that she went off to her husband and I went back to my dad where I woke him up or we'd never get going.

Over breakfast I sat next to my new friend Holly who was with her husband and sons. She was wearing a two-piece swim quit, rather conservative, with a sarong around her waist hiding most of her legs. Meanwhile, I was still just in my bikini top and thong bottoms. I'd noticed a number of the men giving me the once over which was just fine with me. I may not be a tight little fourteen year-old anymore but I'd like to think my ass still looked pretty good exposed for all to see.

"You know, I never could understand how you girls wear those," Holly suddenly opened up the conversation. I looked at her, not quite sure what she meant when she continued, "You know, thongs like the one you have on now. I tried on once and it felt like I was walking with a wedgie all day!"

At that I laughed and replied, "well, that's why the string one like this one are so much better. You don't get all that material pulling together into your crack."

"So I guess it doesn't bother you to be practically bare-ass in public?"

It was like we were continuing our line of questioning from the day before. While it didn't bother me for her to be so bold, I WAS a little surprised she was saying all this within earshot of her husband and sons.

"Doesn't bother me so long as it doesn't bother them."

Holly chuckled saying, "Somehow I think only the first half of that applies to girls like you. In any case, from what I've seen this morning it's not like the men are bothered by it. I suppose that's why you wear it though, isn't it?"

"Well, what do you want me to say?" I grinned, "Maybe because I can?"

She didn't seem to appreciate the humor in my snarky remark and walked away in a huff. We got the rafts packed again and soon we were off. My dad and I took the same position on the same raft while a few people either traded places around or even changed rafts. Linda was the guide for our raft and I liked her the best of all the guides. I noticed my dad had his eyes on her as she was rather well endowed to say the least. In fact, given her otherwise slim physique, I had to wonderful if they were real or not.

4. Little Colorado River

The LCR is noted for being a turquoise water paradise tucked in a canyon on the south side of the river. Sometimes when it rains up-stream the water turns brown with mud but on this day we were fortunate and the water was a beautiful milky clear color. The rafts tied up to the bank and we all made our way upstream to a small series of riffles where we would jump in the water and ride down through the small rapids.

The funniest part was the way we dressed to go in the water. We took our lifejackets and wore them upside down like diapers to protect our butts against the rocks under the water. What I liked was it finally allowed me to be free above my waist without being encumbered by the hot lifejacket.

At first we all rode down by ourselves and then the guides showed us how to get together and form "trains". Brad and Carrie, the youngest couple at just nineteen and twenty, went first. They weren't married, just "friends" as they liked to say but there was obviously more to their relationship than that. Brad had his arms around Carrie as she grabbed his legs while they rode down the swift water.

"That's so cool!" I exclaimed, holding my dad's arm as we watched, "Let's do it dad!"

We worked our way up to where the water was calmer and slipped into the water. It was cool but mothing compared to the frigid river water. I leaned back into my dad and raised my legs. He then lifted his so I could wrap my arms around them while he clutched me tightly into him. He had his hands planted on my boobs but in the churning water I doubted anyone noticed. I got a mouthful of water but it was so much fun!

Eventually the guides herded us into one long train with over a dozen of us in line. Each of us held the legs of the person behind us as we snaked our way through the rapids. It all happened so fast I hadn't really noticed who was behind me but I knew it as female from the feel of her legs. Meanwhile, I noticed Conner had somehow managed to slip in front of me allowing him to hold onto my legs throughout the trip and I couldn't help but notice he was holding on as high up my thighs as he could manage! At the end and we broke apart I twisted and wouldn't you know it but Holly was behind me.

"That was wild, wasn't it!" she cried out as we struggle to shore. Once there we rinsed ourselves off and she looked at me with a wink. "Saw my son managed to get in position ahead of you so figured I'd get to where I could keep an eye on him. Hope you didn't mind."

The way she said the last made me wonder what sort of response she was looking for from me. Was I supposed to not mind that she was being nosy or was she referring to being in position where I had ahold of her bare legs wrapped around me? In the end it didn't matter as her son came up and they walked off talking about something or another.

About the half of the people had started to head back but I wanted to make one more run. Heck, I'd probably never be here again so why not "make a memory" as they say?

"Got your camera ready daddy?"

My dad looked at me and grinned. He knew me well enough by now to know the only time I ever worried about his camera was when I wanted him to take a photo of me that was "special".

As it was, Linda was the only guide left as Keith had gone back to keep an eye on those returning while Spencer had remained to keep watch over the rafts. I went up to her and grinned.

"Having fun Kelly?" she asked, smiling back at me.

"Oh yeah, this is SO cool. I never imagined anything like this!"

"Yeah, I never get tired of it even though I've been here dozens of times."

I paused briefly before asking her, "Ummmmm, Linda. Would anyone say anything if I took one last run down?"

Linda looked at me puzzled. "Of course not Kelly, we're in no rush. Have fun!"

I bit my lower lip to give the impression I was shy to ask what was coming next.

"Well, I was thinking of going down topless so my dad could get a few pics for my husband back home."

Linda chuckled. "well, I certainly won't mind and I doubt from the guys left here they would. Can't say the same for their wives though but what they heck, why not? I guess that would sort of get it out on the table and if nobody says anything I guess that sort of gets it covered from the start."

"Do girls ever do that on other trips?"

Linda's eyes twinkled as she looked at me and said, "Heck, we've had groups that wanted to be nude the entire trip so trust me, you're not going to shock me no matter what you do. Trust me, I've seen it all down her in the canyon."

I just grinned an started to turn away when she added, "And that applies to you and your dad."

I looked back her and she just grinned and winked. Wow, had we been THAT obvious already? I certainly didn't think so. Then again, maybe she hadn't been sure and just threw out a line to see what she could catch. Well, if that was the case she certainly hooked me on that one.

"OK dad, now get ready for a really good shot," I said to him when I got back. As he made his way to some rocks, I stepped into the water and took off my bikini top without hesitation, stuffing it into the life jacket straps where hopefully it wouldn't get lost. I stood up straight and waved to my dad which effectively exposed myself to everyone on the bank.

"Watch me daddy!" I called out as I slipped into the water and made my way downstream. For a moment I wondered if people thought it odd that a 32 year-old mom still called her father "daddy" but then that went out of my mind as the water surged over my head.

At the end I swam back to the shore and returned to my dad, leaving my top off. The only people left beside Linda and my dad were a couple from Greece, Mikhos and Mara, both in their twenties. Seeing me topless, she immediately dropped her bikini top as well, saying it was common in Greece for women to be topless in public.

"C'mon Linda, you too!" I called over to her. She shook her head at first but then finally gave ion and removed hers as well. I saw my dad's eye drawn instantly to her huge D cups - probably bigger. Just then Holly and her family emerged from the rocks upstream of us. Apparently they had not returned to the rafts but instead had hiked further upstream to do more exploring.

"Whoa!" Scott, Holly's husband, blurted out seeing the three of us topless. Neither Mikhos or I made any attempt to cover ourselves and even Linda just did the hand-bra thing.

"I guess you thought we'd gone back," Holly said to break the tension. Then she smiled, "Well surprise!" With that she shooed her gawking sons and husband on down the path towards the rafts.

"Well I guess next time I'd better keep closer track of everyone," Linda sighed as they walked out of sight.

"You know, that Holly's a little strange," I said to nobody in particular but Linda answered.

"Yeah, I get the same impression but haven't quite put my finger on it yet. I'm not sure if she's just teasing or what." Then she looked at me and my dad standing next to each other.

"And Kelly, sorry if I was out of line with that comment earlier," she apologized, "Sometimes I don't always think before I say things.

Ever have one of those moments when you feel like it's now or never? Well, this was one of those from me. Besides, Linda had already spoken up as she had just admitted and from the way Mara had her hands all over Mikhos I didn't think she was going to mind what I was thinking about.

"Daddy, kiss me," I said determinedly, planting my hand flat on his crotch. His eye opened wide but I'd taken him by surprise and natural instinct seemed to take over before his conscious mind could intervene. As Linda watched with her arms crossed over her bare chest, I kissed my dad as so very few girls ever do with their own father, all the while rubbing him through the thin material of his water shorts.

Soon his hand was reaching up and cupping my breast which signaled me it was time to reach inside of his shorts. I unbuckled them and pulled them down to where they finally dropped to his feet on their own, leaving him standing there naked as he kissed and fondled me.

Looking back at Linda who was watching everything wide-eyed, I bent my knees and crouched down until I was able to suck my dad's cock. It was amazing how fast he'd reached erection, even with an audience. That audience had included Mikhos and Mara but Mara was busy sucking her husband's dick herself now that I had cleared the way.

"Linda! Get over her and help me," I called over to Linda, motioning to her with my hand to come to us.

"I could get fired for this," she mused as she approached but didn't hesitate to bend down to take my dad's cock from me and into her mouth. I moved in behind her, putting my arms around her and taking her large breasts into my hands.

Amazing! They were real!

Despite her statement to the contrary earlier, I knew we really didn't have all that much time. Evidently Mara and Mikhos had the same thoughts as he was already fucking her from behind as she bent over a rock ledge with her bikini bottoms down just under her butt. I released Linda's boobs and pulled down her bikini bottoms to her flip flops.

"My daddy's been wanting to fuck you from the moment he saw you," I teased her as I reached down between her legs from behind and felt her wet pussy. "Haven't you daddy?"

"Fuck yes!" he practically growled as Linda took his cock all the way onto her mouth until his thick pubic hair obscured her face.

"Fuck her daddy... I want to see you fuck her."

They were both at that stage where I hardly had to encourage them. Linda stood up and turned back to the rock wall, planting her hands on it and spreading her legs apart allowing my dad to come up behind her and swiftly slide his dick into her waiting pussy.

"Damn that feel good John," she gasped as he thrust up and deep inside of her.

My dad couldn't resist getting a feel of her amazing boobs, leaning into her so his arms reached around until his hands were filled with the large breasts in front of him.

"Damn, I can't believe these are real!" he said as he played with them.

He was getting close so I stepped forward and pushed him back. "Sorry Linda, but I need some daddy cock too."

Until that moment I don't think Linda actually thought we would go THAT far. I mean like sucking his dick and letting him feel me up was naughty, but it wasn't incest. When I took my place next to her on the wall and spread my legs apart.

"Fuck me daddy... show her how you want your baby girl."

Linda pushed back off of the wall and stood there watching as my dad quickly finished, grunting loudly as load after load of incestuous cum filled my pussy.

"Damn, that was so hot," Linda murmured. Then she looked at her watch as swore under her breath.

"Sorry but we REALLY have to get going. Keith is going to be mad as it is."

Mikhos and Mara were nowhere to be seen. I guess they must have finished and headed back to the rafts on their own. Meanwhile, I was leaking cum so I hurried over to the river and rinsed off as best I could. Slipping on my bikini top and bottoms, my dad and I hurried back to follow Linda.

Surprisingly, Keith didn't say a word although he and Linda exchanged looks that may have been some secret code for who knows what. As easily as it had been to draw in Linda I got the idea that this wasn't her first rodeo and no doubt Keith was well aware of her activities on the river with the guests.

That night during dinner I once again found myself next to Holly - surprise, surprise. This time she just dropped by with desert so it was just a few minutes.

"I'm guessing you had a pretty good time back at the LCR," she said with a hint of a smirk.

"Oh yea, running the rapids was incredible!"

"True but I couldn't help but notice you guys getting back so much later than everyone else. Anything you want to share?"

Wow, did she really think I was going to say anything like that... to her of all people?

Seeing I wasn't answering, she smiled and patted me on the thigh saying, "No problem, I understand." She started to walk away but then came back and motioned me away from the crowd for a moment.

"I just thought you might like to know that while it gets REALLY dark at first, the moon rises after midnight and last night it was so bright I could almost read by it."

"Oh really?" I said non-committedly.

"Yes really," she continued, "Just thought you might like to know given your... shall we say, sleeping attire. Or should I say, lack of it?"

"Oh.... that!," I said trying to appear a little sheepish. "Guess I was just so tired last night I didn't think about it."

Holly laughed outright at that one. "No doubt you were... from the way it sounded I imagine so." She pause to see my expression and then finished, "It's not like half the camp couldn't hear!"

Whether she was teasing me or not, I wasn't sure, but that night when my dad fucked me I made sure we were a LOT quieter. But as for my sleeping attire, I decide to stay nude and let the chips fall where they may. After satisfying my dad I fell asleep my mind as my wandered with images of my dad fucking Linda and then her watching him fuck me. Well, at least we had ONE guide who wasn't going to question whatever we chose to do.

5. Elves Chasm

If I'd had any concerns that things might be awkward with Linda after our little tryst at the Lower Colorado, those were quickly put to rest as she treated exactly the same as before and never made so much as sly comment or wink. It made me wonder if perhaps she realized she had perhaps gone a little too far with her guests and now was telling us that it was a one-time thing and not to expect anything like it again. Or maybe not? Who knows for sure in these type of situations but in any case I figured better to leave things on a high note.

Holly was a different story though. After seeing the three of us topless in full view of her family, she seemed a little more standoffish than before. Considering my dad was the only male available with Mikhos occupied by Mara, had she drawn any conclusions beyond those I suspected she already had? She'd been a mystery to me the entire trip so far and her behavior actually helped me fill in the puzzle a little, or at least so it seemed to me. Any thoughts that she might be coming on to quickly withered although I can't say that disappointed me. While she didn't discourage her sons' unabashed gawking at me (and some of the other women as well - especially Carrie when she wasn't clinging to Brad), at the same time she no longer joked with me about it.

We were past the halfway mark now having stopped briefly at Phantom Ranch where I savored a wonderfully cold lemonade - with ice! I walked past the showers which were locked and wondered who I'd have to blow to get a key - and that's not just being whimsical! My hair never needed a good hot rinsing as badly as it did now. Maybe the best part though was they had real honest to goodness toilets! Well, actually THE best part was the pay phone where I got to call my girls and tell me mommy loved them even if she had left them alone with their grandma for so long.

Linda was rattling off her usual chatter about the canyon, the formations, history and such. Then she mentioned we would soon be coming to one of the top rated stops - Elves Chasm. Immediately thoughts of enchanting little creatures poking out from the rocks came to mind but then she exclaimed it really had nothing to do with elves other than someone must have thought it would be a place where little people would like to hang out. She just teased us though, telling us just enough to wet our appetites but I still had no idea what we were heading for. A few people had guide books which talked about it enough that I was looking forward to it.

The rafts tied up to some small trees just before a big bend in the river. From the river it didn't look like much - just a small side canyon leading away that wouldn't have warranted a second look had we just cruised by. I traded my water shoes for flip flops, dropped the miserable life jacket and followed my dad, jumping off the front of the raft where he caught me to keep me from slipping into the water. Somehow I didn't think it was an accident that his hands grabbed me high on the sides allowing his thumbs to press over my bikini top into the sides of my boobs.

As we followed Keith along the rocks (there are ALWAYS rocks to climb over no matter where we went), I couldn't help but note what I had come to refer to as my "fan club" following close behind. Somehow it seemed they always managed to claim the spot right behind me whenever we would hike somewhere. Earlier in the week we had hiked this ridiculously steep trail up to see some ancient Indian graineries and they must have been all but bumping into me the entire way up! I suppose given the skimpy bottoms I was wearing and the steep steps which required me to lift my leg way up and the often bend over to reach for the next hand hold they got quite the show!

Climbing over some huge flat boulders, suddenly we came upon a pool of water with a small waterfall flowing out from a large opening. The water looked to drop off quickly so I figured the pool must be pretty deep in the center. Once we'd all assembled, Keith stood up on one of the boulders and explained to us some of the history behind the place. Then he grinned and said there was also something most people didn't see right away if they hadn't been here before. Rather than explain though, he jumped into the water and started swimming to where it looked like the water pooled back under a ledge. Surprisingly he lowered his head and entered what must have been something like a cave. We lost sight of him then for a few moments before he popped out of nowhere in the middle of the opening where the water was flowing! Wow, there must have been some sort of cave network behind the rocks he had used.

"OK, this is one of the few places where it's OK to jump into the water," Keith said loudly to us, "Just try and jump out a few feet to make sure you're in the deepest section."

With that he leaped out and cannonballed into the water, splashing all of us with the cool water which actually felt quite nice after the hot hike.

"Oh that's so cool!" Darnell said to his girlfriend Jasmine. They were both I their early twenties and kept pretty much to themselves. They were both black although Jasmin had a lighter complexion and a body which looked stunning in a bikini. "C'mon, let's try it."

The two of the were the first as the rest of us watched. Soon they had made their way up and leaped out one at a time, Darnell leading the way and then encouraging his girlfriend while treading water below.

"How was it?" Mary Lynn asked. Mary Lynn was something like 22, engaged with a wedding not too long after she got back from the trip. Her mom Ethel (who names their poor daughter that?) was taking her out on a final mother-daughter trip, or at least final while she wasn't attached to someone else.

Ethel told her daughter she was free to give it a try but SHE was staying where it was safe. We all laughed as Mary Lynn futilely tried to convince her mom but finally gave up and started to make her way. Keith had taken position right outside the cave entrance, proving directions for those making their first foray. She was closely followed by Scott, Conner and Tanner as they left Holly behind to watch and take pictures.

"Wanna try it daddy?" I asked my dad, tugging on his arm like a little girl begging to go on a carnival ride.

"What the hell, why not?" my dad shrugged, "Worse that can happy is I slip and kill myself."

"Oh daddy, stop that!" I teased him playfully.

Slipping off our footwear, we jumped in together and the water was really pretty warm - or maybe after a few days on the freezing Colorado ANYTHING felt warm in comparison!

"Watch your heads... it gets slippery on the steep portion so be careful," Keith warned us as we swam past him.

Once past the ledge there was more headroom and I paused for a moment to get my bearings. My dad was right next to me, his arm around me.

"Oh daddy, this is beautiful!" I exclaimed, taking it all in. There was a way up to where the ledge was and at first I didn't think I would be able to make it. It's not like they had stairs installed!

"I think I need some help," I grunted as I tried to climb up without slipping and breaking something.

"More than glad to help," my dad responded behind me as he planted his hand on my all but bare butt and pushed. Yeah, he was glad to help all right.

"Hmmmmmm, I think I need more than that," I called back over my shoulder to him teasingly.

I felt his hand move and then his finger working its way into my crotch, pressing against the thin material covering it.

"That's better... almost there," I encouraged him. With all the echoes I had to be just a little subtle knowing that Keith had to be hearing very word we were saying along with anyone else nearby.

"Perfect!" I all but moaned as his finger pushed aside my thong and worked its way into my pussy. I could've stayed like this for a LOT longer but I could hear people talking behind us so I knew I needed to move upwards. The last stretch was actually quite difficult, at least for me. Working my way to the ledge - which turned out really wasn't a ledge at all but more like a few slippery rocks close to one another, was a bit scary even. My dad worked his way up behind me and held me by the waist to steady me.

"This is crazy!" I called down to the group. With that I leaped out and hit the water. Turned out not to be so bad and as soon as I was clear my dad had jumped in behind me.

"Go again?" he said when he'd caught up to.

My first reaction was to swim to the rocks and call it a day. While I was glad to have done it now, it certainly wasn't a water park ride with safe steps and handrails! Nonetheless it looked like everyone had pretty much done it that was going to do it so we wouldn't be as rushed this time. So without answering I just grinned and swam over to where Keith was still standing guard at the entrance.

"Go for two?" he teased, "Frankly, I was surprised you did it at all."

I wasn't sure if I appreciated the comment but then he was grinning and I realized he didn't mean any harm so I just nodded with a smile.

"Well, you both know the ropes so I'm going to get the others ready to go," Keith said to me and my dad who was now behind me. With that he lunged into the center and with a few strokes was pulling himself back onto the rock ledge.

After we'd worked our way inside it was just me and my dad as the ones ahead of us had either already jumped or were up at the top preparing to leap. It was a little eerie being alone inside with the noise of the falling water echoing. My dad held up his Tough waterproof camera and motioned for me to work up into the rocks leading to the top for some photos.

"You can do better than that," he teased me once I was in position. Seeing his eyes focused on my boobs it wasn't hard to figure out what he meant so the bikini top quickly came off and I was sitting there topless.

"You're kidding me," he huffed.

"If you insist" I said while grinning. Soon the bottoms were in my hand as well.

"That's more like it!" he said, finally happy with my lack of clothing, "Why do you have your legs so tight together?"

I started to reply with something about how I was squeezed in between the rocks which was true but obviously not what he wanted to hear. Wiggling into the openings and holing on with my hands, I somehow managed to put myself in a position with my legs as widely spread apart as I could manage.

"Play with yourself," my dad coached me as he switched to video mode.

"Daddy, they're gonna start wondering what we're doing," I tried to warn him but he just shrugged me off.

"So what, half of them probably have a pretty good idea anyways."

While trying not to lose my footing I began to masturbate as he caught me on camera. I have to say this had to be the most unique place I'd ever masturbated and to have it caught on video just made it all the better. At first I felt a little intimidated but then the feelings my fingers were producing soon overshadowed any worries in my head. Just as I was about to cum, though, a voice brought me back to reality.

"Everything OK?"

It was Linda checking up on us - just as I had warned my dad might happen. Well, at least it wasn't Keith. Then without waiting for a response, made her way in and her eyes widened as she quickly understood what was happening.

"Oh my," she giggled, "I didn't mean to interrupt but we're about ready to leave.

"It's OK, I think I got enough for us to enjoy later," my dad assured her and then added, "But if you'd like to join her... feel free!"

I swore Linda licked her lips a little but then she shook her head. "Maybe another time... we really need to go and get to camp."

"I'll hold you to that promise," my dad chuckled as I struggled to get my bikini back on. The bottoms weren't too hard as just pulled up but the top had to be tied behind my head and in the middle of my back and in the tight quarters I was stuck in I just couldn't make my arms bend in the necessary spots.

"Need some help?" Linda offered and I nodded quickly.

I couldn't turn around so she had to press up tight to me to reach around to tie things up. Her boobs pressed tightly into mine but I didn't dare say anything.

"That should do for now," she said backing away, "You might want to tighten it up a bit before you jump. This isn't exactly the easiest position to get it right."

With that she looked back at my dad and then at me and smiled while at the same time shaking her head just enough to convey that she had a pretty good idea of what was going on - as if she didn't before.

My dad thanked me and once again boosted me up the treacherous climb. Well, at least it was treacherous to me! One thing that continued to amaze me throughout this trip was why more people weren't seriously injure or even killed on these trips! Once at the top I gingerly maneuvered back to the jump-off point where I saw most of the group had left while a few stragglers were still packing things up. Linda was still there while Keith must have headed back to keep an eye on the ones returning. Next to here was Brad and Carrie, the youngest couple along with Darnell and Jasmin, the next youngest. They seemed to have become quite good friends, most likely because they were twenty to forty years younger than most of the other couples.

"Ready?" my dad said behind me as he steadied me once again.

Taking a deep breath, I leaned forward and jumped, hitting the water below with a splash. As I surfaced I realized I was missing something - my bikini top! Then I remembered Linda's warning about tightening it before I jumped. My mind had been so occupied with worrying about not killing myself it had totally been forgotten. I looked around desperately to try and find it but it was nowhere to be seen. It didn't help matters when my dad jumped in, stirring up the water even more.

"Missing something?" my dad asked with a grin as he paddled over to me.

"You could say that."

"Well, next time you better tie it tighter," he grinned as he reached out and handed it to me, "I say it in the water behind you and managed to snag it on my way in."

Somehow I managed to get it on good enough to get out of the water. Evidently nobody had noticed or at least if they had they were pretending they hadn't. Well, all but one.

"Warned you," Linda teased me.

What could I say? I slipped my flip flops back on as Linda led the way back to our rafts. Along the way I found myself wishing I'd taken the time to put on my shoes rather than just the flips flops as we climbed over rocks and jumped down from boulders. Still, all the guides wore them but then they did this every day!

Back on the raft we were soon headed downriver again. My dad pulled out his camera to check out the photos, handing me to me to check a few out. Sure enough, there I was in my birthday suit smiling innocently at the camera. Not exactly one I could use for my Facebook profile but certainly I knew my dad would be keeping handy.

6. Deer Creek Falls

The next day we got an early start as Keith told us he'd like to beat the crowds if possible to what was one of the most visited stops along the river. Deer Creek Falls has one of the most iconic inner canyons of which I'd seen pictures that looked stunning and was anxious to see them for myself. What I hadn't known before the trip and was now finding to be inevitable was such views weren't for the faint of heart. It seemed everything worth seeing off the river involved some sort of hazardous trek which left me exhausted! Deer Creek Falls would prove to be no exception.

The rafts pulled in to the bank next to five small boats that Linda said were called dories. I couldn't believe anyone would ride in such a small boat through some of the rapids we'd experienced! They were all gone, leaving nobody behind. This may be the Grand Canyon and yeah, everyone was one big happy family but I don't see how anyone could be THAT trusting!

The first thing you see on arrival is the beautiful water falls emerging high above you and falling into a beautiful pool at the bottom. Looking around, I didn't see any sign of a trail or canyon so like where were these beautiful formations I saw in all the photos?

Keith was doing his thing as trip leader and we gathered around to hear the plan. When he pointed above his head to a ledge HIGH above us, and then said we first had to somehow climb all the way up, my first instinct was this would be one side trip I'd skip. OMG! The faint trail he showed us looked barely fit for a mountain goat! If it hadn't been for a couple of people making their way back down I might not have believed him.

"I'd advise against the flip flops Kelly," my dad said when Keith was finished. Like yeah, no kidding!

Thankfully we left the life preservers on the raft. I was also fortunate to have my dad to carry our daypack which had our water bottles and some snacks that were handed out before we started our trek. I fully expected some of the older couples to take a pass but even Don and Kate, our oldest couple in their 70's, seemed determined to go. As Don said when someone politely asked if they thought they could do it, this was a once-in-a-lifetime experience and he wanted to at least try.

Besides my footwear, I also changed out of my bikini bottom. It wasn't that I was shy about showing off my butt to the folks climbing behind me, but more I'd come to realize that a thong bikini and strenuous climbing didn't mix. I'd worn my thong up the super steep trail to see the graineries and by the time we were back my crotch was sore as heck from the thin material rubbing tight up against my pussy and even bunching up and riding inside my pussy lips until I could reach down and pull it out. Thus for today's hike I'd come prepared and packed a pair of shorts in our day gear just in case. They were plain old grey workout shorts which I'd cut to be even shorter. A little baggy at the legs, not only were they more fit for something like the hike I was facing but they also allowed a nice view from below which sort of made up for not wearing my bikini bottom.

Heading over to where some of the women were squatting in the river to take a pee before we left, I dropped my bikini and was pulling up the shorts when I heard from behind me, "Being a little more sensible today?"

Snugging up my shorts, I turned to my surprise to see Marge, an older woman I think was 59, traveling alone. We hadn't really interacted much other than the occasional polite conversation during dinner and such.

I smiled back as I adjusted my bikini top. "Yeah, it looks like quite a hike."

"Frankly, I don't understand how you gals wear those things in the first place," she answered, "But then I guess you must enjoy the attention - you've certainly had enough on this trip."

I just smiled, not certain where she was going.

"Oh don't get me wrong... if I had a hot body likes yours I'd be flaunting it as well," she hurriedly responded to my silent response.

"Thanks Marge, I appreciate that."

"Even so, not so sure how I would feel sleeping naked next to my father though," she came back. I wasn't sure at first where she was going but then she winked and pulled up her swim suit before heading back to the group, leaving me to wonder when she had seen me sleeping nude? Maybe in the middle of the night heading down to take a pee in the river?

In any case I soon rejoined my dad and we all crossed a small stream to get to where the trail started. Even the first few steps were a challenge and I could only imagine it would get only worse as we ascended. Indeed it did, to the point at one spot we had to use tree branches to make our way up a steep climb. Even though we rested a few times going up, by the time we reached the top I was exhausted and sweating profusely.

"Should've hit the stair-stepper before we came," I gasped to my dad as we took in the incredible view below is. Along the hike I'd spent of my time staring at the trail ahead of me and dint really notice just how high we'd come. From up here it looked even higher than it had down by the river!

"OK, the rest of the way is pretty flat," Linda told us all once we'd rested. Well, it may have been flat but it was still quite treacherous in my opinion at least. The trail went along the rock wall with Deer Canyon down to our right. It WAS gorgeous, even more so than the photos I'd seen. At one point though the trail really narrowed. Knowing that hundreds if not thousands of people a year passed by here, it amazed me that nobody had ever fallen in!

Other than the sheer drop-offs, it was an easy hike and soon we reached an open area where the group from the dories was just getting ready to take off on a hike further up the side canyon. Frankly, this was far enough for me! This was the perfect spot with shade and small stream where you could just soak your feet or even lay in although the water was a bit chilly. My dad broke out some snacks and we sat next to each other on a large flat rock with our shoes off and feet in the water.

"This is beautiful dad," I said softly as he put his arm around me and hugged me close, "I'm so glad you brought me here."

"Well, the beauty is only enhanced with you here," he replied.

"I'd love you to fuck me right here," I whispered, conscious there were people all around us."

His arm hugged me even tighter. "I would too... but somehow I think people might notice."

We both laughed and I rested my head on his shoulder, taking in the quiet beauty, listening to the water flowing over the rocks in front of us.

"I'm horny daddy," I sighed.

My dad chuckled. "How old are you now? You sound like you're fourteen again, complaining because your mom and I wouldn't let you masturbate in the car."

I shifted my position and replied, "Well, as I remember it there wasn't anybody who could see that would mind. It was pretty unfair actually."

"Passing traffic on the interstate is one thing, stalled in downtown traffic quite another," he defended himself. "Besides, when was the last time I ever tried to stop you from masturbating?"

He had me there. If anything my parents encouraged me as a teen and to be fair, the few times they said anything really were in my best interest.

"Well, not like it was my fault you didn't fuck me last night!"

Looking up I caught him rolling his eyes. "You know perfectly well that camp was so small last night we were practically on top of the others. It's bad enough I get the evil eye from half the women here as it is but even you have to admit last night just wasn't feasible."

It was the first time he'd said anything about anyone reacting to our nightly event so it made me curious. "So has anyone said anything?"

"The women, most of the older ones at least, won't even get in line beside me. "

"There's really not much once you get past the rocks," Spencer offered, "You have to go quite a ways not to mention another uphill adventure to see anything worth the effort."

My dad thanked him and we headed off. Most everyone had done their exploring and were either back with the main group or, as was the case with a few, decided to head back early so they could take their time making their way down the steep slope. As we'd been told, after a few final huge boulders and actual trail emerged and headed off into the trees paralleling the small stream.

"Well, what do you think?" my dad said, looking around without seeing anyone.

"Right here? Sort of out in the open don't you think?" I questioned him.

My dad leaned over and kissed me briefly. "Since when are you the shy one?"

It was like he was challenging me, almost daring me. Well, I may not be the bravest person when it comes to most thing but when it came to sex I NEVER lost a dare. I like to say that there's nothing I've ever done sexually that I regret - it's the things I HAVEN'T done that I do. That said, there are many things I've done once and will never do again but unless it involves pain (BSDM, etc.) or being gross (anal sex, scat, etc.), why not give it a try?

"Well I'll show you!" I taunted him, quickly stripping off my bikini top and shorts leaving me naked in just my shoes. I'd found early on that barefoot was NOT an option in most areas of the GC - too many creatures, sharp rock, and such unless in the sandy beach areas and even then you never knew what was hiding in wait.

"Now THAT's the Kelly I know and love," he said, responding by dropping his own shorts but keeping on his T-shirt. His dick was already rising... so who was really the horny one?

"This is so cool," I murmured as we hugged and kissed, our nude bodies pressing into one another, "Doing this in such a beautiful place... out in the open where anyone could see us..."

"Probably better for both of us if no one does," he joked half-heartedly. While I could see his point, really... what difference did it make? After all, I was 32 years old so not like anyone could say I was being molested or a victim of statutory rape. While incest may not approved by most people, it wasn't illegal between consenting adults. Besides, a quick search on the Internet would show a LOT more people are turned on by it than they may care to admit when asked. All it takes is a look at the number of views of my diary to see which entries get the most views.

"Mmmmmmm, your dick feels so good in my hand," I sighed as I reached down and wrapped my fingers around him, "I could never get enough of it... knowing what it means to feel you so hard in my hand."

"Yes...." my dad groaned as I stroked him, "It's all for you baby.... it's ALWAYS been for you."

On our walk over I had assumed I would suck his cock and then he'd fuck me – the usual sequence for us in such situations. My dad certainly enjoyed eating my pussy but it wasn't something he typically did. I think it's more he just gets so horny and anxious to fuck me that he simply wants to get to it as quickly as possible. If it wasn't for the fact that he loved watching me suck his dick so much I think he'd probably even forego that!

"God I need you Kelly," my father moaned as we kissed passionately, my hand stroking him as he gripped my butt with both hands and pulled me closer. My heart beat faster as I knew what it meant when my dad said he "needed" me – what he really needed was to FUCK me.

"I'm yours daddy... take me... fuck me daddy, fuck your little girl."

Our eyes met and I could see the lust smoldering within his. Yes, by now I knew exactly the words he wanted to hear and how to say them. He may be my father yet at the same time he was no different than most men I've been with. They all want pretty much the same thing – for me to beg them to fuck me and say it like I was little girl.

Well, so much for a blowjob as my dad twisted me to face the huge boulder alongside the stream. Suddenly it was so quiet as all I could hear was the water flowing over the rocks. It was indeed like we were in our own private paradise even though I knew the rest of our group was less than a hundred feet away. I put my hands flat on the smooth rock face and stepped back, spreading my feet apart as I did.

"I'm ready for you daddy," I said in as seductive a voice as I could master, wiggling my bare butt at him as I looked over my shoulder. He had a firm grip on his erection and I could see he was staring at my exposed bottom.

"Your ass is definitely the most beautiful sit in the canyon," he said as he approached me with cock in hand.

I felt his hands grip my waist as he pressed up against me causing his dick to slide up between my butt cheeks. The thick publicly hair that surrounded it tickled me a little and I giggled as he stroked his cock up and down my ass crack.

at this moment, an expression of pure desire and lust. While I can't ever imagine doing so, I knew without a doubt that even if I ever tried to stop him he wouldn't. It was like his mind just blanked everything else out to where all he cared about was cumming inside of me. While neither of us had the capability of creating a baby, he once confessed to my mom )who of course passed it on to me) that he felt like he was mating me, taking me as totally as any man can take woman.

I could see on the other bank some people exploring. They were still a ways downstream were occupied such that they not even noticed us. Still, I knew from their angle that when they got closer they would have affine side view of me and my dad and even if we hadn't been all but naked, there was nothing subtle about what we were doing. It wasn't that I was shy about being watched when having sex - quite the opposite if anything. I've always been a bit of an exhibitionist an as a general rule it's much more fun to be watched. Even so, there's a time and place for everything and THIS was not the time OR the place. While I'm sure there were a few suspicions amongst some of our fellow travelers, suspicion is better than certainty when it comes to these sort of matter. If anything I've found over the years that people tend to give the benefit of the doubt when they think they may have seen something as after all, I can't possibly be fucking my own father, right? LOL

Just then my thoughts were brought back as my dad's lust peaked and he instinctively rammed himself as deep inside of me as he could such that when the first stream of his cum erupted from his cock and it deposited deep within me. It's the same with most men which I attribute to our genes developed over the millennia to where the male wants his sperm to have the best chance of surviving and achieving their mission. It didn't matter that his cum was devoid of sperm or even it wasn't my womb didn't carry eggs anymore - it was the thought that counts as most people like to say.

"Yes!" was all he get out, gasping for air as he pumped one load after another of his cum into my welcoming pussy. It was exactly what I needed and I wanted as much as he could provide. What made it even sexier for me were the people approaching. When would they see us? It seemed inevitable if they continued on their path but at the last minute they must have determined they were at the end of the trail and turned back to our group.

My dad never even had a clue as he just stood now behind me, his dick first imbedded in me and then slipping out of my cum-drenched pussy. It was the one moment of sex I hated the most - when suddenly it was like my pussy was SO empty.

Yes, a total 180 degree turn from when he first entered me and I felt like I would burst. Times like this only served to solidify my conviction regarding sex with my dad. How could it be wrong when my body craved him so much?

"I suppose we probably better head back before someone comes looking for us," my dad said as he looked around. The people I'd been worried about were out of sight now so he had no idea how close we'd come to having an audience!

Then speaking of timing, just as we'd pulled back on our clothes I was startled by the sudden appearance of a small group of hikers passing through. I recalled something our guides had mentioned about how this location was accessible from the rim and that a campsite was located less than a mile upstream but hadn't really thought much about it. Wow, that would really have been interesting but then they wouldn't have known we were father and daughter either. We let them pass before heading back ourselves given they were much better dressed for hiking and making good time compared to us.

The trip back to the river was rather uneventful. Apparently I was actually starting to become accustomed to near-death experiences as even the narrow section of the trail didn't seem to bother me nearly so much as it had on the way in. It was funny though how it was almost harder going down the trail than it had been going up as my knees took a beating with all the dropping from one rock down to the trail... over and over and over again! Soon we were back though and shading down the river with the drone of the motor our constant companion. It wasn't THAT load but still I wondered how it must be for those in the smaller rafts to just float peacefully though the magnificent canyon.

7. Last Day

The last major stop on our trip was supposed to be Havasu Canyon. We were told it was another turquoise water paradise, similar to the Little Colorado without the rapids but more scenic and even a place we could jump in from a high rock. As we got close the guides seemed a little tense and soon I could see why. The pull-in location for the large rafts was downriver of the mouth of the incoming stream by some rock plateaus. That in itself didn't seem so bad as a couple were already tied up. However, that was before I saw what was immediately downstream - a big rapid! If Linda missed the landing we could end up going down the rapids with no chance of returning. What was potentially even worse was if one of us should fall in there was no chance of rescue until after you'd been through the rapids, hopefully emerging in one piece!

By now though I had total faith in Linda and she didn't fail us, pulling in like she'd done it a hundred times before which actually wasn't all that far off the mark. As we piled out and started to walk over the rock face I heard something new for me in the canyon - thunder.

Keith called to everyone to come back to the raft as he scanned the skies. This far down the canyon you really have a limited view of the sky, not like the far-off horizons visible at the top of the canyon walls. Then the sky darkened quickly and the heavens opened as rain poured down. We all scurried for our rain gear tucked into our day bags. Not only was it to keep dry, but it was like the temperature had nose-dived and I was starting to feel cold for the first time on the trip, at least when not in the water. The thunder grew louder and soon lightning was striking. Normally I'm the type who enjoy standing outside and watching a good thunderstorm but down here trapped between walls of stone it wasn't nearly so entertaining!

The three guides huddled until finally Keith returned. He explained that while these storms typically passed quickly, this one had the making of something longer and our schedule didn't allow for a long delay if we were to make camp tonight. It was critical we get to where we needed to be as the first thing in the morning we'd be heading for the helicopter site to take us out of the canyon and so we had to camp close so the guides could prepare everything.

The next couple hours or so were the most miserable house I can ever remember. Unfortunately Keith's predication had been right on the money - the storm persisted. It didn't just rain on us - it POURED. So much for our LL Bean "waterproof" rain suits. My dad mumbled many times how he was going to be returning them the day we got back home! Cold and soaking wet, I huddled up against my dad, shivering violently.

We eventually reached the campsite. By then the rain had stopped but the sky was still cloudy so for the first time we broke out the tents as nobody wanted to spend the night outside just in case it rained again. Keith tried to talk us out of it, saying that it rarely stormed at night but nobody as willing to risk it. It was a bit of a comedy show though as nobody has any experience setting up the tents and the guides were too occupied with dinner preparations to help. Once someone figured it out the rest of us watched and soon everyone had theirs up.

Later as we ate dinner for the last time we all remarked how quickly the week had gone by. I was dressed in denim shorts and a white tank top I'd save for the last day but with the cooler air I figured I'd just risk getting it dirty. It was actually the most conservative outfit I had brought with but considering I'd left all my underwear in "rim world" it still wasn't THAT conservative. The cooler air especially helped my nipples to poke through the tight material - needless to say my top was at least a size too small. It also plunged quite low, exposing about as much cleavage as possible while not allowing my boobs to pop out. Being so tight though also prevented any views from above, undoubtedly much to the chagrin of the guys who seemed to always have to walk behind me when I was eating while sitting in my chair.

With the clouds the sky darkened even earlier than usual so we all said out goodnights and disappeared into our tents. Well, all but a few hardy souls who wanted to spend the last night under the stars. Inside our tent my dad had spread both of our sleeping bags, one on top the other, like a blanket. No doubt everyone else was using their cots but clearly my dad had other plans for our last night together in the Grand Canyon. Besides, the sand wasn't that uncomfortable to sleep on, especially with the sleeping bags doubled up under us. One thing though would be nice, no bugs tonight! Still, he left the flaps undone to keep us from sweltering. A nice breeze was blowing, at least at the moment, so hopefully we wouldn't be too hot.

It felt good to slip off my shorts and tank top and lay naked on the sleeping bags. Even so, with the moon covered by the clouds it was pitch black though so it wasn't like my dad could see me. I could hear him fumbling with his clothes and then his hands on my ankles as he made his way in the dark. It was like a blond man exploring me and I found it rather sensual.

"I'm going to miss this," he said softly as his hands slowly worked their way up my bare legs, "This has been an incredible week."

"I love you daddy... thanks so much for bringing me here, it's been a perfect week."

He laughed, "Even with the rain today?"

"Well...." I said and paused. We both laughed then.

"You know, in a way it worked out just fine," my dad said as his hand found their way to my thighs and I spread them out for him. I'd deliberately held them tightly together until he started to press his hands between them, opening them then deliberately such that he knew I was offering myself to him. It was little things like that I knew he appreciated. I'd learned early on that a guy loves it most when a girl actively shows him he wants her through words and deeds. I COULD have laid there with my legs spread apart and made it easier but by opening them in response to his touch demonstrated that I was submitting myself to him.

"Mmmmmmm," I murmured as his hand pressed into my crotch. I felt his fingers exploring me in the darkness. Yes indeed, it WAS dark! It was like being in a cave a mile underground. Even with my eyes no adjusting I couldn't even see the outline of my father as he caressed me lovingly.

"Kiss me daddy... kiss my pussy."

For whatever reason, eating my pussy wasn't something my dad did often. My mom has even told me he never did it for her all that much while they were married. In fact, once she even remarked how I did it more than him! Admittedly I much prefer it to be done by a girl but still, sometimes I think the man needs to show a little effort for what I'm about to do for him! While I couldn't see his expression or his initial response, I knew he never failed to take my "hints" to heart and yet again I wasn't disappointed.

"Oh daddy... that feels SOOOOO good!" I sighed as I felt his unseen tongue on my clit. Then one of his fingers pressed into me, easily slipping inside of me thanks to the my arousal. "Right there daddy... right there!"

Damn, I knew I'd put my headlamp someplace where it would supposedly be easy to find in the dark but now that I actually needed it of course I couldn't find it. Just as men seem to all love watching me when I'm sucking their dicks, so too do I when it comes to watching their face pressed into my crotch, their outstretched tongue dancing on my clit and pussy. It's so erotic to see their face wet from pressing into my pussy, knowing that sheen is due to my sexual desire and needs.

I felt my hips rise up as he put his arms under my thighs and pushed forward, causing my butt to raise off the sleeping bag and then there was the feel of his large hands cupping my buttocks. It was like he was holding a watermelon in his hands, lifting it up to his face and then gorging himself on the taste of me.

A second finger now joined the first, stretching me more apart as his tongue worked his way and his lips grasped my pussy lips between them. Using his two fingers to stretch me apart, his tongue pushed its way inside of me, like a slipper smooth dick teasing me. My hands were each on one of my boobs, squeezing them and massaging them as my father ate my pussy. Maybe it was having so many people camped near to us. Maybe it was the blackout darkness. Maybe he was inspired by the amazing place we were at the moment. Whatever it was, it was life this was the best my dad had ever been when it came to oral sex with me!

"Damn you taste good," I heard him whisper. It was so quiet even a low whisper sounded like it was coming from a megaphone. Could anyone hear us? I knew some of the other tents were only a few feet away but given we'd never used them until this night, I had no idea what they could or could not hear but as it WAS out last night, who cared? Well, not me, that's for sure - and apparently the same went for my dad.

My butt dropped back to the soft sleeping bag as his arms pulled back from under me. Even though it was so dark I couldn't make out a thing, I still closed my eyes as I felt his hands land on my upper thigh, one on each side, and then gently caress my legs from my hip to my ankles. Mmmmmmm, it felt so good feeling his hands over me. I tried to imagine him now as he had to have been kneeling between my legs all stretched out and wide apart. After making a few round trips he moved from the tops of my thighs more to the inner parts, making me tingle when he would push up to my hip bone with his thumbs pushed out such that they rubbed up along my soaking wet pussy, pushing through my wet pubic hair.

"You know... I've always loved your legs," he whispered as he just ribbed my upper inner thighs now, continuing to tease my pussy with each pass. "God your skin feels so warm and soft... so smooth."

Thankfully it WAS so dark so he couldn't see me stifling a giggle. It hadn't been all that easy - of fun for that matter, shaving my legs earlier in the cold river. True, at this point in the trip it was the warmest it had been the entire week but it was STILL far from a nice warm shower. From what I could tell, none of the other women had bothered shaving the entire trip but then they didn't have their father along to please either.

"And your perfect belly... so flat and smooth," he continued as his hands moved upward, first up along the outside of my hip and then over my torso below my boobs. "You have the best figure of any woman on this trip."

Well.... flattery will get a man EVERYWHERE, especially when it's your dad complimenting your nude body. It's not like he HAD to say such things - I would have given myself to him this evening even if he had said nothing. Still, a girls can NEVER get too many compliments.

Then it was my boobs' turn as his invisible hands moved over them, covering them more than most of the outfits I'd worn on the trip.

"Remember when I first touched these?" he asked softly, gently toying with them as his thumbs ran over my nipple.

"Yes daddy... I do," I cooed softly in return. Honestly, I really wasn't sure exactly which time he was referring to but then did it really matter. Obviously HE remembered one special time as being the first and so long as it made him happy, it made me happy.

"They're just... so perfect," he complimented me again as he caressed them softly to start and then more firmly. I smiled to myself recalling the time he'd named them "Goldilocks boobs" - not too small, not too big, but just right.

I couldn't help myself as I jumped slightly when his mouth took my right nipple between his lips and tugged gently. I hadn't seen his head lower so it was bit of s surprise. Not that it was a surprise that he DID it - my dad had always loved to suck on my breasts. It was just I hadn't seen him and I'd been so focused on his hands that I couldn't help but react.

"I love your nipple.... they get so big and hard when you're excited."

While I couldn't SEE them to confirm his findings, I could certainly FEEL my nipples and the way they felt now I had to imagine my nipples were like two large pencils erasers, poking out. Given how large they became when I was aroused, it was always a source of pride for me the way guys would stare at my chest when I wore a tight thin tank top or sheer while blouse.

As my dad leaned over me to suckle my breasts, I could feel the tip of his hard dick against my leg. Even though I knew the odds were for all intents and purposes 100% that it would be inside of me before long, I still couldn't help but feel a little anxious - not to mention incredibly horny! From the way he was twerking his hips to cause it to rub against me, I got the distinct impression my dad was as horny as I was - and likely even more if I knew him.

From my boobs he made his way to my neck, his tongue tracing a path on my upper chest and then he lips caressed my neck and as he gently kissed me, his tongues continued to play against my skin. The he did what I know he must know to be my favorite.. kissing my neck and earlobes while he played with my hair. There's just something about feeling a man running his fingers through my hair that I find incredible erotic. I've even cum more than once just from that alone although granted, I'd been extremely horny at the time.

"I love so much when you touch me daddy... when you kiss me," I moaned.

"Mmmmmmm, I love you baby girl," he responded and I knew what THAT signaled. Reaching down, I grabbed his hard erection in my hand and guided him as he maneuvered himself into place between my legs. I raised my knees until me feet were flat on the sleeping bad which allowed me to lift my hips to make it easier for him. It was exciting and yet almost scary at the same time. Exciting in that I knew my dad was about to fuck me, almost scary in that I knew at this moment it was going to happen now no matter what I might say or do. It's not like I could ever imagine WANTING to stop him at this point, but it was something to consider that neither did I have choice any longer.

"Oh YES daddy! Fuck me!" I groaned as I felt the head of his dick barely penetrate me. While I couldn't see it now, I had plenty pf prior memories to fill in what the darkness hid. Indeed, as he began to press harder against me, forcing my tight pussy to accept him, I could see as clearly as if the tent was lit with a spotlight the first time I'd felt this very same sensation. Then I was laying on my bed, watching in amazement as my father prepared to fill me with his incestuous erection.

"Deeper daddy... I want you ALL inside of me."

"And I want nothing more... nothing in the whole world," he replied.

"Ohhhhhh!" I cried out, louder than perhaps I should have considering the not exactly private situation but I couldn't help myself. There's not a better feeling for me in the entire world than what I was experiencing at this very moment - the filling of my empty pussy with my father's incestuous dick. It was like I was made for him, as if my pussy had been created solely for his cock. Then again he WAS my father so why wouldn't we fit perfectly together?

"I could stay like this forever baby girl," he said in a voice hoarse and thick with his lust for me once he had bottomed out, his hairy pubic hair now pressed tightly against my crotch. I could feel the base of his dick pressing into my pubic bone, grinding into my clit.

At that moment I felt the exactly the same. I wanted to beg him to hold me, to fuck me, to never physically separate himself from me ever again but it wasn't necessary. His forearms were around my neck as we kissed like lovers as his elbows kept the weight of his body off of me. His hips were silent, allowing his throbbing dick to simply rest inside of me, caressed by my wet warmth. It was home... exactly where it belonged... deep inside his loving daughter's pussy.

As much as I would have loved to have simply stayed that way all night, I knew from past experience it wasn't going to last long and indeed, my dad's male instincts soon took over.

That's it daddy... fuck me," I begged, wrapping my legs around him and locking my ankles to enable me to pull him into me, as if he needed any help! I also knew those were the three words my dad loved to hear more than any other... "Fuck me daddy!" What was so cool was that only one person in the entire world could say those words to him... ME!

He didn't SAY anything in response but instead just grunted as his mind focused on what a millennium of evolution and instinct now drove him to do - to mate a female and dominate her. True, it was mostly symbolic in that neither of us had the physical ability to actually "mate" but as they say, it's the thought that counts. Likewise when it came to domination. Yes, he outweighed me by a lot and was so much stronger than me but I knew that in the end there was way he would ever hurt me or allow harm to come to me. At the same time it was why I loved being in the missionary position with him - to "submit" myself to my father as a good Christian daughter is meant to do.

It was SOOOOO quiet! Indeed the silence was such that it seemed to magnify the sounds of our sex. Each time his crotch met mine as he plunged deep into me there was a slapping sound that sounded like a thunderclap in the stillness. Our mutual moans of ecstasy would normally never be heard but what about tonight in the quiet of the night at the bottom of the Grand Canyon? Each grunt from my dad as he thrust himself into me seemed to echo off the tent walls. True, maybe it was all my imagination but still... was it?

Typically we would be changing positions but tonight we remained as we were, me lying flat on my back while my dad hovered over me, his hips rhythmically moving up and down to drive his dick into em, and then back to pull it all but out of me. Once in a while he would overdo it and accidently pull out, causing me to whimper with the sudden feeling of loneliness as I waited anxiously for him to return. What was even more amazing was how long he was holding out without succumbing to the final stage... ejaculation.

As for me, I have no idea how many times I came. It was like one endless orgasm as one would rise and then before it could ebb away another took its place, raising me once again to the ultimate plateau of pleasure. The poor sleeping bag below me must be getting soaked with my cum but that was about the LAST thing on my mind as my daddy fucked me silly.

Usually just watching my dad's face is all I need to see to be warned about his impending explosion but tonight I couldn't even see an outline in the pitch blackness. Too bad as it was so erotic to watch the transformation as his orgasm rose within him. It was almost animal-like as his lust and need for sexual fulfillment consumed the last vestige of his fatherhood. I could see it in his eyes as his dick swelled, the most sensual and intense look ever seen on a man. But not tonight as the darkness was like the shades had been pulled on the window to his desires.

"Oh God, I'm cumming!" he groaned as I felt him drive himself into me as far as he could. With his dick fully engulfed by my pussy I felt the pressure of his hips as he convulsed, each time shooting a stream of his cum deep within me. I could barely feel the bloom of warmth but it was there.. my dad's love for me taking up residence within me.

"I love you so much Kelly," he moaned as I felt him collapse, his elbows still catching most of his weight but he as weaker now and correspondingly I felt more of him pressing down on me. I couldn't help but notice as well that he called me Kelly instead of baby girl or any other of a litany of pet names he had for me.

With that he rolled over to the side of me, his spent dick now free from my grip, leaving me naked on my back as I felt his incestuous cum dripping out of me and down along my ass hole. Poor sleeping bad - even more of a need to wash it now!

Not surprisingly, my dad quickly fell asleep, snoring loudly now. My chest was still pounding as my heart slowly resumed its normal rate. Damn, I wanted more! At the same time, I was a little annoyed at another feeling - this one not exactly welcome. Damn if I didn't have to pee... and BAD!

Reaching out, my hand landed squarely on top of my headlamp. Now why had it been so hard to find before? In any case, I put it on my head and turned it on. My dad was lying on his back - hence the loud snores, and I couldn't help but stare at his now limp cock. It was hard to believe seeing it so small and shriveled that it had felt so he in me just minutes before! Looking about, I tied to find my clothes but apparently they were now under my sleeping father and I knew for all intents and purposes they were goners, at least until he woke in the morning. Damn, where was everything?

I couldn't keep looking - Mother Nature was calling and she wasn't going to take no for an answer much longer. There was something - one of the towels we'd bought that were supposedly good at soaking things up yet quick to dry. Only problem was it wasn't exactly a beach towel - more like a hybrid between a bath towel and hand towel. Oh well, it would have to do.

Ever notice how the simplest things become major enterprises when you have to go to the bathroom? Unzipping the tent fell right into that category as I struggled to get it open. Finally I managed to do it just right and it mocked me - the final portions unzipping easily as if to say it had been all my fault until then.

Stepping outside, the temperature had dropped somewhat but at least the sky had cleared. As bad as I had to go, I couldn't help but witching off my headlamp and looking up into the incredible display above me. The Milky Way was magnificent, something I might never see again after tonight.

"It's beautiful, isn't it?"

If I'd been wearing shoes I'd have jumped right out of them. It was so dark that I hadn't seen anyone approach but as quiet as it was you would have thought I'd of heard something but apparently I'd been so mesmerized by the skies that I hadn't been listening.

At first I wasn't sure who it was but then I remembered the voice. It had to be Don, the oldest person on the trip. He and his wife Kate were both in their 70's and whole they didn't do many of the side hikes, I was amazed they could make the trip in the first place! I hadn't really interacted with either of them much other than some friendly conversation at dinner of when they sat next to us on the raft.

"Sorry, didn't mean to frighten you," he said softly. My eyes had adjusted to the dark again and there was just enough starlight to see him now - which also meant there was just enough starlight for him to see ME now! Which reminded me... the towel was in my hand, NOT around my body.

"Ooops... sorry," I said as I hurriedly wrapped it around me as best I could. It barely even went once around me and there was no way it was big enough to full cover my boobs AND my ass at the same time so I compromised - just over my nipples and ALMOST over my butt.

"Oh don't worry - it's not like most of us haven't seen most of you during the past week," he chuckled. "Sorry.... one thing about being old is having to make a lot of trips to the river."

"Ummmmm, me too," I replied as I followed him down the trail to the river edge. On arrival I saw the water level in the river had risen dramatically, not an unusual occurrence which was why they warned us to be careful o0n trips on like this. Sometimes it was higher, other times lowered but one way or the other it was never how we left it when we went to bed. Only problem now was the spots where we'd previously used for this were now submerged, leaving only one small area where it looked to be safe to go.

"I guess ladies first," Don offered.

"Nonsense, as you said, it's not like we haven't seen the other dong this before," I said.

"I don't mind if you don't," he chuckled again, "Then again, I think I get the better end of this deal."

We were only a couple of feet apart as he pulled out his cock and quickly began to pee. By now I was about to pee down my leg so I quickly squatted, the towel rising up over my waist as I relieved myself. I sort of expected Don would look away but no... he was staring right at me. Of course I hadn't exactly positioned myself to block his view either. It sort of turned me on to have him watching me pee in the river. Not that I enjoy anything having to do with pee or bowel movements but in this situation it was rather erotic.

"You're quite the girl you know," he commented as he finished and pulled his swim shorts back into place.

"How's that?" I asked, repositioning my towel as best I could.

"Are you really his daughter?"

The question surprised me even though in retrospect it probably shouldn't have. Still, why not be truthful?

"Yes I am... his only daughter for that matter."

"I hope you don't mind me saying this..."

Oh boy, here it comes. I just knew the old guy was going to say something about how inappropriate I'd been the entire trip, about how I should be ashamed for carrying on so in front of strangers, especially considering it was my father I was doing it with. Well, just goes to show you never should judge a book by its cover...

"Just wanted to say thanks for making this trip the hottest experience of my life."

Whoa! Now what do you say when something says something like that? I mean I'd been told that about to hear things but the context in which he was saying it I was quite surprised yet again.

Don continued. It was like once the gates were open he couldn't stop.

"Kelly, you're beautiful, one of the prettiest girls I've ever had the pleasure of spending time with, even if we haven't exactly spoken all that much this trip. I know some of the folks weren't as happy as I was with the way you dressed and behaved – my wife would be at the top of THAT list, but I for one will never forget you. Can I ask one more question?"

I smiled and started to pull down my towel as I knew what was coming but Don was full of surprised. Then again, like before I suppose it shouldn't have been such a surprise.

"What I heard in the tent tonight... was your dad really screwing you?"

My hand froze in place just in time before totally exposing myself. Hmmm, so we COULD be heard outside our tent but then again he didn't say just where he had been when he heard. Maybe he'd been on his way to the river and was right next to us and stopped to listen.

I kept smiling and looked him in the eyes saying, "Yes, he did... and I loved it. We've been doing it since I was sixteen."

It was like Don didn't know how to respond. Something told me that no matter how slutty and flirting I'd been all week there was still no way I would actually be having sex with my dad. Now that he knew the truth it was like he was frozen in place staring at me. Just then a thought came to me. If he was going to stare, why not give him something to stare at? With that I dropped my towel and stood there in the darkness, lit by his headlamp as if I was on a stage with s spotlight zeroed in on me.

"One for the road, shall we say?" I teased him nicely, twirling to give him a 360 degree view.

"Oh god," was all he could get out. Poor old man, 75 years and it wasn't likely until now that any girl had ever done this to him before. I was horny anyways so what did it hurt?

"Wanna feel my boobs, Don?"

He just stood there in his water shorts and T-shirt, frozen in place so I reached out and took his hand, placing it squarely on my exposed breast. At first it just laid there but then he squeezed it. It was only for a minute or so and then he pulled back.

"Please cover up Kelly," he said in a hoarse whisper, "A man my age can't take much more."

I just smiled all the more as I did. I then started back up the path saying as I passed him, "Well, we better get back. Enjoy the view."

At first he had this quizzical look as it was too dark to see the canyon. Then he turned to me and his headlamp lit up the path in front of him, including my bare butt as I allowed the towel to slip up. I never turned back or looked at him again as I made my way to out tent and slipped inside but I could literally feel his eyes on my butt as I slowly and deliberately walked back. It wasn't until I was in the tent that I realized not only Don was able to see my bare ass but also anyone else who might be awake this late at night! Oh well, nobody said anything so either nobody or saw or they enjoyed the view as well.

Freshly fucked, bladder emptied, and a bit of naughtiness along the way, I quickly feel asleep lying next to my snoring dad, my arms around him as I pressed my naked body against his for the last time on this wonderful trip.

(May 12) Chapter 294: Family Photoshoot

Story codes: MF Mf oral inc father daughter
Me (33)
Steve - my husband (35)

Cell phones come with some pretty incredible cameras now but despite all the hoopla the results just can't compare to those taken by a professional's equipment. That said, it could also be the difference between the skills of an amateur and professional photographer which is more than likely the biggest factor. That's why when its' time for our annual family portrait I always hire an expert. Given my plans for this year's family portrait only made selecting just the right person all that more important - and difficult.

1. Posing

Over the years people have taken thousands of photos of me. Although some of them I asked to be taken most were taken without my permission and a lot I imagine I don't even know about. The last are sort of exciting as I wonder what I was doing and what they did with them.

One thing I learned early on is posing for a photo is not anything like simply being an object captured by someone's camera. When I say "posing" I mean like a model poses for the camera. The typical vacation and holiday shots aren't what I mean. In such cases everyone DOES "smile for the camera" but it's like someone is asking for a specific position or expression (other than "smile!"). I would even go so far as to say most people have never actually officially "posed" for a picture other than say the family portrait, at least not outside their fantasies of being a model or movie star.

Being an only child it shouldn't come as a surprise that I posed much earlier in life than most girls or boys. My dad was a bit of a camera buff and while not perhaps quite a member of the ranks of professional photographers, he did invest in some nice gear and even took a few classes. It seemed he was always snapping shots of me everywhere around the house. Now and then he would get more formal, especially like around my birthdays or other milestones in my life. At such times my mom would buy me a nice outfit to wear and then he would set up the living room to be like a studio complete with lights, a tripod for his camera, and other gear which I had no idea what purpose it served.

My mom always called me a diva, even as a child, in that I LOVED to pose for my dad's camera! It didn't hurt that he would encourage me by telling me how pretty I looked and how beautiful the pictures turned out. Seeing my mom behind him watching and smiling made me always feel so grown up and mature. Thankfully neither of them said anything to burst my bubble! Looking back at some of those early photo shoots I can still recall how even when I was just eight years old they made me feel like I looked just as good as the models in the catalogs or TV shows. I'm so thankful I was blessed with such understanding and encouraging parents who made me what I am today!

As I got older and into middle school my mom allowed my dad to take me shopping for outfits to wear for my posing sessions. Unlike my mom who took me to the juniors section at Macy's and picked me out something boring, my dad spoiled me by taking me to the specialty shops like Victoria's Secret where they sold more "mature" clothing for young girls. I have to say though that these days I can take my daughters to Macy's or JC Penney and buy some of the same outfits off the rack! The sales girls were always so much fun, not like the stodgy older sales women at the major department stores. Once they learned he was my father it was like the entire staff would join to help us pick out just the right outfit. They would help me get changed and then sneak my dad back so he could see me in it as most of these outfits weren't meant for wearing out in the middle of the store.

Usually I had to try on a dozen different outfits until finally my dad was satisfied although nowadays I suspect he just liked seeing me in a bunch of different outfits as sometimes we'd end up taking home the first one I tried on. Once we were home I'd rush up the stairs to my bedroom to change. After checking myself out in a full length mirror I'd put on one of mom's short robes to cover myself and head back downstairs to where mom and dad would be anxiously waiting. Well, dad was usually the anxious one, LOL. I suppose even though my dad had seen me in it briefly while trying it on at the store that wasn't nearly the same as having me pose in it in the privacy of our living room.

Then came the day my mom bought something for me without me being with which was quite unusual. Actually I didn't even know she'd bought anything until we'd just finished dinner when she looked at my dad and nodded. He just smiled back rather mischievously making me wonder what in the world was going on between the two of them. Finally my mom said to me, "Kelly, I'll take care of the dishes tonight so why don't you go upstairs and open what's waiting for you on your bed."

Hmmmmmm, what was going on? I mean like it hadn't been THAT long since I'd been in my bedroom so when had she managed to sneak in and leave something on my bed? Seeing my confusion she laughed and said, "Don't worry... I think you'll like it." Then she turned to me dad adding with a wink, "Not to mention your father."

The first comment didn't help but the second as pretty blatant. It certainly didn't take a rocket scientist to figure out now what was going on. At that age I may have been blonde and often na‹ve but I wasn't clueless. Obviously my mom had bought me something special to wear for me to pose in for my dad. It was exciting as it had been quite a while since she had taken me shopping for such stuff and she'd never done it without me being with her. I jumped up from my seat at the dinner table and made a beeline for my bedroom with my heart pounding with anticipation.

Sure enough, right smack in the middle of my bed was a small white rectangular box with a big red star in the middle meaning either she'd bought whatever was inside at Macy's or was using one of the extra boxes she kept around for wrapping presents. Picking it up it felt almost empty so whatever inside wasn't very heavy. I had a pretty good idea it would be some sort of outfit though, maybe something like the baby doll nightie dad had bought me not long ago. I started to open it but my efforts were foiled as it was taped tightly shut. Ugh, why would anyone bother? Probably some over-zealous sales clerk. It was like those people who lick envelopes for birthdays and then handed them to you. A little frustrated, I reached for a pair of scissors from my nightstand and the tape was quickly cut allowing me to open the box.

Hmmmmmm, whatever it was it was wrapped in pink tissue paper which was soon dropped unceremoniously to the floor as I eagerly tore into it. Wow! To my surprise a small bra and matching panties was revealed! There wasn't much to them

2. Establishing the Ground Rules

Every year since we'd been married Steve and I have had a professional photoshoot taken of our family. At first that meant just the two of us but it's a tradition we've maintained as each of our girls was born. From the start we did two different session - one with photos suitable for distribution to family and using on Christmas cards to friends. The usual type you see on the wall of most homes. The other was strictly for our "private" photo/video collection as they were of the two of us nude. I'm glad now we started so we have a complete collection from our first year of marriage. Who knows, maybe someday we won't be as thrilled to be photographed nude but at least I will be able to look back to when I was proud to be naked!

Just to be clear, the nude version are not intended to be a porno shoot. In my opinion they are erotic but still classy. Actually the formal shots are quite similar to the clothed versions, at least in the poses we use. Even if we DO have sex for the camera it isn't until after the "serious" photos had all been taken and we want to have a little fun. Even then we still didn't do anything outrageous.

Fortunately one of Steve's friends is a professional photographer who is very discreet. He took our wedding photos and has done both photoshoots every year since. It helps to have someone you can trust!

Once our family expanded we had to make a decision as to whether to include our girls in both shoots or just the G-rated version. So far as I was concerned it wasn't even a question as like who would even THINK to include their daughters in a nude family portrait at their age? Perhaps I shouldn't have been so surprised when Steve disagreed, saying he thought we should include them in both. While still not on board I did have to agree he had a valid point in that we could always easily delete them later if we didn't like them but the girls would never be this age again so if we skipped the early years we'd never be able to capture them again.

While normally I defer to Steve's decisions seeing as being my husband he is the head of our household, that doesn't mean I just blindly accept every wacky idea he comes up with. Even if he DID make some good points this was one of those times as I stood my ground and insisted my daughters not be included in our nude photos. Even if done tastefully I just couldn't see how anyone could rationalize photographing a toddler nude with her parents. Oh sure we have the classic bath tub

Then I thought of something. What about Jack? Would he go along with it? With all the news filled these days of parents being arrested jus for taking playful photos of a nude young daughter, would he think it too much of a risk to his career to photograph girls their age?

"Oh I'm sure he won't have any problems," Steve remarked when I voiced my concerns, "After all, it can't get any more crazy than last year."

We both laughed at that memory. Indeed, what started out as a relatively mild R-rated photo session evolved into a full-scale threesome with the video camera left mounted on a tripod to capture the action. It was the first year Jack had even gotten naked during our shoot, let alone fuck me in front of my husband - not that Steve minded! The best part for me was when I was riding Jack and Steve took the video camera to make sure it captured us from every angle, and I do mean EVERY angle! I'm not typically a big fan of facials but with Steve's encouragement (a nice way of saying he was stroking his erection at the time) I assumed the classic position seen in most every porn video where I kneeled and waited with my mouth wide open while he finished himself off and covered my face and tongue with sperm.

"Yeah, he didn't even charge us for expenses last year, did he?" I chuckled, "But then he wasn't married last year either."

Steve leaned back and smiled, "Yeah and it was only a few weeks before his wedding so I'd imagine he was as good as married so far as his fiance was concerned."

"So do you think she allows him to shoot nudes?" I mused quietly.

Steve shrugged. "I really have no idea, only met her once and that was at the wedding and it's not like it came up in my conversation with her. You met her too so what do you think?"

"All I know is she was hot!" I answered, perhaps a little quickly.

"Ha!" Steve teased him, poking me in the arm, "So you wanted her too."

"You jerk," I teased him back, pushing his hand away which has now mysteriously found its way to my bare butt. I've always preferred to run around the apartment bare-bottomed, something I started back in high school and just kept on doing ever since. "Unlike a horny husband I just happen to know I don't chase every hot girl I see," I continued.

"No, just their cheating husbands," Steve said with a naughty grin.

"So anyways, what do you think Jack will say?" I came back in a not so subtle move to change the direction of this discussion before we ended up in bed and not finishing anything.

Steve's face took on a more serious look. "Well, after what you did with him last year I can't see imagine he wouldn't want to do another nude shoot. Damn, for a guy about to get married he really loved fucking you... Not that I blame him."

He definitely earned another kiss from me for that one! "I think you enjoyed watching almost as much as he enjoyed doing me," I whispered in his ear as I rubbed his crotch in small circles.

"God yes," Steve sighed, looking upwards as he closed his eye, "And the video... damn that was hot to watch later."

Steve was still fondling my butt - something we both loved. "Kelly, you know damn well ANY man would cheat on his wife to have you. That's why I'm so proud when I watch you with them. I love knowing they get you for one night but you're mine the rest of the time!"

Yep, we were getting WAY off track and I knew if things continued we'd forget all about the photoshoot and be in bed so I gave changing the subject a second shot. Picking up on his earlier thought I said, "You know he might not want to cheat on his wife. There's a huge difference for most people between being engaged and married. I remember doing bachelor parties back in college where the groom fucked me. Didn't mean he cheated on her after the ceremony though."

"Never stopped us," Steve grinned, squeezing my bottom with his hand.

"Well, we aren't cheating either," I corrected him and then said, "In any case seeing how the girls will be with us there won't be a repeat of last year's shoot regardless. Then again I'm not so sure how he'll feel about including the girls in the first place. Seems these days people get in trouble just for taking an innocent candid of their toddlers in the bath. As a professional photographer with his reputation and business at stake he might have a few concerns."

Steve didn't take his hand off my butt he stopped squeezing it as he considered my comments. "Hmmmmmm, I really hadn't thought about that," he murmured with a frown emerging on his handsome face.

"Yeah but the girls won't be naked - as you keep insisting, so what would be the big concern?" he finally countered.

matching panties. Little white socks with frilly tops looked perfect in their sneakers. Both of them had their hair pulled back in matching ponytails and if there hadn't been such a wide age difference they might have passed for twins!

As I got dressed I reached in my drawer for something I rarely wore outside of school - a bra. The tank top was tight, TOO tight to go without a bra considering the people we would be sharing these photos with. Most of my relatives and friends were under no illusion that I'm some innocent little church girl yet at the same time it wouldn't be polite to rub it in their faces with my nipples blaring through my top. Besides, guys tell me seeing my bra outlined under a top is sometimes more sexy than having no bra on at all. These days it seemed everyone had exposed bra straps so I wasn't worried that it might be considered slutty as it would have been back when I was a teenager.

Looking at myself in the mirror I made a last minute decision and decided to go with the same look as the girls and wear my hair back in a ponytail. I'd never done that in any of the other sessions we'd done although watching the video from last year's nude session I wished I had as it often obscured my face at the most inopportune moments.

Herding the girls to the living room where Steve was waiting, I smiled when I say he was wearing clean jeans (for once without me telling him) and a nice short sleeved shirt with deck shoes and no socks. It was a casual look yet not TOO casual that matched my short outfit. To think I hadn't even told him what to wear - amazing!

"Hey daddy, so what do you think of your girls?" I asked him with one girl on each side of me as we held hands.

"My three angels," he replied with a grin. Holding his arms out our cute little daughters rushed gleefully to hug him. Had to fight back tears at the sight of the three of them embracing one another and thanked God for being so lucky. Yes, I couldn't ask for a better father for my daughters.

It took almost an hour for us to drive to the location where Jack wanted to take the photos and the girls were getting a little impatient being strapped in their car seats for so long. Steve finally pulled the car into a small state park with an old farmhouse and barn, wooden fences and even an old well pump. While I didn't know what his plans were, Jack certainly had plenty of options. Once we parked and got the girls undone from the back seat I looked around and saw Jack approaching us along with his wife. Hmmmmmm, I hadn't expected her as Jacki had always handled out photoshoots on his own. I couldn't help but wonder what that meant but then again sometimes I overthink things so maybe it meant nothing at all.

The men shook hands while the wives hung back waiting to be introduced to the other. I'd met her briefly at the reception after their wedding but no doubt she forgot me moments later with all the excitement and crowd of people. Jack took the lead which was appropriate I thought considered he's brought his wife without warning us ahead of time.

"Hey guys, good to see you all again," Jack started, "Hard to believe another year has gone by!"

We both nodded politely and Jack continued, "This is my wife Alexandria."

"Everyone calls me Alex," she cut in smiling.

"Yes, Alex assists me now with most of the shoots," Jack explained, "It really helps to have someone with me, not to mention I hate being apart from her."

OK, so it piling up a little deep but she was beaming. It wasn't quite a year yet for them so I could excuse the newlywed lameness.

Steve then introduced me and the girls to Alex who politely reached out to shake hands. No hugs I noticed but then not everyone was raised in a "huggy" family environment as I had so I wasn't about to hold that against her. The girls pretty much ignored us, their attention drawn to some horses behind a fence.

For the better part of two hours Jack moved us all around the park, mostly near the farm house. With so many locations available it was more a question of time than opportunity. While most were family shots, he also did some of just me and Steve, others with one of us and the girls, and then a number of just the girls both together and alone. One of the great things about digital cameras is he must have taken a thousand photos! Hopefully at least a few would look good.

Throughout the shoot Alex kept busy helping Jack with the various cameras and lenses, sometimes even offering advice on how to pose us or what camera setting to use. Yep, no smart phone photos today! As good as Apple and others claimed their cameras to be in their phones, nothing compared to those taken by a professional.

I couldn't help but take interest in Alex as she was quite stunning, dressed in tight jeans and a loose blouse but not so loose as to disguise her ample boobs. Dang, she had to be a least a D cup if not larger which made me suspicious given her small frame. Hmmmmmm, were they fake? Well if anyone would know it would be Steve, the connoisseur of boobs.

"Real?" I whispered between shots.

Steve knew immediately what I meant. It was actually a game we liked to play, guessing whether a suspicious girl's boobs was real or fake. Frankly, I've never been a fan of fake boobs but Steve has loved big ones since I first met him. Why he ever dated me in the first place remains a secret given my small size at the time. I've asked him many times and just get a wicked smile in return.

Without hesitation he delivered the verdict. "Fake without a doubt. Boobs that big and don't bounce means either one hell of a supporting bra or they're fake and obviously she isn't wearing a bra."

Yeah, from the way the stayed up as high as mine and barely jiggles as she walked, there was a lot more going on than what Mather nature had intended. Still, fake or not I had to poke Steve more than once when I caught him staring at them just a little too long to be appropriate. Alex never gave any impression she was aware of his attention but then she had to be accustomed to it by now. Besides, who gets boobs like those and NOT want them looked at?

How long Jack had planned to shoot I didn't know but the girls were starting to get a bit antsy. They loved the attention at the start but at their age I was proud they lasted as long as they did. In any case Jack now must have had a TON of photos. Even if only a fraction were worth saving with so many to choose from I had no idea how we would choose the ones to be framed. As he was doing this as a friend I knew Jack would give them all to us, not like a typical photographer who keeps the ones you don't pay for or imbeds a watermark over the proofs.

As Jack and Alex packed up I pulled Steve aside. "What now?" I asked, nodding towards them.

In past years we at this point we split up with us taking the girls to either Steve's mom or my Aunt Linda's place after which we would meet again with Jack for the nude shoot. Keeping the girls with us eliminated the need for a side trip but it was already getting well towards dusk and besides, I preferred doing those type of shoots indoors away from prying eyes. When planning I hadn't considered the girls being so tired and the time getting so late. Even if we had the time, taking any more shots today would be difficult with two cranky young girls.

As it turned out Jack had already taken care of everything. He and Alex finished packing up and then met us by our car.

"I'll have those uploaded soon so you can pick out the ones you want printed out," he started. Alex coughed and he corrected himself, "Make that Alex will have them uploaded."

We all laughed and he continued, "Now about the second shoot..."

Steve and I glanced at each other. Jack quickly picked up on our concerns saying, "Oh don't worry, Alex and I have done a number of similar sessions. I've already told her your plans and your previous shoots. There's no problem, right Alex?"

Alex smiled but I couldn't tell if it was genuine. I tried to read her eyes but couldn't figure out if she was really OK with everything or just going along for the ride. Even so I was willing to bet that while her husband may have told her about photographing me and Steve nude he'd probably left out the part where he joined in, especially since it was just before their wedding day.

"Oh really? Well that's cool then," I remarked while looking at Alex to see if she would allow that mask to drop for even a moment and reveal her true feelings, "So you have done nude families as well?"

Any hopes I might catch her off guard were squelched as Alex didn't miss a beat when she answered saying, "Actually we just did a nude family last Week but their kids were considerably older - teenagers, high school age, and they had a boy and a girl. It went over very well I thought, don't you Jack?"

Jack nodded, looking at Steve more than me though.

"So they were ALL naked?" I pressed. Alex nodded so I added, "and you were OK with that?"

"Oh yes," Alex confirmed, "I was raised in a nudist family so it was quite natural for me."

Ahhhhhh! Now THAT was a twist I wasn't prepared for. Then again, many nudist families claim that being nude doesn't mean having sex. Frankly I've always thought that was a lot of BS but it's all but impossible to prove otherwise and I wasn't about to ask her directly.

"OK then," Jack concluded before I could dig any further, "Steve, I'll e-mail you the address for the second shooting. And Kelly... I promise it won't be so long of a drive for the girls."

4. Taking Care of My Husband

On our way home from the photoshoot we stopped to grab a quick bite to eat at MacDonald's and the girls were more than ready for bed by the time we got home. Kylie was sound asleep with Mylie's head bobbing so hard I thought she was going to snap her neck! Thank God as Steve and I were both still so horny it seemed forever before they were in bed sound asleep. No sooner than I'd confirmed they were down for the count I stood by the edge of the bed where my sexy husband was already laid out butt naked on his back, his right hand gripping a wonderfully firm erection like a baseball bat. OK, so he isn't QUITE that big but that was the hold he had with just one hand.

"Damn, I've been waiting for this all day," he said with a grin as he stroked himself slowly in front of me.

Within seconds my tank top was off, followed shortly by my bra exposing my boobs.

"You're probably wishing my boobs were as big as hers," I said, holding mine in my hands and lifting them up.

"Kelly, you know I love you just the way you are," he said lovingly, "After all, you're the only girl I ever dated under a C cup."

Whether that was 100% true I severely doubted although he DID have quite the reputation for dating girls with big boobs when we were in high school. Indeed I can vividly remember be so jealous when he dated my best friend Beth but then her boobs were coming in before sixth grade started! Why he chose to ask me out when I barely qualified to retire my training bra he's never told me, he's always skirted my questions or just gave me some flippant answer. All I know is my insecurities over being so small were a large part of why I made sure to blow him on our first date - my first blowjob ever. What I may have lacked in breasts I was hoping to make up in my skills. I wanted to make sure he asked me out again so I didn't hesitate a second when I felt him push my head into his crotch. Apparently my strategy worked, just to be sure I also gave him my virginity shortly afterwards just to make sure.

"C'mon, let's see that pretty pussy!" he urged me impatiently, stroking his stiff dick faster now in anticipation. God he looked so sexy laying naked with his erect dick in his hand. It was all I could do not to just jump on it but I knew he liked me to play the game. "Awwwwww, so does my horny husband want to see my little kitty?" I teased while slowly pushed down my shorts to my ankles and then stepping out of them.

"I don't just want to SEE it," he growled, "I want to FUCK it."

"Mmmmmmm, I love when you say that," I purred as I reached down to cup my pussy. Since I'd stopped shaving I kept it neatly trimmed but still long enough I could run my fingers through it. "Tell me what you want. C'mon Steve, I want to know."

Steve grinned, his eyes focused on my crotch where my middle finger was sliding between my wet pussy lips. He knew of course that I knew what he wanted but it was a little game we played so he said, "You're the sexiest woman alive. I know Jack had to be wanting you all day."

"Even more than his big-boobs wife?" I teased, "She's pretty hot, even if her boobs would melt on a hot day. Did you even notice she had great legs or were your eyes stuck on her chest? I bet you would've loved to swap with him and have your dick glide between those melons."

Steve groaned as he stroked his cock in front of me. "Fuck yes, watch you take his hard dick like the slut you are."

"You want to see him fuck me, don't you?" I taunted him, moving slowly to the bed as I fingered myself in front of him. "You want to see how bad he wants me... see me take his cum in front of his wife."

"Oh yes, but I want you NOW!" he snarled at me, reaching out with one hand as he kept stroking himself. God he was so horny!

"Fuck me like you want to fuck Alex," I said softly as I lifted my leg up and over so I could straddle him. His eyes widened and he grinned.

"Then turn around.... show me that sexy ass," he demanded.

If there was one part of me I knew Steve loved it was my butt. OK, so he loves my pussy more than anything but aside from that when he wasn't fucking me I knew a view of my bottom was always good for a quick arousal. Whether or not he really wanted Alex in this way didn't matter, at least not to me. It just made me feel so good whenever he complimented my ass and I tried to dress for him in ways that gave him the best view.

My hands rested on his thighs as I kneeled on each side of him, my crotch spread nice and wide. Leaning forward, I lifted my hips so I was directly over his dick which he was now holding to point it straight at my pussy like a missile ready for takeoff. Slowly, at least as slowly as my lust allowed, I dropped down onto him, first later when his dick won the battle and I felt him start to move under me, small little pushes to start and then growing in length and intensity.

"Sorry baby, I have to," he groaned apologetically, as if he need to be sorry for giving into his lust for me. Far from it!

"It's OK honey... take me," I whispered, my voice thick with lust and desire.

No need for any work on my part this time! Steve was pounding me now, thrusting his hips upward as if he wanted to penetrate me even deeper each time. I reached down and my fingers danced on my clit, the tips sometimes reaching down enough to wear I could feel his wet shaft moving against them.

"Oh God I'm cumming Steve!" I cried out softly, the pleasure gripping me too tightly to speak any louder.

If anything my impending orgasm motivated Steve to fuck me even faster, his erect shaft pounding me harder and faster beyond what should have been possible. My orgasm swept over me like a tsunami wave of lust, burying me with pleasure as my body felt like it was on fire from head to toe. I just held myself still, Steve's dick not pausing second as I gushed over him, flooding his dick and crotch with my cum. Time seemed to stand still as I cried out, begging Steve to never stop fucking me. As it ebbed I rode his dick like a bucking horse, trying to extend that incredible feeling inside of me. Lifting myself up I would literally drop down on his dick, my naked butt slamming into his crotch driving his cock deeper and deeper into me.

"Shit... I can't hold back," Steve warned me, his voice an octave higher now as he strained to maximize his own orgasm. "Oh fuck!!!" he cried out loudly as I felt him buck upwards and then hold himself against me as his dick flooded me with his cum. Again and again he erupted, again and again his cum was released as deep inside of me as he could reach.

As he finished I leaned forward. His arms wrapped around me and he rolled us over onto our side, his dick never leaving the loving confines of his wife's hot pussy. I realized then the entire time we'd made love he hadn't left me empty once!

"You better remember this next time you see Alex," I whispered to him as his dick slowly dwindled within me as he fell asleep in my arms.

5. Starting a New Tradition

Jack gave Steve the time and place for our second photoshoot. As it turned out it was just a studio which sort of surprised me. I don't know why but I just imagined

Inside the studio it was dark except for what looked to be someone's living room. There was a large sofa, a couple of plush chairs, an older TV set in a wall unit with books on each side, and a large oval rug in the center. A couple of lamps were included but it looked like the bulbs were low wattage with the majority of the light coming from the professional units placed strategically outside the set. Large video camera was mounted on a tripod - definitely not your typical little Sony handheld from Best Buy. A plain table held a variety of cameras, lenses, and a lap top computer which I assumed was for viewing the results.

"Hey, right on time," Jack greeted us, turning from the computer. Alex moved discreetly to the side allowing Jack to take over. "I hope you don't mind but I was just showing Alex your shoot from last year. I thought it might help if she had some idea of the type of shots you wanted."

For a moment it didn't hit me but then I couldn't help but drop my mouth. Last year? The year we had the threesome? Did he really show his wife of less than a year what he'd done with us, especially given it was just a couple weeks before their wedding.

Alex spoke up, breaking the awkward silence. "I hope you don't mind. Really Kelly, you are a beautiful woman and seeing you and Steve so much in love... I think it was of Jack's best sessions. So many people misunderstand nude photography, like it has to be some kind of porn shoot. Yours were extremely tasteful. The photographer was quite skilled!"

Jack just grinned at his wife's compliments. He also looked me in the eye for just a moment and winked. It was like he was signaling to me that it was OK, that Alex didn't know the full extent of our session which WAS pretty much a porn shoot by the time it finished!

"I was explaining to Alex earlier that this is the first year your daughters would be joining you," Jack told us.

"They're NOT going to be nude of course," I interrupted pointedly.

"Of course not," Alex immediately assured me, "Not at their age."

I looked at Steve rather smugly as if to say, "Ha! See, I'm not the only one who thinks they're too young." While I may not have said the words, he got the message and shook his head in resignation.

Jack stepped in, ever the professional. "Soooooo, I guess it's time."

"Here, can I help?" she offered.

I shook my head. "No thanks, not like I have that much to remove."

Indeed, it only took a few seconds and I was nude with my clothes neatly folded by Alex and placed on the table with the girls' outfits.

"You look even better in person than in the photos," Alex complimented me with a smile.

For just a moment I found myself wondering if maybe Alex was hitting no me but then she turned to help the girls and I realized she was just being polite. After all, it was her job to make people feel better in potentially awkward situations.

"Mommy where's your outfit?" Mylie asked innocently. Kids! They don't miss a thing although it wasn't hard to notice I was nude. I may not wear much at times around the apartment but rarely am I nude other than maybe in the bathroom or bedroom getting ready or in bed. Thankfully Alex stepped in to bail me out.

"This IS your mommy's outfit," she assured my daughter. Mylie may have been just five but she was a very mature girl for her age and wasn't buying it.

"But mommy doesn't have any clothes on," she protested.

"And either will your daddy," Alex informed her. "But they are grownups and that is what grownups wear when they do this. You're a little girl and you're wearing what little girls wear. OK?"

Mylie wasn't buying it, I knew that look all too well, like when I tried telling her my wine was just for big people. Alex hustled us all out before she could figure out a comeback and soon we joined the men where sure enough, Steve was stark naked. It rather surprised me being as homophobic as he was. It was rare that I ever saw him close to another man when naked, let alone when the other guy was fully clothed.

With that we got started. For the first thirty minutes or so it was pretty much like any other photoshoot with Jack positioning us on the couch side by side with the girls on the outside, then on the floor, and finally me in Steve's lap with the girls sitting at his feet. It was the first time I'd made contact with his cock since we started and I could feel him react to the warmth of my smooth butt positioned over him.

Once Jack had his shots he told us all to get back on the couch but Steve held me down on his lap.

"Something wrong Steve?" Jack asked, "Did you want some of just the two of you?"

Of course I knew what Steve's "problem" was - he had a full blown erection in progress pressing up into my butt! I didn't want to say anything to embarrass him so

I spoke up and asked for a few shots of us. As Jack changed lenses I leaned back and whispered into Steve's ear, "You might try to control yourself buster."

"Yeah right, like I have any control over the situation," he protested, "And it would help if you would stop wiggling on him."

OK, guilty as charged but then what's a girl supposed to do when she feels a delicious hard cock against her bottom?

Steve was in no better shape when Jack finished so there was no use stalling further. I stepped up and Steve's erection sprung up like a flower in spring.

"Ahhhhhh, I see the real problem," Jack chuckled, "Don't worry, we're done with the ones where you're exposed so it's no problem."

"So what's next?" I asked. Personally, with all the shots Jack had taken I'd assumed we were finished.

"I just thought it would be cute to do some mother and father-daughter shots," Jack offered, "What do you think?"

I pointedly stared at my husband's throbbing erection. Once he was in that condition I knew it didn't just go away on its own, at least not for a while and we didn't have all day to wait for him to wind down.

"Let's start with you Kelly then and see how things are when we're done," Jack offered.

It sounded like a viable plan so I took a seat on the couch. Jack had me sit with my legs under me and then positioned the girls in front. Assessing the position, I thought it actually wasn't all that revealing. While it would be obvious I was naked, with Mylie in front of my chest and Kylie pressed in against my crotch I could have been wearing a bikini if a couple areas weren't exposed which would have been covered.

As Jack shot us, I noticed Alex standing next to Steve who was still sporting a respectable erection. Something told me watching me with the girls wasn't helping matters. I couldn't help but smile thinking maybe Alex should reach over and take matters into her hands so to speak. Steve was 36 now and wasn't about to regain an erection as swiftly as he did back in our teen years. Honestly it wouldn't have bother me if she had but there were no signs of THAT happened although Steve did seem to have an interest in her sizable boobs.

"OK, time for dad... mom, we're done with you if you want to get dressed."

(B.1) FAQ – Babysitting

Story codes: nosex
Updated: April 27, 2018

Reading the stories published on various Internet sites you'd think every babysitter is fucking the fathers, mothers, the kids, even the family pet. Well, maybe such crap makes for a nice fantasy but how close is it to reality? Here are some of the questions I've been asked along with my answers.

Q: When did you start babysitting?
A: My first time was when I was twelve. Technically I was only watching the kids as their mom was still home but she worked at home and needed someone to watch the kids. Although I would have disagreed at the time I was really too young at that age to be left alone with young children. I started babysitting alone at night when I was thirteen at a neighbor's where at least I was close to home. I was fourteen before I started sitting for people who had to drive to pick me up and bring me home.

Q: Have you ever had sex with any of the kids you babysat?
A: NEVER! Absolutely not. Not even close. Naughty babysitters may be a favorite theme in the porn world but as for real life not a single girl I know, not even the sluttiest, has been involved sexually with a kid she was babysitting. While I'm sure it happens it's not something I would ever condone or even try to rationalize. A babysitter is entrusted with the most valuable things in a parent's life – their children. Any sort of secret sexual relationship with their underage kids would be a betrayal of that sacred trust. Now when it comes to their dads... that's a totally different story.

Q: Have you ever had sex with any of the parents?
A: Only once. When I was twenty I had sex once with a father (see my diary entry for 2005 (Jul 06) Chapter 89: Babysitting Husband). Unlike the previous question about the kids this IS one area where I know of several girls who have had quite extensive experiences with parents.

Q: Have you ever encouraged or witnessed sex between any of the kids you babysat?
A: NEVER! Again, while this is something that seems to happens all the time in fantasy stories I've NEVER witnessed young siblings having ANY sexual attraction between them in ANY way. If anything at that age I'm thrilled if most kids can even play together without fighting. Of course at younger ages there is a natural curiosity about the opposite sex (like, gee, what's that?) but I never witnessed anything more than that. The natural curiosity of a child should not be confused with sexual desire or attraction.

********

Q: Have you ever masturbated when you babysat?
A: Of course BUT only when the kids were in bed and asleep. Even then I was always discreet in case one of them should suddenly appear unannounced.

Q: Have you ever gone through the parents' private things?
A: Guilty as charged. I sometimes wonder if parents realize what babysitters do when they're left alone for hours with nothing to do but read and watch TV. Of course the refrigerator is fair game and I'll freely admit to raiding my fair share of those. There were more than a few times I would go into the parent's bedroom and snoop through their drawers and bathroom. It's not like they locked their bedroom door and I was breaking in. I always made sure everything was back where I found it and to the best of my knowledge nobody ever knew what I'd done while they were out.

Tt's pretty amazing what I found sometimes - sex toys, porn magazines, DVD's, "private" photo albums, sexy lingerie, even X-rated home videos in a few cases. Sometimes I would play with one of the mother's toy if it looked interesting. Another favorite thing of mine to do was to try on the mother's lingerie, assuming it was anywhere near my size, and then lay on the bed and masturbate as I fantasized about the husband fucking me or what they would do if they came home and caught me.

Of course, how far I was able to go was dependent on the kids I was sitting. Fortunately the best stuff was typically in the younger couple's bedrooms who also had the younger kids who went to bed early and slept soundly.

It wasn't just me either. A number of my friends have told me that they did the same and to this day we still compare notes about people who we both sat for so the next time we knew where to look. Odds are at least one of your sitters has done the same!

Q: Did the fathers ever look at you "that way" when they drove you to/from home?
A: Well duh! Heck, I would've been quite disappointed if they hadn't! If was really more of a game for me than anything. Except for the one guy I mentioned before who I had sex with, none of the fathers ever did anything overt like trying to touch me or saying anything sexy. It was fun pretending not to look at them and then catching them out of the corner of my eye stealing a glance at me - usually my boobs or legs. Seeing how hard they would try NOT to appear interested in me, even though I knew they were it was a turn-on for me as well. While I may not have done anything with them, more than a few times I wound up masturbating when I got home imagining what MIGHT have happened had he had mustered some courage.

In all fairness it wasn't entirely their fault that they looked at me that way as I didn't exactly discourage them either. Although I didn't do anything TOO overt like lift my skirt to expose myself or play with myself, sometimes an extra button on my blouse mysteriously undid itself just before I got into his car. There may have been a few times I didn't pull my skirt down like a "good" girl should when I sat in the front seat. Overall, it was just innocent stuff like that.

Q: Did you ever see any of the kids masturbating?
A: Actually this is more common than you might think - primarily when it comes to boys after they've entered puberty. Usually it was when they were looking at their father's porn collection in their bedrooms where they thought they weren't being watched. Masturbation is healthy so I never deliberately tried to embarrass them or let them know I was watching. Still there were a few times I did so inadvertently when I walked in and surprised him (and me) as he was jerking off. About the only think you can do in that situation is step out quickly and try not to make it any worse for him than it already is.

Q: Did you ever fantasize about having sex with any of the kids?
A: Of course. Really, would you believe me if I said "No"? See my remark at the end of the last question about fantasies versus reality. In fact I even wrote a series of fantasy stories about sex while babysitting which are posted in my FANTASY section of my website. They were based on an actual boy and girl I sat for many times and as they grew older I use to fantasize more and more about them. Still, I NEVER did anything for real with them.

Many of the older boys, AND some of the girls as well, were quite cute and I have to admit more than a few times some naughty thoughts would run through my mind, especially if I was more horny even than usual. However, I NEVER acted out any of those fantasies.

(B.2) FAQ – Escorting

Updated: April 27, 2018

I've worked as an escort on and off several times over the years. When people first hear me say that I escorted, I know the first thought in their minds is, "She's a prostitute." While that may be true for a lot of escorting agencies, I need to set the record straight about what I once did for a living. These are some of the more frequent questions I've been asked about my escorting experiences and my responses.

1. Definitions

Before I go into this there a few definitions that need to be clarified so people understand what I'm talking about. Although you may not agree with my definitions I ask that you respect them as being my opinion:

WHORE: Someone you pay to have sex with. When you meet a whore there's no doubt she'll suck your dick, fuck you, or whatever else you "contracted" for. It's also prostitution and illegal. Also known in more civil discourse as a "prostitute".
ESCORT: A girl (or guy) who goes out with you willing to do whatever she can to make it a pleasant evening for you. Sex is totallyoptional at her discretion and should not be expected. Unlike whores, when you pay an escort agency you pay for a date, NOT sex. Of course IF an escort wants to do it with you then a generous "tip" is expected. Escorts are legal so long as they're not really just whores trying to appear legit.
SLUT: A girl who enjoys sex and uses her body to get the things SHE wants which may be just emotional and physical pleasure more so than objects or money. Sluts are "paid" by the pleasure they receive, not to mention the free meals, movies, etc.

2. Questions and Answers

Q: You tried escorting while in college and quit after you were raped. Why did you do it again?
A: Back in college I tried out the "escort" business. Why did I do it? Basically I was super horny and dying for some casual sex which I was missing thanks to the strict rules imposed on me by a VERY strict Christian college. My "career" only lasted for a few months. Oh sure at first I had a lot of fun and it was interesting to say the least. Unfortunately, what turned out to be my last client brought in some unexpected friends without asking me beforehand or seeking my permission which meant technically I was raped. Although it was my pride that was hurt more than anything, it was a wakeup call for me and so I decided to quit before I WAS seriously hurt.

Looking back I accept now that calling myself an "escort" under those conditions was really a euphemism for being a prostitute. However, at the time I rationalized that since I was making the final decision about whether to have sex or not that I hadn't crossed that line. The truth is that I never said no so where was the "decision"?

After graduation I was older, more mature, and understood what I was getting myself into and what to look for in an agency. The agency I chose screened their clients tightly and didn't accept guys who just wanted sex. You should remember that for the most part I really did enjoy the time I escorted while in college. If it hadn't been for that last client who knows what may have happened? My cousin became a high-end prostitute, maybe I would've joined her!

Q: Why choose escorting? Why not get a "real" job?
A: My goal at the time was to have my own place, an apartment I could call my own. Needless to say without a job you can't live in your own apartment and I wasn't about to ask my dad to pay for one even though I knew he would do anything I asked. Good-paying tutoring opportunities pretty much dried up once school started.

So what's an enterprising girl to do to earn money without killing herself in some back-breaking, thankless job? Don't forget that while growing up I never had a "real" job like most of my friends such as being a waitress, a store clerk, etc. I stuck with babysitting long after the rest of my friends quit. The hours were good, the work was usually easy, and the pay kept getting better as parents wanted an older girl to watch their kids rather than some thirteen year-old kid.

While in college I did tutor and eventually that was all I did during the summer. Believe it or not the only job prior to teaching where I had taxes withheld was when I worked for the escorting agencies!

Q: Did you work for the same agency that your cousin did?

A: First, a brief background on Kristen. Kristen was not only the CLASS slut during her high school days, she was the SCHOOL slut - and probably the biggest one in school history. When I visited Kristen at her college, she had already embarked on an entrepreneurial career that didn't quite align with her nursing major. Posing as some sort of drawing or lottery, she had guys (and a few girls) buying tickets to fuck either her or her roomie. She conned me not only into going along with it for one evening, but even to let her keep the proceeds I "earned".

Don't ask me how but somehow Kristen never got busted for her illegal "activities" while at school. Even so it took just one look at her grades and it was clear to both her and my aunt that academic life was not her cup of tea. You might say my cousin's skills lay not between her ears but her open legs. Given Kristen's aversion to anything that even smells of "work" she did what came natural to her - sex. Thankfully she didn't start walking the streets but after "helping" her mom close a few real estate deals she was hooked on the concept of sex for money (no pun intended). Although she knew of my bad experience she decided give prostitution a whirl anyways.

Kristen kept boasting to me about all the guys she'd fucked and how much money she was making. My aunt was certainly proud of her daughter although my mom thought her niece was crazy. As for me I wasn't sure exactly WHAT to say about it so I mostly just listened to her bragging and tried to not think about it otherwise. Although it pained me to say it at the time I knew my cousin was a whore and that's NOT the label I wanted. Thus when I chose to work as an escort girl I didn't go anywhere near Kristen's agency. As I just said I wasn't going to ever allow myself to become a whore and all her agency catered to was guys who expected the girl to put out. Oh sure the pay is incredible but I wasn't THAT desperate for money not to mention I had a future teaching career to think about - "whore" doesn't exactly look good on your resume.

Q: What did your parents think about you being an escort again?
A: Do you even need to ask? My parents were pretty predictable in such matters. Neither of them was all that surprised knowing about Kristen's new "career". My mom was just happy I didn't get roped into it going with her agency and instead signed up with one that is a lot more legitimate. As for my dad, his first reaction was to ask where he could sign up and pretend to be a client although I convinced him it was stupid to pay for what he can get for free whenever he wants it!

Q: Did you enjoy being an escort?
A: YES! I was able to visit interesting places and meet some pretty unique guys who in general were usually pretty well-off. Face it, they HAD to be or they wouldn't have been able to afford me! Besides the fun part it was an easy way to make some good money and I didn't want to have to be a waitress to get my own apartment. Since my teaching plans had been postponed I needed to make my own money and this just seemed to be the best and easiest way.

For the most part my clients were looking for an escort just for a day or evening to attend events where they wanted to appear with a "date". A number of these involved office parties or dinners. One I particularly remember was for a family reunion where the guy was sick and tired of being pestered by his relatives about not having a girlfriend. Personally I thought he was gay but they didn't seem to have a clue. I think the best time I had was at a wedding, another case where a guy was trying to avoid questions about lack of a girlfriend and trust me, he was NOT gay!

OK, so maybe I didn't earn as much as I could've on my back but I usually went home having enjoyed a pleasant evening.

Q: How much does an escort make?
A: In terms of what shows up on my W2 (yes, I paid taxes), not much. The agency made their deal with the client which they didn't discuss with me. All I know is that I only was paid $50-100 for a typical evening. If someone wanted me all day (say to go to a sporting event with them and dinner or a party later), then it may have gone as high as $200 or $250. I didn't do overnights - EVER, or out of town trips. For those of you familiar with escorting charges you can see that most of what you pay the agency stays in their pockets so remember to tip your girl generously!

By the way, don't think I was running some sort of charity operation. My tips almost always several time more than my salary and they were cash. Sorry IRS!

Q: What do you wish men knew about escorts?

A: First, these girls are REAL people, not blow-up dolls for you to use and abuse so give her some respect. Escorts are hurt by bad comments just like any other girl. Treat her like your daughter (well, maybe the way you WISH you could treat your daughter).

Second, remember these girls essentially work for tips so be generous!

Finally, remember you only hired her to be your date, not your whore. Anything beyond the services you paid for are at HER discretion so don't feel you're "entitled" to anything more than maybe a LITTLE fondling or groping when it comes to sex. If you want something more then go to an agency like my cousin worked for where you can have about anything you want - for a price of course!

********

Q: Aren't you afraid of getting some sort of disease as an escort?

A: Before I answer this remember that I did NOT have sex with 95% or more of the men so wasn't really a major issue in the first place. That said I wasn't stupid. As a general rule I practiced safe sex which was one reason I had a preference for married men who hadn't hired an escort before. Besides the obvious excitement of having him cheat on his wife for me I figured it also greatly reduced the odds of him having anything so I didn't make them wear a condom. If I didn't trust the guy then he had to wear a condom even though I hate them. Odds were that if I didn't trust them I didn't have sex with them anyway.

********

Q: What were your limits as an escort?
A: No different than my limits for any date:

1. I didn't allow myself to be hurt, humiliated, or grossed out (e.g. no bondage, scat, etc.).
2. NO anal. My ass is strictly a one-way street. I love it to be played with but nothing goes IN.
3. I refuse to be used to hurt someone else (e.g. a husband wanting his wife to see him cheating on her to "punish" her for something or another). Nothing with anyone underage, e.g. none of this "teach my adolescent son" crap you see in porn fantasies.
4. Nothing illegal, whatever THAT might be.

Q: Weren't you concerned that by doing this locally you might be recognized?
A: Of course I was concerned which is why I was pretty picky about who I accepted as a client, even more so than with my last agency. That's another reason I chose the one I did as they allowed me to be really choosey without making a fuss about it. First, they had to be from out of town - no compromises on that one. I also preferred guys who weren't "veterans" but that's hard to verify ahead of time. Age wasn't all that critical. Older guys tend to want more intimacy and fantasy whereas younger guys are more into something fun so it all balances out in the end. Also, I NEVER did repeats. Once per guy was all I'd ever do.

Q: Did you ever said no to a request by a client?
A: So far as the dating aspect goes I was lucky that nobody was that rude to me. I DID refuse advances towards sex many times. This was a job to me and I just didn't get off as much from guys paying for me, at least not like a whore.

********

Q: Which agency did you work for?
A: Sorry, nothing on this web site or in my diary will give any information that can be used to identify me. Besides, I don't need to Advertise as it's not my agency.

********

Q: Which agency did you cousin Kristen work for?
A: When her agency pays for me to advertise for them I'll tell you.

(B.3 / Chapter 296) FAQ - Kelly

Story codes: MF Mf FF Ff F-solo incest father mother daughter
Updated: April 25, 2018

For more than fifteen years I've chatted and exchanged e-mails with literally thousands of people. As you might imagine I get asked many of the same questions over and over again. Not only does this quickly become tedious, some of the answers are difficult to properly express in quick Instant Message format. While e-mail allows for more expansive responses, who wants to type the same thing repeatedly? That's why I decided to write up more complete answers to my most frequently asked questions (FAQ) and post them here. While I'm happy to answer most questions when I'm talking to people either on chat or through e-mail, please don't be offended if my response is to ask that you look at this file first.

I update this document periodically as patterns emerge or I feel like I've inadequately explained something. If you have any suggested questions for me to add or clarify, please send them in an e-mail

1. About My Diary and Being On-Line

Q: Are your stories true?
A: Figured I'd start with this one and get it over with as it's by far the number one question people I'm asked...

Well... in the words of Hollywood, "Based on a true story..."

What I mean is in general the stories in my "Diary" and "About Me" categories reflect actual events that have occurred in my life. Needless to say I don't have recordings of every moment so the events and dialog are based entirely on my own memories and to a limited extent those of my friends and family - none which are even close to being 100% perfect. I have personally written every word of these stories. Nobody edits them which occasionally is painfully evident at times meaning I get lots of criticism from trolls. While I refer to my diary entries as "stories" that's not intended to imply they're fabrications, it's just the way I refer to them.

I've always been open about the fact that I use plenty of artistic license when writing although my intent in doing so is for editing and personal security purposes rather than "enhancing" a story. Artistic license means that I simply don't have the time or ambition to write full length novels so I typically condense events to keep the story to a reasonable length. Personal security means I make a concerted effort to protect my identity and those of the people in my stories. For example the names I use are never the actual names of the people involved. Doing so sometimes complicates things when people ask me questions based on an older entry and I have to go back and look to remember what name I used!

Unless critical to the plot of the story I change the locations and in many cases the dates of the events, sometimes by years. Personal descriptions and family makeup are heavily disguised. For example the family tree I post is not 100% accurate but it's adequate for the purpose of helping people understand the relationships when reading about something that happened. None of this is intended to be deceptive but rather to protect me and my family's personal privacy. In the end I'll summarize by saying that my stories are reasonably accurate portrayals of the substance of each event. After all, it's not like I'm publishing an autobiography!

Ironically I get more criticism for NOT enhancing a story when it fails to meet people's expectations based on the fictional stories written by other authors. I can't even count the number of times people have complained that I didn't do this or that. My response is simple - hey, that didn't happen! If I were to start down the slippery slope of embellishing my diary then I may as well publish them all as fantasies.

Some people have asked why I don't write about the so-called "normal" events of my life. Given most people who visit sites like this aren't anxious to read about arts and crafts, why waste my time? The result is a pretty lopsided perspective of my life and so my diary should NOT be taken as a complete picture of who I am or what I do. My biggest problem is people take this very one-sided view of me and assume it reflects my everyday life. Actually I'd bet that most people reading this wouldn't recognize me even if they lived next door to me - and that's exactly my goal.

Even when I write about my sex life not everything is documented, not even a sizable percentage. I choose specific events to write about not because they're necessarily the most enjoyable or wildest but rather based on the impact they had on my life and personal development. Sometimes that means telling about something that was NOT particularly enjoyable but I feel that people should know about such things as well so as to have a better understanding of why I am who I am.

It makes me smile when people who have read my diary and then see photos of me comment that I don't look like what they expected. It's almost as if I should have the word "slut" tattooed across my forehead. Most people say I look "normal" as if they're disappointed. Well I'm not a porn star and while you may get the impression from my diary that my life revolves around sex, it's simply not true. Yes, sex IS an important part of my life but God and my family come first. One look at the gaps in time between the entries should be enough to show how much of my life is NOT in my diary.

********

Q: What about the other stories? Are they true?
A: That depends on which ones you're talking about...

The "About Me" section contains entries that are just that - about me, such as this one. These are my personal opinions and I ask that they be respected as such even if you don't agree with them.

EVERYTHING in my "Fantasies" section is just that - fantasies. ALL of them are 100% fiction and not intended to relate to any person or place. Also, these are MY fantasies written entirely by me.

NONE of the stories in the "Friends" section were written by me but rather by people who claim these events actually happened to them. These were submitted to me either through chats or e-mails by people with whom I've established enough of a "relationship" that I either believe them or they at least have stayed in touch with me for a long time . All of them were supposedly written only for me. I do not "borrow" anything from other web sites although there are a few I've seen later on other sites which apparently stole them from mine. Actually this is true for everything I post. While I may collate and edit the stories people send me for better readability, I don't claim any ownership and cannot vouch for their authenticity. My personal opinion is that almost all of the stories sent to me are total fabrications and even if there is an element of truth it's likely greatly exaggerated. Through various means I've managed to confirm that a very small number are true. Interestingly none of these are about a situation where there is actually any interactions - just a father's naughty behaviors done in private. In most cases they had no intention of me finding this out so I won't say which ones or why I believe so for their privacy and my protection.

NONE of the stories in the "Stories by Others" section were written by me. Just like those in the "Friends" section, these were submitted to me either through chats or e-mails. The difference is these authors don't even attempt to claim realism. They are all 100% fabrications.

Q: Your diary suddenly disappears at times and then returns. Why?
A: Usually it's something to do with being frustrated or upset with how people are responding to me or not. At times it seems nobody give a damn. Remember that I don't get a dime from doing this so reader feedback is my only "reward". According to the reports I get from ASSTR, I get lots of hits but virtually none of them respond. I call these people "lurkers". When things build to the breaking point I delete everything. It's pretty easy in that I just select "all" and hit the delete key. It usually makes me feel better at first but then people contact me and ask for it to be restored so I end up reposting it again. If this makes me sound needy or egotistical, oh well. I'm human too!

Back in the summer of 2017 ASSTR had server issues so a few months went by where my diary was inaccessible. Fortunately it's back now but as ASSTR is a free site who knows what the future holds.

Q: Why do you even bother to write and publish your diary?
A: Most people, including my friends, have no idea what self-image issues I struggled with while growing up and continue to have even today although to a much lesser degree. I was painfully aware I was the only one in my middle school circle of friends who had not graduated from her training bra although that's a somewhat theoretical concept as I never actually owned one. My figure more resembled those of the boys in class rather than the girls and I never got the leering looks from the hot guys that they gave girls like my BFF Beth. Granted, she was already well into a B cup at the start of 5th grade!

Things got to the point where my parents felt compelled to take me to a counselor who helped me learn several methods to better accept who I was. One of the most helpful techniques she taught me was how to flirt with men and use their response to see I was much sexier than I gave myself credit for being. Of course now I realize it had nothing to do with how sexy I was as men will get horny over any girl that pays attention to them. Still I was naive and it was so easy to do that I became a total slut. Throughout high school I sought the attention of the boys as well as older men and I have to say those were some of the best years of my life even though I was just an A-cup for most of them.

This worked for me so long as I was around men that I could have sex with. As I got older I learned that their looks don't really mean all much but rather it's whether they wanted sex with me that counted. This strategy worked fine while I was in high school but about half-way through my freshman year of college at a VERY strict Christian university I found myself feeling especially horny and depressed. That's when I started chatting with strangers on-line about sex even though it was strictly against all the rules. Of course it wasn't the same as having sex for real but it was better than nothing on those days when my ego was deflated.

When chatting people kept asked me the same questions over and over about my sexual experiences and views. While it was exciting at first it soon became a pain typing the same responses over and over. Not only that, I always felt like I was leaving out too many details and worried people were getting wrong ideas about me. I started writing out short blurbs I kept in simple text files about some of my experiences which I copied and pasted when chatting with people instead of writing them out each time. Over time as I fleshed them out and included more details until they became too big to include in chats. That's when I started posting them in on-line forums.

About the same time I was chatting with a couple men who wanted me to do things with them I'd never done before such as help them to cheat on their wives, have sex with their teenage kids, and so forth. Although I couldn't even imagine myself actually ever DOING such things for real we had some extremely erotic chats and before I realized it I found myself fantasizing about such things and wrote out several of those fantasies for them to read. I'd never written any adult fantasy stories before and I found myself getting horny when I wrote them! Sometimes I even had to take a break and masturbate about the fantasy I was describing. If nothing else I found that masturbation was a sure-fire way to beat writer's block.

One thing led to another and over the course of the years my diary has grown and shrunk until it's what it is today. Sometimes I look it over and am amazed at how many things I've written over time!

All my stories, both real and especially the fantasies, take a long time to write so I try to limit them to events that have some significance to me such as a "first time", something that affected me deeply emotionally, or to be honest just something I want to brag about. Frankly I enjoy the feedback I get when I publish them and it makes me feel a bit turned on knowing men are out there masturbating as they read about the things I've done.

Q: Your early entries sound so mature and graphic and they flow too well to have been written by a young teenager. Did you really write them?
A: Keep in mind that I didn't even START writing until I was a freshman in college. Frankly I wouldn't even know HOW to write like a young girl again. Even if I tried I'm sure that it would sound horribly fake just as so many of those ridiculous stories you find on-line. Even so I still grimace when reading some of the older ones which is why some of the them have been edited over the years letting me fix misspelling and grammar errors as well as adding a few missing details which should've been included. As I edit them I suppose they become even more "mature" so I make no attempt to pretend they were written by me at that age.

********

Q: What is the meaning of the numbers you use in your file names?
A: A computer nerd I chatted with a long time ago suggested a naming system where 20060705 is July 5, 2006. This allows them to be easily sorted in chronological order.

Q: Is there a sequence to your stories to use when reading?
A: My recommendation is to start with the ABOUT ME section as these will help you to understand me better. Then I recommend reading my diary in chronological order starting from the beginning. The earlier stories were written to stand alone as I was submitting them randomly to various story sites where there was no linkage between them. After I started posted them on my own web site I got complaints that the introductions were redundant so now I when I periodically edit them to fix typos and such I also try to shorten the introductions. The down side is this assumes people have already read the earlier ones.

Q: It's easy to understand why you won't meet people from on-line but why not cam or talk to them on the phone?
A: It's really pretty simple... I have no compelling reason to do so and plenty of reasons NOT. I have ample opportunities for sex so there's no need to seek out people on-line. Two factors come into play:

1. I protect my privacy fervently. Would you believe I've seen entire blogs dedicated to people trying to figure out who I am and where I live? Trust me, they weren't looking to have a three-some! For every person I wouldn't mind knowing more about me there are many more whom I would never want to have anything to do with. If I was doing anything illegal then the authorities could track me easily so I'm concerned about the folks who just don't like me and want to hurt me.
2. I don't trust strangers with my privacy. Even if I shared my details privately with someone or cammed just with someone I thought that I could trusted, who's to say it would stay with them? It's not so much I'm worried about them posting anything although that IS a concern, I'm more worried that they will screw up and someone else will find it like an angry wife. A few of the men who chat with me were caught by their wife because they forgot to close their e-mail, left a file open, didn't erase their history, etc. when their thoughts were dominated by their little head.

Q: You don't share much personal information yet you seem to expect people who chat with you to share theirs in great detail. Isn't this more than a little hypocritical?
A: Yes it is and I freely admit it. Then again keep in mind that in 100% of the cases THEY contacted ME. I NEVER initiate contact with a stranger on the Internet so if they want to talk to me then it's going to be on MY terms. If someone doesn't like it then they simply don't have to contact me. It's not like I don't make this clear ahead of time.

Q: Are you bisexual?
A: Technically yes in that I enjoy sex with both men AND women. However when it comes to pure physical enjoyment I MUCH prefer sex with men as I love penetration. My finger or dildo can never take the place of a real cock. This factor alone gives the boys a distinct advantage over the girls. On the other hand while men are the best when it comes to meeting my most basic physical needs, women can be far more satisfying emotionally. What I guess I'm trying to say is that as a general rule with guys it's all about satisfying my PHYSICAL needs whereas with girls it's more about dealing with my EMOTIONAL needs. In other words when I'm feeling horny I tend to seek out a guy for sexual release but when I'm feeling down then I look to a girlfriend for comfort. Of course as with all rules there are exceptions but for the most part it holds pretty true.

Q: Are you a slut?
A: OK, so if the shoe fits... I'd say by using most people's definition then yes, I'm definitely a slut. For some people that's a slur but so long as you use MY definition it's a moniker that I'm proud to bear. According to my personal dictionary being a slut means that people find me sexually attractive and that I take full advantage of the physical blessings that God has given me.

Q: You say you're a slut but not a whore. What's the difference?
A: When a guy "dates" a whore he knows what he's going to get and he expects to get it with no questions asked if for no other reason than he paid for it. In contrast when he's out with a slut he may entertain hopes but he can't be 100% sure just how far she'll go. For that reason a whore can never tease as effectively as a slut. A guy KNOWS when he's with a whore that he's getting it sooner or later whereas with a slut there's always that question... will she or won't she? Whores will do anything for money even if they don't like it. Sluts only do what THEY like to do.

To put it more simply... whores SELL their bodies to please a man while sluts USE their bodies to please themselves.

Q: Do you like men to shave their crotch?
A: Before I answer that let me say I love almost ALL men's crotches so it's really just a matter of preferences. That said I definitely like bushy crotches the best and the more and thicker the pubic hair the better. For me it feels good to reach down inside of a guy's pants and run my fingers through his coarse pubic hair; then smell my fingers later to savor his musky scent. When I suck a man's cock I take pleasure in feeling his crotch hair against my face, especially when I take him all the way in my mouth and my nose is buried deep in his crotch.

Now as for the rest of him - shave it off guys! I don't like being seen at the beach with a gorilla. As for beards and mustaches - UGH! And what's with this two-day growth crap anyway? I mean, who decided THAT was sexy? Just scratches my face and thighs so far as I'm concerned.

Q: What are you wearing?

A: It's amazing how many times I've been asked this when I chat! Mornings are easy as usually I shower, wrap a towel around me and sit down for a few minutes to catch up on the news and e-mail. Otherwise at home I prefer wearing something loose on top and nothing on the bottom. It doesn't really matter what I wear on top so long as it's something. It can be a T-shirt, a blouse, a man's shirt, or even just a bikini top or bra. Anything works so long as my boobs aren't just hanging out there.

Unlike the other women in my family, I've always loved being bottomless while wearing something on top. Nothing compares to feeling the cool air against my bare ass. I hate feeling restricted down there so I rarely wear panties under a dress, even to church or should I say, especially to church! Of course I always wear panties when I teach. Besides the fact I could be fired in violation of the dress code by not wearing them, there's no excuse for an adult woman to flash young boys in a classroom. Sorry but despite all the fantasies men may have of me I almost NEVER run around nude for no reason at all. The only times I'm typically totally naked for any extended period are when I'm in bed, taking a shower, or having sex. While in bed if I need a drink I may run from my bed to the kitchen without bothering to put anything on, but if I'm going to stay up for a snack then I'll throw something on.

Q: Do you wear a bra and panties?

A: Actually most people just ask if I wear panties but I'll answer for both anyway. Until my later teen years my bust wasn't much to brag about and that's being kind. In fact it was quite embarrassing which my therapist claimed explained my fetish for keeping something over them. In any case bras are uncomfortable and if you don't need the support then why torture yourself? Since I was under no pressure to wear one from my mother and my dad certainly wanted me in one I just never really got started with the habit. Believe it or not usually the only time I wore one as a teenager was when I went out on dates. Like most girls, I learned early that guys really get off undoing your bra!

These days I keep a couple of flirty ones around for those occasions that warrant one like when I want to tease or flirt with men, especially my husband or father. A couple of more modest ones are for more formal events such as church where I still want to wear something sheer or especially tight. At school as a teacher I'm required to wear one and so there it's more about comfort as I don't show off my bra to my students. Thus my underwear drawer has a lot more "practical" bras than most people might think. If I have to wear one all day then I may as well be comfortable. Keep in mind as a general rule the sexier the lingerie the less comfortable it is to wear.

Even though my boobs eventually grew to be something I'm more or less happy with these days, I'm fortunate that they remain firm enough that as a rule I still rarely wear a bra except to work. There IS one other time I usually wear one and that's on special dates just like I did back in my high school days. It's still amazes me how guys get so turned taking off a girl's bra, even when she's his wife!

Panties are a similar case. I wear them with extra short skirts so I don't get arrested for indecent exposure except on special occasions when I want to tease. I've also found that guys seem to like a little mystery more than blatant exposure. For whatever reason getting a peek of my panties up my skirt seems to be more erotic than a glimpse of my bare pussy unless you're a Hollywood actress trying to draw attention to yourself as you get out of your limo. Like bras, guys especially seem to love it then when they get to remove your panties.

There are a few times when I definitely wear panties, one being during my period, especially if I'm having a heavy flow. That's just a matter of basic hygiene and cleanliness. I also wear panties to work with my bra. The school administrators would not be amused if I showed up looking slutty - at least not officially. Finally there are just some clothes where panties are more comfortable like tight jeans which can rub your crotch raw if you go commando all day.

What I wear for panties depends on why I am wearing them. At school it's the same situation as it was for bras so it's all about comfort. Thus full cut boring cotton panties work best unless I'm wearing a tight skirt or pants where something more discreet is warranted as I HATE panty lines. If I'm with friends for a sleepover or just a girls night out then loose boy shorts are my preference. In church it's something more formal, a high cut thong with a more full back and front seems more appropriate. A skimpy thong or G-string works when the whole point is to flirt and let a guy THINK you're not wearing panties until he finally gets a close enough view to find out that yes, you are. I wonder how many guys realize just how complicated it can be for a girl to choose the right panties? LOL

Q: Do you like pantyhose?

A: Really, find me one girl who honestly says she ENJOYS wearing them versus resigned to it. As a general rule women wear pantyhose for only ONE reason - they make your legs look better. OK, sometimes they help keep you a little warmer in winter as well but that's not the primary reason. As a matter of etiquette I typically wear pantyhose for formal events, especially when wearing a particularly short skirt or dress. That's especially true in winter when I don't have a tan and my legs look pale. So in short, I HATE pantyhose but YES I wear them.

Q: Do you consider a blowjob to be "sex"?

A: By definition "sex" is the penetration of a female vagina by a male penis regardless of the depth of penetration. Yes, tips count for you guys eying young girls! Since that doesn't happen during a blowjob then it goes without saying that blowjobs are NOT sex. William Jefferson Clinton is famous for saying, "I did not have sex with that woman." While technically he was telling the truth I think most people were more worried about his intent which is a totally different issue.

When I'm sucking a cock I certainly enjoy doing it but when I compare it to being fucked it's an entirely different experience both emotionally and physically. Unlike when I feel a man inside of me where I am getting just as much pleasure as he is, sucking a guy's cock is more me giving HIM pleasure. It's really no different than giving him a massage except that I'm using my mouth instead of my hand. As for me, I get the satisfaction of seeing the pleasure I'm able to give to him, not to mention the side benefits as most men will do most anything for a BJ!

I also enjoy the power a blowjob gives me over a man. Face it guys, when a girl has your sensitive dick between her teeth who's really in control? Making a guy cum using only my mouth can be quite the ego booster as well. Some guys claim they can't get off without a hand on their dick which I take as a personal challenge. I like to think that's because they've never had ME suck their dick!

Q: Is giving a blowjob an act of adultery if one or both of the partners is married?
A: Technically adultery is defined as the act of having sex when you're married with someone who is not part of your family without the knowledge and consent of your spouse. Therefore by letter of the law a blowjob is can't be adultery because it's not sex as I described in the previous question. Note that in order to commit adultery you also have to be married which is pretty obvious but worth pointing out. That said I'm pretty sure most wives wouldn't be happy if they found out about it so I don't recommend using this as an excuse if you're caught. My experience is that most wives don't give a damn about dictionary technicalities when they catch me sucking their husband's dick!

Q: Is adultery wrong?
A: YES, a thousand times YES! Adultery is ALWAYS wrong. After all it's one of the "Big Ten" written in stone! Because of the severity it's important to understand exactly what adultery really IS while at the same time it can be even more important to understand what it's NOT. Knowing the difference is why I can truthfully say I've never committed adultery and never will even though I have sex with men other than my husband.

As I mentioned previously, adultery is defined as the act of having sex with someone who is not part of your family without the knowledge and consent of your spouse. Another way to look at it is the key to adultery is not so much the ACT of sex but rather your INTENT when the sex takes place. Just because you have sex outside of your marriage doesn't mean you're committing adultery. It's only when you hide it from your spouse or do it against their wishes that it's a sin. Now I don't mean to say that EVERY act of sex has to be reported to your spouse like some sort of confessional. The point is to have their permission ahead of time so it's the agreements up front that are so critical in marriage. Oh by the way guys, that applies to a lot more than sex as well!

Another key element to keep in mind is that adultery is only wrong for the person committing it. That's why I always say a husband can't blame me for his actions. If a guy cheats on his wife with me then HE's the one committing adultery, not me. In that situation even though I'm married I'm not committing adultery because my husband's OK with me having sex with other people even if I don't ask him about it first or tell him later.

Q: Do you practice safe sex?
A: My mother put me on the pill as soon as I became interested in having sex so far as birth control goes that's what I've always depended on. As a rule I hate condoms and view them as being discriminatory against women. After all what difference does it make to a guy as he gets to ejaculate either way? It's the woman who gets cheated out of receiving his cum.

After our second child my husband had a vasectomy and I had my tubes tied. We'd agreed from the start that we would have two kids and while I'd hoped for a boy and a girl, God blessed me with two beautiful daughters for which I'm thankful.

Although I hate them I do insist that a guy wears a condom if I feel it's necessary to protect myself against disease. When I was in high school I didn't make most guys use a one as I figured the risks were small plus I was on the pill. Please, don't preach to me about STDs. I was very selective of my partners and I made a conscious decision in every case.

Along those lines people ask me if I have ever been impregnated by my father since he never uses a condom when we have sex. First, the very idea of that is repugnant to me but that's moot as my father simply CAN'T get me pregnant. My mother almost died of complications when she gave birth to me and so my dad had a vasectomy to be sure she never got pregnant again. Keep in mind my mom's definition of adultery is a little more stringent than mine so she never had sex with anyone but her own father after marry my dad (although I did find out eventually that in private she was doing my older uncle at times as well). Her father also had a vasectomy after having two daughters so it was never an issue. I'm not sure if she makes my uncle wear one but I'd bet she does.

Q: Does cock size matter?
A: Duh... of course it does! The only people who claim otherwise are the guys with small ones. Yeah, sometimes I'll tell a guy it doesn't matter but that's like a guy telling a girl that "anything more than a handful is a waste". While I'm trying to be polite it's still a line of crap.

That said, when a guy worries about cock size it tells me that he doesn't have a clue how to please a girl if he think just a big cock is going to do it. Of course a larger dick, at least up to a point, feels better simply because I can feel it filling me more. But to really please me all a guy needs to do is get the head in me far enough to rub against the multitude of nerve endings that are just inside of me.

In other words think of it like eating food. The taste and enjoyment comes from the taste buds in your mouth but the overall long-term satisfaction comes from the fullness of your stomach. Of course if you eat too much your stomach hurts! That's how it is with my pussy. It's the entrance to my pussy where all the action takes place so far as stimulation goes. The reason it feels good when a guy strokes me is that his cock acts like a violin bow playing over the "strings" just inside of me. When his cock pushes further in me then it's more the sensation that he is filling me up giving me a feeling of general satisfaction I also enjoy.

Most any cock size within reason can accomplish the first part. Maybe if I wasn't so tight a larger dick would be better but if anything TOO big a cock can hurt as it stretches me out to force its way inside of me. When it comes to filling my pussy the bigger the better to a point after which, like an overfilled stomach, there's such a thing too much of a good thing.

The one time when it really does matter to me that a guy is completely in me is when I have sex with my father. In those times though it's more about the emotional element than physical. I just love knowing he's all the way in me when he comes, like he wants to make me a part of him!

Q: Do you like anal sex?

A: NO! Do I really have to say more? Of course I do so here goes... While I don't mind my ass being licked and touched, my asshole is strictly one-way to anyone except me. I've experimented with my finger in the shower and hot tub and have actually come to enjoy it now and then when I masturbate. However, anal sex with a guy turns me totally off. I don't even like to discuss it. And yes, I HAVE done it several times so don't tell me to just try it.

********

Q: Have you had sex with a black guy or any other interracial sex?

A: First of all I don't like this question because it infers that I might choose who to have sex with based on their race. I've had sex with only a few black men but that's more due to lack of opportunity than by choice. I really don't care what color, age, or religion a guy is when it comes to sex as they all feel the same when they're in me and I can't see any difference with the lights out.

Q: Do you have sex during your period?

A: Sex during my period is more a question of hygiene than anything else. Face it, it can be a mess which is why I think most guys are turned off by it as well. I've never met anyone who wanted to have oral sex during my period and I doubt I would go for it anyway - it would be a little gross for me. I usually don't mind sex so long as we do it somewhere where it doesn't create a problem - obviously not on a couch or piece of furniture! Typically that means in bed with an old towel or blanket under me that can be thrown away afterwards. I find that missionary works best so you could say I'm a little less adventuresome during that time.

There are exceptions as some days I cramp and just don't feel well so naturally I'm not into sex at those times. As for whether it "heightens" anything... sex is 80-90% mental for me so I guess if it feels any different it's more because of the fact that I KNOW that I'm on my period more than from BEING on my period.

Q: What is your favorite position?
A: That depends mostly on the situation and who I'm with. As a general statement I like to start out on top - cowgirl style. Riding a guy gives me control over the depth of his penetration into me as well as the speed. Towards the end I'm a sucker for the good old missionary style, especially when he's planning to cum inside of me. It's the most intimate of positions for me and I have to admit I enjoy the feeling of submission as he literally mates me. In between, well that's as much up to him as anything. I like doggie, spooning, and just about anything that doesn't hurt me or involve anal penetration.

Q: What was your most memorable experience?
A: Well, if you're referring to my entire life, that's an easy question to answer. That would have to be the day when I accepted Jesus as my Lord and Savior. I was ten years old at summer youth church camp when my counselor led me in prayer and I dedicated my life to Jesus. I believe that experience is also part of the reason why I feel so strongly about wanting to work with youth. The impact my counselor's actions and behavior influenced me tremendously and she will always be someone I respect and admire. My hope is to have that same impact on another girl's life someday.

That said, I doubt when most people read that question that this was the answer they were looking for! I admit it was a bit of a trick question but at the same time before I answer the "real" question about my sex life I wanted to make a statement about something that means a lot to me. Had I worded it to be about my religious experiences I doubt most people would've bothered to read it.

So SEXUALLY I can say definitively that my most memorable experience ever was the day my dad fucked me for the first time. It was a pivotal moment in my life after which everything changed in ways that nothing else can or will ever match, even more than when I lost my virginity. Feeling my own father's incestuous erection entering me for the first time is something I'll NEVER forget! Then when he came in me... it's like it's imprinted in my mind.

********

Q: Do you masturbate? If so, how often?
Of course I do! Seems sort of a silly question actually. Really, who doesn't? I'm sure the number of true abstainers isn't nearly as large as the members of that group would like to think.

Masturbation comes natural to me, maybe because I was raised to view it as a perfectly normal and healthy outlet for my sexual energy. My parents did it frequently (especially my dad) and while they never did it deliberately in front of me at the same time they didn't go out of their way to hide it from me either. Doors were rarely shut in our house so whatever was going on in a bedroom or bathroom was no secret. I can remember many times growing up when I would see them and sometimes I even watched, especially when I was younger and more curious.

As I entered puberty my parents actively encouraged me to masturbate regularly simply so I could enjoy myself without embarrassment. I really don't understand it sometimes - almost everyone does it yet for some reason most people won't admit to doing it without being embarrassed. It seems to me that it would be a lot better to eliminate the taboos and let people openly enjoy it than having to sneak around feeling guilty about a perfectly normal human need that almost EVERYONE does.

As for how often... that depends on a lot of things. If I'm getting the real thing regularly then naturally not as much so maybe just once a day or so. Even then it depends on how satisfying it was as I've gone to bed after a full evening of sex and still felt the need to masturbate before I went to sleep. When there's nobody around to help, then maybe several times a day if I'm really horny. Mornings are probably my favorite time as when I wake up I'm almost always horny and a good rub before a shower is a great way to start the day.

One thing that most people don't seem to understand, especially guys, is that for me masturbation is NOT simply a substitution for sex. I really simply ENJOY masturbating! Even after a good evening of sex I sometimes do myself after my husband falls asleep simply because I like doing it. Some people seem to think that by saying they masturbate then they're confessing to not having regular sex. Not in my book - two different issues.

Q: What do you fantasize about when you masturbate?
A: That really depends on a lot of factors such as the time of day, where I am, etc. but primarily it's influenced by what I've recently done. Usually I dream about someone who recently fucked me. Sometimes I may fantasize about someone I saw at a church service that turned me on. When I chat with people I often get horny and think about what might happen if I were to meet with some of the sexier people I chat with. If there's one thing I do NOT fantasize about, it's porn. Real life is what turns me on the most, not fake sex with paid actors.

Q: What is your favorite fantasy?
A: First, let me make it clear that I do NOT consider fantasies as being things I dream about in anticipation of ever actually DOING them - that's dreaming, not fantasizing. A fantasy is just that - a fantasy. That means it's NOT necessarily something I would ever actually do. Some people have a problem separating reality from fantasy which is why we have so many perverts and child abusers running around. I understand my responsibilities as an adult and a woman and would never do anything for real that would bring harm or abuse to anyone.

OK, enough of the disclaimers. Actually I have a few fantasies which are quite a bit different from one another. I had a friend go to Amsterdam a few years ago and she told me about going into a theater where she watched a couple fucking on stage not three feet away from where she was sitting in the front row. Ever since then I've fantasized about me being that girl on stage. It makes me so hot to imagine me being watched by a hundred or so people, each and every one of them wishing they were the one fucking me instead of the guy who was actually doing me.

Finally, I like to imagine that somehow a man takes control of me be it by hypnosis or drugs such that I'm aware of what's happening but can't control myself. No matter what he tells me to do, I can't stop myself from doing it even though I am completely aware of what is happening. This fantasy is fun because it has so many possibilities - use your own imagination!

So as a final word, if nothing else then remember this... it's perfectly OK to fantasize about anything and by that I really mean ANYTHING no matter how disgusting or perverted. It's what you DO as a result of those fantasies that counts. If a guy ignores his wife sexually because he spends too much time fantasizing while looking at Internet then yes, those fantasies are bad.

Q: Why do you like to have sex with married men?

A: Marriage is a unique and special relationship where love and respect by both partners is essential. Personally I do NOT condone adultery. I've had many men write me and ask my opinion on how to cheat on their wives and in every case I've responded initially by encouraging them NOT to do so. Most men rationalize their behavior by saying their wife isn't interested in sex or she doesn't please him sexually to which I say, "It takes two".

Although in a perfect world men would not cheat on their wives, should a man choose to commit adultery then that's HIS decision and HIS responsibility. I feel NO responsibility whatsoever for the consequences he may face if his wife finds out. The ONLY way his wife could ever know about what he did with me is if he does something stupid.

I'm really not a vicious person and I honestly have no desire to hurt anyone or to cause marital problems. The fact a man is cheating on his wife is proof enough for me that severe marital issues already exist. I like to think that I'm providing him a means to realize his unfilled dreams and purge them from his system. Who knows, maybe having sex with me could end up HELPING their marriage! My hope is that I have saved far more marriages than have been hurt. Even if something bad does happen then odds were it was going to happen sooner or later with someone else if not me so it's not like I'm personally to blame.

Since the first time I has sex a married man at the age of fifteen I've found that having sex with someone else's a husband to be incredibly erotic more so than just "pleasurable". What I mean is that while normally I would claim that sex is 80% emotional and 10% physical, when doing it with a cheating husband it's 95% emotional and 5% or less about the physical side of sex, at least for me.

The reason for the heavy emphasis on the "emotional" aspects of sex is that when a husband is fucking me and I feel his cock inside of me, I know that his wife is sitting at home totally unaware that her husband is out fucking another woman. It makes me feel really good as a woman to know that her "loving" husband's lust for me is so intense that he's willing to violate his most sacred vows to her. It's such a turn on for me knowing that he's literally ready to sacrifice his marriage and family just for the opportunity to have sex with ME for a few hours. So it doesn't seem fair to blame me for feeling incredibly sexy and desirable in this situation.

It's not just having sex with him that turns me on either. Afterwards I'll often masturbate as I imagine him returning home and facing his wife with his adulterous dick still coated with my pussy cum as he kisses her goodnight and gets into bed with her. When he says he loves her does he think about what he just did with me? The next time they make love is it my pussy he remembers when he cums? When his wife turns up her nose at the thought of oral sex does he wish I was there to suck his cock once again? Does he feel guilty because he had sex me behind his wife's back? Will he ever be able to forget what he did with me or will I be a part of his life - and marriage, for the rest of his days? Does he masturbate thinking about how good it felt to feel my mouth on his dick and then drive his erect cock in me? As you can see it goes way beyond just the few minutes or hours we spend together.

One of my most memorable experiences with a married man was having sex with a husband while he was on the phone talking to his wife. Just as I felt him start to shoot his sperm inside my pussy he told his loving wife back home that he loved her more than anything and couldn't wait to be back home again. He kept repeating his love for her over and over as he came deep inside of me. As you might imagine it wasn't just his cock ejaculating in me that made me cum so hard! All I could think about was his wife smiling at home, thinking her loyal husband loved her when what he was really loving was the feel of my tight pussy clamping down on his adulterous erect cock as he pumped me with the sperm that SHOULD have been in her pussy instead!!

For a more complete answer see my article on sex with married men named "Appendix (B.4) FAQ - Married Guys".

Q: Do you like threesomes?

A: Outside of my family and ignoring sex parties I've only had sex with multiple partners a few times and two of those were with the same people. (my roomie Brenda and her older brother). Like I said, that ignores the parties I've been to where I've had sex with quite a few guys but those were just for my own sexual pleasure. I prefer being the center of attention but I fantasize a LOT about being with another couple, especially one where they've been married for a long time and had done anything like this before they met me.

Probably the times I enjoy a threesome the most are with my family. I remember being between my parents in their bed and how wonderful that was for me. Now I feel the same when I can be with my mom and my husband. I'd LOVE to be able to enjoy my husband and his mother together but unfortunately I doubt that will ever happen - long story...

Q: Why do you describe making love as "fucking"?

A: I try not to swear but I like use the "F" bomb to denote having sex with someone other than my husband. For example, I love my dad but he is my father, NOT my "lover". Thus my father "fucks" me instead of "making love" to me. Some people get turned off by the word "fuck" but as I said it's not my intent to be vulgar, just descriptive. The ONLY man I make love to is my husband. Period. Everyone else I fuck.

********

Q: You often mention porn. Do you watch it often?

A: Personally porn doesn't do much for me. I find watching a paid actor fucking a whore to be about as sensual and erotic as watching dogs do it (don't EVEN go there!). That's not to say I don't like nude photos and sex videos but only when they involve me or someone I know. Think of it like watching typical home movies. You don't mind watching your own but who really enjoys watching someone else's?

Over the years my dad has gathered a huge porn collection with more emphasis on videos since they became available. When I was growing up he would watch them on our large screen TV in the family room so yes, I was exposed to it at an early age. My mom didn't complain so long as there was nothing else on TV she'd rather watch and so I followed her example and still do today with my husband.

The one GOOD thing about porn is I've learning quite a few techniques from watching it, especially the "classics". The older porn stars from the 70's and 80's were particular instructive as they put on a show rather than just fucking the same way every time like the boring and repetitive "reality" porn of today. I mean does anyone really believe that those silly "casting" and "interview" porn videos are real?

Q: What is "off-limits" for you when it comes to sex?

A: Let me first differentiate between fantasy sex and reality to answer this. So long as it's just fantasy there's not much that's out of bounds for me. Even so I DO have limits. There are things I don't like under ANY circumstance, even fantasy. These would include scat or watersports or anything to do with bathroom sex in general as I find these topics disgusting. I also don't like bondage or anything where someone is being forced to do something they don't want. Child abuse is a 100% turn-off. Sexual contact of any kind with infants and toddlers grosses me out. Bestiality is not my thing either other than perhaps morbid curiosity. Other than that so long as it's purely fantasy I can't think of anything else that would offend me although I may not enjoy it.

Even though I may not enjoy hearing about it that doesn't mean I judge people or condemn them for whatever their fantasies may be no matter how gross or perverted. At the same time I insist on the same respect in that I don't have to listen to anything I don't want to either. It seems there is someplace out there for every form of fetish so find someone who is into it as a much as you are - just not me.

Real life is a different matter entirely. Anal is not something I enjoy and while I've allowed it to happen it wasn't like I asked for it and it was more something I had to put up under the circumstances. Rape is a horrible offense against a woman and I would NEVER participate or encourage it. Scat, BSDM, extreme pedophilia, anything to do with toilet-related activities... all things like these are NOT for me. Also, as I mentioned briefly before I have no desire to have sex again with any animal - what I've done already is more than enough to satisfy my curiosity.

Q: Do you like public sex? If so, where do you enjoy it the most?

A: Public sex can really be a turn-on, especially when I can see people around us but they don't know we're doing it like in a store standing behind a clothes rack looking out with him behind me. Restaurants are fun places to tease the waiters or drive-thru window servers. I love sex in the water at a crowded beach with people all around us and either not noticing us or if they do, not believing we're actually doing it. I'm not looking to be arrested but I love the look anywhere we do it if someone sees us and can't decide if it's really happening! Places like dressing rooms are OK but since there's no interaction with anyone else it doesn't reach the same level for me. I also enjoy it when we have sex and then go out and people can tell we did it, like I blow him in a theater and walk out with cum all over my face and hair . As I said, the key is to see how far you can go without getting arrested!

3. Incest

Q: Do you really have sex with your family?
A: In a word... YES. Like why do people make this out to be such a big deal? It's just sex after all, right? While I wholeheartedly believe in the value of incest when practiced properly you may find that my thoughts and opinions about it are not exactly what you might expect.

First and foremost I STRONGLY oppose child abuse. Unfortunately many people use incest as a rationalization for having sex with young girls and boys such that it starts and ends with one goal in mind - satisfying their own lust at the expense of another. This is not at all what I'm talking about as it has no relationship to what I call "true incest" which is based on love and respect. Of course lust and desire always play a role when it comes to any form of sex but those should be part of the benefits rather than the drivers.

Next, I believe that whenever possible everyone in the family should participate and do so willingly. Trying to hide what's going on from one of the kids or worse, a spouse or parent, can only lead to an atmosphere of distrust and deceit. This goes directly against what I described as my view of proper incest. Eventually they will find out and nothing good can result when it's rooted in deception. Even if they eventually decide to join in there will always be the memory of being left out and deceived. I have to admit that many of my own extended family are unaware of everything that goes on so I understand how this can be difficult. At the same time, seeing the difficulties imposed when this is the case just makes me want to encourage all the more to try and keep everyone involved.

It should go without saying that there is more involved here than just sex as there is the issue of the entire attitude toward sexuality and love that must be present. Therefore I do NOT believe incest can work in most family situations although for some when the right circumstances come together it can develop into a wonderful and loving relationship. I'm fortunate enough to have that type of relationship with my family. At the same time I'm not so naive as to believe that what I have would work for many other families.

To be on the safe side I generally advise anyone who asks me to NOT get involved with incest unless they were absolutely 100% sure that it would work as the consequences if it doesn't can be terrible. It's far better to err on the safe side than ruin people's lives - including your own.

Incest should be the RESULT of the love in a relationship, not the driver. As an example I love my parents and I know they loved me unconditionally as well. If I never had sex with them again I know in my heart that their love would not be one iota different than it is today. The key is that I do not NEED to have sex with my parents for them to know that I love them nor for me to know that they love me. I WANT to do it BECAUSE I love them and want to be the daughter I should be.

The point I want to conclude with is that I've had sex with my parents simply as a means to express my love in a way that all of us can enjoy and share with one another. Honestly, why should I NOT let my dad fuck me? Why deprive myself of the incredible sensations I feel when my own father is cumming inside of me? What could be more wonderful than lying in my bed with my father's cock throbbing inside me, my pussy filled with the sperm he's just given me, his arms around me holding me tightly against him in the most intimate manner way a father and his daughter can be together?

The same goes for when I'm with my mother. Our naked bodies pressed tightly together, our pussies rubbing against each other's, perhaps with a double dildo joining them, is simply the most wonderful way a mother and daughter can be together.

Enough said!!!!

Q: You claim to be a Christian so how can you have sex with your parents?
A: Actually the question is terribly misleading as it implies that as a Christian I should NOT be involved in incest. Personally I see it as exactly the opposite.
From Exodus 20 and the Ten Commandments:

Commandment #5: Honor thy father and thy mother: that thy days may be long.
Commandment #7: Thou shalt not commit adultery.

Before sending me a thesis correcting my interpretation of the Bible, this is how I feel about it and I'm NOT going to debate it... You see it seems pretty straightforward to me. I honor my parents, especially my father, by giving them everything I have which includes my body if they so desire. After all, what greater sign of respect and honor can a daughter give to her parents than to offer her own body in total submission without any restraints or conditions? It would be pretty hypocritical of me to claim that I truly honor and respect my parents if I was to deny my body to them.

The key to the following the 7th Commandment is to properly understanding the concept of adultery. The most simplistic definition which works for many people is to say that adultery is engaging in the act of sex with someone who is not your spouse. However, in many cases that is being overly simplistic can lead to misunderstandings.

First, such a simple definition does not address incest. In my view when you marry someone you "marry" into their family as well. Sex within a marriage is not adultery (duh!) so that would include having sex with everyone in your marriage "family".

Second, adultery is just a fancy word for cheating. Thus so long as you don't cheat then you aren't committing adultery.

The only conclusion must be that sex outside of marriage is OK so long as everyone agrees. Seems simple enough to me that if your spouse doesn't care, why would God?

Of course I realize that there many people disagree with my definitions and interpretations. Heck, my own mother is one of them. She raised me to believe that God clearly states that you shall NOT commit adultery no matter what the rationalization. For her that means it doesn't matter who on Earth agrees – God doesn't and he holds all the trump cards. Even so, even my mom had her own interpretations such that incest was not adultery. Until I agreed to marry my husband and found that he felt differently, I agreed with my mom because there was no reason to question her reasoning. However, now I'm a wife and thus what my husband says carries more weight than my mother's decrees.

While we may disagree on the technicalities, my mom and I DO agree on one thing and that is that adultery is wrong. The only difference is how we define it and who is to say which of us is right? Maybe we both are!

Q: Are you really married?

A: Yes. I'm married to Steve who was also my very first official boyfriend who took my virginity when I was fourteen and I can still say that it was the best thing I've ever done. Not a day goes by that I don't love being married to this guy more than the day before. Steve is the most loving and adoring husband any woman could hope for, not to mention almost being a caring father for our two beautiful daughters.

I truly believe in my heart that our marriage is blessed by God. How else could it have happened the way it did without His hand guiding us? When I was fourteen Steve had to leave me after we'd dated for only about six months when his mother was transferred to southern California. At the time I thought I'd never see him again and in fact he even married someone else for a brief time. It was annulled after less than a week and I like to think my appearance at the wedding had a lot to do with him realizing the terrible mistake he'd made. Then his mom was transferred back to Pittsburgh and the rest is history! It was truly a miracle by any definition.

Q: Does your husband know about your incestuous sex life?

A: Well duh! Of course he does. Like how could I possibly marry a man Hiding that sort of secret? Given that I could never abandon my obligations to my father there was no way I could marry a man unless he accepted that part of my life as part of the package. There's no way you can hide that sort of thing for long nor should you. Indeed, I learned THAT painful lesson from my Aunt Linda who tried that and look where it led – to a bitter divorce a couple of years later.

After a really bad past experience with another guy I thought was going to be my husband I didn't tell Steve anything until I was sure that he was about to propose to me. As much as he knew about my past sex life, this was the one thing he just couldn't believe and thought I was playing some form of practical joke on him. In the end I had to have him hide in the closet and watch while my dad fucked me in order to convince him.

Q: How does your husband feel about your family sex life?
A: Steve accepts it and has come to embrace it but he wasn't thrilled by it at first. By that I mean when we got married he acknowledged my spiritual obligations as a daughter and why I felt that must submit myself to my father as part of my religious beliefs. As important he also understood that what I do with my father is as his DAUGHTER and never as his lover or anything kinky or perverted. So long as he is the only man in the world who makes love to me, Steve can deal with my sexual involvement with my dad even though he isn't a part of it. It's always been a little ironic to me that while Steve normally goes out of his way to watch me having sex with other guys, the one man he prefers not watch fuck me is my own dad.

One benefit Steve gets by virtue of being married to an incest girl is that he's free to have sex with my mother, aunt and cousins as they are all part of our marital family even though they don't share a blood relationship

Interestingly my husband's younger brother and sister live together as a married couple. It's something I know both he and his mother had a difficult time accepting at first but family is family and so they have dealt with it and come to embrace it.

Given his feelings on the subject it's rather ironic that my husband was the first person I ever personally witnessed in a incestual act. ONCE back when we were dating he had sex with his mother but it wasn't like that opened the flood gates for an incestual mother-son relationship. In fact it seemed to create just the opposite effect as I never saw the two of them do it again until Father's Day last year. By the way, read my diary for 1999 (Oct 05) Chapter 8: My Boyfriend's Mom Joins In if you're interested in what happened back then between Steve and his mom.

Q: Will you have sex with your daughters?
A: I get asked this a lot and while I'd like to be able to answer definitively one way or the other I simply can't. My own life in the past couple of years is testimony to how so much can happen beyond what you may have expected.

For example until a few years ago I would've told you I'd never commit adultery. While I still haven't it's not the same as I would have thought back then when I was guided by a rather simplistic definition. My mom had taught me where wasn't allowed to give to my father for which I'll always regret. My hope is they will allow me to participate or at least watch. Still, all that's many years away so nothing for me to worry myself to death about now.

Q: Did your parents swing?
A: No, they never did, at least not once they were married. I find it intriguing to consider the underlying stereotyping that is taking place when people ask me this question. The assumption seems to be that just because they enjoyed incest that they must be immoral or otherwise sexual predators. Well, nothing could have been further from the truth! My parents were the most moral and decent people I know with the highest principles and ethics. They would never have had sex with anyone outside their immediate family as that would have been an act of infidelity in their eyes.

While I say "never", there WERE a couple of exceptions to this rule as my father is still a man and all men have urges that they can't always control. Interestingly enough each time involved best friends – my BFF Beth and my mom's best friend Tammy. These were truly exceptions to the rule and I think while my dad enjoyed it at the time, afterwards he felt extremely guilty. My mother, bless her heart, didn't condemn him or even try to stop him even when it happened right in front of her. Is it any wonder their marriage lasted over 25 years given that sort of love and understanding between them?

Q: Do you prefer having sex with your mother or father the most?
A: Tough question because there's no easy answer. After having sex with my parents for years now, I can honestly say that I love them both now more than ever. However sex is a completely different experience with each of them making it like trying to compare apples and oranges.

Sexually speaking I've spent the most time with my dad rather than my mom when it comes to sex, probably 95% or more in fact. While my mom enjoyed watching us at times because she knew what it meant to my dad and me to be together that way, only rarely did she actually get involved. That was important to me because people need to understand that in a healthy incestual relationship it's not about lust but instead it's an act of family love and respect. People who think we had threesomes every night are influenced by pornography and various web sites that cater to male fantasies. As such they don't understand the true emotions and ethics involved in "real" incest.

My father has always been wonderful to me and has provided me with everything I've ever asked for and more. I owe him so much for all that I have that I could never hope to repay him. He loves me unconditionally and while I know he doesn't expect anything from me in return at least I can give him the most precious gift I have - my sexuality.

From a biblical perspective it's my duty and obligation to submit to my father. I don't mean in some form of kinky dom/sub way but similar to the way I submit myself to God. NO, I do not worship my father, I'm just trying to make a point. No matter what the time or place I take great pride in that I've NEVER turned down my dad when he has needed me no matter how I was feeling or what I needed to do at the time. OK, so maybe I'm not nearly so good when it comes to other things but in terms of submitting myself to him sexually, I could never say no to him.

When it comes to sex with my dad I think it's vitally important for people to understand that we love each other as any father and daughter should. There has NEVER been anything kinky between us. By that I mean no pretending that we're "lovers" or anything even remotely perverted like that. He is my dad and I am his daughter - period. I wish people would realize that I don't fuck my dad just to have sex. Of course I enjoy it so there's an element of personal pleasure but I can get laid just about anytime I want so I don't need my dad to meet my sexual needs.

It's also crucial to emphasize that my dad has NEVER forced me to do anything and in no way has he ever abused me in any way. Was I "groomed" as some people have accused, I have to admit looking back now I was but it was with the best of intentions. Despite his desires before then he never pushed me to have sex with him. Instead, I was the one that initiated our first time not realizing that I was fulfilling one of his deepest wishes. I know that if I ever told him to stop he would not question me and that he would love me just the same. Simply put, I offer myself to my dad for his pleasure and sexual needs out of my love and respect for him.

The sexual relationship I have with my mom is totally different from the one I share with my dad which is why we rarely had sex as a family. My dad fucks me because he loves me as his daughter. Our sex is more physical in that mutual pleasure is our goal. With my mom there was a much deeper emotional fulfillment - for both of us.

You may have noticed that while I have a lot of diary stories about me and my dad, there are only a few of me and my mom. Having sex with my mom has always been an incredibly personal and intimate relationship; one I believe that is something unique that could only happen between a mother and her daughter. Although my relationship with my husband is similar in some ways, overall it's totally different because he's a man and my sexual mate.

I said that my dad is NOT my lover which is totally true. However when my mom and I have sex we become lovers in every sense of the word. It's incredibly passionate to the point where it becomes almost overwhelming. I love the feel of her warm naked body pressed against mine. Licking her hairy pussy, the same pussy where I was conceived and born is so erotic for me. When she runs her tongue on my wet musky pussy hole I think about how it's the same place her husband and my father loves to fuck me and it turns me on so much! These and more experiences fill my soul and complete me as a woman in a way not even my husband can do.

So who did I like better? Well it's a no-decision. Both of my parents are wonderful and I enjoy being with them both, each in their own way.

Q: Have you told anyone about your incestual relationships?

A: The only people who really know are some members of my family and my BFF, Beth. The only other time I've ever discussed incest outside of my family is on-line with people who do not know who I really am - also a good reason for not meeting them. There was one boyfriend to whom I revealed our family secret but he was involved with his sister at the time so it wasn't like he freaked out or anything.

Over time the discipline to avoid discussing it outside my family has become well ingrained in me. You may have noticed that in my diary I don't usually refer to my family when I talk about sexual experiences that occur outside of my family. For instance, in the story where when I talk about my first time with my roomie Brenda, I describe her as my "first" lesbian experience. This isn't 100% accurate as I was having sex with my mother and aunt for years prior to Brenda. Still, given that Brenda was the first girl outside of my family that I had sex with I consider her my "first".

Q: Were your parents involved in incest with their families?
A: My father's family comes from a traditional mid-west farming stock. Sex was not even discussed let alone openly practiced and incest would've been considered a sinful perversion in accordance with the laws of their strict Protestant upbringing. All that didn't stop my father and his brothers from being typical horny teenage boys. According to my dad all three of them had their share of "conquests" during their high school years and he considers it a miracle to this day that none of them got a girl pregnant. However, none of that included their mother!

As for my dad specifically, he first had sex when he was fifteen with a girl from school his age. After sowing his oats with a few more girls he started having sex with a fourteen year-old freshman who would someday be my mom. Unknown to my dad at the time, she and her younger sister each had their virginity taken from them by their father a couple of years earlier. My grandfather did my mom's younger sister the day after he first did my mom. My Aunt Linda was only in seventh grade at the time but it would've been hard to do one daughter without the other finding out. In any case, it's not like she was a virgin at the time.

It wasn't until my dad proposed that my mom revealed to him that it was her father who'd been her first and that she and her sister had been fucking their father regularly ever since, including the entire time that they'd been dating my dad. Needless to say he was a bit surprised!

My mom accepted his marriage proposal but only on the condition that he allow her to maintain her incestual relationships with her father and sister. Well, as open-minded and promiscuous as my dad considered himself to be, he was naturally a bit shocked at the news since incest was not something he was raised to even think about other than maybe during a few fantasies. He once told me that what helped him to accept it was that she told him that even though they got married he could continue fucking her sister since she was part of her family. They got married and things obviously worked out because as their marriage lasted over twenty five years.

Aunt Linda eventually married under the same conditions with her fiance that my mother had insisted on except for her things didn't work out so well. Her husband grew possessive and soon after my cousin was born he demanded that she stop fucking her brother-in-law and have sex only with him like a "normal" wife. They finally ended up divorcing over the issue although for obvious reasons the real cause for the divorce was kept confidential.

My grandfather died unexpectedly from a heart attack a number of years back so the only guy my mom had after that was my dad except for my dad's older brother Paul, a relationship she kept to herself through her entire marriage. It wasn't until he approached me and we had sex that I learned about it.

Prior to her generation my mom doesn't know of any other incestual relationships. Unfortunately even though she had sex with her dad she and he didn't have the same day-to-day relationship I enjoy with my father where we talked about everything and anything so if grandpa knew of anything, he never told her. Mom told me that she let her dad fuck her primarily because he was her father and she wanted to please him but wished she had the same emotional bond with him that I had with my dad.

My grandmother knew all along what her husband was doing with her daughters. She never participated in any way though as she did not enjoy girl-girl sex and frankly wasn't into seeing her husband fucking anyone else, especially their own daughters. My mom once told me that she wondered what it would have been like if they had a brother...

My mom and I have discussed her relationship with Grandma often over the years and I can tell she regrets that she never was as close to her mother the way I am to mine.

********

Q: Did you ever consider bearing your father's child?

A: Oh my god NO - a thousand times NO!

I mean no disrespect to those who have different feelings on the matter and indeed I know of several people who have had their father's child and it worked out well. I just ask that my own feelings be given the same respect and consideration.

So far as I'm concerned, just the thought of having a child with my dad is repulsive. If there's one thing I try to make clear to people is that no matter what I do or don't do with my dad, I am ALWAYS his daughter. I NEVER even role-play as his lover, concubine, mistress or whatever else you want to call it. I have sex with my father to please him and satisfy his needs because I love him and it's my duty as his daughter to do whatever it takes to honor HIM, NOT to bear his children.

Of course, the question is really moot until someone figures out how to reverse a vasectomy, LOL.

for him whenever he needed me most. As his daughter I always will be there for him no matter what inner demons he has to deal with.

Q: Should parents allow their children to watch them making love?
A: In theory I would have no problem with this as what better way for children to witness the love of their parents demonstrated so openly and clearly? However in real life things doesn't always go as they theoretically should. While I won't say that parents should never allow their children to watch them, I just don't think that it's proper unless they're old enough to understand. Even my parents who supported open masturbation shut their bedroom door when they made love.

Like many things in my life my principles and guiding ethics have changed over time, sometimes more than once for the same subject. Things I once was thought were dead wrong became less black and white when it came time to actually have to deal with those situation. For example I considered sex outside your family when married to be wrong until I was married and learned that was exactly what my husband expected of me. Similarly, I considered sex with any underage to be wrong until my father pleaded with me to go with him to a "family-friendly" sex party.

Yet in the end, when it comes to having our daughters watch us having sex the answer seems so obvious - NO! At their age it's just silly to even discuss it. Like how about just using a little common sense!

Q: Should parents allow their children to see them masturbating?
A: When it comes to doing things in front of people, including your kids, masturbation is a totally different concern than sex. Let's start with masturbation NOT being sex but just a natural reaction to the feelings and needs everyone experiences. Heck, even primates masturbate! As such it's not something that should be portrayed as being taboo or something shameful. Masturbation is a natural human reaction that just about everyone does so why teach your kids that they have to run off and hide when the need arises?

While I don't believe in hiding it, a little discretion and modesty never hurt anyone. For the most part I don't think the person doing it needs to make a show of it or draw undue attention to themselves if for no other reason than just to be polite and exercise good manners. Now if you're having sex and trying to turn on your partner, yeah that's different. Still, just because I might see a hot guy on TV and felt the need didn't mean getting down on the family room floor naked and frigging myself in front of my parents. They knew what I was doing on the couch between my legs so why make a big deal about it?

To me it's really a matter INTENT. While putting on a show for your kids would be rather perverted in my opinion, at the same time parents shouldn't have to refrain from masturbating just because their kids are around. Yes, it may be a pretty fine distinction but to me it's an important one.

For now I masturbate the same as I ever have, whether or not my daughters are present. So far there hasn't been any interest shown nor would I expect there to be any at their age.

Q: What should parents teach their kids about sex?

A: As a general rule when it comes to learning anything about their bodies and sexual natures I believe the best source is always the parent. That means not the schools and definitely not in church where far too many different and conflicting agendas are in play. While I agree that sex education serves a purpose in public school, it's only a necessary evil as far too many parents abstain from their responsibilities. In such cases it should be limited to the physical concerns including avoidance of STDs and pregnancy and NOT deal with moral and ethical issues.

It's crucial that children learn about sex as soon as possible taking into consideration their maturity and family status. At the same time there's no need to teach a six-year old boy about masturbation when he doesn't have a clue what you're talking about and can't relate to the feelings you're trying to describe. Later when he starts to show signs of being interested in what's "down there", that's when his father should instruct him about the "birds and the bees" which should include masturbation. And yes, I'm a little old-fashioned in that I believe a father should teach his son and a mother her daughter.

The same applies to girls. No girl should be made to suffer the indignity and humiliation of having her first period in school without knowing what to do but yet I can tell you from experience that very thing happens much too often. When she approaches puberty her mother should teach her about sex, including masturbation. It also wouldn't hurt to explain sex and how to make her first time an enjoyable and memorable experience, not like what happens to way too many naive girls. Safe sex for both sexes should be a MUST when it comes to discussing sex, including how to use a condom and other available birth control options.

Q: Should kids be allowed to have sex with their friends in their home?
A: Assuming they're all old enough to know what they're doing then why not so long as it's THEIR idea and not due to any influence from me or my husband. For obvious reasons I would NOT join in but I would feel better if I was nearby to supervise and even provide some discipline or advice if necessary. For me, I'd much rather know my daughter was getting laid up in her bedroom where she can be safe and comfortable than in the back seat of a car or who knows where else. While I wouldn't want her boyfriend to feel TOO intimidated, I don't think it hurts for the boy to know her parents are around to take of things if he doesn't behave himself and act like a gentlemen.

If they wanted to masturbate with their friends around us I wouldn't say anything but I honestly doubt anything like that would ever happen. I'd just hope that my kids would know that it was OK if they DID, even if they never did it.

Q: Will you masturbate or be nude around your daughter's friends?
A: I seriously doubt that anything like that will ever happen just from a personal privacy and potential liability concerns. Personal privacy in that I don't run around nude now so what would be the point? Liability in that I doubt it would take long for the rumors to start flying and who knows where that might lead. Really, when you come down to it I just can't see any good that can come out of doing that.

Q: When you chat and e-mail, you ask a lot of questions about underage sex and even seem at times to push the person into doing something involved with it, even if it's just fantasy. Why is that?
A: One of the reasons I publish my diary is to have fun by interacting with different people. I find it interesting to see what people will say and do when I "suggest" or prompt them. In many cases it's amazing how their "experiences" seem to follow along with the questions and comments I make. (Yes, that was meant to be satirical.) Please bear in mind that I never initiate contact with anyone. The only people I discuss such things are those who contact me first and express an interest. I just follow the openings given to me. Am I playing head games? Well duh, of course and I freely admit it. It's fun!

In the end, as far as I'm concerned it's all just talk. I've never going to meet anyone I chat with so what's the big deal? Whatever THEY choose to do is entirely up to them and I have no desire to get physically involved or for that matter, ANY way involved if they're going to do anything with an underage daughter or similar situation. They can TALK about it but once they start DOING something then I'm through with them.

5. Home, School and Church

Q: What are the three top priorities in your life?
A: Easiest question of them all!
#1 – God
#2 – Family
#3 – Friends

For those who have accused me of being addicted to sex, notice it didn't even make my Top Three list! My writings focus on the aspect of my life that most people are interested in, NOT the most important one. Face it, would you read my diary if it was all about Christianity?

********

Q: Do you have any children?
A: Yes, two beautiful daughters. We decided long ago to limit it to two kids, regardless of their sex so while I was hoping for a son I accept the gifts we've been given from God. Now that our family is complete both Steve and I have been "fixed" which does make life a whole lot easier!

Q: When were you saved?
A: I was ten years old at a summer church camp. The last night after the evening service I went to my counselor and asked her to help to me to pray to be saved. She kneeled beside me and I gave my life to Jesus and have never looked back since. While I may submit myself in a physical way to a man, he will NEVER have my soul as it's permanently in Christ's hands.

Q: Do you have any hobbies?
A: I enjoy crafts and I have one unusual hobby, at least for a girl. My dad has always been into model radio-controlled airplanes and he got me interested when I was started high school. I really am not the best pilot in the world (ask my dad how many planes he's had to climb a tree just to salvage the parts!) As the only girl in the club I do get a lot of attention and everyone is very helpful!

********

Q: What is your favorite place/activity to unwind and relax?
A: Nothing beats slipping nude into the blazing hot water in my dad's hot tub late at night with the lights out, the stars shining, and a full moon on the horizon. Mmmmmmm, the hot water, pulsing of the jets, and beautiful view mesmerize me sometimes!

On a more practical note, for my everyday needs I LOVE to masturbate – sometimes three or more times a day. Feels so good and what a stress reliever!

Q: What is your favorite place to visit on vacation?
A: Unfortunately, with my parent's professional schedules we never seemed to travel to many places. Now that I'm married I hope to rectify that. For now, I would say Cedar Point in Ohio is probably my all-time favorite place. Kennywood in Pittsburgh is fun and convenient too, especially on community day when I know many of the people there.

Q: What is your favorite type of restaurant and meal?
A: Chinese with a Mongolian Buffet. I love mixing up my own dish and seeing it cooked in front of me spiced just the way I want it. Chicago pizza and hot wings is great for party food. Godiva chocolate ice cream is to die for when I feel the urge to splurge!

Q: Why did you choose to go to college out of state?
A: Actually I was accepted at three schools in three different states. One wanted everyone to get married – too overbearing even though they offered maid service and a free laptop. Another was farther away than I wanted to be plus they were a bit on the strict side – dancing was only allowed there starting a few years earlier! The one I chose had an excellent teaching curriculum and was only a few hours from Pittsburgh.

Q: How did you reconcile your Christian faith with your lifestyle?
A: I have a VERY strong Christian faith and I've always been active in my church. I've taught Bible studies and help to lead a junior-high youth group. I encourage abstinence and if that doesn't work, safe sex. Above all I believe the Bible teaches personal responsibility which means sex should never result in unwanted babies, broken marriages, etc.

OK, we could have a long debate on Leviticus but what would be the point? Anyone quoting it to me had better be ready to explain to me why they choose just the passages that apply to their argument and not the entire book. Leviticus was a set of rules for the Jewish nation that had no constitution or civil laws. They lived their lives governed by religious law. We can debate how the New Testament and Old Testament relate but frankly I leave that for my professors and pastor. If you don't agree with me already then there's probably no point in even discussing it.

These are the principles that guide my behaviors. I'm not trying to judge or condemn anyone for cheating on their wives - indeed some of my favorite guys to chat with are doing exactly that! I recognize that many marriages do not work and that spouses seek other outlets but that is another discussion entirely. Some of my hottest fantasies and experiences have involved married men. I love the feeling I get knowing that I'm sexy and desirable enough that a married man wants me so bad that he will forsake his vows to his wife and risk his career and marriage just to have me for a few hours.

In the end sex should be a fulfilling experience; one which glorifies the body and soul given to you by God. I love sex and I intend to experiment and pursue as many opportunities as I can.

Q: Why did you become a teacher?
A: I've always done well in school so from the scholastic side of it I enjoy being in a school environment and being in class. I love working with kids and knowing I'm having a positive influence in their lives.

********

Q: You're about to be marooned on a deserted island and can choose just 5 things/people to have with you. Food and water are plentiful and there's even a hut to live in. What/who would you want to have with you?
A:
1. My Bible
2. My husband
3. My daughters
4. My parents
5. A computer with a high-speed internet connection

Q: Did you change your lifestyle while teaching at a Christian school?
A: Not really. After all, wasn't like I would tell everyone there what I did at home or anything like that. I dressed very conservatively, as required, and would never have even considered doing anything risque while at work. I'm 31 now and I think in some ways I've matured and grown more responsible and would have changed regardless of where I work.

Q: Do you feel you are a positive role model for your students?
A: Absolutely. I would never tell other people's kids about my sex life. That would be inappropriate and disrespectful at best, illegal and corrupting at worst. When I talk to young girls privately I always encourage abstinence first but if they're already involved then I try to make sure they're at least protecting themselves. I always strive to be professional and respect the desires and principles of their parents, not to mention the rules of the school and the law.

Q: Would you ever do anything sexual with any kids in your class?
A: Let me make this perfectly clear... I would NEVER consider doing ANYTHING unprofessional with ANY student. I never tease or otherwise "accidentally" allow anything to show. Such acts would be quickly noticed and reputations established that would lead to my dismissal and possible arrest. Of course there are a lot of cute kids in my classes and I'm sure a number of them will grow up soon into hot girls and hunks. To be completely honest I've had my fair share of fantasies at home while alone in bed but that's all they are - fantasies. That said, in real life NOTHING has or will ever happen with a student of mine of ANY age - period.

Family: The members of your immediate family out to and including aunts, uncles and first cousins whether by blood OR marriage. DNA doesn't makes a family - it's the relationships that count. For instance if someone is adopted then they become part of the family. When two people marry their families are merged into one based on the marital relationship and all are treated as members of the same family.

Incest: The act of sex between members of the same family. Based on my definition of family sex between in-laws is also incest. If two people marry and each has kids from a former marriage then sex between their step-children would now become incestual whereas it wasn't before they got married. Incest is all about the family regardless of how that family is created.

Adultery: When a married person has sex with someone not in their family (as defined above) with the intent of cheating on their spouse. Three important points to consider, ALL of which must be met to Be charged with committing adultery...

1) It's the INTENT that determines whether sex becomes adultery.

2) You can't commit adultery unless you're married. If you're single and have sex with a married person without the consent of their spouse, THEY are committing adultery, not you.

3) Incestual sex does not constitute adultery as by definition, sex is already "approved" between family members.

Oral "Sex": At its core, sex is fundamentally a reproductive act even though most of the time that's not the intended purpose. Thus by definition "oral sex" is NOT sex. Because it's NOT sex engaging in "oral sex" cannot be considered adultery OR incest. Using the same logic means that "anal sex" is not sex either.

2. Questions and Answers

Q: What is your view on marriage and adultery?

A: I firmly believe that marriage is a sacred institution blessed by God. A man and woman pledge their lives to one another "until death do you part" (don't even get me started on some of the new wedding vows that omit this!). I believe this establishes a promise to be faithful to your spouse for the rest of your life.

The key here is to define precisely what is meant by marriage and adultery. According to my definition of "family" I believe when you marry someone you also "marry" their family. Family is EXTREMELY important to me and is reflected in my definitions.

Let me make this clear - adultery is a sinful act which defiles marriage. I don't condone it nor do I ever intend to commit adultery. If my husband commits adultery I'll neuter him first and then divorce him.

Q: What do you mean by "someone outside your family"?

A: Marriage is more than just a relationship between a man and a woman. Just as a husband and wife vow to be faithful to one another their entire lives, in a healthy family the members support and love one another in the same way. Admittedly this may be unfair in some people's eyes as they had no choice about the matter, e.g. "I didn't marry my brother-in-law", but that's the way I believe God intended it to work. Unfortunately because of the self-will granted to us by God not everyone follows God's plans for us and so in many families this closeness and fidelity is missing.

Family units that are truly in sync with God's plans often find the result is not only an emotional bonding but a physical one as well. By this I mean not just hugging and pecks on the cheek but sexual. Most families have deviated from the path set for them and in some cases taken a 180 degree turn. Because of man's perversions this has resulted in cases where sexual relationships are maintained yet the love and intimacy necessary to maintain the respect and discipline needed are missing. Thus an imbalance is created which is why the word "incest" has come to describe these perverted families where children are abused and lives destroyed.

Fortunately there are families where belief in God, love, respect, and discipline combine to form a balanced union where sexual relationships are simply a natural result of the family dynamic. I'm fortunate to enjoy being a part of such a family.

Q: Why do you like to have sex with married men?

A: Marriage is a special relationship where love and respect by both partners is vital. Personally I do NOT condone cheating. Let me say it again in a slightly different way... I do NOT condone adultery as I define it. Although in a perfect world men would not cheat on their wives or vice versa, should a man choose to break the oath he took with his wife before God then that's HIS decision and HIS responsibility. I feel NO responsibility whatsoever for the consequences he may face as the only way his wife would ever find out is if he told her or he did something stupid like leave his e-mail open.

To be clear I have no desire to hurt anyone or to cause them marital problems. My hope is when someone is cheating it merely means severe marital problems already exist so if anything maybe getting it out of his system with me will help. Yes, I like to think that having sex with me can actually result in HELPING their marriage! In fact I've had several men tell me that even just chatting with me, doing tributes, etc. has helped renew their sexual interest in their wives. Imagine if their wives knew the real reason why their husband has been so horny when he gets in bed with them!

I've had many men write me and ask my opinion on how to cheat on their wives. My initial response is usually to encourage them NOT to do so. Many men try to rationalize their behavior by claiming their wife isn't interested in sex. All I have to say to that is, "it takes two".

For me having sex with a married man is far more an erotic experience than merely physically pleasurable. What I mean is that while normally I would claim that sex is typically 80% emotional and 20% physical, when doing it with a cheating husband those numbers move to 95% emotional and 5% or less about the physical side of sex.

The reason for the heavy emphasis on the "emotional" aspects of sex is that when a husband is fucking me and I feel his adulterous cock buried inside of me, knowing his clueless wife is home totally unaware her husband is enjoying sex with me is what turns me on the most. It makes me feel really good as a woman to know that her supposedly loving husband lusts for me so deeply that he's willing to violate his most sacred vows to her. Think about it... He's literally willing to sacrifice his marriage and family just for a single fleeting opportunity to have sex with ME for just a few hours. How can anyone blame me for feeling incredibly sexy and desirable in this situation? I'm sure your ego would be boosted just as much if you were in my shoes.

It's not just the sex that turns me on either. After he leaves I'll usually masturbate while thinking about him returning home and facing his wife with his adulterous dick still coated with my pussy cum as he kisses her goodnight and slips into bed beside her. I wonder if he says he loves her while thinking about what he did with me. The next time they make love I know it's my pussy he remembers when he cums. When his wife turns up her nose at the thought of oral sex he remembers how I was there to suck his cock. I know he can never forget what he did with me and I be a part of his life for the rest of his days. Knowing he will masturbate thinking about how good it felt to fuck me is such a turn-on for me. As you can see, it goes way beyond just the few minutes or hours we spend together - for both of us.

One of my most memorable experiences was having sex with a husband while he was on his cell phone talking to his wife on speakerphone. She'd called while we were in bed at a local hotel so he had to take it or she might wonder why he didn't answer. Just as I felt him start to shoot his adulterous sperm inside my pussy I heard him telling his wife how much he loved her. As you might imagine it wasn't his cheating cock ejaculating inside of me making me cum so hard. I was imagining his wife smiling at home, thinking that her supposedly loyal husband really loved her when what he was really loving was the feel of my tight pussy clamping down on his adulterous erection as he filled me with the sperm that SHOULD have been in her pussy!!

OK, so I realize that this may all seem a bit contradictory, confusing, and maybe even a little hypocritical. It's a difficult concept to explain yet hopefully as you think about it more you'll understand it's not really all that complicated. Just remember I honestly encourage husbands to remain faithful to their wives and in a perfect world there would be no married men running around begging to fuck me. However we all know that's not the case so if a husband chooses to cheat on his wife then it may as well be me as anyone else. One thing for sure though is I would NEVER want his wife to know about it, even if she deserves it which frankly I think is usually not the case. I would feel tremendously guilty if I was the reason for any marriage to fail.

Q: Doesn't assisting a man to commit adultery make you feel guilty?
A: In a word... NO. in two words... absolutely NO. If a man chooses to cheat on his wife then it's 100% HIS decision and HIS responsibility. I don't put a gun to his head nor force him to do anything. I feel no responsibility whatsoever for whatever consequences he may face since the only way his wife would know about anything is if he told her or otherwise screwed up as I certainly never would. Finally, it takes two to make a marriage work so maybe if the wife was satisfying her husband then he wouldn't be out looking for someone who can.

Q: Do you want their wives to know?
A: No! I'm not at all interested in married threesomes unless there's something special about it. Besides, if the wife knows and is OK with it then what's the point? In those situations I may as well get laid by a single guy!

Q: Do you condone adultery?
A: Absolutely NOT! I believe strongly in the sanctity of marriage and I sincerely wish that every marriage was strong and faithful. For better or worse the simple fact is that most aren't. I have NO desire to do any harm to a healthy marriage but when a man makes the decision to betray his wife then obviously there are deep-rooted issues that didn't start with me. So husbands please stay true to your wives! But if you can't for some reason then look me up!

Q: How do you feel about the husbands you have sex with?
A: Frankly any man who cheats on his wife has deep character flaws that most likely extend beyond his willingness to break his word. While I don't have to respect the man to enjoy being fucked by him I could never have anything to do long-term with a man who cheats on his wife with me. This is one of the main reasons I never go out with a married man twice, not to mention I have no desire to be someone's mistress. There may be excellent reasons rationalizing his behavior but none that forgive it.

Q: What would you do if your husband had sex behind your back?
A: Easiest question of them all! I'd neuter him, kick him out of the house, and then divorce him taking every cent he has! Fortunately I love my husband and submit to his sexual needs. He knows that he's free to have sex with anyone he wants so long as he doesn't cheat on me. Thus I'd like to think there's no reason he would ever feel the need to cheat.

********

Q: What do you NOT like about having sex with married men?
A: The only negative thing is that I can't respect a liar and adulterer.

Q: Once a man cheats, is he branded forever in your eyes?
A: Everyone makes mistakes and just because a man made a wrong decision in the past doesn't mean he can't see the error in his ways, repent and be forgiven. My goodness, isn't forgiveness the very core of Christianity? I have no issues with a man who tells me that he once cheated on his wife no matter many times he did so long as now he realizes that he was wrong to do so and has sought forgiveness from his wife and God.

Of course that all goes out the window the moment he fucks me. Once a guy has fucked me I really don't want anything to do with him again at least from a purely sexual perspective. In most cases these are men I know, usually when from church, so I still have to interact with them socially.

********

Q: Would you be willing to have sex with a married man more than once?
A: Thinking it over, the only way I could see this happening would be if two conditions were met:

1. He would have to be a really good friend. I mean more than an on-line chat buddy. We wouldn't necessarily have to date although that would be best. Maybe we could just know each other in a platonic relationship such as co-workers at church or something like that. The point is that I would have to like being with him WITHOUT having sex first.
2. His wife would have to consent. I don't mean join in and for goodness sakes the LAST thing I want is a couple looking for a three-some. OK, maybe one time but that's all. When I say consent I don't mean that HE tells me she's OK with it. I mean SHE tells me she is and does so face to face so I'm positive that she understands her husband is going to be fucking me. In this type of situation I'd rather she not be there when we have sex but I want her to know what her husband is doing and agree with it.

As I said, both conditions would have to be satisfied and I imagine it's the second one that would prove to be the major obstacle. As such, I wouldn't start meeting a guy just in HOPES that the second condition might someday miraculously happen. Even if both conditions are met I would still have to really think it over and feel assured it was something he wanted to do out of respect for me, not just to fuck a girl half his age. Odds are it wouldn't happen anyways.

Granted, the odds of both conditions being met are pretty astronomical, which is why I usually make the general statement that I only fuck married guys once. However who knows what might happen in the future!!

(B.5) FAQ - The Group

Story codes: MF FF Mf Mg Fm Fb incest
Updated: April 27, 2018

In a number of my diary entries I discuss "The Group". Rather than having to explain it each time I thought it would be easier to just write it out once and then refer to this when the topic comes up.

Q: What is "The Group"?
A: As everyone has been made painfully aware of by the increasing number of data breaches and other security problems, one of the biggest problems facing families and couples looking to meet with people that share similar interests is privacy. Anyone who trusts an on-line web site when looking to hook up with others is simply a fool. Thus the purpose behind "The Group" is to serve as a means to safely and securely bring people together who have interests that are not always "politically correct" as well as being illegal in most countries.

Q: What type of "interests" do the people in this group have that requires such a high level of privacy and security?
A: First of all, this is NOT an Ashley Madison type of thing where people are encouraged to cheat on their partner/spouse or that sort of thing. It's not a dating site. The group brings together couples and families that share sexual interests which are beyond the norm of what our society publically accepts. This includes couples swapping partners and families sharing with other families. Essentially it's a group of married couples people brought together by certain common sexual interests. The primary "mission" of the group is to promote healthy, fulfilling marriages by allowing couples to engage in sexual activities that require a high degree of privacy, security and safety.

Q: So just what sorts of sexual activities does the group promote?
A: While I said the central focus of the group was to promote marriage, there are plenty of "marriage encounters" and other such organizations that deal with communications and other aspects of marriage life. What the group focuses on instead is what those organizations do NOT cover, and in most cases even discourage such as sex outside of marriage. That includes sex with other married couples and their immediate families.

Q: But aren't you against adultery?

A: Yes and that's an EMPHATIC yes. Adultery is an abomination and an affront to God and your spouse. It is a violation of one of the most sacred vows a person can make – their marriage vows. It is perhaps the most dishonorable and horrific act any person can make as they are breaking a promise made to God and their spouse in front of their family and peers, often in the house of the Lord.

As with most things in life, the devil is in the details or in this case, the definition. Just what IS adultery? To some people it's pretty black and white – sex with anyone but your spouse. However that brings up a number of problems as well. Just what constitutes "sex"? Yeah, penetration of a vagina by a penis is a pretty easy call but what about a blowjob? A hand job? Groping? Is "lust in your heart" an act of adultery in that all it takes is the thought and/or desire even if no action is taken?

Here is MY definition of adultery which addresses these points. Please don't even try to debate this with me as I fully recognize many people will disagree with me and frankly, I don't care. Who's to say who is right and wrong anyway?

Adultery is the act of sex outside of your marriage family without the consent of your spouse where sex is defined as the penetration of a vagina by a penis and your "marriage family" is everyone in your immediate family out to and including first cousins whether by blood OR marriage.

OK, so that's pretty wordy but as I said before, the devil is in the details. The one essential point to bring out is that it has to be without the consent of your spouse to be adultery. After all, if my husband is OK with it then why would it be wrong? Another important point to make is that incest under any circumstances is never adultery so long as your spouse is OK with it.

As only married couples are allowed to join the group and both parties must be agreement there's never any issue with spousal approval. Thus nothing that happens within the auspices of the group which would constitute adultery which is just fine with me. As for what might happen OUTSIDE the sphere of influence of the group... who knows and frankly, who cares? It's nobody else's business.

always between two couples. They exchange partners and it results in a much more intimate experience, often lasting the entire night. The Group supports swapping and if anything is even more restrictive in that only married couples may participate as they tend to be more stable than those just dating.

Q: Why are only married couples are allowed?
A: You may as well ask why does any club or group have membership Requirements. Members join and stay based on the club meeting their needs and expectations. There are plenty of opportunities in this world for singles to engage in all sorts of sexual activities. Indeed, my best friend Beth used to take me to her parties where the requirement was just the opposite in that you had to be single and your girlfriend or boyfriend couldn't even come with you. The Group was created to meet the needs of married couples so the rules and events are tailored to that demographic.

Q: Given the changes in our culture and society in general, how do you define "marriage"?
A: For the purposes of this group, marriage is the legal union of a man and a woman as recognized by the State of Pennsylvania. Again it's back to how you want to define your membership and the purposes behind your group in the first place. Nobody is saying that the membership opposes the lesbian or gay communities, legal "unions" and such. What you do outside the group activities is entirely up to you as well. For instance while I certainly prefer men as a sexual partner I also enjoy being with women at times. The point is I don't look to the group to provide me with a female partner and while attending group activities I resist such temptations and enjoy the moment for what it is.

Q: By families, are you implying incest?
A: Actually quite the opposite. Incestuous sex is not allowed during any group-sponsored events. The reason for this is that there are many couples interested in sharing their kids with other parents but don't believe in incest. Rather than having to deal with too many different factions, it was decided early on that incestuous sex would not be allowed at any events. Of course this rule, like all others in the group, only applies during group-sponsored activities. It's not like we try to impose edicts on people as to what they do or don't do in their personal lives.

Q: How do you get into The Group?
A: Don't bother Googling it - it's by invitation only. In fact, The Group doesn't use traditional web sites at all to communicate. Most people don't realize that the World Wide Web is NOT the entire Internet but rather just one of many functions that use the Internet. People were communicating using the Internet for decades before WWW came about. While I don't really understand the technical details, all I know is I'm told our communications are VERY secure.

Q: So I somehow manage to get invited. Now what?
A: First you have to decide which of the two factions to join - the couples group or the family group. Of course if you don't have kids ages eleven - fifteen then you only have one option - the couple groups. For them it's easy - just present a valid marriage license and agree that BOTH of you will participate. It doesn't matter if you have kids or not Or what their ages are as they won't be allowed to participate regardless of their age.

Q: So we choose to be in the couples group. What next?
A: First you fill out the application form and yes, it's VERY detailed and extremely personal. Someone once compared it to applying for a Top Secret security clearance. We want to know everything about you including your finances. And yes, everything IS verified by a private security firm although they have no idea WHY you are being investigated.

Assuming your application form is approved then there is an interview with a group representative. Only a few of the long-term female members are allowed to conduct these. The idea is to weed out those who aren't really prepared and just want to experiment. We want people to join who are in it for the long haul, not just a weekend tryst.

Provided the interview goes well then there is the final stage - the video. The purpose of this step is three-fold. First, we want to be sure people aren't shy in front of a camera as all group activities are recorded by a number of video cameras. These cameras are strictly for liability protection in the event someone reports a problem. The recordings are never made public or even shared between group members but they are retained permanently.

everyone in school knew she was one of “those” girls. You need to remember, lesbianism wasn't as acceptable back then as it is now. Once I married your dad, other than my sister I didn’t do other girls – not even Tammy, until this past summer – as you well know.

Kelly: Do you keep in touch with Tammy?
Mom: Unfortunately, some years back Tammy's husband was transferred to the Oregon coast. Since then we have relied mostly on phone calls to keep in touch but we still manage to meet each other at least once or twice a year for a week or so. Tammy's husband travels a lot so she uses his frequent flier miles to get either her or me a plane ticket.

Kelly: When did you meet and date Dad?
Mom: Actually my friend Tammy dated my dad first and she even gave her virginity up to him. Because me and Tammy hung out together a lot, John got to see me quite a bit and he saw me at first as just another opportunity for yet another "notch" on his belt. Today I know that he loves me dearly but even he admits that at the time he just saw me as another potential sexual conquest.

It wasn't until a few months into the next year though that he made a move towards me. I guess he had a good thing going with Tammy who was putting out for him and his friends whenever they wanted it so knowing they were best friends, he didn't want to do anything to threaten his easy source of teen pussy. Being a typical horny guy, eventually he wanted something fresh and new so he asked me out. I knew he was dating Tammy so at first I didn't accept but he pushed and finally I reluctantly agreed.

Knowing what he and Tammy were doing, it didn't come as any surprise that our first date was at an old drive-in movie where he started groping me within minutes of parking. Needless to say he was surprised to find I wasn't a virgin but I told him I really was but that I had gotten carried away with a dildo and broke my hymen. Boys will believe anything! Needless to say it was different for me to be fucked by a boy from school than by my father and I naturally wanted more of it! There was a rough period at first with Tammy but Tammy knew his eyes had been wandering and besides, she had some fresh boy toys she was interested in as well so fortunately it all worked out. I dated your dad on and off after that. We both loved sex and so although we each did other people, we knew that in a pinch we always "ewwww!". We petted and finally got undressed and did it. Unfortunately I can't say my performance was all that great. It's embarrassing to admit this but I didn't even know exactly where her pussy hole was! Nowadays most girls shave but back then she had a thick thatch of pubic hair and I was fumbling in the dark trying to figure out where to put my dick! Don't look so amused - you have to remember that I hadn't seen any hard-core porn yet at that age and my father's Playboys weren't exactly as explicit back then as they are these days.

Well, I fumbled around like an idiot and eventually figured things out. It didn't help it was her first time as well and she just sort of laid there silently on her back leaving it all up to me. Sex education in my day was pretty poor and my dad never gave me "the speech" when I was growing up. It wasn't exactly the most thrilling experience for either of us.

Kelly: Did you have sex with anyone else in your family?
Dad: Hell no! My side of the family is pretty conservative and even the mention of such a thing would have created a hell of a mess. Besides, I didn't have any sisters and none of my cousins are lookers. My mom gained a lot of weight after the kids and was definitely NOT on my list of women I wanted to fuck, that's for sure! Heck, even the thought of her and my dad doing it was enough to make me gag!

Kelly: How did you meet Mom?
Dad: I was dating her friend Tammy at the time. Tammy was hot back then and I suppose you know that I busted her cherry. Well, your mom and Tammy hung out together a lot so I saw her often as well. I was under the assumption (mistakenly as it turned out) that she was a virgin since Tammy kept me up to date on the status of most of the girls in school.

To be frank, when I first saw your mom I just saw her as another piece of ass. She looked like she'd be fun to fuck but nobody to get serious with. I had a good thing going with Tammy so I wasn't about to start messing with one of her best friends. But you know how it is with teenage boys. After a while I wanted something new so eventually I asked your mom out. I guess Tammy must have been telling her how good I had been fucking her because your mom didn't take much convincing.

Since the only real reason I really wanted to date her at the time was to get in her pants, I figured why waste time and took her to a drive-in movie for our first date. Even though I'd heard from some of my friends that she sucked cock, I was

Kelly: Do you like anal?
Kristi: I have done it but its not my favorite. I have been working on that though lately and its been getting better for me. Want me to show you with one of your mom's dildos? (Note from Kelly - I refused politely!)

Kelly: Is anything off-limits sexually for you?
Kristi: I am not into potty sex - that's for damn sure. I don't get THAT at all!! Otherwise so long as I don't get hurt or go to jail, why no go for it?!

Kelly: How would you compare yourself to me?
Kristi: You can be so boring sometimes you know. You need to come to more parties and let your hair down! And what's with the old guy crap? I have never been able to figure out why you go after some married losers. You know, the young ones are always the best! I guess it's this teacher thing of yours, isn't it? Frankly, I don't give a damn what other people think of me. My goal is to land me a rich husband with a big cock!

Kelly: You went to a public school instead of a private one. Why?
Kristi: (laughing) Why would I want to go to a nunnery like your school? I just want to have fun.

Kelly: Are you a Christian?
Kristi: I would say so although not all that deep. I believe in God and Jesus and go to church most Sundays but it doesn't dominate my life.

Kelly: Do you like sex with married guys?
Kristi: I don't get anything special out of it. All the sneaking around and secrets are more of a pain in the ass than anything. Besides, I don't want some wife coming after me if she catches me screwing her husband. Aren't you afraid that will happen to you someday?

Kelly: Have you ever had sex with the parents of any of your friends or boyfriends?
Kristi: No. It's not like I consciously have avoided it but rather more that the opportunity just has never come about. Can't say the idea really turns me on either.

Kristi: I usually start with one and work my way up to three or four if things get hot enough.

Kelly: Sex with animals?
Kristi: Are you nuts? There is no way I am going to let some dog fuck me. You know, I STILL am not 100% sure I believe you about the dog thing. That is just SO disgusting.

Kelly: Do you like porn? Does porn degrade women?
Kristi: I like watching porn movies with a guy and then acting out the scenes with him. Sometimes I watch them just to see what they do - I have picked up some good tips and techniques from them! I don't think porn degrades women so much as it raises false expectations for men who think women should act like the ones in the porn movies. I DO think that kiddy porn sucks and that anyone involved in it should be castrated!

Kelly: Spit or swallow?
Kristi: Depends on the guy. I enjoy swallowing but its fun to show off for the guy and let his cum ooze out of my mouth and down onto my chin and body.

Kelly: Panties, thong or G-string?
Kristi: Again, depends on the guy. Some guys like the "little girl" look of white cotton panties while others want their girl more or less slutty. Since the only reason I am wearing it is for him, I try to match up to his expectations.

Kelly: First kiss?
Kristi: Other than my mom? Jimmy Anderson in 1st grade. We were playing doctor during recess and he kissed me. The teacher caught us and told our parents. His were mad but my mom just laughed.

Kelly: Oldest guy you would fuck?
Kristi: I "would" or "would like to"? I can't picture any limit as to what I would do - it would depend on the situation completely. As for what I would like, I prefer my guys younger - the younger the better.

Kelly: Wildest place you ever had sex?
Kristi: So many places and I have to choose ONE? How about the time in the boy's locker room a couple of year's ago? Remember when I did a bunch of the basketball players during practice? The coach was so pissed off - he wanted to know why they were taking so long to get ready!

Kelly: Who would you like to fuck if you had the chance?
Kristi: Hmmmm, if you keep it to someone real and not a celebrity or someone impossible…….I would love to get a shot at your old roomie's brother - you know, Brenda's brother. I think it's so cool you fuck him when you go to her house. Of course, she would have to be there so I could watch them going at it as well.

Kelly: Any last words for my fans?
Kristi: Well, you're right about that - they are YOUR fans. I can't believe some of the stuff they say and send you! I DO think it's cool when they jerk off on my pictures though and especially on my mom's. I just never imagined some stranger perhaps thousands of miles away would ever do such a thing! So I guess I would just want to tell them it's OK with me. Other than that, NO idea what to say.

(C.4) Chapter 300: Kelly Interviews Her Aunt Linda

Date: September 2006

After writing up the "interviews" with my mom and dad the response was overwhelming with many people wanting me to do the same with other members of my family. The most requests came for my cousin Kristi so I added one with her. My Aunt Linda recently asked me why I was ignoring her in my interviews series. I didn't want to tell her that I have not received as many requests for her, but I have gotten a few so here is her interview.
Note: This was all done rather informally with me just asking questions and my Aunt Linda answering. Afterwards I wrote it down from memory so it's not like I transcribed it from a tape recorder or something. I did my best to reflect the spirit if not the complete accuracy of the interview.

Kelly: Why did you agree to do this interview?

Aunt Linda: I'm not really sure, to be honest. I guess it just made me feel a bit on the outside of things for you to do one with your parents and Kristi but not with me. Actually, I was surprised at the response you got from Kristi's interview. Did that many guys REALLY ask for this?
(Note from Kelly - yes, that many guys DID ask! When shown a photo of her, the most common response was, "Well, now I see where Kristi got her looks from!")

Kelly: What if someone you know reads this?
Aunt Linda: Yeah, like who do I know that would ever read your web site?

Kelly: What do you think of my website?
Aunt Linda: Hmmmm, I guess mystified is the best answer. I really don't understand what you get out of it but hey, it's your life so go for it.

Kelly: What was the last movie you saw?
Aunt Linda: Stranger than Fiction. Will Ferrell's no hunk but he's funny. I would give it a six of ten. What the hell was Queen Lativa doing in it anyway?

Kelly: How tall are you?
Aunt Linda: 5'6"

Kelly: Favorite curse word?
Aunt Linda: Shit.

Kelly: Are you a Christian?
Aunt Linda: Technically yes but I haven't set foot in a church in ages. Kristi goes more and I encourage her - it's just not for me. Somehow I don't think she goes for the moral message!

Kelly: What are your ambitions for the future?
Aunt Linda: Well, at 38 years old I'm not exactly thinking about what I want to do when I grow up. The realtor thing pays the bills and I enjoy meeting new people all the time. I can't see myself getting married again but then you never know!

Kelly: Do you wear underwear?

Kelly: Do you like gang-bangs?
Aunt Linda: Not especially. I only did it once and I felt more like a whore than anything else. I just like being with a guy and enjoy the moment with him.

Kelly: What is your favorite fantasy?
Aunt Linda: Interesting question ... I don't know if this is a fantasy or a wish but I would love to find a man who loves me for who I am yet is still comfortable with my other relationships. I dream sometimes of getting married and then introducing Kristi to her new father - in bed of course!

Kelly: Do you like anal?
Aunt Linda: I can take it or leave it. I can't really say it turns me on all that much but if the guy wants to do it, then it's OK with me.

Kelly: Is anything off-limits sexually for you?
Aunt Linda: I can't think of much of anything off the top of my head. I don't get into the pain and punishment fetishes - more because I have this deathly fear of pain than anything else!

Kelly: Do you shave, trim or natural?
Aunt Linda: I don't like to be wild but I can't stand shaving (legs are enough as it is) so I just trim it up close now and then.

Kelly: What age do you prefer to have sex with?
Aunt Linda: Usually around my age I would say. It's nice to be able to carry on a conversation as well. Then again, some of those boys Kristi brings home are fun to play with now and then.

Kelly: Do you like sex with married guys?
Aunt Linda: Never done it - not counting your dad of course. Too many issues for me. Last thing I need is a jealous wife burning my house down!

Kelly: Oldest guy you'd fuck?
Aunt Linda: Well, I guess 42 since that's the age of your dad. My preference is in the 30's or maybe a little younger sometimes.

believed me and even if he did, I realize now that he never believed I would continue with my dad after we got married. It's not like I made an issue about it and I never did it in front of him or anything like that.

One day he confronted me after I came back from my parent's and asked me if I had been fucking my dad. I wasn't about to lie about it - I wasn't ashamed of it or anything. He called me a perverted whore and things just got unbearable after that. He demanded that I stop having sex with my dad and I refused. In the divorce we didn't bring up the incest issue - he had too much pride and I wanted to protect my dad so we both agreed to keep it secret. I don't regret my decision but it was hard raising Kristi by myself as I never heard from Don again. I don't know what I would have done without the support of your parents!

Kelly: Did you have sex with other guys after the divorce?
Aunt Linda: Of course - what do you think I am, some sort of nun? I was still pretty young and so I did the bar scene for a while and dated a few guys. Most guys disappeared when they found out I had a young daughter at home. I still had my dad and your father which helped. Your uncle was there for a while but once Jim got married he stopped having sex with me - and you mom as well. I still can't believe he married that holier-than-thou bitch!

Kelly: How did you feel when Kristi came home and told you she wasn't a virgin?
Aunt Linda: It wasn't exactly a surprise. She had the hots for that guy from the first time she laid eyes on him so I knew it was just a matter of time. Fortunately, I had her on birth control already I wasn't worried about her getting pregnant or anything. I still can't believe your mom waited so long to get you on it.

Kelly: When Kristi gets married, do you want to fuck her husband?
Aunt Linda: Now THAT'S just a silly question! Of course. I do her boyfriends sometimes now and I can't wait for her to get married!

Kelly: How do you feel when you see your brother-in-law fucking your daughter? Don't you get even a little jealous?
Aunt Linda: Why would I be jealous? It's not like I'm married to him or anything. Actually I think it's pretty hot seeing the two of them together. Well, for that matter I

Kelly: So Tammy, what did you think when I asked you to do this interview?
Tammy: I've read the other ones you put on your website so I figured you'd be asking me sooner or later. I guess I was more nervous than anything, wondering what you'd ask me.

Kelly: Speaking about my website, how do you feel about it?
Tammy: Surprised more than anything, and not for why you probably think. Where do you find time to do it? I mean, you always seem busy so I was shocked at how much you have there! I'm glad you took our pictures off. I was worried about who had them and what they would do with them. It IS sort of weird to read about yourself on the Internet and know other people are reading it.

Kelly: So how would you rate me so far as writing about you?
Tammy: Actually you did pretty good - and I'm not saying that just because you're my older cousin. You leave out a few things and some of our conversations aren't quite right. I know you explained why you edit things and I guess I can't expect you to remember everything perfectly.

Kelly: Other than that, what else do you want to say about it?
Tammy: Not really. Since you promised that nobody would ever know my real name or anything, I really don't care one way or the other. Besides, I bet most people just think it's made up anyway so what do I have to worry about? I have never heard anyone mention it so I don't think anyone in school knows about it. Even so, it's been a while since you went there so I doubt anyone would remember you anyway, other than maybe the teachers.

Kelly: OK, let's get a few facts down... How old are you?
Tammy: Fourteen - and a half.

Kelly: And you were born when?
Tammy: June 30, 1992.

Kelly: How tall are you?
Tammy: 4'11" - no short jokes.

about it! I'm keeping that one handy in case someday she tries to blackmail me with something of her own.

Kelly: Since Kate is always trying to be like your mom, do you think your Mom masturbates?
Tammy: Oh God no! Sometimes I wonder if I'm really her daughter - I can't even imagine her having sex. I can tell you haven't had one of her lectures on the evils of masturbation.

Kelly: So much for Kate and your mom, let's get back to you. How many fingers do you use when you masturbate?
Tammy: Never really thought a lot about it that way so let me think (LOL). Well, you've seen me do it enough times so what would you say? Really, I prefer to just rub myself. Sorry, I really don't get off shoving a finger up my pussy. Yeah, I know you and Kristi seem to like it but not me. Even when I HAVE done it, it's just one.

Kelly: Do you like to use a dildo?
Tammy: Well, the only ones I've ever used were your mom's and that only a couple of times so I don't know. They felt good, I guess, but not like the real thing.

Kelly: What is your favorite thing to think about when you masturbate?
Tammy: You like to use that word - "masturbate", don't you? (LOL) You know my mom won't even say it out loud. Well, I think mostly about sucking Rick's cock, or sometimes one of his friend's. It usually depends on who I did last, I guess, which is usually Rick. Sometimes I dream about somebody fucking me. I would say more than anything else, it's about giving a blowjob. Oh my god Kelly, I LOVE sucking dicks, even more than fucking. (LOL) Don't look at me like that - really, I do!

Kelly: Well, if you say so. How often do you masturbate and when was the last time you did it?
Tammy: I bet everyone reading this is expecting me to say something like, "every day and twice on Sunday"! Well, I DO like to do myself but I don't play with myself every day, that's for sure. I would say maybe a few times a week. Last time? EEabout two hours ago, just after you called and asked me if you could do this interview with me.

Tammy: Kelly, he IS my brother you know. Giving him a blowjob wasn't like we were having sex but letting him fuck me... well, I use to think of that as being totally gross. I mean, like what kind of girl lets her brother fuck her? I use to think only bad girls did that.

Kelly: So sucking your brother's dick was OK but letting him fuck you wasn't?
Tammy: What's the big deal about sucking your brother's cock? It's just a blowjob anyway and half my friends were doing it to their boyfriends by then. Besides, he's always available!

Kelly: So, does it make you a "bad girl now that your brother fucks you?
Tammy: (Giggling) Well, technically I guess you could say that. Seriously though, I don't think of myself that way at all. I guess now that I am doing it I've changed how I look at it.

Kelly: How many guys have you fucked now?
Tammy: Let's see... your dad, my dad and my brother are the three I do it the most with although it's with Rick most of the time. I've let a few of his friends do me, mostly as a favor for him. I only let them fuck me once but I guess that still counts so make it six so far plus Jason makes seven.

Kelly: Aren't you interested in fucking any of the guys you know besides your brother's friends?
Tammy: I don't know... If my mom ever found out she would kill me! You're lucky, you don't have to worry if your mom hears about your reputation but I know of I start doing the boys at school they would brag about it and I am sure Kate would hear about it and then she would tell Mom and thenE.well, you know how it works.

Kelly: Aren't you afraid the same thing will happen with Rick's friends?
Tammy: Like I said, I did them as favors for Rick. He owed them for something or another and made them promise that if he let them fuck me that they would never tell anyone.

Kelly: Any you believe that?
Tammy: Why shouldn't I? (LOL) Rick would beat the crap out of them if they did!

Tammy: So far I love to ride on top the most. It's a little intimidating to have this big guy sweating on top of you so I like being on top where I'm free and in control.

Kelly: So you like to be in control?
Tammy: I didn't mean it exactly that way I guess. I definitely want the guy to be in charge. I meant that being on top I didn't have to worry about him dropping on top of me!

Kelly: Who was the last person you had sex with? When?
Tammy: Rick. We did it Saturday night while my parents were out at the company Christmas party. Almost got caught too when they came home a couple of hours early!

Kelly: Do you shave, trim or natural?
Tammy: Mom would shit if I shaved!

Kelly: Sex with animals?
Tammy: No.

Kelly: That's it? Just, "No"?
Tammy: What else is there to say? Girls having sex with animals is gross. Sorry, I don't mean to say anything about what you did, but I would NEVER do such a thing.

Kelly: Do you like porn? Does porn degrade women?
Tammy: I don't see what the big deal is over it. Rick keeps it under his mattress but I don't look at it. Really, I don't care one way or the other about it.

Kelly: Spit or swallow?
Tammy: First, you know how much I LOVE blowjobs. I just wish cum wasn't so gross. I can swallow if the guy likes me to but to be perfectly honest, I wish it tasted better. So I guess you can say I like to spit although if it was entirely up to me, he wouldn't cum in my mouth in the first place. I think it's cool when he shoots it all over me!

Kelly: Wildest place you ever had sex?

Kelly: OK, no more hard ones. Any last words for your fans?
Tammy: (LOL) MY fans? I thought they were yours. Well, I just can't believe how many guys out there want to fuck a girl my age. It's like watching that show on TV where they catch the Internet perverts. Sort of makes me wonder what would happen if I got on-line! Well, since I can't do that I just want to say I love the "tributes", as you call them, that they send and I wish they would send on more. That good enough?

(C.6) Chapter 302: Kelly Interviews Her Mom

It's been a while since I did my first "interview" with my mom. A lot has changed since then so I figured it was time for an update. I focused just on what is new or changed since the last interview, so read the 2004 interview if you want to know more about her.
Note: As I did with the first interview, this was all done rather informally with me just asking questions and my mom answering. Afterwards I wrote it down from memory so it's not like I transcribed it from a tape recorder or something. I did my best to reflect the spirit if not the complete accuracy of the interview.

Kelly: What do you think of my website lately?
Mom: Honestly? I haven't looked at it in ages. Should I?

Kelly: So how is life at home with me living in my own apartment?
Mom: You're living away from home? Oh, I didn't know that! Maybe it's the pile of laundry that always seems to be around. Seriously, it's different than when you were away at school, knowing you're just a few minutes away and dropping by all the time. Actually, I think it's your dad having more issues than me – and you know why.

Kelly: Since we're being honest with one another, a few months ago we had to deal with a few issues. At the time I accused you of using me when I as a young teenager to relive your own teenage years. We've worked things out now but is there anything you want to say about it in your own words?
Mom: First and foremost, your dad and I love you more than anything else and we would never do anything to hurt you in even the slightest way. Second, you know that I have often been the "spoiler" when it comes to you and your dad's antics so if anything, I think I've stopped you from doing things more than pushing you. Do I enjoy hearing about your little adventures? Of course, your web site is proof that many other people do as well. Do they remind me of my teenage years? Well, in a way but then I didn't do near the range of things you did as a teenager either so yes, it WAS a little wishful fantasy on my part at times.

Kelly: Just so everyone knows, are we OK now?
Mom: As far as I was concerned, we always were. You were the one with the crisis and I'm just glad you got it worked out for yourself

Kelly: Do you ever wish for sex outside of our family?
Mom: I'd like to say no but who would believe me? Kelly, the real issue isn't what we WANT, it's what we DO. Of course I see guys that I wonder what it would be like to take to bed. The key is I don't let such fantasies impact my life or affect the relationship I have with your father.

Kelly: How do you feel about my escorting job?
Mom: Well, it's hard explaining to people what you're doing these days. Other than that, I like the agency you went with and it makes me feel even better knowing they aren't hauling you off to some sleazy hotel to do god only knows what. I DO hope you put that expensive degree to work someday though.

Kelly: How do you feel about Kristi's escorting job?
Mom: Do you really need to ask? Linda and I had a long talk about it and we both agreed to just let this run its course and pray for the best. You know, it doesn't help who you go out with her. Yeah, I know it's just for fun for you, but it sends the wrong message, you know?

Kelly: Kristi has been spending the night at your house lately. What's with that?
Mom: I don't really know. Kristi's never had a father to turn to when she need one and I think it has to do with what she's going through right now. As much as she brags about how great her job is and how much fun she is having, I think deep down she is struggling. I wouldn't worry about it, your dad is just trying to help out and you know how he feels about her. He loves her, but not in the same way he does you.

making more money than she knows what to do with. Sounds better than flunking out of college. Face it, with her incredible body (don't look so jealous) and, how do I put it, being not the sharpest knife in the drawer, I think the job is perfect for her. From what I hear, you didn't seem too unhappy about going out with her a few times either.

Kelly: How do you feel about me living in my own place?
Dad: Of course it's good to see you growing up and making your own way in the world and I'm proud of you for that. On the other hand, I DO miss our little morning tradition.

Kelly: What's with Kristi spending the night these days? She never use to do that.
Dad: Whoa, do I sense a little jealousy here? Tell you what… You spend the night more often and I won't need Kristi, OK? Sorry, didn't mean that to sound so mean. Hey, can you blame me for wanting to have for free what guys spend thousands of dollars for these days?

Kelly: Anything you want like to see me do for you?
Dad: I assume we aren't talking about a piano recital or something like that. Well, it's been a while since you modeled a new outfit for me – that would be nice. Hmmm, been a while since you blew me in traffic – I miss that too! Why don't you drop by the office any more? Honestly, I guess I just assumed that once school was over and you were back home that I would be getting more of that cute ass than I've been getting. Oh, there IS one thing you promised me ages ago that you've never done either. When do I get to see you with your friend and her dog? God, don't tell your mother I said that!
Note from Kelly: I don't remember promising him that and I don't think I did. Sorry Dad, not on the menu for the time being at least.

(C.8) Chapter 304: Kelly Interviews Her Cousin Kristi

Date: January 2008

It's been a while since I did my first "interview" with my cousin. A lot has changed since then so I figured it was time for an update. I focused just on what is new or changed since the last interview, so read the 2006 interview if you want to know more about her.

Note: As I did with the first interview, this was all done rather informally with me just asking questions and my cousin answering. Afterwards I wrote it down from memory so it's not like I transcribed it from a tape recorder or something. I did my best to reflect the spirit if not the complete accuracy of the interview.

Kelly: Well, we may as well get it over with at the start. Are you now officially a whore?

Kristi: (huffs loudly and rolls her eyes) You know, that is SO annoying. Since when are you so sanctimonious, anyway? After all, you did it a few years ago and claimed it didn't make YOU a whore so why call me one now? I'm no streetwalker with a pimp and a drug habit. OK, technically I guess I could be charged with being a prostitute but what's the big deal about all this anyway?

Kelly: A big deal? You dropped out of college. What sort of future do you have now?

Kristi: Aren't you the one that's always preaching to use the talents God gave us? Obviously from my grades I'm never going to be a nurse or anything else like that so why not take advantage of my best "assets"? Besides, YOU were the one that gave me the idea in the first place. Plus, you gotta admit that the money doesn't hurt either. I'm only twenty so it's not like I'm locked into anything yet. Who knows, maybe I'll meet some rich guy who wants to marry me and take care of me?

Kelly: So what does you mom think about having a whore for a daughter?

Kristi: Damn Kelly, enough with the whore crap, OK? What's the difference between what I do now and before? OK, I get paid for it now but it's still just sex.

Kelly: Anything worth telling about from your new "job"?
Kristi: You know, it's not really all that much to talk about. There have been a few guys worth remembering, but most are not all that memorable. I've probably done a hundred guys (not to mention a few women) so far and only maybe a half dozen were anything to talk about later.

Kelly: Do you have any regulars?
Kristi: Oh yeah, a few seem to want me every week or so. In talking with the other girls, I've learned it helps to build up a client base - not to mention they generally tip a LOT better.

Kelly: Would you consider any of your regular clients a boyfriend?
Kristi: I AM a professional, you know. The last thing I need is to bring home a client. Best to keep work and play separate.

Kelly: Speaking of tips, just how much do you make?
Kristi: Like I'm gonna tell you that! OK, I will. Usually anywhere between $500 and $2,000 a night, depending on how long and what they want. It's when I spend the entire night that it REALLY pays well – I got $3,000 the last time if you count the tip! Granted, I don't work every night but you have to admit, it's still a pretty damn good living. See, you need to quit wasting time at that silly place you work and go where the REAL money is girl!

Kelly: What do you think of the tributes guy send me for you?
Kristi: Whatever got you started on those anyway? No matter…I think they're pretty cool. My mom though, God, she gets like so horny whenever you send them to us. Must be the going on forty thing or something. (LOL) It's not like she hadn't seen with me with cum on my face before, you know, so I haven't figured out what's the big deal with her about photos of it.

Kelly: When are you going to get your own place?
Kristi: Actually, I was going to ask you why you moved out in the first place. Why would I leave home now? Rent's free and I get to be with my mom – what more could I ask for? I guess it's easier for me to bring guys home and such since I don't have to Kelly: With all the sex you get now, do you still masturbate a lot?

Kristi: That's the most stupid question so far. Do YOU slow down when you get laid a lot? What's the connection anyway? Sex is sex and masturbating is something you do for fun. Why would I masturbate less just because I get laid more often? I don't get the question.

Kelly: How often do you have sex nowadays?
Kristi: Well, I work at least four or five days a week, sometimes more so there are those guys. Generally just one appointment a night which may mean one or more guys. Then there is my fan club I have to keep happy plus my boyfriends - not to mention your dad. Hmmmmm,. I would say I get laid by 10-15 guys a week on average

Kelly: What is off-limits at work?
Kristi: Hmmm, not a lot really. I like anal now but I won't do scat. Since I have to be able work every night I don't like to do anything that would bruise me or make me sore - use your imagination for that. At work I don't do anyone under eighteen - not getting busted for THAT! I guess in general you could say anything that won't get me arrested.

Kelly: So you like anal?
Kristi: I can't say it's my favorite but it's been getting better for me. Want me to show you with one of your mom's dildos? (Note from Kelly - I refused politely!) It's hard to be in my business and NOT do it. I think a lot of guys fantasize about it and since their wives and girlfriends won't do it, they think since they're paying for it that I should do it for them. If there's one rule in my job, it's that the customer's demands are to be met as much as possible (so long as he is paying for it, of course). I have to tell you Kelly, once you get use to it it's not that bad. You should try it once!

Kelly: How would you compare yourself to me these days?
Kristi: Well, obviously we have different standards when it comes to escorting. You seem to be getting more conservative lately, what's with that? I would've thought since you graduated and didn't get that teaching job that you would loosen up a but NO, you are becoming an honest to god church girl lately - for real this time. You'll never hit the 200 mark at this rate!

Kelly: What do you wear to work?
Kristi: Wow, that depends on the client. Some like a slut and others want the "innocent" girl. Really, it's all up to him (or her).

Kelly: Have you had sex with animals at work?
Kristi: A while back when you asked me that, I think I said you were nuts and that there was no way I was going to ever let a dog fuck me. Well, it's amazing how $3,000 can change your mind. I can tell from the look on your face how you feel so let's not go into details, OK?

Kelly: Do you like gang-bangs?
Kristi: Hell yes! That's my favorite activity -getting banged by a bunch of horny guys.

Nothing like being covered with cum when you're done – you know you really should lighten up on that and let guys cum on you more often – they love it and I thinks it's cool too. Damn, you really looked hot that night you went out with me!

Kelly: Any last words for our fans?
Kristi: I still can't believe some of the stuff they say and send you! And now you've added all those other people as well and some of them are really out there I think it's cool when they jerk off on me and my mom's photos. Just don't give out my e-mail address or where I work, OK?

(C.9) Chapter 305: Kelly Interviews Her Aunt Linda

It's been a while since I did my first "interview" with my aunt. A lot has changed since then so I figured it was time for an update. I focused just on what is new or changed since the last interview, so read the 2006 interview if you want to know more about her.

Note: As I did with the first interview, this was all done rather informally with me just asking questions and my aunt answering. Afterwards I wrote it down from memory so it's not like I transcribed it from a tape recorder or something. I did my best to reflect the spirit if not the complete accuracy of the interview.

Kelly: So how does it feel having a whore for a daughter?
Aunt Linda: (eyes rolling up) How did I know you were going to ask that one? LOL, I was sorta hoping you might throw me an easy one first. OK…. Really, what CAN I say, it's her choice. As her mother it doesn't exactly thrill me and it's a bit difficult coming up with something to tell people at church about what she's doing these days. Personally, I think it's just an overreaction on her part after having to drop out of college. I was hoping that by having her help me out at work this past summer that might take her mind off it but apparently that wasn't enough. I think that she'll grow out of it if we just leave her alone. You know, it also might help if you quit calling her a whore. She's not exactly walking the streets of downtown Pittsburgh.

Kelly: OK then, so much for Kristi. How's your job going?
Aunt Linda: Not bad. The type of homes I sell aren't all that dependent on the market. When executives they buy a house no matter what. Even so, it never hurts to have a little competitive edge these days, if you know what I mean. Are you sure you don't want to come to work with me again some time?

Kelly: Guys ask me what you think of the tributes they send me for you. Well?
Aunt Linda: Like I've said many times before, they're extremely erotic and I love every one of them. Personally, I like the ones of Kristi the most. Maybe it's the proud mother in me, who knows? So….. does that mean you have some new ones for me today?

Kelly: As a college dropout making more money than the two of us combined, when are you going to make Kristi move out?
Aunt Linda: When she wants to – what's the rush? I mean, why would I ever MAKE her move out in the first place? It's not like it was for you where you were the third wheel. Here it's just the two of us and I hate to even think of her leaving someday. God, the place would be deathly quiet and the bed so empty and cold without her! I can't, and don't want to, imagine sleeping without her next to me after all these years.

Kelly: People have been asking me if you've been having sex with Rick and Tammy?

Kelly: Think you'll ever get married?
Aunt Linda: Never say never, that's my motto. I guess if the right guy came around, I might consider it. Despite what I said earlier, I know that Kristi won't be around for THAT much longer and maybe it's time to start over fresh with someone.

Kelly: If you get married, will you have the same problems as in your first marriage?
Aunt Linda: Don was an ass but at the same time, he taught me a lesson. Besides, I'm almost twenty years older now and life starts taking on new perspectives when you reach my advanced stage of life. Of course the "hot" thing would be to say I'll tell him and let him screw all the women in the family and so on. The reality is that I doubt he'd ever know about our little family secret. I would HOPE he'd be into swinging, though. I'm not nearly as hung about "mandatory adultery" and all that crap your mom like to preach. She goes a bit off into the deep end for my tastes sometimes. Hey, if both people are OK with it, why not?

Kelly: What do you think about MY escorting job?
Aunt Linda: You want me to be REALLY honest? You SURE? OK then. I think you're trying to have it both ways. You know, "have your cake and eat it too" type of thing. You want the thrill of the taboo by being an escort while claiming at the same time to be all innocent and a bit sanctimonious because you supposedly don't have sex with your guys. Give me a break Kelly. Don't tell me that YOU, of all people, don't have sex with these guys. At least Kristi is open and honest about what she does.

Kelly: Well…. on THAT note, anything else for now?
Aunt Linda: Hey, you asked me for my honest opinion and I gave it, so don't give me that huffy sigh. What happened to your teaching aspirations? Like I said, I can excuse Kristi for what she does. It's not her fault she wasn't handed out the brains in the family and wasn't able to deal with school. All the poor girl has to work with is her body and you have to give her credit, she's making the most out of what she has to work with. YOU, on the other hand, have no excuse for not going out and getting exactly the job you want. If I was your mother, I'd be telling you to quit that so-called escorting job and finding a teaching position that at least gets you in front of a classroom – pronto.

really like it and I just can’t disappoint him so I go along with it. Between you and me, to be perfectly honest I only do it because he’s your dad.

Kelly: Do you have sex with girls?
Tammy: No, only you and Kristi and gosh, that’s be a long time now, hasn’t it. It’s really not my thing. I like boys, at least for sex.

Kelly: Have you thought about college yet?
Tammy: No. I’ve got plenty of time for that. Besides, I’m not even sure that's what I want to do anyway.

Kelly: How are you and Kate getting along?
Tammy: She FINALLY heads off to college this fall so that will help a lot – tell you anything? I think she’s still a virgin – can you IMAGINE that?

Kelly: What was the last movie you saw?
Tammy: Up! It was SO cute! I liked Dog.

(C.11) Chapter 307: Kelly Interviews Her Dad

Date: January 2010

It's been a while since I did my first "interview" with my dad. A lot has changed since then so I figured it was time for an update. I focused just on what is new or changed since the last interview, so read the 2006 interview if you want to know more about him.
Note: As I did with the first interview, this was all done rather informally with me just asking questions and my dad answering. Afterwards I wrote it down from memory so it's not like I transcribed it from a tape recorder or something. I did my best to reflect the spirit if not the complete accuracy of the interview.

Kelly: Do you still masturbate a lot?
Dad: Damn, getting straight to it, aren't we. You've always had some fascination with me doing it, haven't you. I would say maybe two or three times a week. Now are you going to tell me how many times YOU do it a week?

From what I hear, you didn't seem too unhappy about going out with her a few times either.

Kelly: How do you feel about me living in my own place?
Dad: Of course it's good to see you growing up and making your own way in the world and I'm proud of you for that. On the other hand, I DO miss our little morning tradition.

Kelly: What's with Kristi spending the night these days? She never use to do that.
Dad: Whoa, do I sense a little jealousy here? Tell you what… You spend the night more often and I won't need Kristi, OK? Sorry, didn't mean that to sound so mean. Hey, can you blame me for wanting to have for free what guys spend thousands of dollars for these days?

Kelly: Anything you want like to see me do for you?
Dad: I assume we aren't talking about a piano recital or something like that. Well, it's been a while since you modeled a new outfit for me – that would be nice. Hmmm, been a while since you blew me in traffic – I miss that too! Why don't you drop by the office any more? Honestly, I guess I just assumed that once school was over and you were back home that I would be getting more of that cute ass than I've been getting. Oh, there IS one thing you promised me ages ago that you've never done either. When do I get to see you with your friend and her dog? God, don't tell your mother I said that!
Note from Kelly: I don't remember promising him that and I don't think I did. Sorry Dad, not on the menu for the time being at least.

(C.12) Chapter 308: Kelly Interviews Her Mom

Date: July 2010

When I had my web site going I was always being asked questions about my mom, specifically about how she started having sex with her dad, what she and the sister did as teens, and especially how she felt about her husband having sex with her daughter. Rather than keep writing the same responses over and over again, I finally wrote up an "interview" article where I wrote down the answers to some of the most common questions. The “interviews” were actually a collections of questions I would ask my mom at times and her answers, not like we sat down and I had a list and she would answer me so it's not like I transcribed it from a tape recorder or something. Even though everything in the “interview” was written down from memory, I tried my best to reflect the spirit if not the complete accuracy of the “interview”.

It's been quite a couple of years since I posted my last "interview" with my mom. Given everything that's happened since then, while I was visiting her out in Oregon I thought it would be a good time to think about an update. I won't repeat stuff that hasn't changed since the last time I did this so you may want to go back and read them if you're interested in knowing more about my mom.

Kelly: Soooooo, the big question of the day... Why did you divorce dad?
Mom: That’s really not as simple a question as you make it sound. I can’t point to just one thing he did, like some women could if they caught their husband cheating on them or something like that. With me and your dad it was more like the proverbial straw that broke the camel’s back.

You and I have talked in that past about how your father has always had issues with sexual addictions going back to when he was a teenager, especially regarding underage porn. At the same time, I can’t really use that against him because I knew all about his issues when I married him. It’s really more my fault for thinking that it was something I could deal with so long as it was only just that – porn. I naively thought that so long as it stayed on his computer and he kept me happy that it didn’t really matter what he fantasized and masturbated about. Well, I was wrong.

Even though it has been something I’ve had to deal with for almost thirty years now, in the last few years things got more intense and his fantasies started affected our regular lives. Finally it got to where I just couldn't deal with where he was going as it was much too perverted for me. When I complained he tried to rationalize his behavior by saying it was just a midlife crisis sort of thing, like it was some sort of phase he was going through that he would grow out of. Eventually I came to realize it wasn't a phase but rather it was his true nature finally coming to the surface. It wasn't anything new, it had been there all along but he just suppressed it until then.

As to why he wasn't able to control himself after so many years, I guess a shrink would have a field day with that one. My “diagnosis” is that with you now in your mid-twenties, Kristi being twenty three and even your cousin Tammy approaching eighteen he no longer had any young girls in the family to help him deal with his “urges” when they threatened to get out of control. I mean, he’s a man so he still likes the sex but it isn’t what he needs when his addictions take hold of him. For a good “fix”, he seems to need someone much younger than you guys are now.

At first it was just talk which I ignored but then he started pushing me more and more to help him get involved with younger girls, or at least allow him to do them by himself. Needless to say I wasn't about to give him my blessings. It was when he started actually getting in touch with real girls and their parents, e-mailing, texting and calling them, that I knew I had to do something, if for no other reason than to protect myself. That was when I decided to divorce him. Seeing how he has been since I left, I think I did the right thing. I think it’s a shame in a way to see how his addiction has taken control of his life the way it has.

Kelly: Did your decision have anything to do with me or Aunt Linda?
Mom: Oh no, at least not directly. He and Linda have been screwing since we were all young teenagers. I guess technically BEFORE out teen years if you count Linda. Their little sex games weren’t anything I really cared about so long as that was all they were was. In any case, she is part of our family so he has a right to be with her anyway so there wasn't a whole lot I could say even I wanted to. Regardless, I would much rather prefer he seek out Linda when he was horny than go out and find some whore and bring home an STD.

As for him and you, I never had an issue with it so long as it was what YOU wanted. I just wish it would have been more out of genuine love than lust, at least so far as he was concerned. For whatever reason I’d always hoped you would never Kelly: Do you have sex now?

Mom: Hey, I’m not even a grandmother yet so don't put me in a wheelchair. Just because a women gets divorced doesn’t mean she doesn't have the same needs and desires so yes, I do! I have to confess that it felt more than a little odd at first after being faithful to your father for the better part of three decades. Do you realize that when I first moved out here that I hadn’t had sex with anyone outside my family since I was a teenage? Don't take this wrong but it didn't take long to get over that feeling!

Kelly: Do you have sex with Tammy?
Mom: No. That was all something I think that happened back in Pittsburgh because of the special circumstances at the time. Here she is happily married mother and wife with a great husband and family. She is well respected in her church and community, a regular model citizen. True, we are close friends – VERY close friends, but not in a sexual way. I would say it is sort of like what you and Beth have – without the sex parties of course.

Kelly: How do you REALLY feel about your sister Linda now?
Mom: That’s a complicated question. She’s my sister and no matter what happens, I will always love her. That doesn't mean I can’t be angry with her or disappointed by her actions.

To be fair, I really can’t blame her for moving in with your dad. Legally he’s not married to me anymore so it’s not like she’s trying to take him away from me and besides, I’m not there anyway. They’ve always had a thing for each other but it’s been based totally on sex from day one. Between you and me, I don't see them sticking together all that long, at least not in the same house. It’s one thing for her to stop by whenever she gets horny but I think in the end she’ll find that living with him on a full-time basis to be quite a different experience.

That said, I DO sort of feel a little betrayed at how quickly she moved in with him. I know I shouldn't feel this way, especially since I was the one to file for the divorce, but I think I could deal with it better had it been another woman rather than my own sister. As I said, they’ve always had a sexual thing going but I was able to deal with it because it was just that – nothing but sex. Her now living with him seems to be making it more than that which is harder for me to accept. Not my favorite subject at the moment...

Kelly: After all that has happened, have your views on adultery changed?
Mom: Oh my God - totally. Once I got married I stopped having sex with other people, at least everyone outside our families. It was really pretty simple in my mind – anything else would have been against God's commandment against adultery. You can debate a lot of the Old Testament rules as being cultural, etc. but the Ten Commandments were always pretty black and white and thus non-negotiable for me. I've always said that the Bible didn't say adultery was OK if your husband permits it. It's not like you haven't heard this from me a thousand times before.

Well, now after seeing how such a rigid position ultimately affected our marriage, at least for me since I didn't have nearly as many options within the family as your dad did, I have to say I was dead wrong. Now I think you have to consider the INTENT of the Bible as much if not more than the literal translation. Just because something is not said doesn't mean it wasn't intended. The commandments were short and simple without a lot of footnotes and explanations. It wasn't like God gave Moses a book with all the explanations.

Just as we kill people for crimes or in war without violating the commandments, so it is with adultery, at least that is how I feel now. I believe the intent of the commandment is not to betray your marriage and spouse. If your husband or wife is OK with you having sex with someone else, even outside the marriage family, what is the harm? I look back now and see so many missed opportunities because of my stand on adultery and wonder how things may have been if I had been more open-minded.

Kelly: How about incest - have you changed your mind about that?
Mom: Not really. Every time I saw the lust in your dad's eyes being fulfilled as he fucked you and the joy on your face when he came in you I knew that is was it is absolutely the right thing for you to be doing with him. Maybe it wasn't for all the reasons I tried to rationalize with you at the time, but it was something I think the both of you needed. You always were so submissive to him and it seemed you constantly needed his approval so incest became the thing that filled that void in you best – no pun intended.

In general, I don't have any issues with incest so long as nobody is being forced to do anything. Look at the two of us – I think sex has always brought us closer together than we ever would have been in a more traditional mother-daughter relationship.

Kelly: When I get married, do you still want to fuck my husband?
Mom: Now THAT is something I have definitely not changed my mind about. Are you kidding – I've been waiting for that day for twenty-five years! So when are you and Steve going to tie the knot?
(note from Kelly – don't hold your breath!)

Kelly: Would you like my boyfriend Steve to fuck you now?
Mom: Well, I've known Steve since he was a little boy and I remember how happy I was when he ended up being the one to take your virginity. I think it's great that you're back together again now. He was a much too young for me at back when you were dating him in high school but I have to say, he has aged well. So yes, I'd be thrilled to share him some time with you! Unless, of course, you're OK with letting me have him for my own for a while...

Kelly: If you were home now, would you still fuck your nephew?
Mom: Rick was never anything serious for me, you know that. It's not like he was my son or anything so it was all about the sex. Damn, the kid has one hell of a cock, doesn't he? When he was doing me he could cum two or three times in a row without a break. I hate to admit it but at the time I was getting a bit of a kick out of it that he wanted me in the first place – almost a Mrs. Robinson sort of thing. Now I have more options available and given what a jerk he is, why put up with it? So I guess the answer is no, I wouldn't. It has nothing to do with the incest factor, I just don't want to be with HIM.

The only thing that might make me change my mind is knowing his mother would just die if she knew her son was fucking me! I use to get so sick and tired of her sanctimonious crap that screwing her son right under her nose gave me a sense of true satisfaction. Maybe if I was back there and she started in on me again I might consider fucking her son but since he is now over 18, this time I'd make sure she knew all about it!

Kelly: Do you have sex with just men now or girls as well?
Mom: Just men. I've been at a few get-togethers where there were other women and a few things happened but it was more to tease the guys than anything else. Let's just say I don't date girls.

Kelly: What ages do you, or would you consider, having sex with?
Mom: I know where you are coming from with this one! No, I have none of the perverted feelings your father has towards youngsters. As for me... I like my guys a more mature, especially mentally. My basic rule is they have to be more than half my age. It just seems too weird to think about fucking “someone less than half my age” if you get my drift. I would say most of the guys I am with these days are in their late twenties to early forties.

Kelly: How do you feel about your ex-husband’s involvement with young girls now?
Mom: What can I say? If nothing else it’s illegal so I just hope for his sake nothing happens to where he loses everything. As I’ve always tried to teach you, fundamentally I don’t believe in underage sex outside the family. For his sake I wish he wasn't doing it and I want nothing to do with it whatsoever.

I guess this is one thing I should have mentioned earlier when you asked me about my sister. My biggest beef with Linda right now is that I feel she is a good part of the reason your father has crossed the line. If she wasn't there egging him on I don't think he would be doing all the things they are involved with now.

Kelly: Will you ever move back to the 'burgh?
Mom: Who knows? I doubt it as I love it out here. I miss my family – you especially, but then life goes on.

Kelly: Do you think that you will ever get married again?
Mom: Again, who knows. I would say no right now but I’ve known plenty of other women who said the same thing after their divorce and then go and do it again anyway. I don't feel any NEED to be married now, let’s put it that way.

Kelly: Is there anything you want to add?
Mom: No matter how things may seem, I still love your father and hope the best for him. Most of all, I am incredibly proud of you and love you very much.

(C.13) Chapter 309: Kelly Interviews Her Husband

Date: September 7, 2011

It's been a while since I've done an "interview" with anyone in my family. A lot has changed since the last one, not the least of which I got married! As such it seemed appropriate that I add one with my new husband as I get a LOT of requests from people to chat with him and ask him questions. If there are any you want me to add or get more details, just write me and let me know and I'll see what I can do. Note: As I have done with all my "interview", this was done rather informally with me just asking questions and my husband answering. Afterwards I wrote it down mostly from memory with just a few notes so it's not like I recorded it on my phone. Steve read it afterwards and while his memory seems to recall things a little different than mine, he agreed that it reflects the spirit if not the complete accuracy of the interview.

Kelly: So tell me, why are you doing this?
Steve: Rather obvious - you asked me. (long pause) OK, I can see you want more... (another long pause) Nope, still the same - because you asked me. I mean, why else would I do anything as crazy as this?

Kelly: How does being married compare to dating me?
Steve: Loaded question... To be honest, the biggest difference is living with you now instead of my mother. We both have agreed that not a lot was going to change in our relationship just because we went through some ceremony. I think it’s more how things have changed for OTHER people more so than for you and me.

Kelly: Why did you ever ask me out back when I was only fourteen?
Steve: Ok, you asked so don’t get mad. It was because I knew you were a virgin which made it especially hot the you were trying so hard to act slutty and sexy even though you weren’t exactly as... developed shall we say, as my sister or your friends. Just to be 100% honest, it was also because I figured you’d put out - and you DID. Now don’t look at me that way! I’m a guy and at the time I was a horny teenage guy doing what horny teenage guys do.

Kelly: Do you really prefer my Aunt Linda over her daughter Kristi or are you just trying to tease Kristi?
Steve: OMG, your aunt is so HOT! Sure Kristi's a babe but she was also a whore and what guy really wants a whore - except as a whore? Your Aunt Linda, on the other hand, should be in the dictionary next to MILF. Even when we were dating I use to jerk off thinking about her. I couldn't believe back then that any mother would wear what she did around the house - or should I say did NOT wear. It was such a turn-on. All the guys use to talk about her.

Kelly: Do you have sex with your mother?
Steve: I suppose this one was inevitable. You know the answer so why ask? OK, OK, it's an interview, gotchya. Yes, we did it ONCE a dozen years ago. It was a mistake then and it would be a mistake now to do it again. I'm not trying to say anything about your family life and the decisions you have made, I'm just stating how I want MY life to be and the relationship I want to have with my mother. I love my mother and yes, we are pretty close. Do I get turned on feeling her up? Of course, who wouldn't? But there's a line we won't cross and so long as we don't it makes it fair game to do anything we want short of it. If we ever DID cross the line then that would ruin everything else we get to enjoy now as we couldn't trust each other after that.

Kelly: Did you know your sister had a crush on you in high school?
Steve: Like who didn't? I was teased constantly by my friends about it - and hers. Sharon was - and still is, cute and sexy but I'm not fucking my sister - or even feeling her up for that matter. It's hard to explain, especially to someone like you, but it just keeps things simpler that way.

Kelly: How did it feel to fuck my mother the first time?
Steve: Like a dream come true. You know I had a crush on her in high school, right? God how I use to fantasize about your mom and your aunt together! That was one of the benefits of dating you - getting to see your mom around the house in those short tight t-shirts that barely covered her ass and REALLY showed off her tits. Too bad you never got her to be like you and stop wearing those panties! When we dated I never dreamed I would ever get to do her so when you told me that she wanted it I was like, “YES!!!” Now THAT was the threesome of my dreams... you and your mom. Would’ve been even better with Linda too.

Kelly: You know that I had always assumed that once I was married I would stop having sex with anyone outside my family. So why do you still want me to be fucked by other men?
Steve: First let me make it clear that I am NOT a cuckold. Still, I think it’s cool to see other men fuck you because I know when everything is said and done that I’m the one you go home with. It’s like the more they love fucking you the better because I know how jealous they must be later when they know that I have you all to myself. And let’s face it, I want to have sex with other women so it’s only fair I let you have the same freedoms that I ask for.

Kelly: How often do you masturbate?
Steve: Not as much as I did before I met you! Hmmmmmm, maybe a few times a week? Sometimes more.

Kelly: What do you think about when you masturbate?
Steve: You of course! Alright, I know you aren’t buying that so I admit it, I like porn as much as the next guy. Your Aunt Linda is always good for a nice cum when all else fails not to mention those parties she arranges with the families - some REALLY hot jerk-off material there.

Kelly: What's your favorite porn movie to watch and masturbate?
Steve: Screw the old-time ones where you have to wait for a bunch of crap and useless dialog when we all know where it’s leading. I love girl-girl stuff, first-timers and casting call “reality” porn. Your dad’s porn stash is like the ultimate when it comes to crazy taboo crap. I can’t believe some of the hot shit he has!

Kelly: What do you think of my website?
Steve: Not my favorite subject to be honest. I’m just glad you cleared off most of it and stuck to just the stories. All those photos and stuff was like just begging for a problem. I don’t read any of the ones with me in them by the way.

(Note from Kelly: Now that is ONE request that I would have to refuse. Fortunately, I know he was just teasing me and would NEVER ask me to make such a horrible decision.)

Kelly: Tell me something about you that I don't know.
Steve: You’re just full of loaded questions, aren’t you? Why not ask me when I stopped beating my wife? LOL Hmmmmmm, did you know I love American Idol? Ok, I admit it! That and Dancing With the Stars!

Kelly: What was the most memorable part of our honeymoon for you?
Steve: Oh boy, I have to pick just one thing? Seems unfair. I don’t know if this qualifies as just one but those nights we spent on the porch of the cabana in the hammock, swinging in the night breeze as we watched and listen to the waves crashing ashore. Feeling our naked bodies against one another in the moonlight are probably some of the most erotic memories I have of being with you.
(Note from Kelly: And I thought he wasn't the romantic type!)

(D.1) My Thoughts About Adultery

Story Codes: nosex
Updated: April 25, 2018

Just the mention of the word adultery is enough to set some people off the deep end and for good reason. How many marriages end because one of the partners claims the other has committed adultery? Then again, is the act of adultery really the root cause of what ruins the marriage or just a symptom of something more deeper and insidious? There's also the question of what exactly IS adultery? It's not really as cut and dry as some people think. Like everyone else I have my own views which have changed over the years. Getting married certainly changed my perspective - in ways different than what you might think.
Note: I first wrote this long before I was married. Now that I'm married I see things from a much different perspective so it's only natural some of the guiding principles in my life have adapted to my role as a married woman. To those who claim I'm being hypocritical or somehow unfaithful to my core values and ethics, I disagree and make no apologies. It's a natural part of life that as you grow older and gain experience and insights that your belief system matures and changes along the way. To be fair I've kept my old philosophies from my earlier postings and then added a chapter to reflect how I feel today about adultery.

"Adultery is an injustice. He who commits adultery fails in his commitment. He does injury to the sign of the covenant which the marriage bond is, transgresses the rights of the other spouse, and undermines the institution of marriage by breaking the contract on which it is based. He compromises the good of human generation and the welfare of children who need their parents' stable union." - Catechism of the Catholic Church, 2335

"Adultery is sex where at least one person is married and that person's partner is outside his/her marriage family." - Mary (my mother)

"Sex is the penetration, however slight, of a female vagina by a male penis. Even if the hymen remains intact or not all of the dick gets in the pussy, it's still sex. Once ANY part of a dick is in her, even if it's just the very tip, it's as good as ALL in. Thus a girl can have an intact hymen but NOT be a virgin." - Kelly (me)

2. My Pre-Marriage Position

Note: This chapter was written long BEFORE I was married when most of my ethics and morals influenced heavily by my mother.

In reading Chapter 1, it would seem at first glance that anyone having sex with someone other than their wife or husband is committing adultery, an act punishable by death in biblical times - of both parties involved! However, a closer look reveals some subtle but key components. It's easy to read something literally without taking into account the full meaning and the implications of what's being said. For example, perhaps one of the most abused verses in the Bible is where Paul exhorts women to "submit to your husbands". People with an agenda have taken those words totally out of context to validate their personal beliefs that women are second-class citizens and subject to their husband's every demand. Anyone reading the whole text and understanding the culture of the era during which this statement was made would say something entirely different.

For many people, it doesn't matter what the meaning is behind the words, they take the 7th commandment literally without context. For them it's black and white and there's no even discussing the matter. My own mother is one of these people. For her, having sex with another man outside of her marriage family is immoral and wrong. I have to say one thing though, my mother practiced what she preached. In over 25 years of marriage my mother never once had sex outside of her marriage family. Yes, she had sex with her brother-in-laws and one of their sons but my mother would tell you that she was not committing adultery because they were within the boundaries of her marriage family. For example, as much as she wanted to be with my fiance, it wasn't until after we said our vows that she satisfied her desire to be with her new son - and she didn't wait very long after the vows!

Let's face it, if the Bible was really all that easy to read and understand we wouldn't have thousands of different churches and untold translations. So it was with me. There come times when you have to make your own decisions and so it was with my stance on adultery. So now it's my turn to parse my words. As I mentioned, while my mom was firmly against adultery, it was adultery as SHE defined it. She DID have sex with my dad's brothers and one of her nephews which to less enlightened people would be an act of adultery. Not so as she rationalized her actions by expanding the conventional definition of "marriage" to include more than just her husband but rather extending to their immediate families as well. Thus per her definitions when she married my dad she effectively married his family too. Although she admitted to me once that this was more than what most people would accept, she felt strongly about it. In her mind if it was OK for her to continue having sex with her own father after she was married then why not the other men in her family as well?

Naturally while growing up I was heavily influenced by my mother's belief systems and morals when it came to such matters. After all, how do you argue with success? With half of all marriages ending in divorce, SOMETHING must have made a difference in my parents' marriage. While I would never say it was all due to how they dealt with adultery, I DO believe it was a major contributing factor. Yes, they eventually did divorce but it was after over 25 years and had nothing to do with incest or sex within their families.

In keeping with the teachings of my mother, my expectations are that once I'm married I'll be faithful to my husband and never commit adultery. Of course I'll continue having sex with my dad and maybe my uncles along with whatever family members on my husband's side wish to be involved, if any. However, when it comes to anyone outside of our marriage family then they will be off-limits for sex once I say, "I do."

To be honest it isn't something I'm entirely happy looking forward to but it's something that I feel that I have to comply with if I'm going to live by my mother's biblical faith and morals. In a way it's like those times when I'm not really in the mood but my father needs me. Being a Christian daughter my father's sexual needs come first so I always fulfill the duties and obligations that come with being his daughter without hesitation. Without being too boastful I'm proud that I've never said NO to my dad, well at least when it comes to his sexual needs. So too will I fulfill my obligations as a wife when my marriage becomes a reality.

If there is one bright spot it's that to commit adultery means having SEX. Thus as long as I don't allow another penis to penetrate my vagina everything else remains "legal". Blowjobs, fondling, and such are not sex by definition so engaging in those activities does not constitute adulterous behavior. I'm sure it will be difficult at times to restrain myself once things get going but I'm confident that if my mother was able to do it then so can I!

So that's my position on adultery. To be sure I respect what other people do and believe even when I don't agree with them. All I ask is the same courtesy and respect in return.

3. Post-Marriage Thoughts

Note: This is my current position on adultery now that I'm married.

It's amazing how your perspective on life can change with just two little Words - "I do." As Steve's wife the Bible places him at the head of our household and requires that I submit to him. Before anyone sends me hate mail I'm referring to biblical submission which has nothing to do with BSDM or that sort of baloney. In fact, I wrote an entire article on submission called "Appendix (D.5) My Thoughts About Submission" as this is such a complicated topic. To keep it simple for now there are principles and morals that I've always deemed to be irrevocable that I have now found that needed to be modified somewhat to allow for me to submit to my husband's needs and desires. There's a limit to how far I will bend but when I can I do if that is what it takes to please my husband.

Adultery is one of those key moral issues that I'll never abandon. Adultery is a sin per the Ten Commandments and as such something I simply will NEVER do. The key becomes what is adultery?

Referring back to Chapter 1, the one thing that stands out in all of the statements is the implication that the person being charged with adultery has done these acts without the consent of their spouse. "Make a man furious", "breaking the contract", "sexually immoral", and "transgresses the rights of the other spouse" are all phrases that point to injury being made on the uninvolved spouse.

People have asked why I've changed my views on adultery. No, it wasn't because I was anxious to go out and have sex behind my husband's back and thus looked for a means to rationalize such behavior. So long as I'm married to Steve I will NEVER cheat on him. Actually the only reason I even considered whether or not I was handling the issue of adultery correctly was to please my husband. Before we got married we both sat down and stated what we expected of our marriage. Mostly we discussed non-sexual things like finances, children, careers, etc. My biggest concern at the time was incest as Steve didn't believe in incest when we were engaged. This was initially quite a sticking point but I made it clear that my responsibilities to my father were irrevocable. It took some convincing but we finally came up with an accommodation - basically our own version of "don't ask, don't tell".

Steve made it clear before we were married that he did NOT want a monogamous relationship and that he expected us both to continue seeking out other partners both alone and as a couple, just as we did during our engagement. He told me that he felt too many marriages fail because the partners become bored so occasional sex with other people would keep our marriage fresh and exciting.

Clearly I was faced with a serious ethical dilemma. While I was resigned to limiting my sexual exploits to our families, I wasn't about to fall into that trap of marrying Steve and expecting him to change. I've seen enough marriages fail because they entered into matrimony expecting that the other would eventually see the light and change as they wanted. Of course that doesn't happen so they end up divorced. My own Aunt Linda is a prime example. She was divorced after just a couple years when her husband was unable to accept her having sex with her father - something he claimed before the wedding he would be OK with her doing.

Thankfully as I studied and prayed about the issue God showed me that the Bible wasn't so much against sex outside of marriage but rather someone having sex outside of marriage against the will of their spouse. It was a revelation in that it became clear to me that what was being said in essence was NOT no sex but rather no CHEATING. Back in biblical days I'm not sure if there even words to differentiate the two acts so "adultery" was used for both. Then there's also the consideration that the Bible wasn't written in English and reflects the bias of the translators so how literal can one really be when reading the text?

What God revealed to me was to substitute the word "cheating" in place of "adultery" in the quotes at the start of this article. The results were mind boggling! With this one simple change in interpretation of a word I suddenly had no problem agreeing to all of the prohibitions. In other words by saying "cheating" in lieu of "adultery" I could stick with my existing morals and not even have to compromise!

It was so obvious... cheating leads to jealousy, feelings of betrayal, low self-esteem, and can easily be a stake in the heart of even the best marriages. Cheating on your spouse is about the lowest thing a person can do. On the other hand if your spouse is OK with you doing something, even it's having sex with someone else, why is that wrong? You're not cheating after all. Of course such things should be discussed and communicated well BEFORE anything is done. Getting caught and then trying to get your spouse to understand and forgive is still cheating... and still wrong on every level.

Steve and I have had many long discussions on this topic so he knows full well just how important it is to me that we maintain the proper biblically-correct relationship between us at all times. Whenever possible we discuss our plans for sex with other people ahead of time so there are no surprises. Of course there are those windows of opportunity that sometimes arise and won't stay open for long so we've agreed it's OK to take advantage of such opportunities without having to ask for "permission". Over time we've come to where we don't come home and "report" everything we do. Our love and mutual trust is strong enough that we know in the end we want each other more than anyone else!

One of the key principles behind the success of our marriage is that we have no secrets from one another when it comes to sex. So now my definition of adultery is:

"When a married person has sex with someone not in their family (as defined above) with the intent of cheating on their spouse."

It's the INTENT that defines adultery, not just the act of having sex. It's important to note that someone can't commit adultery unless they're married – how else can you cheat? As I have Steve's permission to enjoy myself with anyone I want, when I have sex with a married guy behind his wife's back HE is the one committing adultery, not me.

4. Conclusions

Adultery and cheating are issues like abortion and the death penalty. People have strong opinions backed up by their reading of scripture, their cultural background, and personal opinions. Just as with abortion, reaching agreement on what's adultery is virtually impossible. As such I respect other people's opinions and would never question how they deal with the subject when it comes to their own marriage. All I ask is to be given the same respect and not be questioned about my beliefs or have people tell me I am a degenerate or some form of whore or pervert because we believe differently. In the end I believe the final proof is to look at the state of my marriage!

Whatever the belief the important thing is that BOTH people agree on it before they marry and then follow through on those beliefs after taking their vows. If not then it may take time but sooner or later the marriage is doomed – if not by divorce then descent into a loveless marriage of convenience.

What YOU decide to do in your marriage is ultimately up to YOU. I've made my decision and feel perfectly comfortable with it. I plan to spend the rest of my life married to the man I adore and love while also enjoying a robust and varied sex life. There's no reason the two can't be compatible!

(D.2) My Thoughts About Incest

Story Codes: nosex
Updated: April 25, 2018

It's amazing how many guys (and yes, often guys pretending to be women) ask me for my advice on how to start an incestuous relationship. Sometimes it's about a cousin or sibling, but usually it's a father wanting me to tell him how to initiate a sexual relationship with his daughter. You may be surprised to learn that I don't support incest in the majority of these situations!

This article is NOT meant to promote OR discourage incest but rather to raise the awareness of some of the issue involved and give my opinions about them. Hopefully I can explain a side to incest that's different from what most people know and at the same time help people to realize how wonderful incest can be – under the right circumstances.

Disclaimer: This article deals primarily with incest between fathers and daughters as I have no personal experience with incestual relationships between mothers and sons other than my husband and his mother.

1. Definitions

Obviously these definitions aren't exactly from the dictionary but rather are based on my own perspectives using the principles and concepts that guide my life and actions. No doubt your spouse, family, friends, church, and local authorities may have different opinions.

When discussing these sort of topics I find a lot of people misunderstand what I mean when I use certain phrases or words so before discussing this topic any further, a few definitions are in order. Remember that these are MY definitions which dictate how I lead MY life so if yours are different then while reading this, try to remember what mine are before you make any judgments.

2. General Rules for Sex

There is a fine line between incest and child abuse so when there is ANY question at all, I believe the more conservative response is always best. Here is my "Top Ten" list of basic rules that I believe EVERYONE should follow, regardless of whether the situation involves incest or not:

1. Regarding incest, if you're not 100% sure about it - DON'T DO IT.
2. If your daughter (or ANY girl for that matter) says "no", that means "NO". It doesn't matter if "she asked for it" or you think "she really wants it", if she doesn't say "yes" - DON'T DO IT.
3. If you have to rationalize what you want to do - DON'T DO IT.
4. If anything you do with your daughter doesn't feel right - IT'S NOT.
5. If you can't tell your wife about your feelings - DON'T tell your daughter and certainly DON'T DO IT.
6. DO NOT have sex with your daughter behind your wife's back. If you have to hide it from your wife - DON'T DO IT.
7. If you think your daughter might be too young for sex - SHE IS.
8. If you're not sure your daughter's ready for sex - SHE ISN'T.
9. Just because your daughter flirts with you it does NOT mean that she wants to have sex with you. In fact, odds are she'd be appalled if she knew you thought she did. Don't confuse trust with lust. If she's not crossing the line on her own - DON'T DO IT.
10. Porn movies, erotic stories and "adult" Internet sites DO NOT reflect reality. Don't expect the same reaction from your daughter as from the so-called "daughters" on the Internet. They are whores being paid to have sex.

3. Some General Thoughts About Incest

Of all the subjects I discuss incest is the one that gets the most responses as people have strong opinions about it. As a rule I find it's a pretty polarizing subject in that they're either turned on or totally disgusted without much in between. Unfortunately I've also found that most people's knowledge of "true" incest is derived from what they were taught as children, heard preached in church, read in the newspapers, discussed with their friends or worst of all - seen on internet porn sites. Very few people have factual knowledge of true incest as it should be practiced.

It's amazing to me how many people have told me that just because I have sex with my family I'm perverted or a victim of child molestation. Even if they finally acknowledge that it might actually be something I truly WANT to do they still claim that I've been brainwashed or that I was "groomed" by evil parents who just wanted to satisfy their disgusting sexual perversions. NONE of this, or anything remotely similar to it, could be farther from the truth. I have sex with my family because I WANT to and nobody has ever forced or coerced me to do anything. OK, so maybe my parents did "groom" me by providing me with opportunities most daughters never have but in the end it was MY decision.

Historically incest has been taboo in most cultures for two very good reasons - genetics and child exploitation. Even though our ancestors knew nothing about DNA they did know that kids born out of extended incestual relationships were often not quite "right" and so reasoned there must be something inherently wrong with the custom. Like many good practices, such as avoiding certain foods, etc., these became engrained in their laws and religion which provided the authority for society to enforce the taboo.

Today with the multitude of options available for birth control in addition to the means to end an unwanted pregnancy (please, no debates on abortion here), the foundation for the case against incest has largely crumbled. However these ancient taboos have become so engrained in our society and religion that most people cannot see beyond their life-long indoctrination and thus are unable to consider incest from a rational perspective.

The real problem is the second excuse used to ban incest - child abuse. I totally agree that all children MUST be protected. It's an unfortunate fact of life that there are many screwed-up people out there who are empowered and gratified through the act of abusive sex with children - some ridiculously young. This easily leads to a situation where a child can be coerced into performing acts they're not mature enough to understand nor truly consent to participating in. Because incest is one of the most common rationalizations used by these perverts, it's probably the most powerful argument against incest - at least so far as younger children are concerned. It's also why I don't believe incest should be legalized and publically accepted.

Over the years I've chatted with a lot of people on-line and it's generally been a fun experience although I've had to ignore more than few blatant perverts and jerks. Most people claim they are open-minded and have no problems with casual sex, especially if it was with me! Some say they want to cheat on their spouse while others want me to join them with their spouse and still others want me be to be with just their hubby or wife while they watch. Many couples claim to be looking for someone to make a three-some although I found that most of these "couples" are just fakes. Along those lines I've had quite a few people who are really into the kinky stuff including children and animals. The point I'm trying to make is that I try to respect other people's feelings and desires, even if I'm not especially turned on by them or even personally offended. For the most part, everyone else claims to feel the same way yet amazingly they then draw the line at incest. So let's see... fucking dogs and underage kids is good but having a loving relationship with my mom and dad that involves sex is bad. Hmmmmmm... what am I missing here?

There are many things in life that are fulfilling and pleasurable when handled properly yet they can also be easily abused and can be extremely harmful. Alcohol, gambling and sex come to mind immediately. Let me say right from the start that I firmly believe that incest is NOT for everyone. In fact only a small minority of families are in situations where this can be healthy.

What I DO know from my own experiences is that when handled properly incest can contribute to a wonderful and incredibly loving relationship between a girl and her immediate family. At the same time, I've seen where incest is abused and used to molest children. Thus my cautionary approach to incest for the general public.

4. Reasons for NOT Having Incest

It should go without saying that having sex between family members is NOT a requirement for establishing wholesome family values. Incest will not cure a dysfunctional family. While in the short run it may help by masking the real issues, eventually these will reappear and when they do having incest to deal with as well will undoubtedly just make a bad situation even worse.

There are a number of reasons why I strongly believe that the vast majority of families are NOT functionally, emotionally or otherwise equipped to deal with incest. Here are some of the major ones:

Incest is Not Accepted in Our Society

Face it, about the only time most people hear about incest is when it's abused. Thus our society has developed its own rules and regulations which makes incest taboo, not to mention illegal. People raised in this atmosphere will naturally grow up thinking incest is bad. As a result incest is not a secret to be shared with the neighborhood and I would bet that most people have no idea that the neighbors next door are sleeping together as a family.

Indeed, if such information WAS released in today's society it would likely ruin the lives and reputations of the parents and stigmatize the children. Keeping such an intimate and emotionally charged subject from accidentally escaping can be extremely tasking and is realistically beyond the capabilities of most families.

Unappealing Personal Looks and Hygiene

In many families there are legitimate issues with age differences and personal image. Let's face it, unless they're a model or a movie star most parents are NOT sexually appealing to their kids for the simple fact they are OLD.

Just walk around any store and look at the people and it's obvious that in many families one or both parents have let themselves go and are frankly just unappealing – especially if you imagine them naked! I mean, why would a girl want anything to do sexually with a father sporting a beer gut covered in hair, smelling like cigarettes and beer?

Physical Appearance

While I hate to sound like a narcissist, there usually has to be some physical attraction between the family members. This probably knocks out 95% of all families but what is the sense in having sex without it being fun? If a mom and dad let themselves go physically that's their business but they shouldn't expect their teenager kids to look at them with any thoughts of sex in mind! This doesn't mean parents have to be movie stars or models, just that they don't make themselves unappealing by lifestyle choices such as excessive eating or drinking.

For example, my dad isn't exactly trim and fit and while I think he looks good, I also admit to being a little biased. Yet when we have sex I don't even think about how he looks. Rather it's all about what we are doing and what we are sharing. It's the emotional fulfillment I seek when I am joined with my father much more so than the physical (although I'll be the first to admit that I don't mind it!)

BOTH Parents Need to Be Involved

I don't necessarily mean physically as some people are not bisexual but at least both should be fully aware of the situation. For instance, as a general rule a husband should not have sex with his daughter unless his wife gives her blessings first. This is true even, as happened in my own situation, the daughter doesn't know that her mother has when her dad first approaches her for sex.

It seems that incest tends to be more between a father and a daughter than with a mother and son. I don't know why, maybe it's because for some reason dads have a hard time accepting their wife having sex with their son more so than a mother does in sharing her husband with her daughter. I also think this may have something to do with the "macho factor" because the odds that the father and son would ever have sex are extremely low whereas a mother-daughter relationship is more easily established once the husband fucks them both.

I'm sure some people will point out that my father and I were fooling around with his younger brother and two of his kids without the knowledge of his bitchy wife which is in direct contradiction to everything I've just said. It just goes to show it wasn't a simple decision and I dearly wish my aunt had been more open-minded. However, given her strong moral convictions it was either stay away entirely or do what we did. Considering the experiences we've had dealing with the issues, we felt it was something that could be dealt with and indeed, that was the case. I do NOT

6. The Benefits of Incest

For those rare situations that DO meet the conditions AND there is an interest in it, incest can be a marvelous means to bring a family closer together. After all, how can I stay mad with my dad when I feel his erect cock sliding inside of me? Likewise, no matter what I've done, how upset can he stay with me when I suck his cock and take his sperm as my way of asking for forgiveness? It's amazing what a little spontaneous sex can do to bring everyone back together again no matter what the cause of the quarrel may have been.

After all this when you boil it down there are essentially two reasons I enjoy incest:

First, there is an incredible love and passion that comes naturally with incest. I love my parents and family so how can I possibly express it more than by giving myself to them completely? What most people don't understand is that I don't have sex with my dad to SHOW him I love him, I ALLOW him to fuck me because I love him. Hopefully you understand the subtle difference.

Nothing compares to the joy I feel when my father's hard cock penetrates deep inside of me, not even with my husband. When I allow my daddy to physically couple himself with me, to feel our bodies joined in the most intimate manner that a man and woman can, I feel like I'm demonstrating to him in a way like nothing else I can do just how much I love him and want to submit myself to him. When I feel his incestuous erection inside of me I know we've become one body and there's nothing left for me to give than I already am at that moment. When his cock erupts and his sperm explodes deep within me I know without a shred of doubt that I've satisfied him, that I've fulfilled the sexual lust built up within him using my own body, my own sex, to give him the most sacred thing I can give to anyone - ME.

In comparison to my dad, where sex is largely my way of satisfying his physical needs, being in bed with my mother is more emotionally stimulating. Not to say at all sex with my dad isn't an emotional time for me! So many times I end up crying with the joy he gives me. But with my mom we kiss like lovers, not parent and child. My mother is so passionate with me, so loving, it's almost overwhelming. To feel her warm naked body pressed against mine, to lick her pussy where I was conceived and born, to feel her tongue on my pussy where her husband fucks me, to have her lick his cum from me, all these things fill my soul and complete me as a woman and daughter.

Q: My wife's sister is hot and I think she's interested in me. What should I do? My wife would never understand.
A: There is a significant difference between this question and the previous one since her sister became a part of your family once you were married and thus having sex with her would be an act of incest, NOT adultery. While it may be biblically permissible the question is not what you CAN do but rather if it's what you SHOULD do. If your wife is OK with it then I'd say go for it but in your case you need to decide whether the potential consequences are worth it.

When you consider doing this it's a similar process as deciding whether to have sex with your daughter except now you're dealing with a more mature woman which makes it easier as you don't have to deal with the maturity issues. Is she married? If so, then that makes it bit more complicated, especially if her husband isn't on-board with the idea.

Don't ignore your potentially biggest ally - your wife. First, she had better approve of anything you do with her sister BEFORE you make a move. Also, if anyone would know she would be the one who could tell you if her sister is just flirting or has a real interest in you. Even if they haven't discussed it women instinctively know these things, trust me. If your wife approves of the idea but doesn't want to be involved herself, she could at least help get you and her sister together and thus make it a lot easier for you.

Q: Do you know of anyone else that has had a positive experience with incest?
A: Actually, outside my family in real life it's a pretty small list but that doesn't surprise me in the least. Other than my best friend Beth who has fucked her brother, that's about it outside the families we've met through our swapping group. I've never told anyone outside my family except Beth about my incestuous relationships. For all I know, some of my girlfriends could be doing the same thing with their fathers as I do yet I've no more idea about their activities than they do about mine.

When incest becomes public knowledge the odds are almost 100% that it's about a BAD relationship rather than a good one. Our society is not supportive of incest and legal issues are also a concern so I can't imagine any family with a healthy incestual relationship allowing anyone outside their family to know about it.

(D.3) My Thoughts About Interracial Sex

Story Codes: nosex
Updated: April 27, 2018

Anyone who has read "My Pet Peeves" in the About Me section of my diary blog knows that near the top of the list are stories involving interracial sex where the entire so-called erotic content seems to revolve around the fact that the couple is of different ethnic backgrounds. Not only do I consider this racist but it's an insult to me as well that someone thinks that writing such a story would turn me on. I'm not saying that there isn't something a little different when you have sex with someone outside your "ethnicity" as this diary entry portrays. In this article I explain in more detail why this topic made it to my pet peeves list.

*************************************

"Once you go black you never go back."

This is just one of numerous other similar statements alluding to the dominance of black cock size. It represents one of many such stereotypes that plague our society and nowhere more than in the so-called "erotic story" genre. Look up most any story site such as ASSTR, Literotica.com or StoriesOnLine.net and you'll find a plethora of such silly stories.

Why is it that in almost every story about interracial sexual encounters it's a black male having some sort of sex with a white female? I guess in a way I can understand simply by taking a look at the people I see every day. Ask yourself this... how many times have you seen a white girl on the arm of a black guy? Keeping that thought in mind, how many times are the roles are reversed where you see a black girl with a white boyfriend?

I've heard rationalizations about the supposed submissiveness of white females versus their more aggressive black counterparts but it bothers me to accept such notions as does that make me a racist or a realist?

It's interesting that with all the emphasis placed on black MEN, little is said about black WOMEN. When a black porn star is featured nobody says she has an extra tight pussy or better boobs just because her skin pigmentation is darker. Apparently for some men there is this "taboo" thing about fucking someone of a different race along the same lines as sex with young girls, sisters, twins, etc. Like the others fantasies, sex with black women doesn't seem to have the same eroticism that is placed with black men.

Is there any truth to the size advantage that black men supposedly have over their white male rivals? Again, I feel awkward even discussing this as personally I think it's like the same lines as the so-called "science" that claims male slaves were bred to have large dicks for their white female masters to enjoy. I've never seen any true evidence to back this myth, other than the typical porn stories and videos and we all know how close those portray real life scenarios, LOL.

From a personal standpoint I can't say I've had much experience to say with authority one way or the other. Back in my college days I dated a black guy for a while but other than him I've never really "dated" a black guy or Asian or Latino for that matter. Oh sure at some of the parties there were black guys and I know some of them fucked me along with the others but in that type of atmosphere there's not much time for reflecting on the relative variances in dicks. Of the hundreds of men who've fucked me over the years in what I would euphemistically call "less than intimate" surroundings, maybe a dozen or more were black. I really have no idea as to the actual count but my point is that none of them stood out.

When I chat I sometimes get guys that claim to be black and then want to know if I'm turned on by chatting with a black guy and would I like to have sex with them simply because they are black. Invariably these guys are assigned immediately to my "Ignore" list as I consider them rude and racist, not to mention egotistical. For all I know they aren't even black and even if they were who cares as I'll never meet any guy I met through a chat site.

My husband Steve and I once did a swap where I experienced first-hand a black dick. Yes he was black but other than that he wasn't all that different from any other guy I've had sex with. With the lights out, he felt no different in my mouth than any other dick and once his dick was inside of me I couldn't see it anyway so what difference did it make what color it was? It wasn't like he was a dog or came any an unusual amount. For all intents and purposes, he was just a MAN more than anything else. About the only thing different was the reaction I get when I tell people I had sex with a black guy.

Steve seemed thrilled afterwards to have had the chance to have sex with a black woman so I suppose that in and of itself justified the effort. While most of my attention was focused on the husband I couldn't help but take a closer look at the wife as well. The first thing that I had noticed when I saw her was that she could have been Michelle Obama's twin sister. Well, at least the "family resemblance" was there. Even her hair was the same having bangs and all. Her facial features were a little softer and her smile seemed less forced but still the resemblance was remarkable. Even when dressed she looked gorgeous and if I had anything else to say about her I would say her style was impeccable.

One thing that caught my eye was her boobs which I could tell were real having based on having the right amount of sag to go along with her age but nothing TOO much either. They actually reminded me of my mom's than my aunt's as Aunt Linda had hers lifted a few years back although nothing was added, just a tightening up. As nice as her bust looked it was her legs that captured my imagination. She had the body proportions of a model with legs that were unnaturally long for her body – legs I would've killed for!

Still, putting all that aside had I been blind or somehow not been able to see that she was black she would've been no different than any other woman. As with her husband's cock I found that black pussy doesn't taste any different than the white version. She was shaved so I can't attest to the difference the texture of her pubic hair may have been but then all women vary widely when it comes to how they trim and take care of their pubic hair.

So to close on what seems to have transformed into a rambling mess... sex is sex. It doesn't matter what color the partners are as it's still all the same parts and pieces with just different rules in some cases. It's more a culture thing than a skin pigmentation issue. I don't even like to bring the subject up so people who try to chat with me and make their skin color out to be something important, don't be surprised if I suddenly disappear after adding you to my "ignore list"!

(D.4) My Thoughts About Masturbation

Story Codes: f-solo m-solo

Updated: April 25, 2018

What is the big deal about masturbation anyway? Everyone does it, whether they admit it or not. If you know anything about me, you know I LOVE doing it. Here are my thoughts on the matter.

1. What's the Big Deal?

Imagine if someone offered you something that was 100% legal, makes you feel absolutely wonderful, can be done most anywhere, harms nobody else, doesn't involve any drugs, and best of all is FREE. Why you would have to be crazy to turn it down, right?

Hmmmmmm, sounds like a pretty good description of masturbation!

So why is it that masturbation is some sort of dirty secret that everyone shares but nobody wants to talk about? I mean, practically everyone I know does it so why all the secrecy and shame? Yet every day some poor kid is chastised by his parents or other elder when he or she gets caught doing what simply comes natural. What makes it all the more ironic is that later those same parents go off and do it themselves!

Kids can't be blamed for wanting to masturbate. Their hormones are surging, their bodies are changing shape, new feelings and responses seem to be awakening almost daily. With all that it would be unnatural for them NOT to want to masturbate! So what if they're fantasizing about sex when they do? Stopping them from masturbating certainly isn't going to make them stop from fantasizing. If anything, the pent up frustrations will more likely just lead to even more fantasies and who knows what all else.

Whenever we treat something as taboo, inevitably it only serves to make it more fascinating to the people you are trying to "protect". If Mom and Dad won't discuss sex and masturbation, then it must be really good - right? One of the biggest issues I have regarding withholding sexual information from kids is that if they haven't told anything about it from their parents then that leaves them to learn on their own. In far too many cases, this results in unwed mothers, STDs and sexual perversion.

Before anyone goes nuts and starts writing me more hate mail, I don't mean we expose eight year-old kids to porn, a little common sense please. Every parent needs to make that judgment on their own as to when it's appropriate. The key is to make that decision!

Fortunately I grew up in a family where sex was not a taboo subject. My parents believed that an informed child makes more responsible decisions and behaves in a more accountable manner. Teaching kids about responsible sex does not encourage them to do it, if anything just the opposite is true. By removing the shroud of mystery their curiosity is satisfied. Even if it doesn't stop them from having sex, hopefully they will at least practice safe sex.

A part of learning to deal with sex is learning to deal with the human body. Growing up, nudity was present but definitely not flaunted in our home. My parents and I did not run around naked or go off exposing ourselves to the neighborhood or anything stupid like that. At the same time we weren't ashamed of our bodies and nudity was acceptable - in the proper time and place.

To me the key was that I was taught to differentiate between nudity and sexuality. For instance we never wore wear swim suits in the hot tub except when we had guests. The reason we didn't was because it was more comfortable that way, not because we intended to have sex or felt some weird desire to flaunt our bodies in front of one another. Although bedroom and bathroom doors were rarely shut unless for a specific reason, we still honored each other's privacy by not barging in unannounced even if the door was open.

When my parents DID shut their bedroom door it was almost always for one reason. Because they were open with me about sex I knew what they were doing and so I never disturbed them. It makes me a bit sad knowing that most parents hide the intimacy and sexuality of their marriage from their kids. If anything, it made me feel more secure growing up knowing my parents were in love and had a healthy sexual relationship. I didn't need to SEE them having sex, just knowing they did it was enough for me.

So in the end, what's the big deal about masturbation?

2. Masturbation Tells All

Because of the experiences I've had sexually, especially with regards to incest, I get a lot of people asking me for sexual advice. Many of these revolve around how to have an incestual relationship of one sort or another with a family member. In almost every case the first question I ask is whether they masturbate and do they know if the person they want to be involved with masturbates.

The response to that question usually tells me 80% about a person's overall sex life and almost everything when it comes to predicting the success rate of them having a more intimate family relationship. If the answer is that they don't masturbate (liars), I know there are serious issues that need to be addressed before moving forward with any fantasies they may have. Simply put, how can you expect to have sex with your daughter or niece if you are too embarrassed to masturbate with them around?

When a husband tells me his wife never masturbates when he is around, or that she hates it when he does it, that's a sure-fire signal to me that they have issues with their marriage. If anyone shouldn't be worried about their partner masturbating, it should be their spouse. Isn't it far better for a husband to masturbate looking at pics of some girl than to go out and find one to do for real? It's the old, "window shop but don't but anything" concept.

As for husbands complaining to me about their wives not masturbating, it speaks volumes to their relationship. Of course she masturbates! The fact she's not letting him see her is all I have to hear to know their marriage is in jeopardy.

Maybe I'm making too big a deal about masturbation but I strongly feel that if you can't be comfortable doing yourself, how can you expect to be comfortable trying to please someone else? If you can't accept pleasure from you own hand, maybe that's why you have issues receiving it from others.

All this is why I feel masturbation is so important. It's not just DOING it, it's where and how you do it. It's how you deal with it when you're with others. It's how you accept others doing it when you are around.

Think about it before jumping to any conclusions. I'm sure you'll agree with me!

5. Some Final Thoughts

Masturbation is an essential part of my daily routine. In fact, I can hardly remember a day in recent years that I haven't done it at least once and even those days are few and far between. For me it's not just the release of sexual tension as I will masturbate even after getting plenty of sex. The simple fact is that I LOVE doing it. The afterglow sometimes lasts for hours which is great when you have to spend two hours in a lecture hall!

My favorite time for sex in general, either masturbation or live sex, is when I first wake up. For some reason I seem to wake up naturally hornier than I tend to be at any other time of the day. I love to hit the alarm shutoff and then just reach down and cup my warm pussy in my hand. One thing I sort of miss is that I don't have any hair there to play with as I shave myself clean. It's easy to get started as usually I'm at least a little bit wet when I wake up. I don't usually remember dreaming about sex but it seems my mind must have been doing something naughty to get me this worked up.

My morning sessions are usually rather low-key as I'm satisfied with a nice little orgasm at that time of day. Whether I do it again during the day is sort of dependent on how things go and what my mood is. If I'm looking forward to something, such as going home for the holidays and it's only a few days away, I may be thinking about it a lot and find myself pretty tense by noon. Sometimes I'll go back to my room for a quick relief if time allows. Other times I've resorted to using the girl's restroom.

When I'm extremely horny I like to masturbate in more risky places since the element of danger seems to elevate the strength of my orgasm. I've done it in class and even in church. It's all about seat location, apparel and having something to help hide. Winter coats are great blockers for instance. Another time I enjoy doing it is when I'm driving. There is just something exhilarating about driving down the road with one hand on my pussy. There have been a few times when truckers and guys in high pickup trucks have seen me but they don't mind and I certainly don't care if they watch.

That brings up the other element that makes masturbation special for me. I love being watched when I do it. I've teased many a boy on dates by masturbating in front of them, almost always in a car or movie theater but sometimes in bed or any other location they like. It makes me so hot to see them getting hard and horny, watching me and getting horny but unable to do anything about it; seeing me cum but forced to just watch. Sometimes I would reward them afterwards but if I was feeling nasty I would make them drive home with their balls ready to explode!

At home masturbation is like sex and nudity, something that's done but not flaunted. It can be a bit more public when the situation calls for it. My parents don't mind if we're watching a sexy movie on cable or a rental and I get hot to the point where I spread my legs and start playing with myself as I lay on the couch. Heck, even my dad will sometimes jerk off if he gets horny enough. The last Victoria Secret special had him playing with himself for the entire show and he has a real thing for Amanda Tapping on StarGate SG1, sometimes cumming twice a show if she is starring!

My mom is the most private in the family when it comes to masturbation. She keeps a drawer of dildos and vibrators next to her bed and it's quite a collection! I'll often hear them in the morning after my dad's left for work. I've joined her a few times as I love watching her doing herself. Other than that I rarely see her other than in the hot tub where she likes to make use of the jets. Can't blame her - I love them too!

My Aunt Linda and cousin Kristi are more like me in that they do it when they feel like it and it doesn't really bother them if any of us are around. Between them, my dad and me you can imagine that our family room can get quite interesting when we have the right movie on! We never touch each other when we're masturbating. It not intended to be a sex act between us but instead a response to the internal feeling we have without having sex.

In conclusion I just want to encourage everyone to stop making masturbation such a taboo subject. Enjoy it! Please - encourage your children to explore their sexuality, to learn what makes their bodies respond. If they masturbate more maybe they won't be so horny that they have to have sex without the right precautions and attitudes, ending up with kids out of wedlock!

Whatever your reasons, be yourself... and do yourself.

(D.5) My Thoughts About Submission

Story Codes: nosex
Updated: April 25, 2018

If there's one concept that is the most misinterpreted and misunderstood by people I talk to, it's submission. The mere mention of the word seems to bring up images of handcuffs, dom/sub relationships, whips. leather, slavery, and all sorts of debauchery. This may be true for the kinky folks out there, but that's NOT at all the sort of submission I'm referring to when I use the word.

When I speak of submitting myself to someone else, be it my husband, father, or even God, it means something entirely different from that portrayed on porn sites. It's nothing kinky or perverted but rather an outward and visible testament to my relationship with that person. It's nothing forced but rather the natural outcome resulting from having complete trust in someone else. Instead of being humiliated or degraded, I am fulfilled by my role in a loving and respectful relationship.

So let's talk about submission from THAT angle and leave the creepy stuff to the porn folks. Let's talk reality, not fantasy.

1. Taking Things Out of Context

Perhaps one of the most oft misquoted passages in the Bible comes from Ephesians 5 which speaks to the submission of wives to their husbands. So often people only quote the first five words in verse 22: "Wives, submit to your husbands..." and forget all the rest. Men (and even some women) use these words to rationalize their stance that women should remain barefoot and pregnant, never leaving the kitchen except to make babies for their husbands. Even if not taken to that extreme, it's still used today to justify the mistreatment of women by putting a man's needs first without concern for the woman's. In case you haven't read it, here's the what that passage actually says:

Ephesians 5 (NIV) 22: Wives, submit to your husbands as to the Lord. 23: For the husband is the head of the wife as Christ is the head of the church, his body, of which he is the Savior. 24: Now as the church submits to Christ, so also wives should submit to their husbands in everything. 25: Husbands, love your wives, just as Christ loved the church and gave himself up for her.

Maybe it's just me but that's a far cry from calling for a domination/submissive relationship. Yes, it DOES establish the husband as the "head" of the house, and yes it DOES call for the wife to "submit" to him BUT it also says to do so "as Christ loved the church and gave himself up for her" - hardly a BSDM role.

Just as important, and what is usually conveniently "forgotten" when people quote this passage, is that these verses also command the husband to love his wife as much as Christ loved the church AND to give himself up for her - again, not exactly a whips and chains domination scenario.

Without getting into a deeper religious debate, my point is there is another way to look at the idea of submission which has nothing to do with domination. Whether it's between a husband and wife, father and daughter, mother and son, or whatever the relationship may be, these passages provide guidance for how that relationship should be treated rather than who dominates who.

2. Submission During Casual Sex

To most people, when they hear the word "submit" they immediately think of someone giving themselves up due to the overpowering forces of another entity. They see it as losing their independence while being forced to do things they may not desire or even believe in.

When applied to casual sex, this view of submission typically becomes part of a domination scenario where one person is basically degrading the other. Submittal becomes a humiliating condition where one person is subjugated by another who seeks to gain sexual pleasure from their ability to impose their desires on the other. At the same time, the person in the submissive role also gets some form of sexual pleasure. Hey, it's definitely not my scene but if you get off from it, go for it!

Just to be clear, I'm NOT against BSDM per se - it's just not for me. It's not that much different than anal sex from my perspective. If someone wants a dick (or whatever) pushed up their asshole, more power to them but it doesn't do anything for me. Assuming both parties consent, neither BSDM or anal sex cause any harm (other than a sore butt) and if it makes them happy, what's the big deal? All this goes back to the domination themes and has nothing to do with "submission" as I'm trying to address it.

Actually, in the interest of full disclosure, I do enjoy role-playing as a mild submissive at times when I'm with a guy. The key is the word "role-playing". It's sometimes fun to let him call the shots as I try to anticipate what he'll demand that I do next - and then do it for him. It's more a game for me than anything else. There's a game I like to play where we agree to go out and I have to do anything the guy tells me (yes, we DO set some boundaries at this start). Of course in the back of my mind I know I can always say no and thus I feel I'm actually the one who's in control.

Along those lines I think it's rather amusing that so many guys seem to think women are "submitting" to them when they suck their dick. Maybe in some cases this is true as I know a lot of girls don't enjoy oral sex as much as I do and as such they only do it to please their guy. As for me, how can sucking cock be an act of submission when it's something I love to do? Besides, any guy who thinks I'm submitting to him when I take his sensitive dick in my mouth needs to stop and think about it for a moment. Whose most tender body part is between whose teeth?

In summary, so-called "submission" as part of a healthy casual sex relationship is really more about having fun than true "submission" from a biblical perspective. Thus none of this has anything to do with the form of submission I'm referring to when I tell people that I "submit" to my father or husband.

3. Biblical-Based Sexual Submission

When a person truly submits themselves in a sexual way to another person, not as part of a game to do just for fun, but as a true form of submission in line with what the Bible describes, it's truly the basis for a special relationship. When a person gives themselves totally and completely to the other person, without hesitation or second thoughts, it can be almost magical.

The key is you can't go half-way. It's "all in" or nothing. No matter what the other person desires or needs me to do, I have to be willing do it, period. As I said, submission requires a truly special relationship and is NOT some sort of perverted game or slavery scene.

The most important thing that I cannot over-emphasize enough is that for this form of submission to work, each person has to trust the other totally and completely. It is really the TRUST that leads to real submission, not FEAR. The person submitting has to believe in their heart that the other person loves them and respects them so much that they would never be asked to do anything that would hurt them or in any way harm or humiliate them. Likewise, the other person has to feel confident that they can express their needs and wants without the fear of being judged or turned away. You might say that submission is more of an indicator of the state of your relationship, not the foundation.

forgive him as he is no more perfect than anyone else. And yes, I would do it, no matter what.

Until I got married my father was the only man to whom I truly submitted. Once I said my vows that meant I was then obligated to submit to my husband as well. Of course I didn't hesitate one second in doing so. If I couldn't trust Steve enough to submit myself to him as his wife as my beliefs require, then I wouldn't have married him, nor should I have. Personally, I despise women who suck their husband's cock and do other things he asks while they are dating but once they get the ring then they quit rather than submit to their husband's needs. As much as I oppose adultery, women who do such disgraceful things deserve to be cheated on!

Note that in addition to the oft-quoted Ephesians passage, there is still the matter of the Ten Commandments where we are told to "Honor you father and mother." Well, so far as I'm concerned there's no greater way to honor my father than to give my body to him freely and unconditionally. To demonstrate such faith and trust in him actually empowers me rather than making me subservient. When my dad comes to me and takes me, as is his right to do as my father at any time, and joins with me as I yield my body completely to him, it becomes one of the most incredible feelings I can experience not only as his daughter but as a woman as well.

4. Conclusion

Like most articles I write this one arose from being asked the same line of question many times. Trying to write it out in e-mails or chats meant having to repeat myself constantly which became a pain in the butt. Even when I did I wasn't doing justice to what I was trying as compared to sitting down and writing it out in a more detailed and hopefully coherent format.

At risk of repeating myself, I just to make it clear that when I submit to my father, it is only as any daughter SHOULD submit herself to her father. Of course that assumes the father is aware of his responsibilities as well AND lives by them. It has nothing to with domination in a BSDM context. It's based solely on my personal beliefs and the words of the Bible.

Hopefully this clears up the confusion and misunderstandings about what I mean when I say that I "submit" to someone!

(D.6) My Thoughts About Underage Sex

Story Codes: Mf Fm mf Mg Fb bg inc oral
Updated: April 27, 2018

I've posted a number of fantasies and stories that include references to sex with underage children. As a result I've received a lot of feedback about it with most being supportive but some not so - to put it mildly. Whether positive or negative, I find that most people really don't understand my true position on the subject so I wrote this article to try and clear things up a bit.

Those who know me will undoubtedly find that my current views are significantly different from those I've stated in the past. Keep in mind that even some of those were different than what I stated even earlier. I'm no different than anyone else in that as I mature and experience reality versus fantasy, my perspective changes and I'm not afraid to admit when I'm wrong.

1. Disclaimer

Let me make this perfectly clear from the start...
I DO NOT SHARE PHOTOS OF ANYONE UNDER EIGHTEEN!

This is NOT an article intended to promote child pornography or abuse. I do NOT trade or even want photos of anyone under eighteen - regardless of how "innocent" they may be. If you DO send me any then they will be deleted, you will be added to my ignore list and you'll never hear from me again. I may even turn it over to the FBI if for no other reason than to protect myself against possible charges of receiving child pornography. Writing about underage kids isn't illegal. Sharing photos of underage kids isn't either so long as not "naughty". However, writing about someone AND sharing photos supposedly of that person IS grounds for potential legal action and I want no part of that!

That said, I'll readily admit that I encourage people to express their most intimate and personal FANTASIES regardless of what they may be. This is predicated on the premise that such discussions are limited to a person's FANTASIES and not any real actions on their part. I firmly believe that personal fantasies should be respected, no matter how perverse or disgusting they may seem to others (including though they might enjoy it or find it pleasurable, especially at the upper end of the age range, they should NOT be involved with sex because of the potential negative implications for their future health - mental and physical. I would also say that most preteens are not old enough to be involved with sex although exceptions certainly exist depending on the family situations and the maturity of the child.

While I can't speak authoritatively for boys, I CAN say that even if a young girl can be physically stimulated and enjoys being touched in a sexual manner, it doesn't mean she likes SEX per se. All it really means is she likes to be touched that way. For a young girl, touching her chest and crotch is no different than touching her back or legs in that she simply enjoys the feelings she gets when those place are touched.

As an example my father use to scratch my back at night when I was young and I loved it. Often it would help me to fall sleep on those nights when I was restless. He could just as easily have fondled my pussy and flat chest with the same results and I would've never have known the difference. A girl needs to learn to respect her body and to expect others to respect it as well if she is ever going to be comfortable with herself later in life.

Frankly, I don't believe 99.9% of the things people tell me on-line that they do with kids but often I'll play along with them if they're at least interesting to talk with. Over the years there have been a few situations where I worried that things might actually be getting out of hand for real at the other end. In those cases I immediately cut off all contact with that person. Maybe I should've turned them over to the authorities as well but I just didn't want to be associated with them any further.

If any of this seems odd to hear from me it's probably because you've been reading my chats and e-mails without paying attention to my REAL thoughts and opinions. While I've chatted with people, exchanged e-mail, and even written fantasies about preteen and child sex, they have NEVER been anything more than just fantasies and role-playing for me (as I believe it is for them as well).

Because of the chats, e-mails, and stories I've posted I know people often get the wrong impression of me. Even though I say over and over again how I really feel, people continue to ignore me and then write to accuse me of being a pedophile or just plain perverted. Thus through this article I'm trying to put this issue to rest once and for all.

"Fuck me"

Just two words, one syllable each, simple and direct; yet I can't think of any other two words I say to a guy that have more impact than these!

1. General Purpose Sex

It seems odd to me that many people consider "fuck" to be an offensive word in "normal" conversation but erotic if it's used during sex. While I don't normally use it as a curse word I DO use the word "fuck" a LOT when talking about sex which seems to disturb some people who view it as the proverbial "four letter word". Because of the stigma associated with using the word "fuck" many people use euphemisms like "having sex", "making love", "doing it", etc. which just seems sort of silly to me. As George Carlin once said, "Shoot is shit with two O's."

In the Bible, there are three words for what we call "love": Agape - charity or caring for someone else as yourself, phileo - brotherly love, and eros - sexual love. Just as people confuse the single English translation where "love" is used for all three, so it is when it comes to the word "sex" for me. Just as "love" has very distinct yet different connotations, so too for me there are two very distinct categories when describing sex. namely "fucking" and "making love".

In my vocabulary, when I use the word "fuck" it means having sex for the purpose of personal gratification. Thus "fucking" is how I describe my sexual relationship with almost every person I've been with starting with my first boyfriend. For example, when I go out on a date and have sex with someone I'm not doing it specifically to please them or satisfy THEIR needs. After all, I'm not some kind of charity sex whore! The reason I like to be "fucked" is because it satisfies MY needs - period. Naturally I usually get fucked better when my partner's needs and feelings are satisfied as well and so there is a selfish motive for fulfilling their needs as well. Fucking doesn't require love or personal commitments, it's all about personal enjoyment.

Before I forget, while it may seem to be a minor point to some people I prefer to make a distinction between fucking someone and being fucked BY someone. The difference lies in who is the aggressor and/or being dominant. By definition fucking is NEVER something that is shared equally - someone is always dominate to some degree. Thus when I say, "I fucked so-and-so" it means I was the one who either initiated it or was the dominate person. If I say, "I was fucked by so-and-so" then it means I allowed the other person to take the lead.

Notice I said "allowed"... Anyone who knows anything about me knows that I always need to be in control when involved in a sexual situation. There may be times when I will let the other person THINK that they're in control but in reality that's never the case or at least it isn't if I have anything to say about it. I guess that's why I don't get into bondage or other fetishes like that.

On the opposite side of the sexual spectrum from fucking is "making love". Whereas "fucking" is all about personal self-satisfaction, "making love" is all about sharing and pleasing the other person. It may surprise some people when I say this, but I've only made love with my husband which means not even with my father (although that is a far more complicated scenario than I care to delve into now).

Making love is when two people are truly in love with each other as equal partners, willing to share themselves with each other and commit their lives to one another.

Hmmm, sounds like marriage!

When I say "love" I'm speaking of the emotional feelings between two lovers which is vastly different from two people loving each other (such as in the case of a father loving his daughter and she loving him - they love each other but not as lovers). Of course when making love there is an element of personal gratification but at the same time your partner's needs are of at least EQUAL concern. Neither partner is "in control" which follows the natural order of life where a wife should submit to her husband as described in the Bible - an often misquoted verse from the Book of Ephesians which was intended to describe a loving relationship, not a submissive or dominating one when taken in the context of today's perceptions and definitions.

2. Incest

For the vast majority of people "fucking" or "making love" are the only two phrases needed to categorize their sexual relationships. Of course other terms can still be used for variety; but when pressed, every sexual act for the average person can usually be pigeon-holed into one of these two categories.

For a small minority of fortunate people, including myself, there is a sub-category of sex known as "incest". Typically, incest is known as sex between a parent and their child although other family member may be involved. The reason I call incest a sub-category is because depending on the relationships involved, it is similar to either fucking or making love but unique in a special way.

Incest involving a parent and child is about as close to "making love" as sex can be without actually being that. No child should ever be considered a "lover" with their parent. The intimacy of "making love" can never be fully achieved between family members but at the same time, this is why incest is so special as it as close as they CAN be, a form of intimacy that could never be achieved without the help of sex.

Incest between family members such as an uncle and niece is still intimate but closer to fucking than making love. Just as sex between a parent and child brings them close to making love, so too does sex between family members elevate sex above simple "fucking".

However, to make things easier, I always refer to incestual sex as "fucking" but keep in mind what I really mean when you read my stories.

3. Submission

Note that there is one thing that does NOT come into play in either fucking or making love - submission. Again, I need to emphasize that this applies to me as there are people out there who are into all sorts of kinky stuff but I am not talking about weird or kinky perversions here. I NEVER submit myself to anyone when I'm being fucked. There are times when I may PRETEND to be submissive and in many cases the guy may not even realize that I'm faking it, but there is no way I would ever actually submit myself to anyone who just fucks me. I'm not into anything that kinky so I wouldn't give myself to someone I'm having sex when I'm seeking only my own personal satisfaction! I value myself as a person too much and have enough self-esteem that I never feel the need to lower myself to that level just to get fucked.

On the other hand, making love has nothing to do with submission as each person is an equal partner in the relationship. One may take the lead but that does mean the other has submitted in any way. I will submit to my husband's biblical AUTHORITY but I will never submit myself to HIM. Besides, if my husband truly loves me then he would never want me to submit myself to him in the first place. My intention is to be his caring and loving wife, not his slut, his whore, nor his slave.

Now that you understand how I feel about submission, this sets the stage for a deeper discussion of parent-child incest. I can't emphasize this enough. Despite all the male fantasies and porn crap that is out there regarding father- daughter relationships, I am NOT my father's lover nor would I ever want to be. I can never be his equal in a relationship and thus I can never "make love" with him. At the same time, I do not let him fuck me for my own personal satisfaction. In this ONE special and unique case, I submit myself to him for his gratification.

Now to be sure, my father IS a man and when he fucks me I enjoy it just as I would being fucked by any other man. The key factor is that I am NOT the one in control, but instead I give myself totally to my dad which, in my opinion at least, is what ANY daughter should do for her father if she truly loves him. Since it is HIS pleasure and needs I am concerned about, not mine, although I still refer sex with my father as "fucking", the key word in this one special case is "submission". My father understands that I am his whenever he wants me and that I trust and respect him enough to surrender myself completely to him.

Obviously, it's physically impossible for me to submit myself to my mother in the same manner that I do to my dad. When I feel my dad's cock slip inside of me and then later when he cums in me, in addition to the feelings of love and security resulting from having my own father literally "mating" me, there is also an element of domination and submission that only a male can have over me - that only my father can do to me.

A quick word about sex with my mother. I don't talk about sex with her nearly as much as with my dad in large part because we do it so much less. As any girl who has tried it will attest, there is something about sex between women that is special beyond what words can describe. When those women are mother and daughter, it elevates their emotions to an even higher plane of sexuality that defies any description.

Even though it lacks the physical bond I have with my dad, sex with my mom is as close to "making love" as I can imagine sex being besides with my husband. With my father, I'm ALWAYS his daughter and there is NEVER any blurring of those lines. A number of people have asked me if I had ever wanted to bear my father's child. Well, the very concept totally repulses me. Ugh, how sickening and perverted would THAT be? With my mom though, it is so different and all I can only leave it to your imagination at this point to try and understand what it is like when we're together. All I can say is while I'm still her daughter, somehow I feel like her lover as well. I probably have been fucked by my dad twenty times or more for every time I'm with my mom but somehow it has managed to equal out emotionally

So there you have it - all forms of sex for me fall into the categories of either self-satisfaction, sharing, or submission. Now that I'm married, when I can't write about sex with my husband I sometimes say we make love although in truth, most of the time we're just fucking for fun! In all the rest of my stories (including those involving my parents and relatives) I refer to sex as "fucking". I hope this makes it easier for you to understand what I mean when I say it and not be offended that I am saying being a "potty mouth".

(Appendix F) My Pet Peeves

Story Codes: nosex
Updated: April 27, 2018

OK, so this is a rant so if you don't want to hear me bitch then this one's NOT for you! On the other hand, if you have any interest in contacting me it might not hurt to take some time now to read it and save us both some aggravation.

1. "Erotic" Stories

There are tons of so-called erotic stories posted every day yet so few of them are worth reading and even fewer turn me on. When I read most stories, e-mails, blogs, etc., usually I just want to scream! Usually all I need is to read the first few lines to get the gist of it after which I close the file in disgust. Here are some of the things that REALLY turn me off...

Horrible spelling and grammar

I'm not talking about chatting where the intent is to converse quickly so abbreviations and misspellings are unavoidable and thus acceptable to all but the most anal of folks. What I mean is if somebody's going to take the time and effort to write up a story and post it on the Internet for all the world to read then why not show a little class?

Although I would never fault someone for making a few mistakes (that would be quite hypocritical of me), some people are just downright atrocious. Like is there anyone who doesn't have a spellchecker these days? Even on-line e-mail systems like Gmail and Yahoo! have one built in. Granted they don't catch everything but at least make the effort. And for those who don't understand the concept of paragraphs... enough said. If you're going to write a story, take a little pride!

Posting in DOC format

In a world overrun by viruses, that last thing I want are Microsoft Word documents which are known carriers. I simply ignore anything in Word format.

Young girls wanting sex with their dad

I've never known or heard of a real girl under the age of 12-13 that wants to have sex with her father without being led into it by him or as some people would call it, being "groomed". There's not one time growing up that I can recall when I gave one thought about having sex with my father, not even when I would see him masturbate or when he would get an erection while I sat on his lap. If anything my dad was the LAST man I would ever have thought about having sex with for the simple fact that he WAS my father! Sorry to burst any bubble but unless a young girl's being heavily influenced by someone it just isn't going to happen.

No introduction

When the first sentence starts right out with a detailed description of a sex act, I rarely read the second one. A little context helps so tell me a story, not a tweet.

Mechanical descriptions of sex

Is there anyone reading this stuff who doesn't know HOW sex is performed? What makes a story erotic and turns me on is when I get the WHY behind the sex. I want to know the reactions of the people involved, their feelings, what drives them. Tell me about their thoughts as they do it. What led up to the event? What was their motivation? Don't just say "his dick entered her", tell me how it FELT and not just the feelings between his legs but in his head (the big one).

"Young" children with the vocabulary of an adult

Why do people try to pretend to be an eight year-old and then use the syntax and vocabulary of a forty year-old? The very idea that a child would be writing such a story in the first place is ludicrous so why not use a third-person format although even then they can get too far "out there" to be enjoyable. I think it's pitiful when an adult man tries to pretend to be a fourteen year-old girl. Give me a break - who do you think you're fooling? Even I can't write that way and I used to be one!

Twins

Does every set of twins in the world have sex with each other? If so, how come none of the ones I know do? There's a reason why the Milton Twins are Internet sensations - they're the exceptions. I usually won't even open stories with "twins" in the title.

Dead parents and/or relatives

Why is it that people think that the death of a parent or someone close automatically leads to incestual sex between the survivors? The very concept that a child will immediately turn to a remaining parent or relative for lost love, including first-time incest is simply silly or even better said - stupid. All that this demonstrates to me is that the writer is just banging out a jerk story based on his own fantasies and delusions without a clue about how real incest works.

Divorced parents

Just like the "dead relative" scenario, why are so many stories about the start of incest based on the premise of a recently divorced parent? Psychologically divorce is equivalent to death in that one parent is typically "lost". However, such a loss tends to strain the remaining relationships more so than resulting in sex. Even if you ignore the realities, the plot line is stupid.

Underage Lolita

I'm not talking about teenagers and tweens, I mean full blown preteens and in some cases stories involving kids as young as five or six years old (or even younger). Good grief give me a break! About the last thing a young child thinks about is sex.

C'mon, we were all kids once - have you completely forgotten what it was like? Oh sure there may be a little curiosity before puberty but that's a LONG ways from feelings of lust and doing anything with the intent of being sexual. Even when two kids DO touch each other (who's never played "doctor" at least once?), that's not "sex" but rather just a natural part of growing up. Based on the number of stories involving very young kids that are posted this must make for a good fantasy for a lot of guys but so far as I'm concerned it's about as realistic as the mind control or space cadet stories. It's just too over the top to turn me on.

Sick/injured sibling

What more do I really need to say about this one? I don't know about you but when I'm sick or hurt, sex is about the LAST thing on my mind!

Fondling a sleeping parent or child

I'm not talking about the act per se as a lot of creeps out there may fondle their sleeping daughter but that's nothing to do with sex. I'm referring to someone doing it and then the other person wakes up with the immediate craving for sex with their molester. Just because mom is asleep doesn't mean that that if junior fondles her that she's going to suddenly have an urge to have sex with him. It's far more likely that mom will spank his ass! Parents who fondle their young children in their sleep are simply child abusers and perverts.

Women who enjoy being raped

OK, to be fair I find some "nonconsensual" stories to be a bit of a turn-on from a strictly fantasy perspective (we all have our own perversions). That said, it's nothing I would EVER want to happen in reality. Kept in context there's nothing wrong with the subject matter for strictly fantasy purposes. What concerns me about these stories is that they could lead someone to actually believe the myth that "no" means "yes". While this is the basis for many porn movies and stories, it's NOT reflective of real life.

Attention men! When a girl says, "NO" that means NO. I have NEVER heard of a real-life rape victim who said they felt anything other than disgust and humiliation. Rape scars a woman for life. It's not something that is EVER ok, no matter how much you might falsely claim "she asked for it".

Father who enjoy watching their daughters being raped

This is similar to the rape scenario I just described. So long as it remains in the fantasy realm I'm OK with it.

In reality I just can't believe that any decent father could possibly find enjoyment from watching someone hurt his daughter. Again, while I find nothing wrong with the FANTASY, I worry that someone might think such stories reflect reality and thus take action based on this misguided and perverted idea.

Interracial sex

I knew when I titled this one that people would jump to conclusions so let me say this right off - I am NOT against interracial sex. It's just that saying "interracial" is meaningless at best and racist at worst. Who cares what color your partner is? He can be green or purple for all I care so long as he has a functioning dick. All this crap about enhanced penis size for black men and sexual aggressiveness for black women is just a bunch of baloney if you ask me.

Please read "Appendix (D.3) My Thoughts About Interracial Sex" if you want to know more details about how I feel about this subject.

Unnatural sex

This is MY personal thing so I'll be the first to admit that there are obviously a lot of people who must get off to this stuff, just not me. That would include anything to do with scat, snuff, bestiality, BSDM, aliens, extreme pedophilia, and the like. Guess I was raised a little bit old fashioned in that I prefer nice normal sex!

2. Chatting

Note: By chatting I mean texting, e-mail, Instant Messenger, etc.

In general there are two reasons I chat. First, I chat with friends although usually we phone or text each other. Second, I chat with strangers on-line for fun. Needless to say, there's a huge difference between the two in how I chat. Of course it goes without saying that I use completely different accounts and the two never mix.

When I chat with strangers there's a LOT I don't say or do compared to when I'm chatting with friends who know me. By the same token, I don't discuss many of the things with my friends that I do with strangers. It's like two different worlds, each with their own set of rules.

One more thing about chatting and meeting people. I don't cam or phone because I have no intention of ever meeting an on-line stranger. That said, if I WAS going to meet someone then camming and a phone call would be mandatory. As it is now I have no verification that anyone I'm chatting with is really who they say they are, just as they don't know about me either. That's OK with me since my intention is NOT to establish a personal relationship. Anyone who can't deal with the ambiguity shouldn't chat with me. I can understand WHY people want to cam and phone me and I've endured many complaints and nasty accusations because I won't. Words can't hurt me but camming and phone calls can.

The following drive me nuts when I chat...

"Hi!"

Usually I just ignore these and wait to see if whoever it is sends another message that's more interesting. What REALLY irritates me is when I DO respond and then nothing. Quick way to get on my block list.

People who want to web cam

OK, I understand why people want to this and if I was ever looking to meet someone this would be at the top of my priority list. I never have in all the years I've chatted so please don't think you're going to be the first. I simply don't care if you think that makes me a fake and I don't feel the need to defend myself to strangers. It's simply too easy to screen capture web cams and trace phone calls. Since I'm never going to meet anyone who only knows me based on my ASSTR profile I have no need to cam with them. If you don't like it then don't even bother contacting me in the first place... you've been warned.

Anyone who pushes this is simply added to my "Ignore" list. Again, I may be repeating myself but it's worth emphasizing that no matter what you might think we will NEVER meet so don't try putting me on a guilt trip to "prove" who I am. If you don't believe I am who I say I am, too bad - go chat with someone else.

FYI - I NEVER talk to strangers on the phone for the same reasons.

People who want to meet me

I would never meet anyone who only knows me from this profile. Do I really have to explain? If I lead you on to think you have a chance, it's your fault for pushing the issue to where I go along just to get you to stop asking. Trust me, we will NEVER meet.

People pretending to be kids

I'm NOT a child molester or pedophile. I do NOT want to chat with kids. I'm not looking to hook up with kids. The first thing I usually ask people when they start a chat with me is their age. I can't do anything if someone lies to me but at least I'm doing as best I can NOT to chat with kids. If you say you're thirteen then I'll take you for your word and immediately end the conversation. Sorry, don't try to tell me you were just pretending and you're really 21. This is a case of one strike and you're out.

People who insist I send them photos

Send me yours first (NO nudes please) and THEN we'll see about mine. What's the big deal about seeing pics of me anyway? I wouldn't say I'm ugly but still it's not like I'm some hot Playboy model or Hollywood star. Besides, even if I DO share most guys will only get ones I would show my pastor.

Guys pretending to be girls

Somehow I think guys think I'll be more open with a woman than with a man. Actually that's not true as it doesn't matter to me one way or the other yet it's amazing how many men still try. The vast majority are easy to spot while some take time but sooner or later they reveal themselves in one way or another. I'm not going to say how I spot them - those are my trade secrets. It's just after doing this for thirteen years I think I've gotten pretty good at it. Unfortunately for any REAL women it means I tend to be very suspicious of anyone who claims to be a woman and usually try to "out" them whenever possible which can be embarrassing when it turns out they're real! For better or worse though, that rarely happens.

Guys sending me porn photos

I do not trade porn for a number of reasons. First, I don't get off from photos of prostitutes (male and female) having sex. Second, it just leads to trouble as everything we do on-line these days is being monitored and recorded by somebody. So it really peeves me when a guy sends me a porn pic and tries to pass it off as his wife, girlfriend or even daughter. Given their experience gained while building extensive porn collections my dad and husband can tell me pretty fast when someone does so don't even try. And for heaven's sakes NEVER send me child porn or I'll forward it to the authorities for no other reason than to keep me from being arrested for receiving it.

Stick to the family pics guys, especially when it comes to your kids.

Guys who don't do tributes

To be fair this doesn't make me mad so much as disinterested. If you won't do a tribute then you aren't doing anything to satisfy my main reasons for chatting with you which are to help with MY self-esteem and build MY ego. Oh sure we might chat for a while but don't be surprised if I simple stop responding after a while if you don't want to prove to me that I turn you on. Personally I don't think it's asking too much as YOU contacted me first and I'm just asking for confirmation that I really do turn you on. After all, it's not like I'm asking you to provide a photo of your face as you do it or to give me your address and phone number (although you may be surprised how many guys do!)

Guys who obsess over MY daughters

My daughters are still in single digits in terms of their age so like really? I don't care if someone fantasizes about what a young girl may do someday when she's older (my husband even does that) but not at this age. Maybe I'm at fault for leading people on sometimes out of morbid curiosity as to where they'll take it but after a while I just can't play that game. So if you're looking for anything long-term with me, my daughters are not the way to get there.

Guys who won't say anything

This drives me insane... the guys who contact me and then never say anything more than a few words or sentences. If you don't want to talk to me it's simple – don't! Just don't act confused when I tell you to go away and quit wasting my time.

Chapter 3 – Life in General

Men who claim no interest in their teenage daughter

I try to keep in mind that the men who contact me are NOT representative of all men, just the ones who use pornography as a means of dealing with problems in their life be it a lack of sex in a marriage, unfilled fantasies, or whatever. Thus when I say ALL men, I really mean ALL men who contact me which is actually a subset of ALL men.

When a guy chatting on a porn site tells me he has a teenage daughter and then denies any sexual interest I have to cry foul. Many try to BS their way and tell me they look at her friends but not her. I understand our society has brainwashed men into thinking such thoughts are wrong and forbidden but that doesn't mean they aren't there. Sooner or later they all do it. Sooner or later they all confess their true feelings.

From my perspective I see no harm in men doing it. Heck, just because you masturbate about someone doesn't mean you ever would actually DO anything you imagine in those fantasies. Some men try to claim they actually DO things with their daughter but in general I don't believe them. Maybe a VERY small number over the years but that's all at most.

All I ask is that men be honest.

Fascination with dirty panties

What is it with men and dirty panties? Outside of porn stars I dare you to find me even ONE woman who takes her panties off and sniffs them! Ugh! Really guys, would you wrap YOUR underwear around your face and sniff it?

Guys always want to send me tributes of them cumming on their wife or daughter's panties but I always tell them to use their bras instead. It's not too hard to understand - just count the number of panties in her drawer compared to the number of bras. Bras are much more "personal" and "intimate", not to mention expensive. Using a bra to soak up your incestuous or adulterous cum is a lot more "meaningful" than the same act using her panties.

Guys sending me fake photos

Please don't go to someone's Facebook page, copy the photos and then send them to me claiming them to be yours. Like why would anyone with REAL photos have to do that? It's so obvious from the file name where they came from, or at least that they came from a FaceBook site even if I don't know whose. At the very least if you're going to lie to me then at take the effort to change the files names.

Another red flag is when all the photos are small files - the size of your typical FaceBook page or other web sites. In contrast the typical file size of a photo taken by your phone or digital camera is likely to be ten times bigger!

What also tips me off is when a guy claims to only have a limited number of family shots. Like who in this digital age doesn't have hundreds of photos of their family? It's not like I'm asking for nudes or anything risque. For me it's all about establishing reality and to get an idea of who I chat with. Oh and please, don't give me lines like, "They're on the other computer" or "My hard drive crashed." I may be blonde but I'm really not that stupid!

Finally, don't try telling me the only photos you have are nudes and sex shots. Again... I'm not THAT stupid.

FYI, I LOVE wedding photos!
